PHI ALPHA MU IS FIRST IN GRADES

HEADS ORGANIZATION LIST WITH STANDING OF 93.76

Alpha Xi Delta is High Sorority and Phi Kappa Theta Leads Fraternities

The organization standings for the second semester, 1924 beginning January 26 and ending May 27, 1924, were announced this week by Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar. Phi Alpha Mu, honorary general science fraternity for women, heads the list of all organizations with an average of 93.76. Alpha Xi Delta ranks first among the sororities, and Phi Kappa Theta among the fraternities. All the averages show an improvement over those of the first semester last year.

The organizations with their standings are as follows:

Phi Alpha Mu	93.76
Theta Sigma Phi	90.26
Mu Phi Epsilon	88.89

FACULTY SIZE IS INCREASED

SEVERAL NEW POSITIONS HAVE BEEN AUTHORIZED

Many Well Known Members of Instructional Staff Resign—New Appointments Are Announced

A number of changes will be evident among the faculty members this fall as a result of the new appointments and resignations during the summer. The list this year is an average one, with most of the vacancies and new appointments being instructional positions. There are also several assistant and full professorships that have new appointees although all the department heads remain as they were last year.

Faculty Size Increased
The number of members in the faculty this year has been increased over that of last with several new positions created. Nine of these are listed below although several more have been authorized but have not been filled as yet.

Resignations
The faculty members who have resigned during the summer are:
Miss Mary Mason, graduate assistant in household economics.
Miss Effie Carp, associate professor and director of the cafeteria.
Lucile Dean, instructor in English.
Milton Eisenhower, assistant in the department of journalism.
Frank Davenport, instructor in bacteriology.
Louis W. Taylor, graduate assistant in poultry husbandry.
W. F. Smith, instructor in applied mechanics and assistant engineer of tests in the road materials laboratory.
Boyd Ringo, assistant professor of music.
Ray E. Holcombe, assistant professor of public speaking.
Caroline Perkins, assistant in zoology.
G. S. Cook, assistant professor of physics.
P. C. McGilliard, instructor in dairying.
W. L. Dehner, assistant professor of architecture.
Mrs. Edith Tolle, instructor in modern languages.
P. W. Gregory, graduate assistant in animal husbandry.
Miss Dorothy Brooks, assistant in the library.
W. S. Wiedorn, assistant professor of landscape gardening.
F. L. Hisaw, assistant professor in zoology.
C. N. Jordan, instructor in chemistry.
R. H. Waters, graduate assistant.
Walter H. Moran, assistant professor in chemistry.

PRES. W. M. JARDINE

Prexy's Welcome

Dear Students:

I am glad of the opportunity to write this, my sixth annual welcome to the young people who in September come to the Kansas State Agricultural College for training and preparation to enter upon their work in life.

In anticipation of the increased demand which will be made upon our instructors and upon our equipment this year, we have added 16 new members to the faculty and have installed a lot of new equipment. However, no matter how many instructors are provided or how much additional equipment is added, a student to be successful in his school life, must work and apply himself. Instructors and equipment provide an opportunity. The student must avail himself of that opportunity.

It is to make this opportunity possible that the parents and the other tax payers of Kansas are willing to support institutions of higher learning. The student owes a distinct obligation to them as well as to himself to put in his best efforts so that he may get out of his school life those essentials which prepare him for a life of service.

It gives me distinct pleasure to greet the students who have come here for the school year 1924-25.

Cordially yours,
W. M. JARDINE,
President.

Sterling B. Hendricks, instructor in chemistry.
George B. Watkins, instructor in chemistry.
W. P. Hays, assistant professor of entomology.
Miss Gladys Warren, assistant professor of piano.
Mark Havenhill, professor of rural engineering.

W. B. Hafford, instructor in machine design.

New Appointments

The new appointments that have taken place are:
J. T. Helm, instructor in architecture.
Esther L. Finley, general assistant in the library.

JUST AFTER YOU REGISTER

you are going to get a chance to subscribe for the Kansas State Collegian, the paper that you are now reading. There is only one way of keeping in touch with the happenings on the hill. Events will come and go and you will never hear of them unless you keep posted through these columns. Posters and bulletin boards are all right but they don't tell all.

The Collegian is your newspaper. It is not the official organ of the journalism department or any other department in the college. It is published by the students and for the students. It is not a paper run for a commercial interest. Its only aim is to be self-supporting, or else it must die, for there is no fund from which it might make up a deficit.

Learn your college. Find out what others are thinking and saying, what changes are being proposed through the editorial pages of your paper. Learn to know Manhattan and the merchants who are backing the students through the advertising columns.

Don't try to get through the school year without subscribing. You can read the Collegian by borrowing it from your neighbor or your room-mate but think how unpleasant that might be for them. The Collegian costs you less than three cents an issue, a little over the price of one postage stamp. Would you ask the person sitting next to you to lend you three cents? Then don't ask him to lend you his Collegian.

Read the Collegian and send it home to your folks afterwards. You will find that they like to read it and keep in touch with the school you are attending. It's the best two dollars that you will ever spend in Manhattan. Get your checks ready now. Thank you.

Miss Mary B. Brownell, instructor in modern languages.

John T. Williams, graduate assistant in animal husbandry.

A. H. Helder, assistant professor of landscape gardening.

George E. Johnson, associate professor and experiment station mammalogist.

Harold Hedges, instructor in economics.

Max M. Hoover, graduate assistant in agronomy.

Martin Fritz, graduate assistant in education.

Miss Mary M. Shaw, graduate assistant in food economics and nutrition.

Miss Lucille Rust, graduate assistant in household economics.

Miss Mina Bates, assistant professor and director of the cafeteria.

Miss Elma Stewart, assistant in home economics.

Miss Harriet S. Parker, instructor in English.

J. P. Callahan, instructor in English.

Morse Salisbury, instructor in journalism.

Leo Spurrier, instructor in economics.

B. W. Lafene, instructor in bacteriology.

Harold Allen, instructor in applied mechanics.

Nelson O. Kennedy, associate professor of music.

Earl G. McDonald, instructor in public speaking.

John M. Barstow, instructor in physics.

Miss Isabelle Potter, assistant in zoology.

W. H. Riddle, instructor in dairying.

Jason Swallen, graduate assistant in bacteriology.

George D. Palmer, instructor in chemistry.

O. N. Massingale, instructor in chemistry.

L. F. Marcy, instructor in chemistry.

Harry R. Bryson, assistant in entomology.

H. E. Wichers, instructor in rural architecture.

A. H. Kerns, assistant superintendent of the Hays Experiment station.

W. H. Lyons, assistant professor in machine design.

Miss Clarice Painter, assistant professor of music.

W. C. Voll, instructor in machine design.

T. B. Williams, instructor in geology.

LYLE MUNN

Captain of the football team. Munn has played two years and was placed on the All-Valley squad last year.

CATALOG COMPARISONS SHOW COLLEGE GROWTH

Increased Attendance In Every Division Except Home Economics Since Year 1913

Some facts concerning the growth of K. S. A. C. have been brought to light in the latest edition of the college catalogue. By comparison with the catalogue of 1913-14, it is found that in the past ten years the college attendance has increased 785. In 1913-14 the attendance was 3,027 and in 1923-24 the enrollment had increased to 3,812.

A comparison of the enrolment by divisions shows that the greatest growth has occurred in the division of general science which shows an increase of 948 during the last ten years.

The figures showing the changes by divisions are as follows:

Agriculture	331	519
Veterinary	60	60
Engineering	287	897
Home Economics	596	557
General Science	161	1,109

The only division that shows a decrease is the home economics. This may be accounted for by the fact that

AGGIE FOOTBALL STOCK IS HIGH

MEMORIAL STADIUM READY FOR CAPACITY CROWDS

Best Home Schedule In Valley—Sophomores to Comprise Most of Varsity Eleven

The Aggie Schedule

Oct. 4—Washburn at Topeka.
Oct. 11—Emporia Teachers' college at Manhattan.
Oct. 18—Kansas University at Manhattan. (Dad's Day.)
Oct. 25—Missouri at Columbia.
Nov. 1—Ames at Manhattan.
Nov. 15—Drake at Manhattan.
Nov. 22—Nebraska at Manhattan. (Homecoming.)
Nov. 27—Oklahoma at Norman.

The best home schedule in the Missouri Valley; one of the hardest in the history of Aggie football teams, and the prospect of the largest Varsity squad that ever trod on the Aggie practice field. That's the way Aggie football stacks up this fall.

Seats for 14,000

A beautifully sodded field in place of a mud puddle. A permanent seating capacity of 14,000 in the completed east and west wings of Memorial Stadium. A sure enough scoreboard. Radio loud speakers for announcements to fans, and radio broadcasting of games. That's the scale Aggie plans for the accommodation of crowds are being built on.

All in all, it looks like a big time in the old town this fall.

Of the eight games on the Aggie schedule this fall, five of them will be played on Stadium field, the home lair of the Wildcat. Nebraska, the big boy of the Valley; Kansas, the ancient foe whom the Wildcat has tied for two years past; Drake, a strong contender for Valley honors the past three years, and Ames, the Aggie's foe in a spectacular mud battle two years ago, are the Valley teams who will draw crowds to Manhattan from all over the state.

To Play Teachers

Kansas State Teachers of Emporia, Kansas Conference champions, also will come to Manhattan for a game.

The Aggies will go away from home to meet the Missouri Tigers at Columbia; the Oklahoma Sooners on Thanksgiving Day at Norman, and Washburn college early in the season at Topeka.

While nine letter men are eligible to return for football, it will be very much up to last year's freshman varsity men to turn out a winning team.

Bachman has sixty-odd enthusiastic candidates in sight and only eleven places on his football team, at least three of which are very much filled with letter men. Thirty-five, or more than half of next fall's varsity squad were members of last year's freshman class.

Cochrane Good Kicker

Indications are that, while the new Aggie team may suffer a loss in passing ability, it will be counterbalanced by the appearance of a real punter on the Aggie team after a lapse of three years, during which time the Wildcats used the punt only as a last resort. Owen "Chill" Cochrane of Manhattan, sophomore, who is the leading candidate to replace Burr Swartz as quarter, is expected to step right up with the best kickers in the Valley in his first year of competition. Cochrane also is a drop kicker of no mean ability, a shifty open field runner, and has had five years experience in the Bachman style of football on the Manhattan high school and Aggie freshman teams.

Play by play reports from the five Aggie home games will be broadcast from the $20,000 college radio station which will be completed soon. The station will be one of the most powerful in the Middle West.

The football field has been lifted out of the mud by a sod which is assuming a lawn like appearance under constant watering. A year of "weathering" is making a noticeable improvement in the condition of stadium field track.

Professor Bundy Visits College

Prof. V. E. Bundy, '20, head of the journalism department at Washburn university, visited this college Thursday. He was the guest of honor at a picnic given by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rogers Thursday evening.

In the last ten years the position of women relative to commercial activities has changed. There are more fields of work and therefore more are studying music, journalism, the sciences and even the arts of agriculture in preference to home economics.

ALASKA POPULAR WITH GRADUATES

NINE ALUMNI HAVE TEACHING POSITIONS IN FAR NORTH

Eight of These Are Now or Have Been Connected with the Alaska Agricultural College

The Kansas State Agricultural College has sent nine of her graduates to Alaska and all but one are now or have been connected with the Alaska Agricultural College and School of Mines at Fairbanks or the five agricultural experiment stations of the territory, according to Ralph Foster, K. S. A. C. alumni secretary.

All five experiment stations are under control of the federal government and are in direct charge of C. C. Georgeson, who was a member of the Kansas State Agricultural College faculty from 1890 to 1897. Mr. Georgeson's headquarters are at Sitka.

George W. Gasser, a graduate of K. S. A. C. in 1905, is in charge of the experiment station at Fairbanks. Another Kansas Aggie graduate, Milton D. Snodgrass, class of 1906, is employed by the Fairbanks college as agricultural extension agent.

White Has Kodiak Station

Wilton T. White, graduate of 1917 is agronomist in charge of the experiment station at Kodiak, Alaska. White went to Alaska in November, 1920. Jesse C. Wingfield, class of 1923, is the most recent K. S. A. C. graduate to go to Alaska. He is assistant horticulturist at the experiment station at Matanuska.

At the agricultural college at Fairbanks, which is supported by the federal government, Clinton H. Morgan, K. S. A. C. graduate of 1922, is in charge of agricultural instruction. Besides his class work, Morgan is making a study of farming possibilities in Alaska.

Miss Elizabeth E. Kirkpatrick, a graduate of K. S. A. C. and for a time a member of its faculty, went to Alaska Agricultural College as head of the department of home economics when it was established in September 1922. Miss Kirkpatrick resigned her position last spring to be married. She will continue her residence in Alaska as the wife of Peter McMullen of McGrath.

Others There This Year

Miss Kirkpatrick is being succeeded by Miss Ruth Trail, a K. S. A.

The new memorial stadium as it will look when completed. The east and west wings have already been finished. The small picture in the lower left hand corner is of the old grandstand that was torn down to make room for the new structure.

C. alumna. Miss Trail will be assisted in her department by Miss Mary Worcester who has been an instructor in textiles and clothing at K. S. A. C. and who received her master's degree from the institution at the close of the summer school this year.

The only graduate of the Kansas State Agricultural College in Alaska who has not been connected in some manner with the college or experiment stations there is Mrs. Ina Priest Lucas, graduate of 1913, wife of J. L. Lucas of Juneau, Alaska.

QUIVERIAN BEST ANNUAL

Kansas City, Kan., High School Issues Winning Yearbook

In the annual high school year book contest which was held by the college, The Quiverian, Kansas City, Kan., high school placed first; The Wichitan, Wichita high school, second; and The Purple and White, Pittsburg, third. This contest was held for schools over 500 enrollment.

Although the Wichita high school ran the Kansas City high school a close race, the latter won on the cleverness and originality displayed.

In the second class, which includes schools with an enrollment between 300 and 500, the Orange and Brown, Abilene, placed first; The Pow Wow, Junction City, second; and the Olathean, Olathe, third.

The Pageant, Augusta high school was awarded first place for schools with an enrollment of 300 or less. The Old Gold and Black, Fredonia, second; and the Jayhawker Junior, Baxter Springs, third.

The Wichitan placed first in the fourth class which includes those books printed by the students in their own print shops. The Pow Wow, Junction City, second, and The Trail, Salina, third.

LANDSCAPE WORK GIVEN HERE BY TWO DIVISIONS

New Course in Chemical Engineering Offered—Gives Technical Training in Manufacturing

Students who wish to enter work in landscape gardening, and landscape architecture, will have the opportunity to secure adequate training in those subjects as a result of two new courses offered by the college this year. The division of engineering offers the courses in landscape architecture, and the division of agriculture offers the work in landscape gardening.

In the past few years there has been a strong demand for trained men in landscape work and it was with this in view that the college worked out the various courses that would adequately train students to enter this field of work.

Another new subject offered by the division of engineering is in chemical engineering. It is designed to prepare students for technical or executive positions, not only in the important group of industries known specifically as chemical industries, but also that large group in which chemical principles are applied to manufacturing processes.

Margaret Ploughe of Hutchinson will be society editor on the Manhattan Chronicle for a few weeks.

Phonographs for rent, Kipp's.

Harold Hobbs Drowned

Harold Hobbs, a former student of the college who attended Columbia University last year, was drowned in the Blue river this summer while swimming with a party of friends. Heart failure while in the water prevented him from reaching the shore.

ARTHUR DOOLEN

Captain of the basketball team. Art is one of the fastest guards in the Valley.

You'll never regret the $2 you spent on the Collegian.

Betz—Reed

Miss Mary Betz of Asherville was married on May 27 to George Reed of Beloit. Miss Betz was graduated from K. S. A. C. in '23, and while in school was quite active in athletics, dramatics, and debate. She is a member of Phi Kappa Phi and Omicron Nu. Mr. Reed is a graduate of the Kansas State Normal at Hays.

Reprints Teacher's Address

The Hotel Monthly reprints a large portion of the address of Miss Effie M. Carp, former director of the college cafeteria, before the American Home Economics association at its recent meeting. Miss Carp spoke on the scope of the field of institutional economics.

The Hotel Monthly devotes its attention to highly specialized phases of the hotel business and heretofore has published very little material from college sources.

A real two dollars worth—the Collegian for a year.

Planos for rent, Kipp's.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN GREEK HOMES

TWO SORORITIES ACQUIRE NEW HOUSES DURING SUMMER

Five Fraternities Have Changed the Location of Their Chapter Residences—Two Others Improve Property

An unusual number of changes have been made in sorority and fraternity locations this summer. The Delta Delta Delta and Kappa Delta sororities, the Phi Sigma Kappa, Alpha Rho Chi, Triangular, Omega Tau Epsilon, and Phi Kappa Theta fraternities have new homes.

Kappa Deltas Build

The new Kappa Delta house at 1716 Fairchild is a three-story colonial structure with white woodwork throughout. The kitchen and dining room are in the basement; on the first floor are the house mother's suite of rooms, a chapter room, and living room; the other floors contain the sleeping quarters. The Triangular fraternity has moved from its former location at 204 S. Juliette into the former Kappa Delta house at 1801 Poyntz.

Tri Deltas on Seventeenth

The Delta Delta Delta sorority is located in its new home which was formerly the George Hammond residence at the corner of Seventeenth and Fairchild streets. The Omega Tau Epsilon fraternity, which was formerly located at 1116 Bluemont St., has moved into the old Tri Delta house at 822 Poyntz Ave.

The Alpha Rho Chi fraternity has purchased the former residence of President W. M. Jardine on Houston street and has moved there from its old location at 1521 Leavenworth.

The Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity has moved into its new colonial home at 1630 Humboldt street. The Phi Kappa Theta fraternity has moved from 1019 Moro street into the former Phi Sigma Kappa house at 1447 Anderson.

Aside from the usual improvements which are made on the Greek chapter houses during the summer the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity at 221 N. Delaware has made an extensive addition of sleeping quarters while the Phi Kappa fraternity, 1031 Bluemont, has glassed in its sleeping porches and made other improvements.

KENNETH KNOUSE

Captain of the track team this year. He is a two letter man whose specialty is the quarter mile run.

AWARD LETTERS TO 21 MEN

Karns Is Baseball Captain and Knouse Heads Tracksters

R. M. Karns of Ada was the selection of his team mates for the captaincy of the Kansas Aggie baseball team, and Kenneth Knouse of Valley Falls was named captain of the track team by the track letter men, according to a recent announcement of the athletic board. Thirteen baseball and eight track men were awarded letters.

Letter men on the baseball team are Albert Biehn, Hebron; Paul Vohs, Osawatomie; Henry Karns and R. W. Karns, Ada; Burr Swartz, Hiawatha; L. M. Staley, Garden City; Lyle Munn, Colby; Glenn Aikens, Valley Falls; Rex Huey, Louisville; Edward Cunningham, Bernard Conroy, Lyle Ernst, and N. S. Barth, Manhattan.

OLD SCORE BOARD TO BE SUPPLEMENTED BY RADIO

Decisions of Officials Will Be Broadcast to Fans in Stadium

Radio will supplement the conventional scoreboard in the stadium football games here this fall, according to plans of the physics department of the college. A loud speaker capable of carrying the voice of the announcer to all parts of the stadium is to be installed, while the new Aggie scoreboard will be erected by Sigma Tau, engineering fraternity. Announcement of downs, yards to go, etc., will be left to the scoreboard, but no longer will the fan be compelled to wait in restless ignorance while the officials debate on the sideline. The radio will take care of that, broadcasting decisions of officials, names of injured players, causes for penalties, and in other ways help to make more perfect the connection between playing field and stands.

For games away from home, of which there are only three of the eight on the Aggie schedule, Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity, has built a mammoth electric scoreboard for use at "football parties" this fall. By means of the board fans will be able to watch the games reproduced a minute or so after each play happens on the field. Aggie newspaper men found "manufactured" scoreboards a little too expensive to suit the popular taste, so in true Aggie style they designed and had built one of their own which promises to be an improvement on the imported one used here last season for out of town games.

REARRANGED GYMNASIUM GREET'S ATHLETES TODAY

Changes Made During the Summer in the "Home of the Wildcat"

A completely remodeled and overhauled gymnasium will greet the athletes today when they begin the first workouts of the year. Workmen have been engaged in the construction of new partitions in the basement and in replastering during the past month.

The offices of Mike Ahearn, head of the Athletic department, and Head Coach Charles Bachman, have been rearranged and redecorated to as to give them more office room.

The man in charge of the lockers has an office in the place of the old rubbing room. Two partitions have been placed in the northwest basement room to make a store and locker room while the old store room has been equipped with a tub and rubbing tables for taking care of the athletes.

Practically all of the fixtures in the entire building have been repainted.

John Hanna Dies

John Hanna, freshman in civil engineering last year, died at his home in Medicine Lodge the third week in August, according to word received in Manhattan. Hanna was a member of Beta Theta Pi and was well known and liked on the campus. He made his freshman numeral playing guard and tackle on the freshman football team and was considered as a strong contender for a position on the 1924 Varsity eleven.

Riley Wins in Hurdles

Ivan Riley, former Aggie hurdling star, won third place in the 400 meter hurdle race at the Olympic games held at Paris last summer. Riley has been running in hurdle events in several countries in Europe and winning regularly since the games.

Miss Aileen Rhoades, '26, has been employed by the Stockdale school board to teach music in the high school and grades. A chorus and orchestra will be included in the high school work.

NOTICE

Students, in general, will not be permitted to park their cars on the campus this year. Exception will be made only in the case of a student who lives in the country around Manhattan and who drives to school. Where a student is employed on the campus or engaged in a student enterprise which requires considerable traveling between the campus and the city, permits to park cars on the campus may be secured.

In all cases, however, written request, approved by the Dean, shall be made to the President. This request shall include complete information as to why it is necessary for the student to drive a car.

This rule is to become effective Monday, September 8, 1924.

W. M. JARDINE,

President.

THE NEW COLLEGEIAN

With this issue the new Kansas State Collegeian makes its debut for the year 1924-25.

As you can readily see, the size of the newspaper has grown to much larger proportions than formerly. It is planned to keep the size not less than six pages at any time with the probability that you will see many papers the size of this one, one of the largest in the history of the Collegeian.

With this increased size the Collegeian can print all the news of the college. The space handicap in former years has prevented the publishing of many news items that were of interest to the student body and the faculty.

The new editors this year plan to make the publication interesting and timely to the student body. Editorially it will treat all questions as fairly as possible. The field of sports will be featured, as the editors believe that such material is of the greatest interest to the greatest number of students. However, other activities on the hill will not be neglected. News of every department of the college will have a place.

A real college newspaper that ranks on equal terms with those from other institutions, that prints the news the students want, that treats mooted questions fairly with the student's point of view as well as that of the faculty, and that adds a great deal to your college life. Such is the new Collegeian.

The Dads of Kansas should feel grateful to President Jardine for his most recent proclamation. They've got one more excuse for asking Jimmie to leave the car at home.

It, however, will probably be as effective as the others have been.

WELCOME, FRESHMEN

We're glad you are with us, Freshmen.

Every year, since its inception, the Collegeian has extended a welcome to you who are just entering college. And it will go on welcoming you until Gabriel blows the trumpet announcing the end of all things.

These welcomes each year are but the just due to you who are beginning the last phase of preparation for your life work. We know that the college exists because of you. If it were not for the steady growth in your class each year the college would not prosper. The very life of the institution depends upon you, Freshmen. If you were not here in as large numbers as you are the college would begin to decline.

You're the cock of the walk, Freshman, and we salute you.

WASTED EFFORT

The recent order of the Board of Education removing the canteen and barber shop from Anderson hall will not keep the students from patronizing Spang and Joe. It only makes it necessary for them to walk a few steps farther.

By H. D. S. and M. R.

Dedicated to the Oncoming Horde
It is always fitting and proper that Campus Echoes devote its initial column of the year to advice to freshmen. But first of all, Freshmen, GREETINGS. We're glad you're here—so is the business office. How glad we are that you children have chosen our school out of all the other big schools in the United States as a place to come and spend your papa's money.

We want all the freshmen to realize first off that we are all just like one happy family here. We love our teachers and deans like we do our papas and mamas. After the registration officials and the book stores have taken all your money, children, you will see just how like a happy family we all are. And we do have the best times here all together.

And Campus Echoes hopes, dear boys and girls, that when you have flunked out after Christmas, you will go home with nothing but the fondest memories of all your kind friends and deans here at dear old K. S. A. C.

Greetings!

In addition we urge you not to be come frightened at the dismal future that faces you. "Once to every man and mortal, etc.," said a famous ichthyologist; so you see, freshmen dear, how it is. Of course you're expected to study. Every one comes to college to study. The beautiful part of studying here at our educational institution is that you are expected to spend just nine hours a day, as an average, in outside work. That will leave you five minutes for lunch, 15 minutes for dinner, 45 minutes for recreation and the rest of the time to waste in sleeping.

And now we are going to give you a little tip. Don't hurry to get to your classes on time. Be independent! If you don't like the looks of your professor, tell him so. He will admire your straight thinking. After the first two weeks drop half of your subjects, as it will make things so much easier and the faculty will respect your attempt at self preservation. This is the same advice we gave the freshmen last year and at least one out of every hundred, dear children, were promoted. You may be it.

Don't let anyone bluff you. If someone tells you to take off your hat when you go into the library, don't do it. He may just want to see what brand of cap you are wearing. Be very careful of whom you buy your campus permits. There are only eight authorized salesmen on the hill. Don't let any upper classman or other suspicious character sell you the stadium as it belongs to the college. However, freshmen dear, you may purchase permits to photograph the stadium at the athletic office.

These are just a few of the things we can say to you in welcome, class of '28, as our space is limited both in this paper and in life. A beautiful 37 paged, hand engraved, leather bound book, guaranteed against moths, fire and hail, on "A Freshman. What it is and why it is," may be purchased all this week just one block west of the engineering building giving you further detailed information on the things freshmen are supposed not to do.

Start the year right by investing in the Collegeian.

FIRST AIR SCHOOL
BOOK PUBLISHEDCURRICULA OF RADIO COLLEGE ISSUED

Bulletin Gives Information to Prospective Students—Certificates to Those Completing Course

The first copy of the first radio catalogue ever issued came off the press yesterday.

That distinctive publication contains the curricula of the K. S. A. C. college of the air for the school year 1924-25, with information and instructions for prospective "students."

Shows Pictures of Station

A tribute to the idea of radio education by President William M. Jardine, is contained in the catalogue. The President says in part: "The extension college courses radiocast from Kansas State Agricultural college open to all of the 165,000 Kansas farm families an opportunity for close contact with scientific progress. It is easy to foresee millions of dollars of added value to agriculture created through employment of methods that radio messages such as those broadcast from station KSAC impart to agricultural education.

Future Influence Incalculable

"Radio is already a vital factor in the economic and intellectual life of the farmer. The part it will exert in the future is beyond calculation. Its influence on agricultural betterment will be, perhaps, its greatest contribution to civilization."

The popularity of the idea with farmers has been evidenced by the shower of requests for the radio catalog of courses. Approximately 10,000 copies of the bulletin will be mailed from the extension division, Sam Pickard, director of the programs said yesterday.

Enrollment cards in the school will be mailed on request Mr. Pickard stated. Courses are offered in commerce, engineering, home economics, and general science as well as in agriculture. Certificates are to be granted students completing their work.

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR321 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

For fathers are used to figuring costs. They'd say: "The electricity for a week's washing costs less than a cake of soap. Human time and strength are too precious for work which a machine can do so cheaply and well."

AGGIE YEAR BOOK TO BE ON SALE REGISTRATION DAY

Royal Purple Price Reduced for the Coming Year—Color Pages a Feature

With the opening of the fall semester of college Aggie students will be given an opportunity to order their 1935 Royal Purples. The 1935 yearbook, which will contain many new features this year, will be offered to the students at a price lower than that of the past few years. Those who pay cash for the book will get it for $4, which is 25 cents lower than the charge made last year. The regular charge of $4.50 will be made to those who purchase their books on the part time plan.

By giving the student body a chance to make reservations for their books at the first of the year, the management believes that they will be accomplishing a two-fold task. The students will be enabled to buy when they are most able and in this way they will be able to take advantage of the reduction offered to those paying cash for their books. On the other hand the Royal Purple staff will be able to use the money taken in to take advantage of the cash discounts offered by the printers and engravers. This in turn will insure a larger and better book.

One of the new features which will be included in the 1935 annual is an eight-page four color process view section of the campus. The style of the book will be changed, the opening pages and division pages following a plan different from that employed in previous annuals. In addition to being a picture book, it is planned to incorporate many incidents into the annual which are dear to the hearts of every Aggie and which cannot be expressed in mere pictures.

A booth will be located near the place of enrollment at the college gymnasium and reservations for annuals may be made any time during the enrollment period.

VALUATION OVER THREE MILLION REPORT SHOWS

Enrollment Increases in Last Five Years

Three million, three hundred five thousand, nine hundred twenty-four dollars is the total valuation of the Kansas State Agricultural college grounds, buildings, and equipment as given in a report from the college business office. These figures do not include the value of the property at the sub-stations.

The college now owns 1,399 acres of land at Manhattan valued at $392,600. The 23 buildings on the campus are reported to be worth $1,767,000, and the equipment in these buildings at $1,084,532. The livestock owned by the college is valued at $61,792.

The faculty includes 393 professors, assistant professors, and instructors. The enrollment has increased steadily during the last few years. Students attending the college during the last five years have numbered as follows: 1919-20, 3,352; 1920-21, 3,395; 1921-22, 3,560; 1922-23, 3,626; 1923-24, 3,812.

Send Pamphlet to Farmers

A pamphlet summarizing market conditions as they affect the Kansas farmer is being sent out each month by the department of agricultural economics, and the extension service of the college. The title of the pamphlet is "The Agricultural Situation as it Affects Kansas."

Farmers who are on the mailing list of the extension division as well as those who send reports of crop conditions to the state board of agriculture receive copies of the publication.

According to Prof. R. M. Green of the department of agricultural economics, considerable interest has been shown in the pamphlet by Kansas farmers and stock breeders.

Glenn N. Sawyer, '24, has accepted a position with the Ford Motor company in Kansas City.

GRIDDERS PLAY 5 HOME GAMES

ONLY THREE CONTESTS OUTSIDE MANHATTAN

Kansas U., Nebraska, Ames, Drake, and Emporia Teachers to Combat Wildcats on Stadium Field

Perhaps Dame Fortune smiled on the Kansas Aggies, when she was handing out football schedules for the 1924 season in the Missouri valley. Perhaps she only grinned. The season's scores will tell. But whether she smiled or just grinned, the Aggies have the best schedule in said valley as far as home games are concerned.

Plays Hardest Teams

Of the eight schools in the conference, besides the Aggies, the Wildcats take on six, Grinnell and Washington being the only schools not on the local schedule. Incidentally, the Pikers and Bulldogs are as a general rule the two weakest football aggregations in the conference, which shows that the Wildcats have a preference for taking on the "big" boys, under the rule that "The bigger they are the harder they fall."

If the Aggie schedule is to be construed as a smile on the face of the gods it is up to Coach C. W. Bachman to develop a team that will at least hold its own against all comers. Ames, Kansas, Drake, and Nebraska are the Valley squads that will appear on stadium field here next fall. The last three have all been claimants for the Valley crown during the past two years, while Ames is always a hard team to beat. The Emporia teachers will furnish the opposition at the other home game.

Kansas and Nebraska will be the feature attractions of the home schedule, Kansas because of the traditional rivalry between the two big schools of the state, Nebraska because of its nation wide fame as a producer of good football teams.

Both games, and in fact the entire home schedule, are expected to draw football fans from all over Kansas and the four adjoining states.

Manhattan Football Center

Kansas university, which usually furnishes the thrills for the football hungry from Kansas City, has a home schedule woefully barren of big games, leaving the Aggie gridiron the nearest to the "big town" where football teams recognized as of major calibre may be seen in action. With any sort of reasonable weather motorists from the mouth of the Kaw are expected to keep the road to Manhattan hot during the week ends of October and November.

Topeka, too, should furnish its quota, as well as Junction City, Abilene, Salina, and others of the larger towns west. Under good conditions the drive from Kansas City can be made in four or five hours.

There will be no lack of seating accommodations, as Memorial stadium at present has a minimum capacity of 14,000 and a maximum of 20,000, with bad seats rendered impossible by the curving seating construction.

STUDES DEMAND FICTION

Library Receives a Large Number of New Books

Due to an increased demand on the part of students and faculty of the college a large number of fiction and non-fiction books have been received by the library.

One of the most interesting additions to the shelves is "The Tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen" by Howard Carter and A. C. Moore. It deals with the unique qualities of the relics which were found in the tomb. The book also deals with the architecture of that age to an extent that the department of architecture has found the contents to be of value in some of their courses.

Another book of unusual interest is "Costume Silhouettes" by Mary Evans. The edition deals with the styles of women's clothes from the beginning of American history. On each page is a silhouette which brings forth the outlines of the various costumes used in the different periods of American development.

Miss Lois Wildy has returned from her vacation at Estes Park to resume her duties as Y. W. C. A. secretary.

SCHOOLS DEMAND AGGIE TEACHERS

MANY ARE PLACED BY DEAN HOLTON DURING SUMMER

Superintendents and Principals of Schools Pick Teachers While Attending Summer Session

A consistent demand on the part of high school boards of education for Aggie teachers, especially graduates from the agriculture and home economics divisions, came into the office of Dean E. L. Holton of the educational department during the summer.

Approximately 75 Aggie graduates and students have been placed in high school and grade school positions through the office of Dean Holton this year.

In many instances high school superintendents and principals who attended the summer school session were on the constant lookout for individuals who planned on teaching this fall. In this way more efficient methods were employed in the selecting of teachers.

Many Are Placed

Aggie graduates and students and places located are as follows: Ethel Adams, Attica; Howard A. Ames, Corning; Maurine Ames, Coffeyville;

Eunice Anderson, Phillipsburg; Leone L. Bacon, Coffeyville; Alvin K. Banman, Americus; Reba Bommer, Pratt; Thomas Bruner, Jewell City; F. C. Butel, Overbrook; E. R. Miss Gertrude Workman of Clay Center and Henry Quinn of Manhattan were married Sunday at the home of the bride. Mr. Quinn is a junior in the department of journalism at K. S. A. C. and expects to be graduated next spring. Miss Bernice Flemming of Manhattan and Miss Ann Carter of Kansas City attended the wedding.

Johnson—Creighton

Miss Mildred Johnson and Floyd Creighton were married Sunday, June 1, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Johnson at Minneapolis. Both young people are well known in college circles, both being former students. They will make their home at 509 North Manhattan avenue.

Bohan—Layton

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bohan of Bartlesville, Okla., and Watler A. Layton, Jr., of Salina were married recently at the home of the bride. Both Miss Bohan and Mr. Layton have attended K. S. A. C., Miss Bohan being a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

NEW SCOREBOARD FOR GRID GAMES

SIGMA DELTA CHI TO GIVE FOOTBALL PARTIES

Elaborate Mechanically Operated Electrical Display of Away from Home Games to be Staged this Fall

One of the most elaborate football score boards in use in colleges today will be used by the Sigma Delta Chi fraternity for the away from home football games this fall. Arrangements have already been made for leased wire service for each of the three games on foreign fields, the first on October 4 with Washburn at Topeka, and the reports will be received almost at the instant the play takes place. The "football parties" will be given in the auditorium and an admission charge of 25 cents will be levied. This is a much smaller amount than most other colleges are charging, the average charge being from 50 cents to 75 cents.

New Board is Large

The new board is a large affair, 12 by 18 feet in size, that will permit the football story to be easily witnessed from all parts of the auditorium. It is mechanically operated from a typewriter keyboard which in turn closes the current circuit to the electrical display of the game on the board itself.

In the center of the rectangular board is a miniature gridiron, 5 by 10 feet in size, which will show the position of the ball at all times. Above the playing field will be displayed the possessor of the ball at the time, the down and the number of yards to go. Below, the play or plays will be shown. There are twenty different plays and incidents in the usual football game registered here, and the one or several that take place will be lighted up. Included in these are the following: kickoff, punt, blocked, goal, pass, failed, intercepted, fumble, recovered, touch-down, safety, touchback, end run, off tackle, thru line, penalized, time out and quarter over. At each side of this miniature field will be shown the name of the team playing, the score, and each player's name, number and position.

Built By Aggie Profs

The Sigma Delta Chi fraternity, at a great expense, financed the construction of the board during the past summer. It was designed and built by Prof. E. T. Keith and C. P. Howenstine of the department of printing. The scoreboard is a tribute to the mechanical and electrical skill of Professor Keith and Mr. Howenstine, as the ideas used in its construction are much in advance of those used in similar scoreboards.

These parties have been given by the journalistic fraternity for several years past and have come to be very popular with the student body. The new arrangements and equipment that will be used this year, however, promise a great improvement in the entertainment and interest value to the games. The college cheer leader will be on hand to keep up the pep, and the band will play during the intermission. The general excitement manifested has been almost as great as if the game were actually being played on the auditorium stage.

CHARLES W. BACHMAN
Head Coach of Football and Track

Vohs, a Cub Reporter

Paul Vohs, a graduate of K. S. A. C. with the class of 1924 in Industrial Journalism, is working as a

"cub" on the Milwaukee Evening Journal. He expects to be promoted shortly from "Death Notices" to a regular "run."

AGGIE CADETS AT SNELLING WIN HONORS IN ATHLETICS

Kimport, Famous Distance Runner,
Wins Mile and Two Mile

In the annual track meet held between schools at the R. O. T. C. training camp, Fort Snelling, Minn., the Kansas Aggie crew placed third in the meet that was held Tuesday, July 22. Washita college from Arkansas placed first.

Kimport, star distance man on last season's track team won the mile and tied for first in the two-mile chase. Carter, another Aggie letter man of 1924 won the pole vault. Mike Johnson was third in the two mile.

The six-weeks training course which was attended by 30 Aggie men ended Wednesday, July 23. Camp life consisted mostly of different courses in various military lines. Close order drill was not included to a very great extent, as the officials in charge of the camp believe that the R. O. T. C. students take part in enough drill while at school.

Two Thousand R. O. T. C. Members
Can be Equipped

Aggie students who are enrolled in the military courses this fall will be equipped with new clothing, the military department announced today. Approximately 2,000 new uniforms have been received at the college during the past summer. Major E. L. Claeren who is in charge of the military equipment at the college said.

Military inspectors from headquarters of the seventh corps area who visited the college stated that the Aggie cadets were the best outfitted unit in the area from the viewpoint of neatness and personal appearance.

Due to his many years of experience in equipping soldiers, Major Claeren is able to outfit a man so he will have a snappy appearance as well as clothes that fit.

Approximately 1,200 men are enrolled in the military courses each year at K. S. A. C. Of this number 105 are cadet officers who are enrolled in the advance courses. Each cadet officer is issued a special uniform that is tailored by military outfitters.

"OPPORTUNITIES FOR WOMEN" IS TITLE OF NEW BULLETIN

Home Economics Division Outlines Work Offered

"Opportunities for Women" is the title of a publication published recently by the home economics division of the college. It outlines the various kinds of work for which women may prepare in K. S. A. C.

Some of the lines of women's activities which the issue suggests are teaching in schools, dietitian in hospitals and school cafeterias, manager of a tea room, designer of clothing, buyer for ready-to-wear departments of stores, visiting housekeepers, and various lines of social service.

Through affiliation with the Charlotte Swift hospital training can be secured in nursing and home economics, fitting graduates for positions as superintendents of hospitals or as public health nurses.

CAFETERIA HAS NEW FEATURES

TEA ROOM IS OPEN FROM 8 A. M.
TO 7 P. M.

A Refinished Banquet Room, a Faculty Dining Room and Rest Rooms Have Been Equipped for Use

A tea room, a redecorated and completely equipped banquet room, a faculty dining room, and rest rooms for both young men and young women, will be among the new features of the college cafeteria when it opens for the school year 1924-25, it was announced yesterday by Miss Mina Bates, director.

Tea Room All Day

The tea room, which will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening is designed as a convenience to students and faculty members who like to lunch between classes and at all hours. The west wing of the main cafeteria dining room has been partitioned off to form "The Open Door," as the new establishment is to be known. It will accommodate between 50 and 60 persons. No soda fountain is to be installed, but short orders, ice cream, etc., and all drinks except carbonated water preparations will be served, Miss Bates said.

From 5:30 to 7 o'clock in the evening, a 35 cent plate dinner is to be served.

Faculty Escape from Hot Pollot

The demand by the faculty for an exclusive dining room far removed from the student hoi polloi has been met by the appropriation for that purpose of the room formerly used as an office by the assistant cafeteria director. After 6 o'clock in the evening the room may be used for private dinner parties.

The banquet room is the same formerly used for the purpose, but it is to be extensively made over. Individual tables, made so they can be pushed together to form longer tables, will be purchased. A kitchen will also be installed in the small room just off the main hall and dumbwaiters will be put in to convey the dishes to the basement. A 40 cent meal, or "business man's lunch," will be served to organizations or gatherings using the room.

Rest Rooms in Basement

The rest rooms are located on the basement floor. They will be for use by students, largely those who have instructional work, or employment in the cafeteria. Shower baths adjoin the rest rooms.

In addition to the foregoing, a special basement room has been set aside and equipped for pastry-making. All sorts of pastries for use in the cafeteria and for outside consumption will be made here.

It is the purpose of the new director, she said, to utilize every nook and corner of the new $150,000 building and every opportunity in such a way that the students and faculty may get the most benefit possible from the institution.

RADIO COLLEGE ISSUES 400 DIPLOMAS TO FARM FAMILIES

County Agents Report Interest in the Air School

Certificates of graduation from "college of the air" were awarded on June 1 to more than 400 farmers and their families who successfully passed a written examination over the work broadcast from K. S. A. C. during the short course conducted by the extension division.

A canvas of county agents in the state indicates that the majority of farmers plan to be equipped with receiving sets by next fall when another course will be offered.

Take Six Places

Two seconds and four thirds were won by K. S. A. C. in a contest conducted by the American Association of Agricultural College Editors, at their annual meeting at Brookings, S. D., July 8 to 10. K. S. A. C. placed in six of the 13 classes. Twenty-five schools and colleges entered publicity material.

The awards were as follows: Prof. N. A. Crawford won second place in the class of serious rural verse; Sam Pickard won second in the class for published agricultural or home economics news stories; Sam Pickard placed third in the light rural verse class; the Y. M. C. A. calendar placed third in the class for the most effective piece of advertising and printed matter; the bulletin on the Hessian fly, written by Prof. J. W. McCulloch, took third place in the technical bulletin class, and a bulletin by C. G. Elling on pig production was awarded third place.

Glen Case in Chicago

Glen Case, '23, is connected with the music division of the Clark Teachers' agency. Mr. Case has just completed a very successful year's work as supervisor of music in the junior and senior high schools at Cherryvale. In the tri-state contest which included schools from Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma his pupils carried off more honors than any other school entered.

Write on Pool Sanitation

Prof. L. D. Bushnell and Prof. F. S. Davenport of the department of bacteriology are authors of an article on "The Sanitation of the Swimming Pool" which appeared in the June number of the bulletin of the Kansas League of Municipalities.

PROF. R. M. GREEN COLLECTS SPECIMENS OF FOREIGN GRAIN

Will Use Collection in Marketing Course

A collection of grains, especially wheat and corn from foreign countries, was made this summer by Prof. R. M. Green of the division of agriculture, for study in his course in grain marketing which will be given this semester.

The class will use the collection in comparing the character and type of these grains, with the grains of our own country. Specimens were received from Argentina, Australia, Canada, Manchuria, Brazil, and Rumania.

Another new feature of the course is a chart which traces the handling of a carload of grain from the country elevator to the terminal market. This was prepared by Harry Smith who was former president of the Board of Trade.

Elected Officer of A. S. A. E.

H. B. Walker, head of the department of agricultural engineering at the Kansas State Agricultural college, has been elected first vice-president of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. This society is one of the youngest of the national engineering organizations being founded in 1906 at the University of Wisconsin by a small group of college men engaged in teaching agricultural engineering. The society now has over 600 members located throughout the United States and Canada.

Miss Opal Ewing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harve Ewing, and Mr. Lester Means of Everest, Kansas were married August 28 at Great Bend.

Mrs. Means is very well and favorably known among her many friends in Manhattan. She attended Kansas State Agricultural college here for three years. She was affiliated with the Chi Omega sorority while in school here. Mr. Means received his bachelor degree at K. S. A. C. and is now an electrical engineer with the Great Western Electrical Turbine Co. of Schenectady, N. Y., where he is working for his masters degree. He is a member of the Acacia fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Means will be at home in Schenectady, N. Y.

Mrs. Elizabeth Petrie of Pratt announces the marriage of her daughter, Sylvia Irene, to Mr. Earl T. Carroll of Craig, Col., at Topeka, August 7. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll will make their home in Arizona where Mr. Carroll is enrolled in the University of Arizona. Mrs. Carroll is a graduate of K. S. A. C. with the class of '23.

Shieks or Wildcats Not Artistic Says President Jardine

"We shieks have lost. A stronghold dear, For prey rules, NO PARKING HERE." First it was Touchdown 2, the Aggie Wildcat Mascot, who got in the way of art and campus improvement, (campus improvement being a radio tower). Touchdown is a husky wildcat, and usually manages to hold his own with any other animal in the Valley, having several Tiger, Bulldog, and Jayhawk scalps beneath his pelt.

But he couldn't conquer art and radio combined, and so his comfortable cage 'neath the trees at the southwest corner of Nichols gymnasium must move. Possibly to Memorial stadium, possibly to the Fairchild hall museum along with other unfortunates who are not artistic enough to remain on the campus. That, however, doesn't concern the Aggie shieks very much. What's worrying them is the fact that the call of art is extending shiekward, and from the President's office comes also the decree that there shall be no parking on the campus except by holders of "parking tags." And none other than W. M. Jardine controls the supply of tags. (Note to Freshmen—W. M. Jardine is president of the college in addition to being director of the art campaign.)

Parking "stalls" are to be created, and tags issued only to those who can convince the president that the parking of a car on the campus is essential to the welfare of the person concerned.

Students and faculty are to be treated alike, but that doesn't make the supply of "tags" any more plentiful. For those who drive to school anyway, parking space is being provided on Anderson avenue.

His outpost, the canteen, taken, his second line, the parking place, in the hands of the enemy, the campus shiek is forced back to his last line of defense, the library, Recreation center, and the green, green grass beneath campus trees.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS EXTENSIVE WORK

TO STAGE WATERMELON FEED IN NEAR FUTURE

R. E. Ewing Is President of Organization—Special Programs for Dad's and Hello Days

The Y. M. C. A. has made extensive plans this year to become one of the most helpful organizations on the hill, according to R. E. Ewing, who is president of the group.

The religious organization has been engaged in the student work during the past week, meeting trains and furnishing new students with information about the college. Paul Pfeutze and Harry Tebow have been in charge.

During the registration time both the Y. M. and Y. W. will have representatives on the floor to give information to freshmen in regard to their assignments.

The annual watermelon feed is scheduled to take place either the latter part of this week or next week. These events are well attended by students and faculty and furnish an excellent means of getting the new college students acquainted with each other.

Special programs are being planned for Dad's day and Hello-day which will occur later during the school year.

The "K" book that is published each year jointly by the two religious organizations is now available to any who wish a copy. These books were given to a number of students when they arrived at the station but may still be procured at the offices of Doctor Holtz in Anderson hall.

CANTEEN, BARBER SHOP OUSTED FROM CAMPUS

Order of Board of Administration Ends Fight of Long Standing

The college canteen, operated by N. S. Spangler, and the college barber shop, operated by J. E. Cooper, were closed at the end of the summer session. Both the canteen and the barber shop were installed on the campus during the war and have been in operation since that time.

The order of the board of administration for the closing of the canteen and the barber shop ends a fight which has been waged by some local business houses for more than a year to bring about this result. Their contention was that the competition with Manhattan business was unfair.

The canteen and barber shop paid rental in the form of a percentage of their receipts. The revenue was applied to the support of various college activities for which no provision was made in the regular budget.

Mr. Spangler has opened a new building just across the street from the south gate where he will conduct his business more elaborately than before. Mr. Cooper has rented one of the buildings at the corner of Manhattan and Bluemont avenues where he has installed a barber shop.

A view of the campus taken from an airplane.

STARK COACHES M. H. S.

Former Wildcat All-Valley Player Succeeds Gallagher

Though Arthur "Art" Stark, Aggie All-Valley half back for the last three years, is lost to the Aggie varsity team he will be in Manhattan this winter as coach of the Manhattan high school teams. Stark succeeds "Cliff" Gallagher, also a former Aggie star, as coach at the high school. Gallagher goes to the Wichita public schools after turning out a state championship football team at Manhattan last fall.

Stark was a unanimous choice as All-Valley man in his position last fall, lack of weight alone preventing him from serious consideration on the All-Western eleven. He will coach all sports at Manhattan high, and probably will assist Coach Bachman in training his sophomore backfield this fall.

COLLEGE TO STAGE EXHIBIT AT STATE THIS FALL

Will Give Dairy and Poultry Display at Hutchinson

An exhibit planned by the extension division of the college will greet visitors at the state fairs this fall. The college display will be built around dairying and is to be essentially educational. From a radio loud speaker in the center will be broadcast information concerning the various points in connection with the display.

The exhibit not only will be attractive but also of great value to those interested in dairying, poultry, and growing of legumes.

Nearly 200 feet of wall space will be occupied by the entire college exhibit, which will surpass any that the college has shown during the past year.

L. C. Williams, extension horticulturist, is in charge.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS EXTENSIVE WORK

TO STAGE WATERMELON FEED IN NEAR FUTURE

R. E. Ewing Is President of Organization—Special Programs for Dad's and Hello Days

The Y. M. C. A. has made extensive plans this year to become one of the most helpful organizations on the hill, according to R. E. Ewing, who is president of the group.

The religious organization has been engaged in the student work during the past week, meeting trains and furnishing new students with information about the college. Paul Pfeutze and Harry Tebow have been in charge.

During the registration time both the Y. M. and Y. W. will have representatives on the floor to give information to freshmen in regard to their assignments.

The annual watermelon feed is scheduled to take place either the latter part of this week or next week. These events are well attended by students and faculty and furnish an excellent means of getting the new college students acquainted with each other.

Special programs are being planned for Dad's day and Hello day which will occur later during the school year.

The "K" book that is published each year jointly by the two religious organizations is now available to any who wish a copy. These books were given to a number of students when they arrived at the station but may still be procured at the offices of Doctor Holtz in Anderson hall.

CANTEEN, BARBER SHOP OUSTED FROM CAMPUS

Order of Board of Administration Ends Fight of Long Standing

The college canteen, operated by N. S. Spangler, and the college barber shop, operated by J. E. Cooper, were closed at the end of the summer session. Both the canteen and the barber shop were installed on the campus during the war and have been in operation since that time.

The order of the board of administration for the closing of the canteen and the barber shop ends a fight which has been waged by some local business houses for more than a year to bring about this result. Their contention was that the competition with Manhattan business was unfair.

The canteen and barber shop paid rental in the form of a percentage of their receipts. The revenue was applied to the support of various college activities for which no provision was made in the regular budget.

Mr. Spangler has opened a new building just across the street from the south gate where he will conduct his business more elaborately than before. Mr. Cooper has rented one of the buildings at the corner of Manhattan and Bluemont avenues where he has installed a barber shop.

STARK COACHES M. H. S.

Former Wildcat All-Valley Player Succeeds Gallagher

Though Arthur "Art" Stark, Aggie All-Valley half back for the last three years, is lost to the Aggie varsity team he will be in Manhattan this winter as coach of the Manhattan high school teams. Stark succeeds "Cliff" Gallagher, also a former Aggie star, as coach at the high school. Gallagher goes to the Wichita public schools after turning out a state championship football team at Manhattan last fall.

Stark was a unanimous choice as All-Valley man in his position last fall, lack of weight alone preventing him from serious consideration on the All-Western eleven. He will coach all sports at Manhattan high, and probably will assist Coach Bachman in training his sophomore backfield this fall.

COLLEGE TO STAGE EXHIBIT AT STATE THIS FALL

Will Give Dairy and Poultry Display at Hutchinson

An exhibit planned by the extension division of the college will greet visitors at the state fairs this fall. The college display will be built around dairying and is to be essentially educational. From a radio loud speaker in the center will be broadcast information concerning the various points in connection with the display.

The exhibit not only will be attractive but also of great value to those interested in dairying, poultry, and growing of legumes.

Nearly 200 feet of wall space will be occupied by the entire college exhibit, which will surpass any that the college has shown during the past year.

L. C. Williams, extension horticulturist, is in charge.

MERCHANTS PLAN WELCOME AFFAIR

TO HOLD STREET DANCE NEXT THURSDAY

Moro Street Will Be Decorated—Committee Appointed to Manage Celebration

A real hand of greeting will be extended to returning college students by Aggieville merchants at an All-Aggieville celebration planned for next Thursday night, September 11.

To Have Street Dance

Twelfth street from Moro to Laramie is to be roped off, and a five piece orchestra will play for street dancing from 9 until 12 o'clock if the merchants secure consent of college authorities for the dance.

Stores in the district will remain open from 7:30 until 9 o'clock for sales. Several merchants plan to serve refreshments and give favors to those attending the welcome celebration. Tickets for the street dance will be given out free from the stores cooperating in the display. Practically every business man in the Aggieville district is cooperating in extending the glad hand, according to S. S. Prentice, of the Aggieville Business Men's club, which is sponsoring the celebration.

Aggie Colors on Display

Moro, the main street of Aggieville, will be decorated in purple and white, the college colors. The welcome is decidedly not limited to college students, merchants of the district say, but people from all over Manhattan are urged to "come up and see how the district has grown."

Plans to insure the success of the welcome were laid yesterday at a meeting of the leading Aggieville business men in the College State bank.

Merchants who do not keep open during the evening plan to "dress up" their windows for the benefit of window shoppers.

Name Four Committees

The following committees were named at the meeting today:

Finance, George Givin, Emmett Graham, Ray Pollom; window displays, Charles Graham, Fred Charlin, J. L. Johns; music, L. C. Shafer, Earl Grigg; traffic, Harry Orris, S. S. Prentice.

The forty-eight merchants and business men who will cooperate in the celebration are:

Paul Dooley, jeweler; Stevensons; George Scheu; S. S. Prentice Dry Goods company; Larsons Cleaners and Tailors; Abernathy Market; Long Oil company, Ben Polson; J. L. Johns candy; Martin-Moore Hardware and Electric company; Crowder's Cleaning and Dye Works; Andy's Place, A. V. Cleaners.

SCIENTISTS TO SPEAK HERE

British Agricultural Experts Will Visit Here This Month
Two representatives of the oldest agricultural experiment station in any English speaking country will lecture at K. S. A. C. on September 19 and 20, according to Dean F. D. Farrell, director of the Kansas agricultural experiment station. The scientists who will deliver the lectures are Dr. D. W. Cutler and Dr. H. J. Page of the Rothamsted experiment station at Harpenden, England.

Doctor Cutler will discuss several of the latest discoveries which have been made in the investigation of soil inhabiting microorganisms. Doctor Page will describe some of the results of the long continued experiments in crop production and soil treatment at Rothamsted.

FALL OPENING

and Window Show

Tuesday: September the 9th

Fall—a new season—new activities—new interests. There's a crisp new tang in the air that spurs one on—a riot of new color in the world that blends all into one glorious harmony. There has been a new mode on the horizon for a long time, and now it's actually here. Our Opening of Fall Apparel takes place this week. You will find assembled here just the things you want for the new Season. Come today or tomorrow—as soon as you can.

The New Fall Wraps Favor Wrappy Upper Sections

Still very slim and slender, the new fall Fall wraps employ subtle innovations to achieve this favored silhouette. Many of the coats, still close fitting at the bottom, evidence a wrappy upper section that is very smart. Many, too, have shawl or tuxedo collars. Others are very slender and are bordered with fur at the bottom.

Prices range from $49.75 to $175.00

The Fall Topcoat Is Invariably Plaided

This is a season of plaids—broken plaids, shadow plaids, blocked plaids. And the smart distinction of these designs is exemplified in the new Fall Topcoat. Ideal for general utility wear, these coats may be chosen, fashioned along the slender lines of the mode.

Redingote Lines Dominate The New Fall Frocks

More and more the costume idea creeps into the mode. This season the endorsement of this trend has brought the Redingote frock to the foremost in tailored street frocks. Color contrast is an important factor. Oft-times the Redingote is of one fabric and color—the under slip of another

Silk Frocks for First Parties of the New Season

Now that every one is back in town all sorts of parties will be planned to start the social ball rolling. And, of course, parties mean new party Frocks. If you have not been giving your Fall wardrobe much attention you will be delighted to hear that we have some especially lovely new fall things—good looking silk Frocks in particular. Little short tunics flaring at the bottom—slashed skirts—gay Chinese embroideries, and other highlights of the Fall mode are all to be found in the new Frocks being shown.

Prices range from $15.00 to $45.00

Shiny Fabrics Distinguish The Silk Frocks

Long, slim, slender frocks of satin and the new shiny ribbed fabrics; frocks whose long tunic blouse effects end in a smart flare at the bottom; frocks with long sleeves in many interesting lace variations and mousquetaire effects—these are some of the frocks you may choose for smart afternoon occasions.

Little Details of Consequence—Accessories

It's not the frock alone, or the suit or the coat—it's the important little extras that distinguish a fashionably dressed woman. Gloves, Hose, Handbags, Neckwear—you will see everything you need to give your Fall wardrobe just the finishing touches it needs, in our Fall Opening displays.

WILDCATS ARE TOUGHENING UP

CAPTAIN LYLE MUNN DIRECTS CONDITIONING WORK

Coaching Staff to Go on Duty Monday—Plenty of Beef Available From Last Year's Freshmen

With a full week of kicking, passing and general "toughening up" exercises, Coach C. W. Bachman's crew of 70 varsity football aspirants are getting adept at handling the old pigskin under the able direction of Captain Lyle Munn. On Monday, Bachman, Charles Corsaut, Frank Root, and the remainder of the coaches will take charge of the squad and start whipping a team into shape for the initial game with Washburn, October 4 at Topeka.

Much Weight in Evidence

Onlookers at the daily varsity workouts on the practice field are impressed with the size of the players. This year the Aggie Wildcats should have a team with enough additional weight to stack up as a whole with any other team in the valley. There promises to be not only a heavier line but a considerable increase of weight in the backfield. Out of the great variety of material to be found this year a team could be chosen with a line averaging anywhere from 180 to 200 pounds and a backfield hitting the beams from 170 to 185 pounds.

With a number of good passers and kickers, a heavy line and a fast backfield the Wildcats for this fall show promise of becoming one of the best teams in the history of the school although the matter of valley football experience is the handicap that "Bach" is facing. Only three regulars are back from last year's aggregation: Captain Lyle Munn, right end; B. C. Harter, center and L. E. Keefer, right tackle. However there are six other letter men in suits this fall that are experienced in valley competition including O. H. Wilson, Jennings, right half; Archie Butcher, Solomon, full; J. L. Mildrextor, Norton, fullback.

Cochrane Probable Quarter

Owen "Chili" Cochrane of Manhattan is possibly one of the safest bets for the position of quarter. "Chili" has had five years of "Bachman" football during high school and college. Captain Lyle Munn will pull down the passes from the right end position while Keefer and Harter will no doubt land other first string berths. The remaining positions are in question as there is strong competition for each place between the sophomores and last year's letter men.

Bachman and his staff will have nearly five weeks to get ready for the Kansas Jayhawks who open the valley year for the Aggies on the stadium field. In the meantime the Wildcats will try sharpening their claws on the Ichabods and the Emporia Teachers. These two games should be Aggie wins although both will prove to be good football exhibitions.

Those who are considered as "eligibles" for varsity team places next fall:

Centers: B. C. Harter, El Dorado; Woody Perham, Iola; J. E. Smith, Norton.

Left Guard: R. V. Hutton, Manhattan; Si Tombaugh, Kansas City, Kas.; E. L. Stone, Roswell; H. A. Teal, El Dorado.

Right Ends: Lyle Munn, Colby; Eric Tebow, Scandia; Jesse Kimport, Norton; C. D. Tolle, Manhattan; S. B. Griswold, Rossville.

Right Tackles: Z. Pearson, Manhattan; L. E. Keefer, Salina; K. E. Yandell; J. Smutz, Junction; J. W. Ballard, Almena; J. C. Krysl, Lucas; R. E. Hamler, Mulvane; Lawrence Guthrie, Saffordville.

Quarter Backs: Owen Cochrane, Manhattan; Lyle Read, Clay Center; Joe Anderson, Salina; Russel Hoffman, Cherryvale; Joe Stout, Emporia.

Right Halves: O. H. Wilson, Jennings; C. N. Briow, Ada; H. J. Dayhoff, Abilene; S. A. Herren, Manhattan; Donald Meek, Idana; R. V. Gates, Greenwood; Fred Masek, Norton; A. F. Rheburg, Niles.

Full Back: Archie Butcher, Solomon; J. L. Mildrextor, Norton; E. E. Feathers, Minneapolis; H. H. McGee, Olathe; Clyde L. Randall, Kansas City, Kas.; M. H. Toburen, Cleburne.

Has anybody seen Ray? Not Violet Ray, or the Ray with the little Chevrolet—just Ray. The trials of enrolling must have fussed Ray somewhat. So much that he mechanically picked up a blank check at the Collegian subscription booth and after mechanically filling it out walked right off and left all the cards he and his dad had labored so hard to accumulate.

We understand Ray's lapse of memory; he had probably spent his first days at college in some such manner:

Monday: 7 a. m. Got in the line leading to the registrar's office.

9 a. m. Got in line at south entrance to go to Dean Willard's office to draw number.

10 a. m. Drew No. 213. Came back to gym every half hour throughout the afternoon.

Tuesday: 9:17 a. m. Number 213 called. Got schedule fixed and all but one card distributed when noon whistle blew. Rushed back to find activity ticket.

3:15 p. m. After experiencing one or two closed classes gets much needed air.

3:16 p. m. Answers Collegian distress signal.

3:17 p. m. Walks off and leaves activity ticket, fee cards, everything but sample copy of Collegian.

That evening he drops the folks at home a card:

Dear Folks:

I've heard a lot about wreck since I got here. Monday I walked behind two girls and they said they would meet each other in wreck. Then one said, "Where's Mary?" And the other one said she'd gone to wreck. I was puzzled but now I know what they meant. I've gone to wreck. I've lost all my fees cards and my football ticket. I'll stay another day or two and if it's like the first two days meet the train Friday morning.

As never.

FIRST RALLY AND PEP MEET IN PARK

ANNUAL Y. M. WATERMELON FEED TO BE HELD TUESDAY

College Celebrities on Speaking List—Ton and Quarter Watermelons Ordered for Party

The first big football rally of the school year will be Tuesday night, September 16, in the city park, when the Y. M. C. A. will hold its annual football rally and watermelon feed. A ton and a quarter of watermelons have been ordered for the occasion.

according to Paul Axtell, chairman of the committee on the rally.

Prominent Speakers Listed

Prominent members of the K. S. A. C. faculty, the college athletic department, and Manhattan business men will speak. Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the college, will be one of the K. S. A. C. speakers. Others on the program are Michael Francis Ahearn, director of athletics at K. S. A. C., Charles W. Bachman, head coach; Charles W. Corsaut, basketball and baseball coach; Howard T. Hill, head of the public speaking department; and S. A. Bardwell, president of the Manhattan chamber of commerce. It is also probable that Dr. H. H. King, head of the chemistry department, will be among those asked to speak. Likewise Rev. W. M. "Bill" Guerrant of the First Presbyterian church, and Dr. A. A. Holtz, "Y. M." secretary.

For the benefit of the uninitiated the nicknames of the college speakers in the order named are "Prexy," "Charlie," "Coach," or "Bach;" another "Charlie," or "Coach," or "Chuck;" "Doc;" and "H. H." Only nicknames go at football rallies.

To Speak in Band Stand

The band stand will be used as a speakers' platform, and bleacher seats will be occupied by those attending. Old clothes are not only desirable, but decidedly to be recommended as raiment for the "pepsters."

Plenty of chances will be given for exercise of "rusty" vocal chords in order that the possessors may be in shape for football games. Other forms of entertainment besides eating watermelon, listening to peppy talks, and brushing up on yell.

FRESH FOOTBALL PRACTICE STARTS SEPTEMBER 22

Crimson Jerseyed Backfield Expected to Outweigh Varsity

Freshman football practice will start Monday afternoon, September 22, when the crimson jerseys reserved for first year men will be distributed by Coach C. W. Corsaut, in charge of basketball, baseball, and freshman football.

All freshmen are urged to turn out for practice regardless of previous football experience. Freshman practice includes instruction in the "beginnings" of the game, and inexperienced men have just as great a chance and often more than men with football experience, Coach Corsaut explained.

Last year more than a hundred freshman stayed out for practice most of the season, and almost half of those are back this fall fighting for a place on the varsity. This year's freshman backfield is expected to be slightly heavier than that of the varsity, while the line will give very little, if any, advantage in weight to the older men.

Elected Legion Commander

Frank Hauke, a former student of K. S. A. C. was elected state commander of the American Legion at the recent convention held in Topeka. Hauke attended school here in 1914 and 1915 when he was a star fullback on the football team. He later attended Cornell where he was captain and halfback on the varsity team.

MORE THAN 2800 HAVE REGISTERED

EARLY ENROLLMENT SHOWS INCREASE OF NEARLY 200

Increase Above Normal Despite Dropping of Vocational School and Loss of Service Men

More than 2,800 students had registered for fall semester attendance at K. S. A. C. Thursday morning, according to figures given out by Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar. This figure was an increase of about 175 over enrollment at the same time last year, in spite of the fact that the vocational school has been discontinued and by far the largest number of service men under government compensation dropped out last year.

Total enrollment for the school year will easily pass the 4,000 mark, as more than 1,000 students attended summer school. Total enrollment figures for the year include summer school, short courses, two year students, and all others actually in attendance during the college year on the campus.

Registration Speeded Up

Last year the total enrollment was 3,812. All but one of the 104 counties in Kansas were represented, as well as 28 states and a number of foreign countries.

No figures on enrollment by divisions or departments have been compiled as yet, but the increase is believed to be fairly well distributed.

Although there were many complaints of registration seeming slower than in the past, the "figures" show that it actually progressed faster than did registration of any previous year.

The usual long lines of students who arrived in town at the last minute Sunday night were waiting to draw numbers or consult about schedules in front of every dean's office on the campus. By noon of the first day the lines were fairly well taken care of.

"Lates" Pay $5

Late enrollments will be accepted until noon of Saturday, September 20 on payment of a penalty fee of $5. After that date enrollments will be accepted only after the approval of the dean has been secured.

Freshmen men were aided greatly in straightening out enrollment tangles by the presence of several Y. M. C. A. "big brothers" on the floor of Nichols gymnasium. This is the first year the "Y" has gone into the "big brother" end of aiding freshmen. The Y. W. C. A. had the usual "big sister" organization out meeting trains and aiding with registration.

Miss Fleming to Detroit

Miss Bernice Fleming, daughter of Mrs. C. Fleming of Manhattan, will leave soon for Detroit, Mich., where she will do nutrition work in the Merrill-Palmer school. Miss Fleming, who was graduated this spring from the division of home economics, has a scholarship at Detroit, and her work there will be applied on a master's degree.

BRAZILIAN STUDENTS ENROL FOR AGRICULTURAL TRAINING

South American Government Sends Two Men to K. S. A. C.

Two young students, Mr. F. F. Guimaraes and Mr. A. C. da Rocha of the state of Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, have arrived at Manhattan to take a course in agriculture at Kansas State Agricultural college. They are two of 30 men who are being sent to colleges throughout the world during the present year by the Brazilian government. About one-half of the Brazilian government students attend French educational institutions, about one-fourth study in Germany, and the remainder attend institutions in other European countries and in the United States.

Guimaraes has come to K. S. A. C. especially to get training in agronomy and da Rocha plans to major in animal husbandry. The young men won their government scholarships in scholastic competitions in Brazilian educational institutions.

Aggie graduate of last year who was a member of the Olympic team. Riley was on the varsity track team for three years where he made a brilliant athletic record. He holds several world's records in hurdle events.

Huston May Return

It is barely possible that Dewey Huston, Aggie guard and drop kicker of three years ago may come back this fall to finish out his last year of school and Valley football. Huston was an all-valley guard for two years and the best drop kicker in the history of Missouri Valley football.

Purple Dye for Football Helmets Originated Here

"Say, Latshaw, how about spending a little time this afternoon on that stuff?"

W. L. Latshaw heard such a query from Coach C. W. Bachman at frequent intervals last year when the two were endeavoring to find a dye that would give leather the proper purple hue for use as a coloring for football helmets.

"As far as I know," said Latshaw, "it is the first dye that has ever been made, suitable to color leather a purple that could be recognized at a distance, as such."

In the fall of '22 the helmets were colored purple but the color was not recognizable from a distance. The fall of '23 marked the debut of Professor Latshaw's purple leather dye. The helmets were a vivid purple and could be noticed from the top of the stadium.

"We have a number of shades of purple dyes," said Latshaw, "but the problem was to find one that would show up when put on leather. The ordinary dye would turn so dark that at a short distance it appeared black instead of purple. I kept adding red to the solution until it looked as though the result would be a deep red. The result was a slightly lighter color than we wanted but it was easily concentrated by making the solution slightly alkaline. We finished the experiment in summer school and used the dye on the helmets last fall. The shiny appearance of the helmets was due to a coat of shellac that was added to make cleaning easier and to make them waterproof."

Bachman said that he had been trying to get a good dye to make football helmets show up a vivid purple for some time before last year. When he was at Northwestern university he had some work done on it but unsuccessfully. The chemistry department wrote to several dye companies after failing themselves, but could get no help. The colors at Northwestern are purple and white and he wanted to use the same type of headgear but had to paint them in order to get anything like a good purple color.

NO REFORMATORY HERE--JARDINE

JARDINE STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF SERIOUS STUDY

Opening Chapel Well Attended—Freshmen in Majority—Professor Pratt Sings Irish Songs

"Remember that this college is not a reformatory or an amusement center, but a place of opportunity for students who really desire to improve themselves." That was the keynote of the speech of President W. M. Jardine in opening the sixty-second session of K. S. A. C. at opening chapel yesterday morning. Chapel attendance was a little better than the ordinary for opening day.

Pratt Leads Singing

The singing of "Alma Mater," by the student body, led by Prof. Ira Pratt of the music department, opened the program, and was followed by the invocation delivered by Rev. Charles E. Parkinson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Two Irish songs sung by Professor Pratt were well received. Prof. L. A. Kennedy, instructor in piano, of the music department, acted as accompanist.

Colonel Fred W. Bugbee, commandant of the college R. O. T. C., was introduced to the students and announced plans for observance of Defense day. Student cooperation was asked.

Prexy's Address One of Best

The president's address was one of the best he has delivered in his term as head of the college.

"We believe that seniors graduating from this institution can think better than the freshmen," Doctor Jardine said. "Many modern writers are beginning to find fault with college education, believing that all the students attend school for is to play. I am not of that belief, but I do think that if some of you students would take your work more seriously you would be much better off when you have to go out into the world."

"The writers who think college is all frivolity have not gone into the serious side of college life. They have come on the campus, observed things they have seen in college towns, but have failed to visit the class room. Conditions are improving, but there is still room for improvement."

Wildcat May Move

"Work in some student activities, but don't be a professional joiner. Take up only those activities which you actually find enough time for to make yourself a force that is really felt in the organization or work of which you are a member."

Following the main part of his talk, President Jardine closed by announcing plans for the coming year regarding the campus and radio station. He explained that the purpose of moving the cage of the Aggie wildcat was not to get rid of the wildcat in front of Nichols gymnasium, but to get rid of the cage. If the cage of the mascot is rebuilt to make it less of a blot on the landscape it will not be necessary to move the cage, the president said.

DISCUSSES FARM HEALTH

Dr. C. M. Sleever Advocates Districting State for Efficient Supervision

Dr. C. M. Sleever, college physician, is author of an article in a recent number of Hygeia, entitled "Cultivating Health on the Farm." He advocates dividing a state into districts to be placed under health officers.

"The health officer should be chosen, not for his political faith, but on account of his knowledge of hygiene and sanitation, and he should be kept in office as long as he gives good service. The funds necessary to carry on this work should be raised by a fixed per capita tax, which in an ordinary county of 20,000 persons should be at least 50 cents apiece. This would make it possible to employ a nurse and office clerk and meet other needed expenses."

"In the country another division should be made for health educational purposes; this is the school district. Each school district should be the center of the community for demonstrations and the giving out of health knowledge."

Harry Day has returned from Kansas City and will attend K. S. A. C. and play in the orchestra at the Wareham theatre.

Miss Ruby A. Thomas, of Argonia, has returned to Manhattan to work on her master's degree. She was graduated with the class of '22 and last year taught home economics at Cimarron.

WHEN?

Veteran students are still undecided as to whether it is best to register during the early hours of the first day or wait until the last. Those who enrol the first day usually obtain the classes they wish but the last day registrants "get by" with almost anything because the assigners are so tired of the grind.

"SPIKING"

"Spiking" is the term used by fraternity men to designate the pledging of a rushee at some time during the week before the time set by the rules committee. The man carries the pledge button around in his pocket until Saturday afternoon at 4 p. m. when it is formally placed in his buttonhole.

The practice of "spiking" is very common among the fraternities. The violation of the rule prohibiting pledging until the last day of the week is so flagrant as to make it almost a joke. The bewildered freshman is, in many cases, overcome by the first group of fraternity men who take him in hand and promises them anything. Those who are somewhat more versed in fraternities are usually more argumentative and unwilling to plunge blindly into a promise. The "sweat system," with several fraternity men arguing perhaps hours at a time is used on this type and a promise is often exacted from the freshman when he becomes so confused and worked up that he will agree to anything in order to get away.

With such a method in operation the existence of the present rule is practically worthless. Since the practice of "spiking" is done more or less secretly no regulation could be made that would cause it to become obsolete. However, a ruling that would prevent the breaking of rush dates that have been accepted by the rushee, that would impose a severe penalty upon both the man and the fraternity breaking the dates, would help some.

The most valuable improvement that could be made in the present rules is the postponement of pledging until a man has been in attendance at school for at least one semester. A man's choice of a fraternity means much to him during his college career and he should be given a chance to choose the group he favors most after he has had the opportunity of looking them all over during the semester. And then again fraternities are after the men who "do things" in school and this waiting period would enable them to bid the men they wish without the risk of pledging men that are unsuited for fraternity life.

"Jessie," we said to our room mate when we came home from the show last night, "Jessie, wasn't it perfectly WONDERFUL? Did you ever see such gorgeous costumes, such beautiful ladies, such lavish—"

"Why don't you go in for press agenting?"

"But Jessie! No wonder they call him the Greatest Lover of the Silver Sheet! Did you ever see such—such perfection—"

"No, I never did."

"—of historical detail, such artistry, such—are you listening?"

"Rave on, but make it snappy. The night draws to a close, as you and Shakespeare would say."

"What a night. So sweet—so sweet. One seems to smell the roses on all the hedge rows in the world."

"Huh?"

"Nothing. Wouldn't it be thrilling to be a Princess of the Blood at the court of Louis the Fifteenth—"

"And wear those modified tent skirts? Let's go to bed."

"To bed? Ah no! The muse is beckoning. A triquet, a rondel, a rondeau, something with a touch of France, for the Duke de Chartres, n'est-ce pas?"

"Lookie here, you better let me do the literary work—you're too slow."

"But you can't—you wouldn't do him justice."

A few prominent letter men who are in the limelight again this season

O. H. WILSON
A curly headed backfield man who shows great promise.

ARCHIE BUTCHER
A sorrel topped fullback who hits the line like a cannon ball.

L. E. KEEFER
A utility man who is valuable on the line especially at tackle.

BILL BALLARD
A heavyweight who specializes at the tackle's berth.

JOHN MILDREXTER
A valuable letter man in the backfield.

BERNARD HARTER
A two letter man at the pivot berth. Harter is also editor of the Royal Purple this year.

WOODY PERHAM
A heavyweight who makes a specialty of passing the ball from the center position.

"BUCK" HUTTON
A valuable letter man at both the guard and center positions.

"Give me that pencil. My muse is raring to go."

We knew, as soon as Jessie said, "It's a rondelet, a la American," in that flippant way she has, we knew that our worst fears were realized. We turned away to hide the disappointment we could not conceal, the emotion we could not control, when she handed us this:

TO RUDY
(Maizie Goes to the Movies)

Mebbe you ain't a great guy, (a truly great, I mean).
But say, you know your stuff, kid, at lovin', on the screen!
That marcelled wig's a knockout, the way the hair is curled,
You even got a beauty patch! Spiff!
I'll tell the world!
Them clothes, now—ain't they hand-some! "Costooms," you'd say, I guess.
I don't care what you call 'em by, you sure know how to dress!
Mebbe you ain't a hero, outside of Hollywood,
But when it comes to Romance . . . I wonder if I could Persuade the boss to leave me off again this week—
I ain't been to a decent show since I seen "The Sheik,"
What if you ain't a smart guy, (a "Who's Who" hick, I mean).
You knock 'em for a row of hearts, at lovin', on the screen!

Bender Wants More Speed

Pan-Americans either refuse to be rushed into decisions or believe in arriving at conclusions by long and tortuous routes, if the testimony of Louis B. Bender, '04, major in the signal corps, United States army, now a member of the American delegation to the conference of Pan American states in session at Mexico City, is an example of their methods.

"Even in this remote region, I recall that I have an obligation toward the stadium to meet July 1," Major Bender writes. "Not knowing the official title of the stadium association, I have taken the liberty of obtaining a draft payable to you for the amount of my subscription now due and mail it herewith with the expectation that you will deliver it to the proper parties."

Butcher Gets Advancement

A. M. Butcher, '16, formerly of the oil production division, Empire companies, has been appointed assistant purchasing agent in Bartlesville, Okla. Mr. Butcher joined the Empire companies in 1916, when he entered the cadet school of the Denver Gas and Electric company in Denver, Col. Later he worked at Caney, Augusta, Okmulgee, and Oil Hill. In Oil Hill he was in charge of steam power for a short time. For two years he operated the dehydrator plant near El Dorado. He went to Bartlesville about eight months ago to take charge of the standardization work and recently was made assistant purchasing agent.

Dr. and Mrs. Leonidas Buttman announce the marriage of their daughter, Martha, to Mr. Francis Jacobs Cheek, jr., August 26, at Franklin, Ky. Mr. Cheek is assistant professor of structural engineering at K. S. A. C. and they will make their home in Manhattan.

16,000 SEATS IN STADIUM READY

GRIDIRON IS IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

Intensive Advertising Campaign Carried on by Athletic Department During Summer

Sixteen thousand persons may witness Aggie football victories from stadium seats this fall. The east wing of the Memorial stadium has been completed and is now ready for the first game. It is thought that the two sections now completed will accommodate the crowds at all the games this fall with the possible exception of the games with Kansas university and Nebraska university.

Field in Condition

Last spring the field was sodded and it is now in excellent condition. It no longer will be necessary to play under the disadvantage of a muddy field in the Aggie stadium.

Record crowds are expected by the athletic department. Through an extensive advertising campaign they have hoped to create interest in the game. On every envelope that is sent in correspondence from the athletic department, there is a picture of the stadium. Inside the picture of the stadium on the envelopes is a schedule of the Aggie games, both at home and abroad. Another medium of advertising is a poster which was sent to Aggie students and graduates this summer with the request to post them on the windshields of their motor cars.

Borrowed Money Necessary

It was found necessary by the Stadium corporation to borrow $60,000 at an interest charge of over $12 a day to complete the east wing. This work, however, could have been done without any indebtedness had all the back subscriptions been paid. It is expedient that subscriptions be paid to date, for the board has decided that no further work will be started until the present indebtedness is liquidated. New students will, within the next few weeks, be given an opportunity to make their pledges.

MAY ERECT CAMPANILE TO HONOR F. D. COBURN

Another Suggestion for Memorial Is Establishment of Chair in Agriculture Here

A towering campanile, 100 feet in height, that can be seen from the broad reaches of two of Kansas' richest valleys, the Kaw and the Blue, may be constructed at some point on the hill as a memorial to F. D. Coburn, former secretary of the state board of agriculture, according to an announcement made by the committee in charge. President W. M. Jardine is a member of the executive group and Dean H. Umberger of the extension division is a member of the general committee.

Another suggestion that has been received by the committee is the establishment of a chair in agriculture at the college to commemorate the life and work of Coburn. Other suggestions that may be carried out include the erection of a bronze statue on the state house grounds, and the creation of a loan fund for the assistance of needy students, both men and women, through a course here.

Secretary W. F. McCullough at Wichita is receiving the subscriptions to the fund.

FRANK ROOT APPOINTED AS DIRECTOR OF INTRAMURALS

New Department Will Be Headed by Former Football Star Who Also Will Coach Freshmen

Keeping in step with the other large schools of the Middle West, K. S. A. C. has created the department of intramural athletics for the year 1924-25, and Frank Root, Aggie football man of several years ago, has been placed in charge of the intramural work. Mr. Root also will have charge of Freshman basketball, Freshman track, and Freshman baseball, in addition to assisting with fall football practice.

He has coached Aggie athletics in various capacities since his graduation in 1914 from school, and has also been taking post graduate work.

Addition of an extra man to the athletic staff to take charge of intramurals will take much of the burden off the shoulders of E. A. Knott, director of physical education. It will still be necessary to use student assistants in gym class work, and as part time swimming instructors, but Knott will be able to give more personal attention to the physical education work, and intramurals also will be benefited by being in charge of a full time man.

As part of the program for the athletic department during the 1924-25 school year Mr. Knott plans to have the length of the swimming pool for men in Nichols gymnasium reduced from 62 feet to 60 feet, which is standard for Missouri valley swimming meets.

Last year visiting valley schools complained that the extra two feet in length of the Aggie pool "threw them off their stroke" while Aggie swimmers have been likewise handicapped in foreign pools. No records made in the present pool have been accepted as official because of it not being the required length.

K. S. A. C. continues to lead in "school of the air" work by being the first educational institution to issue a catalogue listing radio courses which will be broadcast from the college this winter. Copies of the catalogues are off the press and will be mailed out to prospective students soon.

PLAN ELABORATE SPREAD

Sophs to Stage Party for Freshman Girls in Gym

Elaborate plans are being made for the Freshman spread this year. The date of the party is set for September 27. Heretofore the spread has been held in Recreation center but the increased number of freshman girls has made it necessary to find a larger place to accommodate all the guests and so the gym has been secured for it.

The Freshman spread is a general get acquainted party, sponsored by the girls of the sophomore class. It is here that the freshman girls will have an opportunity to meet the upper class girls and to spend a social evening with them.

The chairmen of the committees now at work are as follows: Decoration, Betty Elkins; refreshment, Mable Harris; publicity and invitation, Marie Insley; entertainment, Lillian Kammeyer. Marie Farmer is the general manager of the spread.

A Tribute to Radio

WM. M. JARDINE
President of Kansas State Agricultural College

The Extension college courses radiocast from Kansas State Agricultural College open to all of the 165,000 Kansas farm families an opportunity for close contact with scientific progress. It is easy to foresee millions of dollars of added value to agriculture created through employment of methods that radio messages, such as those broadcast from station K S A C, impart to agricultural education.

PRES. WILLIAM M. JARDINE
tions made to their general as well

Radio is already a vital factor in the economic and intellectual life of the farmer. The part it will exert in the future is beyond calculation. Its influence on agricultural betterment will be, perhaps, its greatest contribution to civilization.

I know of no other means of self improvement attainable at so little expense and effort as that afforded by radio. If advantage is taken of such a program as is to be broadcast from this station, the farm family should be relieved to a large extent from its sense of isolation, the life of its members broadened, their interest in farm life and success in it increased and substantial additions made to their general as well as their agricultural education.

New Autumn Millinery

Smartly Styled—Economically Priced!

New shapes distinguish our showing of the new Fall Millinery. Among the most interesting is the new high crown, developed in numerous ways. The Postillion and the Directoire are both unusually smart high crowned styles. Spanish sailors, too, are good this season. Then there are many off-the-face shapes and broad and medium brims.

The materials include hatters' plush, velvets, velvet and felt combinations, and fancy printed velvets and suedes. Much gold braid and tinsel effects are used with these. All the new shades shown, as well as the staple dark ones.

Shaded velvet flowers trim some of the larger hats, while others flaunt big ribbon bows. Ostrich is a favored trimming this season, and birds are used a great deal. Some of the smartest hats display pom-poms in a chinchilla effect. And metallic trimmings of all kinds are featured.

COMPLETE NEW PUMPING PLANT

WATER IS RAISED BY MEANS OF AIR LIFTS

It Is a Great Improvement Over the Old System—First of Its Kind in This Part of the U. S.

The new water pumping station, which is located at the southeast corner of the campus, has been completed and is in operation. It was announced by G. R. Pauling, superintendent of the college building and repair department, today.

Automatic Lifts

The feature of the new station is the automatic lifting of the water from the wells by means of air lifts; the one here being the first of its kind to be installed in this section of the United States. A receiving storage tank will take the water as it is pumped from the wells, the air lifts placing the water into the storage reservoir. From the storage tank the water will be pumped into the "K" water tower by means of pressure pumps. The process is automatic. When the storage tank is sufficiently full the well pumps will automatically cut off and the pressure pumps will start filling the storage tower.

Dean R. A. Seaton, head of the division of engineering, Prof. L. E. Conrad, of the civil engineering department and G. R. Pauling, composed the designing committee of the new station. Nine preliminary tests were made, as to the best location of sufficient water for the college and the southeast corner of the campus was selected.

Three Loops of Mains

Another feature of the new water system is three circulating loops of water mains. By having these it is possible to keep the main parts of the college supplied with water at all times if one of the loops is being repaired.

The water station building has been designed along the lines of a garden house. It is the plan of the committee to plant vines and shrubbery around the building and in this way eliminate any unattractive features that might be in that section of the campus.

Mr. Pauling has also designed a special muffler to be used on the pumps and in this way eliminate any noise that might be obnoxious to the residents in that vicinity.

Aggie Student Killed

Frank Dilts of Leon, who attended K. S. A. C. during the past two years was electrocuted July 11 at Ogden, Utah, where he was employed by the Utah Light and Power company. Dilts was a member of the Aggie swimming team during the past season, always making a number of points in the various meets. He was enrolled in the department of electrical engineering and had two radio devices patented this spring.

POULTRY GROUP TO MEET HERE IN 1925

For First Time in Sixteen Years Since Organization of Association It Will Meet at a Western College

For the first time in the 16 years of its organization the American Association of Instructors and Investigators in Poultry Husbandry has chosen a western college, K. S. A. C., as the meeting place for its annual convention. The association will come to K. S. A. C. for its meeting in August, 1925, according to Prof. L. F. Payne, head of the department of poultry husbandry and secretary-treasurer of the association.

The association voted to come to K. S. A. C. in preference to an eastern or Canadian school as a compliment to the K. S. A. C. department for its leadership in poultry husbandry work.

More than 150 of the 380 members of the association expect to attend the convention here, according to Professor Payne, who recently returned with Dr. J. S. Hughes from the 1924 convention of the association at Raleigh, N. C.

The United States is threatened with "disbarment" from Canadian markets unless the poultry industry is standardized and a method of accrediting and certifying United States stock is evolved, Canadian members of the association declared at the Raleigh meeting. Failure to standardize the industry in the United States would mean a tax of 30 to 40 cents on chicks coming into Canada, which would eliminate it as a market.

Miss Ethel Mills, '24, has accepted a position at Narka where she will teach home economy, general science, and American history in the city schools.

RETURNS FROM EUROPE

Prof. N. A. Crawford Makes Extensive Visit During Summer

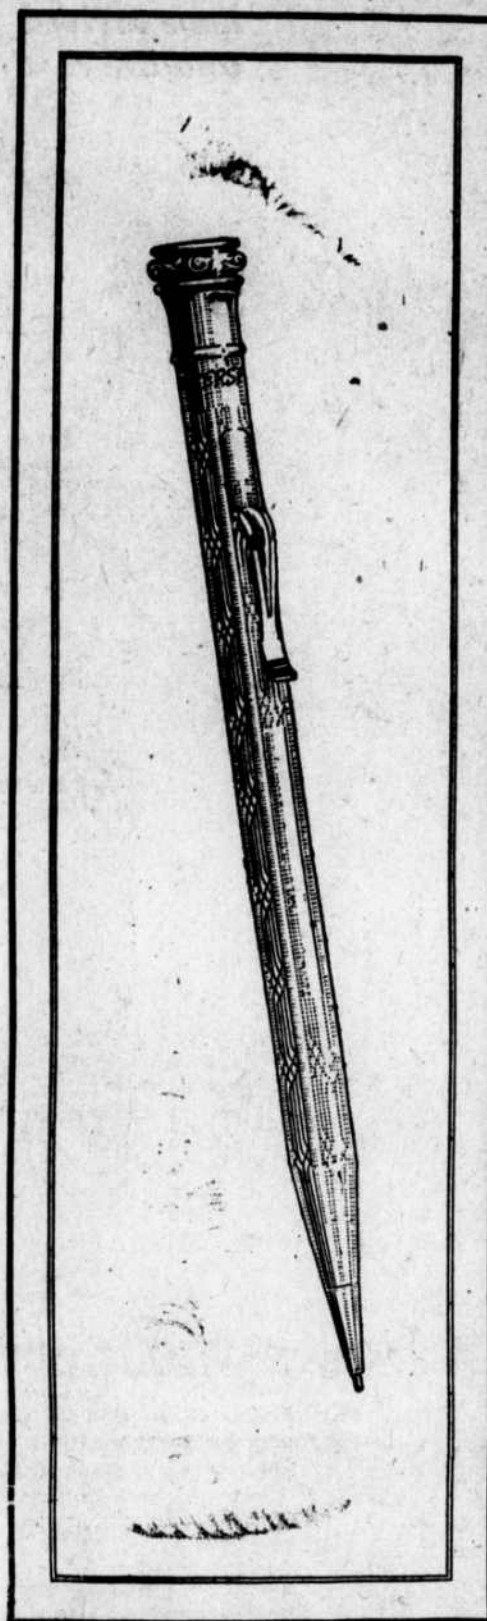

Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the department of industrial journalism, returned Tuesday from a trip abroad. He visited England, Scotland, Germany, France, Belgium, Switzerland and Spain during his tour.

Professor Crawford found that Germany seems to be the only country which is suffering from internal conditions. The depreciation of the mark and the low wage standard is working considerable hardship with the German people. France, however, seems to be returning to normal while England's chief trouble is the unemployment situation.

Throughout Europe, Professor Crawford said, there is too much production for the buying power but not too much for the consumer's use.

A Memory Tonic

It is surprising how the ever-readiness of Eversharp prompts the jotting down of passing thoughts and facts—and how quickly the habit of "writing it down" improves the ability for accurate remembrance.

Six new features make Eversharp a finer writing instrument than before—non-clogging rifled tip, quick reloading, complete interchangeability of parts, are the most important.

SOCIETY

Every girl in college is invited to attend the annual big and little sisters' party which will be held in Nichols gymnasium tonight at 8 o'clock. This is an opportunity for everyone to get acquainted and many faculty members and townswomen will be present. Stunts, songs, and dancing will be features of the evening, and punch and wafers will be served.

On the committee in charge of big sister work for this year are Dean Mary P. Van Zile, chairman; Elizabeth Bressler, Phyllis Burtis, and Ruth Limbocker. Big sister captains are Josephine Copeland, Virginia Deal, Betty Elkins, Ruth Phillips, Josephine Powers, Della Justice, Virginia Reeder, Delphine Meserve, Ruth Faulkner, Mildred Pound, Gladys Stover, Elsie Arbuthnot, Emma Scott, Dorothy Stiles, Genevieve Tracy, Mildred Leech, Agnes Thompson, Mary Lowe, Vera Alderman, Katherine Walker, and Mildred McGirr.

Kappa Phi will hold an Indian powwow in Recreation center next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. This is an open meeting and every Methodist girl in college is invited to be present.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. entertained the little sisters at tea in the home economics rest room last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. M. Jardine presided at the tea table.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Murray announce the marriage of their son, Guy A. Murray, and Miss Mary Louise Liebold, which took place at Oregon, Mo., September 1. Mr. Murray was graduated from K. S. A. C. with the class of 1923, and is now employed on the Missouri state highway commission.

Phi Omega Pi functions this week included a Buddha carnival Monday and a Kewpie luncheon on Tuesday. Wednesday afternoon the sorority gave a Moonwinks Romp.

The rushing party given by Alpha Delta Pi Tuesday afternoon was a Chinese fete. Bridge and Mah Jongg were played.

Alpha Xi Delta entertained with a domino carnival yesterday afternoon. Decorations were black and white, and the principal diversion was dancing.

The Wise club, a social organization of the Episcopalian students, will hold its first meeting Sunday at 6 p. m. in the parish house. Monday night the new members will be entertained at a party at the parish house, 611 Poyntz. The evening will be spent in dancing.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained at the chapter house Wednesday afternoon with a southern tea dance. Mrs. Emma Pasmore chaperoned the party.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Siefkin of Wichita announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss May Siefkin, to Mr. Mac Short, of Dayton, Ohio, which took place on Saturday, September 6, at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Siefkin attended K. S. A. C. for two years and later went to Northwestern university. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi. Mr. Short is also a former K. S. A. C. student and is a member of Beta Theta Pi.

Miss Marie Loop of Beloit is attending the rush week festivities at the Alpha Delta Pi house this week. She will reenter college the second semester.

Miss Zella Hodges of Manhattan and Harold Ehrhardt of Westphalia were married Thursday in Topeka. The bride is well known here and Mr. Ehrhardt is a former Aggie student.

AGGIEVILLE OPEN HOUSE CELEBRATION IS TONIGHT

Big Street Dance and Fashion Display Included in Welcome to Students and Townspeople

College students will be guests of Aggieville merchants at a big "Glad-hand" celebration and street dance in Aggieville tonight. The dance will be on Twelfth street from Moro to Laramie. A negro orchestra from Fort Riley will furnish the dance music.

Most of the stores in the district are planning to remain open from 7:30 until 9 o'clock, and several will serve refreshments and give out favors. Tickets for the street dance will be given out from the stores.

One dry goods store is planning a special style display of fashion show numbers on living models from 8:15 until 9 o'clock.

The Manhattan city band also will furnish part of the entertainment for the evening.

Prior to the celebration all the merchants of Aggieville, led by the city band, will stage a motor car parade through part of the residential and down town districts. Aggieville will be decorated in college colors for the celebration.

The date of the "open house" was originally set for Thursday night, but was moved up until Friday because of difficulty in getting a dance orchestra for Thursday.

WATERMELON FEED SEPT. 16

Y. M. C. A. to Stage Annual Event in City Park

The men of the college will be entertained at the watermelon feed and football rally, which is annually held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., Tuesday, September 16, near the bandstand in the city park.

Different forms of entertainment are being planned including speeches by prominent members of the athletic board and of the coaching staff. Time will be spent in limbering up the vocal cords with the old college yells.

Alumni On Research Council

Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture has taken the leadership in organizing a forest research council which will act in an advisory capacity to the Northeastern forest experiment station and to other forest research agencies throughout New England and New York. The council consists of 15 members and includes R. S. Kellogg, '96, secretary of News Print Service bureau, New York City; F. A. Waugh, '91, head of the division of horticulture, Massachusetts Agricultural college, and J. C. Kendall, director of New Hampshire Agricultural experiment station, and formerly professor of dairy husbandry, Kansas State Agricultural college. The council will not itself conduct any research, but will stimulate and guide research on the part of others without interfering with their complete freedom of action. Its recommendations will undoubtedly command respect and secure the adoption of more effective forest research than now exists. The council includes men prominent in forestry and in the utilization of forests and forest products.

Heads Ayrshire Breeders

James W. Linn, '15, of Manhattan, was reelected president of the National Ayrshire Breeders' association at its 49th annual meeting in Milwaukee June 11. Mr. Linn is a member of the firm of John Linn and Sons which owns, at Linddale Farm, one of the best herds of Ayrshires in the state. So successful has Linddale been in breeding heavy milking cows that sales have been made from coast to coast.

Skating Rink Was Once the Principal Diversion of Studes

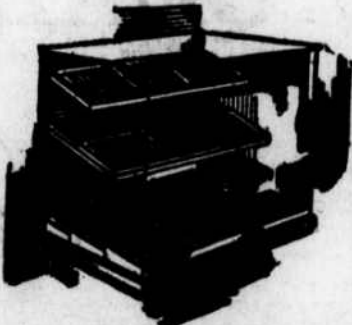

Would you play "Pussy wants a corner," "winkem-blunkem," and "drop the handkerchief," or would you fox-trot, waltz and one-step?

Back in the nineties when Dad and Mother came here to college no dancing was allowed on the campus. Each term a faculty committee, working in conjunction with representative students, planned an all-college social, corresponding to the all-college mixer of today. But the shades of the departed would not recognize the modern get-together as a follow up of their social custom.

The school social was given each term in Anderson hall in those days. There was always some sort of program presented in Recreation center, then the auditorium. Games were played in the adjoining rooms and outlying halls. Even if a dance had been allowed there could have been none for there was no room for it. Finally, as the enrollment grew in numbers, the social itself had to be discontinued for lack of accommodations.

Instead of the dance at the college and picture show offered now as downtown amusement, the K. S. A. C. youth of the last years of the past century indulged in the pleasures of the skating rink.

The first dance given in the new gymnasium was a military ball. That was in the spring of about '14. In those days the military department each year gave a ball, the kind you read about, at some downtown establishment. On this occasion there was to be present a certain distinguished visitor of the military department. The new gym had not been used for social gatherings and the junior class was planning to "break it in" by holding the junior prom there. But the military department by using tact and diplomacy was able to persuade the juniors to give precedence to the ball.

There is considerable discussion nowadays of the wildness of youth. When the new auditorium was completed some 15 or more years ago the president at that time expressed his fervent hope and desire that nothing other than speeches should be presented from that platform. Recently the students of the college have been privileged to enjoy programs of dancing, drama, and other presentations of art and they have been encouraged, nay, implored and entreated by the faculty to attend those artists' programs at the auditorium.

Times do change.

Gets Two Degrees

Izil Polson, '14, assistant professor of journalism, was granted degrees in journalism this year from two institutions. On May 29 she received the degree of Bachelor of Science in journalism at K. S. A. C. and on June 16 the degree of Master of Science in journalism at Northwestern university. Miss Polson's former degree carried only a minor in journalism, but during her teaching time here she has taken enough work for a journalism degree.

ATTENDANCE NOT MOVED BY CROPS

EXPLODES THEORY PROSPERITY INFLUENCES ENROLMENT

"Neither Do Bumper Crops Keep Students on the Farm"—Says
Dean of Agriculture

Cold facts do not support the widely accepted theory that poor crops increase college attendance and good crops reduce it, according to a statement issued by Dean F. D. Farrell of the division of agriculture, Kansas State Agricultural college. It is believed by many people that bumper crops or good crop prices keep young people on the farms to help with the harvest or with the planting of a large acreage, while short crops release them so that they can go to college. Neither do the facts support the contrary theory that good crops or good crop prices always increase college attendance.

"Figures covering the past 25 years show that with very few exceptions student registration, at least at K. S. A. C., increases gradually year after year while crop prosperity rises and falls," Dean Farrell states.

Facts Controvert Theory

"Twenty-four annual comparisons have been made between the total value of Kansas crops as reported by the state board of agriculture for each year from 1899 to 1923 and the total registration at K. S. A. C. for the corresponding years. The total value of crops has increased over the preceding year in 16 instances and decreased in eight. During the same period, student registration at K. S. A. C. has increased in 21 instances and declined in three. There was a nine per cent decline in student registration in 1904-05, following a seven per cent decline in total crop value; a tenth of one per cent decline in 1909-10 following a 10 per cent increase in total crop value; and a 28 per cent decline in 1917-18 following an increase of 37 per cent in total crop value, the decline in this instance resulting chiefly from war demands.

"Increased total value of crops has been followed by increased student registration in 14 of the years and by decreased enrolment in two years. Reduced total value of crops has been followed by increased enrolment in seven of the years and by reduced enrolment in one. These figures indicate that there is no consistent relation between crop prosperity and student registration at the agricultural college.

Post-War Growth 164 Yearly
"Since 1899, K. S. A. C. enrolment has increased from 1,074 to 3,812, the average increase being 113 students a year. In the five years since 1918-19, the average annual increase has been 164. During this five-year period, there have been decreases in total crop value in three instances and increases in two. Student enrolment has increased each year.

"While crop conditions undoubtedly influence many individuals with reference to attending college, it is evident that these conditions have no consistent influence on college attendance as a whole, so far as K. S. A. C. is concerned."

FIRST BAND MEETING

Organization of Musical Organizations Complete This Week

The first meeting of the band was held Tuesday afternoon in the band room of Nichols gymnasium and the first meeting of the orchestra was held yesterday evening at the auditorium. Tryouts for the men's glee club will be held today and tomorrow afternoon in the music annex. The glee club this year will enter the tri-state contest, according to Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department.

CLOTHES SLOGAN FOR GIRLS

Women at Washington State Eliminate Silks and Satins

A slogan for the girls at the state college of Washington is now being broadcast by the "Big Sister" letters to the approaching freshmen by the older girls, that they may begin the year properly prepared as to wardrobe. The slogan is "In Dress—Simplicity, Economy, Suitability." This slogan has largely eliminated from the campus and classrooms the French heels, fancy silk gowns, elaborate and expensive costumes, and substituted sensible sports clothes—sweaters, middy blouses, pleated flannel skirts, and shoes easy to climb hills in.

Mrs. Ed. Siemers of Wakefield is spending the week at the Kappa Delta house.

Freshman Receives Honor

Emma Louise Schoonover, 15 years of age, freshman from Marietta, Ohio, was recently elected to membership in the Marietta chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools. In order to attain membership in this society it is necessary that a three-fourths vote of the faculty be cast in favor of the nominee whose grades must be among the first fourth of the senior class. Qualifications considered in choosing members are scholastic standing, school service, character, leadership, and general attitude.

She is the daughter of May (Bowen) Schoonover, '96, and of Dean D. T. Schoonover, professor of Latin and Roman literature in Marietta college.

STIFF PRACTICE WORK FOR 60 MEN YESTERDAY

Coaches Train in Signal Work and Conditioning Exercises—Passing System Has Bright Outlook

Yesterday the Wildcats had their first varsity workout when Coach C. W. Bachman and his assistant coaches took charge of the 60 members of the Aggie football squad and ran them through a stiff practice of signal work, passing and conditioning exercises. "Bach," who has been watching last week's practice from afar, began immediately to carry out a program that will whip a team of comparatively new material into Missouri Valley form.

Eligibility No Question

Without having to worry about the eligibility of the players, which is a Nemesis to some of the other valley schools, the coaching staff can devote all of their time into developing a heavy, hard hitting line and a smashing backfield due to heavier material. Although last year's sensational Aggie passing combination was broken up through graduation, the pass this fall promises to be as effective as ever through the craftiness of the Bachman coaching system. With a wealth of backfield material, several triple threat men are rapidly developing under hard, consistent work.

With the return of Archie Butcher, Solomon, the fullback position will be a scene of severe competition. Butcher is a two letter man and although he has been handicapped by injuries in the past he will get away to a good start this year. In the opening game of last year in Washburn, Butcher scored all of the 28 points that were made. J. L. Mildreter, Norton, one letter man, together with E. E. Feathers, Minneapolis, Clyde Randall, Kansas City, H. J. Dayhoff, Abilene and others are to furnish said competition. Mildreter as a punter is showing up well in practice while Feathers is developing into an excellent pass snatcher and broken field runner.

Wilson Works Right Half

In the right half position, O. H. "Curly" Wilson, Jennings, is showing up well and should come out as another "Swede" Axline. It is hard to pick a regular for this position at this time as C. N. Brion, Ada, S. A. Herren, Manhattan, Donald Meek, Idana, and A. F. Rheburg, Niles, are showing up equally as well. Likewise the left half is still a problem with R. von Trebra, Oswego, Russell Hoffman, Cherryvale, and Ray Smith, Manhattan as possible solutions. C. W. Havelly of Manhattan and Ralph Helmreich, Argentine high school, are others who are to be counted in the running for the same place.

Cochrane Aggie Hope

The pilot position has nearly been conceded to Owen Cochrane of Manhattan although Lyle Reed, Clay Center and Joe Anderson of Salina are showing up much better than last year. Cochrane has an educated toe that can be counted upon for three additional points in the pinches at anywhere under the 50 yard line. As a kickoff man and a punter he will also be the ranking man of the team.

Captain Lyle Munn is sitting securely on the right wing position although Jesse Kimpfort of Norton, Eric Tebow, Scandia and C. D. Tolle, Manhattan are to be relied on in case of injury to this fall's Aggie leader, Arthur Doolen of Manhattan, a one year letter man, has slightly the edge on the left end position with Albert Ehrlich, Marion, and "Red" Carr pushing him closely.

Bernard Harter, El Dorado, who has played for two years on the varsity at the center position, will be given a stiff race by J. E. Smith of Woodward, Okla., and Woody Perham of Iola. All three men are passing the ball in beautiful shape and are powers in line work.

R. V. Hutton, Aggie letter man, will attempt to make another one from the left guard position. E. L. Stone, Roswell, and E. A. Teal, El Dorado are also out for this line place.

Another letter man, J. W. Ballard, Alma, will no doubt hold down the left tackle with Glenn Anderson, Iola, F. F. Scott, Independence, M. W. Reed, Norton, and Kenneth Yandell, Wilson, furnishing the competition.

Armantrout Good Line Man

On the right of the line will be found Orris Armantrout, Wichita, in the guard position, who is showing a wonderful amount of football aggressiveness. Si Tombaugh, Kansas City, is another fast line man. E. E. Russell, Fredonia, R. E. McReynolds, Plainville, and Theodore Guthrie of Saffordville are also fighting it out on the line.

Aggies May Witness Out of Town Games in Electrical Display

A means of keeping informed of the success of the football team in the quickest possible manner will be available to all Aggies again this year in a more complete form than ever. The new mechanically operated football scoreboard that has been built by Prof. E. T. Keith and C. P. Howenstine of the department of printing for the Sigma Delta Chi fraternity will be used to give play by play reports of all the out of town games.

Finishing touches are being put on the structure this week by the builders in order to have it in complete readiness for the first game with Washburn at Topeka on October 4. This first contest will enable Wildcat backers to see what their team will do during the season.

Special telegraph service has already been arranged for all three out of town games. A special reporter who will have a telegraph operator at his side will be sent to the scene of the game and the play by play reports will be received almost immediately at the auditorium here. There will be no delays as the special loops have already been installed at Washburn, Columbia, and Oklahoma and a special wire will be kept clear of other telegraph material.

COLLEGE HAS INTERESTING EXHIBITS AT STATE FAIR

Decorated Panels Used in Making the Display of Better Kansas Agriculture

Kansas State Agricultural college was on dress parade at the Free State Fair in Topeka last week. For six days a throng of visitors passed along the lanes flanked on either side with colorful exhibits, many of them mechanically operated, all graphically telling a concise story of better agriculture, rural engineering or home making.

Persons who attempted to do the fair in a day found the Kansas State Agricultural college exhibit building commanded more than a casual half-hour visit. The impressive display, built around Kansas dairying, presented in words, pictures, models, and motion devices, a hundred different lessons. Radio loud speakers scattered about the large hall emitted instructions for viewing the exhibit.

L. C. Williams, manager of the fair display, who has set up the cross section of the agricultural college at Hutchinson this week, states that a large per cent of the total fair attendance paid the exhibit building a visit and that many commented on the attractiveness and educational value of the college display.

The Kansas State Agricultural college "show window" at the state fair consisted of decorated panels, 32 in all, which in combination with illustrative material banked in the foreground and flanking either side, emphasized better farm practices. In addition to the panel displays, that present in a uniform manner stories of disease control in the flock, the rearing of worm free hogs by proper sanitary measures, there were seven motion exhibits.

The motion exhibit of outstanding interest, prepared by the engineering division, showed in the miniature, the progress of industry linked directly with engineering achievements.

A great revolving churn, representing the creamery business of the state, labeled with pertinent statements, gave the visitors an idea of the magnitude of this industry.

PREPARING MARKET REVIEW

Federal Bureau Man Here to Cooperate with Aggie Professors

Mr. E. C. Paxton of the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics and agricultural statistician for Kansas, was in Manhattan Wednesday to cooperate with members of the department of Agricultural Economics and the Extension Division in preparing the September issue of "The Agricultural Situation as It Affects Kansas."

This publication is a concise review of market conditions and price trends. The department of Agricultural Economics and the extension Division of the college are cooperating with the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics and the State Board of Agriculture in issuing this monthly review.

REVISE VALLEY CAGE SCHEDULE

CONFERENCE OFFICIALS MET IN KANSAS CITY SATURDAY

Dissatisfaction with Former Arrangement Causes Change—Aggies Meet Two of Best in Opening Games

The Kansas Aggies will draw two of the best basketball teams in the Missouri Valley as their opening opponents in the Missouri Valley race for 1925, according to the official schedules as drawn up at a meeting of representatives of Valley schools in Kansas City Saturday. Schedules were drawn up by a committee on schedule last winter, but were found to be unsatisfactory to a majority of the schools in the conference.

Nebraska Opens Season

The Aggies meet Nebraska, last year in third place in the Valley, in the opening game of the season January 9 at Manhattan. Next the Wildcats go to Lawrence on January 14 to meet the Jayhawk, last year Valley champion. Kansas has four letter men back from last year's championship team.

Those attending the meeting in Kansas City were Mike Ahearn, Aggies; Dr. H. J. Huff, Grinnell; Ben Owen, Oklahoma; C. L. Brewer, Missouri; K. L. Wilson, Drake; Dr. F. C. Allen, Kansas; Bill Chandler and T. M. Metcalf, Iowa State; A. E. Eilers, Washington; Herbert Gish, Nebraska.

The schedule of the Aggies follows:
Jan. 9—Nebraska at Manhattan.
Jan. 14—Kansas at Lawrence.
Jan. 16—Ames at Manhattan.
Jan. 20—Drake at Manhattan.
Jan. 24—Nebraska at Lincoln.
Jan. 31—Grinnell at Grinnell.
Feb. 3—Drake at Des Moines.
Feb. 6—Ames at Ames.
Feb. 9—Oklahoma at Manhattan.
Feb. 16—Missouri at Manhattan.
Feb. 16—Grinnell at Manhattan.
Feb. 24—Kansas at Manhattan.
March 2—Oklahoma at Norman.
March 3—Washington at St. Louis.
March 4—Missouri at Columbia.
March 7—Washington at Manhattan.

HIGHER EDUCATION IS TOO EXPENSIVE

ENGLISH SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF COLLEGES SLIGHT

Prof. N. A. Crawford Gives Talk in Chapel—English Agricultural Colleges Are Small

"Higher education in England is expensive, and the sentiment in favor of higher education, except among the so-called higher classes, is relatively slight, particularly among the farmers. The desirability of agricultural education is not recognized to any greater extent than it was in the United States, say forty years ago," said Prof. N. A. Crawford in speaking of English education in his chapel speech this morning. Prof. Crawford spent two and a half months this summer touring Europe and observing political and educational conditions there.

"At any of the agricultural colleges you will find yourself in a small institution," Prof. Crawford continued. "There are thirteen institutions in England and Wales in which agricultural courses may be pursued. Some of these are on the nature of a University, while six are definite agricultural institutions."

"Twenty-five per cent of the present students of these colleges are sons of actual farmers, the greater number being of the higher class. However, an effort is being made by means of scholarships to raise the percentage of the former."

"The South East Agricultural College contemplates establishing a course in agricultural journalism within the next year or two, and if it does so, it will follow in a large measure the plans that have been evolved here in Kansas through years of experience in this type of work."

Prof. Crawford was impressed by the vast amount of unemployment in Great Britain. He points out the great advance in European thought over American with reference to labor problems, the type of conflict we have in this country having practically disappeared.

A piano solo by Miss Clarice Painter, instructor in piano, preceded Prof. Crawford's speech.

Professor W. E. Grimes, head of the department of Agricultural Economics, and J. A. Hodges, instructor in Agricultural Economics, spent Monday and Tuesday in Holton, Kansas, in connection with the investigation work of the department.

Notice Collegian Subscribers

The election of an executive governing board for the Kansas State Collegian will take place during the fifth week of school. The board is composed of four student members and the head of the department of industrial journalism. Any student is eligible for a board position. Nominations are made through petitions which require 20 signers who are Collegian subscribers. Petitions should be turned in to Professor Crawford at Kedzie hall in the near future.

FOOTBALL RALLY TONIGHT

Annual Pep Meeting and Watermelon Feed to Be Held in Gymnasium

The annual football rally and watermelon feed, conducted by the college Y. M. C. A., will be staged in the gym tonight at 7 p. m. A ton and a half of watermelons—3,000 pounds—will be available for those who attend. The rally is held principally for freshmen in order that they may become acquainted with the athletic department and stir up early enthusiasm for the football games this fall. However, all men enrolled in the college are invited.

"Doc" H. H. King, head of the chemistry department, will preside. There will be short, snappy talks by "Prexy" Jardine, president of K. S. A. C.; Mike Ahearn, director of athletics; C. W. Bachman, head coach; C. W. Corsaut, basketball and baseball coach; Dr. Howard T. Hill, head of the department of public speaking and "Sol" Bardwell, president of the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce. Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the department of music, will have charge of the music and Ralph Blackledge, assistant cheerleader last year, has promised to use his influence in teaching the newcomers Aggie yells so that they will be in readiness for the first football game, October 11. Still another campus notable who will help entertain the pepsters is "Mac" McCammon, former "czar" of the gym and at the present place to "Bob," the Aggie wildcat mascot.

For the past several years the rally has been held in the "Y" gym, but due to crowded conditions in previous years, the new location was chosen. A much larger crowd than attended last year is anticipated since Rush Week activities will be over, and things on the hill settled down generally.

Paul Axtell is chairman of the committee in charge of the rally and feed.

LOUD SPEAKER WILL EXPLAIN GAME DELAYS

Physics Department is Working on Arrangements for Relieving Suspense During Grid Contests

If plans now under consideration materialize, the large crowds attending the home football games this fall will not be held in suspense every time there is a delay in play. The department of physics, under the supervision of Prof. J. O. Hamilton, is working on a radio loud speaker that will probably be located on the hill north of the stadium. By means of direct connection with the speaker, the announcer on the field will explain to the fans every reason for delays in the game, referee's decisions, injured players, and other incidents that those at a distance are unable to see. A new scoreboard has been constructed, and will be used in conjunction with the loud speaker.

According to Mr. Hamilton, the loud speaker will not be ready for use before the K. U. game, when its practicability will be given a thorough trial.

CHEMISTRY COURSES GROWING MORE POPULAR EVERY YEAR

Approximately 1,230 Students Enroll in Chemical Courses

Despite the fact that chemistry is one of the most difficult courses on the hill, it is becoming more and more popular every year.

According to records in Prof. H. H. King's office, there were 1229 students taking one or more courses in chemistry last year. For this semester there are approximately 1,230 students enrolled in the various chemical courses at the present time. Although, this is precisely the same number as were enrolled last year, it is expected that late enrollments will bring up the total for this year.

During the summer several changes and improvements have been made in the department, which will probably cause an even greater enrollment than ever before. The most outstanding improvement was the course in chemical engineering, which opens for the first time, this semester. This course comes under the supervision of both the department of chemistry and the division of engineering. Its chief aim is to meet the demand for men with a combined chemical and technical education.

There has also been a change in the instruction force. Instructors Watkins, Hendricks, and Moran resigned their places on the faculty to teach in other colleges. Their places have been filled by the appointments of Instructors Palmer, Massingale, and Macey.

As was the case last year there are too many students to be handled in the old chemistry annex. In order to provide laboratory space for all, new equipment has been installed in the old dairy hall, which is now known as Chemistry annex number two.

FRESHMAN ENROLMENT IN AGGIE BAND SETS RECORD

Fewer Upperclassmen Report—Will Give Campus Concerts This Fall, Says Wheeler

More freshmen will be enrolled in the band this year than ever before, Harold P. Wheeler, band instructor, said after the try-outs. Altho the number of applicants for the band was as large as last year, not as many upperclassmen reported.

The first band will give campus concerts this fall if the weather permits, Mr. Wheeler said. All of those assigned to the first band are experienced musicians and can prepare concerts in a few rehearsals.

More applicants are wanted for the band and try-outs will be held the rest of the week.

Those selected for the first band are L. E. Woodman, I. P. Price, G. D. McClaskey, W. W. Sanders, G. R. Focke, O. L. Roberts, H. D. Banta, J. G. Barnhart, L. S. Farrell, H. L. Hoffman, W. H. Newhard, J. Brooks, G. K. Terpening, J. E. Durham, R. L. Owen, K. W. Bloomberg, G. S. Hohn, J. Keel, C. L. Stalker, R. M. Hartigan, C. B. Wiscup, R. P. Wallace, G. G. Brown, J. Costello, William Rankin, M. L. Hill, G. H. Faulconer, K. H. Cook, H. E. Hazzard, C. Faulconer, H. L. Holt, G. R. Varney, R. Bainer, H. E. Erickson, A. B. Campbell, I. I. Wright, J. P. Cone, J. H. Wright, E. Fankhauser, W. H. Boorn, D. E. Wolner, W. D. Hemker, D. Skaggs, and P. B. Cole.

The members of the second band are W. F. Pearson, D. W. Wright, R. F. Dice, G. L. Hug, J. D. Klahr, A. W. Lindlar, R. D. Bradley, W. Keel, L. L. Fankhauser, L. H. Brock, E. Anderson, J. J. Province, L. St. John, F. N. Dillman, G. E. Thomas, R. D. Jensen, D. W. Enoch, P. M. Durland, C. W. Withey, F. L. Alvis, B. O. Dryden, W. W. Taylor, J. L. Hancock, A. H. Zeldler, J. H. Tyn dal, R. W. Evans, F. L. Fear, J. L. Sherwood, W. P. Walker, G. E. Ferris, G. E. Durland, J. V. Faulconer, K. E. Rector, H. V. Lugenbill, H. V. Ginder, J. S. Griffes, H. F. Blackburn, W. E. Gregory, I. M. Atkins, L. E. Barber, K. E. Peterson, G. F. Brinkman, M. B. Franklin, E. E. Fear, C. C. Remsburg, M. J. Read, J. E. Torrance.

More members may be assigned to the two bands this week.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES MAY ATTEND K. U.-AGGIE GAME

Coolidge and Davis Invited to Football Battle October 18

Invitations have been issued to President Coolidge and John W. Davis to be guests of K. S. A. C. for the K. U.-Aggie game October 18. Every effort is being put forth to obtain these two presidential candidates for this football battle. A record attendance is expected as this date is Dad's day.

With the increased capacity of the stadium, the unusually fine condition of the gridiron and with all the bright prospects of a brilliant contest, the crowd will no doubt be larger than any previous one for a Valley game. This should offer a very good audience for the two candidates seeking public endorsement as well as a chance to see an interesting game between two of the best elevens of the Valley.

DELTA DELTA DELTA GIVES PLEDGE DEGREE TO ELEVEN GIRLS SATURDAY

TOTAL LIST NOT YET COMPLETE

Fifteen Fraternities and Eight Sororities Send Out 134 Bids—Eight Organizations Not Making Definite Announcement

Fifteen fraternities announce the pledging of 68 men this week. Acadia, Alpha Sigma Psi, Phi Sigma Kappa, Kappa Phi Alpha, and Triangular have made no definite announcements.

Frats Pledge Many

The following are the announced lists of those pledged:

Kappa Sigma: Dillard Kennel, Newton; Miles Edwards, Cherrytown, Tex.; Albert Edwards, Fort Scott; Glen Graham and Alan Hodshire, Coffeyville; Paul Gartner, Manhattan; Charles Shellenberger, Ransom; I. Gordon Brown, Topeka; Maynard Hart, Fredonia; J. W. Bickel, Gypsum.

TAKE IT OFF

Freshmen who are the possessors of sweaters emblazoned with athletic letters won in high school are advised to remove said emblem immediately. An increasing number of sweaters and letters have been worn this week in defiance of a sacred tradition of the college. It is permissible to wear the woven service stripe but not the letter.

Upperclassmen and wearers of the varsity "K" are accustomed to use forcible means of removing the obnoxious letter if the wearer is unwilling to do it himself.

Freshmen take heed.

The president's address was one of the best he has delivered in his term as head of the college.

"We believe that seniors graduating from this institution can think better than the freshmen," Doctor Jardine said.—Kansas State Collegeian.

Maybe so. Maybe so.

We hope the Frosh appreciated the subtle compliment implied in Prexy's statement.

Speaking of freshmen, we heard two of them discussing the first lesson in physics.

"What is this 'nebular hypothesis'?" asked the one who wore a scarf of shutter green.

"Don't you know?" replied the other. "We had that in high school geometry—the square on the hypothesis equals the sum of the squares on the other two sides."

Quod erat demonstrandum.

Reinald Werrenrath, famous baritone, says he thinks jazz is "America's greatest contribution to art so far, and a remarkably important development in music."

Hope the Kappa Sigs don't see that.

We venture to suggest Reinald would change his mind—providing alienists for the defense could prove he had one—after listening to the Kappa Sigs' human player piano for five hours.

Not that we're fussy, but these long haired musicians—

And speaking of long hair, it simply isn't done (up) any more.

(Hey, don't fire! Give us a chance to Live It Down!)

Unusual Judgment Used in Selection of Stadium Office

Students who, by force of habit, follow the arrow down the lighted stairway in Anderson hall find the Canteen room in total darkness and when they turn to get a haircut until Spang wakes up they find themselves in the headquarters of the Memorial Stadium committee. A happy idea that—now if all the absent-minded students can only be landed it ought to be possible to finish the Stadium this year.

Plans must soon be made for a new building called Recreation hall—the room in Anderson cannot accommodate both the students who would otherwise study in the Canteen and those who regularly study in Recreation center. The old plan of alternating study rooms cannot be improved upon, however, as a plan of quantity accommodation.

Girls interested in making points for W. A. A. are strongly in favor of keeping the canteen off the campus under the condition that their trips there might count as mileage for hiking points.

Prexy's real idea of passing the parking measure, we have found, was to give the students the opportunity of personally fulfilling the old adage of killing two birds with one walk. By one walk off the campus the student may imbibe a coke and then enter his parked motor. We can get the ideas of the old philosophers so much better if we really carry them out.

So there are arguments both for and against the moving of the canteen to the valley since it would make no difference if they were all for or all against let's just find solace in the thought that walking is the original and unexcelled form of exercise.

TWELVE FOREIGN COUNTRIES SEND REPRESENTATIVES HERE

Brazil, South Africa, Argentine, and the Philippines Have Most

Each new enrolment brings more evidence to show that the Kansas State Agricultural college is world famous. There are now students from 12 foreign countries attending the college.

Four new students raised the total number to 17. The new students are Poy Lim of China, F. F. Guimaraes of Brazil, Russell McAllen Munro of Canada, and Accacio C. da Rocha from the Transvaal, South Africa. In the number of students from one country, Brazil leads with three, the Philippine Islands, South Africa, and Argentine each have two, and Chile, Armenia, China, India, Canada, Mexico, Egypt and Palestine are each represented by one student.

ALL AGGIE MIXER IS FRIDAY NIGHT

NICHOLS GYMNASIUM SCENE OF RECEPTION GIVEN BY S.S.G.A.

Getting Acquainted Will Be Chief Business of Evening—Democracy to Prevail

"Getting acquainted" will be the purpose of the annual All-College Mixer which will be given in Nichols gymnasium Friday night under the auspices of the Students' Self Governing Association. The college Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. are cooperating with the S. S. G. A. in putting over the mixer, which is considered the big social event of the fall season for the college as a whole.

A reception will take up the fore part of the evening, and an orchestra will be furnished for those who care to dance during the latter part of the evening. In the receiving line will be prominent members of the college faculty, especially those with whom the students will need to come in contact during the school year.

Friday night has been made a closed night for parties and dances which college students will be allowed to attend, in order that there be no counter attraction to the all school celebration.

Refreshments Will Be Served
Strict democracy will be the rule, as in past Aggie functions of this kind. "Dress" clothes will be barred. Both new and old students will wear printed name cards, which for the evening will dispense with the formality of introductions.

In the past practically the entire student body and faculty have made it a custom to attend the all school mixer as a means of preserving the spirit of democracy for which K. S. A. C. is known throughout the Middle West.

Other "stunts" for entertainment may be announced later, according to Prof. H. W. Davis, faculty member in charge of the mixer.

As a student committee to assist in preparing for the celebration, Professor Davis has appointed Harold Gilman, Ralph Ewing, and Evelyn Colburn.

You Can't Keep Your Head on Your Work

If Your Pen Demands
Your Attention

YOU cannot compose your thoughts—cannot note the points of a lecture, if you are writing with a pen that loses step as you go along. That pen is a mental drag.

The sooner you replace it with the never failing, never ailing Parker Duofold, the quicker you will hit your stride in college work and social correspondence.

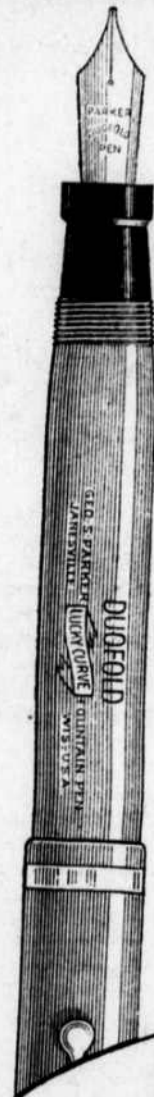

Duofold not only gives the mind full play and the hand full swing—its fit and balanced symmetry and jewel-smooth point inspire and stimulate. They tend to develop a hand of speed and character.

And we guarantee the point, if not mistreated, for 25 years' WEAR. So Duofold at $5 and $7 is the most economical pen—less costly than short-lived pens priced lower.

Any good pen counter will sell you Parker Duofold—flashing plain black; or black-tipped lacquer-red, a color that makes it handsome to own and hard to lose.

All school mixer, Nichols gymnasium.

Brownings elected officers for the first semester at their business meeting Saturday afternoon. At a special meeting Tuesday the following officers will be installed: Nora Bare, president; Lottie Butts, vice-president; Inez Howard, recording secretary; Florence McKinney, corresponding secretary; Jessie Campbell, treasurer; Mildred Baker, marshal; Exelyst Peffley, prosecuting attorney; Dorothy Stiles, pianist; and Elma Hendrickson, chorister.

The Eurodelphian Literary society met last Saturday afternoon. The program was as follows: Dorothy Rosebrough, devotionals; Lucille Staulker, vocal solos, "When the Frost Is on the Pumpkin," and "Me and My Little Banjo;" Emma Scott, reading, "Naughty Zella;" Euro members, stunt, "When Father Went to College;" and the Eurodelphian songs. A business meeting was held immediately after the program.

Big sister captains were hostesses at the big and little sister party held last Friday evening in the gymnasium. The first part of the evening was spent in getting acquainted. A Raggedy Ann dance and a reading by Miss Margaret Burr were later features of the evening. Miss Lois Wildy and Miss Myra Wade were the leaders of the grand march. Everybody participated in a sing and the college songs were favorites. Punch and wafers were served.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rogers are entertaining groups of Methodist freshmen at dinner each night.

Miss Lucille Kinnamon of Larned attended the rush week festivities at the Alpha Delta Pi house last week.

Ralph and Robert Shideler drove from Girard Friday morning to visit at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house for a few days.

Kappa Delta held formal initiation Sunday for Adelia Walker and Diantha Walker of Manhattan.

Charles Larzalere spent the week end at the Phi Delta Theta house.

Mr. Robert Merrick and Miss Mildred Wakefield were married last Saturday, September 13. Mr. Merrick attended Washburn three years and was graduated from K. S. A. C. last spring. This summer he attended Yale and he will go to Yale again this fall. Mr. Merrick is a member of Phi Delta Theta. Miss Wakefield was a freshman at K. S. A. C. last year, and was pledged to the Delta Zeta sorority.

Professor Morris Evans of the department of Agricultural Economics attended the State Fair at Topeka on Friday, September 12th.

Cecil Murphy, junior in Agricultural Economics, has returned to college after being out one year on account of injuries received in an accident in the summer of 1923. Mr. Murphy was caught in a binder while working in the wheat harvest that year, and received painful injuries, which necessitated his absence from college.

Mr. H. M. Dixon, who is in charge of Farm Management and Demonstration work in the United States, was in Manhattan last week conferring with members of the department of Agricultural Economics and the Extension Division, concerning the Farm Management and Demonstration work in this state. Professor I. N. Chapman is in charge of this work here.

H. G. Bryson Dies

H. G. Bryson, graduate of K. S. A. C. in industrial journalism, died last Saturday at a government hospital in Colorado. Mr. Bryson had been employed in the school of journalism at Iowa State college when falling health forced him to give up the work. Funeral services were held today at Leon.

Ally of Sandman Devises Clever Bid Receiver for Rushee

A light-saving, health-saving device is now being perfected and will undoubtedly be on the market ere another rush week arrives.

This clever little affair is especially designed for the rushee who is accustomed to retiring regularly at 9 o'clock and will make it unnecessary that she stay up until eleven post meridian on the fateful night of bids.

A neat placard will direct the bidders to place their bids on a beautifully finished tray of hammered ash and simultaneously with the bearing of the weight of the missive upon the tray an electric sign will flash, "Thank You." For a small additional amount of phonographic attachment may be purchased which will sing, "Good Night, Ladies." This ingenious invention marks a new era in Greek progress.

Enrolment in General Science Large

The phenomenal growth of the general science division may be attributed to various causes, but principally to the increased opportunities offered by the division. In 1914 only two courses, general science and in-

NEW INSTRUCTOR NECESSARY FOR DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

Prospects for Successful Year Said to Be Bright

Enrolment in the music department has increased so much this year that it has been found necessary to create another instructorship, which will be filled soon.

Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department, expects an unusually good year, as freshman students are said to be unusually talented. The violin section of the orchestra is said to be better than in the past, while the rest of the orchestra is at least as good as before.

Prospective members of the men's glee club will meet with Professor Pratt Thursday night at 7:30 in the auditorium. Glee club tryouts are being held every afternoon this week from 4 until 6 o'clock.

FIRST TWO LECTURES OF RADIO SERIES REACH 25,000

"College of the Air" for 1924 Started Operation Last Night
Via Milford

Twenty-five thousand farmers "listened in" on the first two lectures of a series of forty college extension courses broadcast from the Kansas State Agricultural College by remote control from station KFKB at Milford, Kansas last night. These were the first lectures of a series of several hundred that will be broadcast by the "College of the Air" during the next eight months.

The new 500 watt Western Electric transmitting set purchased by the college last July, will not be ready for operation before January 1. Arrangements have been made, however, with station KFKB at Milford, to use their equipment, until station KSAC is completed.

Bases for the two 150-foot towers under construction west of Nichols gymnasium have been nearly completed. A studio, large enough to accommodate a band, a control and operating room, and a reception room, has been constructed in the northwest corner of the gym on the third floor.

Arrangements have been made with the extension department by the athletic department to broadcast play-by-play reports of all football games on the home gridiron this fall. When station KSAC is completed, programs prepared especially for farm bureau members, boys' and girls' clubs, livestock association members, women's organizations, and various other organizations, will also be broadcast.

The popularity of the "College of the Air" has already been manifest by the large number of requests for the catalog of radio courses. Approximately 10,000 of these catalogs have been mailed out from the extension office. A survey of receiving sets in Kansas indicates that nearly 25,000 farmers will find it possible to enroll in these courses.

Courses are offered in agriculture, commerce, engineering, home economics, and general science. Certificates will be granted to students completing their work. Printed lectures are mailed to regularly enrolled students, the day following the lecture.

"Mike" after Funds Challenges "Von," Handball Champion

When an erstwhile sedate and dignified faculty member who is married, has a family, is gradually growing bald and hitting the scales at anywhere from 150 to 200 pounds, challenges a young, ambitious athlete to a series of handball games throughout the winter, it is time for the sporting world to sit up and take notice.

Michael Francis "Mike" Ahearn, head of the athletic department and notoriously known throughout the country, is the said faculty member and Emil von Riesen, last year's champion in the handball doubles is the receiver of the challenge. Although many of the details are lacking, Mike hints that his funds are low and thus must needs charge admission to the games. Plans are also being made to hold the games at the stadium if the crowds become too large for management. It is possible that a portable court will be constructed and the exhibitions be played between the halves of the football games.

A heated argument has already taken place between the players. "Von" insists that handball gloves are to be taboo while Mike argues that the rules permit such paraphernalia. However, to insure the peace and safety of the onlookers, a battalion of the cadet corps are to be pressed into service in case of riot. Frankie Root, Bud Knott and Bach are the officials. More details are to follow.

Howe at Wisconsin

Harold Howe, '22, who was a graduate student in Agricultural Economics during the second semester of last year, has been appointed as graduate assistant in Agricultural Economics at the University of Wisconsin. His appointment is unusual as the University of Wisconsin seldom appoints men to such positions until after they have been in residence for graduate study at least one year. Mr. Howe was accepted by the University of Wisconsin on the recommendations of Professors Grimes and Englund and because of the especially high character of his work while here.

Mr. Howe will take up his new duties September 22nd, and will study for his doctor's degree in Agricultural Economics at the same time he is assisting with the instructional work at the University.

PHYLLIS BURTIS BACK FROM SUMMER AS WORKING GIRL

Aggie Junior Conceals Identity to Study Employment Conditions

Miss Phyllis Burtis, a junior at K. S. A. C. has returned from a summer in Chicago where she has been employed as a working girl in the industrial institutions of that city.

Every precaution was made to conceal her purpose so as to give Miss Burtis a true insight into the laboring conditions and problems as they actually exist. An experiment of this kind is conducted each year by the national organization of the Y. W. C. A. to bring about a better understanding among those people. Girls from 39 other colleges are placed in similar positions to make the study for their respective schools and to offer what they can see as the solution of the every day problems of the working girl.

DAIRY JUDGING TEAM IS CHOSEN

FOUR MEN TO LEAVE ON EXTENDED TRIP TOMORROW

New Squad Has a Remarkable Record to Uphold—Final Team Chosen Last Night

The following men were chosen by Prof. Cave at the final tryouts last night to represent the Aggies: Walter J. Daly, Frank Hagans, O. L. Norton and A. R. Sargent.

The Kansas Aggie dairy judging team, accompanied by Prof. H. W. Cave, will leave tomorrow morning for Waterloo, Iowa, and Milwaukee, Wis., where it will compete in the Waterloo dairy show and the sixteenth annual students' national contest in dairy judging that is held in connection with the National Dairy exposition.

Won Second Last Year
Last year at the National exposition held in Syracuse, N. Y., the Aggie team coached by Professor Cave placed second among 29 teams competing.

The preliminary tryouts for places on the squad were held during the fore part of the week and a group of six men was chosen from which the three man team with one alternate will be selected. The six men who survived the preliminaries were: Elmer Crooks, Walter J. Daly, Frank W. Hagans, John C. Keas, O. L. Norton and A. R. Sargent. Four men will make the trip and the final three man team will not be chosen until just before the contest.

Besides competing in the two expositions the team will visit several well known dairy farms. The first stop on the itinerary is the Lees Summit Jersey farm at Long View, Mo., tomorrow evening. While there the squad will do some practice work on Jerseys. After leaving Long View they will go to the W. W. Marsh Guernsey farm at Waterloo, Iowa, and spend part of Sunday practicing judging this type of cattle.

May Visit Chicago Herds
While definite arrangements have not been made as yet, it is probable that several of the famous herds around Chicago will be visited by the team.

The two expositions in which the team will compete are the largest dairy shows held annually in the United States. The Waterloo show ranks second only to the National in size and will have on exhibit about a thousand head of dairy cattle. However, the National event is the one that dairymen look forward to. Besides dairy animals this exposition will have on display every product that has any connection with the dairy industry. One of the largest exhibitors is the bureau of dairying of the United States department of agriculture.

Time for Recreation
Although the above schedule calls for a large amount of work nevertheless the members of the team will find plenty of time for recreation. They will remain at Waterloo until next Thursday night when they will journey to Milwaukee to remain until a week from Wednesday.

The winning team last year was not the first top-notch that has been turned out by Professor Cave. Teams of former years have made an enviable record. In 1919, 1920 and 1921 his squad placed first; in the National contest and in 1923 it placed first in the Waterloo show.

BURR CONDEMNS HOWLERS

K. S. A. C. Professor Has Article in Current Issue of the Country Gentleman

"We would all get along better if there were fewer calamity howlers," says Walter Burr, professor of sociology at K. S. A. C., in the leading article of the last issue of the Country Gentleman. Professor Burr has had experience with rural activities all his life and his article, "The Best Place to Live," is the result of a close survey of 97 average Kansas farm homes.

The agitation about the inadequacy of the farm homes and institutions, has been carried too far, according to Professor Burr. Investigation has shown that the American farm home is the most hopeful American institution at present. The life of the farmer has broadened in every way in the past few years as a result of the automobile, which keeps the family in touch with the most up-to-date occurrences. The farmer can no longer be considered isolated.

In his survey of 97 homes, Professor Burr found that 88 daily papers, 103 weekly papers, 138 farm journals and 167 other periodicals were taken—and read.

Contrary to the popular opinion, Professor Burr found that tenantry is not increasing, and that generally, the farmers are not deceived by the radical speeches of politicians. They realize that no political hocus-pocus can better their condition.

New Football Score Board Is a Unique Piece of Workmanship

The new mechanically operated electrical scoreboard that will be used by the Sigma Delta Chi fraternity for giving a graphic account of the away-from-home games is a unique piece of workmanship and is a big improvement over similar boards now in use in other schools.

Although there are over a hundred electric light bulbs used in its construction there is not one that shows on the surface. Frosted glass coverings for players' names and other lettering on the board diffuse the glare and make it possible to witness the story of the contest from any place in the auditorium. The tiresome glare of a concentrated light is entirely eliminated.

More than a thousand feet of wire are used in the electrical connections that are necessary. The typewriter keyboard that is being used is very intricately constructed and will enable the operator to flash the play on the board instantly.

Approximately 150 separate panes of glass are also used in the construction of the board.

Carter Wins Honors

P. R. Carter, junior student in veterinary medicine, distinguished himself in the intercollegiate field meet held in connection with the Reserve Officers' Training corps camp at Fort Snelling, Minn., during June and July. He received gold, silver, and bronze medals in the pole vault, swimming, and diving, and in military discipline he received the prize as the best drilled individual in competition with 1122 medical students of other institutions. Mr. Carter's home is in Bradford, Kansas.

CAFETERIA HAS NEW FEATURES

OPEN DOOR TEA ROOM IN WEST WING

Plans Drawn for Private Dining Room for Faculty Members in Southwest Corner

Although the college cafeteria was completed in 1922, and has been used continuously since that time, many improvements have been added. Chief among the additions is the new "Open Door" tea room opened this semester in the west wing of the building.

The west alcove of the cafeteria dining room proper was converted into a tea room by partitioning it off from the central dining room, by redecorating the room thus formed and furnishing it with the necessary equipment. The room is well lighted and bright, attractive colors have been used in decorating walls and furnishings.

Entrance is gained to the tea room on the west through a large French door built in the space formerly taken up by a window. Closets in two corners of the room are used as kitchen units, one having dumb waiter connection with the basement and the other containing connections for a large electric plate and a refrigerator and ice cream cabinet which are attached to the main refrigeration system.

Plans have been drawn for the remodeling of a room in the southwest corner of the building for use by faculty members as a private dining room. This room may be used at regular meal hours or for dinner parties after regular hours.

Considerable remodeling and installation of equipment have been done in the basement of the cafeteria building. A new pastry bakery has been added in a light, well-ventilated room, this department being in charge of a pastry cook. All necessary equipment for making pastries is in this room, including a large steam pot, a stove, and a large gas oven. A new vegetable room has been provided on the southeast. All vegetables are delivered directly to this room and the assistant in charge prepares them for the kitchen. Staple groceries are stored in two large basement rooms, one being for the reserve and the other for the day-to-day supply. Two restrooms for employees now are being decorated and equipped in the basement. These rooms are to be fitted with chairs, tables, and lounges. Showers and lockers also are provided.

Miss Gifford in Household Economics

Miss Laura Gifford has been elected to fill the position of Miss Helen Bishop, professor of household economics, who has been granted a year's leave of absence. Miss Gifford was previously with extension departments of the state colleges of Connecticut and Massachusetts, having been assistant state leader of home demonstration in Massachusetts. She has been engaged for some time in home demonstration work at Chautauqua, N. Y.

Enrolment Now 2,898

Total enrolment for the college is now 2,898, according to Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar. With the summer school enrolment of 721, the total since June 1 is 3,619.

The freshman class has the highest number with 1155. The other classes are: Sophomore, 648; junior, 467; senior, 340; special, 95; graduates, 124; vocational school, 15; vocational school nongraded, 35; and short course, 19.

NOTED PIANIST IN DEPARTMENT

Susanne Passmore-Brooks Is New Piano Instructor

Susanne Passmore-Brooks, noted pianist and teacher, has been secured by Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the department of music at the college, to fill the vacancy on the staff of that department.

Professor Pratt received a telegram from her saying that she would accept the position. She will arrive in Manhattan Monday.

Madame Passmore, as she is best known, has won nation wide fame for herself as a concert pianist. For several years she and her sisters formed the Passmore Trio, violin, cello, and piano, and played in cities over the whole United States. They have toured the country five times.

A pupil of Scharwenka, the famous teacher, she has studied in Berlin and in America.

For the past four years she has been teaching at the University of California, Berkeley, Cal.

ENGLISH AGRICULTURALISTS HERE

Will Speak on Experiments Conducted at Rothamsted Experiment Station in England

Dr. H. Ward Cutler and Dr. H. J. Page of the Rothamsted Experiment Station in England will lecture in room 26 of Denison Hall at 7:30 tonight and again at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, according to an announcement made today.

Doctor Cutler and Doctor Page are visiting the college under the auspices of the Agricultural Experiment station of K. S. A. C. They represent the oldest agricultural experiment station in any English speaking country and their discussions will concern some of the results of experiments conducted in England. The Rothamsted station has been engaged in several interesting long-continued experiments including one in which wheat has been grown on the same land continuously for eighty years.

Both of the meetings will be open to the public and everyone interested is invited to attend. The speakers will discuss subjects that are of especial interest to farmers and those interested in plant life.

Miss Grace Dickman from Holton, enrolled as a graduate student this week. Miss Dickman is specializing in English literature.

Miss Ruth Stewart visited in Clay Center last week-end.

"SPIRIT OF THE UNEXPECTED"

BACHMAN'S WILDCATS ARE OUT AFTER VALLEY CROWN

Every Man Out for Practice Is Striving to Make a New Man Team Place High in the Conference

With Bachman spending all of his time on football, with the possible exception of a few hours for sleeping, the Aggie squad is rapidly taking on semblances of last year's veteran varsity. Every man of the "sixty" has caught the spirit of making this year's Wildcats do the unexpected and enthusiasm is running rampant at every practice.

Hold Regular Scrimmages

Regular scrimmages are now being held between picked teams and the way the purple helmeted warriors tear into each other gives the spectators a thrill. Signal practice also goes to show that all of last year's freshmen have the shift plays' down pat and are ready for the new ones that "Bach" is springing. The passing and handling of the ball is developing smoothly and consistently and the ball luggers are making few fumbles in practice.

The squad is being worked overtime by the coaching staff in preparation for one of the stiffest home schedules ever arranged to be played in Manhattan. Twilight practice will be held every day to get the Wildcats into shape to properly trim the Jayhawks in the first valley game at home. The games with the Ichabods on October 4 and with Kansas Teachers on the following Saturday, will give the Aggies a good workout with the possibility of being worked out although said possibility is causing little worry among the home fans.

Battle for Fullback

At fullback Mildrester and Feathers are looking good. Mildrester has improved considerably since last year and has the advantage in having had a taste of valley football last year. His punting is showing marked improvement. Feathers, one of the best of last season's frosh team, is showing plenty of ability in making good gains through the opposing line during every play in scrimmage. The position of fullback will be the scene of a battle between these two, together with Butcher, Dayhoff and several others.

The halfback positions are also open to speculations. R. von Trebra and "Curly" Wilson from last year's regulars will compete for the two openings with a number of sophomores among whom are C. N. Brion and Russell Hoffman. All of these men show promise of being the best ball luggers and pass snatchers on this fall's varsity.

Cochrane at quarter continues to loom up as the safest contender for that position. He is getting away to some good passes and is one of the best Aggie punters. "Chili" knows the game of football and should act admirably in filling the place held for three years by Burr Swartz.

Notice Collegian Subscribers

The election of an executive governing board for the Kansas State Collegian will take place during the fifth week of school. The board is composed of four student members and the head of the department of industrial journalism. Any student is eligible for a board position. Nominations are made through petitions which require 20 signers who are Collegian subscribers. Petitions should be turned in to Professor Crawford at Kedzie hall in the near future.

Y. M. and Y. W. in Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. cabinets will be held in the home economics rest room, Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock. This is the first joint meeting of the year and the program of both organizations for the coming year will be discussed. Among the most important events that will be conducted by these organizations soon are Hello Day, Dad's Day, Student Forum, World Forum, and the Week of Prayer.

Enter the Latest in Track Coaches—Exit Distance Men

Introducing a new member of the college cross country coaching staff.

His name—but that doesn't matter—sufficient unto the day be it that he is a dog, belonging to Head Coach Charles W. Bachman.

Said dog took up his position on the coaching staff in a rather informal way last week, being a self appointed but not entirely welcome member of the staff.

When the college distance men started their first real practice of the season by going over the entire route of the five mile course last season 'twas a bit tiring. Perhaps they slowed down a bit as they passed Coach Bachman's house a mile or so west of the stadium on college hill.

Perhaps "Bach's" new dog had the real coaching spirit in his veins as he sat on the front porch and watched them go by.

At any rate, the next night when the distance men reached Bachman's residence, they were a pretty fagged out bunch.

Enter the dog.

Exit distance men down the road. Acceleration of motion on the part of the dog. Also much growling and showing of teeth.

Corresponding acceleration in speed of distance men.

"We are going to have a great cross country team this year," said William Mathias, coach, last night, "why, the second day of practice the men equaled the school record."

It is reported that "Bach" is keeping his dog tied up until the day of the K. U. game.

MEET FOR INTRAMURALS MONDAY

EACH COMPETING ORGANIZATION SENDS REPRESENTATIVES

All Interested College Men Invited to Attend Session in "K" Room of Nichols Gym

A meeting of all those interested in intramural athletics will be held in the "K" room on Monday evening, September 22, at 5 p. m. Each fraternity, club and organization is expected to have at least one member present.

E. A. Knott, director of physical education, will be chairman of the meeting, and will have charge of all intramural events during the year. He will be assisted in the spring by Frank Root, who is now spending his entire time in the physical education department of the college.

Last year over 1200 men competed in intramural events, but a still greater number will undoubtedly compete this year, owing to the increased enrolment.

The first event in intramurals will be bicycle races to be held between the halves of the football games. Points will be awarded for placing in these races, and any member of a fraternity, club or any other organization is qualified to enter these races.

Freshmen Urged to Attend

Freshmen and new students especially are requested to attend the meeting to get an idea of "what intramurals are about."

Intramural games were first organized to get all the students in the college interested in some form of athletics which would provide wholesome exercise in an interesting manner. They replaced the old inter-class games and tournaments, which could accommodate only a comparative few.

Varsity Men Not Eligible

Members of Varsity teams are not eligible for intramurals in the Varsity sport in which they compete, but are eligible for all other sports. Freshmen are on an equal basis with all other students, and the intramural letter and sweater is the only athletic letter open to freshman students except by breaking a college record in track.

Every boarding club, fraternity, or other organization having a fairly constant membership of college men throughout the year is eligible to compete for the large intramural loving cup for the largest number of points scored during the season.

Two new events—basketball free throw and horseshoe pitching—have been added to the list of sports open to intramural competitors. The list includes bicycle racing, cross country running, swimming, basketball, basketball free throw, handball, indoor track, baseball, outdoor track, tennis, and horseshoe pitching.

V-necked "K" sweaters to the ten men with the greatest number of points, and a trophy to the runner-up organization have been added to the list of prizes. Men who rank from ten to twenty in the number of points for the season will receive the intramural "K", while winners of each event will be given gold watch charms.

Brown Bull to Appear for First Time This Year at K. U. Game

The Brown Bull—for you freshmen who don't know, it's the college humor magazine—is scheduled to appear at the K. U. game, October 18. "Saturday Night" is the name of the number, and it's going to fairly drip with Saturday Night atmosphere—the nice steamy baths Mother always made you take on Saturday Night, and you know the keen dates on Saturday Night (or maybe the dumb ones), and you know the five mile waiting line at the barber shop, and you know all the rest of the things that happen on Saturday Night.

The Brown Bull is going to have some clever cartoons and some witty jokes and side-tickling features. You won't want to miss it.

Start dropping pennies in your china pig or in the sugar bowl or wherever you keep your savings, and accumulate 25 of them by the middle of October so you will be sure to have the cash on the morning of the K. U. game.

Three hundred and twenty lectures will be broadcast from the Kansas State Agricultural college starting September 15. Send for catalog and enrolment card.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 19

TIS UNIQUE

The Manhattan police force has instituted a unique system of directing traffic during the past few days. If the officer in charge happens to see an interesting sight to the North or South of his position all traffic is directed East or West. If there is something entertaining in the East or West, traffic is routed North and South.

Sometimes there are two officers stationed on a corner each directing the stream of cars differently.

Perhaps the bright new uniforms have something to do with the sudden desire of the police to break in to the limelight.

AS USUAL

Sophomores may grow up and seniors may attain the heights of wisdom, but freshmen will always be green.

The other day a forlorn freshie invaded the domain of the botanists and searched exhaustingly for his gymnasium class.

How even a freshman could be so destitute of feeling as to fail to observe the abode of our famous athletes, after spending a week on the hill, is a subject for profound consideration.

IT'S CERTAINLY GROWING

Students, take off your hats to Aggieville, the fastest growing town in Kansas.

Although, strictly speaking, this thriving district is a portion of Manhattan it has come to be a city in itself during the last few years. Building operations have been steadily going on and new business houses have been springing up practically overnight. The most rapid growth took place during the past summer when almost a dozen new stores and business houses were built.

This tremendous growth is due directly and entirely to the close proximity of K. S. A. C. The merchants of Aggieville realize the vast purchasing power of the large number of students attending the college and as a result are increasing remarkably fast. Downtown business men have also recognized the probable future of the college district and have established branch stores there.

Fellow Aggies, dear friends each and every one of you for the time being, tonight is the night.

"Strict democracy will be the rule," and we can imagine the kindly shade of Thomas Jefferson pattering softly about the gym, clapping its ghostly hands at the sight of Democracy triumphant around the punch bowl.

"Dress clothes will be barred. Both new and old students will wear printed name cards," offers the Kansas State Collegian, ever ready to be of service, sartorially or otherwise, in the Great Cause of Democracy.

The name card was invented especially for you, freshmen dear. Lost in a sea of lost people, your Big Brother or Big Sister having abandoned you while he or she rushes out after more pins, or more paper, or to phone the grocer he's just got to take back all those dozens and dozens of unused ice cream cones, you will catch sight of a familiar postoffice address fastened carefully above a shiny new pledge pin. Here's your chance to show your Democracy, and Get Acquainted.

"Say, do you live in St. George?" you ask the wearer of the St. George label.

"Sure do."
"Happen to know a fellow named Smith?—first name's Bill?"

"DO I? He's one of my best friends! Why he and I used to—"

The beginning of a beautiful, Democratic friendship, which lasts until the All-Aggie mixer is over.

Members of the faculty, too, gladly give up an evening of Mah Jongg to mingle with the students, to ask over and over, "What's the name?" to—but let the Student Champion of Democracy tell it:

"In the past practically the entire student body and faculty have made it a custom to attend the all school mixer as a means of preserving the spirit of democracy for which K. S. A. C. is known throughout the Middle West."

"Other 'stunts' for entertainment may be announced later, according to Prof. H. W. Davis, faculty member in charge of the mixer."

We hope you will all have a perfectly lovely time, and when it's all over, and nothing but a beautiful memory, there is "Hello" day to look forward to. On with Democracy, Aggies, let's go!

Judge for Yourself

We don't blame any one for advertising. That is a part of good business, but when it is a case of sign boards against beautiful surroundings for our beloved K. S. A. C., we balk. Anderson could be a beautiful avenue in keeping with a beautiful campus, but bill boards don't bring much beauty, and cutting down trees to put the signs up doesn't seem right. Citizens and merchants of Manhattan, you've always backed us royally. Stay with us. Help us make Anderson the Avenue beautiful, and you will have the best advertisement going.

We don't believe in the motto: "Cut down the tree, but spare the sign board."—O. B. D.

HOME ECONOMICS GRADS OBTAIN GOOD POSITIONS

Many in Kansas Schools as Teachers
—Some in Graduate Study and Research Work

The Kansas schools have employed many of the graduates from the home economics department of the college, which recognizes the place of K. S. A. C. in the educational world. Others will pursue graduate study and research in their field.

Miss Penelope Burtis, '24, has accepted a position as assistant to Dr. Chas. Sherman, professor of chemistry and nutrition at Columbia University, New York City. This appointment will afford an opportunity for graduate study as well as extensive and specialized research.

Miss Helen Reid, another graduate of this spring, has been camp director and manager of the Y. W. C. A. camp at Maple Hill during the summer.

Graduates who will teach in the schools of Kansas are the following: Faith Strayer, Holcombe; Bertha Faulconer, Herington; Mildred Conkel, Little River; Vida Baker, Plains; Ruth Luginbill, Scott City; Zoe O'Leary, Phillipsburg; June Harter, Downs; Adelaide Wieters, Centralia; Margaret Nettleton, Havensville; Grace Currin, Louisburg; Mae Humphrey, Rossville; Louise Snyder, Ottawa; Maurine Ames, Coffeyville; Beatrice Gaither, McLouth; Helen Dunlap, Leavenworth; Stella Cook, Hudson; Frances Mardis, Coats; Ada Fullinwider, Partridge; Ethel Adams, Partridge; Beulah Helstrom, Lindsborg; Margaret Raffington, Culver; Polly Hedges, Clay Center; Jewell Conkel, Bennington; Edith Reece, Riley; Florence True, Chapman; Rachel Stuart, Burdick; Marian Randles, Wilsey; Nina Uglow, Courtland; Ethyl Mills, Narka.

Miss Medrith Droll, '24, Wichita, is director of a Y. W. C. A. organization in Wichita this winter after spending the summer in charge of the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria in Estes Park.

Innocent Looking Rookie Pulls One Over on His C. O.

The afternoon was one of those damp disagreeable kinds and the students in military drill stood with a look of dejected martyrdom upon their faces.

One of the commanding officers bawled out, "All those who have not taken physical examinations, will do so now. The rest of you freshmen will wait a few minutes, then pass out and do a little intensive drill work."

A rush for the permit desk was made. The remaining students waited. One of these freshman rookies stood first on one foot, then on the other until suddenly a look such as a pursued cottontail would wear when it sees a "briar patch" came over his countenance.

"Mister Officer, s'pose I'll have time to take my examination now?" The officer couldn't see why he had not passed with the rest of the freshmen, but an injured tone in the rookie's voice and an innocent face won. The freshman walked over to the desk, got a permit to take the examination, bravely stroled into the hall, dropped the permit behind a drinking fountain, and went over to the library to read "Physical Culture" magazine. He had taken his examination three days before.

Franklins Elect

Franklins elected officers at the first meeting of the semester and also planned for the open house to be held Saturday, September 20 at eight, p. m. The officers for the fall semester are: President, Francis Nettleton; vice president, Ralph Eaton; treasurer, Ernest Lyness; recording secretary, Helen Batchelor; corresponding secretary, Florence Harris; marshal, David Yerkes; chairman of board, Lois Gorton; chairman of program committee, Agnes Horton.

Miss Luella Sherman, of the extension division, was in Manhattan over Sunday.

CALL FOR RUNNERS ISSUED

Cross Country Team Needs Men Badly, Says Mathias

A call for more candidates for the cross country team has been sent out by William Mathias, coach. So far only nine men have turned out.

Although no meets have been definitely scheduled plans are being made for meets with the larger schools in the Valley. The team will also enter the annual Missouri Valley meet.

"Puff" Balzer, who finished third in the Valley meet last year, is showing up the best in the preliminary practice. Kimport and Coleman, who earned their track letters in the distance events last year are also working on cross country this fall. Several others who were with the squad last year are out.

The men are having light workouts this week. About twenty minutes a day is spent in calisthenics and then the men are sent out to the track for short runs. Strenuous practice will start next week.

Rats into "Paradise"

"Rat Paradise" might be the name of the new home recently provided for the rats used in experimental work by the department of foods and nutrition. From a small dark room in the basement of the Home Economics building the rats are to be moved soon to a large sanitary room especially designed for them. The room is equipped with water, gas, and electricity, and a high power steam tank for use in sterilizing the cages.

Richards with Ag. Economics Bureau

H. I. Richards, '22, is now with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics at Washington, D. C. He has recently received an increase in rank and in salary, and at present is conducting an investigation of the food supply at Roanoke, Virginia. Mr. Richards is making arrangements to complete his graduate work in agricultural economics so that he can receive his master's degree at K. S. A. next spring.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE TRYOUTS SEPTEMBER 29

Twenty-five to Thirty Members Needed for Debate Teams This Year—Long Trips Planned

Tryouts for the purpose of selecting members of intercollegiate debate teams will be held during the week beginning September 29. Students wishing to try out for the Aggie squad may call at the public speaking office, G55, educational building, to make appointments and secure full information.

A heavy schedule of debates is being arranged, which will necessitate a squad of from twenty-five to thirty persons. Eight to twelve upper classmen will be required on the team, eight to twelve upper class women, and from six to eight freshmen. Of the twenty-four debaters on last year's intercollegiate teams, not more than nine are in school and eligible for debate. Consequently, chances for freshmen, and others without varsity experience to make the intercollegiate teams are exceptionally good, this year. Any student carrying twelve hours or more of regular college work successfully, is eligible to debate.

The men will probably have twelve contests. Several of these will be held on a trip to the Pacific coast. The women's teams will have eight or ten debates, some of which will be scheduled on a trip carrying them to the northeast. Freshmen will have from two to four debates with schools in Kansas and adjoining states.

Nine varsity debates for men, six varsity debates for women, and four freshmen debates were held last year. The season was one of the most successful in the history of the college. Victories were won over Penn State, Michigan Aggies, Kansas University, Iowa State, Centre College, Colorado Aggies, Montana State, Oklahoma A. & M., and others.

Those who expect to enter the tryouts are urged to see H. B. Summers, coach of debate, at once for appointment.

STUDENT FROM INDIA TAKES COURSE IN VET. MEDICINE

Holds Postgraduate Degrees from Various Foreign Universities

G. A. Ajwani, a native of India, has enrolled as a student in veterinary medicine in the Kansas State Agricultural college. Mr. Ajwani has already received an undergraduate degree from the Bombay Veterinary college, Bombay, India, and postgraduate degrees from the Royal Dick Veterinary college, Edinburgh, Scotland, University of Liverpool, England, and the Iowa State college, Ames, Iowa.

Mr. Ajwani selected the Kansas State Agricultural college as the best institution in which to obtain a veterinary degree, because he felt that it was so admirably situated in a region where livestock conditions were ideal and developed to the highest point.

To Push Dormitory Plans

The executive board of the Kansas Council of Women, which met during the summer at the Topeka Y. W. C. A. to make plans for its legislative program, voted to push the bill for a dormitory at K. S. A. C. at the next meeting of the Kansas Legislature. The committee on legislation from each of the 18 women's organizations of the state belonging to the State Council will be asked to include this in their legislative plans.

Seminar for Economic Discussion

The seminar in agricultural economics is studying topics of current economic interest this semester. On September 11th, Prof. R. M. Green discussed the price of farm products at the present time. On September 18th, Prof. W. E. Grimes will discuss the Grain Marketing company, the big cooperative marketing company organized at Chicago during the past two months. Other topics of current interest will be discussed at later meetings by members of the class, and by the staff of the department of agricultural economics.

I. N. Chapman, farm management demonstrator for Kansas, is in Washington county this week conducting studies in farm accounting in connection with the extension work of the department of agricultural economics of the college.

TRI-COUNTY LIVESTOCK SHOW TO BE HELD HERE

October 9, 10 and 11 Are Dates Set for Affair—Is First Annual Event

The first annual tri-county livestock show will be held at Manhattan at the animal husbandry barns Oct. 9, 10, and 11. This is not strictly for three counties only, as the name would imply, but is for everyone who wishes to enter stock.

There will be cash prizes given which will be made up by the farmers and the chamber of commerce. In addition to the usual showing of the animals there will be a high school stock judging contest.

Those in charge have obtained Mr. Gray Silver as a speaker. Mr. Silver was formerly a senator from West Virginia and at present is the legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau at Washington. He is the author of many farm bills.

The city and the farmers in the vicinity of Manhattan are working hard to make this first livestock show a success and Mr. Duer, of the chamber of commerce, is very optimistic as to the outcome of it.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION MOVED TO NEW BUILDING

Recent Rearrangements in Offices Have Caused Some Confusion

The transfer of the department of education from Anderson Hall to the Vocational Building has proved a source of some confusion among the student body.

All courses in education are offered in this building and those who have been acquainted with this building in former years will probably appreciate the general improvement of the offices and halls. The structure has been remodeled and redecorated so as to make an up-to-date and comfortable office quarters.

The Psychology laboratory has been transferred from its former location to Room 34 in this building. The departmental headquarters are together for the first time in the history of this department.

The offices of each department are now located in the following suites: 28, Dean Holton, Professor Strickland, Professor Anderson; 29, Prof. C. V. Williams, Miss Williamson, and Professor Davidson; 33, Professor Peterson and Professor Brainard.

The educational department has had as a visitor this week Mr. L. B. Pollom, state supervisor of Vocational Agricultural schools from Topeka. Mr. Pollom has been furthering arrangements for cooperative plans between this department and the state department.

To Assist in Farm Survey

G. W. Ackerman of the State Relations Service, Washington, D. C., is expecting to make a tour of the Central States during this month to secure pictures of farms and farm conditions and the life surrounding them. The extension division of K. S. A. C. will assist Mr. Ackerman and send men on the tour.

Hisaw to Wisconsin

Dr. F. L. Hisaw, associate professor of zoology, has resigned and has joined the staff of the University of Wisconsin. Dr. George E. Johnson, head of the department of biology of the University of Mississippi, will take his place. Dr. Johnson received his doctor's degree at Harvard in 1903.

A. B. Sperry on Leave of Absence

Prof. Arthur B. Sperry, who has been teaching geology at K. S. A. C.,

has been given a year's leave of absence and is studying in the University of Chicago. Dr. T. B. Williams of the University of Wisconsin is taking Professor Sperry's place for the year.

Prof. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics, and J. A. Hodges, instructor in agricultural economics, have returned from Holton, where they spent a few days doing investigational work connected with the department.

Kappa Phi held an Indian powwow last Tuesday evening in Recreation center. This was an open meeting for all Methodist girls. A colored feather was given each girl, and Indian costumes and cornstalk decorations added to the spirit of the powwow. A miniature of the grounds of Minnetonka, where the Kappa Phi national convention was held this summer, was shown. The receiving line was as follows: Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rogers, Dean Margaret Justin, Mrs. G. H. Parkinson, Mrs. B. R. Hull, Mrs. R. R. Richardson, Miss Lois Wildy, and Dean Mary P. Van Zile. Miss Gladys Stover led devotionals with "The Bridge Builders' Brotherhood." Mrs. B. A. Rogers reported on devotionals, Miss Lois Gorton on recreation, and Miss Lois Richardson on business at the national convention.

The next meeting will be a Colonial tea to be held in the home economics rest room, Tuesday, September 23, when the aims and purposes of Kappa Phi will be explained to freshman girls.

George H. Callis of Chase and Miss Bessie Mae Morgan of Lyons were married July 16. Mr. Callis is a senior in general science this year. Mr. and Mrs. Callis are living at 820 Moro street.

Miss Ethel Meek of Hiawatha returned home Wednesday morning after spending rush week at the Delta Zeta house.

Miss Alene Hinn, Miss Ruth Warlick, Miss Mabel Reitzel of Waterville, Robert Harry, and Robert Crouse were dinner guests at the Lambda Chi Alpha house, Sunday.

Week end guests at the Lambda Chi Alpha house were Howard Ames, Corning; Serrin Kimball and Harlan Kapka, both of Kansas City, Kan.

Several fraternities and clubs have announced pledges since last week. They are as follows:

Alpha Sigma Psi: Joe Luginbill, Greensburg; D. E. Lobaugh, Linn; and Clarence Diefendorf, Leavenworth.

Kappa Phi Alpha: Lawrence Guthrie, Saffordville; Robert Owens, Clay Center; F. M. Dillman, Independence; Richard Youngman, Kansas City, Kan.; Lawrence Youngman, Harveyville; and Lee Thackrey, Manhattan.

Edgerton club: Eugene Phinney, Larned; Ross Stapp, Norcatur; Ivan Bovarth, Lenora; John McGregor, Columbus; Edward Snyder, Soldier; and Earl Honeywell, Manhattan.

Triangular: Vinton H. Anderson, Joplin, Mo.; Wesley Ford, Lawton, Okla.; Raymond Johnson, Manhattan; Wendell Swain, Soldier; Harold Wheaton, Phillipsburg; and C. E. Bohnenblust, Riley.

Phi Beta Sigma: Arthur McDaniels, Chanute; Frank T. Greene, Kansas City, Mo.; Frank M. Davis, Arkansas City; and Edgar E. Bonne, Kansas City, Mo.

Lambda Chi Alpha: Glenn Slaybaugh, St. Joseph, Mo.; Melvin Allison, Seneca; Lloyd Badesatin, Seneca; and Kendall Bay, Holton.

Phi Sigma Kappa: Pete Walker, Kiowa; Hays Walker, Jr., Kansas City, Mo.; Theodore Slick, Wamego; Robert Lyers, Salina; Gerald Patterson, Harper; William Carroll, Coffeyville; Maurice Hill, Manhattan; and Arnold Jones, Washington.

Acacia: M. B. Skinner, Medicine Lodge; H. L. Davidson, Topeka; Keith Davidson, Glasco; and J. H. Garrison, Lincolnville.

Miss Mildred Swenson and Miss Mildred Gillespie of Clay Center were guests at the Delta Delta house for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Van Osdol of Junction City, visited their daughter, Miss Pauline Van Osdol, Sunday.

Miss Anna L. Best, a former graduate of the college, will coach dramatic art at Western State College of Colorado during the coming year.

Miss Gladys Mullenburg, a former student, is now teaching at Emerson Institute, Mobile, Alabama. Miss Mullenburg is taking the place of Miss Ruth Harding, '20, for this year, who is now completing work on her master's degree at Columbia University, New York.

Miss Alma Bauersfield who is teaching at Yates Center visited here with friends last week.

Mrs. Harriet S. Parker, of the department of English, visited in Belleville over the week-end.

Dean Mary Van Zile Swipes Rev. Fisher's Car Then Returns It

S-S-S-Sh!! Rumor says that one of our most highly respected officials reported to the police station the other day.

Reverend Fisher's car was stolen by some one who didn't even wait for the proverbial sheltering cloak of darkness, but appropriated the car in broad daylight from its parking place in front of Anderson Hall.

Reverend Fisher soon discovered that his car had disappeared and in frenzied haste he reported his loss to the police station. The chief of police was in the act of organizing a posse to pursue the thief, when who should appear but the gallant thief—himself. Yes, it was a woman. She tremblingly explained that she hadn't intended—but you know these intentions.

It is hard to say what the effect of this will be on the student body, for we regret to say that the woman in the case was our own Dean Mary P. Van Zile.

Room and board for boys. Three large, well ventilated, modern rooms with sleeping porch, close to campus. 1020 Bluemont. Phone 730W. 4-2t.

ALL THE AGGIES WILL MIX TONIGHT

LEADING SOCIAL EVENT OF SEASON IN GYMNASIUM

Reception, Dance, and Stunts Feature Annual "Get Acquainted" Party—Big Crowd Expected

Free handshaking, free eats, and a free dance combined are expected to draw a record crowd to the annual All Aggie mixer tonight in Nichols gymnasium. A smile, a printed name card displayed prominently, and the absence of formality both in manners and clothes are the only requirements for admission.

The receiving line will start operating at 8:30. Dancing will last until 11:30. Tonight is a closed night for all collegiate social functions excepting the mixer, and has been made an open night for pledges by college fraternities and sororities.

Stunts Kept Secret

Deep, dark, and dark mystery surrounds the program for the evening. Members of the committee on the reception being noncommittal except to say that there will be "stunts."

Aggie traditions have made an almost hundred per cent attendance of both the student body and faculty customary.

The gymnasium floor has been given a thorough "going over" and waxing in preparation for the dance, and one of the best orchestras in town secured.

Prominent members of the instructing and administrative staff of the college will be in the receiving line, which has been shortened somewhat over previous years.

Small Receiving Line
Prof. H. W. Davis, head of the English department of the college, is in charge of the mixer.

The following persons will be in the receiving line: President and Mrs. W. M. Jardine, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carney, Dean and Mrs. J. T. Willard, Dean and Mrs. R. A. Seaton, Dean and Mrs. R. R. Dykstra, Dean and Mrs. F. D. Farrell, Dean and Mrs. E. L. Holton, Dean Margaret Justin, Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Holtz, Professor and Mrs. M. F. Ahearn, Professor and Mrs. R. R. Price, Miss Lois Wildy, Miss Grace Derby, Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, Miss Stella Harriess, Bruce Pratt, and Harold Gilman.

American Book Recognizes K. S. A. C. Faculty Members

Eight members of the college faculty are listed in the 1923-24 edition of "Who's Who in America," which has just been placed in the library. A variety of departments is represented by their heads who are recognized as authorities in their special fields. The following faculty names were listed:

L. E. Call, agronomist, head of the agronomy department since 1913.

Nelson Antrim Crawford, editor, widely known writer and head of the Journalism department since 1914.

Albert Dickens, a graduate of K. S. A. C. in 1893 and head of the horticulture department here since 1902.

Dean Edwin L. Holton, head of the department of education since 1910.

Dr. Julius E. Kammeyer, head of

FROSH SQUAD IS SCHOOL'S LARGEST

MORE THAN A HUNDRED YEARLINGS OUT FIRST DAY

Lack of Equipment Stops Many Huskies from Coming Out—More on Way Says Corsaut

Wednesday night the largest freshman football squad in the history of K. S. A. C. reported for the first practice of the year on Stadium field under Coach C. W. Corsaut. One hundred and five freshman suits were issued, and at least 20 more men were unable to come out for lack of equipment. Additional football supplies are on the way to Manhattan now, and the men who were left out yesterday will be outfitted as quickly as possible, Coach Corsaut said.

Go Through Light Workout

Conditioning exercises and light practice running signals occupied the "frosh" most of yesterday afternoon. Scrimmage against the varsity will be started as soon as Corsaut and his assistants have time to look over their material and decide "who's who."

Though the 1924 freshman squad was the largest and contained some of the best material of any first year outfit in Aggie athletic history, the 1925 men already have outdistanced them in numbers and leave little to be desired in looks. There was scarcely a small man in the nine teams that were running signals during the afternoon.

Varsity Working Weight

Varsity men have been working until dark every night since official practice started, and the use of the white ball and campfire probably will be started before many days.

The freshman hopefuls:

BUGBEE A "ROUGH RIDER" WITH ROOSEVELT IN CUBA

Served with Colonel Wood in First Cavalry in 1898—Recommended by Roosevelt for Commission

Lieutenant Colonel Fred W. Bugbee, head of the military department of K. S. A. C., was a member of Roosevelt's famous "Rough Riders" during the Spanish-American war in 1898. He took part in the battles of Santiago and Las Guasimas. The following year he saw service in the Philippines in the United States volunteers organized at Fort Riley in 1899. While in this service, Colonel Bugbee received his commission upon the personal recommendation of Colonel Roosevelt.

Colonel Bugbee has been in the service for 26 years. He left the employ of the Southern Pacific railway, where he had a position as chief clerk to the divisional superintendent at the age of 22, and enlisted in the First Cavalry in Arizona. Leonard Wood was colonel of this unit in Cuba, and Theodore Roosevelt was lieutenant colonel. This unit made itself famous for the daring, reckless encounters it participated in, and later became known as the "Rough Riders."

Colonel Bugbee enlisted in the regular army in 1901, and has been active in military work since that time. During the world war, he served in Siberia as lieutenant colonel of the 17th Infantry and colonel of the 383rd Infantry in Russia. Last year he was made executive officer at Fort Leavenworth, after graduating from the Infantry school at Fort Benning. Previous to his last appointment, he was executive officer at Camp Meade, Maryland.

The Bugbee family are making their home at the Floersch home, 204 South Juliette. A son, Cornell, is a sophomore at K. S. A. C., and a younger daughter is in a grade school.

Wampus Cats Meet

The first meeting for the year of the Wampus Cats, Aggie pep organization, was held Tuesday night at the Phi Sigma Kappa house. Plans for the coming year were discussed and such immediate matters as membership, finance and uniforms were assigned to committees. Plans are being made to start the football season off with stunts for the Washburn game at Topeka on October 4.

Freshman Lids to Make Appearance Within Next Week

All doubts of wondering Freshmen about the donning of the customary headgear will soon be settled! The Freshman caps will probably be here some time next week, and will go on sale as soon as they arrive. The "K" fraternity will have charge of distribution of the characteristic insignia again this year.

Some Freshmen have apparently been worrying over the prospects of not having the opportunity of wearing the purple headgear. Bits of whispered conversation picked up in various places indicate a keen disappointment among the yearlings at the delay experienced by the wholesale house in supplying the caps. However, they are expected to arrive at any time now, and may be obtained from the athletic office upon payment of $1.00. All freshmen are advised—even urged—to purchase one.

The caps will be of a higher grade material and somewhat larger than those of last year. They will be sold purple—even to the button and bill. Aggie tradition states that the purple headgear should be worn throughout the duration of the football season.

son. The first official appearance of the caps will be on October 11, when the Aggies mix with the Emporia Teachers. The last appearance this fall will be at the Nebraska game.

A revival of the Olympic games, between the Freshmen and Sophomores in the spring, will be the deciding factor in determining whether the yearlings wear the headgear during the baseball season.

Cheviots are the thing on the campus this fall. Particularly the light colored patterns, in wide stripes and herringbone effects. These fabrics make up best in the loose, easy college styles; the two go together very effectively.

We have a rich assortment of these, cut by Society Brand. The correct college models, two and three button, and an endless variety of cheviots and the rougher fabrics. We are very glad to show you these; you, too, are bound to like them.

WILDCAT TEAM IS GETTING IN SHAPE

MUNN'S POSITION AT RIGHT END IS ASSURED

Fresh Team Working Out for Practice with Regulars—Two Weeks More Till Opener

During the past few days the Wildcat regulars have been battling among themselves in scrimmage but by the end of this week they will probably be mixing it with the "reds." With a squad of 125 freshmen out for football this fall, a team should be worked out by Coach C. W. Corsaut to give the varsity a run for their money.

Sophomores Showing Up
Just two weeks remain for Bachman to get his team ready for the opener with Washburn. Just who will start on the primary eleven will be found out on the day of the game as every practice shows the development of a "new" one. Several of the letter men are going to find it tough sledding if the sophomore huskies continue to show up as they have been doing of late.

The backfield positions are much the same as they were last week. Russell Hoffman of Cherryvale is showing some real football at right half. His ability to twist through the opposing line for good gains in scrimmage should make him get an early chance to "show his stuff." Donald Meek, the smallest man in the backfield, is showing the earmarks of a comer. His speed in lugging the ball helps him to make long gains on end runs and other plays.

Munn Has Permanent Position

Captain Munn is about the only member on the line that can be pointed to as having a permanent position. He will lead the Wildcats from the right end position. Jerry Krysl, a sophomore, is looming up as a regular for the right tackle position although Keefe of Salina as a junior, has one letter to his credit and possibly the edge for this tackle.

Cy Tombaugh of Kansas City, Kan., is generally conceded the position of left guard. He is showing plenty of aggressiveness in the line and has the old Aggie fight. Armantrout has been playing good football at this guard for a few evenings and if he continues to improve should be a serious contender.

Harter in Center

The position of center points to Bernard Harter who has won two letters as a regular. Harter passes the ball with skill and ease and his experience should help him keep this place throughout the season. However "Fat" will have to keep moving as he is hard pushed by J. E. Smith and Woody Perham. Another regular who should play throughout the year, harrington accident, is "Buck" Hutton at left guard. Hutton is hitting hard and is a power in opening up holes in the other line. McGee and Scott will also be waiting for a try at this position.

Ballard and Anderson are fighting it out for the left tackle. Ballard has had experience and should start out on the regular varsity. Anderson was one of the best linemen on the 1923 frosh team and is showing varsity calibre in every position. Both men will probably get to play throughout the season.

Doolen Has Left End Position

Art Doolen of last year's regulars, has about nailed down the left end position. Doolen is fast on his feet and is handy in caging short passes and also in getting his man. Erlich will be ready to step into Doolen's shoes if anything should happen.

"Skull" practice, box running, signal practice and scrimmage will probably be the program throughout the week. Scrimmages with the frosh in a few days should give the varsity a good chance to learn their weak and strong points.

COLLEGE LIVESTOCK PLACES AT THE TWO KANSAS FAIRS

Stock Will Be Shown Later in Season at American Royal and International Shows

The Animal Husbandry Department showed horses and sheep at the Kansas Free Fair at Topeka and the Kansas State Fair at Hutchinson. All prizes won on horses were won by horses raised by the College. The two-year-old Belgian stallion, Hazelton Lad, which won first in his class and Reserve Grand Championship was beaten for the Grand Championship only by a stallion that had previously won the grand championship at the International Livestock Show.

The total winnings at the two fairs on the twelve horses shown by the College were as follows: 3 championships, 14 first, 12 second, and 17 third prizes.

As in the case of horses, all the prize winning sheep shown at the two fairs were raised by the College and they met the keenest kind of competition from Wisconsin, Iowa, and other Kansas flocks. The College showed in only two classes of sheep in which it did not win either first, second, or third. The total winnings were: 4 championships, 46 first, 27 second, and 13 third prizes.

Later in the season, hogs and cattle as well as horses and sheep will be shown at the American Royal and International Livestock shows. Students and townspeople are invited to visit the College barns, paddocks, and pastures and note the kind of livestock the college is raising. The College raises livestock primarily for instructional purposes.

If Some Boys Are Lost at College—This One Won't Be

If all freshman boys were like one, their mothers would not have to worry about them getting lost at college.

It was on the night of the all school mixer and the boy came early and got in on all the much advertised free handshaking, free food, and speculatively watched the free dancing.

Long after the curfew rang the dancers were walking around the quadrangle and resting on the guns when the freshman sallied bravely forth from the gym door carrying in his right hand a man-sized flashlight. He and his dependable torchlight were soon lost in the enveloping darkness but we know he got home all right.

I. K. Landon Visits College

Mr. I. K. Landon, who is in charge of the cooperative experiment fields maintained by the college in southeastern Kansas, spent the week end at the college. The experiment fields were started a year ago by the college as a result of an appropriation by the last legislature for this work. There are five of these fields, located on five of the most important soil types in that section of the state.

DAILY CAPITAL IDEAL HOME WILL DEPEND ON COLLEGE

Landscape Gardening and Interior Decorating to Be Supervised by Aggie Professors

Much of the burden of making the ideal home really ideal will depend on students and faculty members at K. S. A. C., according to plans of the Topeka Daily Capital, which is now building a "model home" in Topeka. Landscape gardening around the home will be under the supervision of Arthur E. Helder, of the landscape gardening department. Interior decorating will come under the personal supervision of Dean Margaret Justin, head of the division of home economics.

Dean Justin will be aided by Miss Araminta Holman, interior decorating; Mrs. Harriet Allard, and Miss Laura E. Gifford, household management and kitchen equipment; Prof. Amy Jane Leazenby, recreation and child welfare; Prof. Martha Pittman, foods; Prof. Lillian Baker, clothing. Plans for the model home are to be sent to K. S. A. C., where practically all the details of furnishing and equipping with labor saving devices will be worked out.

Fitch Judge in Dairy Shows

Prof. J. B. Fitch of the dairy department has been selected as a judge in the two premier dairy shows of the United States.

He left this week for the Waterloo, Iowa dairy show. At Waterloo Professor Fitch will help judge the Brown Swiss type of dairy cattle. Next week at the National in Milwaukee he will assist in the judging of Ayrshires.

DAIRY CLUB ELECTS

Homer Summers Chosen President at First Meeting

Dairy club members elected officers at their first meeting of the school year last Thursday night.

Homer Summers was elected president; Walter Daly, vice president; John C. Keas, secretary; Glenn Wood, treasurer, and Jewell Watt, reporter.

Frank Hagans was appointed chairman of the program committee, and K. M. Renner and M. E. Crouse members.

PLAN A PROGRAM OF INTRAMURALS

INTRAMURAL ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED LAST NIGHT

May Give 15 Sweaters This Year—Bicycle Races Between Halves of Home Games

Every fraternity and regularly organized men's club on the hill will participate in intramural athletics during the coming school year, according to representatives of the organizations present at the first meeting of the Intramural Athletic association in Nichols gymnasium last night. Several minor changes in rules for intramural participation, and additions to the events scheduled for intramural contests were made at the meeting.

Must Fill Out Registration Cards

Individual registration cards must be filled out and filed at the athletic office by all men who wish to represent an organization in intramural athletics this year. Men whose registration cards are not on file will be allowed to compete for points toward a sweater, but not for organization points. "Unattached" men need not fill out special registration cards, Knott said.

Limit Entries to Fifteen

An attempt to equalize competition for points between organizations with large membership lists and smaller organizations was made by limiting organization entries in any one event to 15 men. In the past larger organizations have been able to take advantage of those numerically weaker by entering their entire membership roll in practically every event on the schedule, regardless of athletic ability.

Points Count for Sweater

Entries above the limit of 15 will be accepted and will count toward a sweater for the individual, but will not count as points toward the intramural cup.

H. Lutz was elected secretary-treasurer of the Intramural association and Rex Huey and Jerry Harris were chosen as student representatives on the intramural board.

Horse shoe pitching and basketball free throwing have been added to the list of intramural events.

Bike Races Scheduled

Instead of having one five mile cross country bicycle race, as was the case last year, the 1924 "bike" men will have a chance to compete in several two and three mile bicycle races on Stadium field track between halves of Aggie football games. One point will be credited towards an individual sweater and to organization standings for each entrant. In the "bike" races a place for which additional points are counted will be added for every five entrants in the race.

In the cross country race 10 places will be counted for additional points for the first 50 entries or less, and one place will be added for every five entries above 50.

Should interest in intramurals exceed that of last year, as it shows every promise of doing, it is probable that 15 sweaters with letters will be awarded, instead of the usual 10. Fifteen additional letters without sweaters also will be awarded, according to Knott.

Sweaters to Highest Men

Sweaters and letters will be awarded to the men having the highest total number of points for intramural participation at the end of the season.

ANNUAL SPREAD SEPTEMBER 27

SOPHOMORES ARE HOSTESSES TO FRESHMEN SATURDAY

Marie Farmer Is General Manager—Tickets on Sale Wednesday in Anderson Hall

One of the big annual events of the year for the new girls is the freshman spread, which will be held in Nichols gymnasium next Saturday.

A Get Acquainted Party

The spread is sponsored by the girls of the sophomore class, who are the hostesses. The purpose of the party is to get the new girls acquainted with the upperclass girls. With the exception of the Y. W. B. and Little Sister party the spread is the only event of this nature during the year.

It has been the custom to hold the party in recreation center but because of the larger enrolment of freshman girls it is necessary to find a larger space in order to accommodate everyone.

Marie Farmer General Manager

Marie Farmer is the general manager of the spread. Committees have been appointed as follows: Eats, Mable Harris, with Mary Pyle as assistant; entertainment, Lillian Kammerer; decorations, Betty Elkins; ticket sales, Marie Insley. The entertainment committee has made arrangements for violin, piano, and vocal solos. An orchestra will provide music for dancing.

All faculty women of the college are invited to the spread. Among the guests will be Dean Mary P. Van Zile, Mrs. W. M. Jardine, and Miss Jessie McDowell Machir.

Upperclass Girls to Take Freshmen

The junior and senior girls are to each have a freshman as a special guest. If through some error an upperclass girl does not get the name of a freshman girl she is expected to purchase a single ticket and go anyway. The tickets will be two for 70 cents. None will be sold after Friday noon.

Prof. E. B. Wells, specialist in soils in extension work, has just returned from a month's vacation. Professor Wells spent part of his vacation at his home in West Virginia and he also visited at Washington, D. C., spending a few days at the United States department of agriculture.

ART DEPARTMENT BUYS PRINTS

Three Hundred Reproductions of Paintings Placed in Art Room

Colored reproductions of 300 paintings have been recently placed in the art room of the department of applied art in the college cafeteria building.

These prints include the works of the old masters as well as the modern works and give a comprehensive view of the paintings of the different countries. The countries whose works are represented in this collection are: Italy, Spain, Holland, Germany, the Scandinavian countries, Great Britain, and America.

A statement as to the painter and his style of painting accompanies each print. This collection of prints has been placed in the Art room as a part of the permanent exhibit. This room is open to visitors on week days.

Homer J. Henney, '21, who formerly was a research assistant in the department of agricultural economics, is now foreman of the Clover Cliff ranch at Elmdale, Chase county.

Radio Equipment Here Nov. 8

The building and repair department has received word from the radio manufacturing company at Kearney, N. J. that the K. S. A. C. broadcasting outfit will not be shipped until November 8. The radio school is being carried on meanwhile through the Brinkley-Jones station at Milford.

According to Prof. L. H. Limper, the modern language department has had a larger enrolment this year than any previous year. About an equal number of students are taking French and Spanish, while the number who are taking German has been steadily increasing since the war.

Tickets for Freshman Spread

Tickets for the Freshman Spread will be on sale from Wednesday until Friday noon in main hall. Every upperclass girl should buy one.

Franklin Hall a Radio Studio

The old Franklin hall, on the third floor of the gymnasium, is being redecorated and fitted up as a radio studio. A false concave ceiling is being constructed. Both sides and the ceiling are being covered with heavy burlap. The floor is covered with a heavy carpet.

Brunkau a Letter Man

The name of Fred Brunkau was unintentionally omitted from the list of track letter men. Brunkau won his letter in the javelin throw last year.

W. B. Balch, of the horticulture department, has returned from Philadelphia where he has been spending his vacation. On his return trip he attended a gardeners' convention in Louisville, Kentucky.

AGGIE MEN FIND FAVOR IN COACHING POSITIONS

Products of Ahearn-Bachman Athletic Mill in Demand as High School Grid Mentors

That products of the Ahearn-Bachman athletic mill are in demand as coaches in high schools and colleges is evidenced by appointments to coaching jobs received recently by Aggie athletes.

Arthur Stark, f. s., who for the past three years has been one of the leading halfbacks in the Missouri Valley conference, and star of the Aggie backfield, has taken the place of Cliff Gallagher, '21, as coach in the Manhattan high school. Gallagher has gone to Wichita as coach in the high schools there.

Frederick "Doc" Williams, former basketball star and three-letter man, has accepted a position coaching athletics in the Oakland high school near Topeka. During the basketball season of 1921-22, Williams led the Aggies in scoring and was one of the high point men in the valley.

Warren Cowell, '22, went to the University of Florida at Gainesville this fall as coach of freshman athletics. During the summer he attended coaching school at Notre Dame.

Ray "Russian" Hahn, '23, Aggie football and basketball star, is coaching in Downer's Grove, Illinois, high school. Downer's Grove is the home of Edwin "Ted" Curtiss, basketball coach at K. S. A. C. in 1922-23.

Henry Karns, '24, is coaching in the Osborne schools this year.

Ira Schindler, '24, football letter man, is coaching in Jewell high school this year. Allan Davidson, K. U. football letter man, is coaching in Mankato. The Jewell Republican suggests that when Jewell and Mankato meet on the gridiron this fall the coaches be allowed to play.

Fourteen Aggies at Estes

Fourteen Aggie students and instructors under the direction of Dean Mary P. Van Zile spent 10 days at the Y. W. C. A. camp at Estes Park during August. This conference is an annual meeting of delegates from the various colleges to make plans for the following year.

The girls from K. S. A. C. who attended were: Bernice Fleming, Marian Dalton, Charlotte Swanson, Dorothy Rosebrough, Loretta Alexander, Evelyn Colburn, Betty Pears, Margaret Foster, Mary Lee, Ruth Faulkner, Tina Blanchard, Margaret Burtis, and instructors, Esther Bruner, Stella Harris, Dean Mary P. Van Zile, and Lois Wildy, the local Y. W. C. A. secretary.

Amiable Pets?

Scorpions and copperheads wouldn't appeal to most students as very amiable pets, but the zoology classes under Miss Jewell seem to find them quite interesting.

The first field trip of the season was taken last Friday afternoon. The rocky hills, the ravines and Wildcat creek west of town, were visited by the students and many good specimens found. Insects were the most common, but one copperhead snake and several poisonous scorpions were captured. These animals are valuable as a basis of further study and investigation in the department.

Miss Alene Hinn of the department of clothing and textiles spent the week at the Hutchinson fair where she was a judge in the home economics department.

Room and board for boys. Three large, well ventilated, modern rooms with sleeping porch, close to campus. 1020 Bluemont. Phone 730W. 4-2t.

Very Modern?

"Oh, what a cute little dolly! Does she say 'Mama' when you squeeze her?"
"Naw. My dolly's a modern dolly. She says 'Oh, Boy!' when you squeeze her."—Flamingo.

RONALD HUTTON HEADS "K" CLUB

COLLEGE ATHLETES HELD ELECTION FRIDAY NIGHT

Doolen and Kuykendall Chosen Officers—Fraternity to Initiate at End of Football Season

Ronald "Buck" Hutton was elected president of the K fraternity at its first meeting of the year last Thursday night. Hutton is a two-letter man in football.

The other officers elected for the year are Arthur Doolen, secretary-treasurer; and Charles Kuykendall, S. S. G. A. representative. Doolen is captain-elect of the basketball team and also has played one year on the football team. Kuykendall is a letter man in track and was captain of the team two years ago.

To Initiate Letter Men

Initiation into the fraternity of all men who won track and baseball letters last spring and who had not been members of the club before will take place at the close of the football season. All football men who are not already letter men will be initiated at the same time.

High School Letters Barred

At the meeting last week it was decided that the fraternity would see to it that all freshmen lived up to the school tradition that forbids the wearing of high school letters on the campus. Sewed on service stripes will also be banned, although service stripes woven into the sweaters can be worn. The only athletic insignia that can be worn on the campus are the purple K and class team numerals.

Freshman caps will be put on sale by the fraternity as soon as they arrive. The committee which will have charge of the sales is B. C. Harter, Art Doolen, and John Gartner.

NEW PARKING RULE WENT INTO EFFECT YESTERDAY

Reservation Cards Being Sent Out From the President's Office to Accepted Applicants

The new auto parking rule permitting cars to be parked on the campus only in the designated parking grounds, went into effect yesterday. The grounds have been prepared and staked out, and reservation cards are being sent out from the president's office.

The auto parks are designated as follows: South campus auto park, back of the Home Economics building and Kedzie hall.

East campus auto park, between the old Vocational school building and the Chemistry annex, and east of the Horticulture building. Northwest campus auto park, back of the Veterinary building. West campus auto park, east and west, north of Engineering building. North campus auto park east and west, north of Waters hall. There are no reservations on Anderson avenue. The temporary parking ground in front of the Engineering building will be abandoned.

RED CROSS LIFE SAVING CORPS TO BE ORGANIZED

Certificates Awarded to Those Who Successfully Pass Examinations

A Red Cross life-saving corps for Manhattan and the college will be organized within the next week or two, according to Prof. E. A. Knott, of the athletic department. This is the first year that a sufficient number have enrolled in the Red Cross life-saving classes to make possible the organization of a corps.

This corps will direct a class in life saving which will meet in the men's pool in the gym on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 4 to 5 o'clock. Captain Law, representative of the southwestern division of the Red Cross life-saving corps, will examine the class later in the year. All who pass this examination will receive the regular Red Cross life-saver's certificate and will become members of the local corps. All men interested in swimming are urged to join this class.

Prof. S. C. Salmon, professor of farm crops, will leave at the end of this week for his vacation. Professor Salmon expects to spend his vacation at the University of Minnesota where he will do graduate work.

Even So

"And who," asked the professor who had been lecturing on missionary work, "was the leader in the South Sea movement?"
Broadway Ben roused himself from a deep slumber. "Gilda Gray!" he shouted.—Chanticleer.

VALLEY FOOTBALL

Edward W. Cochrane, sports editor of the Kansas City Journal-Post, has summarized the Missouri Valley football situation with exceedingly fair judgment in a recent editorial. The Collegian believes the comment is of considerable interest to Aggie football fans so it is reprinted here:

"Unless Nebraska, Kansas, and the Kansas Aggies are fortunate in having unusually good material from the freshman squads of 1923, the Missouri Valley conference football championship race this year may be vastly different from the battles of the past two or three years.

"These three lost many valuable letter men by graduation. Kansas must drill a new backfield and plug some holes in the line. Nebraska must present almost an entirely new backfield and some new linemen, and the Aggies must offer an entirely new backfield and several linemen, as Charley Bachman lost more regulars than any other coach in the valley.

"There are reports from the camps of the Wildcats, the Jayhawkers and the Cornhuskers that they will present strong teams when the season gets under way early in October. But these predictions are based on the fact that all are supposed to have exceptionally strong freshman material to draw from.

"Watch Drake, is the tip sent through the valley. The Bulldogs lost Bill Boelter—a power on attack and defense—and some more men, but Ossie Solem retained most of his regulars from last season and Drake went through the year with a splendid record.

"It is understood that Solem has an end to make a splendid running mate for Lingenfelter and that Ted Sloan, a splendid end of last year, will go to the backfield, which is his regular position. That gives Drake a good man to replace Boelter.

"Missouri will keep almost every one of the regulars of last year—losing only McNaw—and will have some splendid first year men. Gwinn Henry plans on a fast, powerful machine.

"Oklahoma came fast late last year and gave Drake a hard battle as the windup of the year. Watch the Sooners this fall. Ben Owen kept most of his good men and has some new material that will be dangerous.

"Washington, Grinnell and Ames were not hard hit by graduation and may spring a surprise.

"Mike Hyland is the new coach at Grinnell and he is a driver. He may turn out a far better team than the one that failed to make a good showing last season.

"The first really important clash will bring Oklahoma and Nebraska together October 11, at Norman."

HOWLING DOGS

You have no doubt seen a dog chase a train or an automobile. He barks furiously, catches up with it, then barks some more. Did you ever stop to think just what he would do if he actually got hold of the thing he was chasing? He could not drive a car, neither could he eat a train. Lots of us are the same way about things that we are forever chasing. We would not know what to do with them if we were to catch them.

Some of us with ham and egg dispositions aspire to become artists while others of us with drygoods box minds try to put on ivory-topped educations.

Dogs are not the only things that howl after the moon. There is no telling what we will do with a college education when we get it.

SHOOT STRAIGHT

It was a bored class of 25 army aviators that straggled in for the opening lecture of the two weeks aerial gunnery school at St. Jean de monte, France, in January, 1918. They were tired of the long period of training, for the past six months had been one school after another, and anxious to get to the front where they could see action. Tired of the monotony they had little zest for another course.

They paid little attention to the openfaced young major while he made the customary welcome to the field and explained certain courtesies that would be expected. A minute later they were all ears for he was shooting straight from the shoulder.

"You gentlemen are here for two weeks' training in aerial gunnery. After that you will go to the front. I want you to understand our system here. There will be no roll calls. There are sufficient planes for you all to get as much time in the air as you wish. Each man may shoot 2000 rounds.

"A mile down the beach you will find an excellent hotel. It is full of good liquor and pretty women. There is a dance each evening. At the officers' club you can always find a poker game if you want it. It is immaterial to me whether you fire a single round or not. It is here for you and you may use your own judgment. Just this thing I want to say: from my own experience I have learned that the man at the front who shoots straightest lives longest."

It is easy to guess that every man was on the field when the work started and the ships were all kept busy. The men clamored for more ammunition.

And college is not much different from the gunnery school. The chap who learns to shoot straightest does not necessarily live the longest but he will be the one that gets the farthest along the road.

The circus and Lucile are altogether to blame. Lucile (she's only a sophomore), called us up Saturday afternoon, her voice full of italics and exclamation points, "I've got two PRESS tickets to the CIRCUS, and you've just GOT to go with me! Won't you, PLEASE?"

We demurred. "We always write the colyum Saturday afternoon, Lucile—wouldn't you just as soon go to the picture show some time next week? You know the students are expecting the colyum, looking forward to it, one might say."

"Oh, PLEASE! I want to see the elephants (Lucile is only a sophomore), and the tigers and lions and camels! Besides, I've got PRESS tickets, and a show costs—"

Brown Bull Must Be Fed Before His Next Appearance

A lean slim Brown Bull gazes pathetically from his stall. All summer long he has lived on no more nourishing diet than the remembrance of past glory. But the time draws near when he must be scrubbed and groomed and have a blue ribbon tied on his horns and maybe one on his tail, to make his best appearance before the Aggie studies.

With no fodder in his feed box, the Bull is feeling rather shaky. His keepers try to encourage him, but he continues his mournful bellowing.

In the interests of dumb animals and suffering humanity the keepers implore the Aggie students to send the Bull some donations. Strong cartoons, witty jokes, humorous features, lots of verse, all will be acceptable to the Brown Bull. He has only one request to make. The material must all be original—no chewed over secondhand fodder for the Aggie Bull. Simply won't go down.

The Brown Bull is most anxious to make a good appearance when he first comes out, October 18.

Leave all copy at the postoffice addressed to the Editor of the Brown Bull, or drop it in the box opposite the postoffice. Copy must be in before the end of the month.

Hedges New Instructor in Marketing
Harold Hedges, who received his master's degree from the University of Nebraska in June, 1924, has been appointed instructor of marketing in the department of agricultural economics. Growth of the marketing work in this department made it necessary that another instructor be added to assist Professor R. M. Green who has charge of the work. Mr. Hedges is also conducting investigations of cooperative marketing of livestock through Kansas livestock shipping associations.

AGGIE MIXER A SUCCESS

Short Play by Public Speaking Department Is Popular

The large crowd which packed Nichols gymnasium at the annual all school mixer Friday night proved that this is one of the biggest social events of the college year.

The feature of the program, which was shrouded in mystery until the time of performance, was a mirth-provoking playlet, "Introducing a Freshman to the Ins and Outs of K. S. A. C.," staged by Prof. Earl J. McDonald, the new college dramatic coach. K. W. Given, Miss Lucille Heath and Mrs. Carter composed the cast.

The larger part of the evening was spent in dancing although the hand-shaking and punch-drinking elements were not unimportant.

BAND GIVES CAMPUS CONCERT

Many Freshman Musicians—Have Had Previous Experience

The first of a series of band concerts by the K. S. A. C. band was given Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the campus north of the auditorium under the leadership of Prof. Harold P. Wheeler, director.

Although many of the musicians this year are freshmen, all of them have had previous concert experience, and the numbers were favorably received by students and townspeople. Professor Wheeler plans to give these concerts every Sunday afternoon, as long as the weather permits.

The program yesterday was short, and well given.

AGGIE RIFLEMAN WINS SECOND IN AREA

Nine Military Divisions Take Part in Event—Rain Makes Accurate Shooting Impossible

The seventh corps area, of which K. S. A. C. is a member, won first place in the National R. O. T. C. Rifle match held at Camp Perry, Ohio, last week. Nine corps areas took active part in the matches, representing the best marksmen of the United States.

The citizens camp, National Guard, Army, Navy, R. O. T. C., and independent teams were qualified as entrants in the meet. About 110 men fired for the championship and for scores to qualify for the National rifle match to be held early in October at Camp Perry.

Walter Mayden, the Aggie representative, won second place in the 7th Corps Area match. E. A. Beal, from Missouri university, won first place. Mayden is a member of the 1924 K. S. A. C. Rifle team and was holder of first place in the target events last year.

The targets were placed on the shores of Lake Erie. Accurate shooting was very difficult as it rained every day but two of the twenty days in camp. A very heavy fog almost hid the targets in the long range match of 1000 yards. The seventh corps area won third place last year.

The men were in camp three weeks, two of which were spent in receiving instruction and practice, and the last week in firing the matches.

Two men from the University of Missouri, two from Nebraska, one from North Dakota, one from South Dakota, one from Arkansas university, one from Ouachita college and Walter Mayden from K. S. A. C. made up the 7th Corps Area which carried away first honors.

Second place was won by the Third Corps area and third place by the Ninth Corps area. The independent matches are being completed this week in readiness for the National meet to be held on the second day of October. The expert marksmen from Europe and other foreign countries will be entered in this match.

TO ENTERTAIN AGGIE DADS AT COLLEGE OCTOBER 18

M. R. Buck Heads Committee on Entertainment—Athletic Department to Reserve Seats for Visitors

Kansas Aggie dads will be entertained this year at the second annual Dads' day, which will be held on the day of the K. U.-Aggie football game, October 18. The program for the day is being planned by a committee of the Y. M. C. A. headed by M. R. Buck. Tentative plans include registration of all dads in recreation center on Saturday morning, followed by an informal reception in their honor. The whole campus will be thrown open to the guests of the college.

The athletic department has consented to hold a section of seats in the east stadium next to the student section for students and their dads. However, this section cannot be held for this purpose after October 12, so students should begin now to invite their dads to the game and procure reserve seat tickets.

What Youth Are Seeking

John Dewey in The Bookman

The crowds who followed Abelard, or any other magnetic teacher, did not accuse him of indulging in mass education; though they had difficulty in hearing him, they probably did not desire to be divided into small sections and turned over to his assistants. They may not have understood him, but they had met greatness. There is usually no fear that our students do not understand us. Haven't we anything to lay before them that would exalt the spirit and stretch the mind?

One thing they are looking for in our day which can be imparted and multiplied, like the sacred bread, to crowded hillside, but which cannot be caught in formulas—they are looking for beauty. Those who teach American youth today know how hungry they are for a life of beauty, how tired of ideas chiefly mechanical or economic. This world of machinery is to the elders still new, but to our students it is only their uneventful environment; we remember when automobiles came in, but they were born to automobiles. When we turn to administrative devices to solve our problems, educational among others, they think we are wasting our time over antique methods, not knowing that some of us still remember hopefully the day when administrative methods arrived to light the world. The young people want life, a fine kind of life, with happiness in it, but happiness found through the mind and through beauty. If I seem to praise them too highly, remember that where one appears who teaches in this spirit, the young rarely, if ever, fail to recognize him and to meet his mood. If he had a thousand students at his feet, he would be an individual to each of them, and what he taught would seem the personal word of a friend.

was held last year at the Oklahoma game. Those in charge last year were enthusiastic over the number of dads who visited the college and attended the game. Even more are expected this year, since the game is one that will attract statewide interest.

R. O. T. C. ENROLS 1,250 MEN

To Issue Individual Rifles This Year—Each Man Responsible

The R. O. T. C. at K. S. A. C. has a total enrolment of 1,250 this semester. Included in this number are 60 new enrolments in advanced courses. Men will be issued individual rifles this year, and will be responsible for their care. In former years, each rifle was used by two or three different men and was often in very poor condition. New wooden racks have been constructed in the gym to take care of the additional rifles. Twenty new steel arm racks have also been ordered.

Students will not be allowed to wear any part of their uniform except on drill days, according to an order issued by the commandant's office last week. This order does not apply to the regulation O. D. shirts, however.

Much interest has been shown by Aggie students in R. O. T. C. work this year. K. S. A. C. had 33 representatives at the artillery camp at Fort Monroe, Va., this summer, and 42 at the infantry camp at Fort Snelling, Minn. One thousand and forty-nine men of the college participated in the Defense day parade September 12.

EXTENSION WORKERS MEET

Will Hold Annual Conference October 13 to 18

Extension workers operating under the direction of the K. S. A. C. division of extension will have their annual conference at the college from October 13 to October 18, according to Sam Pickard, of the division of extension.

From 100 to 160 out of town visitors are expected for the conference, including most of the county agents and extension specialists in the state. College faculty members and out of town speakers will be on the program for the conference. A part of the time will be devoted to outlining extension work in general over the state for next year, according to Dean H. Umberger, head of the division. Those attending the conference will stay over for the K. U.-Aggie game October 18.

TODAY

Sure, this world is full of trouble—
I ain't said it ain't.
Lord! I've had enough and double
Reason for complaint.
Rain and snow have come to fret me,
Skies were often gray;
Thorns and brambles have beset me
On the road—but say,
Ain't it fine today?

What's the use of always weepin':
Makin' trouble last?
What's the use of always keepin':
Thinkin' of the past?
Each must have his tribulation,
Water with his wine;
Life it ain't no celebration.
Trouble? I've had mine—
But today is fine.

It's today that I am livin'.
Not a month ago;
Havin', losin', takin', givin',
As time wills it so.
Yesterday a cloud of sorrow
Fell across the way;
It may rain again tomorrow—
It may rain—but say,
Ain't it fine today?

BRITISH SCIENTISTS VISIT HERE

Lecture on Work of Rothamsted Experiment Station

Dr. D. Ward Cutler and Dr. H. J. Page of the Rothamsted experiment station, Harpenden, England, were visitors at the college over the week end, giving lectures on the work of the Rothamsted station and visiting the departments of agronomy, bacteriology, botany, and zoology.

Both Doctor Cutler and Doctor Page are eminent British scientists. They are making a tour of the American agricultural colleges, having visited Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, and Nebraska before coming here and going from here to Missouri, Illinois, and Cornell universities.

Bessie Booth Wins Contest

Miss Bessie Booth, sophomore in journalism at K. S. A. C., was awarded the first prize of twenty-five dollars in an essay contest conducted recently by the Free Kodak Developing company of Kansas City, Mo. The essays were limited to fifty words telling why various patrons were pleased with the developing and printing of their pictures.

Miss Booth's essay was in rhymed form. It will appear in the Kansas City Weekly Star and Capper's Weekly.

Miss Burtis to Speak at Vespers

The second vespers of this year will be held Thursday afternoon in Recreation center at 4 o'clock. Phyllis Burtis will tell some experiences of her work in Chicago this summer. Miss Burtis worked for six weeks in the Armour's cafeteria in the stockyards on the south side. For the last three years groups of girls under the sponsorship of the Y. W. C. A. have gone into various industrial centers.

WASHBURN HAS NINE LETTER MEN

STRONG ICHABOD AGGREGATION WILL FACE WILDCATS

Topeka Team Plays Kansas City University This Afternoon—Squad of 45 Men Is Out

When the Kansas Aggies line up against Washburn at Topeka on October 4 they will be facing an Ichabod team composed of all but two letter men. With a squad of 45 men in moleskins Washburn should have a winning aggregation in the Kansas conference, but of this number only 15 will be eligible for play with the Wildcats due to the Missouri Valley ruling that prohibits freshmen from participating in intercollegiate sport.

Play K. C. Today

The Ichabods play Kansas City university this afternoon and will have the advantage of having worked together in a game before meeting the Wildcats. However this game will also serve to give Aggie scouts a chance to get some dope on the weak and strong points of the Washburnites in actual football and Bachman will no doubt be ready for any type of football that Coaches George Woodward and Arthur Lomborg may spring.

Letter men who are candidates on the Ichabod team for backfield positions are Arthur Brewster, captain, a three letter man; Lee Bruce a two letter man; and Clinton Gaston with two letters. Brewster played his first year at fullback but has been at halfback the last two years. Bruce is probably in line for the piloting of the team this year. Gaston, a freshman last year, proved a mighty ground gainer. Willard Gabriel, also a letter man last season, playing at end, has been shifted to the back field, and promises great offensive value there.

Difficulty with Line

So far the coaches have had their most difficulty with the line. However even with the shortage of old line men, there is considerable more line material among the new aspirants than there was last year.

Paul Hall at tackle is a two letter man and should perform in all state style in his position. Ralph Warren is also a letter holder, and will preside on the opposite side of the line at tackle.

At guards, Walter Brown, and Allan Fowler, two veterans, are the most promising. Both are letter men, and Brown is the largest man on the squad, weighing 205 pounds. Both men have had experience which should prove valuable.

Sherwood "Tex" Hall and George Templar, both members of last year's squad, are out for the end berths, and should make a fast combination.

Although injuries will probably keep Tom Boyd and Dewey Taylor, two old Washburn men, out of the race, still there is an abundance of new backfield material, and Coaches George Woodward and Arthur Lomborg are optimistic over the prospects.

PURPLE MASQUE PLEDGES

Honorary Dramatic Fraternity Will Hold Initiation Next Week

Purple Masque, honorary dramatic organization, held a meeting Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of pledging Muriel Shaver, Charlotte Swanson, and Milton Kerr. These people were made eligible for election to the Masque by their favorable work in plays produced last spring.

Formal initiation will be held next week for Miss Shaver, Miss Swanson, Mr. Kerr, and Jack Kennedy, who was pledged to Purple Masque last spring in recognition of his work in the fall play, "Three Wise Fools." Earl MacDonald, the new instructor of dramatics at the college, will be made an honorary member at this initiation.

WALTER DALY PLACES FOURTH AT WATERLOO

Aggie Dairy Judger Wins High Honors in Individual Scoring—Team Falls to Eighth Place

Walter J. Daly, who is a member of the Aggie dairy judging team, placed fourth in individual judging at the Waterloo (Iowa) dairy show, according to word received from Prof. H. W. Cave, coach of the team.

Wisconsin was first in team judging. The Aggie team placed eighth. This is much lower than the ranking made by Aggie teams of former years. Last year they placed second at the National dairy exposition held in Syracuse, N. Y. with 29 teams competing.

The men composing the squad are: Walter J. Daly, Frank Hagans, O. L. Norton, and A. R. Sargent. The members of the team at Waterloo are not known, as Professor Cave did not pick the three man team until before the contest.

This was the first contest on their itinerary. Saturday they practiced on the Jersey type of dairy cattle at the Long View dairy farm, Lees Summit, Mo. On Sunday more practice work was engaged in at the W. W. Marsh Guernsey farm at Waterloo. Although arrangements were not completed before leaving the squad intended visiting dairy herds near Chicago today.

Tomorrow the team competes in the sixteenth annual students' contest in dairy judging held in connection with the National dairy exposition in Milwaukee, Wis.

The squad will remain in Milwaukee until Wednesday viewing the exposition which is the largest dairy show in the United States.

Large Number of Instructing Men Bemuddles Rookies

"Attention!" and at the command the khaki-clad figures came to attention—that is some of them did—others did everything from right about facing to saluting. These were instantaneously rebuffed by any number of ultra-gruff voices. The rookies were being instructed in military tactics by the advanced course men.

"Forward march! Huh! Huh!" and the squad eventually got into motion and marched down the campus followed by a battalion of officers. Other groups were everywhere experiencing the same embarrassments.

But this was the first drill period—just wait until next spring when these boys march when they are parading for a general's inspection. When the command comes to "fall in" they will all do the technical thing instead of wildly gazing around for a depression in the surface of the campus.

And at the magic phrase "as you were"—well, girls, this military training is useful in a lot of ways.

COLLEGE SECURES TELEGRAPH 'LOOP'

DIRECT WIRE SERVICE IS PROMISED FOR FOOTBALL GAMES

Western Union to Expend $4000 on Project—Three Wires Will Be Strung to Press Box

Direct wire service from the Memorial Stadium to the outside world by means of a telegraph "loop" is assured for the 1924 football season after three years of effort on the part of Charles Lockyear, local manager for the Western Union telegraph company. Three telegraph wires will be strung from the main line of the telegraph company to Memorial Stadium, and a fourth will give K. S. A. C. and the Aggieville business district of Manhattan hourly clock setting service. Ten "Western Union" clocks are to be installed at the college and seventeen in Aggieville.

The estimated cost of the loop project is $4000.

Direct to Newspaper Offices

By use of the project press reports of college football games can be sent direct to newspaper offices in Kansas City, Topeka, and other points in the middle west in time for late editions of afternoon papers and early mail editions of morning publications.

The telegraph company will furnish three operators for the press box in the stadium, so that stories can be dictated directly over the wire as the events happen on the playing field.

Three Routes Possible

Three routes have been suggested for the "loop" to follow. The probable one will be down Seventeenth street directly to the stadium from the telegraph wires. Another plan suggested is use of the poles of the United street car company, while a third is stringing of a new line direct from the Western Union office on South Fourth street.

K. S. A. C. is one of the few Missouri Valley schools to be granted a "loop" and only the unusual demand for telegraph news on Aggie games made it possible.

Notice, Quill Club Members

An important meeting of the Quill club will be held Monday evening, September 29, in K55. Election of officers. Please be there.

"Y" PLANS DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

EVERY COLLEGE MAN WILL BE ASKED TO JOIN

Finances for Year's Program Also an Objective—Advertising Campaign Contemplated.

The college Y. M. C. A. membership and financial drive will be held during the week of October 6-11. Every man in school will be visited personally and asked to join the organization. Last year the drive netted over 800 members. This year a larger membership is anticipated as an extensive advertising plan is being worked out whereby the students may learn of the activities of the organization.

The Y. M. C. A.'s program is a unified and progressive plan to give men opportunities to develop in Christian leadership, stir up loyalty for K. S. A. C., and boost the college over the state. Some of the features of the year's activities are:

The Go-to-college teams, fostered and handled by the Y. M. C. A., visited 59 high schools last year, having a total enrolment of 22,976. Of this number, 4,364 were seniors.

The Gospel team visited Alta Vista, Vinton, Junction City, Sedalia, Caranah Creek churches, and the United Presbyterian, Presbyterian, and Baptist churches in Manhattan. The double quartet furnished music for over 30 religious meetings in Manhattan and surrounding towns.

The Boys' department fostered the fathers' and sons' banquet which 620 fathers and sons attended; promoted the Sunday school basketball league with 13 teams competing and presented two loving cups to the winners of the respective classes; conducted the city wide Junior Olympics; and conducted a boys' camp at Camp Rotary for a week.

Fifteen hundred "K" books were published and distributed jointly by the Y. M. C. A. and the S. S. G. A.

During the first two weeks of school, the Y. M. C. A. has aided 157 students to procure part time work. Last year over 9,000 hours of odd time work, averaging thirty cents an hour, were secured for students.

The new student committee met all trains at the first of the year, and aided new students in getting acquainted.

More than 800 rooms were inspected and listed according to college requirements, and several hundred students assisted in getting located.

The Watermelon feed, all college mixer, the Christmas party, the freshman reception and the Thanksgiving party are all Y. M. C. A. social activities.

Along religious lines, the college "Y" conducts weekly students' forum meetings, a week of prayer, world court week, a world forum, and holy week.

The "Y" was instrumental in bringing many prominent men to the campus last year. Among those who spoke here last year are Dr. Y. Y. Tsu, of China; Chancellor Harper, of Denver university; Dr. Herbert Herring, of Boston; Dr. Alva Taylor, of Indianapolis; Rev. George Collins, of Des Moines; Dr. Ben Wilson of Los Angeles; Dr. Allyn K. Foster, of New York City; Dr. Rayhill, of Topeka; and Dr. Edmunds, president of Canton Christian college.

Dr. A. A. Holtz is secretary of the college Y. M. C. A.

The college Y. M. C. A. is financed entirely by this campaign to procure members. Persons wishing to join the organization may subscribe whatever amount they feel able. Their membership card is good anywhere they may go.

WAMPUS CATS HOLD MEETING

"Chig" Long Is President of Organization—George Harkins Vice-President

The Wampus Cats, Aggie pep organization, held their second meeting at the Sigma Nu house Tuesday evening, September 23. Arrangements for various stunts at all home football games were made and committees put in charge of each game. A new uniform was adopted and a sufficient number to supply all members ordered. They will consist of white trousers and sweaters with a purple Wampus Cat on the back. A purple sash will be worn around the waist. The new uniforms are expected to be here in time for use at the first game.

An attempt is being made this year to raise sufficient funds to properly finance the Wampus Cats. In past years the organization has been handicapped by lack of funds. Organizations of this kind in other schools have had approximately $2,000 each year to carry on their work, but last year the Wampus Cats spent only $185. Better financial support will be needed to compete with other schools in the valley. The organization will conduct two dances, one the night before and one the night after the K. S. T. C. football game, as a means of raising money to help carry on their work. Some aid is expected from the school board, but not enough to defray all expenses.

The Wampus Cats have 37 members this year. At their meeting Tuesday night, they elected the following officers: President, Charles Long; vice president, George Harkins; secretary, Vincent Bates, treasurer, L. E. Hindon.

DRAMATIC TRYOUTS HELD

Final Selection by Purple Masque Based on Stage Performance

Tryouts for Purple Masque, the honorary dramatic fraternity of the college, were held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday afternoons of this week, in room 56 of the vocational agriculture building. The tryouts were judged by representatives of Purple Masque and by Professor MacDonald, instructor of dramatics.

Tryouts, to which all students of K. S. A. C. were eligible, were judged by a uniform standard as to the dramatic ability of the student. Those students who showed up favorably in the tryouts will be placed on a list as eligible to Purple Masque, however, before they can be voted in to the fraternity they must take part in some college play. Final judgment of the ability of those under consideration will then be made from their performance on the stage by members of Purple Masque.

The eligibility list will be announced later.

PI Kappa Delta Elects

Pi Kappa Delta, honorary debating and forensic fraternity, met for the first time this year on Wednesday and elected and installed the following officers: President, Forest Whan, Manhattan; vice president, Raymond Davis, Empingham; secretary and treasurer, P. A. Walt, Gove.

CROSS COUNTRY PROSPECTS GOOD

COACH BILL MATHIAS REPORTS A TURNOUT OF 70 MEN

Several Men Have Been Showing Up Well—Freshmen May Substitute Work for Gym

Prospects for a record cross country team are better this season than ever before, according to W. M. Mathias, cross country coach. More than 70 men have been out for the daily workouts and more are expected out next week.

Several Running Well

Among those who have been hitting the trail each evening and who have been showing up well are: Kimport, Coleman, Pyle, Sallee, Aikman, Rutherford, and Wheeler. The freshmen have more than responded excellently to the call for new material. More than 40 freshmen from the physical education department have been taking short runs each day, and several have already taken the full five mile course.

For the new men the daily practice consists of 15 minutes of calisthenics, and then a slow workout, starting with a mile run and then gradually increasing up to the full five mile run. Freshmen are required to report three nights a week from 4 to 6 but are to be out every night if possible. All freshmen may substitute cross country for their regular physical education work. Coach Mathias would like to have every frosh who is at all inclined to cross country running to report to him at once, for freshman entrants this year will have a good chance of making the team next season.

Races at Games

The cross country races this fall are to be run in conjunction with the football games. The races will be started in time to allow the finish to occur during the half. The first meet will be October 18, when K. U. plays the Aggies at Manhattan. The next meet will be at Columbia on October 25 when the Wildcats and the Tiger clash. The third meet is not definitely dated yet but will occur on the day of the Ames or Nebraska game.

The Missouri Valley meet will be held at Drake university, Des Moines, Iowa, and the present dope points to a win by the Aggie tracksters. The route for the races to be run at home is as follows: Start on the track, go out the south gate, then west on Anderson avenue for a quarter mile, then north on road past Coach Bachman's house, then west 100 yards, north one and one-half miles, east past college farm to road just west of Memorial Stadium, on Anderson avenue, and the finish on the track in front of the stadium. It will take approximately 28 minutes to run the distance, but this time will undoubtedly be cut down considerably if Coach Bachman's dog is loose on the day of the meet.

ARTIST SERIES THIS YEAR TO INCLUDE FOUR NUMBERS

MUSIC LOVERS MAY HEAR A GREAT VARIETY OF CONCERTS

STONE HURT IN PRACTICE

Breaks Leg in Scrimmage with Freshmen—C. N. Brion Also Injured

Injuries struck the Aggie football team last Tuesday for the first time this year. E. L. Stone, left guard, suffered a broken leg in scrimmage against the freshmen. The practice was the first that the freshmen and varsity had played against each other this season. The accident took place when a freshman attempted to block Stone, who was going through the line. Stone is a sophomore and one of the best left guards on the team.

C. N. Brion, left halfback, suffered a broken rib in the same practice. However, the injury was not serious and Brion is still working with the team.

STUDIES TEXTILES ABROAD

Miss Ina Cowles Sees Laces and Tapestries in Europe

Miss Ina Cowles, associate professor of textiles in the home economics division at the college, has just returned from a tour of several European countries. Professor Cowles spent much of her time in England, Scotland, Belgium and France, and made an especial study of tapestries, laces, and textiles of these countries.

At the Victoria and Albert museum in London, at the Wemmerly exposition there, and in museums of Paris and Brussels Miss Cowles saw large collections of rare laces and tapestries. She reported that in Brussels she found linen goods cheaper than cotton, due, she said, to the abundance of flax in that country.

Miss Cowles was met at Southampton by her sister, May Cowles, '12, and Helen T. Parsons, '11, who accompanied her on her tour of England, and parts of Scotland and Belgium.

Brannen Visits College

C. O. Brannen of the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., was at the college, Monday, September 22, to discuss research in taxation with Professor Eric Englund of the department of agricultural economics. Mr. Brannen, who is engaged in taxation studies for the bureau of agricultural economics, has been in St. Louis, attending the convention of the National Tax association, and will go from here to Nebraska and other states where he will study the work being done in taxation.

Prof. W. E. Grimes, president of the Alumni association, will talk on "Holding the Connection with Radio," as part of the College of the Air program on Monday evening, September 29.

CHICAGO OPERA COMPANY TO PRESENT "SECRET OF SUZANNE" BY FEVIANA

PRICE IS SAME AS LAST SEASON

Mme. Cecile DeHorvath to Give a Piano Recital—Kathryn Browne of Chicago Civic Opera Company to Give Concert

The Artist Series for the season 1924-25 will include, four concerts of such great variety that any lover of good music can find some of his favorites here. It is seldom possible for small cities to hear the fine things in opera, but last year patrons of the Artist Series were delighted with the Hinshaw Opera company who presented "The Impresario." Those who heard this beautiful little opera are yet telling their less fortunate friends what they missed.

Another Small Opera

This year the series will be the equal of any given before. A trio of singers from the Chicago Opera company will present the "Secret of Suzanne" by Wolf Feviani, one of the most beautiful small operas ever written. This opera which is rather short will be preceded by a program of solos and ensemble numbers from other operas and from song literature in general. The personnel of the Chicago Opera is: Lucie Weston, soprano; Edward Cotruil, bass-baritone; William Rogerson, tenor; and Charles Lawwers, conductor.

Manhattan audiences have evidenced a very great love for fine piano music. This year they will be privileged to hear Mme. Cecile De Horvath in recital. The Boston Transcript says: "She overwhelmed her listeners. There is no matching Mme. De Horvath as a pianist of intelligence and sensibility, quick to the piano as an instrument of song as well as an instrument of percussion." There are not many great pianists in the world and no one can afford to miss this recital.

Kathryn Browne on Series

For the third number of the Artist Series, Vranaguant will present Kathryn Browne, mezzo-soprano of the Chicago civic opera company. Miss Browne typifies the best type of American college woman. A graduate of the University of Illinois, all her study has been in America and she is becoming one of the most popular recitalists in the country. Mme. De Horvath is also a graduate of an American college, her Alma Mater being Swarthmore college, where her father was a professor for many years.

The fourth number of the Artist Series concerts brings to Manhattan for the first time, the Flonzaley string quartet. The Daily Telegraph of London, England, says: "When all has been said in praise of other famous organizations, there is still something to be said which is true of the Flonzaley quartet alone. No other combination of the same kind gives us quite the same feeling of security and refinement." Founded and endowed in 1903 by E. J. de Copper, these four men, each of them ranking among the world's greatest artists, have obligated themselves to devote their lives to ensemble music and never to appear as soloists. The result of these twenty-four years of life, work, and creative art together is as nearly perfect as one could possibly hear. This one concert, if heard in any of the larger cities where musical performances are commercialized, would cost the listener the price asked in Manhattan for the whole series which will sell for the same price as last year's Artist Series, in spite of the added concert.

There will be 1093 best seats for $3.00 for the full series, and 1009 seats for $2.00.

First Concert October 15

The first concert of the Chicago Opera Trio will occur October 15. The box office will be open at the college auditorium, Monday, October 13 and each day until the first performance. Mail orders will be handled as usual and mailed to subscribers in advance of the general box office sale. With orders for tickets enclose checks payable to Artist Series Concerts, and address to the Music Department, K. S. A. C.

Louis A. Cortes, graduate of La Salle Institute of Bogota, Colombia, S. A., has enrolled at K. S. A. C. to take work in the department of architecture.

UPWARD?

A local investigation of the popular reading matter of the students, faculty and townspeople made some time ago seemed to indicate that the American people are going to the dogs. The trashy reading matter that sold in greater amounts at the book stores and news stands by its very nature seemed to indicate a much lower standard than was generally recognized.

However, according to statistics furnished by a great many public libraries throughout the country recently, the trend is now upward. There are now more than 18,000 public libraries in the United States and they have more than 70,000,000 volumes on their shelves. The kind of reading matter that is mostly in demand is applied science and standard fiction, according to the reports of many librarians, and the habit of reading such material is increasing.

Nevertheless we can't feel too enthused over these statistics as that American institution, the news stand, is also increasing at a rapid rate. And it is there that almost all trashy literature is sold, as reputable libraries refuse to make room for it on their shelves.

A CRUTCH FACTORY

A man who has not lived here very long called me off the other day with a worried look on his face.

"I am worried about these girls," he said. "I am afraid that this fast college life is just naturally sapping the life out of our pretty girls. I have seen so many of them that are not able to walk alone. Why, just a while ago I saw a girl that looked healthy having to hang on to a man for support. I know that it was not because the ground was rough because they were on a cement sidewalk. I feel awful badly because she was pretty and it is a shame that she is crippled."

I hastened to assure him that the girl was only temporarily disabled and that as soon as she reached her room she would probably kick out the light in her glee over the outcome of her walk.

"But," he insisted, "I see lots of girls like that and I know some of them must be crippled. Why, I had thought that I might start a crutch factory here and make a lot of money, for there is certainly a need."

And since he mentioned it I am of the opinion that he was about right. Time was when you helped a girl over the rough places and when it was dark you guided her along the walk, but this stopping over was not at all the thing to do.

Besides, the girls need the training that comes from standing up straight. If they will only be patient, it is dark about eight hours out of 24.

A COLLEGE EDUCATION

A prominent preacher says that it is a wise student who knows when to study and when to stop. Of course he does not mean to make loafing popular. But there are a few students at K. S. A. C. who, although they are obtaining Es and exemptions in their scholastic work, are losing just about half of their college education.

Without doubt the principal reason that young men and young women come to college is to get an education. Of course there are some who come mainly for the good time with just enough scholastic work to get by. But by far the great majority of the students are here to prepare themselves for their work in life.

More study of textbooks and class attendance will not give anyone an education. Textbook information is valuable as a means of obtaining remunerative work after school, but if the job holder is not acquainted with people and life he will not be in the position long. At least half of a college education consists in mingling with people, getting acquainted, and obtaining a thorough knowledge of the social interdependence of human beings.

"Jessie," we remarked to our room mate as she settled herself comfortably in the wicker rocker for an evening with "El Final De Norma," "have you noticed the quaint little Marcelle beauty shoppe in Aggieville?"

"You mean the Marcelle beauty shoppe?" queried Jessie, adjusting the "Stratford on Avon" handpainted cushion beneath her shoulders. "Thought it was about time for the quaint things to strike your 'Athens of Kansas.' These imperfect sub-junctives make me tired. . . Aren't they the limit?"

"If you are alluding to the shoppes, no. They have about them a quaint charm, they create an atmosphere which reminds one of old town criers, ringing their bells and crying lustily, 'Child lost!' in the quiet streets of Salem town, of the Quakers, living in the City of Brotherly Love."

"And hanging their brothers for witchcraft." "They remind one of coffee houses, and big family fireplaces, and pilgrims going to church, and little children going to sleep in Sabbath school and being reprimanded by the stern old men who carried fox's tails fastened to long poles."

"Yes they do! (You know the tone, it means No, they don't.) I used to read in my history about John Alden and Priscilla, and how Priscilla never would go to a quilting bee with John without first getting a facial and a marcel at the Plymouth Towne Beauty Shoppe. Quaint, was it not?"

"But you will admit there are possibilities in—"

"Yes," she groaned. "There are, and I can see what we're coming to. Horrid red shoes, skirts made from the spare room bed blankets, tunic dresses cut from two widths of the parlor curtains, and—SHOPPES!" Seldom is Jessie so moved, so incoherent.

"Calm yourself. It isn't as bad as that. Can't you imagine a quaint little place in Aggieville, called 'Ye Puritan Plumbe Shoppe,' and beyond that, a qu—a cosy eating house, 'Ye Lyttle Redde Henne Foode Shoppe,' and—"

"On Anderson avenue," she shuddered, "a quaint little yellow sampler sign embroidered in red, 'Ye Olde Hotte Dogge Shoppe.'"

"Not necessarily 'olde.'"

"No, nor necessarily 'hotte.' Diablo! By the time I find the Spanish dictionary in this heathen book I've forgotten the word I want. Dos diablo!"

"What?" "Excuse me, that's Spanish for 'Goodness me.' Sarafin said to his friend Alberto, 'Si, senor, pero que vamos—'"

Even room mates can't stand everything, and realizing how she felt on the subject we forbore to mention the obnoxious word 'shoppe' in Jessie's presence again.

On Other Hills

Kansas university has a total enrollment of 3,748 according to the latest reports from the registrar's office.

PI, for 13 years official dog mascot of the University of Kansas, has disappeared.

The College of Emporia has its first game with Southwestern October 10.

The Colorado Aggies observed their annual "Hello day" September 18.

Students at the University of Denver who desire to stargaze must buy tickets—that is if they wish to do it through the telescope of Chamberlain university.

The Cornhuskers this year will meet the leading football teams of both coasts. The University of Illinois team, Big Ten champion, will be met October 4 on the home gridiron. The teams of Colgate university, Notre Dame, and Oregon State will also be played.

Over the Hill

Touchdown II has abandoned his secluded lair in the top of his cage and spends most of his time on the ground speculatively licking his chops or watching with interest his fellow wildcats as they leave the gym for the scrimmage grounds.

You may have noticed that the elements have played havoc with the flag pole. Some wonder who admires that particular angle.

Some architects ascending the hill were overheard planning how it might be to install an Alpine cable car from Aggieville to Anderson.

If you think you are unlucky consider the girl who has botany lecture on the second floor of the new Ag building the first hour on Monday followed by physical education in the gym.

The campus is being surveyed.

College Club Elects

The College club has elected its officers for the coming year. Prof. A. J. Schoth of the extension division is the president; M. E. Lash of the chemistry department is first vice president; G. W. E. Kuerner, also of the chemistry department, is second vice president; and R. F. Morse of the engineering department is secretary and treasurer. No committees have been appointed as yet.

Rice County Students Meet

The students from Rice county had their first meeting of the term Tuesday, September 23, for the purpose of electing officers. The officers elected were Mable Patton, president; Albert Halton, vice president; and Waldo McBurney, secretary-treasurer. Foster Hinshaw was appointed chairman of the social committee, and Dorothy Johnson, chairman of publicity committee.

Miss Grace Dickman of Holton, who has been specializing in English, has transferred to the University of Chicago for graduate work this winter.

Miss Maude Williams, associate professor of home economics and part time supervisor for the home economics schools, inspected the vocational home economics department at Cleburne rural high school Monday of this week.

Theta Sigma Phi held its first meeting Thursday, September 18, at the club room in Kedzie hall. Business of the fraternity was discussed. Miss Edith Abbott, an alumna from Spokane, Wash., was present.

Bernie Tolliver is at his home in Abilene for a short time on business.

Miss Erma Jean Huckstead spent Sunday at her home in Junction City.

Enrollment Increases

Enrolment in clothing and costume design, the freshman courses offered by the department of clothing and textiles, is much larger this year. There are now 85 girls enrolled in these classes. Last fall there were 57. The department had scheduled only two classes in each course but it was necessary to add another clothing class to care for the increase.

The department of foods and nutrition also reports a heavy enrolment in Foods.

Dr. Martha Kramer, of the department of foods and nutrition, will go to St. George today to act as a judge at the community fair to be held there.

CHEM ENGINEERS IN BIG DEMAND

NEW COURSE PROMISES TO BE VERY POPULAR

Prof. H. H. King Says Graduates in Chemical Engineering Have a Great Opportunity

"In my estimation, there is as great an opportunity for graduates in chemical engineering as there is in any course taught on the hill, if not a greater," said Prof. H. H. King in discussing the new chemical course at K. S. A. C. "It will undoubtedly become more popular than any other of the present chemical courses. The fact that 16 freshmen enrolled in it the first year shows that it has a promising future."

Is a New Course

Chemical engineering is a new course at K. S. A. C. and opened for the first time this fall. It is a course that aims to train the student in the principles of both engineering and chemistry. Although it is primarily a chemical course, it is based on four of the physical sciences, namely, chemistry, physics, mathematics, and engineering. Its purpose is to give a training that will enable the graduates in chemical engineering to get a working knowledge of the principles of engineering as applied to the various chemical industries.

According to Professor King, the students who have been graduated here have been handicapped in some instances because they had no knowledge of engineering. "In this course," said Professor King, "we are attempting to remedy this situation. We are going to give a training that will not only fit our graduates for work in a chemical laboratory but also a training that will allow them to carry on research work in chemical fields, and the closely related fields of engineering. At the present time we have no research laboratory, but have asked for the money to equip one. As the freshman courses do not require a research laboratory, we intend to have it in readiness for sophomore work next year. It is our intention at present to put our new equipment in the old dairy hall, as the cement floors in two of the basement rooms are well fitted for the heavy machinery that will be required.

When the new research laboratory is finished, it will be possible for students who wish to carry on research work in various fields such as those of paints, dyes, and pigments, and in several branches of engineering. "One of the fields that present vast opportunities in research," said Doctor King, "is that of the automobile engine. Present automobile engines are only 20 per cent efficient and an improvement of only 5 per cent would mean the saving of thousands of dollars. It is for such work as this that our graduates will be trained. The very reason that chemistry is in some way related to everything that goes on in the world makes the field of chemical engineering a very promising one. I do not believe that any field has a greater future, and anyone that is interested in chemistry, and who has the initiative and ambition to forge ahead, is assured of a bright future. In fact, one of our graduates, Mr. J. H. Young of the class of '14, discovered a new paint for structural steel, and is now employed by the H. H. Robertson company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., at a salary of $15,000 a year."

Dean Van Zile Speaks to Freshmen
A meeting of all freshman girls was held in Recreation Center, Tuesday, September 23, when Mrs. Mary Pierce Van Zile, dean of women, talked to them about their responsibilities in regard to college rules. Mrs. Van Zile urged the girls to come to her office at any time for help or advice. A list of the college rules was given to each girl at the meeting.

There will be another assembly of freshman girls in three weeks, Dean Van Zile announced.

These concerts will constitute the entire list of concerts scheduled for the College Auditorium this winter and will give Manhattan people an opportunity to hear the best things in music at a very low cost. Mail orders should be sent in at once.

Mugglestone Returns

Mr. H. B. Mugglestone, superintendent of the college poultry farm, has returned from England, where he spent the summer. He says that England is several years behind the United States in methods of feeding and housing poultry. The English also practice crossbreeding to a great extent, and therefore their market poultry and eggs lack uniformity. English poultry also lack the gain in vigor which is found in the flocks in this country.

CHEMISTRY GRADS MAKE GOOD

All of Last Year's Men Have Positions

According to Prof. H. H. King, all of last year's graduates in industrial chemistry have positions, and are making good. Although it is not known exactly the kind of work that each is doing, all of them are following some branch of the chemical field. Last year's graduates are: Frank Wooster, Western Electric company, Chicago; B. H. Dutton, Chicago; Manuel Ortiz, Kansas City; I. V. Williams, state grain department, Kansas City; A. L. Rapp, Sewall Paint company, Kansas City, Mo.; L. R. Still, Kansas City. C. O. Frey, a junior last year, and a laboratory assistant in the department, is employed in the government laboratories at Washington, D. C. Ray E. Coe, also of last year's class, is attending school at the University of Wisconsin, and is the only one of last year's graduates that is pursuing graduate work.

FIRST LECTURES IN ENGLISH RADIO COURSE GIVEN FRIDAY

Eight Talks by Professors Davis and Faulkner Will Compose Course

The radio course in English started last Friday when Prof. H. W. Davis broadcast his speech, "What Business English Is." This course will last seven weeks during which Professor Davis will make four talks. Four also will be made by Prof. J. O. Faulkner. The purpose of the course is to define English and to point out the methods used in composing business letters, circulars and advertisements. Specific problems are proposed and solved in a definite way. The course will include also a discussion of the psychology of salesmanship and advertising—the emphasis will be placed upon the necessity of a continuous and keen study of the buyer's mind.

GEORGE NEFF MAKES TALK

Publisher of Daily Drivers Telegram Speaks in Chapel Tuesday

"Tell the truth." These three words were the formula for success in the newspaper business given to K. S. A. C. journalism students by George N. Neff, publisher of the Daily Drivers Telegram of Kansas City, who spoke in chapel and to journalism classes at the college Tuesday morning. Mr. Neff said, "I don't like scandal sheets being published here and there."

"Your duty to the public is to tell all the facts, and nothing but the facts, in the shortest possible space. Don't spread a story out in the belief that you are making a big thing of it. The best story is the one told in the fewest words possible for clearness. Too many papers are 'pointing with pride' to the size of their editions. Instead they should be trying to limit them as much as possible and conserve the time and temper of the reader."

HUSKER CAPTAIN IS VERY YOUNG

LEADS NEBRASKA AGAINST WILDCATS NOVEMBER 22

Is 21 Years of Age—Made an Excellent Record in Track in High School and College

Lincoln, Nebr., September 25.—Edwin Weir, who will lead the Nebraska Cornhuskers against the University of Illinois in the first game of the season at the Memorial Stadium October 4, is one of the youngest captains in the history of University of Nebraska athletics.

Is 21 Years Old

Captain Ed is just 21 years of age. His meteoric athletic career, however, has been one brilliant succession of achievements in high school and university.

When he was 15 years of age, Ed donned the moleskins for the first time. He was a green farmer lad just entering Superior (Nebr.) high school when the call was sounded for football candidates. Ed had watched several games of football but had never participated in the sport. As he had both weight and speed the future Cornhusker captain was among the first reporting for practice.

The coach took a look at Ed and decided that he should try for a backfield position. His ability to outstep his competitors easily won him a place on the squad and before the season, the 15-year-old freshman was a regular halfback on the Superior high school eleven.

When he joined the university squad, Weir was moved to a line position and as a tackle, his play was one of the features of the '23 Nebraska season. He is a bear at smearing plays directed at his station and is an active factor in the Nebraska offense. Weir was mentioned on several all-western sections last season and also ranked as an all-Missouri Valley tackle, a noteworthy achievement for his first year of conference athletics.

Is Also a Track Star

The Cornhusker football captain's activities in high school and university have not been confined entirely to football. He has had time for track and while in his teens headed the Superior high track squad.

In competition with the pick of Nebraska high school athletes, he won the 1922 Nebraska interscholastic pentathlon or individual all around championship. At the 1922 state high school meet he established a new state interscholastic record of 16 1-5 seconds for the 120-yard high hurdles. The record still stands. In addition he holds the interscholastic pentathlon record for the high hurdles broad jump and high jump.

Captain Ed worked on a construction gang during the summer to condition himself for the season's grind. Ed and his brother Joe, also a member of the Nebraska squad, wheeled wet concrete for a paving gang, building a river bottom road. Every wheelbarrow load of concrete that Ed pushed weighed 900 pounds and he recommends it as an excellent muscle-builder. During the seven weeks prior to the opening of football season, Ed estimates he wheeled 160 carloads of concrete.

FRESHMAN SQUAD CUT

Shortage in Suits Made an Elimination Necessary

An Aggie football squad has been cut this week for the first time since C. W. Bachman has been head coach. The cut was made in the freshman squad in order to give all the freshmen a chance to practice.

A varsity squad of about sixty men and a freshman squad of about a hundred were expected out this fall. The varsity was larger than expected and 139 freshmen reported for practice, making the largest squad in the history of the school. As there were not enough suits on hand to outfit everyone, C. W. Corsaut, freshman coach, took some of his men out in order to give the others a tryout.

As soon as new uniforms are obtained the men eliminated will be put back in, as it is the policy of the coaches to give everyone who obeys the training rules a chance to make good.

Gerald R. Dowd, president of the S. S. G. A., returned yesterday from his home in San Francisco, where he spent his summer vacation.

CITY POSTMASTER CONDUCTS CLASS IN POSTAL EDUCATION

Course Proves Costly for Students
Ignorant of Rules

A class in postal education for college students is being conducted by Postmaster George Frank this week. Fifteen or 20 students dropped in during the opening day to have their ignorance eliminated. The fee for instruction is in some cases rather high. One girl paid $4.39 for a five minute interview.

The instruction concerns the clause in the United States Postal laws relating to attempts to send matter of higher class at a lower class rate.

As a result of a letter from the postmaster general's office, laundry bags mailed home by students are being opened. Approximately 30 were opened at the local office Monday and Tuesday, and out of the 30 over 20 were found to contain written or printed matter. Most of them were mailed at Manhattan but a few were coming in and it was the owners of the incoming bags that suffered most severely.

In the case of the $4.39 charge the girl's mother had enclosed a short note written on scrap paper. The few written words converted the parcel from fourth to first class material and increase the rate to two cents per ounce.

The owners of the packages mailed here were more fortunate, as they were able to remove the offending material before it reached the mails proper. Provision for a $100 fine is made in the postal act for such an offense but Postmaster Frank excuses college students on the grounds of ignorance.

Colonel Frank suggests that if they wish to send notes or letters with their laundry it would be wise to enclose the matter in an envelope bearing a two cent stamp, and to tie the envelope on the outside of the package.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

VOL. XXXI

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1924

NO. 7

S. S. G. A. HOLDS FIRST MEETING

ELECTS NEW OFFICERS TO FILL VACANCIES

Genevieve Tracy Is In Charge of Student Directories—Community Chest Discussed

The Students' Self Governing association held its first meeting of the year Thursday night, the meeting being given over to a discussion of plans for the coming year and to the election of several new officers. Among the officers elected were Inga Ross, secretary; Charles Kuykendall, chairman of the pep committee; Bruce Pratt, chairman of the calendar committee; and Fred Shideler and Christian Rugh as representatives on the budget committee which determines the proper apportionment of the funds from the student activity fee. New representatives to S. S. G. A. this year are P. Alquist and E. R. Lord from the junior class, George Montgomery from the Inter-society council, Inga Ross from Women's Panhellenic, and Charles Kuykendall from the K fraternity.

Activity Fee Covers Directory

Miss Genevieve Tracy was elected to be in charge of the printing of the students' directory, the alphabetical arrangement of names for the directory now being in the hands of members of the printing department. A notice will be posted when this arrangement is completed and the students will then be asked to verify the names and addresses. The directories will be given away this year, just as they were last, due to the student activity fee system now in force.

Community Chest Planned

The advisability of a community chest, an innovation in Aggie financial circles, was also discussed, with the idea in mind of eliminating so many financial campaigns which are carried on by outside sources on the hill. Under the system discussed only one campaign would be held each year and the money would then be apportioned to the various organizations by a faculty committee. However, the raising of funds for college purposes would not be restricted by this, as organizations connected directly with the college could carry on a campaign after securing permission from the S. S. G. A.

Action was taken on the chamber of commerce resolution asking that only representatives of the Royal Purple, Collegian and Bown Bull be allowed to solicit advertising down town. This was made a rule last year and it was decided to enforce it again this year.

To Organize Freshmen

Plans are being made to organize the Freshman class as soon as possible and to secure their two representatives to S. S. G. A. A meeting of the class will be announced soon, nomination of officers to take place at this meeting.

TRYOUTS FOR POULTRY TEAM THIS WEEK

Representatives of K. S. A. C. Will Contest at Chicago in December

Tryouts for the team to represent K. S. A. C. at the Fifth Midwest Intercollegiate poultry contest will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings from 4 to 5 o'clock in Ag. 255.

Anyone who has completed a year's work in agriculture is eligible for the team. All men wishing to try out for the team are asked to report to H. H. Steup on the first evening of the trials.

The contest will be held on December 11 at the Coliseum show in Chicago. There will be a team from each of the following states competing in the contest this year: Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Ohio, Oklahoma, and Kansas. Missouri won the contest last year.

Individual medals will be awarded the members of the winning team besides the cup which will go to the school represented by them.

Purcell Heads Sophomores

Hoyt Purcell, of the division of general science, was elected president of the Sophomore class for the first semester at the election held last Friday and Saturday.

Other officers elected were: Vice president, Katherine King; secretary, Janice Barry; treasurer, Harold Saunders; marshal, Harold Weddle. Inez Jones was elected as representative on the S. S. G. A. to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jessie Atkins. The other S. S. G. A. representative, Fred Shideler, was elected last spring.

Bull Run and Bunker Hill, Child's Play Compared with Hat Squabble

The Revolutionary war had its Battle of Bunker Hill, the Civil war its Bull Run and the World war its Chateau-Thierry, but all these faded into pale insignificance when compared to the battle which recently took place within the Ag division. Previous wars have been precipitated over questions of tea parties, slavery and murders of the foulest kind. Now a battle has been waged before our very eyes and the innocent cause of it all is a hat. Not a glossy, high-topped silk hat, but a plain, five-gallon cowpuncher's hat.

All wars deal with history, so we must go back to the time when a meeting was called for all Senior Ags. The meeting had long been looked forward to—the feeling was tense but all was calm, as with the calm before a storm, when the meeting opened.

The bombshell came when some student with a little more nerve than the others, made a motion that the cane be officially adopted as a mark of recognition of the Senior Ags.

"No!" The feeling was unanimous.

At last the subject of hats was introduced and the real issue was at hand. Pandemonium broke loose and the chairman was bombarded with suggestions of hats of all sizes, shapes, and colors. Among all the participants the animal husbandry clan received the most fire on account of their determined stand for their own beloved hat. "A hat which we have worn and loved for 12 years," as one of them pathetically put it.

But when a student in agronomy complimented the warriors on their choice and even intimated that the agronomy students would like to wear such a headgear, hostilities took on their former savagery. The animal husbandry hat was not to be defiled by being worn by Ag Ecs, bee farmers and poultrymen. The animal husbandry hat is a stockman's hat and so to be worn only by stockmen!

As all wars must end sooner or later, so this one did. Possibly fatigue brought it to a close, at least suffice it to say that a committee was appointed to pick out a hat, one which is to be distinctive of the entire division. The animal husbandry students are fearful—but even they must abide by the decision of the committee.

And the question now is, "What hat will the committee decide upon?" Upon that decision rests the future peace of the Ag division.

October 4 Is Date Set for Wildcat Football Roundup

Saturday of this week the first football roundup of the year will be held in the auditorium at two o'clock in honor of the Aggie-Washburn gridiron struggle at Topeka. Preliminaries in the form of music and a pep meeting will take place before the game begins.

Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, has erected an expensive electrically operated mechanical score board that will be used for all the out-of-town games. A direct wire from the foreign playing field will lead to the auditorium and the actual plays of the two teams will be reenacted on the board almost instantly after they take place. There are no plays in football category that cannot be clearly shown on the new board. In a test game conducted recently the new venture worked admirably.

Last year the football roundups with the old score board proved to be as exciting as the real game, if not more so on account of the suspense. This year the fans will be able to see the entire game with all the thrills and excitement thrown in at an eighth of the price of admission to the real game.

The away-from-home games to be played on the new board are: Washburn at Topeka on October 4; Missouri university at Columbia on October 25, and Oklahoma university on November 27 at Norman. The admission price of 25 cents which will be charged is much lower than that charged at most other schools for the same thing. This low price is being made so as to enable everyone in school and a number of interested townspeople to attend.

SIGMA DELTA CHI MEETS

Arrange for Use of Scoreboard at First Pep Meeting Friday Night

Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, held its first meeting of the year Friday at 5 o'clock in the club room in Kedzie hall.

The main discussion was of the newly constructed, mechanically operated, electrical score board that will be used for the football parties this fall. The sale of concession rights for these parties will be in charge of C. W. Claybaugh.

Arrangements are being made to have the board set up in the auditorium for the first pep meeting next Friday night in order that a demonstration may be given.

Officers Announced

At the entomological and zoological seminar last Thursday these officers for the following year were announced: President, Prof. J. W. McCulloch; secretary, Dr. R. C. Smith; treasurer, Prof. H. R. Bryson. Next Thursday, Miss Doll will tell of the Douglas Lake summer session and Doctor Smith will speak on the Rocky Mountain conference of entomologists.

Mac Short, mechanical engineering '22, has resigned his position as navigation engineer for the government and has accepted a teaching fellowship in aeronautical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston.

Hockey Practices Announced

Any junior girls interested in hockey will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 5 o'clock. All senior and sophomore girls interested in hockey will meet on Wednesdays and Fridays at 5 o'clock.

An open hour class in archery will begin on Tuesday, September 30, and will be held every Tuesday and Thursday at the eighth hour. Any girl especially interested in archery may attend this class.

The pianists of the women's physical education classes are Eileen Fields, Frances Allison and Dorothy Stiles.

MEN MAY CHOOSE SPORT

List Includes Football, Swimming, Cross Country, and Boxing

All men enrolled in physical education have been given a choice of several sports in which they may participate this semester. The list includes freshman and varsity football, freshman and varsity swimming, Red Cross life saving, cross country running, boxing, and wrestling. Those with no choice who cannot swim will learn during their regular class period while those of no choice who can swim will work out on the gym floor. Those participating in football and cross country run will go back to their regular class when the seasons are over.

MISS WILDY TO LEAD VESPERS

Will Explain Purpose of Y. W. C. A. on Campus and in Nation

The Vespers to be held in Recreation center Thursday of this week will be highly interesting. Miss Lois Wildy, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. will explain its purpose not only on the campus but throughout the world. This meeting seeks to emphasize the usefulness of the Y. W. C. A. here and wherever it may be found. Miss Elizabeth Bressler will have charge of the meeting.

An opportunity will be given during the meeting to those who wish to sign membership cards. Any girl of this college who is in sympathy with the Y. W. C. A. movement and who will subscribe to its purpose is eligible to membership.

The enrolment of the last few days includes two seniors, Earle C. Smith of Pratt and John A. Johnson of Manhattan; one sophomore, Miss Seble Wolfe of Johnson; one freshman, Frank Parrshall of Manhattan, and one special, Millard Bland of Concordia.

TICKETS ON SALE

Six hundred tickets for the Aggie-Washburn game at Topeka Saturday are now on sale at the athletic office. Admission $1.50, reserved seats $2.00.

Students are asked to present their student activity tickets at the athletic office to exchange for season tickets. Students who wish to reserve seats will be charged 50 cents a game in addition to the activity ticket.

Prices on season tickets outside the student section are $7.50 for the entire season, as contrasted to $10 when bought a game at a time. Reserved seats are 50 cents a game additional.

NEXT FRIDAY TO BE "HELLO DAY"

CONVENTION WILL BE LAID ASIDE FOR OCCASION

Introductions Not Required—Those in Charge Urge Student Cooperation—Everyone to Speak

Friday, October 3, has been selected for the annual "Hello Day" at the college. "Hello Day" is sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. and was originally planned for the purpose of getting Aggie students acquainted before the opening of the football season.

An Annual Event

Last year was the first time that this plan was tried out at K. S. A. C. and it proved to have varying degrees of success. Due perhaps, to the fact that all of the students did not understand the full meaning of the greeting, a great amount of hilarity took place during the day.

K. S. A. C. is noted for being a democratic school and it is the purpose of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. to carry out this idea in some form whereby everyone on the campus may get acquainted with his neighbor. With this in mind, "Hello Day" was planned last year.

To Start Off Pep Meet

It is expected that there will be a pep meeting Friday evening to prepare for the initial football game with Washburn at Topeka Saturday. If everyone comes to the pep meeting Friday evening with the feeling that he has a speaking acquaintance with every student on the campus his enthusiasm will help to defeat Washburn in a decisive manner the following day.

SCOREBOARD BRINGS INTEREST

Reproduces Detailed Account of Each Play Made

Intense interest has been created among the various schools of Kansas by the new electrical score board at K. S. A. C. This board was carefully planned and constructed by Prof. E. T. Keith and C. P. Howenstine of the printing department.

The national salesman for the Grid-Graph score board was here recently, and inspected the new board. He says it is the finest and cleverest piece of workmanship that he has ever seen. This board is a great improvement over the former Grid-Graph, being more elaborate and much easier to watch.

The plays of a game watched from this board are clearer to the observer than if he were on the sidelines. A detailed account of each play can be reproduced and one can follow the play across the board just as easily as across the gridiron.

HOUSEHOLD MANAGEMENT LAB NOW IN PRACTICE HOUSE

Practical Work in Household Duties Offered at Ellen Richards Lodge

The classes in household management are now taking their laboratory work at Ellen Richards Lodge, home economics practice house. This is the first time this has been done.

The primary purpose of the practice house is to provide an opportunity for senior and junior girls in home economics to take the practical work required for the Smith-Hughes certificate. However any girl enrolled in home economics is privileged to live in the practice house six weeks. Three or four girls are taken in each six weeks period and alternate between the duties of cook, hostess, and waitress.

Miss Laura Gifford, professor of household economics, is making her home at the lodge and instructing the girls during their stay there. Miss Helen Northup, Miss Ethel Scott, and Miss Alda Henning are now living there. All of these girls are seniors in home economics.

Professor Green to Broadcast

Prof. R. M. Green, of the department of Agricultural Economics, will talk on "Wheat Price Prospects" as part of the College of the Air program tonight. The program is under the direction of the department of agronomy and will deal with various phases of the wheat industry.

Schmitz Teaches Agriculture

Professor Schmitz, graduate of '22, and famous in athletic channels, has taken charge of the Vocational Agriculture work in the Manhattan high school. The high school is housed for this year in temporary quarters in the Engineering and Agricultural buildings, pending removal to the new high school building, which is undergoing remodeling.

Exchange Tickets Oct. 10 and 11

Exchange tickets for the Artist series will be sold by members of the chamber of commerce and by members of Phi Mu Alpha musical fraternity. These tickets may be exchanged at the Auditorium box office for season reserved tickets, Friday and Saturday, October 10 and 11, ahead of the general ticket sale which opens Monday, October 13 at 8 o'clock.

BIKE RACES A FEATURE

Route Will Be on Stadium Track This Year

Bicycle racing will be a feature of intramural sports this fall, according to Frank Root of the athletic department. It is expected that at least 100 men will enter this event which will be held between halves of the football games on the stadium track. This will enable all spectators to see the entire race. Last year the men were routed over the streets of the town, so that the spectators saw only the start and finish of the contest. This plan was also very unsatisfactory because traffic often interfered with the races.

Plans have not been completed for this sport but it is expected that sprints and relays will be included in the list of events along with the two, three, and five mile contests. These races, together with the Wampus Cat stunt, should make an interesting period between halves.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO TOPEKA FOR AGGIE-WASHBURN GAME

Rock Island Also Offers Rate of Fare and Third to Be Effective Saturday

Arrangements have been made by the Rock Island railway to run a special train to Topeka on October 4—the day of the Aggie-Washburn game. Rates of fare and a third have been granted, making the round trip cost $2.48.

The Rock Island management demanded a guarantee of at least 125 people before they would consider running the special. The executive council of the S. S. G. A., in its regular meeting last Thursday evening assured the railway that its requirements would be met.

The special will leave Manhattan at 12 o'clock Saturday noon. This will allow students to attend all Saturday morning classes, eat lunch at home, and still arrive in Topeka in plenty of time for the game which is scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock. Passengers may either return on the regular train leaving Topeka about 8 o'clock, or wait for the special, which will probably leave about 10 o'clock. Tickets will not be good after midnight, Saturday.

The football squad of 50 or 60 men will be on this train. The band will also accompany the students on the special.

The athletic department has secured 600 tickets from Washburn for the game. General admission will be $1.50, with reserved seats 50 cents additional. Students should buy their tickets here early this week so all Aggies will be seated together.

The Women's Panhellenic council is selling tags in order to finance the Aggie band. It is possible that the whole band of 75 pieces will be able to make the trip.

Discuss Ag Economics Problems

Sources of information on current agricultural economics problems were discussed at the agricultural economics seminar, Thursday, September 25, by Professors Englund, Green and Evans. Various sources were described and the kind of information available from each source was discussed.

ONLY THREE DAYS UNTIL FIRST GAME

WASHBURN FRAY OPPORTUNITY FOR TRYING OUT MATERIAL

Secret Practice Brings Improvement in Work of Squad—New Men Have Edge on Veterans

With three more days left in which to get ready for the Ichabods, the Kansas Aggies are putting in full evenings on the football field. Secret practice is being held in the form of signal drill, passing and kicking.

Sophs Are Fighters

The improvement which has come over the varsity squad in the past week is again sending Aggie stock high in Missouri Valley football. The sophomores, on whom Bachman was depending for a fighting team, have come through much better than it was at first hoped for and are not only looking good in practice but threaten to replace several upper-class regulars.

E. E. Feathers at full is showing up in great form and will be one of the Wildcat standbys when it comes to lugging the ball through the line. John Mildreter at the same position has been getting away some excellent punts and will be one of the letter men regulars. "Curly" Wilson and Russell Hoffman still continue to look good at the half backs.

Doolen and Ehrlich Race

Albert Ehrlich at left end has been showing some real football ability and may make a hot race with Doolen for the regular position. McGee, at right guard, is also showing well in competition with Orris Armantrout and St. Tombaugh.

C. N. Brion, Ada, who was laid out for a time with a cracked rib, is back in football togs again and making a good run for left half. J. E. Smith, Woodward, Okla., who was injured in the same way, will be out for center again shortly and able to play in most of the games. E. L. Stone, Roswell, left guard, will be out of the game for the season with a broken leg, while T. Guthrie, right guard from Saffordville will be on the side lines for a considerable period with a broken bone in the right foot.

Entire Squad to Topeka

All of the varsity squad will make the trip to Topeka Saturday. A strong Aggie team will start the game but the possibilities are that several substitutions will take place in order to find the best working combination.

On last Friday Washburn defeated Kansas City university 19 to 6 on their home gridiron. This gives them the advantage of knowing what their men will do under fire. The Ichabods were showing up good in line plunges and end runs, having made 230 yards in scrimmage to their opponents' 69. Washburn averaged 35 yards on punts and 23 yards for kick-offs.

The Ichabods showed some good football Friday and will make the Wildcats step to come out on the winning side. Brewster, at left half, and Bruce at quarter, made several runs for 20 to 50 yards and should prove to be the main offensive power for Washburn. The game will take place on the Free fair grounds next Saturday at 3 o'clock. A special train is scheduled to carry the Wildcat rooters to the game.

STUDIO LOCATED IN ANDERSON

Northland Studio of Chicago Will Have Charge of Royal Purple Photographs

A new business enterprise for the hill will be established in the room formerly occupied by the Canteen in the basement of Anderson hall as soon as remodeling work is completed. This room is to be used as a studio by Jack Russell, a representative of the Northland Studio of Chicago, which has the contract for the photographs for the Royal Purple this year.

The Northland Studio is experienced in the line of yearbook photography, having taken pictures for such schools as Notre Dame, Michigan and Mississippi universities. Mr. Russell was here recently and it was through the efforts of members of the Royal Purple staff that the room in the basement of Anderson was secured for his use. He will return October 15 to remain about six weeks.

The studio was located in Anderson hall in order to accommodate the students, as they will now be able to have their pictures taken at almost any hour of the day. Members of the Royal Purple staff believe that the convenient location of the studio will greatly simplify the picture taking problem which has been the chief source of worry for those in charge of the Royal Purple in former years.

THE PARKING RULE

What of President Jardine's ruling that no cars shall be parked on the campus without a permit? The only effect that we can see so far is one of depression. The appearance of the campus has been deadened by the absence of the cars parked along the driveway by Kedzie Hall and the Library. The row of automobiles which has heretofore been parked in this section has an added appearance of progress, modernity and life to an otherwise empty spot during class periods. Of course between periods, at noon and in the morning and evening there are students enough to furnish all the life necessary.

But it is while classes are being held that most visitors come to the campus and the effect of the blankness of the grounds is depressing in this modern age. A row of motor cars seems to lend a touch of life and vigor and progress, even while classes are in session. Of course, some of the cars are still present on the grounds but they are so hidden as to be almost negligible in serving this purpose.

The elimination of congestion, one of the reasons for which the no-parking rule was instituted, has been accomplished to some extent. But there was really no urgent need for this as no real congestion has ever occurred.

Another reason advanced for the no-parking rule is that faculty members driving their cars to school could not find a place to park due to the large number of student cars that already filled the available space. We admit that the faculty should be granted more privileges in this respect although it is in opposition to the spirit of democracy that is supposed to be prevalent at K. S. A. C.

Nevertheless the space along the Kedzie hall driveway could be marked off in stalls and utilized for the faculty members. This arrangement would be an improvement over the present system and would also permit the cars to be in plain view of campus visitors. Considerable time is expended by the possessors of parking permits in driving to their particular stall over the narrow driveways provided and then going to their respective buildings for work. The car owners with the most valuable time should be permitted to park on the Kedzie driveway and others relegated to the present parking space.

HE COULDN'T MAKE LAPPA MUPA GOO

He was a handsome fellow, brilliant, likeable; he could make a saxophone wall like a starving kitten; his father grew the biggest potatoes in Mulberry township; his mother was president of the Shakespeare embroidery club; his oldest brother had been mentioned seven times on the Ad-a-line page of the Kansas City Star; his sister Mabel was the first girl in Mulberry to take up cross word puzzles. Yet here he was, enrolled in one of the foremost educational institutions in the middle west, and Lappa Muppa Goo had passed him by.

It didn't seem possible—it was the biggest disappointment of his life—an unexplainable mystery.

No, dear reader, guess again. He always sipped his soup from the leeward instead of the windward side of the spoon.

Woman, gentle woman, the so-called weaker sex, has the ballot, the Democratic nomination for governor in Texas, and she's going to have most everything else by the time she comes into her own. The handwriting has appeared on the wall, so to speak, and those who don't run, may read.

We went into a barber shop Saturday afternoon with Genevieve, who wanted a boyish bob.

Seven girls and three men were waiting, the men in the back of the room, the girls up front, where they could get a good view of the barber's victims.

Like a dumb brute goaded toward the ring for the next act, the first man sullenly climbed into the chair, shut his eyes tight, and said never a word.

A bachelor professor, known far and wide as the most fastidious and diffident man on the hill, squirmed and blushed as his time drew near. Seven pairs of eyes were turned on him speculatively—and he knew it.

"Next!" shouted Joe, the Barber of Aggieville, and the professor, who had been cheated out of his turn four times, strode toward the chair, turned it so that the back would hide him from the interested spectators, and nervously removed his coat.

In the act of detaching his collar, he glanced into the mirror, into the bold and frankly staring eyes of seven coeds—gave one agonized gasp of surrender, clutched his coat and dashed out the door.

The third man was so upset by the unfortunate incident that he retreated by way of the rear door, mumbling foolishly that he was "goin' to Kansas City on this hege $2.50 bargain rate."

Which was reasonable enough—considering.

Jardine and Farrell on Program
President W. M. Jardine and Dean F. D. Farrell returned last week from a week's meeting of the board of administration at the following substations: Garden City, where both were on the program, Tribune, Colby, and Hays.

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

To the Editor:—

During the past year we have heard much cussing and discussing on the beautification of the campus. We have heard also a great deal about "that old Aggie tradition" of not smoking on the campus yet it seems that an herbage of cigarette stubs would add more beauty to the campus than patches of ugly red earth.

If you have not noticed these red spots then you are not connected in any way with the athletic office. Notice the next time that you pass the wildcat cage that the grass is worn off south of the cage at the edge of the campus and also that the bark of the trees has disappeared owing to the fact that the professors seem to like to clasp the branches and to lean against the trees while discussing the possibility of the Aggies carrying off the valley this year. Now we like to see them get their recreation but if they can't smoke at the bottom of the steps where the rest of us smoke, then let's either call out the infantry and have a sidewalk built to this spot on the campus or abolish this talk about beautifying the campus, and "the old Aggie tradition."

STEUP IS HONORED

Ex-Service Men's Class Presents Him a Gold Watch

The ex-service men's class in poultry husbandry presented H. H. Steup with a handsome gold watch and chain in appreciation of the fine work that he has done as an instructor.

These boys have been especially interested in the work during the past year, and will obtain better results from their flocks than any class has in past years. The class will be discontinued about February 1 when 32 men will complete the work. The class which finished last year had 33 members, and the one before that had 19. Many of the present students have purchased, or arranged for, farms of their own and are now having them equipped for poultry or other types of farming, which they will occupy when they have finished their training here. Most of the men will take up poultry, bees, or horticulture as their major projects.

WILDCAT TEAM LOST MOST VETS

OTHER VALLEY SCHOOLS HAVE MORE RETURNING LETTER MEN

Oklahoma Has Fifteen "O" Players
Back—Nebraska Minus Noble—
Ames Has Fourteen Men
Returning

With only nine letter men back, the Kansas Aggie football team has the least experienced letter men in school of any member of the Missouri Valley conference. Of the nine returning Aggie letter men, only three were classed as regulars. The Aggie letter men back in school are Munn, Harter, Doolen, Mildrextor, Wilson, Kiefer, Hutton, Ballard and Butcher.

Nebraska will suffer heavily from graduation by losing its star full-back Noble. Ten letter men are back, however, and most of them held down regular positions last year. The Cornhusker hopes lie in Bloodgood, Rhodes, Locke, Capt. Wier, Robertson, Meyers, Hutchinson, Westpaul, Ogden, and Hubda.

Eleven Back at K. U.

Kansas university will no doubt have several last year's freshmen on its team but 11 letter men will have to be dealt with. The following men are the Jayhawkers' varsity members: Captain Burt, Haley, Smith, Mullens, Fraise, Halpin, Holderman, Sanborn, Cart, Anderson and Hodges.

Oklahoma will enter valley competition this year with the largest squad of letter men in the valley. The Sooners hopes for valley championship with fifteen men are high. Capt. Bristow, Lamb, Carrol, Slough, Hickman, Price, Pennick, White, Griffy, Wallace, Hartford, Paterson, Fleming, Brackman and Shafer are the Sooners veterans.

Missouri Also Strong

Missouri has fourteen letter men back headed by Captain Arthur Bond. His tiger helpers are Adams, Moulder, Faurot, Whiteman, Lewis, Walsh, Smith, Ferguson, Sanford, Palermo, Etter, Richerson and Stafford.

Ames possibilities for valley championship lie in their fourteen letter men: Anderson, J. Behm, Longstreet, Captain Schmidt, Thornberg, Mayer, Palm, Hill, Cottern, Watts, Sanders, Wingert, Nave, and W. Behm.

Capt. Sam Orebough will lead ten other Drake letter men in an effort to take the valley crown this season and the Aggies can look forward to stiff competition when they meet. The Drake letter men who have returned are: Enright, Spears, Carlos, Sparks, Ambelend, Nenry, Stocking, Lingergelter, Sloans and McLuen.

Miss Grover to Canal Zone

Miss Garnet Grover, a former student of K. S. A. C., has accepted a position as instructor of home economics at Balboa Heights, Panama Canal Zone. Miss Grover for the past two years was instructor of home economics in Porto Rico, having some classes in the University of Porto Rico, at Rio Piedras, and some in the public schools of Guanico. She sailed from New Orleans September 27.

Brown Bull Saved From Starving but Remains Coverless

The Brown Bull is frisking about today, switching his tail in honest joy. The Aggie students have answered his hungry bellows and have sent him some copy.

With a few morsels to appease his ravenous appetite, our Bull is feeling happier, but he is still far from fed up on good jokes, cartoons, humorous features, epigrams, etc.

As for a cover to clothe his nakedness—he has none. His head keeper, the editor, long ago decided that the cover for the Saturday Night appearance should be in blue decorated with orange—lots of blue, bright cheerful blue, with a few gay touches of orange to relieve the monotony. Such a combination should not fail to inspire awe and wonder into the hearts of the Bull's admirers.

The K. U. game, October 18, is the date set for his initial appearance this year, and the Brown Bull is most anxious to make a splendid showing before our rivals down the Kaw. With the assistance of students who want to completely floor K. U., the Bull will out-dazzle all previous efforts.

All material must be in by October 1, if the Bull is to come off the press in time for the game.

FEW K. S. A. C. COEDS ARE PHYSICALLY UNFIT

Total Enrolment in Physical Ed.
Classes 621—No Dancing Until November

Physical examinations are over in the Women's Athletic Department and the records show surprisingly few eliminations because of some physical disabilities. This is no doubt due to previous training in the high schools.

The total enrolment is 621 and all the classes are full. At present hockey, tennis, archery and swimming are offered. This year for the first time the dancing classes will not open up until November. Thus more time can be given to outdoor sports.

The regular instructors in the department are Miss Ruth Morris, Miss Myra Wade and Miss Geneva Watson. Miss Laureda Thompson is acting as assistant instructor. She has charge of two hockey classes and the open hour swimming classes on Tuesday and Thursday, 8th hour.

Two Coeds Work Their Way

To help meet college expenses, two girls of K. S. A. C. have started business enterprises of their own where they work, outside of class hours.

Margaret Hunsicker, formerly of Osage City, who lives with her parents at 427 N. Sixteenth street, has opened a dressmaking shop in her home, and plans to cater especially to student trade.

A compliment

we greatly appreciate is the fact that a great many college men come here for their clothes. They have definite ideas as to what they want, and they are very discriminating. For that reason their patronage is a compliment.
We do everything we can to deserve it: we study their tastes,

S. S. G. A. COUNCIL TABOOS FLEA HOP

BREAD AND JAM ALSO BARRED—ONLY SMOOTH DANCING TOLERATED

Action Is Result of Numerous Complaints by Faculty and Students of Conditions at Johnnie's

At a special meeting of the executive council of the S. S. G. A. last night, definite action was taken against flighty dancing at all variety or college dances. The flea hop, bread and jam, and all other aerial and acrobatic dances were put on the ban. Only smooth dancing will be tolerated from now on according to the text of a motion passed by the council.

Violators Before Committee
Violators of the new rule laid down by the executive council will be brought to trial before the discipline committee of the S. S. G. A. and will be subject to penalties decreed by that committee.

The action last night is the result of numerous complaints by college authorities and students regarding the type of dancing now in vogue at the variety dances at Harrison's. According to Jerry Dowd, president of the S. S. G. A., the ban was placed in the interest of the continuance of future dancing.

Public Welfare League Objects
The dances at Harrison's this year have resulted in complaints being filed by the Public Welfare League of Manhattan. Since all paid dances in Manhattan are under the supervision of this league it was necessary for the college authorities to take some action. Dances last year were also criticized, but no definite complaint was filed.

Only last week complaints reached the state board of administration at Topeka about dancing in the state institutions. The objections came principally from the State Teachers' College at Emporia, and the state agricultural college, according to press reports. The state board refused to become entangled in the matter and left it entirely up to the student body.

SPECIAL RATES OFFERED TO K. U. AGGIE GAME HERE

Tickets on Sale October 17 and 18—Return Fare Good Until Following Monday

Special reduced rates of fare and one-half for the round trip to the Aggie-K. U. football game in Manhattan, October 18, have been granted by the Western Passenger association at the request of the K. S. A. C. Alumni association.

The fare and one-half for the round trip is effective from points in Kansas from which the regular one way fare to Manhattan is $6.00 or less. The minimum excursion ticket will be $1.00. Tickets will be on sale October 17 and 18. The return limit will be October 20. Kansas City, Mo., is included in the special rates. This special rate is in addition to fare and one-third for the round trip which has been granted from Lawrence to Manhattan for the Aggie-K. U. game. The Alumni association asked for the same fare from all points in Kansas but was able to secure only fare and one-half.

R. L. Foster, secretary of the Alumni association, requests the students to include information concerning the special rates in their correspondence with friends at home. Where persons live outside the $6.00 one way fare limit, it will be possible in many cases to buy a ticket to a division point nearer Manhattan and there take advantage of the excursion fare.

A "PLAINS CLUB" ORGANIZED

Faculty Members Sponsor Party to Study Indian Legends and Stars—Gave Hike Saturday

The first of a series of hikes planned by the Plains Club was held Saturday, September 27. The club hiked to Hackberry Glen.

The "Plains Club" idea was originated by Miss Dorothy Cashen of the botany department and sponsored by Dr. J. E. Ackert, Prof. L. E. Melchers, Dr. R. K. Nabours, Dr. F. C. Gates, and Prof. A. B. Sperry. At present there are about thirty-five actively interested members. The informal organization began last May. A constitution was drawn up and accepted. At present all interested parties will be accepted as members but at the second meeting of the club more definite rules for membership will be drawn and the officers elected.

The club plans to have a meeting at least once a month all through the year. The points of interest in the immediate vicinity of Manhattan will be visited first. Later the hikers go part of the way by railroad or cars and from there hike to certain points to be studied. Indian legends and the stars are two of the many subjects that will be followed up by actual observations.

This kind of club is very popular at colleges and Universities in the western part of the United States.

Eeny Meeny Miney Moe—One More Cut And—Out You Go

Take a long, careful look at the college catalogue and you will find that the old system of allowing ten cuts to each student has been discontinued. This year one cut is a misdemeanor, and may be punished by suspension. Each dean has the power to suspend, or pardon, any student who has any unexcused absences. Grades, too, will be materially affected by this system, as the attendance record of the student will be considered by each instructor as an important factor in the student's record.

Those students who were here last year, or before, will have to be more scrupulous about their excuses or they may suddenly find themselves no longer students of the Kansas State Agricultural college. It also pays to be in good standing with your dean, because with him rests your fate. He will judge your case, and his decision will be influenced by your record in grades and conduct.

Freshmen will find it easier than upperclassmen to accustom themselves to this system as they have known no other and they will do well to watch their records carefully, for a while at least.

FROSH CAPS ON SALE MONDAY

Obtainable at Royal Purple Office in Anderson—Caps Violet with White Buttons

Freshman caps will be placed on sale Monday, October 6, at the Royal Purple office in Anderson hall. The caps this year will be solid purple in color, with the exception of the button which will be white. The price of the caps is $1.10 each. There are a variety of sizes so each frosh will have a perfect fit.

All freshmen are urged to buy their headgear as soon as possible for all freshmen will be required to have the caps before October 11, when the Kansas Teachers battle the Aggies here.

THREE ONE ACT PLAYS TO OPEN DRAMA SEASON

Purple Masque Offers Two Comedies and a War Drama Night of October 24

Three one-act plays will be presented by Purple Masque October 24 under the direction of E. C. McDonald, the new coach of dramatics. The first play, "For All Time," by Rita Wellman, is a French drama with a war time setting. The cast of characters includes Monsieur Robert, played by Perry Thomas; Nanette, Birdie Von Trebra; Diane, Rebecca Thacher; and Madame le Bargy, Helen Vanquist.

"Questioning Fate" is the next play to be given. It is from a series of comedies known as "The Affairs of Anatol," by Arthur Schnitzler. There are three characters in this play; they are Max, which will be played by Lynn Fayman; Anatol, by James Price; and Cora, by Agatha Tyler.

The third, "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler," is a comedy of the thriller type written by W. W. Jacobs and Charles Rock. This has a cast of seven characters, including Hirst, played by Arthur Maxwell; Penfold, Stanley Norse; Malcolm, Herman Higgins; Somers, Kingsley Givin; Beldon, J. E. Conklin; Dr. Leek, Ralph Clark; and George, S. A. Van Voorhis.

Members of the cast in each play were selected from tryouts held last week. The plays are held for the purpose of giving these candidates opportunity to qualify for Purple Masque.

No Holiday Saturday

No holiday for Saturday was announced from the president's office. Those having classes and intending to go to Washburn may obtain excuses from the instructors.

CAMPUS NOTABLES ENDORSE Y. M. C. A.

DECLARE "Y" IS STABILIZING INFLUENCE IN COLLEGE LIFE

"Y. M. C. A. Is Student's Friend and Deserves Support of All," says Coach Bachman

"The Y. M. C. A. is the student's friend and is deserving of the generous support of all those who are interested in student welfare. An association organized to do good and actually fulfills its purpose," Terse, concise, and to the point, is Charlie Bachman's opinion of the Y. M. C. A.

The membership and financial drive of the college Y begins next week. Every man in school will be visited and asked to join the organization. The aim of the Y at K. S. A. C. is twofold. First, to develop all around Christian manhood, and second, to develop loyalty for K. S. A. C. Following are a few statements of well known and popular personages on the campus, who strongly endorse the Y. M. C. A., and what it stands for.

Prexy Urges Support
President W. M. Jardine—"We need the Y. M. C. A. and its stabilizing influence in our college life; but like everything in life that is really worth while, we get out of it only in proportion to that which we put into it. That is why I sincerely urge and hope that the faculty members and students of this institution will give liberally of their financial and moral support to the Y. M. C. A."

Dr. Howard T. Hill, head of the department of public speaking—"Christian living and Aggie loyalty are the aim and the practice of the 'Y' among the student body. The sincerity to promote as well as willingness to preach its purpose commands my respect and personal efforts."

Jerry Dowd, president of the S. S. G. A.—"The Y. M. C. A. is representative of the entire student body. It is ever ready to serve the interests of all. It is our greatest factor in stimulating goodwill and fellowship and is always willing to lend financial and moral support. What belongs to the Y. M. C. A. belongs to K. S. A. C. To support the Y. M. C. A. is to support K. S. A. C."

Willard Commends Y
J. T. Willard, dean of the division of general science—"The Y. M. C. A. is invaluable as a stabilizing agent to those who are in new surroundings for the first time, and a ready channel through which good work may be initiated and carried to fruition."

Hugh Durham, division of agriculture—"The college Y. M. C. A. is true to its slogan of promoting Christian manhood. Its work is done quietly but it counts, and is worthy of the support of every man in K. S. A. C."

John Gartner, editor-in-chief, Collegian—"Although the Y. M. C. A. is sometimes spoken of jokingly, it is the most valuable organization on the hill."

FORUM A NOON SESSION

Hon. Charles Curtis to Speak Thursday—Meetings at Cafeteria

Hon. Charles Curtis, senior senator from Kansas and Republican whip in the United States senate, will address the students' forum meeting in the college cafeteria next Thursday, October 9, during the noon hour.

These noon-day meetings were initiated last week, and proved very popular for the amount of publicity given. They were formerly held in the evening in the Home Ec building, but it was thought that by having them during the noon hour, more students could attend.

The first twenty minutes of the forty minutes allowed for the meeting is taken up in fellowship and the meal. The last period is devoted to speakers, who will discuss from an impartial viewpoint questions of a political, economic, or religious nature. Dr. Edmund J. Kulp, pastor of the First Methodist church of Topeka, was the speaker at yesterday's meeting.

A good plate lunch is served, which costs those attending the forum only twenty-five cents. The plates are served at 12:10, and the speaking and discussions are over at 12:50. The meetings are sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A.

Poultry Department Busy

The members of the poultry department are busy of late judging poultry shows at county fairs.

FOOTBALL GAMES INSURED

Policies Provide for $2,500 Payment in Case of Rain

Rain insurance policies totalling $12,500 on the five home football games have been taken out by the athletic department, according to M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics. Because the school has the best home schedule in its history the loss on account of rain would be especially heavy this year.

Each game is insured for $2,500. The full amount of the policy is to be paid if as much as a tenth of an inch of rain falls within six hours of the game.

Prof. H. B. Walker of the agricultural engineering department left Monday for Cherokee county where he had been called to consultation in regard to a federal aid road project involving a proposed drainage district. Professor Walker returned recently from Marion where he consulted with the city authorities about the drainage of an abandoned river bed of the Cottonwood river.

BUILD PERMANENT PRESS BOX

Forty to Fifty Newspaper Men Will Be Housed in Structure

For the first time in the history of Aggie football there will be a permanent press box in Memorial Stadium. It has been announced by the stadium corporation.

There will be room in the press box for from forty to fifty newspaper reporters. In addition three telegraph operators will be stationed in the box. It is also planned to have space for a radio operator.

The box will be on the top of the west wing of the stadium. It will be of the movable type so it can be opened at the top and sides in good weather and removed at the end of the season. It will be painted gray and conform with the general lines of the stadium.

Estimated cost is $300.

AGGIES WILL RACE KANSAS U. OCT. 18

NO CROSS COUNTRY LETTER MEN ON SQUAD

Competition Is Strong Among the Varsity Runners for the Seven Places on the Squad

With a meet with K. U. October 18 the Aggie cross country team is working to the limit this week. With only two or three of the men reasonably sure of places on the team, the others are putting up stiff competition for the remaining places. Seven men will be used in each meet. R. P. Aikman, junior; Mike Johnson, senior; Ralph Kimpfort, senior; and E. Rutherford, junior, are the only ones of last year's squad who are out. None of them has letters for cross country, but all are showing up well in practice.

Matthias Coaches Team

M. L. Sallee, a sophomore; and E. E. Coleman, senior; are also looking good. H. A. Brockway, who was on the squad last year, will be out next week and should make the team. W. J. Matthias, who was on the cross country team two years, a varsity track man three years, and captain of the track team in 1922, is coaching the team while Coach Bachman is working with the football men.

The cross country men are working this week for endurance and are running from seven to nine miles every night. Other men who are on the squad are:

G. S. Wheeler, R. H. Pyle, W. H. Schindler, K. Knause, J. H. Cox, V. M. Fairchild, R. O'Brien, A. W. Stillwell, M. R. Buck, J. K. Watt, Von Riesen, and Lawrence Youngman.

Frosh Hard at Work

About 50 freshmen are working with the varsity squad. They are Paul Gartner, A. A. Halton, Lester Holmes, R. F. Morris, Leslie Moody, F. K. Pierce, Keith Parker, Elmer Porter, Jesse M. Ross, O. Schmidt, L. R. St. John, H. E. Staner, Chester Smith, Paul Taylor, Harold Thomson, Louis Horse, O. Barton, John Tyson, Philo Leonard, E. O. Dannevik, C. Alexander, Henry Allard, R. E. Ainsworth, W. Amos, V. Anderson, L. L. Davis, Vail Butterfield, Paul Cole, John Dame, R. Dieunington, V. Faulconer, M. M. Flock, L. L. Fankhauser, H. L. Lobenstein, F. G. Rose, A. W. Stillwell, H. M. Anderson, L. W. Dunlap, A. F. Alman, G. D. Staybaugh, W. J. McWilliams, D. D. Wilson, C. Slocombe, D. Stewart, Paul Axtell, M. C. Barkley, A. Bauerfind, C. Butler, and A. S. Meseke.

Don't Pine If You Can't Go to Topeka See the Game Here

Maybe you think it's tough that you can't get away or the two-bits in your pocket isn't enough to take you to Topeka Saturday for the final Kansas Aggie football game. It is tough, to be sure! But there will be a good many in the same boat and each one is planning to do the next best thing. That is to attend the football party to be given at the college auditorium at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon via a mechanically operated electrical scoreboard.

The new scoreboard which makes its first formal appearance at the pep meeting Friday night is going to tell you who, what, when, where, why and how on every play. At the pep meeting, it will demonstrate the manner in which Munn and Doolen nail the passes, how Mildreter can tear thru the line. Then on Saturday afternoon it will show the football luggers, twirlers and the others doing the real stuff, against the Ichabods.

A band, several cheer leaders, and other essentials of the game will be at the auditorium so that the roundup will not be lacking in color. For those who are not so well acquainted with the individual players, the plays will be much clearer from the board than from the sidelines. The detailed account of each game can be easily followed: first, a bulb lights behind the name of the person, who receives the ball. Then if the play is a punt, the miniature football on the canvas gridiron will start down the field to stop in the exact location that the oval stopped on the Ichabods' field. The play may be an aerial attack and in that case, the board will show who received it, the gain, whether it was intercepted or failed. In like manner the end runs, off tackle plays, field goals, touchdowns, etc., will be revealed almost simultaneously as they occur. The yards to go will be chalked up along with the score, downs, and quarter.

The two-bits that wasn't enough to take you to Topeka will provide admission to the game at the college auditorium.

Each Sunday evening as a sermon prelude, Dr. Slade gives a hint to students who study. Subjects taken up so far are "The Prof's First Estimate," "Making a Hit with the Prof," and "A Legitimate Bluff." Next Sunday he will speak on "John Doe—His Own Book."

Horticulture Club Elects

The Horticulture Club of K. S. A. C. held its first meeting of the year, September 23, electing the following officers for the coming year: president, H. L. Lobenstein; vice-president, Harold Broderick; secretary-treasurer, Fred Eshbaugh and chairman of the program committee, George A. Flinger.

TO PARADE FOR WASHBURN GAME

BANDS AND ROOTERS WILL MARCH IN TOPEKA

Both Schools Have Won Nine Games in All Time Record

Football teams from two schools, bands from three, a special train load of rooters from the Kansas Aggies and the majority of the Topeka townspeople will be on the free fair grounds of the capital city tomorrow at 3 o'clock for the annual Ichabod-Wildcat gridiron battle.

Plans are being made for a large parade in Topeka before the game for which the three bands will furnish music. Various plans are also being made for the entertainment of the spectators between halves. The Aggie Wampus Cats, with new costumes and a new supply of stunts, probably will appear for the first time this year.

Washburn Experienced

Although Washburn will have but 14 players eligible they have the experience of one game back of them. While Kansas City university is rated low in football circles, their game with Washburn last Friday gave the Ichabod coaches a line on their new material and on the best working combinations of their players. The Topeka team has several exceptional men wearing the blue and their line is said to be stronger than for several years.

The Aggie backfield was strengthened recently by the return of Archie Butcher, Solomon, two letter full-back, who scored all of the 26 Aggie points against Washburn last year. Butcher has played football for three years but has been handicapped each fall by injuries received early in the season. Although "Butch" may not play in the Washburn game, he should be one of the best Aggie bets for a regular berth at the fullback position for the rest of the year.

To Send 60 Men

Signal practice, punting and tackling have been the main entries in the Wildcat program for the past week. The team is whipping into a fair semblance of last year's veteran varsity although it will take a real game to bring out their actual strength in competition. The Aggies will take 60 men to the game. The Ichabods have prepared for the biggest game of their season and will show the Wildcats some good football.

Washburn and Aggies Even

In the record for all time, Washburn and K. S. A. C. stand even. Each school has won nine games of the twenty played, two having resulted in a tie. Washburn has not defeated the Aggies since 1914, most of their victories being prior to 1908, when the Aggies won the annual battle for the first time.

THE "FLEA HOP"

The S. S. G. A. seems to have acted a little hastily in absolutely banning the "flea hop" and the "bread and jam" dances. Instead of legislating directly against the new steps, and thus arousing the ire of those in favor of them, the policy of waiting a few days until public sentiment could be accurately determined should have been followed.

The "big time" Saturday night caused a considerable amount of unfavorable comment to come into Dean Van Zile's office. However, there are also quite a few students who favor the new dances and who will probably violently disapprove of the ruling.

The main objection voiced by those opposed to "flea hopping" is that the step is boisterous, kiddish and is not dignified enough for college students. The dance is not immoral in any way and was not banned for any such reason.

It seems to us that the "flea hop" and the "bread and jam" dances have been indulged in because of the overflow of exuberance and pep of the students and because of the inherent desire for change. The dance last Saturday was unsupervised as the contract between the management of the hall and the S. S. G. A. was not signed until late this week. With proper supervision, as dictated by the organization, the dances will become just as desirable as they ever were after the first outburst is over. If the college students desire the new steps to be included in the list of favored ones they have only to express themselves in sufficiently large numbers to the S. S. G. A. and something will be done.

The inherent good sense and a normal idea of the fitness of things that is present in the average college student is enough to keep things on the plane they should be kept on. The college has no objection to the dancing from a moral standpoint and if the students feel that kiddish acting on the dance floor is quite appropriate it should be indulged in.

ARE YOU TOO LATE?

"Home Team Opens Up Too Late"
—Headline in a college paper.

I am not thinking of football as the headline would indicate. I did not see that game though I have seen many others where that title would fit in well. It reminds me that many of us in college wait until it is too late to open up.

Freshmen play around getting acquainted, sophomores enjoy the dignity of their position, juniors strive hard to hold on to their social prestige and seniors are busy trying to get credits enough for a degree. Some of us wake up in the last few weeks to realize that it is too late to open up and get anywhere.

And the sad part of it all is that many people never open up. I rather imagine that one of the bitterest pills that life has to offer is to wake up to the fact in old age that you have never opened up and that it is too late to start anything. Better open up now, Buddy.

(Copyright 1924 Collegiate Feature Syndicate.) By Burdette Graham.

It started when we were asked to write the column.

Think of it, Us. Only a sophomore and asked to write the column. What would the home folks think when we sent home a marked copy?—Honor. Distinction. FAME. And us only a sophomore.

Not that we hadn't furnished material for the column before. In fact, no less than two have been written about our stories. About our calling on the "loyal Aggies" to "champion the cause of democracy," by coming to the mixer.

But on with the column. 'Twas growing late. Four o'clock the dead line. The clock read one, and us with a three hour lab. So we told our printing lab teacher that we had been asked to write the column, and waited for him to excuse us from class.

You can write your column, quoth he, at 4 o'clock, the regular time of dismissal of the class.

Curses. We always had a grudge against printers.

Black thoughts. Then, in the middle of the class, a sudden ray of light. The proof sheet is passed around. Joy. We have an "E." The only "E" in the class. Our first "E." Probably our last—(hush).

We always did like printing teachers. Ours especially. So popular with the students. (Don't you think he looks handsome in his new hat?)

So we proceeded joyfully to blacking our fingers with type, visions of another "E" making the future rosy.

The column?

Who said column?

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

To the Editor:—

Rotten! And that's the only word that will express it. What's the matter, gang? Have you lost your pep? "Hipooray band, whee," like a bunch of birds twittering in the trees. That was the response the new cheer leader got when he tried you out last Tuesday morning in chapel. When you got that spasm out you flopped back in your seats with a sigh of relief. "Sure glad you don't have to stand up any more."

With the first game only a day or two off, it's about time things began to move. Wake up. Those fellows out on the field can't do it all. We've got to get behind them with some punch.

Come on Aggies, let's GO!—R. B.

On Other Hills

Eight letter men turned out to the first meeting of the wrestling squad at the University of Kansas. Thirty men are signed up for varsity practice.

Night school at Washburn college will open October 6. Classes in 24 courses will be held every night during the year and full college credit will be given. Last year there were 249 students enrolled in night school.

In a 15 minute scrimmage with the freshman squad of K. U. the varsity scored a field goal from the 25 yard line during the last few minutes of play.

OVER THE HILL

Attention of the students should be called to the rule in the handbook which says that students should go to the post office at least once a day.

These are dog days for the local bugs. All the zoology classes are having field trips.

Orange ice cream and white pastry cakes were served.

The Pines' Serenaders furnished music for dancing. Guests were faculty members and their wives. About 250 were present.

The Faculty club will give a dance next Thursday, October 9, in Recreation Center. Notices of the dance have been sent out, and any faculty member who is interested, is invited to be present. Mrs. H. W. Davis is chairman of the Faculty club, and

H. H. Steup and Miss Izil Polson are members of the club committee.

Kappa Phi Alpha announces the pledging of Donald Meek, Idana.

AGGIE DRAMA COACH MADE MEMBER OF PURPLE MASQUE

New Instructor Is Graduate of Illinois University

Earl McDonald, who was made an honorary member of Purple Masque, dramatic fraternity, last week is the new instructor and director of dramatics in the public speaking department.

Mr. McDonald came here from his home in Chicago last summer and conducted some dramatic production classes in the summer session. This year he will coach the Purple Masque productions in connection with his teaching in the department.

Mr. McDonald is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and received his Master's degree from the department of public speaking of that school. During his last year there he was a member of the college faculty.

CROWD HEARS BAND CONCERT

Sunday Numbers to Be Continued as Long as Weather Permits

Several hundred townspeople and students attended the second campus concert of the K. S. A. C. band Sunday afternoon on the lawn north of the auditorium. Drives within hearing distance were lined with parked cars, while pedestrian music seekers found seats on the lawn.

The concerts will be given every Sunday afternoon so long as weather permits, according to Harold P. Wheeler, director of the band.

Campus concerts are an innovation at the college this fall, and probably will become a regular feature of the college year if attendance justifies their continuance.

The program for Sunday's concert was as follows:

March—Punjab, Payne.
Pilgrims' Chorus from Tannhauser, Wagner.
La Czarine, Ganne.
Serenade, Moszkowski.
Excerpts from "Chimes of Normandy," Planquette.
Extase, Ganne.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATING SQUAD CHOSEN FOR YEAR

Team Will Meet Six or Eight Universities on Pacific Coast Trip

Members of the Aggie men's debating squad for the coming year have been announced following the try-outs Tuesday and Wednesday. Varsity and freshman teams will be chosen from this group as needed.

The tentative debate schedule for this year is the largest in the history of debate at K. S. A. C., including contests with institutions in 12 states. On the final trip to the Pacific coast, which is the longest trip ever taken from this school, from six to eight of the western universities and colleges will be met. It is planned to take a similar trip next year to the Atlantic coast.

Tryouts this year showed unusually promising material and were unusually large. The following men were selected:

Bert Bass, H. H. Brown, C. W. Claybaugh, Eldon V. Dale, R. H. Davis, H. E. Erickson, T. C. Faris, K. W. Given, Frank Z. Glick, R. E. Hedberg, Ralph Lashbrook, C. W. Londerholm, Wm. N. Moreland, F. B. Morrison, Walter Pierce, Paul Pfeutze, Knute Peterson, James V. Price, Paul B. Shivel, Emil Sunley, Z. K. Surmellan, Cecil A. Walt, Forest Whan, and Howard Worley.

DAIRY TEAM WINS NINTH AT NATIONAL EXPOSITION

Michigan Aggies Capture First Place at Milwaukee

The Kansas Aggie dairy judging team placed ninth among 29 teams competing in the sixteenth annual students' contest in dairy judging held in connection with the National dairy exposition at Milwaukee.

First place was won by the Michigan team. The Wisconsin team that placed first in the Waterloo (Iowa) dairy show was second and Nebraska placed third.

The members of the Aggie squad are: Walter J. Daly, Tuscon, Ariz.; Frank W. Hagans, Manhattan; O. L. Norton, La Cygne; and A. R. Sargent, Manhattan.

Milwaukee was the final stop on the extensive trip taken by the team. Besides competing here they judged in the Waterloo dairy show the week before.

Before going to Waterloo they did practice work at Lees Summit, Mo., and at the W. W. Marsh Guernsey farm in Waterloo.

Aggie teams coached by Prof. H. W. Cave have made an enviable record. Last year the team placed second among 29 teams competing at the National exposition held in Syracuse, N. Y. In 1919, 1920, and 1921 his squad also placed first at the National exposition. In 1923 it placed first at the Waterloo show.

ALUMNI SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED

Radio Lectures on Monday Nights Given by Prominent Faculty Members

The radio department of the extension division of K. S. A. C. has given ten minutes each Monday evening for presenting a short program to the alumni and general public. These radio programs will be given from 8 to 8:10 o'clock and will consist of speeches from well known faculty members and summaries of the past week's college news.

Letters were sent to all the alumni asking for suggestions for radio night and from them the following programs have been planned:

September 29—W. E. Grimes, "Holding the Connection with Radio."

October 6—Coach C. W. Bachman, "Training Men for Football."

October 13—Albert Dickens, "Dads' Day."

October 20—Mike Ahearn, "Amateur Athletics."

October 27—J. T. Willard, "Day Before Yesterday."

November 3—Miss Jessie Machir, "Why Blame Colleges for Jazz?"

November 10—A. A. Holtz, "Telling Folks About College."

November 17—H. H. King, "The Celebration of Homecoming."

November 24—R. A. Seaton, "The Engineer of Today."

December 1—H. Umberger, "Where College Graduates Go."

December 8—N. A. Crawford, "The Specialist in Journalism."

December 15—President W. M. Jardine, "Looking Forward to 1925."

December 22—F. D. Farrell, "Training Agricultural Leaders."

December 29—H. W. Davis, "New Year Resolutions."

Davidson Visits Schools

Prof. A. P. Davidson is in Topeka visiting the Seaman high school, in company with L. B. Pollom, state supervisor of vocational agricultural schools. He will meet the directors of the Kansas City livestock exchange during the week end, on the matter of junior project work in communities where vocational agriculture is being taught.

Unless Figures Lie You Just Know She Wears Them—Rolled

Some call it a fad—just done by a few—but statistics, and figures don't lie, show that the majority of the girls really roll them—their own.

The Munsing Underwear Company has sent out questionnaires to colleges all over the United States to find what percentage of the girls roll their hose in the summer and what percentage in the winter. The gathering of the statistics here has been done by the clothing hygiene classes.

One hundred and ten girls between the ages of sixteen and twenty-three were asked to fill out blanks. Of these eighty-one roll their hose in the summer. But in the winter forty-four of them get cold feet, in common parlance and nearly scientific exactness, and only thirty-seven wear them rolled.

When statistics are all in the Munsing Company is planning to design their products according to the composite results from the schools.

AGGIES DEFEAT ICHABODS 23-0

WASHBURN PROVES NO MATCH FOR WILDCAT TEAM

First Touchdown Made Within Six Minutes After Opening Whistle—Hayley Shows Up Well

The Kansas Aggies started the football season right last Saturday when they defeated Washburn university 23 to 0 on the Kansas fair grounds in Topeka. Approximately 5,000 persons saw the game. Among these was a trainload of Aggie rooters, and bands from the two schools.

The Aggie scores came from two touchdowns by Mildrester and one by Hayley, two goal kicks after touchdowns by Cochran, and a drop kick by Cochran.

Hayley Surprise of Game

Chester Hayley, Aggie halfback, was the surprise of the game, when he went in as a substitute for Hoffman. Hayley made several big gains through the line and made one of the touchdowns.

Captain Lyle Munn, right end, Harter, center, and Keefer, tackle, the only veterans on the Aggie squad, were taken out soon after the game started. As the Aggies continued to advance a number of new men were put in. At one time there were 10 sophomores in the game.

Two Penalties Against Aggies

The game was a good one for the Aggies as it showed the green men their faults. Two penalties were made against the team because substitutes talked before the first play after they went in.

The Ichabods were unable to gain ground. Even when they had the ball they gained more for the Aggies than they did for themselves. During the game they made 42 yards in scrimmage and lost 55. Bruce, quarterback, lost several times on fumbles. At one time a pass from center went behind the Washburn goal line but was punted out before the Aggies scored.

The Aggies started scoring within six minutes after play started, when Mildrester made the first touchdown. Cochran missed goal on the kick.

Mildrester and Hayley each made a touchdown during the second and third quarters. Cochran kicked goal both times.

No Scores in Last Quarter

During the last quarter no scores were made. By this time practically the entire Aggie squad was made up of substitutes, who were unable to score, but nevertheless gained consistently in scrimmage.

The results of Saturday's contests indicate that a good game may be expected on Stadium field next Saturday. The Emporia Teachers won their game by a big score, so a fight is expected when they meet the Aggies.

The lineup and summary follow:
Agiess—23 Washburn—0
Ehrlich L. E. S. Hall
Ballard L. T. P. Hall
Reed L. G. Fowler
Harter C. Bohanna
McGee R. G. Fisher
Keefer R. T. Warren
Munn (c) R. E. Templar
Cochran Q. L. Bruce
Hoffman R. H. Brester (c)
Wilson L. H. Davis
Mildrester F. Crawford

Summary: Substitutions—Agiess, Hayley for Hoffman, Brion for Wilson, J. Smith for Harter, Huey for Munn, Hawkinson for Ehrlich, Feathers for Mildrester, R. Smith for Hayley, Hicks for J. Smith, Randall for Feathers, Butcher for Randall, Hamler for Keefer, Tombaugh for McGee, Armantrout for Tombaugh, Russell for Reed, Read for Cochran, Carr for Huey, J. Anderson for Read, Herren for Brion, Dayhoff for Herren; Washburn, Brown for Fisher, Baum for Bohanna, G. Bruce for Baum. First downs—Agiess, 19; Washburn, 0. Yards from scrimmage, Aggies, 340; Washburn, minus 13. Penalties—Agiess, 6 for 80 yards. Washburn, 1 for 15 yards. Punts—Agiess, 6 for 258 yards; Washburn, 7 for 238. Passes complete—Agiess, 4 for 47 yards; Washburn, 1 for 8 yards. Passes incomplete—Agiess, 8.

Officials: John C. Grover, Washington, referee; C. E. McBride, Missouri Valley college umpire; E. S. Liston, Baker, head linesman.

NOTES ON THE GAME

"Chili" Cochran got away to some beautiful kicks. One of his punts rambled away for 60 yards before it was gathered in by the blue's safety. His dropkick from the 35 yard line was the proverbial "peach."

When "Andy" Anderson went in for tackle he ruffled the reigning official's dignity by tapping him on the shoulder. The said official then proceeded to give the Aggies a five yard penalty for the act. Andy taps a mean tap.

Hayley ran wild when he was put in at left half. After twisting his way through the Ichabods for several long gains he made a touchdown and then he started in to do it all over again before he was taken out. Hayley turned out to be one of Bachman's surprise packets.

Practically all of the Aggie men got to play sometime during the game. At one time the team was composed of all Sophomores but one and the way they played football makes brilliant Aggie prospects for next year.

The Wildcats played straight football and did little passing. The passes attempted were not as flashy as last year's but were as effective. The short pass is still going to be one of the Aggies' ground gainers.

No More Dates at Football Games Is S. S. G. A. Ruling

No longer will the teahounds and jellybeans have an opportunity to display to the fair ones their knowledge of the gridiron sport. No longer can fair maidens ask cute questions of their manly escorts. S. S. G. A., cruel ruler of the students, has frowned upon dates at football games.

Amorous couples who were wont to hold hands in the stadium must now be without each other during football games. Discretion bids such couples to heed the rule, for the husky members of K fraternity and the Wampus Cats have been asked to enforce the rule.

COMMUNITY CHEST PLAN RECEIVES FINAL APPROVAL

Will Eliminate All But One Off-Campus Financial Drive—Commission to Be Named Later

Final approval of the Community Chest plan was granted by the S. S. G. A. executive council at its meeting last Thursday evening. The resolution favoring the plan was adopted at a faculty council meeting last spring, and was approved by President W. M. Jardine this fall.

The community chest idea is an innovation at K. S. A. C. It provides for one general financial campaign in the fall to obtain funds for all off-campus activities, such as Near East Relief, Canton Christian College, the Student Friendship Fund, and other benevolent organizations. This will eliminate many drives, tag days, and the like, that have been very obnoxious to students in the past.

The action taken by the Faculty Council last spring was as follows: "A resolution was presented by Dr. A. A. Holtz asking that the faculty council recommend to the S. S. G. A. and the president of the college that a commission be appointed to bring in findings regarding the desirability and possibility of having but one all-campus drive in the fall of each year to raise funds for benevolent causes outside the college and campus, that is, Canton Christian College, Near East Relief, Student Friendship Fund, etc. Should this plan be considered desirable the commission will be instructed to formulate plans for its organization."

The commission has not yet been named, but will probably consist of one representative from the S. S. G. A., one from the Faculty Council, and one appointed by the president.

Professor Green in Stafford County

Prof. R. M. Green of the department of agricultural economics spent several days this week in Stafford county doing some work on a project that the department is directing on four farms near Stafford. The object of the study is to determine the shrinkage and heat damage to wheat which has been harvested by the combined harvester and thresher, and which is stored in farm granaries. The project was begun in the summer of 1923.

There are 4,300,000 illiterates in this county entitled to vote next November.

Intelligence Tests

Freshman Intelligence tests will be given this week, Thursday and Friday afternoons from two to five. Every freshman must take the tests both afternoons. Places of meetings will be announced at assembly and on the bulletin boards.

CAMPAIGN IS ON FOR Y MEMBERS

NORRIS THOMASSEN HAS CHARGE OF DRIVE

Has Long List of Useful Activities to Credit—Endorsed by Many Prominent Aggies

The Y. M. C. A. financial and membership drive started with a rush yesterday morning. The various captains, lieutenants, and teams have been organized and every man in the college will be visited. Norris Thomassen is general chairman of the drive, Wayne Rogler and Ralph Blackledge have charge of fraternities, George Montgomery is in charge of organized clubs, and Paul Pfeutze is in charge of canvassing men that are not connected with organizations.

The drive will last all this week. Last year over 800 members were secured, and it is expected to equal that number this year, and if possible, exceed it. The money obtained from the drive will be spent on activities on the campus. In years past there has been a misunderstanding that a large per cent of the funds obtained went to the national organization.

Y Does Good Work

The "Y" has a long list of activities to its credit. It sent go-to-college teams to 59 high schools in the state last year, put students in touch with over 800 rooms of the standard required by the college, secured 157 part time jobs for students so far this year and over 9,000 hours of work for students last year, issued 1500 "K" books with the aid of the S. S. G. A., conducted religious services in over ten churches by means of its gospel team and furnished music in over 35 services with its double quartet, conducted the father and son banquet and several other activities for boys, and conducts weekly forums for the students.

Extension Teams Visit Students

The "Y" extension teams visited 22,976 students, a little over one-half of all the high school students in Kansas, last year. It also has charge of several social functions on the hill, including the annual watermelon feed, the freshman reception, the Thanksgiving party, and the Christmas party. These are only a few of the accomplishments of the organization. The regard for it is shown by the backing it receives from such men as President W. M. Jardine, Dr. H. T. Hill, Dr. H. H. King, Coach Bachman, Mike Ahearn, Prof. Hugh Durham, Dean R. A. Seaton, Dean J. T. Willard, and Jerry Dowd.

Following are the governing board and cabinet of the organization this year: Y. M. C. A. board—Dr. H. H. King, Dean R. A. Seaton, Dr. Howard T. Hill, Prof. Ira Pratt, Dr. J. H. Burt, Prof. Hugh Durham, Rev. J. David Arnold, Jerry Wilson, Wayne Rogler, George Montgomery, Alvin Ritts, B. C. Harter, and M. R. Buck. Cabinet—Ralph Ewing, president; Paul Pfeutze, corresponding secretary; Eric Tebow, chairman new student committee; Norris Thomassen; chairman go-to-college committee; James Price, chairman boys' work; C. L. Harder, chairman gospel team; Fred Shideier, publicity manager; Christian Rugh, S. S. G. A. representative; Clyde Randells, Paul Axtehl, H. H. Brown, John Moyer, and Lyle Read.

Dr. A. A. Holtz is general secretary of the "Y."

BIKE RACES OCTOBER 18

Contestants Run on Three Mile Track—Watch Charm to Winner

The first intramural contest this year will be a three mile bicycle race on the Stadium track between halves of the K. U. - Aggie game, October 18. Entries will be taken on the field just before the race. This event will score points toward the season trophies, both individual and organization. The winner of this "bike" race will receive a gold watch charm.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS HERE

Gray Silver and Huston Thompson to Spend October 10 at College

Gray Silver, president of the new Grain Marketing Company, the farmers' cooperative marketing company recently organized, and Huston Thompson, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission of Washington, D. C., will be in Manhattan, October 10. The forenoon will be spent in conference with the State Farm Bureau Board and the remainder of the day will be spent at the college. Mr. Silver and Mr. Thompson will speak at two o'clock in the livestock pavilion in connection with the meeting of the Tri-County Livestock Association.

Mr. Silver was formerly the Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation and previous to that, was United States representative from West Virginia.

ARCHITECTS' EXHIBIT TAKES FIRST HONORS AT FREE FAIR

Exhibit Now on Display in Architectural Department of Engineering Building

The exhibit sent to the Kansas State fair at Topeka by the students of the architectural department won the blue-ribbon prize. This exhibit included water-colors, free-hand drawings, and architectural drawings. The work was done by students of the department including the freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors.

The exhibit has been returned and is now on display in the architectural department on the third floor of the engineering building.

COURSE IN PROFESSIONAL MUSIC HAS LARGE ENROLLMENT

Students Take Examinations in Theory, Piano and Voice

A large number of students have entered the professional courses offered this year. Entrance examinations in theory, piano and voice were given all applicants. Those who could not meet the entrance requirements will be held in preparatory classes for one semester in the year.

All students in the four year piano course are required to take one hour of class work in sight reading at the piano. In addition to skill in reading a spirit of ensemble is gained and in the more advanced classes, this is particularly emphasized. As soon as capable, these classes read the symphonies of Haydn, Mozart, Schubert, and Beethoven.

Classes will meet alternate weeks for the experience of frequently playing to small groups before the students are ready for public recital appearance. The beginning classes will also make a special study of music terminology and various phases of piano study. The advanced classes will continue a study of the development of piano literature, begun last year.

SWIMMING IS POPULAR HERE

EIGHTY-FIVE MEN ENROLLED IN RED CROSS CLASS

Students Will Be Admitted to Red Cross Life Saving Corps at Successful Completion of Course

Red Cross swimming, a new course in the physical education department, is proving more popular with the college men than had been expected according to E. A. Knott, director. At present there are eighty-five men enrolled, most of them freshmen and sophomores who have substituted the course for physical education. In order to enter the course the student must be able to swim a hundred feet both with the crawl and back strokes, and also must be able to dive creditably from the diving board.

Exams Will Be Given

The purpose of the course is to instruct the student in the principles of life saving and all-around swimming. At the close of the course examinations will be given for entrance into the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps. The examination includes various tests in diving, swimming and methods of respiration. A grade of eighty-five is necessary for passing the course.

Gangwer and Wheeler in Charge

A. B. Gangwer and H. P. Wheeler members of the American Red Cross are in charge of the classes in the college. The following students are members of the class:

A. E. Churchill, L. A. March, R. G. Stapp, K. Bloomberg, E. L. Brody, E. L. Dale, J. V. Eastwood, R. Ewalt, C. K. Kiene, C. McIntire, H. V. Rathluen, F. M. Shideier, J. Spurlock, Jay Wells, C. A. ## STAFF FOR ROYAL PURPLE APPOINTED LAST WEEK

Working Force Now Complete with Exception of Snapshot Editor—Harter Editor-in-Chief

Organization of the 1925 Royal Purple staff has been completed at a much earlier date than has been customary in the past. Launching of the Royal Purple at this period indicates plans which should produce an annual of unusual merit.

Members of the staff are:

Editor-in-chief, B. C. Harter; Business Manager, G. A. Read; Treasurer, Florence Barnhisel; Assistant editor, John Gartner; Military editor, Byron Short; Association editors, John Hale and Evelyn Colburn; Advertising manager, Wayne Rogler; Sport editor, Emil VonRosen; Feature editors, Kenneth Chappell and Alice Paddleford; Art editor, N. L. Roberts; Women's athletics, Laureda Thompson.

Members of the staff were chosen because of their special qualifications, each having had previous experience in work of this nature. They are all members of the senior class, with the exception of Wayne Rogler, a junior. They are representative of practically every division on the hill.

No appointment of snapshot editor has been made. Any students qualified for this position are asked to make immediate application to the staff heads.

FINANCE COMMITTEE TO HAVE CHARGE OF VESPERS PROGRAM

Will Dramatize Budget for Coming Year Next Thursday

The budget for the coming year of the Y. W. C. A. will be dramatized at Vespers Thursday afternoon. Hilmarie Freeman, who is chairman, and her committee of finance will have charge of the meeting. Special music will be furnished by the octette which is being directed by Miss Grace Hesse. The finance captains who will take part in the dramatization are: June West, Wilma Jarvis, Lucille Herr, Lelia Colwell, Elizabeth Perry, Mary Chilcott, Elizabeth Quail, Irene Miller, Acas Hart, Frances Robinson, Helen Davis, Hyattia Wilcox, Alice Beeler, Elsie Jarvis, Marion Henderson, Pauline Van Osdel, Lillian Kammeyer, Em. Moore, Claribel Grover, Clarella Odell, Alice Abbott, Margaret Avery, and Charlotte Swanson.

S. S. G. A. PLANS PEP MEET

Will Cooperate with W. A. A. and Wampus Cats at Meeting

Plans for a pep meeting for every Aggie game were discussed in S. S. G. A. meeting Thursday night. A permanent committee composed of Charles Kuykendall, chairman of the S. S. G. A. pep committee, and representatives from the Women's Athletic Association and the Wampus Cats, is to be in charge of all pep meetings.

Another step forward in the maintenance of Aggie pep was the passage of a motion favoring "dateless" football games. S. S. G. A. has asked the K fraternity and the Wampus Cats to enforce this rule at all football games.

FACULTY BOOSTS ARTISTS SERIES

HEADS OF DIVISIONS URGE STUDENTS TO ATTEND CONCERTS

Phi Mu Alpha to Have Charge of Ticket Sales—Entire Campus Will Be Canvassed

The Artists Series this year is primarily for the students of K. S. A. C. These concerts have become a real institution on the Aggie Campus, and the numbers have been chosen with great care and consideration for the enjoyment of the individual student.

Music Fraternity to Sell Tickets

Phi Mu Alpha, men's honorary music fraternity, has taken over the ticket sales, working in cooperation with Prof. Ira Pratt of the music department. The entire campus is to be canvassed shortly by members of this organization.

Here is what the president of the college and the deans of the various divisions think about the Artists Series. If men and women of their maturity and sound judgment think highly of such an activity, surely there must be something worth while in it for the average student.

Prexy Praises Concerts

"The Artists Series was inaugurated at this institution for the benefit of those of our city and college who like and appreciate good music and entertainment. To continue the enjoyment and pleasure to be derived from these entertainments, however, it is necessary that we support them in a way that will guarantee their success financially. I wish, therefore, to urge and ask that the people attend these concerts and thereby insure to themselves, to the city of Manhattan, and to the college, the reappearance from year to year of the best musical talent in the country."—W. M. Jardine.

"I am very strongly inclined to the belief that a college student during his college career, receives as great a benefit from extra curricula activities and contacts as from his regular college work, if not a greater. The student that makes no effort to get anything out of college other than the material he may be able to absorb from textbooks, is bound to have a very narrow education. I know of nothing that will assist in broadening and developing one's education as attendance at the College Artists series of entertainments."—R. R. Dykstra.

"Music ministers to the purest passion of the soul, or arouses the fiercest and basest. The cultivation of taste for the best and distaste for the bad is an important part of the education of everyone. The Artists Series is a powerful educational agency in developing appreciation of good music, and should have the effective support of all who favor living life at its best."—J. T. Willard.

"The Artists Series is one of the broadening influences of college life which should be taken advantage of by every student. The opportunity to see and hear the great artists is worth many times the price of a season ticket to any one who is interested in securing a well balanced development."—R. A. Seaton.

"That there is a question as to the value of the Artists Series is a surprise to me. It is an opportunity to enjoy the work of real artists and one that I very much appreciate."—Mary Pierce Van Zile, Dean of Women.

"Every student who wishes to get the full benefit of his college course should patronize the Artists Series. By doing so, he can get a kind of pleasure and a kind of education which he seldom or never gets in regular class work. Few, if any, students will need to neglect class work to attend the Artists Concerts, and any who really must neglect a little class work for this purpose can well afford to."—F. D. Farrell.

"The Artists Series brings to the student an opportunity for enjoyment and appreciation of the better productions in music and drama that should not be overlooked. I heartily endorse the provision for the series in the college calendar. No student should miss the opportunity offered."—Margaret M. Justin.

Do You Know?

That if all the seats in the Stadium were placed end to end they would reach around the campus 6 1/4 times?

That it would take 4,300 five-passenger automobiles loaded to capacity to fill all the seats in the Stadium?

That 16,000,000 pounds of concrete are contained in the seating decks of the Stadium?

JOKE—BUT HELP

There are two organizations on the hill that are often made the butt of a variety of jokes but which are all the more deserving because of this fact. If these groups, the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A., can accomplish their valuable work in the face of this ridicule they should be given a place in the Aggie sun.

Upperclassmen, who have become all-wise because they have spent a few years at the institution, wink knowingly and speak jestingly of the Ys. But the great majority of the freshmen, who can still appreciate valuable service when rendered, are heartily in favor of the religious organizations. The K book, 1,500 of which are annually distributed to students, is the joint product of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. This booklet has proved a valuable aid to many a bewildered freshman. The "Go-to-college" teams sent out annually to Kansas communities by the Ys are responsible for many students choosing K. S. A. C. in preference to another school. Employment and rooming house lists are kept in the group offices and by means of this service many students find it possible to support themselves, either wholly or in part. "Big Sisters" and "Big Brothers" take care of the freshman students who are strangers, help them to register, find rooms, become acquainted, in short, make them feel at home. This and other work of the two organizations is just as valuable to the college as are the classes.

You have probably benefited from some of the activities of these groups, so when the Ys begin their finance drives this week in order to obtain money to carry on their work, help as best you are able.

IT'S WORTH WHILE

"Hello" day last Friday was about as successful as it always is. During the first two or three hours of the morning a few strangers greeted each other and several students, already friends, emitted supposedly funny, boisterous "hellos" at each other.

Although K. S. A. C. is one of the most democratic schools in existence, there is still a little backwardness and retirement among students in professing familiarity with strangers. It is human nature to be thus and human nature cannot be changed in a day.

However, we do not wish to decry "Hello" day. Far from it. Even though the day was not an unqualified success it is worth while and should be continued. Absolute success in such a matter is almost impossible but even a very partial success is a valuable aid to democracy. Even if two persons out of a hundred become acquainted on "Hello" day—which is very few compared to the number who actually become acquaintances—the day would be extremely worth while.

WANTED: ONE wide-a-woke, ambitious student as K. S. A. C. manager representing a strictly high grade sales company. You will be given personal training for position. Some one here will get a position that will more than pay ALL his expenses while in college. Must be sincere Christian. References required. Experience not essential. Write NOW.

"Hello" day was glorious, wasn't it?

Which goes to show that if we try to put anything over we can.

However we must make apologies on the grounds that we forgot it was "hello day" until we noticed that some wit had tampered with a sign posted in Kedzie hall. Making it read: This is Aggie HELL DAY—Greet all you meet and help make it a Success.

"Twas then we remembered that we hadn't done our duty as a Loyal Aggie.

Even at that it might not be so bad. An "O-hell day." We believe we might do greater justice on such an occasion than we did Saturday—or was it Friday?

It may be our inherent admiration of bold bad words, or it might be that we want to see a day celebrated that won't become an Aggie tradition.

Perhaps instead of limiting the day to one profane exclamation we might suggest a "Say What You Please" day.

To quote from one of our prominent compatriots: "I believe it would be beneficial to have a 'Say what you please day.' Several leading professors would resign, student pastors would fly to preserve their sanctity, and Jack Haken would be unutterably shocked. The atmosphere would be cleared up generally and everyone would have a good time."

So let's be thinking it over, Aggies.

What is it we say? Get behind it Aggies and everybody push for a "Say What You Please Day."

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

To the Editor:

Around the corners of Aggieville death and destruction lurk! No, it isn't quite that bad, but one really needs an accident policy when crossing the street. It is like a nightmare. You find yourself in the middle of the street car track with an arm load of books. The car clangs and you leap to the right, but alas! a fillyer is fast bearing down upon you. Panic stricken you dodge across in front of the street car only to land in the path of a racing Cadillac. You are frozen. Those feet just won't move. The Cadillac swerves around you and a voice trails off into the distance. "Get off the street, what-in-ell do you think this is you ————" With one last surge of strength you leap to the side walk and totter weakly down the street. You've made it again.

And so it goes day after day. Collisions and accidents all the time. Aggie students, can't we stop some of it? Of course you are in a hurry. College students are always short of time and money, but that is no excuse for making Anderson avenue a speedway and every crossing a "valley of peril." Be careful. You may have to walk some day yourself.—O. B. D.

The Band Concert

In these days of cheap language, when nearly every critic is profligate in his use of the extravagant adjective, one almost hesitates to give full credit where credit is due, for fear of being classed with the shallow, the indiscriminating, whose only language is the superlative. On the other hand one hesitates almost as much at modesty of statement, for fear that undecorated opinion may be altogether misinterpreted as damning with faint praise. Surely a Charybdis and Scylla of criticism that require the nicest sailing.

Sincere appreciation, therefore, and not a desire to be a college booster, prompts one to say that the present band is the best band in the history of this institution. The usual booster discount is not to be deducted in this case; and if proof for the statement be necessary, it is easy to bring forth.

College has been in session a little more than three weeks, and already the band has given three surprisingly creditable concerts—concerts, by the way, not of the spread-eagle variety, the "Stars and Stripes Forever" and "El Capitan" found in the band repertoire of every crossroad town; but concerts from the best of band literature, and including a range from "La Czarine" and selections from "The Chimes of Normandy" to the "Soldiers' Chorus" from "Tannhauser."

Too much can never be said of Mr. Wheeler's direction. Even this early in the season, his band played with the assurance of a veteran organization. In the years that Mr. Wheeler has been here, he has ever been a bulwark for real musicianship; and his concerts this year have been so many more examples of his never-failing sense of musical appropriateness. Had he chosen to be merely popular, he might have literally lifted the roof off the auditorium by a blaring of brasses and a pounding of drums. He chose, however, to give us a real concert. No doubt on the football field and the parade ground every member of the band will be given ample opportunity to test the endurance of his instrument and the power of his lungs. In the assembly concert, other things were paramount.

In attack, in response to direction, the band deserves high praise. Well-balanced instrumentation, and flexibility in the clarinet and flute sections are features of the organization. Only twice, and then for brief intervals, did it seem that the director was dragging his band along with him. Never did any section get beyond his control; and in most cases Mr. Wheeler directed with that effortless ease which we have come to feel is his finest characteristic as a director.

Certainly the band concerts of this month have been of the most cheering augury.—C. W. M.

Beacons of the sky

Between Cleveland and Rock Springs, Wyo., along the night route of the air mail service, tall beacons have been placed every twenty-five miles.

Revolving on great steel towers, General Electric searchlights, totaling 1,992,000,000 candle-power, blaze a path of light for the airplane pilot.

What the lighthouse is to the ocean navigator, these beacons are to the conquerors of the air.

This achievement has been made possible by engineers of the Illuminating Engineering Laboratories of the General Electric Company, working with officials of the Post Office Department. A startling achievement now will be a commonplace of life in the new America which you will inherit.

GATHER EXPERIMENTAL DATA

G. A. Filling of Hort Department Went to Doniphan Monday

G. A. Filling, graduate student and instructor in the horticulture department, left for Doniphan county Monday morning where he will collect data and make experiments in the apple orchards of the extension division.

The extension division has several experimental plots and orchards in Doniphan county. By ascertaining the percentage of the different grades; fancy, one, two, and culls, grown on the differently handled plots, the results of various kinds of pruning and spraying can be obtained. Valuable data for the use of Kansas apple growers will be gathered from these experiments.

Grimes Addresses Meeting

Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics, went to Fort Scott this week to address the Bourbon County Retailers' Association at their annual meeting. The meeting, which will be in the form of a banquet, will be held in Fort Scott on Monday, October 6. Doctor Grimes will talk on the subject of retail costs and margins. The department of agricultural economics recently made a study of retail grocery stores in Manhattan, and Doctor Grimes will use data from this study as well as data from similar studies made in other states.

The United States department of agriculture estimates there will be 12,787,000 bales of cotton produced in the United States this season.

FRESHMAN SQUAD HAS 135

Shortage of Suits Causes a Number to Look On

Freshman candidates for football this fall have outnumbered last year's total by 30 men and last year's total of 105 was the largest in the history of the school. Owing to a shortage of suits 30 of these men are compelled to act as spectators until a new supply of material arrives. With such a remarkable squad of freshman recruits Coach Corsaut should have no trouble picking a team that will give the varsity the desired scrimmage competition needed for perfecting their plays.

The freshmen that have reported are: Albert Lantz, Lloyd Merten, Harold Mountain, O. J. Nickolson, J. F. Nuttle, L. Pucelik, L. Russell, F. S. Dayton, J. C. Schrader, Otis Blair, R. Blanton, M. C. ## EXPERIMENT STATION CONTRIBUTES MANY ARTICLES

Has Issued 13,720 Press Notices and 157 Technical Articles

The experiment station of the college has been doing some excellent work the last two years. There are about 80 persons working on this staff, and during the past two years they have contributed important articles to newspapers and farm journals. The total number of press notices which have been published is 13,720. During this same two years the same people have issued 157 technical articles which have been published in scientific journals. The entomology department has also had published 36 articles along this same line.

SEVEN DAY Y. W. FINANCE DRIVE STARTS THURSDAY

Committee of 100 Will Campaign for $2,780 to Finance Budget for Year

A seven day finance drive for $2780 will be started Thursday morning by the college Y. W. C. A. Himarie Freeman is in general charge of the campaign, assisted by Evelyn Colburn, president of the Y. W. C. A.

More than a hundred persons compose the "drive" committee under the leadership of 20 captains. Every girl in college will be asked to aid during the campaign. College Y. W. members will handle the campaign among the students. Faculty members will aid in the faculty solicitation, and those on the advisory board are to visit the people of Manhattan. Members of the teams will meet tomorrow night to lay plans for the

"kickoff" Thursday

The drive is in no sense an effort to get new members, according to Miss Lois Wildy, secretary of Y. W. work, as the Y. W. does not carry on membership drives.

Most of the money raised in the campaign will be spent on the college campus or in Manhattan, all of it going to the best interests of the Y. W. C. A. here. Manhattan is to be canvassed by streets, each team being assigned to certain "blocks" of the city.

Perhaps the best known work of the college Y. W. C. A. is its carrying on of "big sister" work with the new students. Each new girl coming to school is assigned an older girl to aid her in the first semester of the college year. The "big sister" helps with assignments, finding of rooming places, and is in general everything a "big sister" should be.

Other of the important activities of the Y. W. are the Freshman commission, the Thursday afternoon vesper services, the various parties of the college year, and aiding in work of publishing the "K" book.

The only item in the organization budget which does not apply directly to K. S. A. C. work is $669 which is paid to the National headquarters for literature, aid in planning programs, work on the Estes Park conference, and national convention expenses.

Fetrow at Stillwater

W. W. Fetrow, '20, is now associate professor of agricultural economics at the Oklahoma Agricultural college, Stillwater, Oklahoma. Mr. Fetrow majored in agricultural economics at K. S. A. C., and was a research assistant in the department of agricultural economics for more than a year following his graduation. In 1921 he went to the University of Wisconsin, where he took graduate work in agricultural economics, receiving his doctor's degree in June, 1924. During the summer sessions of 1923 and 1924 he was a special instructor in the department of agricultural economics at K. S. A. C.

WILL CONDUCT SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST AGAIN NEXT SUMMER

Open to All Accredited High Schools in Kansas Offering Four Year Courses

President W. M. Jardine has sent a letter announcing the annual scholarship contest to be conducted by the college to take place this spring. This contest is open to all of the accredited high schools, offering four year courses in Kansas. Each school may enter a team of three high school seniors who will be sent to Manhattan.

The eight subjects represented in this contest are algebra, geometry, history, civics, physics, English composition, English literature and an option of botany, agriculture, or general science.

Carroll Brady of Manhattan, Mary Reid of Holton and Edith Carnahan of Stockdale who won scholarships in the contest last year are now attending college here.

Prof. V. L. Strickland will organize and conduct the contest.

As a football player
he's a good poet

LET'S admit that all men are not born for gridiron honors, just as all men are not born poets.

You can admire a man's grit for plugging away at the thing that comes hardest to him. He does derive benefit in developing himself where he is weakest. But to achieve real success it is only common wisdom to pick out the line for which you have a natural aptitude—and go to it.

Particularly if you are a freshman it may be useful to remind you of this principle, because it can help you start off on the right foot in both your campus activities and your college courses.

If your fingers love the feel of a pencil, why not obey that impulse and come out for the publications? You can serve Alma Mater and yourself better as a first-class editor than a third-class halfback.

Similarly, when it comes to electing your college courses, you will be happier and more efficient if you choose in accordance with your natural aptitude.

The world needs many types of men. Find your line, and your college course will be a preparation for a greater success.

K. S. A. C. HAS BEST ENGINEERS

ONLY TWO RIVALS IN THIS SECTION

Enrolment Shows a 12 Per Cent Increase Over Two Previous Years

K. S. A. C. has one of the three largest schools of Engineering between the Mississippi river and the Pacific Coast. Iowa and Texas are its present rivals for first place. The enrolment in this division for the past two years has passed the sixteen hundred mark. The present collegiate enrolment is 800. This shows an increase of 12 per cent over the previous two years. The increase is not due to a larger number of freshmen enrolling in the division, but to increased enrolment in sophomore, junior, and senior classes. Last year degrees of master of science were granted to three students. There are now 41 students in the division studying for master's degrees.

Something of the success of the Division of Engineering is evident in the fact that companies who have employed K. S. A. C. trained engineers send in constant calls for more men. Of the 153 students of the division who were granted degrees of bachelor of science this year, all have been placed in desirable positions. Although the number of graduates shows an increase of 50 per cent over last year's class, many more men could have been placed.

Has Extension School

The work of the Division of Engineering, however, does not end with converting men into exceptionally good engineers. It has established an extension division, conducting road schools and power farming schools, the college service department, which has supervision over improvements, repairing, and the erection of new buildings, and the engineering experiment station.

Tested 10,000 Samples

During the past year the experiment station has tested 10,000 samples of material for hard surface roads. Approved materials have been used in constructing eight hundred miles of hard surface roads under state and federal aid projects, involving a sum of $23,370,000. This work has necessitated the building of fifteen branch laboratories at brick plants in various parts of the state. Representatives have visited the projects regularly in twenty-eight different counties. Their supervision has made it possible to use a great deal of local sand, gravel, and rock, instead of more expensive imported materials.

Tests Oil and Fuel

Another important service of the department has been in testing of oil and fuel used in the state institutions. By testing the energy content inferior products may be eliminated and the purchase of fuel placed on a competitive basis.

New Fence for Tennis Courts

In line with the campus improvement movement, the old poultry netting fence around the tennis courts is being replaced by a 10 foot fence of chain link wire. Ten new courts have been constructed. The courts will be fenced in two inclosures with entrance gates.

A fence also is being built around the stadium. It is six feet high and a three wire barbed wire makes it practically impossible to scale.

EIGHT VALLEY SCHOOLS TO MEET IN MUSIC CONTEST

Ira Pratt on Executive Committee of Glee Club Association—February 14 Is Probable Date

Lawrence, Kan., Oct. 5.—Final plans for a glee club contest between eight schools of the Missouri Valley conference will be worked out at a meeting of the executive and business committees of the Missouri Valley Glee Club Contest association at Kansas City, October 11. The association which was formed last spring, set February 14, 1925, as the date for the first contest which will probably be held in Convention hall, Kansas City. Alumni of all member schools and the chamber of commerce of Kansas City are cooperating to put across the great song fest.

It is the plan to send the winner of the valley sing to participate in the national contest conducted by the Intercollegiate Musical Association of New York. The New York association is reported to be eager to have a representative from the Missouri Valley in its contest.

At the meeting in Kansas City, October 11, will be Professors T. A. Larremore of Kansas university, Harold F. Holtz of Nebraska, Holmes Cowper of Drake, James Quarles of Missouri university, Tolbert McRae of Iowa State, L. S. Slater of Oklahoma, Ira Pratt of Kansas State Agricultural college, and Roy Russell of Washington, all of whom are faculty representatives from their respective schools and who compose the executive committee of the association. The alumni representatives living in Kansas City who compose the business committee of the organization are John Musselman for Kansas university, Guy W. Green for Nebraska, E. C. McBride for Drake, Walton Holmes for Missouri, L. S. Dewey for Iowa State, Arthur R. Wolfe for Oklahoma, J. H. Anderson for K. S. A. C., and Henry Lohman for Washington.

Whether the clubs must sing without piano accompaniment and whether or not faculty conductors may be used in the contest are two of the points to be settled at the meeting October 11. It is agreed that each club will sing three songs in the contest, one to be sung by every club in turn, one chosen and sung by each club and a school song of each club's own Alma Mater. In addition a concerted number may be sung by all clubs together merely for the entertainment of the audience. The program should prove a colorful one.

Grinnell, the only Missouri Valley school not in the organization, was already affiliated with another glee club association and for that reason did not join the valley group.

OLDER BOYS' CONFERENCE HERE NOVEMBER 28-29-30

500 to 800 Boys Expected to Attend Meetings—Governor Sweet to Speak

From 500 to 800 boys will meet here for the older boys' conference which is to be held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, November 28, 29, and 30, according to Dr. A. A. Holtz, head of the college Y. M. C. A. There were over 1,100 at the state conference two years ago, but the one the latter part of November will include only about 20 counties.

The committee in charge of the conference met last Tuesday to make plans. The members present were B. V. Edworthy, state Hi-Y secretary; Bret Hull, R. R. Price, Louis Farmer, A. R. Springer, O. M. Rhine, Ralph Ewing, and Harold Hughes.

The program for the conference as outlined by the committee is as follows: Friday afternoon, opening session in college auditorium. Saturday morning, business session in auditorium. Saturday afternoon, tour of the college and banquet in Nichols gymnasium. Sunday morning, short morning session at First Presbyterian church, after which each delegate may attend the church of his choice. Sunday afternoon, final session at the First Presbyterian church.

The committee chairmen are Bret Hull and A. R. Springer, transportation; R. R. Price, Saturday night entertainment; C. E. Sawyer, banquet plans; E. B. Gift, program printing; James Price, publicity, conference rooms and decoration; Chester Guthrie, song leader; Ralph Ewing, college tour; Professors Dawley and E. R. Lyon, loud speakers for gymnasium; and Harold Hughes, A. O. Duer, and O. M. Rhine, entertainment.

Gov. Al Sweet, of Colorado, will be a guest of the conference and the principal speaker, if political affairs are such that he can leave his state for a short time. B. V. Edworthy and other nationally known "Y" and Hi-Y workers will also speak.

Radio loud speakers are to be installed in the gym so that speakers may talk with less strain.

DR. NABOURS OBTAINS MORE MATERIAL FOR EXPERIMENTS

Gets Grasshopper Specimens in Texas for Studies in Heredity

Dr. R. K. Nabours, head of the department of zoology, spent September 20 to 29 in Texas getting specimens of grasshoppers. He visited Austin and San Antonio in a search for specimens of a rare kind of grasshopper which he has been using in his experiments in inheritance for many years. The large number of these secured included several new types.

According to Doctor Nabours, spots and stripes of many colors and patterns make grasshoppers good material for use in experiments in heredity.

SUNDAY CONCERTS BY MUSIC FACULTY TO BE ABANDONED

Radio Concerts and Heavy Enrolment in Department Given as Cause

Owing to the heavy enrolment in the department of music with the added burden of radio concerts, it has been decided to discontinue the Sunday concerts which have been given by faculty members of the music department each fall for the last four years.

The department will present the Messiah with the college chorus and orchestra the last Sunday before Christmas holidays. This concert which is free to the public and will again be financed by the various churches of Manhattan will constitute the only formal concert given by the department during this school year. A series of concerts to be given during the assembly period will be planned for the year.

AGGIE BOTANY PROFS AID IN COMPILING NEW TEXTS

Dr. Melchers and Dr. Miller Copied as Authorities

L. E. Melchers and Dr. E. C. Miller, professors of Botany, have contributed material for two books titled "The Textbook of General Botany for Colleges and Universities" and "Diseases of Greenhouse Crops." Prof. L. E. Melchers has been quoted on the subject: "A new method of steam sterilization for controlling nematodes." Prof. E. C. Miller has six drawings from the study of the fertilization of corn in the general botany textbook. These were redrawn from Professor Miller's illustrations in "The Journal of Agricultural Research."

SEE DANGER IN SATURDAY GAME

EMPORIA HAS HEAVY AND SCRAPPY TEAM

Inexperience Chief Handicap of Aggies—Bach Discovers New Material in Washburn Battle

With one hurdle cleared in easy style, the Aggie football team worked out this week in preparation for the opening game of the home season with the Kansas State Teachers of Emporia here tomorrow.

Real Danger in Emporia

Aggie fans refuse to get excited about the possibility of a Wildcat defeat in the game, but the football dopest would not go far wrong in predicting a victory either way, according to those who watched the Teachers defeat Hays Normal last Saturday. The Yellowjacket line averages four pounds to the man heavier than the Aggie line which started against Washburn Saturday, making 184 pounds to the Aggies' 180. The backfield, however, averages but 158 to about 167 by the Aggies, who may average heavier if the lineup is shifted.

But the Aggie rookies gave a good account of themselves against Washburn. Always the team gave the impression of having power much greater than that displayed. All through the game the Wildcats seemed to be toying with Washburn. Only a dozen simple plays were used in the whole game, while the Aggie team has been taught four times that many.

Inexperience Brings Penalties

Inexperience cost the team enough penalties last Saturday to have lost or won the average Valley game. Twice men called encouragement to their team mates before the first play after they reported, and were penalized fifteen yards. Men who knew the rules but forgot under excitement. But they'll know better next time, and the Aggies will be a much smoother team Saturday.

Whether Washburn was unusually weak offensively, or whether the Aggies are exceptionally strong was hard to determine. Ten yards was the longest gain made by the Wildcats during the game, and the Washburn stands rose and cheered as over a victory. Yet defensively the Wildcats seem well drilled. The Aggies got away for no spectacular gains, and attempted none, being content to smash, smash, smash for four and five yards at a time.

All Given a Chance

Bachman tried out most of his leading candidates for positions in the game to see what they would do "under fire." Nearly every one delivered. Munn, Harter, and Keefer, regulars, were jerked early, as "Bach" knows what he can count on there. For a while an entire sophomore team cavorted on the field. Cochrane went out as quarter and Read came in, but still the march went on.

Mildreter, Feathers, Butcher, and Randall alternated at full, the successive changes making little difference in the Aggies' onward march. Hoffman suffered a "Charley horse" and was replaced by Havley, who shone for a while. Von Trebra, Brion, Wilson, R. Smith, and a half dozen others gained at will. Ehrlich muffed a pass, but with good cause, otherwise playing good ball.

Instead of getting lighter as the game progressed, the line grew heavier, at one time averaging around 190 pounds.

But Emporia is a big team, an experienced team, and a scrappy team. A victory over the Aggies would mean much to them. The last time the schools met the Aggies were hard put to win. Maybe history can repeat itself. Maybe not.

AGGIE RIFLE CHAMP RETURNS

Paul Shepherd Is Holder of Two World's Records

Paul A. Shepherd, holder of two world's records in rifle marksmanship, and for the last two years captain of the college rifle team, returned Monday from a trip to the east where he has been adding marksmanship medals to his collection.

Shepherd attended the Coast Artillery camp at Fort Monroe, Va., and there won the .45 Colt automatic pistol championship. The distances were 15, 25, and 50 yards. From Fort Monroe he was detailed to the National Rifle and Pistol Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, as a Commissioned Officer and instructor. In this capacity he coached and shot on the 3rd Corps Area Rifle team which placed second in the shoot among the nine Corps Area teams. Shepherd was high man in his team and received the individual medal for second place in the shoot. He also won first place in the National Individual Pistol Match, distance 25 and 50 yards, as a result of which he was placed on the National Organized Reserve Pistol Team. In this shoot he was sixth among thirty, and received the medal for high man on his own team.

A place on the U. S. International Dewar team was the result of the excellent shooting on the Corps Area team. This team is composed of twenty men who shoot against teams from England, Canada and Australia. The U. S. team won, and lowered the world's record in this event by 30 points. Shepherd was twelfth man in his team, and received a silver medal, as did every man on the winning team.

Education? Rather. Chapel Conversation Shows Our Culture

Assembly, dignified dates, students, distinguished faculty members and superdignified seniors. Purple caps protruding from pockets, notebooks, grimy fists. Snatches of conversation, supposedly coherent, undoubtedly representative of the higher culture received at an institution of learning.

"Oh, my dear, it was so thrilling! You can't imagine what a perfectly divine dancer he is, such syncopatin' feet."

"Then I says to him, so I did, 'Look here, I may be only a pidge, but I got some rights like a human being—'"

"Matched with blue chiffon and trimmed with silver braid and with slippers and hose to match. I've been considering some rose flannel, but I don't know, what do you think?"

"The keenest marcel! what is that man on the stage saying anyhow?"

What, indeed?

QUILL TRYOUTS THIS MONTH

Manuscripts Must Be Submitted to Professor Crawford Before Nov. 1

Every student of K. S. A. C. is eligible to try for membership of Ur Rune of American College Quill club. For the past year or two the number of members has not been as large as desired, and Prof. N. A. Crawford urges more students to compete in this contest.

The prospective member must submit, with his application, an original composition. This composition may be an oration, fiction, narrative, character sketch, literary essay, poetry, feature article, or dramatic composition, and shall not contain more than 3,000 words or less than 800 words. The membership committee will determine the merits of the submitted composition, and if they deem it worthy, the author shall be proposed for membership in the chapter.

Those who are interested and wish to enter this contest, must submit their manuscripts without a signature to Prof. N. A. Crawford, chairman of the membership committee, before November 1.

PROFESSOR BURR TO SPEAK AT SOCIAL WORK MEETINGS

Will Also Preside Over Public Health Association Meetings

The Kansas conference of social work, which meets at Hutchinson, October 13, 14, and 15, will have as one of its speakers Professor Walter Burr who will talk Tuesday, October 14, on "Preventive Work in Rural Communities."

Professor Burr will act as chairman of the discussion section known as the Kansas Council of Statewide Agencies, a federation of social service organizations of Kansas, which meets as part of the social workers' conference. He will also preside over the meetings of the Kansas Public Health association of which he has been president for the past year.

AGGIE PROFS ON PROGRAM

Will Address Kansas Teachers at Topeka, Hays, and Hutchinson

The Kansas State Teachers' association will meet in four sections, October 16, 17, 18 at Topeka, Hays, Hutchinson, and Parsons. The following members of the K. S. A. C. faculty are on the program:

Topeka section: "Advantages of the One-Teacher School," Dean E. L. Holton, department of education; "Health and Recreation," Prof. Pearl Ruby, department of foods and nutrition; "Principles of Textbook Appraisal," Prof. I. V. Iles, department of history; "Vocational Home Making," Prof. Maude Williamson, department of education; "Responsibilities of Public School Music Teachers," Prof. Ira Pratt; "Helping the Student to Select His Vocation," Dr. J. C. Peterson, department of education; "American History Textbooks," Prof. R. R. Price, department of history.

Hays section: "Some Problems in High School Training," Dr. J. E. Akert, department of zoology; "Teaching the Individual," Dean E. L. Holton; "The Place of Nature Study in Primary Grades," Prof. C. V. Williams, department of education; "Preparing Students for College," Dr. W. H. Andrews, department of education.

INJURIES CAUSE CHANGE IN WILDCAT LINEUP

Harter, Keefer, Doolen and Cochrane Have Minor Hurts

Coach Bachman has announced that the lineup in the game with the Emporia Teachers will be somewhat different than that in the Washburn game, due to slight injuries sustained by several of the men.

Harter, center, and Keefer, right tackle, are each handicapped by Charley horses. Doolen has not quite recovered from the sprained ankle he received in scrimmage last week. Cochrane is still suffering a little from minor injuries and probably will not get to start the game.

The official lineup is:

R. E. Munn, (captain)
R. T. Krysl or Keefer
R. G. McGee
C. Perham
L. G. Reed or Hutton
L. T. Ballard
L. H. Ehrlich
R. E. Wilson
L. H. Havley
Q. B. J. Anderson or Hoffman
F. B. Mildreter

Test Frosh Intelligence

The general intelligence of K. S. A. C. freshmen was tested yesterday and today in a series of tests which all new students were required to take. The test blanks are made standard for most of the larger colleges throughout the United States and through their use a comparative ranking of those entering college is made. Results of the tests are consulted in allowing extra work, and in furnishing information to prospective employers.

Misses Katherine Osborn, Agnes Remick, Martha Griffen and Pauline Van Osdel spent Saturday and Sunday at the Van Osdel home in Junction City.

SIXTY-FIVE PARTICIPATE IN TRYOUTS FOR ANNUAL FRIVOL

Annual Entertainment Will Be Sometime Next Month

About 65 girls tried out Monday night for parts in Frivol. Frivol is an annual combination dance and cabaret and is very popular among the college students.

All freshman girls and all new girls enrolled in the women's physical education department are eligible for these tryouts. A selection will be made from those who tried out Monday night for individual dances. More definite plans will be announced later.

The exact date for Frivol has not been set but it will probably be around the fifteenth of November.

Correspondence Course Popular

More than 1800 students are enrolled in the correspondence courses with the department of home study of the college. Courses are offered both for college credit and non-credit work, in nearly every college subject, including engineering, horticulture, animal husbandry, home economics, history, English, and education. According to a report from Prof. G. A. Gemmell who is in charge of the department, English and education are the most popular subjects.

Prof. Walter Burr addressed the students and faculty of Salina Wesleyan college last Monday morning. The subject of his talk was "What One Ought to Get Out of a College Education."

SENIOR CLASS NOMINATES OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

Six Nominees for President—Largest Meeting Since 1921

A senior class meeting was held Monday, October 6, in C 27 at which the following officers were nominated for this year. President, Virginia Deal, Eleanor Dempsey, G. A. Read, Bruce Pratt, Lucile Herr and Harry Lutz; vice-president, K. Bunker, V. E. Bates and Virginia Reeder; secretary, John Gartner, Gladys Sanford, M. R. Buck, Curtis Watts and Mary Higgenbotham; treasurer, R. D. Dade and C. W. Shim; devotional leader, Edith Holsinger; S. S. G. A. representatives, Laureda Thompson and Winifred Knight; marshal, Charles Long, G. A. Plank, Ray Watson, Lyle Munn and B. C. Harter; historian, Corinne Smith. Faculty representatives were also selected.

Attendance at the meeting was larger than ever before in the history of the class with the exception of the freshman year. The election of officers will be held Wednesday, October 15, at the Royal Purple office.

PEPSTERS WILL MEET TONIGHT

PRELIMINARY CHEERING PRACTICE FOR TOMORROW'S GAME

First Yell Fest of Year Scheduled for 7:30 in Auditorium

The first official pep meeting of the year is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Auditorium as a preliminary pep tonic for the clash with the Emporia Teachers on Stadium field tomorrow afternoon. The Wampus Cats, official pep organization of the college, will have charge of the program and have planned a series of stunts.

Wampus Cat Dance

Short talks in the interest of enthusiasm will be given by Prexy Jardine, Mike Ahearn, Doc King and Doctor Holtz. The cheer leader will be on hand to give the rooters a little preliminary practice on cheering and the band will also do its share.

The pep festivities will be followed by a Wampus Cat benefit dance at Johnnie's, the profits from which are to be used to help the organization continue its work.

Next Chapel a Pep Meet

Next Wednesday's chapel hour, being the last chapel before the K. U. game will be turned over to the athletic department. The program will consist of talks by Dr. H. T. Hill, Mike Ahearn, Coach Bachman, Coach Corsaut and Miss Laureda Thompson, head of the Women's Athletic Association.

FOUR NOMINEES FOR BOARD

Collegian Executive Group Election Next Tuesday

Four students, Byron Short, Gladys Sanford, Grace Justin and Bernard Harter, were nominated by petition for membership on the executive board of the Kansas State Collegian.

The election will be held at the Royal Purple office on Tuesday of next week. Only student subscribers to the paper are entitled to vote.

The executive board has full supervisory charge of the operation of the Collegian for the year.

George A. Filing, graduate assistant in the horticulture department, is in Doniphan county at present taking records on demonstration orchards.

Suggestions Wanted

What do you think of the news, features and editorials that are being published in the Collegian? Is the material of the sort that college students want to read?

If you have any criticisms or suggestions about the Collegian the editor would be glad to hear from you. Address communications to Editor-in-chief, Kansas State Collegian, College P. O.

MANY CHANGES IN GRID RULES

KICKING TEES AND SCREENED PASS ELIMINATED

Shoulder Pads Must Be Padded Outside as Well as Inside—Try-for-Point from Three Yard Line

Several radical changes in the football rules will be enforced in the first home game of the season on Saturday October 11 with the Emporia Teachers. The changes were decided upon last winter at a meeting of the rules committee.

Kicking Tees Abolished

Chief among changes are those abolishing kicking tees, barring "passive interference" on the screen pass, shifting the try-for-point from the five-to the three-yard line, and other alterations designed to speed up the game.

A summary of changes follows: In Rule 1, Section 3, the committee has added its approval to the so-called "offset" goal posts so that either straight line posts or offsets are legal.

In Rule 3, Section 3, there is an answer to the generally increasing complaint that certain stiff shoulder guards and protectors were dangerous. The committee has legislated that shoulder guards must be padded outside as well as inside and cleats must not be dangerously sharp, and has urged all officials to relentlessly enforce every phase of the rule relating to equipment.

Under Rule 6 comes the elimination of tees. All tees are swept out of existence, but on place-kick a player may hold the ball on the ground for the kicker. The ball is now kicked off from the middle of the field instead of from the 40-yard line. Section 9 has been altered so that any part of the player's person being out of bounds counts just the same as the foot.

Under Rule 9, the committee has practically passed shift plays in the hands of officials by legislating that players must come to an absolute stop and remain stationary in their new positions sufficiently long to prevent any doubt in the minds of the officials as to the legality of the play.

Point Trial at Three Yards

Rule 10—The 5-yard-line has been changed to the 3-yard-line on a try-for-point after touchdown.

In Rule 14 is the evidence of the committee's desire to speed up the game and prevent unnecessary and unreasonable delays. The official may arbitrarily call time whenever he thinks a team is unreasonably delaying putting the ball in play and may warn them or penalize them. In the case of calling of time for substitutions or for other reasons which appear to the official to be with the intent of lengthening the game, he may instruct the timekeeper not to stop the watch but let time run on. Captains may now ask that time be called four times in each half, but the penalty for a greater number of requests has been increased to five yards.

Screen Pass Out

In Rule 16 the screening of the forward pass has been checked by a ruling that ineligible players must keep out of the way of the players of the side which did not make the pass, else they are liable to a penalty for interfering with the defensive side's opportunity to reach the ball. The field judge and umpire both are to watch violations under Section 3.

Rule 17 puts a stop to the receiver of the forward pass running out of bounds and then coming back into the field of play to receive the pass. Under this same rule the last 10-yard penalty remaining in the book has been changed to 15 yards, namely, intentionally throwing a forward pass to the ground. It has been made legal to decline the penalty on a forward pass.

Rule 18 finishes up the entire matter relating to on-side kicks. If a kicked ball crosses the scrimmage line, no one of the kicker's side can touch or recover the ball until it has touched an opponent, but any man may recover a kicked ball which has not crossed the line of scrimmage.

Rule 23, Section 8—A foul committed behind the goal line which does not involve change of possessions of the ball is penalized one-half distance to the goal line from the spot where the ball was put in play. Section 11 has been expanded by the instruction to the referee that he shall explain alternative penalties to the captain of the offended team.

Rule 24—The referee alone shall have a whistle, but a pistol is recommended to the timekeeper to notify the referee of the expiration of time.

HELP THE PEPSTERS

With the Wampus Cats officiating, the pre-Emporia pep meeting tonight ought to be a decided success. And it will be, if everyone comes to the Auditorium loaded with pep and punch to put it over. Everybody should be there at 7:30 to give the Wampus Cats a real sample of the material they have to work with this football season. They deserve your heartiest cooperation and are counting on you to give it. Don't disappoint them.

GRAND OPERA AND MOVIES

Did you ever go to a 40 cent movie show, sit more or less calmly while a noble hero dashes madly through five reels of burning buildings and speeding automobiles and black hearted villains, rescuing a bewitching maiden from a fate far worse than death, and then wish as you walked home to save car fare, that your 40 cents was back in your pocket?

So have we all.

And most of us are frankly glad of an opportunity to add a dime to that 40 cents and see one of the most beautiful grand operas on the stage today, "The Secret of Suzanne," the first number on the artist series, to be given next Wednesday. This particular comic opera was chosen because it requires so few people to sing it, because of its exceedingly interesting music, and because it has humor and good fun to make it interesting to the people of all standards of musical appreciation.

You'll hear more about the other three numbers later—Cecile de Horvath, the celebrated pianist, Kathryn Browne, mezzo-soprano of the Chicago opera, and the Flonzaley string quartet.

The box office is open for general ticket sale next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, but mail orders are being received now at the music department. At season ticket prices of $2.00 and $3.00, well—you'll be lots happier on the inside watching the show than on the outside wondering why you waited too long.

—AND PROUDLY HE WORE IT

The Freshman cap season begins tomorrow, October 11, the occasion of the first home game of the year. Tomorrow all first year men must be wearing the traditional purple headgear or suffer the consequences. Although there is some objection by the powers that be, about the enforcement of this tradition, no freshman should rely on this as a means of protection. The wearing of the caps has been enforced during the past and, according to indications it will again be an irreparable breach of campus etiquette for a freshman to appear without the adornment.

But during the last few years it has become more and more unnecessary to force freshmen to wear the purple headpiece. When the K fraternity opened the sale last Monday morning more than 500 of the caps were sold on the first day. And a large percentage of these first day purchasers immediately started to wear them. This is a commendable spirit in the freshmen and they should receive due credit for it.

The freshman cap tradition is probably the most valuable one in existence at K. S. A. C., through it Freshmen are set apart from the rest of the student body, they become better acquainted, upperclassmen can recognize them at a glance, interest in the class is aroused, pep and cheering at athletic contests is improved, organization for class accomplishment is effected, in short every result of the tradition is for the good of all concerned. Freshmen should be proud to wear the purple cap of the Aggies and the spirit being shown by the present class is praiseworthy.

In a recent experiment it was found that it took three upper-classmen to look entirely to the top of the new radio tower, while only one freshman was required for the same feat. There is no end to the endurance of this rubber.

"Chig" Long denied all reports that he is writing a letter to little Chester Gump in hopes of landing one of the dandy prizes that little Chester is going to bring back from Uncle Bim's. We can't imagine what discouraged him.

We had often heard of "glimmering lights" before, but never had actually experienced them until Tuesday in the library. Trying to study was almost as much fun as taking a bath minus the water. Same thrill exactly.

These girls may be able to supplant mere man in most places but we haven't seen one yet who could wear one of these short "boyish bobs" and get away with it. It is our only hope that woman shall some day be put in her proper place.

The campus is fast being spotted with purple. However, the green is still noticeable beneath.

The recent cold snap has enlivened the hopes of the Kappa Sigs that they may not have to move after all. The player (?) of the base horn, who dubs the Y. M. C. A. his domicile, has been forced to close his windows.

In a paper the other day we read a touching story about an engaged man who contracted the whooping cough and the bride-to-be promptly broke the engagement. For luck he is a close contestant for the chap who got the mumps during "Hell week."

We accepted a challenge from Harry the other day to enter a contest entitled "thru college unkissed." The affair will hardly be equal as anyone with a mug like Harry's would have to use a club to go thru in any other state. However, we have one advantage over Harry. We will be out in four years.

Did you know that if all the beauty condensed in the cage of Touchdown II. was scattered around the campus six and one-half times, the place would look like what the "Hello Day" sign in Kedzie hall read after the wit finished with it?

From actual observation we conclude that there must be 33 red-headed girls in the college who look exactly alike. We know one of them but since the first meeting haven't been able to pick her out of the herd. The S. S. G. A. should pass a law prohibiting anything like this from occurring.

In this place we extend our hearty thanks to the S. S. G. A. for its rule prohibiting dates at football games. That is one less matter on our mind.

If the person who found the letter from our girl, which we lost on the hill Wednesday last, will call on us personally he may receive her address, if he so wishes.

N. B. She is a real nice girl.

We have found the biggest skeptic in the world. Our dean wouldn't believe our pitiful tale about why we required an excuse. From the way he acted, it is doubtful if he would have believed it had it been actually true.

Ralph Blackledge wishes to announce that he is perfectly satisfied and extremely pleased with the wonderful cheering of the student body. You are welcome, Mr. Blackledge.

Why doesn't someone promote a movement requiring the freshman girls to wear something conspicuously purple. We suggest purple stockings.

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

To the Editor:

It seems that there has been a misunderstanding about the action taken by the S. S. G. A. in regard to dates at football games. The resolution as passed by the council states that dating at the games be discouraged and that power be granted to the Wampus Cats and the K fraternity to aid in the discouragement. The same tradition was in effect last year, and worked to a very good advantage. This year a few of the radicals have resented the action of the student governing body, and apparently are attempting to organize opposition against it.

The intention of the S. S. G. A. is not to try to deprive anyone of his rights. If a girl friend or a sister is coming up for the games, a date is proper and permissible. Otherwise it is not. Representatives of the W. A. A. and Women's Panhellenic were strongly in favor of the action taken. Perhaps the girls here at K. S. A. C. are not as anxious to have men hanging around as some of our "cakes" are prone to think.—Jerry Dowd, President, S. S. G. A.

To the Editor:

One advantage we see in the new parking system is that any fellow with a little nerve and ingenuity can now compile himself a "hoopie." Under the old system with cars parked alongside of the building in which their owners worked, and where some prof. might bob his head out of a lab. or office window and yell at you if you began so much as an investigation of the possibilities loose about his car. It took more nerve than most of us have to start the collection of miscellaneous parts essential to the compilation of a car; but now, with the "Lizzies" safely out of sight of their proprietors, and most faculty cars fairly well equipped with spare parts—Shucks! Who couldn't make himself one?

I am convinced that a number of fellows must be availing themselves of this opportunity. In two semesters of parking my car in the old-fashioned way I never missed so much as a screw driver from the tool box (which I never bothered to lock in those days), but in two weeks of modern parking everything loose about my "Lizzie" has disappeared from the chains under the back seat to the rubber mats on the floor. Fortunately my speedometer doesn't work and my "spare" is worn to the cords, so not worth the trouble of filing a claim to get it, hence these parts are still left.

Of course I can find some consolation in the situation, for when the point is reached that my car has fewer parts than those parked around it, I can get into the game too, and replace missing parts without cost; and when everyone gets to doing the same thing our auto parks will become a matter of "first come first served" which is, after all, most thoroughly in accord with our Aggie traditions of Democracy.

On Other Hills

Students at K. U. are becoming active in the political race. A college division of the Republican party has been in existence since last spring on the campus and arrangements are being made for a series of meetings to be held this fall. Last week a temporary organization of Democrats on the Hill was formed and will ultimately be known as the Kansas League of Young Democrats. This league works under the direction and supervision of the Democratic state central committee. A third party club will be formed soon and an independent club which will endorse White for governor with a probable anti-Klan policy is forming.

The Oxford university debating team will meet the Ohio State university team October 10. The Oxford debaters, J. D. Woodruff, M. C. Hollis, and M. E. McDonald, son of Ramsay MacDonald, British premier, are making a world trip and will participate in debates in 30 universities and colleges throughout the United States. The subject at Ohio will be "France's German Policy Since the War" and the speeches will be broadcast from the college radio station.

Students of Bethany college at Lindsborg have pledged $1,600 toward the $400,000 goal set in the Temple of Music and Bethany Endowment appeal. This represents quite a sacrifice for the students who have not completed their education.

Football men at Colorado State College of Agriculture will be fed royally during football season. A training table supervised by the college coach will be conducted and will provide the proper food in proper amounts. The men will be kept under constant care so they will keep in the best condition for playing.

The College of Emporia has purchased a Grid-Graph on which the out-of-town games will be played for the Emporia fans.

Guns the Social Standard

A man in Alaska is just about judged by the number of guns that he owns, in the opinion of Jesse Wingfield, '23, who is in horticultural work for the agricultural experiment station at Matanuska, Alaska. However, it seems that the firearms are not for defensive purposes, as Wingfield explains that everyone around his location waits impatiently for the hunting season to open. The country is full of ducks, geese, and grouse, he writes.

Mr. Wingfield's letter, written August 3, gives some interesting notes concerning other alumni in Alaska. He writes that Dr. C. C. Georgeson, a former faculty member of K. S. A. C., now in charge of all experiment stations in Alaska, had sent him to Fairbanks to take a course in plant breeding under G. W. Gasser, '05.

"Mr. Gasser has done some wonderful work in breeding and developing grain at Fairbanks and Rampart," Wingfield reports. "He has produced one barley that is a wonder."

"While I was at Fairbanks I went out to the college and visited Mr. C. H. Morgan, '22. He is doing fine. He has taken a homestead near the college and built a seven room house. The house is built of logs that he cut and floated down the river. It is quite a mansion compared to most of the cabins that are built up here."

Speaks a Word for Dad

"I am sending your letter on to my father, W. D. Clarke, of Paola, Kansas," writes Pauline F. Clarke, '15, dietitian at Fort Bayard, N. M. "Although he is not an alumnus he should have some of their privileges as he has two daughters who are alumni and is now sending a third daughter to K. S. A. C."

Miss Clarke has only recently been transferred to Fort Bayard from Whipple, Ariz., where she was dietitian in the United States veterans' bureau hospital. She writes that she expects to go back to Whipple in a short time.

Barton County Club Meets

The Barton County club held its first meeting of the semester last Thursday. The following officers were elected: President, Harry Wege; Vice-president, Vernon Almquist; Secretary and Treasurer, Blanche Allison; Publicity Editor, Oswald Dryden.

C. V. Miller, state director of vocational education, and L. B. Polom, state supervisor of vocational agriculture, spent Monday and Tuesday at the college going over plans for the year, relative to the supervision and conference for the vocational agriculture teachers throughout the state.

Twenty graduate students are enrolled in one or more courses in the department of agricultural economics this semester. Eleven of these students are taking their major work in agricultural economics while nine are majoring in other subjects and taking their minor work in some phase of agricultural economics.

Prof. J. B. Fitch of the dairy department left Wednesday night on a short inspection tour of state dairy herds. The Hays State Teachers college dairy herd is the first one he will visit. After leaving Hays he will inspect the state herds at Colby and Norton.

Y. W. C. A. FINANCIAL DRIVE ON

Campaign for Funds Opened October 9 and Will End October 15

Every woman in college will be given an opportunity to contribute to the Y. W. C. A. during the financial drive when began yesterday and will end October 15. The budget is necessary to carry on the program of the Y. W. C. A. which includes participation in all worthwhile campus affairs.

The Y. W. C. A. is an international organization with student associations in every country of the world. Its main purpose everywhere is to promote brotherhood and to follow Christian principles.

It carries out its purpose on this campus by holding a weekly vesper service, fostering the student forum, doing social service work and studying the problems of girls in industry. It is behind all Aggie affairs.

There are 50 freshman women who are interested enough in the Y. W. C. A. to meet to form a freshman commission. This organization is under the sponsorship of Lois Richardson and will study Y. W. C. A. work. The financial campaign began yesterday with a dramatization of the Budget at the weekly vesper service.

Milwaukee Girl Sings Title Role In "Suzanne"

Miss Lucie Westen, who sings the title role "Suzanne" in the Artist series concert, "The Secret of Suzanne," next Wednesday evening, is one of the finest coloratura sopranos of American birth. Miss Westen is a Milwaukee girl and during the past year, her first season with the Chicago Grand opera, she alternated roles with two of the greatest artists in that company, Florence Macbeth and Edith Mason. To start in roles of this caliber is one of the greatest feats of the last decade in the musical world.

The role of "Sante," the mute butler, will be acted by William Rogerson, for three years leading tenor in Chicago Grand opera, who was the personal protege of the late Signor Cleofonte Campanini. In the first part of the evening Mr. Rogerson will feature in solos. His voice is considered to be one of the greatest tenor voices in existence at the present time.

At the bottom of a lake in the Alban Hills of Italy lie two galleys which were fitted out as floating palaces of pleasure for the Roman Emperor Caligula. They were incrustated with marble, ornamented with precious metals and painted woods and were adorned with statuary. At the emperor's death his successor took no interest in the vessels and allowed them to rot until they finally sank. The water may be drawn off the lake until the vessels are exposed to view.

Officials of the United States forest service are planning to plug up with concrete holes in the bottom of Duck lake in the Dixie national forest in southern Utah. It gathers much water in the spring but the water filters through cracks and holes in the bottom of the lake bed before it can be used in summer.

DR. SLADE RESIGNS

Pastor of First Congregational Church for Past Five Years

Dr. William F. Slade, pastor of the First Congregational church of Manhattan for the past five years, tendered his resignation at the regular morning service last Sunday. Dr. Slade read the following letter explaining his action:

To the First Congregational Church of Manhattan, Kansas. Dear Brethren: I have been led to believe that by the end of the present year I shall have finished the work that God gave me to do in Manhattan. The best interests of the church should be of supreme importance to pastor and people. With no other motive I hereby tender my resignation as pastor of the church to take effect on the completion of five years of rich opportunity. I trust that this letter will be considered at the annual meeting of the church next Wednesday night. Sincerely your pastor, Wm. F. Slade.

Intramural Cards Out

Intramural registration cards have been printed and will be mailed out this week to all organizations entered in these athletics. All members of clubs and fraternities are asked to fill out one of these cards and mail it to Prof. E. A. Knoth so that a record can be kept of who are and who are not members of the various organizations.

Heretofore, fraternities and clubs which were short of good athletes have entered men who were not members. This illegally scored points for the organization. It is hoped that the new plan will allow only members to enter as members of the organizations.

ARE FRATERNITIES GRADUALLY DYING

NATIONAL AUTHORITY HAS INTERESTING DISCUSSION

Article in the Dearborn Independent Gives a Few Facts About Social Organizations

ANDREW R. BOONE

What of the college fraternity? Has the Greek-letter group increased its initiates proportionately to the growth of the student bodies in America's colleges and universities, or is the college fraternity dying out?

It seems at first blush as though that famous old institution, dear to the hearts of several hundred thousand "old grads" and present students, is passing slowly from the picture. Fraternity men, steeped in the traditions of their "house," will be the first to deny that their nationals and locals are losing their hold; but a consideration by some of their leaders has resulted in a somewhat different conclusion.

The war and attendant conditions caused an unprecedented increase in student numbers during and after 1920; total college enrolment jumped 40 per cent during the two years prior to and including that period. Presidents and deans of men throughout the country have called attention to this fact repeatedly. As William M. Lewis, president of George Washington university, said when he was installed last year, "There is a larger percentage of our youth attending colleges this year than attended high schools 30 years ago—this is a century of education, and therein lies a problem of stupendous difficulty for institution and individual. Because of the universal awakening of appreciation of the value of education there are flocking to the doors of universities countless thousands."

Dangers Threaten System

Two dangers threaten the fraternity system which need recognition. Colleges may exclude the fraternities, as Princeton does, or state legislatures may by enactment declare them illegal.

One may add that nonfraternity residence halls for men, approximating in elegance the fraternity houses, also greatly assist in placing the "barb" upon a somewhat equal footing with the fraternity brother.

Judge Bayes' frank admission concerning the democratization of fraternities may not be to the liking of impulsive young fraternity men who have been wearing their insignia of membership only a few years. More than a half million of the some 700,000 initiated since the American fraternity system was founded 174 years ago are still alive, and the question is vital to all those living members. The truth of his statement must be admitted in the light of facts; and certainly the fraternities are taking steps to bolster up their waning numerical strength.

As a background for the story of how the fraternities are trying to fill up their ranks, let it be recounted that the fraternity system consists of approximately 200 societies with 4,500 chapters in 660 colleges. Of this number, approximately 1,000 chapters are members of honorary scholastic societies and make little effort, if any, to maintain active social groups.

Eleven Hundred Houses

Approximately 2,600 of the remaining 3,500 chapters live in college homes of their own provision. Some 1,100 of these are owned by their occupants and cost about $21,000,000. Furnishings of the homes that are leased, according to fraternity figures, have cost the chapters about $3,000,000 more. At present, about 60,000 college men and women live under their own roofs, and efforts are being made to increase the owned homes. Five thousand freshmen, in round numbers, are initiated each year, while 7,000 older boys are elected to honorary fraternities and societies in recognition for meritorious work in the classroom.

This really remarkable growth, alongside a more rapidly increasing student body, had its inception in "The Flat Hat Club," at the College of William and Mary, in 1750, a literary and social society which held regular meetings, had a secret hand-clasp and issued to its members the first fraternity badge, circular in form, one and three-sixteenths inches in diameter, with plain, smooth edges. As the tradition is told, the first badge was worn by James Innes, distinguished as attorney-general of Virginia after Edmund Randolph. "The Flat Hat Club" lasted some 25 years, no definite record of its proceedings appearing after 1772. Thomas Jefferson, in a letter written to John D. Taylor, of Maryland, stated that he was a member of this club and that "out of it the Phi Beta Kappa, founded in 1776, might have arisen."

Phi Beta Kappa was organized by five students in William and Mary on December 5. John Heath was chosen its first president. This society, whose golden key is now so familiar among college graduates as evidence of scholastic achievement by its possessor among books, was the first society to adopt an Hellenic name and to use the Greek alphabet in naming its individual chapters. This society and Sigma Xi, the honorary scientific society, have now nothing except Greek letters in common with fraternities.

Banned at Princeton

The next important society bearing Greek letters was formed at the University of North Carolina at about the beginning of the War of 1812, while in 1813 a local fraternity of short duration sprang into being at Yale. At Princeton, in 1824, a Greek organization was started, but the faculty effectively put an end to it the following year and for all time at Princeton.

By the middle of the century, fifteen fraternities with many branches had been formed in several colleges; and during the following 15 years the number had increased to 25. By 1865, 375 chapters had been organized, of which 91 had ceased their activities because of faculty displeasure. Only one new fraternity was added to the list between 1869 and 1890, but the number of active chapters increased to 762.

The number of fraternities had increased to 37 by 1900, with 945 chapters actively participating in the work of the organization; and, in 1922, the records tell of 2,000 active chapters in 55 nationals, with 60,000 active members, to whom 20,000 new initiates are being added each year.

To arrive at their present strength, the college fraternities have passed through many vicissitudes, probably the most challenging of which have been the anti-fraternity crusades, waged periodically in many states. The true cause of opposition in the earlier days to student secret societies is ascribed by fraternity men as the "atmosphere of distrust and narrow sectarianism in which the faculty minds had been reared. When they had been students there had been no such thing as individual responsibility; and they still believed that the new generation should conform to the restricted conditions as they themselves had done a generation before."

As a result of the intense opposition, the fraternities passed through a state of extreme secrecy. So rigorous were some of the fraternity laws that a member dared not wear his pin on outer garments; nor could he declare that his fraternity had a chapter at another college without that chapter's permission. The secrecy with which the members regarded their oaths and information of each other's membership depended largely upon the degree of faculty opposition.

Opposition Is Decreasing

The government of the various chapters began to mend after 1870, and with that change opposition slowly withdrew, until today, while it is occasionally bitterly fought in some sections, opposition to college fraternities, not being efficiently organized, is generally of little import.

It is reported by a fraternity investigating committee that, of the approximately 900 institutions of collegiate rank in the United States and Canada, there are no restrictions in about 660 of them, and "the attitudes of the college authorities toward them (fraternities) ranged all the way from ignoring them entirely to full recognition and closest cooperation between the authorities and the fraternities."

The committee found that in 200 of the institutions there are neither fraternities nor sororities, and it declared that an impossible environment explained the absence of the units in many of these. In several of these institutions the fraternities were absent even though no restrictions had been imposed.

Restrictions of various kinds—college regulations, sectarian objections, traditional opposition or legislative prohibitions—appeared in 117, while in 96 the absence was ascribed to "conditions inherent" in them. Administration rules and church inhibitions rule them out in 22 colleges.

The most recent skirmishes between fraternity leaders and the law have taken place in the south. A movement to repeal the anti-fraternity law, originating in the student body of the University of South Carolina, in 1920, failed in that state, and a second attempt at the same result was halted by the fraternity people when they decided it was not the proper time to urge the measure. A similar agitation for repeal of an anti-fraternity measure in Mississippi has not yet borne fruit. Four anti-fraternity bills were prepared in Texas during late 1922 and early 1923, one of which had its inception in the student body of the University of Texas. A special fraternity committee was appointed to deal with the situation, and as a result, none of them were introduced.

President Coolidge Belongs

Fraternities, which, by the way, are indigenous in the United States, are too firmly rooted to be driven out of American colleges and universities. They are less secret now than they were when first formed. Too many prominent public men, including such representatives as President Calvin Coolidge, Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes, and Chief Justice William Howard Taft, have spent their college days in fraternity houses, to permit attacks to be successfully launched against the system.

The fraternities "see the light" in the matter of telling the world what the fraternity means. The interfraternity Conference committee on publicity sets forth three aims for which they strive, the two most important of which are keeping the college authorities informed of fraternity happenings, and trying to educate the general public to a "fuller appreciation of the fraternity ideals and accomplishments."—The Dearborn Independent.

City Park Was Once the Playground of College Sportsters

The first athletic grounds used by the college were in the city park near the diamonds used at the present time. Baseball was the first game played by the students, who were not then organized. The faculty played groups of students and boarding and rooming houses had nines. This was about 30 years ago.

Later the athletic association was organized. Matches were played with Kansas at that time, and games were played in the square where the Bluemont school now is. This lot was used for baseball and football for a number of years.

Then the matter of buying property near the campus for use as an athletic ground was brought up. As property was so high, it was decided to use the southwest corner of the campus for the grounds, although there was some discussion of using the ground west of the engineering building.

Bleachers were brought from the park for the games and a dressing room was built. Football and baseball games, and track meets were held there.

In December 1916, a field day was held for the purpose of improving the grounds. All of the men students and faculty worked enlarging the grounds, tilling the field, and moving the course of the ravine. The rest of the student body prepared dinner for the workers.

Two years ago work was begun on the stadium. The ravine was again changed, the water being carried away underground. The grounds now are used for football and track.

SEPTEMBER WEATHER IS COOLER THAN AVERAGE

Mean Temperature Four Degrees Below 60 Year Average

Although the average mean temperature during September was recorded by the college weather bureau as four degrees below the 60 year average little injury to crops was done by frost. Prof. J. O. Hamilton of the physics department reports. Light frosts occurred on the twenty-eighth, twenty-ninth, and the thirtieth, doing some damage to tender crops in low ground.

The average temperature for the month was 64.71 degrees as opposed to the average mean September temperature of 68.55. The highest temperature was 95 degrees on the fourth, several degrees below the records of 109 in 1893 and 107 in 1922. The lowest temperature during the past month was 25. The lowest September temperature on record here is 25 degrees in 1876.

Rainfall measured 2.51 inches, somewhat less than the normal September precipitation of 3.30 inches. The highest rainfall record for September is that of 1916 when 8.12 inches fell, and September, 1892, holds the low record with .36 of an inch.

A fairly heavy hailstorm occurred on the fifteenth. Some glass was broken but as there was little wind and vegetation was well advanced little damage resulted.

The weather was about average in regard to sunshine and cloudiness. There were three cloudy days, 13 clear days, and 14 partly cloudy days.

BACHMAN PROUD OF FROSH SQUAD

BELIEVES ATHLETIC GROWTH DUE TO STADIUM

Urges All Alumni to Attend Homecoming Game—Gives Speech Over Radio

That the normal and healthy growth in athletics at Kansas State Agricultural college, shown by the steadily increasing number of freshmen striving to qualify for the football team, is closely connected with the building of the Memorial Stadium, is the belief of Coach C. W. Bachman, expressed in a short talk to alumni and friends of the institution over radio during the special alumni program broadcast through station KFKB Monday night.

"You can imagine how proud and satisfied I felt last year to know that far more freshmen were trying to qualify for this year's football team than ever before," Coach Bachman said. "This year the situation is the same, but to a much greater extent. I know that every alumnus of the college will be glad to know that this fall about 175 husky young freshmen are eager for the chance to do their part in upholding the proud position the Aggies now hold in Missouri Valley conference football."

"Last year we lost most of our regular football team. These men had two, and most of them three, years of experience with our system of football. The men who were responsible for our wonderful forward passing record, with one exception, are gone. This year we have to depend upon the freshman material of last year. There are some promising men in the lot, however, and we are blessed with an unusual amount of reserve material, the lack of which has been the weakness of Aggie teams for the past four years."

"What the 1924 team lacks in football knowledge and experience we hope will be offset by more weight, more speed, and keener competition for positions. The Aggie team from all present indications will perform on the field in such a manner as to reflect credit to the school and to uphold the traditions of Aggie football."

"Let me remind you that our homecoming game is with Nebraska on November 22. You all know what a reputation the Cornhuskers have in football. They play a brand of football that is nationally admired and last year were the only team to register a defeat against the powerful Notre Dame eleven. The present seating capacity of the Memorial Stadium has made it possible to bring that team here for the first time since 1916. You owe it to your college and to your team to make at least one visit to the campus every year and let this be the occasion. If you will make the trip on homecoming day, I am sure that you will see a game that you will long remember."

We Do Not Realize Value of Inventions, Says Chinese Student

"I came to the United States to learn all I can regarding the country, its people, their ways of doing things, and their likes and dislikes," said P. L. Lim, of Canton, China, who is attending K. S. A. C.

Mr. Lim is the son of a prominent Chinese banker. He came to the United States in 1916 with his brother, P. Y. Lim, who was attending K. S. A. C. at that time, and completed the work of the grades and high school in Manhattan in six years. He is enrolled in rural commerce this fall.

"You people have so many great inventions," said Mr. Lim, "that you take them as a matter of fact, and do not realize their value. With us it is different. Many of the articles that you people consider as very common in this country are very expensive in mine." As an example of this, Mr. Lim mentioned galvanized metal ware. He says that the art of galvanizing is considered one of the greatest inventions among the Chinese.

LIGHT IS ESSENTIAL TO PROPER EGG HATCHABILITY

Experiments of Professors Hughes and Payne Prove Ultra-Violet and Sun's Rays Best

That the kind of light to which hens are exposed has a very definite effect on the health of the fowls and the hatchability of eggs produced has been shown by Prof. L. F. Payne, head of the department of poultry husbandry, working with Prof. J. S. Hughes of the department of chemistry. A report on the investigation work of Professor Payne and Dr. Hughes was read at a recent meeting of the American Association of Poultry Instructors and Investigators at Raleigh, N. C.

Ultra-violet light and sunlight were used in the experiment, and their value proved. Importance of an open or glass front hen house also was shown in the work.

The experiment was performed at the college. In carrying out the experiment, two pens of hens were used. For the first two weeks the hens in one pen were exposed to Ultra-violet light, while the hens in the other received only the light of the room. At the end of this period, the hens in the first pen were in good health and their eggs had a high percentage of hatchability, while the hens in pen two were unhealthy and their eggs had a low percentage of hatchability. During the next two weeks the process was reversed, with the result that just the opposite effect was obtained.

This is one of the most successful accomplishments of Professors Hughes and Payne, who have been working together on experiments for some time. They expect to carry this experiment further in an effort to determine which has the greatest effect on the hatchability of eggs, Ultra-violet light, or sunlight.

The hissing Iguana, a giant marine lizard four feet long, exists only on the Galapagos Archipelago off the coast of Ecuador. It lives about the seashore and feeds on seaweeds, sleeping in a burrow of the earth or in a lava crevice at night.

Judge Alfred J. Talley, of the Court of General Sessions in New York City, while inducting into office a new jurist said, "One of the things that you will come to learn is that you have come on the bench of the greatest criminal court in the world, and the oldest court of any kind in the United States, at a time when this country is suffering under an indictment which proclaims it to be the most lawless on earth. You will find that the United States must plead guilty to that indictment. Most of the desperate criminals are mere boys. You will be heartbroken at discovering that the vast majority of defendants are under-19 or 20 years old. That is going to be your most distressing problem."

On the day of an eclipse of the sun the Hindu follows a strict schedule to purify himself and his belongings. He takes no nourishment of any kind during the eclipse and throws away any cooked food or drinking water he may have on hand. Brass vessels are scoured and earthen pots destroyed. Personal purification must be achieved by a bath in some stream, preferably one of the holy rivers of India.

Grimes to Address Seminar

W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics will talk at the first general agricultural seminar, October 9. The subject of his talk will be, "The Present Agricultural Situation, Its Causes and Permanency." This is the first year that general agricultural seminars have been held.

You can get all your music supplies and text books at Brown's Branch Music Store, East College Gate. 10-3t.

Orin Correll returned Monday from Camp Perry, Ohio, where he has been stationed in the Reserve Officers Training Camp. Mr. Correll received several marksmanship medals and ranked third in the Kansas division of 1400 men. He enrolled in school Tuesday as a junior in the division of general science.

A deckman on the 16,000 ton liner Arabic was swept from one deck of the ship by the onrushing water in a heavy storm. He was landed by another sea on the deck below uninjured except for minor bruises.

A food economics and nutrition seminar is being held each Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the staff members of the department. At these meetings topics of general interest are presented and discussed by the members.

Prof. W. B. Balch of the horticulture department went to Wichita Sunday to assist in making preparations for the Wichita flower show.

Guatemala ranges in altitude all the way from sea level to about 14,000 feet, or nearly as high as Pike's Peak, with an average elevation of probably 5,000 feet. The temperature varies from 50 to 85, with cool nights all the year round in the temperate altitudes.

The Brownings held a program and business meeting Saturday afternoon. It was decided to hold the program at 1 o'clock on October 11 because of the Emporia game. The program Saturday was as follows: Devotionals, Hypatia Wilcox; music, Edna Unruh; Bluebird, Mildred Baker, editor; music, Dorothy Zeller; stunt, "And the Lamp Went Out," in charge of Jessie Campbell.

DATE SET FOR AGGIE POP NIGHT

ANNUAL STUNTS WILL BE GIVEN
DECEMBER 5 AND 6

Chi Omegas Now Hold Cup—Revised Rules Sent to Organizations
Last Week

"Aggie pop," annual organization stunt entertainment, has been scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights,
December 5 and 6.

First Tryouts November 13

Semi-final tryouts for the entertainments will be November 13, and the dress rehearsal is December 1.
Manuscripts must be submitted complete by November 3.

Each organized group on the hill is expected to prepare a stunt for presentation on "pop" night. Seven of these will be chosen at the preliminary tryouts as competitors for the "pop" loving cup.

Chi Omegas Won Last Year

Last year Chi Omega won first with a stunt entitled, "All the Year Round." Alpha Theta Chi was second with, "One Out of Many;" and Alpha Delta Pi, third on the presentation of, "At the Sign of the Blue Bell Boy."

Competition in 1923 was keen both in the finals and preliminary tryouts. Seven judges will make the final decision; four being from out of town and three townspeople. The organization winning first gets possession of the silver loving cup for one year.

New Rules Sent Out

A revised list of rules for presentation of acts, was mailed out to all organizations last week. Each organization expecting to compete is requested to send the name of its
"pop" manager to the Y. W. C. A.
office.

Winners of the prize cup for the last seven years are as follows: 1922,
Kappa Kappa Gamma; 1921, Pi Beta
Phi; 1920, Ionia Literary Society;
1919, Aggie Press club; 1918, Euro-delphian Literary society; 1917, Pi
Beta Phi; 1916, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Virginia Deal Chairman

The committees in charge of Pop Night are as follows: Virginia Deal, chairman; Achsa Johnson, business manager; Elma Hendrickson, correspondence; Marie Farmer and Inez
Jones, specialties; Opal Endsley, concessions; Alice Paddelford and Eleanor Mims, judges; Virginia
Reeder and Capitola Bassett, publicity.

THETA SIGS PLEDGE THREE

Women's Journalism Fraternity
Elects Members for the Year

Three new members have been elected to Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalism fraternity. They are: Ruth Bachelder, Fredonia; Miriam Dexter, Manhattan; and Genevieve Tracy, Manhattan, all juniors in the department of industrial journalism.

To qualify for Theta Sigma Phi it was necessary for these girls to make an average of G in scholarship and to sell a story to a newspaper or magazine.

SANDZEN'S LITHOGRAPHS ON EXHIBITION UNTIL OCT. 18

Motifs of New Prints Are from Norway and Sweden

Ten of the latest lithographs by Birger Sandzen are on exhibition in the architectural exhibition room on the third floor of the engineering building. Mr. Sandzen returned in June from Sweden and Norway and the motifs of this set of lithographs are from these countries. The prints will be on exhibit and for sale until Saturday, October 18. There are also on exhibit and for sale some etchings by Ernest Hoehman, an Austrian artist.

The department of applied art has arranged for Mr. Sandzen to give a series of three lectures here this fall.
The exact date will be announced later.

"FRIVOL FOLLIES," NAME OF ANNUAL DANCE REVUE

Twenty-seven Coeds Have Been Chosen for Parts—Date Probably November 15

"Frivol Follies" will be the name of the annual dancing program which is held each year in Nichols gymnasium under the auspices of the Women's Athletic association. After the program of specialty dances there will be general dancing.

Three specialty dances, "The Girl from the East," "Little Old New York," and "A Musical Comedy Revue" will be given. They are based on the musical comedy idea and will have singing and dancing leads and choruses. Harry Wilson, baritone on the college quartette, will sing and dance with the chorus in "The Girl from the East."

All girls in college were eligible and out of the 65 who tried out 27 were chosen for parts. The girls who were chosen were: Elizabeth Anderson, Rowena Brown, Evelyn
Boyce, Mary Boone, Ruth Cross, Vel-ma Criner, Nell Conroy, Laura Fay-man, Harriet Geffert, Elsie Hayden, Rachel Herley, Mildred Huddleston,
Inez Jones, Luella Lancaster, Mildred Matter, Eleanor Mims, Betty McCoin, Frances McCoin, Irene
Patchen, Lucille Parker, Esther Rodewald, Mary Reed, Thelma Shafer, Dorothy Stevenson, Myrna Smale, Jo Trindle, and Laureda
Thompson.

In "The Girl from the East" individual parts will be taken by Laura Fayman, Rowena Brown,
Myrna Smale, Inez Jones, and Harry Wilson. Elsie Hayden will play the individual role in "Little Old New York." The lead for "A Musical Comedy Revue" has not been announced.

OVER 300 HEAR SENATOR CURTIS AT FORUM MEETING

Ralph O'Neill of Topeka to Speak at This Week's Forum

Over 300 students, faculty members and townspeople attended the student forum at the college cafeteria last Thursday noon. Senator Charles Curtis, Republican senator from Kansas and Republican whip in the senate for the past 18 years, was the speaker. He discussed state and national politics from the Republican viewpoint, and brought out facts regarding the Teapot Dome oil scandal.

Ralph T. O'Neill, of Topeka, candidate for the Democratic nomination for attorney general and one of the prominent Democrats of Kansas, will be the speaker at the forum this week. He will discuss the political views of the Democratic party.

Next week, Western Starr, Washington correspondent for the Federated Press, will discuss the views of the third party, and present reasons why the people of the country should support La Follette.

The student forum meetings are becoming more popular every week.
The first week over 200 attended, and last week over 300. The first 20 minutes during the noon hour is devoted to eating and fellowship. The latter period is devoted to speaking.
A good plate lunch, costing twenty-five cents is served.

At the present time 50 students are enrolled in the various courses of the agricultural college. The college is especially well equipped, according to Mr. Levine, for training men in animal husbandry, including dairying, and in agronomy, horticulture, agricultural manufacturing, and seri-ciculture.

WILDCATS WIN IN HARD GAME

NORMAL TEAM SHOWS AGGIES
GOOD FIGHT

Aggies Pull Through with Straight Football—Have Considerable
Reserve Power in Leash

With a fight that indicated that
K. U. is in for a real battle next Saturday the Aggies last Saturday defeated the Kansas State Teachers from Emporia 19 to 6. Although the Wildcats outplayed the Teachers in most phases of the game they did not have the contest "on ice" until the last few minutes of play.

Both Teams Fight

Both teams fought to the limit thru the entire game and at no time did the Teachers show a let-up in fight. With the score 13 to 0 against them the Yellow-jackets started the second half with a rush that, had it not been for a fumble, might have changed the result of the game completely.

Although their backs were against the wall in one or two instances the Aggies pulled through with straight football, showing a reserve that indicates a great deal more power than was used. The same plays were used throughout the game and Bach's new formations will still be a secret to be sprung on the Jayhawks.

In the first quarter the ball was kept most of the time in Aggie territory. Few passes were attempted.
Emporia came close to scoring once when an attempted field kick failed.
The outstanding play of the period was a 20 yard broken field run by Harris, Emporia halfback.

March Down Field

In the second quarter the Aggies started a march down the field that took them to within a yard of the goal but Havley lost the ball on a fumble. Wilson, halfback, made the biggest gain in this series of plays, going 14 yards on one play. After Emporia had punted the ball out to the middle of the field the Aggies again started for the goal; Mildrex-ter going over for the first touchdown with about a half minute of play left. Cochrane kicked goal.

In the third quarter the Aggies used a few passes successfully. Captain Munn made a brilliant run for the second touchdown in this quarter after receiving a pass from Butcher on the 20-yard line and shaking off a tackler.

Teachers Spring Surprise

The Aggies went into the last quarter with a victory practically certain but the Teachers broke away with a series of plays that took them down the field for their only touchdown, McCoy carrying the ball over.
Koch failed to kick goal. Soon after this the Teachers again started a drive that forced the Aggies to punt from their 20-yard line. Cochrane's punt was blocked and altho he recovered the ball on the 3-yard line
it was given to Emporia on a penalty.
Three downs put the ball within a foot of the goal but McCoy lost it on a fumble and the Teachers' chance of tying the score was lost.

The Aggies then broke loose and it was impossible for the Emporians to get near the goal again. The final touchdown was made by Hoffman, Aggie half, after a beautiful 25-yard dash through the entire team of Yellow-jackets. Mildrexter tried to kick goal but failed. After this touchdown Coach Bachman began putting substitutes in and the game ended like the one with Washburn, with few starters playing.

sity, referee; W. H. Giles, St. Joseph Mo., umpire; Steve O'Rourke, Holy Cross, head linesman.

Notes on the Game

The Teachers went down to glorious defeat Saturday not only in the big game but in the special football classic held between halves.

Mildrexter showed his ability at hitting the line when he lugged the ball for good gains on practically every play in the first half.

Cochrane booted the ball over the goal line on every kick off and averaged 47.6 yards in punting. This makes Wildcat stock go up in next Saturday's game as the Jayhawk punts fell in the 20 yard class in their game with Ames.

Captain Lyle Munn was the outstanding star in the line and his work on both the offensive and defensive will make him one of the leading candidates for a valley end.

The Aggies completed five out of eight passes in the Teachers' game and thus upheld their last year's record of over 50 per cent of passes completed.

Miss Jessie McDowell Machir and Prof. R. R. Price were college representatives to the Kansas Association of Registrars which was held at Lawrence Saturday.

Miss Florence True, who is teaching home economics in the high school at Chapman, spent the weekend here as a guest of Miss Aldene Scantlin.

ARTIST SERIES IS WEDNESDAY

CHICAGO GRAND OPERA COM-PANY TO OPEN CONCERTS

Lucie Westen Carries Title Role in "Secret of Susanne"—Comic Opera

"If you could have been at the rehearsal of the Chicago Opera trio this morning, I am sure you would go back home and simply compel every good friend of yours to go to hear them. I consider this company the finest company
I have ever booked, although I have sold attractions for as much as $4,000. There is real worth to this company musically. What is more, it is entertaining and interesting almost beyond description. It is easily worth double the money of the company I had out last year in the same production."
—Clarence E. Cramer, Manager, in letter received by Prof. Ira Pratt yesterday.

The first number of the 1924 K. S.
A. C. Artist series, "The Secret of Susanne," will be presented in the college auditorium tomorrow night at 8:15 by the Chicago Grand Opera trio, featuring Lucie Westen, coloratura soprano, who sings the title role, "Susanne;" William Rogerson, for three years leading tenor with the Chicago Grand Opera, who sings the role of "Sante," the mute butler; and Edouard Cotreuil, famous French bass baritone, who sings the part of "Count Gil."

Concerts at K. U. and Emporia

Season tickets will be on sale today and tomorrow at the box office in the college auditorium. The tickets are selling for $2.00 and $3.00, with single admission tickets for each concert at $1.50. The Chicago Grand Opera trio is also booked to give concerts at Lawrence and Emporia this fall. Season tickets for the winter entertainment series at Kansas university are selling for $5.00 and $6.00.

"The Secret of Susanne" is a comic opera, built about the domestic troubles of a young married couple.
"The story is very entertaining and when presented by these competent artists will undoubtedly be worth while," states Professor Pratt.

Miss Westen and William Rogerson are both American artists of unusual ability. They have appeared with the Chicago Grand Opera company with such artists as Galli-Curci and Florence Macbeth. Mr. Cotreuil is of French birth and has made many appearances at the Opera Comique in Paris.

Popular at University of Arkansas

"The Secret of Susanne" was presented at Milliken university and at the University of Arkansas, and proved to be the most popular attraction presented there during the year.

"It was as entertaining as a musical comedy," said the music critic.
"Even the lady who jibes from the woman's page was there, and apparently finding as much satisfaction in it as she does when her soul is thrilled by Harold Lloyd's sublime performance of hanging from the skyscraper cornice by his toes."

The music in "Susanne" is sufficiently great that the Chicago Symphony orchestra played the overture on a number of programs this year.
The opera requires slightly less than an hour to sing, and therefore the various artists of the company will devote the first part of the evening to singing some of the famous duets and trios of the world's best literature.

World Agriculture Delegate Here

Asher Hobson, American delegate to the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, visited K. S. A. C. last week to confer with officials of the agricultural experiment station regarding research work on world agricultural problems.

The International Institute of Agriculture is engaged in collecting and disseminating statistics and other information regarding world agriculture. The organization consists of representatives of 53 nations.

Mr. Hobson has been the American delegate for about one year and is now in this country for a few weeks' visit, expecting to return to Rome this fall. He is a native of Osage county, Kansas.

Purple Masque to Give the College a Big Treat Soon

Shrieks of horror will greet the appearance of the ghost of Jerry Bun-dler, Friday evening, October 24.
The one act drama, "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler," by W. W. Jacobs and Charles Rock, is one of the cleverest of mystery plays. When it is presented by an all star Aggie caste, chosen after the three day try-outs held by the Purple Masque fraternity, the most fastidious play-goer could not be disappointed.

Two other plays will be presented at this time. One, "Questioning Fate" from the "Affairs of Anatol" by Arthur Schnitzler, and "For All Time" by Rita Wellman are equally interesting.

Those movie fans who saw Wallie
Reed play in the "Affairs of Anatol" will vote the sketch an attraction of note. "For All Time" has proved itself a popular lyceum number. Redpath-Horner used it last season on their eastern circuit.

An announcement will be made
Friday of the members of the casts of these plays. Members of Purple Masque advises that the Aggies had better save up a few pennies, for the entertainment is one that is worth viewing. A combination of love scenes, hair-raising mystery and just clever nonsense will feature strongly.

Miss Hyde Named Candidate

Classroom teachers of the Fifth congressional district have nominated Miss Emma Hyde, assistant professor of Mathematics in K. S. A. C. as their candidate for membership on the board of directors of the Kansas State Teachers' association. The other candidates are Supt. W. S.
Heusner, of Salina, and Supt. W. O.
Stark, of Belleville. The election will be held during the sessions of the association October 16, 17, 18, in Topeka, Hays, Hutchinson, and Parsons. All members of the association who teach in the Fifth congressional district are eligible to vote.
Miss Hyde has taken a very active part in the state organization of classroom teachers. She was president of this organization last year.

W. E. Watkins in New York

W. E. Watkins, who received his master's degree at the end of summer school, is now working for the National Biscuit company, New York City. Mr. Watkins is working in the production laboratory and is making technical tests on flour in order to know its quality. Mr. Watkins majored in the department of Milling industry and he wrote his thesis on "A Study of Gluten Quality as Affected by Varying Reactions on Both Sides of the Isoelectric Point."

Minister, Ramsay MacDonald. The names of the men on the team are:
M. E. MacDonald, J. D. Woodruff, and
M. C. Hollis. The English team is touring the United States and will debate several valley schools. On the Monday after the debate here the British team will debate at the University of Kansas on the prohibition question.

No Admission Price

No admission will be charged for the debate here. This will be unusual for a debate of this kind. At the University of Kansas the admission will be 50 cents and $1. At Harvard University last year 2,200 seats were sold at the top price of $2 a seat.

Audience to Be Judges

For the first time in the debate history of the college the audience decision system will be used. There will be no appointed judges but decision will be made by the vote of the audience.

Members of the Aggie team will be chosen from the following men:
Thomas Ferris, Fairbury, Neb.;
Kingsley Given, Manhattan; Robert
Hedberg, Parkville, Mo.; James
Price, Manhattan; Emil Sunley, Paola; Cecil Walt, Gove; and Forrest Whan, Manhattan.

PLEDGE SIGMA DELTA CHI

Honorary Journalistic Fraternity Announces Pledging of Short and Chappell

The Kansas State chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's honorary and professional journalism fraternity, announces the pledging of Byron Short, of Fredonia, and Kenneth Chappell, of Manhattan, both seniors in Industrial Journalism.

Entrance requirements for Sigma Delta Chi are based upon general scholarship and special ability in the field of journalism.

Sigma Delta Chi is a national organization, being founded in 1909 at Dartmouth university. The Kansas State chapter was installed in 1916.

ARGENTINEAN VISITS K. S. A. C.

President of South American College
After Pointers for Own School

Dr. Silvio Spangenberg, president of the College of Agriculture at Santa Fe, Argentina, spent Monday, October 6, at the college. He is spending 25 days touring the United States in order to study the growth of corn, especially in the Kansas, Nebraska, and Iowa corn regions. The report of his investigation will be used by professors in the Argentine college.

Between 85 and 90 students are enrolled in the school. A regular course of study is given during the first three years while the last year is devoted to practical work on the farm. After graduation more than 85 per cent of the students go back on farms to live.

Mrs. Spangenberg is touring with her husband in order to investigate home economics courses in the various schools. In this way she hopes to stimulate enough interest in the South American institution to provide for a home economics course.

BULGARIAN STUDENT ENROLS

Will Study the Methods of Seed Selection

Dr. Gabriel Proticheff, of Bulgaria, who was sent to America by the Minister of Agriculture at Sofia, has enrolled in K. S. A. C. He will study the methods of seed selection employed in the U. S., especially regarding corn and wheat.

In addition to the above work he expects to investigate the methods used in various colleges.

Miss Emily Bennett and Miss Ruth
Hartman spent Saturday in Topeka.

Miss Helen Williams of Chanute is visiting Miss Elizabeth Davis and Miss Helen Norton.

M. U. AND DRAKE

It is just a bit too early in the season to pick a probable valley championship winner but we hazard a guess that Missouri and Drake will be among the topnotchers after the final game is played.

There are a few valley teams that are seldom of championship caliber and the early season games so far show that these few haven't much chance this year. Washington and Grinnell seem to be destined to stand on the two lower rungs of the Valley ladder although it is quite possible that Washington may land higher up.

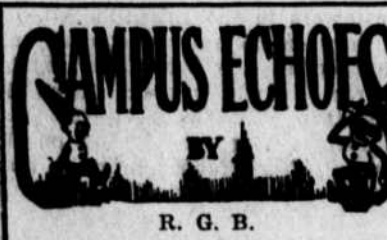

Oklahoma University in her first game seemed to be almost out of the running as she lost the game to the Central Teachers of the same state for the first time in 20 years. However last Saturday she showed an entire reversal of form and trounced Nebraska, last year's King of the Conference. And Nebraska this season is almost as strong as usual as the powerful Illinois eleven, a big ten team, had only a three point margin over her.

Missouri and Drake seem to be the only two valley teams showing unusually powerful elvans this early in the season. Missouri in her first game conquered Chicago, another big ten member, by a small score and then last Saturday won a non-conference game quite easily. Drake has played two games outside the valley so far and won both. They journeyed to Utah for the first battle and stayed in Des Moines last Saturday. Drake placed second in the valley last year. Its percentage of games won was exactly the same as Nebraska's but the Huskers gained more prestige from their victories and sports authorities generally conceded her the championship.

And then we have hopes of a Wildcat championship although it is too early to know the Aggies' power against teams of valley caliber. The defeat of Washburn was accomplished easily enough but the Normal game looked somewhat dangerous at times. Kansas conference dope places the Emporians among the strong contenders for the state championship and if they are as strong as they are supposed to be last Saturday's victory speaks well for the Aggies.

The Ames team may continue their winning streak and place high in the standings but it is doubtful. Its win over Kansas university was due more to K. U. weaknesses than to Iowa State strength. Kansas university seems to be on the down grade in football at present but a surprise may be looked for from Lawrence at any time.

The outcome of the games this Saturday will furnish a good lineup on valley prospects as every team will be playing, or will have played, a conference opponent.

Great consternation among the student body! What, now that the S. S. G. A. has smothered the "flea-hop" and its cousin step, will our old friends Max Brumbrugh and "Phat" Miller use at the Varsity?

Harry made another clever remark the other day, but rather than give him satisfaction for seeing it in print we refuse to print it. And we can't believe everything he says. He tried to make it universally known that he is enrolled in Irish III. He couldn't possibly be taking more than II.

Personal:
H. S. M. Never kiss my girl again just after you have eaten onions. I can't stand the taste of onions.—E. V. A.

The little remark made in chapel concerning the making of a gentleman out of a sophomore went over big. Or else the freshman class can make a terrific amount of noise.

Some day someone is going to fall from a radio tower and in all probabilities mar the beauty of the Wildcat cage permanently. S. S. G. A. should look into the matter.

The "thru college unknissed" contest is all off. We caught Harry at it. He claims that when a veil is used it doesn't count, but we can't trust him now. And besides you should have seen whom he had!

The other valley schools will be interested to learn that Aggie spirits are fine this year.

Does politeness pay? Emphatically not! We know a chap who is flunking for that very reason! Yes. He has to wait for about 30 of the blamed girls to slowly meander out of the door and down the hall. And he is always late and thus loses the good graces of the instructor and incidentally a fair per cent of his grade.

It hasn't been definitely decided yet whether the girl who didn't know the teams in the world series or the one who didn't know the Republican nominees, will get the prize for the dumbest of the dumb.

Pome

He saw her on the street car.
How he loved to make a hit!
But he couldn't do a thing, poor devil!

He had no place to sit.

Pep meeting was a great success. Everyone had some enthusiasm. The boys outnumbered the girls for the first time in years. The freshmen learned some yells. The show was good. Oh, yes! And Mike and Doc got off some good jokes.

I have been reading "Distressing Dialogues," a recent book written by Nancy Boyd and published by Harper & Brothers, with a preface by Edna St. Vincent Millay.

"It is intended," explains Miss Millay, "for readers who instinctively reject the knife as a vehicle for green peas without consulting the book of etiquette."

It is also intended, I think, for all those who, while hopping about the green in filmy cheesecloth during a spring May fete, instinctively feel that the ancient Greeks didn't do it just that way.

"I am tired of seeing a group of respectable young women garbed in pastel shades of home dyed cheesecloth, limping discreetly about in reticent abandon, to the tune of something or other in three-four time," says Miss Boyd in her essay on "The Greek Dance." "I am tired of the curved elbow, the limp wrist, the dangling hand, the lifted knee, the thrown-back head, the parted mouth, the inarticulate bust—restrained by a bathrobe cord—the pointed finger of innocence leveled at the oppressor of Belgium, the look that registers horror, the look that registers woe, and the look that registers that spring is here."

"I am tired of beholding three young things in their chemises, each with one raised hand loosely clasping the raised hands of the others and one leg floating in the air behind her, registering a basket of flowers."

"I am tired of baby-blue, bassinet-pink, hope-chest white, undefined longing-lilac, suppressed desire-yellow, and maiden's hair-mauve."

Miss Boyd has discovered what is wrong with the modern version of the Greek dance. "There are too many unattended ladies in it," she says. "Women are always monotonous in groups of more than one."

Artists of the pen and typewriter who are prone to discouragement after receiving the twenty-seventh rejection slip should read Miss Boyd's advice to the art-lorn: "Remember this. When all else fails, two courses remain to a man: he can always give lectures on the drama, or edit anthologies of verse; for neither of these is either talent or training necessary."

One feels that the author of "Distressing Dialogues" is having a lot of fun saying just what she pleases, that she's making up for a childhood misspent in the ways of righteousness. "As a child I was the soul of honor," she states frankly. "Nay, more, I was . . . honor's liver and lights. I was one of those teacher-I-know-and-please-let-me-wash-the-blackboard-for-you children. . . . At Sunday school . . . the Beatitudes and the Ten Commandments were to my tongue as the street and number of my house; and never for one impious moment did it slip my mind that James and John were the sons of Zebedee. . . . My college days were saccharine with filial submission and glutinous with social zeal. I was treasurer of all the societies for the promotion of, the prevention of, and the benefit of."

Some of the most sprightly satires in the book are "How to Be Happy Though Good," in which Miss Boyd repents of her mild youth and takes the negative side of the "virtue is its own reward" question; "Art and How to Fake It," "Here Comes the Bride," "Ships and Sealing Wax," "Rolls and Salt," and "Tea for the Muse." There are really choice bits in "The Implacable Aphrodite" and "Two Souls With But a Single Thought," and "I Like Americans" is, but one must stop somewhere, even when reviewing as delightful and quotable a volume as "Distressing Dialogues."—J. F. H.

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

Dear Editor:

Another football game is history and once more the Aggie rooters failed to live up to one of the finest old traditions of the college. Not once did the college yell roll across the field to carry courage to the toiling players. It has been the same now for two years. Last year the old yell was heard on stadium field only twice and both of those feeble attempts were started by the rooters in the stands.

What is the college yell anyway? I doubt if half of the students on the hill know that such a thing exists, and yet it is as old as football itself at K. S. A. C. Anyone, not an Aggie, would think that "fifteen rahs" or "hip! hip! hurrah!" was the Aggie yell if he attended a football game now. That is an intolerable situation when we actually have a college yell of many years' standing, one which has rolled across the gridiron for generations; one which embodies courage, power, faith, and has warmed the heart of many a lagging warrior; one which brings the rooter's head up with a snap and swells his heart. But this yell has been discarded, and why? Strange, isn't it, that Aggie rooters found it good for 30 years and then dropped it in 1922. I have heard it said that the coaches did not like the yell because it had no pep. That, however, is no reason for discontinuing its use. We are all backing the coaches in building a winning Aggie team. We will back them to the last ditch and then jump in the ditch with them if necessary, but I don't believe we should be asked not to use our Aggie yell. Do you think for one minute that Missouri would give up their "Hurray! Hurrah! Mizou! Mizou!" or Kansas her "Rock Chalk!" because the coaches did not like those yells? Not in a million years! Why? Because those yells are a badge of brotherhood between graduates of those institutions the world over. A "Rock Chalk" given in the Grand Central Station would draw a crowd of Kansas men together in a twinkling. And that is the way it should be with our beloved "Jay Rah!" Alumni everywhere know and love the old yell. Wherever they get together they yell it and your heart would swell to hear them do it. But what are the alumni of the coming years going to yell at alumni meetings? "Fifteen rahs?" I can't imagine such a situation and I know a lot of other alumni who can't. After some of the games last year I heard old grads express bitter disappointment that "Jay Rah!" was not yelled.

I will admit that the coaches, or anyone else, had cause for complaint about the lack of pep in the old yell the way it was yelled the last year it was used. That was the fault of the cheerleaders, however, and not of the yell. It is a cheer that cannot be used if the leaders do not know it thoroughly and work together on it, and if they cannot carry the rooters with them. Very often the cheer was started at a key too high or too low for a majority of the rooters. There is no excuse for that with the band always present to give the proper key. Neither can this yell be properly given without practice, but what are pep meetings for if not for yell practice? Every freshman ought to know "Jay! Rah!" by heart before next Saturday. Yea! every Aggie ought to know it, and when the team comes on the field that day old "Jay! Rah!" ought to roll out to them with such power as to cause every purple clad warrior to grit his teeth, clench his fists and resolve to set the Jayhawk back on his haunches.—C. O. Johnston, '18.

To the Editor:—

Aggie traditions. Bah! Such a remark might have expressed the feelings of any loyal Aggie as he sat in the cheering section of the stadium last Saturday and watched that splendid smoke screen as it gently drifted north on the breeze.

But college life is new and so much different that one should not be expected to remember everything all at once. If it takes two or even three games before one acquires the habit of removing the cap when Alma Mater is sung, the time will be well spent.

And if a few will kindly remember that they are still on the campus when they are in the stadium, there will be no danger that Aggie traditions will not be upheld.—Lyle Mayfield.

On Other Hills

The student activity fee paid on registration is to include a subscription to the college annual at Washburn. Such a plan will assure a wider circulation and will provide every student with a copy of the "Kaw," and will do away with the collecting that is so difficult in any student body.

Members of Women's Pan-Hellenic Council at Ohio State University declare that the present system of rushing for sororities provides too many chances for legal evasions of the rules and a movement is now under way to supplant the present plan with second quarter rushing. The system that is to be adopted is one that has proven very satisfactory in a number of universities. The provisions will permit small groups of girls being entertained during the first quarter, and will make the first weeks of school easier for both freshman women and affiliated girls.

The editorial column of the Bulletin, K. S. T. C., carried the announcement of the Radio Extension Course to be offered by K. S. A. C.

Organizations and individuals in the military department at South Dakota State college will be offered four silver cups, an officer's saber, and at least eight gold medals in recognition for excellence in R. O. T. C. during the year.

A Union Pacific special from Lawrence will bring a large delegation of rooters for the game Saturday. Special round trip rates are being made which will be good from Friday to Sunday night.

Only three fraternity houses in a group of twenty which were included in a census taken at Ohio State University complied with the city fire laws in the ruling that all houses in which there are occupants on the third floor must have either two stairways or a fire escape.

Freshmen at K. U. must choose between football and track. In order to assure the freshman coach that he will have ample material out to practice every evening a ruling has been passed that all members of the freshman squad will be ineligible for the competition in the intramural and field events unless they sever connection with the foot-ball squad.

Danes Laugh at Football

A description of how football is played in America provoked mirth in an assembly of Danish students, according to John Dvneley Prince, American minister to Denmark, who lectured recently to the Copenhagen University Students' association on "Student Life in America."

"I went into the subject of hazing," says Professor Prince, "and gave them a view of some freshmen newly painted, and I also endeavored to describe a cane rush, for which there is of course, no expression in Danish. All this caused much laughter, and one of the professors expressed the hope that it might not set a bad example."

"Of football, as we play it, they know nothing, so I showed some illustrations and gave a brief lecture on our methods. They asked whether we did not have a field hospital and stretcher bearers, and on my reply, 'Of course,' the whole hall went into spasms of laughter."—The New Student.

College Men

now keep their hair smooth, lustrous, always in place

Today, as never before, college men have smooth, well-kept hair.

Why? A few years ago the hair was a nuisance to almost everyone, for it was usually the least attractive part of the appearance—always unkempt and unsightly an hour after being combed.

There was no way, then, to keep it from being so. Old-fashioned pomades only matted it and made it greasy. Water evaporated quickly and left it drier and more unruly than ever.

Today everyone can have smooth, neatly combed hair.

Now Stacomb—a delicate, invisible cream for keeping the hair in place—has changed all that.

It is responsible for the amazingly improved appearance of men's hair. And it has made possible for every woman, however "difficult" her hair, the new smooth effect so much in vogue.

In clubs and fraternities, at the theatre or the game, today you can seldom find even one case of unkempt hair.

People who know that the hair can ruin the whole appearance—people who are careful about the way they look—have given Stacomb an important place on their chiffonier or dressing table.

No matter how dry and straggly your hair may be—no matter how uncontrollable after being washed—Stacomb will keep it always in place, smooth, lustrous, natural. A touch of it in the morning when you comb your hair—and all day long your hair will be just as you want it, for Stacomb will keep it smoothly in place until you go to bed at night.

You can get Stacomb in convenient jars and tubes, at all drug and department stores. Non-staining and non-greasy. Use it tomorrow morning—and look your best all day!

A Common Mistake About Eye Troubles

MANY people think their eyes need medical treatment when they do not. They seek relief by the use of "washes," "drops" and similar treatment, when the trouble is wholly mechanical. The cure is glasses, not medicine.

We do not use or prescribe medicine. If it is needed, we advise seeing an oculist.

We are experts in examining eyes and fitting glasses to end eye strain, which causes poor vision, headaches and other distress. You are under experienced, professional care when you consult us about your eyes.

Butcher Gets Advancement

A. M. Butcher, '16, formerly of the oil production division, Empire companies, has been appointed assistant purchasing agent in Bartlesville, Okla. Mr. Butcher joined the Empire companies in 1916, when he entered the cadet school of the Denver Gas and Electric company in Denver, Col. Later he worked at Caney, Augusta, Okmulgee, and Oil Hill. In Oil Hill he was in charge of steam power for a short time. For two years he operated the dehydrator plant near El Dorado. He went to Bartlesville about eight months ago to take charge of the standardization work and recently was made assistant purchasing agent.

Helen Hannen to Cleveland Schools

Blaze Destroys Hull Home
Dwight E. Hull, '17, and Mary (Johnson) Hull, '15, suffered a severe loss when their beautiful home five miles north of Eldorado burned on September 10.

Grandfield, Reeves Winning Coaches

County agent C. O. Grandfield, '17, and W. R. Reeves, '15, instructor in vocational agriculture, both of Fort Scott, have coached some winning club teams this fall. Two boys from their clubs staged a cow testing demonstration at the Kansas fair where they won first prize. At the fair at Hutchinson, in the same sort of contest, they won third in keen competition.

Grandfield and Reeves together coached a dairy judging team that took first prize at Hutchinson. The team won $200 prize money which took the members to the National dairy exposition at Milwaukee, Wis., where they will compete for national honors.

Alumni R. O. T. C. Instructors

Alumni and former students of K. S. A. C. will be glad to know that two graduates of the institution have been detailed to duty in the military department of the college.

Captain Gerald W. FitzGerald, D. V. S., '16, recently stationed at Ft. Bliss, Tex., with the Seventh cavalry, U. S. A., will be in charge of the instruction in connection with the veterinary unit here.

First Lieutenant Riley McGarragh, '17, for three years at Fort Mills, Corregidor, P. I., and since last November at Fort Banks, near Boston, is detailed here to give instruction in the artillery corps.

Wants College News by Radio

Words of approval for alumni night over the radio are still coming in to the alumni office. The following is from G. W. Putnam, '16, director of Upper Peninsula experiment station of Michigan Agricultural college at Chatham. He says:

"Permit me to state that I am very glad indeed to get this information as to when K. S. A. C. broadcasts her programs. As you will see from my location, I am isolated from the usual entertainments and we enjoy our radio very much.

"I have had the pleasure of hearing KFKB at Milford several times but have never as yet picked up a K. S. A. C. program. For alumni nights for my part I would be particularly interested in hearing news of the institution."

McClure a Satisfied Alumnus

That K. S. A. C. more nearly meets the need of the student in work offered than other similar institutions of the middle west is the belief of F. D. McClure, '11, who is now teaching vocational agriculture at Hamilton, Mo. McClure holds degrees from K. S. A. C. and the University of Nebraska and has been a student at the University of Missouri. He writes:

"I am more and more impressed as I travel and see the work of other institutions, that our college not only now, but for a long time past, has had a standard of work and a class of work adapted to the needs of the student that is not to be found in other institutions in this part of the country."

Shawnee Officers Named

Election of officers for 1924-25 was held at a meeting of the Shawnee County Alumni association in Topeka September 27. Plans were also made at the meeting for the staging of the annual reunion banquet of K. S. A. C. alumni to be held in Topeka October 16 during the meeting of the State Teachers' association.

Officers of the Shawnee County Alumni association for the coming year are Cliff Stratton, '11, president; H. W. Retter, '24, vice-president; Alice Skinner, '16, secretary; Renna Rosenthal, '23, treasurer; W. V. Buck, '11, Hazel Olson, '22, and L. V. Haggart, '18, members of the executive committee.

Brothers Will See Something

"Have been trying to see the Aggies play ever since 1915, but something always prevented it," said H. V. Brothers, '15, principal of the Agra rural high school, when he sent in his reservations for the K. U.-Aggie game, October 18.

Brothers writes that four of his last year's senior class are in college this year and all of them are at K. S. A. C.

The Agricultural Year Book for 1923, illustrated and attractively bound, issued by the United States department of agriculture, is now ready for distribution. It contains an interesting and complete survey of farming conditions and statistical information that enables farmers to make a careful study of their own industry. Copies may be obtained without charge by calling or writing your county agent.

Alumni News

Mabel (Gonterman) Simms, '13, visited the college with her husband a short time ago and was much impressed and delighted with the improvements which have been made since she was a student. They live at Sparks, Nev.

Charles L. Marlatt, '84, with his wife and four daughters, visited the home folks and the college recently. They were returning from Honolulu where Doctor Marlatt attended the Pan-Pacific Conservation conference where he was chairman of the section of plant quarantine dealing with entomology and plant pathology. Doctor Marlatt is still chairman of the federal horticultural board, United States department of agriculture, and his home address is 1521 Sixteenth street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

E. B. Keith, '13, assistant professor of chemistry here, received the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Chicago last August. His dissertation was on "A Theory of Emulsions Applied to Films of Oriented Molecules." Doctor Keith attended the university five quarters and was allowed five quarters' credit for work done here.

Amy Lemert, '23, writes from Cedarvale, where she has been teaching English in the high school.

John D. Parsons, '15, and Eva (Alteman) Parsons, '14, are living at 3311 Y, Lincoln, Nebr.

Eleven graduates of K. S. A. C. are now located in China. The most recent of the number is Miss Ida May Bare, '21, who sailed this summer for Nanking, East China, to prepare herself for missionary work. A few weeks ago a letter from C. O. Levine, '14, was received from Marysville announcing that he and his wife Edith (Fols) Levine, '14, had returned from Canton Christian college, Canton, China, and would probably make their home in Marysville.

Of the graduates now in China, six are known to be in agricultural development work of some sort. Seven of the graduates are native Chinese who came to K. S. A. C. to take their training. The graduates now listed in the alumni office as being in China are:

John B. Griffing, '04, in the department of cotton improvement, Nanking university, Nanking.

Emma S. Irving, '10, nurse in the Hwa Mu hospital at Ningpo.

Foley K. Kiang, '21, is in Shanghai in commercial work.

Yueu Foo Lim, '18, returned to China after receiving experience in commercial work in the United States and is now with Canton Christian college.

Ching Sheng Lo, '23, is teaching veterinary medicine at Southeastern university, Nanking.

Lois E. Witham, '16, is with the Hua Nang college at Foochow. Phillip Young, '18, is in the National Southwest university at Nanking.

Lou Wing Kei, '22, and Sik Heng Taam, '16, are connected with Canton Christian college. Kei is at Canton and Taam is in charge of the branch experiment station at Swatow.

The growth of Canton Christian college as a center of education for the uplift of agricultural China is presented in an article entitled "Agricultural Education in South China," written by C. O. Levine before he came back to the United States and published in the China Weekly Review, a magazine published in Shanghai.

GRID CLASSIC THIS SATURDAY

LARGEST CROWD IN HISTORY
EXPECTED TO ATTEND

Even Battle Is Predicted—More Than 7000 Seats Sold—Bach Holding Something Back

And now the football classic of Kansas.

Preparations for the largest crowd that ever saw a football game in Manhattan are being made for the annual Aggie-K. U. battle in Memorial Stadium here next Saturday.

Question Unsettled

For two years past Wildcat and Jayhawk have sharpened their claws to the utmost in preparation for the annual game, and retired from the field with the question of supremacy still unsettled.

Two years ago it was a 7-7 tie, with only a 70 yard dash by Captain Ray Hahn of the Aggies saving his team from defeat. Last year it was 0-0, and Kansas carried the rabbit's foot.

Even Battle Predicted

Dope points to an even battle. Despite the fact that Kansas has been thrown back in both their starts on the gridiron this year, the team is far from weak. Both defeats have been by the margin of a single field goal. Defeat Saturday will mean taps for Kansas as far as Missouri Valley honors are concerned.

Kansas outkicked Ames from scrimmage Saturday, but lost out on forward passing, kicking goals from the field, and was on the short end of a punting duel. Captain Burt, fullback, and "Little Harold" Zuber, 215 pound left half, were the Kansas stars of the game. Zuber is a wicked man to stop in the open field, remarkably fast for his size, and a good hand at either flinging or receiving forward passes.

Aggies Held Back Plays

Now for the Aggie side, which is a little harder to dope. In both games this year the Wildcats have been held back as far as possible. Against Washburn only 12 plays were used. Against the Kansas Teachers there were only six.

One weakness in the Aggie line will be stopped up by the presence of B. C. "Pat" Harter in center. It was through the center of the Aggie line that Lane charged in his march for an Emporia touchdown. Left guard probably will find Ronald Hutton, two letter man, making his first start of the season.

Doolen looked exceedingly good on end Saturday. Captain Munn, of course, was somewhat better, yet
Doolen's play left little to be desired.
The Aggies completed five out of eight forward passes against Emporia. Not an indication perhaps that they will do as well against a Valley team, but nevertheless an encouraging sign.

Breaks may go a long way in determining the victor, yet the team that deserves to win usually makes the breaks come its way.

More Than 7,000 Seats Sold

More than 7,000 seats were sold early last week for the game. The present stadium seating capacity is 14,000. Bleacher seats will provide for 3,000 more, and every mail brings indications that they may be needed, if the weather holds good.
Kansas has sold a thousand seats, and may be depended on for that many more.

And all over the Aggies campus
there is an air of expectancy, a belief that Bach is holding something in reserve and that spectators of the two games this year "ain't seen nothin' yet."

Again the battle cry sounds out,
"This is the Aggie year."

Down at Lawrence a Jawhawk hears the cry, and is working nights by searchlight for the battle. The uncrossed goal line has been crossed, —twice.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL TO BEGIN LAST OF OCTOBER

Four Divisions This Year—Also Round-Robin Schedule

The intramural basketball season will begin the last week in October, according to Prof. E. A. Knoth of the athletic department.

The teams which enter will be grouped into four divisions, Panhellenic fraternities, local fraternities, clubs, and R. O. T. C. companies. The round-robin plan will be used in making out the schedule, so that each team will play every other team of that division.

The games will be played on the small courts in the gym every evening between 6 and 10 o'clock.

U. S. NAVAL RESERVE BEGUN

Includes Four Year Course with Three Hours' Naval Training

The Navy department announced on August 26 that it hopes to compete with the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in the colleges and universities of the country. Beginning this fall with two units of the U. S.
Naval Reserve in George Washington university and St. John's college, Annapolis, "it will be spread as broadly as the R. O. T. C. if it proves successful," according to the Washington Post.

"It has been pointed out that the establishment of these units by the Navy Department has as one of its chief aims the spread of naval knowledge to the middle west areas where little is known of the navy. It is hoped that these units connected with the large universities of that section can educate the people effectually in the problems of the navy and the importance it bears to national life."

The course will be a four year elective course with approximately three hours a week devoted to technical naval subjects, in addition to two hours in history and mathematics in the regular university curriculum. The work done in this course will count towards a degree.
Its students will be enrolled as midshipmen of the Naval Reserve, receiving no pay except $50 for uniform, but they will be expected to take a three months' cruise in summer in the practice squadron for which they will receive approximately $89 a month, the regular pay of a midshipman of the navy at sea.—The New Student.

HUSKER PLAYERS ARE LESS BEEFY

SIZE AND WEIGHT LACKING THIS YEAR

Team Will Average Below 172
Pounds—Weight Last Year
Was Much Higher

Lincoln, Nebr., October 13.—University of Nebraska football teams of the past 25 years have been noted for their size and weight—in fact Cornhusker football has been synonymous with beef and brawn.

Poundage Lacking

The Nebraska team which will take the field against the Aggies on Homecoming day, however, carries none of the familiar poundage.

Coach Fred T. Dawson, former Princeton university player who is directing the athletic destiny of the Cornhuskers, has a green squad in suit this season which tips the scales at an average below the 172-pound mark.

Proving that the success of Nebraska football squads is not based entirely on avoidupolis, Dawson's Cornhuskers in the opening game of the season battled the University of Illinois team to a 9-6 score before a crowd of 30,000 in the new Nebraska Memorial stadium.

Outweighed by more than 10 pounds to the man, the Nebraskans played Illinois off its feet early in the game and scored the first touchdown in the first quarter, using straight football.

Average About 172

The team which Dawson will start against the Aggies will average around 172 pounds. It includes but four regulars of the 1924 season—
Captain Ed Weir, Rhodes, Myers, and Robertson.

Rhodes and Myers, who played end positions last season, have been shifted to the backfield this season.
Rhodes is the youngster who scored against Illinois. After Nebraska had carried the ball straight to the Illinois 33-yard line. Rhodes broke through the Illinois forward wall and side-stepped his way to a touchdown.

the Huskers against Colgate, is rated summer in touring the United States and Europe giving concerts in the various towns along their route.

Royalty and commoners alike came to hear the "exhibitors of the fine

PLAN BIG PEP MEET TONIGHT

SPECIAL STUNTS DEvised FOR MAMMOTH YELL FEST

College Enthusiasm Running High Preceding Annual Gridiron Classic of Kansas—Free Movie Show

The biggest pep meeting of the year which will precede the K. U. Aggie grid classic, will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium. The Wampus Cats, band, and cheerleaders will be there to help in pep festivities. Pep talks will be given by Rev. Bill Guerrant, Mike Ahearn, Coach Bachman, and Doc King. Members of the Women's Athletic Association will put on a surprise stunt. They will meet in the women's gymnasium at 7 o'clock and attend the meeting in a body. A characteristic Wampus Cat stunt will close the meeting and the whole crowd will be given a free show at the Wareham. A special vaudeville show has been arranged for the pepsters in addition to the regular movie. Everyone is urged to come out to the meeting loaded with pep and the willingness to display it.

Jamboree Held Last Night

In order to instill a little excitement before the game and between halves Saturday, members of K fraternity will be on the field equipped with paddles. Freshmen without caps and students with dates will receive their just punishment.

A big jamboree and bonfire were held last night in the city park. Enthusiasm for the game was evident today all over the campus and the large number of visitors in the city added much to the excitement on the eve of the big game.

K. U. SPORTS WRITER PREDICTS CLOSE GAME

Dope Story from Lawrence Says Kansas Machine Is Not an Entirely Weak Affair

Lawrence, Oct. 17.—If the Kansas University football team comes into its true power by game time at Manhattan the Aggies will find a real battle on their hands, in the opinion of observers who have seen both teams play this season.

Despite the fact that Kansas has yet to win a game, the Jayhawk football machine is not an entirely weak affair. The K. U. coaches have had a green team to develop this season as Captain Burt and Haley are the only two-letter men on hand this fall. This, coupled with the fact that the Oklahoma Aggies, who first defeated Kansas, 3 to 0; and Ames, who snatched a last minute victory from Kansas Saturday, 13 to 10, are both strong teams, does not make Kansas look as bad as the scores might seem.

The Kansas defense cracked a bit against Ames and thereby came defeat. When the Kansas safety allowed Behm to get through for a 30 yard run to a touchdown the Cyclones were in a bit of luck. Inexperience in the safety job at the edge of the field cost Kansas the game, say many who saw the battle. Of course, in reality it was Roberts' place kick in the last minute of play that turned the trick.

Just what the Kansas lineup will be, or what attack will be used in the fray against the Aggies is hard to say. In the Ames game Kansas showed a versatile attack.

DO YOU KNOW?

That 5 of the 9 living members of Mike's All-time Aggie Team will be here for the first K. U.-Aggie game in the new Stadium?

That 125 K men have made reservations for the Jayhawk-Wildcat battle October 18?

That Governor Davis, Chancellor Lindley of K. U., and the board of administration will have honor seats at the 'Dads' day game?

That over 12,000 seats have already been reserved in the Stadium for the Wildcat-Jayhawk battle October 18?

That Kansas university sent an order for 1,000 Stadium tickets for the K. U.-Aggie game?

That Bernard Lamar, f. s., of Salina and Roy Jaccard, '14, of Clay Center have each mailed checks for 100 seats each in the Stadium for the Dads' day game?

DADS OF KANSAS GATHERING HERE

SECOND ANNUAL DADS' DAY SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW

Plans Made Months Ago for Inviting Fathers to Game—Hundreds Are Expected to Be Here

Hundreds of Aggie dads will be among the immense crowd at the game tomorrow. Plans were laid months ago for inviting the dads to the game. Hundreds of letters were sent out from President Jardine's office and most of the students are expecting dad to respond.

Second Annual Event

Dads' day will be a success, if the large number of orders for tickets for the game is an indication. Orders have been pouring in from all over the state, from mothers, sisters and brothers of students, and from alumni, but the special guests for the day are the Aggie dads. This is the second annual Aggie dads' day, and it is being held on this date because of the special interest always manifested in the K. U. game.

No shows or talks have been arranged for the dads. An informal registration will be held in Recreation Center tomorrow morning from 10 to 12 o'clock, with President Jardine and all the deans in the receiving line. The various fraternities and sororities are planning their own entertainments, while the center of interest for everyone will be the big football game in Memorial Stadium in the afternoon.

Hold Pledge Services

Theta Sigma Phi held formal pledge services in its club room Tuesday evening for the following: Ruth Bachelder, Miriam Dexter, and Genevieve Tracy.

KANSAS GRIDIRON CLASSIC TOMORROW

RIVALRY BETWEEN SCHOOLS ENHANCED BY TIE SCORES IN 1922 AND 1923

FIVE ALL-AGGIE PLAYERS BACK

ONLY NINE MEMBERS OF MIKE'S TEAM ALIVE

Root, Speer, Mallon, Felps and Blake Will Witness Contest with Kansas University Tomorrow

Five of the nine living members of Mike Ahearn's all-time Aggie team, named for the 1922 Royal Purple, will be members of the group of 125 "K" men who will attend the Dads' day game with the University of Kansas in the Memorial Stadium next Saturday, October 18.

Two Members Dead

Two members of Mike's all-star team are dead. Eddie Wells, captain and fullback, was killed in the Argonne on September 12, 1918. Wells was all-valley fullback in 1916. He is one of the 45 Aggie war dead in whose memory the Memorial Stadium is being erected. H. P. "Horsepower" Bates, '11, quarterback of the all-time team, died last year at his home in Bremerton, Wash. Bates is conceded to be the best quarterback ever to wear the Purple. He presented Touchdown II, the wildcat mascot, to the athletic department.

Those who will be here to witness the Saturday encounter are Harvey Root, '11, Wamego; "Bunt" Speer, '11, Fremont, Neb.; Carl Mallon, '07, Anthony; Clemens Felps, '12, Topeka; and Cool Blake, f. s., Glasco.

Roots Some Tackle

Roots, placed at right tackle on Mike's "all" team, has a record of 19 touchdowns from tackle position. He now is coaching at Wamego high school. Speer, coach at Midland college, is rated as the fastest and most shifty halfback in Aggie football history. Mallon made the touchdown which beat K. U. in 1906—the only Aggie victory in the history of competition between the two schools. Felps, a wonder player at center, particularly on defense, now is with the state highway commission at Topeka. Blake, known as "the hardest hitting end in Aggie history" is coming from his home at Glasco.

Carl Roda, '12, Jake Holmes, '12, Ray Hahn, '23, and Harold Sebring, '23, cannot return for the Saturday game. Roda is coaching at Savanna (Mo.) high school; Holmes is a livestock specialist at Brookings, S. D.; Hahn is coaching at Downer's Grove (Ill.) high school; and Sebring is assistant coach at the University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla.

LUTZ HEADS SENIORS

Election Is Held Wednesday at Royal Purple Office—Blanche Elliott Is Vice-President

Senior class election was held Wednesday, October 15, at the Royal Purple office. The following officers were elected for this year: President, Harry Lutz; vice-president, Blanche Elliott; treasurer, Russel Dader; secretary, Gladys Sanford; S. S. G. A. representative, Winifred Knight; historian, Corinne Smith; devotional leader, Edith Holsinger; marshal, Charles Long.

O'Neal Talks at Forum

Ralph O'Neal, Topeka attorney, spoke Thursday noon at a meeting of the Student Forum in the cafeteria. He discussed political issues of the Democratic party of both state and national importance.

Next Thursday the meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the La Follette campaign by a representative of that party.

GAMES THIS WEEK

At Manhattan—Kansas vs. Kansas Aggies.
At Des Moines—Grinnell vs. Drake.
At Lincoln—Colgate vs. Nebraska.
At Ames—Missouri vs. Ames.
At St. Louis—Washington Freshmen vs. Washington.
At Norman—Oklahoma Freshmen vs. Oklahoma.

HARRIERS ARE READY

Cross Country Runners Selected for Race Against K. U. Tomorrow

Cross country runners who are to represent the Aggies in the dual meet with K. U. Saturday were selected in the final meets held last night.

Six men qualified for the team with time that will probably make the K. U. harriers push to the limit if they want to win.

The sextette which will carry the Aggie colors are: M. L. Sallee, Paul Axtell, Manhattan; Ralph Kimport, Norton; J. Rutherford, R. Aikman, Anness; and John Smith, Marysville.

The Jayhawk hopes lie in two letter men, Capt. Howard Grady, Augusta, and La Verne Pratt, Vinland, and two other exceptionally good men, Hollis Hedberg and Bobbie Brown.

The race will start shortly before the end of the half and will finish during the recess. The course is five miles, starting on the track.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO MIZZOU?

If 125 Passengers Guaranteed Rate of $14.14 Offered

A special train consisting of two chair cars and a Pullman for the team will be run to Columbia, Mo., for the Aggie-Missouri game on October 25, if 125 passengers can be guaranteed according to "Chig" Long, president of the Wampus Cats. Rates of $14.14 for the round trip will be offered.

PRICE HEADS REGISTRARS

K. S. A. C. Man Elected President of Association for 1925

Prof. R. R. Price was elected president of the Kansas Association of Registrars and Advanced Credit committees, which held its second annual meeting at Lawrence, Saturday, October 11. Professor Price succeeded Prof. E. F. Engel, University of Kansas. Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, retiring secretary was succeeded by Professor Neff of Fairmount.

NEITHER COACH IS SURE

Special Trains and Notification of Alumni Have Aided in Overpacking the New Memorial Stadium—Injuries Lacking in Both Teams

Tomorrow is the day. The day which has been looked forward to since last year as another opportunity for the Wildcat or Jayhawk to reign supreme as the victor in the gridiron classic of Kansas.

Great Battle Expected

Just whose day it will be can not be determined as yet, but between the hours of two and five Saturday, will no doubt be seen one of the greatest gridiron battles in the history of K. U.-Aggie competition.

With the determination that each shall emerge from the battle as a victor there is no question but what every possible method of procedure will be used by each team in order to win.

The keen rivalry which has existed throughout the history of the two schools has grown to such a peak of enthusiasm this year, due to tie scores the last two years, that there will no doubt be in attendance at the game one of the largest crowds in the history of the school.

Special trains and the notification of all alumni have aided greatly to foreshadow an overpacking of the new Memorial stadium. Some estimates place the probable crowd at 20,000.

MIKE SAYS 20,000

Athletic Director Predicts Record Crowd

A crowd of 20,000 people is expected at the K. U.-Aggie game tomorrow, according to Mike Ahearn, director of athletics. Practically all the seats in the two wings of the stadium had been sold by Thursday noon and more orders are coming in constantly. Temporary bleachers that will seat 3,000 people were built at the south end of the field but it is thought that more seats will have to be provided.

Orders for tickets are coming in from all parts of the state. Several orders, each for a hundred tickets were received. If the roads leading into Manhattan are good the crowd will be the largest that has ever witnessed an Aggie team in action.

BICYCLE RACE DURING HALF

Intramural Cyclers to Compete on Stadium Track Tomorrow

The intramural bicycle race which will be held tomorrow between halves of the K. U.-Aggie game will begin immediately after the first half is over. Entrants are asked to leave the stands five minutes before the half closes and report at the north end of the straightaway on the track so that the race will start promptly at the close of the half.

Indications point to a large number entering this race. If too many mates place the probable crowd at 20,000.

K. U. Loses Twice

Coach Potsy Clark will bring with him to Aggledom this year, a team that has lost twice already this season. However the defeats may well be termed as hard luck defeats when it is considered that in both contests K. U. outplayed its opponent in every department of the game.

Although the Aggies have not played any valley games so far they have exhibited a type of attack that Coach Bachman believes will, with a few finishing touches, be good for an Aggie victory.

Neither Coach Confident

Neither coach is optimistic on the result of the game, both anticipating a real fight.

Injuries are absent giving each coach the opportunity of using his best men and making the result of the game free from alibis.

The probable lineup for the game is as follows:

Aggies	Position	K. U.
Doolen	L. E.	Testerman
Ballard	L. T.	B. Smith
Hutton	L. G.	Haley
Harter	C.	Davidson
McGee	R. G.	R. Smith
Krysl	R. T.	Mullins
Munn, (c)	R. E.	W. Anderson
Cochrane	Q. B.	Wellman
Hoffman	L. H.	Zuber
Wilson	R. H.	Hart
Mildrester	F. B.	Burt (c)

do enter, the length of the race will be cut from three to two miles, so that all will have a chance to compete. Fifteen men entered this race last year but it is expected that at least 50 will compete for the gold watch charm this year.

About 150 members and guests of the Hamilton and Ionian literary societies attended their annual fall hike last Saturday at Cedar Bend. "Doc" Wagner and O. E. Bowen chaperoned.

WELCOME, DADS

Welcome, Dads.

Tomorrow is your day. You own the Hill. Investigate everything that you see if your curiosity gets the best of you. Go to class with Jim and see what he is getting in return for spending your money. Ask any questions you wish from anyone you happen to see. You will be answered as respectfully and as truthfully as possible. Make yourself at home and find out just what we have here.

But, Dads, just because you are especially honored for one day each year don't think that that is the only time when you are welcome. The college exists for you as well as your children. If it can help you in any way it will be glad to do so. It wants you to feel that you are a part of it and heartily extends an invitation to "come any time and stay as long as you like."

And don't forget to go in Recreation center tomorrow morning between 10 and 12 and meet Prexy Jardine and the Deans. They're worth while acquaintances.

YES OR NO?

At chapel Wednesday morning the vote of the students was overwhelmingly in favor of discontinuing the college "Jay Rah" yell. This vote was taken after considerable criticism had been directed at those in charge of the cheering because of the discontinuance of the yell.

The Collegian agrees with those who disfavor the yell that it is very similar to Kansas university's "Rock Chalk." But as to whether the K. U. yell or the Aggie yell was written first is a question that no one seems to be able to settle. If the Wildcat cheer was originated first it is no more than right that its use should be continued. It is admittedly an excellent college yell and is very impressive whenever given. But if Kansas university has the prior claim to the yell, that is to its general sound and tone, a new one should be written for K. S. A. C.

Definite facts on the exact date of the origin of the cheer are very meager. None of the old-timers are absolutely sure just when each was written but the general opinion seems to be in favor of K. U. However, if the difference in time is not great, the prestige of age of "Jay Rah" and its connection with our alumni, should counterbalance a small difference in age. But if the "Rock Chalk" tune is clearly the property of K. U. and was adopted by the Aggies after it had existed several years and was assured of success, it should be discontinued here.

Supporters of "Jay Rah" have, since Wednesday, been redoubling their efforts to have it reinstated. Ralph Blackledge, cheerleader, has agreed to bring the matter up again at the pep meeting tonight and to try and reach a definite conclusion.

There has also been considerable comment on the fact that when the Wednesday vote was taken the majority of the students did not know just what the yell was. However when the cheer was given, after the vote had been taken, it was rendered with the pep and vim that seemed to show that it was more popular than the vote indicated.

Disregarding the fact as to whether "Jay Rah" should or should not be the official college yell, there is need of some more yells. Those who disfavor "Jay Rah" could aid their arguments very materially by originating a new cheer or two that would be more popular with the student body.

Now that the ordeal of waiting around the post office window is past, for the present at least, we wonder if we won't have a better chance around our girl's house. Most of the rivals were exceedingly unfortunate.

It has been rumored that one of the girls in the archery class hit the target with an arrow. However, there appear to have been no witnesses except the other members of the class, so the report is doubtless false.

Freshmen are made to work and to be worked on.
Sophomores are made to run the school(?)

Juniors are made to wear clothes.
But what the dickens are seniors for?

It has been noticed that students are rather shy about walking past the auditorium during class periods. And most students appreciate good music, too.

Some doubt has been expressed as to the reason given by the S. S. G. A. for discouraging dates at football games. It has been whispered that some members of that August Council are quite jealous.

We venture to remark that the attendance at the debate on Saturday night will be knocked off considerably because there is to be no admission charge.

This makes the third time that the "only one" has broken a date in favor of the same fellow. If she does that once more, we will throw her over. Absolutely won't have a thing to do with her.

Harry says that he would like to see just one movie before he dies (it is doubtful if he ever dies) that does not end up like he knows it will but is afraid it won't.

A fellow student has given utterance to a phrase which we have been hunting for ever since first coming to this school. The phrase fits exactly. He referred to the chemistry annex as the "chem shack."

Another prof made the astounding remark that he didn't send out flunk slips as a result of the only quiz given, as he felt he could not judge accurately. That's queer. It has always been surmised that the faculty sent out flunk slips and judged afterwards.

E. V. A: That girl is lying to you. I don't like onions either. It must have been still another one.—H. S. M.

Providing that was really a dog and not a freshman making all that noise in chapel Wednesday, then it was the most intelligent dog we have ever seen. He knew when to cheer and when to keep still and just when to grab off all the applause.

The Artist Series

The Chicago Opera Trio, composed of Lucie Westen, Edouard Cotreuil, and William Rogerson, appeared as the first number of the artist series in recital and in a short opera, "The Secret of Susanne" in the college auditorium Wednesday night. In addition to the opera, duets and trios were given from Puccini's "La Boheme," from Massenet's "Thais," and from Verdi's "Lombardi."

Miss Westen is a lyric soprano of wide range and considerable dramatic power. Few artists could be so naturally fitted to sing "Susanne," a role demanding voice, temperament, dramatic ability, and a vivacious manner.

The pleasing tenor of William Rogerson showed considerable freshness, life, and brilliance. He has for the last three years been singing leading tenor roles for the Chicago Grand Opera company.

Perhaps the best known of the trio was Edouard Cotreuil, bass-baritone. He has had many engagements at the Royal Grand Opera, Covent Garden, London; Opera Comique, Paris; Grand Opera, Paris, as well as at Chicago. He did no solo work in the program presented Wednesday night, but his duet with Rogerson in Bizet's "Pearl Fisher" was especially fine as was his acting in "The Secret of Susanne."

The accompaniments by Marion Carlisle were all that could be desired in the way of support.

The ambition of Prof. Ira Pratt to present good music at movie prices is being realized. It was encouraging to find that the series had support. The largest audience ever attending a number of the series was very appreciative of the well balanced program that was presented.

On Other Hills

A mental clinic to provide for the mal-adjusted students at Ohio State university will be established on the campus under the direction of the department of psychology.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university recently stated at a university assembly that American universities were on the whole much weaker than European institutions of learning and this weakness he declares due to "sense of dependence upon rules, upon programs, upon individual guidance and teaching."

Airplane cameras received from the government are being remodeled for the purpose of photographing the moon from the campus at Oregon Agricultural college.

All publications of the University of Denver would be taken over by the school and supervised through the medium of a graduate manager of publications according to a plan which is now under consideration by school authorities.

The Jayhawker of 1924, the annual of K. U., was one of the 10 books receiving honorable mention in the 1924 Art Crafts Guild National contest for year books of all universities and colleges having an enrollment of over 2,000.

Homecoming activities are being planned for this week-end at the College of Emporia.

Gargoyle Club Elects

The following officers have been elected by the Gargoyle club, organization of architectural students: Oscar Woody, president; Ira Patterson, vice-president; R. E. Welch, treasurer; Frances Shepp, treasurer; and W. L. Cakes, publicity manager. The club meetings replace the regular seminar for students in the division, and are eighth hour every Thursday.

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

Dear Aggie Yell Leader:

The vote that took place in student assembly this morning has caused much comment over the campus, everywhere you go some one is talking about it, and the majority feel that it should be given another chance at the pep meeting Friday. I myself can not see why we have to give up the only real yell we have for K. S. A. C. I think if you trace or inquire about the history of the yell it is nearly as old as Rock Chalk, so why do we have to kneel to K. U. and give in. I along with many others on the campus am strong for Jay Rah being reinstated as our yell. I think we owe it to the loyalty of our Alma Mater and her alumni to keep this yell, at least until we have one equal to it or better and that is hard to find. Many football men will tell you it spurs them on to victory more than any yell we give.

Many say they did not know what we were voting for this morning, so let's let them know what they are voting for, and give some one a chance to speak for as well as against the yell before it is entirely voted out.

Here is for winning from K. U. Saturday.—An Aggie Pepster.

with the technical seminars which are held every two weeks for the benefit of those in the department.

Members of the department feel that the lectures and discussions should be interesting to many people, other than physicists, due to the extremely fundamental nature of the subject. In many instances attendance should be profitable because of the aid it might bring to individuals in the particular line of work or research they are carrying on, and thus be of immediate and practical value. In addition to these there are many people who might wish to attend because of the general interest they hold in significant scientific facts and developments.

The language and terms used will be such that any scientific worker can understand them.

The dates, subjects and speakers, have not been announced as yet but will be posted on the bulletin board before each meeting. The meetings will be in one of the physics lecture rooms.

OFFERS VARIED COURSES

Division of Agriculture Draws Students from All College Departments

During the past two years, the division of agriculture has offered 209 different courses of which 156 are collegiate subjects, and 53 are non-collegiate subjects. Courses offered to short course and veteran's bureau students comprise the non-collegiate group.

Most of these agricultural subjects are required by students enrolled in the division of agriculture. Many of them, however, are chosen as electives by students enrolled in journalism, general science, and rural commerce. Several of them are required in the curricula of other divisions.

Prof. H. W. Cave of the dairy department gave an address at a community fair at Paola today.

CHEERLEADERS APPOINTED

Four Assistants Will Aid Blackledge in Directing Yells

The Aggie cheer squad will appear in new uniforms at the Aggie-K. U. game tomorrow, according to an announcement made by Ralph Blackledge, head cheerleader. They will also use three new megaphones that were presented to them by Ray Polom of the Cooperative book store.

Ralph Blackledge is a junior in industrial journalism and has had two years of experience directing Wildcat yells. The three assistants who will help in the cheering this year are Jack Eakin, a sophomore who assisted last year, Paul Pfeutze, Harry Harris, and Harold Thompson, freshmen. Regular practice sessions are being held.

Officers elected for the Electrical Engineering seminar for the ensuing year on Thursday, October 9, were as follows: President, Paul E. Bays; vice-president, Harold Batchelor; secretary, James F. Murphy; treasurer, Stanley M. Fraser; marshal, Joseph Swartz; assistant marshal, W. C. Meseke; assistant marshals at all-electrical seminar: Keith H. Parker and John L. Hancock.

J. W. Linn of the extension department attended a dairy meeting in Bronson Tuesday.

Alpha chapter of Lambda Tau Kappa, Congregational student fraternity, met in the cafeteria Thursday evening and elected the following officers: Governor, Paul Pfeutze; lieutenant governor, Earl Herrick; captain, Mary Brandy; pastor, Harry Ratcliff; recorders, Katherine Huguenen, Milton Kerr; keeper of exchequer, Mildred Edwards; property custodian, George Montgomery; provider of music, Hazel Hulse.

Miss Martha Pittman, Miss Pearl Ruby, and Miss Amy Jane Leazenby, are attending the national convention of the American Child Health association in Kansas City this week.

Dean Margaret Justin went to Hutchinson Thursday, October 16, to speak at the State Teachers' association.

Miss Maude Dealy, of Clay Center, Miss Frances Smith, of Columbus, and Miss Gertrude Wickers of Downs, are guests at the Alpha Theta Chi house.

GIVEN, PRICE, AND HEDBERG TO MEET OXFORD DEBATERS

Aggie Men Experienced, But Are Handicapped by Short Time for Preparation

The Aggie debaters who will meet the team from Oxford University, England, tomorrow night have been chosen by Prof. H. B. Summers of the public speaking department.

Kingsley W. Given of Manhattan, a junior in general science, will be the first speaker for the Aggies. Although this is his first year at K. S. A. C., he has had experience in college oratorical, having won the Pi Kappa Delta oratorical contest for Iowa and Missouri in 1923.

James Price, the second speaker, is the son of Professor and Mrs. R. R. Price of Manhattan. He won distinction on the Swarthmore varsity debating team as well as in dramatics last year at Swarthmore, Pennsylvania. Mr. Price is a sophomore in general science.

Robert Hedberg, of Oklahoma City, sophomore in general science, will be the last speaker for the Aggies. Mr. Hedberg attended Park College, Parkville, Missouri, and has participated in eight college debates and nineteen debates in high school. He is a member of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic fraternity.

The Aggie debaters, although experienced, are considerably handicapped by the short time given them, only one week being allowed them for preparation. They will take the affirmative of the question, "Resolved: That This House Approves the American Refusal to Enter the League of Nations."

One of the members of the English team is the son of the English Prime Minister, Ramsay MacDonald. The team is touring the United States and will debate several valley schools, among them the University of Kansas where the prohibition question will be discussed. No admission will be charged for the debate here, although at the university the admission will be 50 cents and $1 and at Harvard University last year seats were sold at $2 each. There will be no judges appointed but decision will be made by the vote of the audience. This is the first time in the history of the college that the audience decision system has been used.

TO DISCUSS MODERN WRITERS

English Department Will Present
Weekly Talks Beginning
Next Month

Starting November 11, the members of the English department will give weekly talks on some of the leaders in present day thought. The talks, which are similar to the ones presented last year, will be given in the home economics rest room. Everyone who is able is urged to attend. No admission fee will be charged.

The program:

November 11—Prof. R. W. Conover, "Havelock Ellis."
November 18—Dr. Margaret Russell, "George Santayana."
November 25—Prof. C. W. Matthews, "Bertrand Russell."
December 3—Prof. Helen Elcock, "George Bernard Shaw."
December 9—Prof. Ada Rice, "The Utopias of H. G. Wells."
December 16—Prof. C. E. Rogers, department of industrial journalism, "Sigmund Freud."
January 7, 1925—Prof. N. W. Rokey, "Anatole France."
January 13—Prof. H. W. Davis, "James Harvey Robinson."
February 11—Prof. N. A. Crawford, department of industrial journalism, "Clive Bell."
February 17—Prof. Anna M. Sturmer, "G. Lowes Dickinson."
February 24—Prof. J. O. Faulkner, "John Dewey."
March 4—Prof. Katherine Bower, "Ellen Key."

ROYAL PURPLE RATES HIGH

Receives Honorable Mention in National Contest

Announcement has been received at the office of President Jardine that the Royal Purple was one of the 10 college annuals receiving honorable mention in the 1924 Art Crafts Guild national contest last year.

The competition for year book honors in class one, which included universities and colleges with an enrollment of more than 2,000, was very keen. There were several hundred entries in the contest.

GERMAN NEWSPAPER STYLE LIKE AMERICAN MAGAZINE

Professor Crawford Discusses Continental Journalism in Seminar

German newspapers closely resemble the American magazine in form and content, contain very little advertising, and are comprised mostly of signed articles, according to Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the department of industrial journalism, who spoke in journalism seminar last Monday. Professor Crawford spent the summer in Europe, and while there made a survey of European newspapers. He states that few German papers ever contain more than 15 per cent advertising, while the average paper in our country usually has about 60 per cent.

According to Professor Crawford, French newspapers more nearly resemble the American papers. Several of the large French papers have circulations of more than two million copies.

The continental editors appear to have a very broad knowledge of international affairs and politics, Professor Crawford said, although these subjects are not discussed as thoroughly in the papers as they are in hand bills. Literary papers receive good support from the public.

Brig. Gen. King Here

Brig. Gen. Edward L. King, a member of the board of officers in charge of military education, was here Tuesday to confer with President W. M. Jardine about the military work at the college. He also paid a short call to the military office. General King is in command of the school of instruction at Fort Riley.

Mrs. Charles Tamm, of Downs was the week-end guest of her daughter Miss Margaret Tamm.

Bring your radio troubles to our radio expert any afternoon. Klipp's.

THE AGGIE SCHEDULE

Nov. 1—Ames at Manhattan.
Nov. 15—Drake at Manhattan.
Nov. 22—Nebraska at Manhattan. (Homecoming.)
Nov. 27—Oklahoma at Norman.

Dickens Gives Radio Talk

Prof. Albert Dickens of the horticulture department, spoke last Monday evening on the alumni radio night program on the subject of Dads' day. He outlined the development of Dads' day in colleges and universities and invited the Aggie Dads in Kansas to come and see the institution and the Aggie-K. U. game.

Next Monday evening M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics, will speak. The alumni radio programs are composed of an eight minute talk from an alumnus or a faculty member and a five minute summary of the past week's college news.

You can get all your music supplies and text books at Brown's Branch Music Store, East College Gate. 10-3t.

College Whistle Is Slow According to Alpha Capricornus

The college whistle is slow instead of fast!

Despite the testimony of sixty years of "late" students to the contrary, astronomy says it is so.

Monday evening the astronomy class under Prof. F. E. Frazier set their telescopes to locate the star Alpha Capricornus, which was to pass the meridian star at 10 minutes, 54 and one-tenth seconds after seven o'clock. When the star reached the meridian, Professor Frazier's watch set by the college whistle, was fifteen seconds slow!

Miss Emma Hyde, assistant professor in the mathematics department, will speak in Topeka at the new Kansan hotel roof garden before the Dinner club tonight. Her topic will be "What the Kansas Dinner Club Can Do to Help K. S. A. C. to Secure a Woman's Dormitory."

MANY BOXERS WORKING OUT

ONLY TWO LETTER MEN ON SQUAD THIS YEAR

Hoelzel and Rose Were on Last Year's Team—Classes Meet Every Afternoon—Hoelzel Is Instructor

One of the largest boxing squads in the history of physical education at K. S. A. C. is out this year. The large number is partly due to the fact that freshmen and sophomores can substitute boxing for the regular gymnasium work, although many of those in the boxing classes are juniors and seniors.

Two Letter Men Back

Only two letter men in boxing are in school this year. They are Carl F. Hoelzel and F. T. Rose.

Hoelzel is instructor in the class. Last year he won the championship of the Fort Snelling Athletic club. He is also a member of the Kansas City Athletic club boxing team.

Many in Classes

The classes in boxing meet every afternoon. Those in the classes are J. F. Stoddard, M. Cleland, W. Haynes, L. R. Berner, H. Williams, Joe Swartz, C. Smith, P. Williams, C. J. Winslow, Hayden Fleck, F. Gillard, D. Haut, W. Jardine, H. Miller, O. Satterlee, Harvey Green, S. Madden, C. E. F. Brown, C. Barnett, T. A. Bickel, G. Brinkman, George Cash, Guy Condit, D. Bruce, A. ### Sophisticated Bull Has Much to Tell of Saturday Nights

After a month's rampage, spent in visiting every corner and nook for humorous viewpoints on "Saturday Night" events, the Brown Bull came wandering home Friday noon with a cud well-filled with choice humor. He is expectant, needless to say, to meet old friends and to make vivid impressions on the new students as his wit is revealed at the campus gates, in Anderson hall and all over the campus this afternoon, at the pep meeting tonight and again on the campus tomorrow morning.

No one knows just what morsels he has chosen to present to the student body and they are being surprised by a revelation of peculiar situations. The ever-popular Saturday night bath is prominent, as well as secluded corners of the porch swing, and dance halls. There are innumerable other features and the Brown Bull has retained the habit of presenting things in a way you'll like. The cover page has been whitewashed with two glaring colors.

Have 25 cents with you Friday evening or even Saturday morning and you'll have a chance to read his versions.

FOUR AGGIE REUNIONS HELD

Alumni Get Together at Teachers' Meets This Week

Reunions of graduates and former students of K. S. A. C. will be held at Topeka, Parsons, Hutchinson, and Hays during the meetings of the Kansas State Teachers' association this week. The Topeka and Hutchinson reunions will be on Thursday night, October 16, and those at Hays and Parsons on Friday night, October 17.

The annual meetings are not only for the graduates of the college among the teachers but are also for the alumni and former students of the college living in the four districts where the meetings are to be held.

Programs for the reunions are being arranged by local committees in cooperation with the secretary of the alumni association.

Speakers from the college, who are also alumni of the institution, will be at each of the group meetings for the alumni reunion programs. Dr. J. T. Willard, dean of the division of general science and vice-president of the college; M. F. "Mike" Ahearn, director of athletics; and R. L. Foster, secretary of the K. S. A. C. alumni association, will be at Topeka.

At Hays, W. E. Grimes, president of the alumni association, will be one of the reunion speakers from the college. Dr. Margaret Justin, dean of the division of home economics, and A. P. Davidson, of the department of education will speak at Hutchinson. The speaker from the college at Parsons will be Albert Dickens, professor of horticulture.

JAYHAWKERS ARE HUMBLLED!

DON'S NAME IN HALL OF FAME

140 POUND HALFBACK IS HERO OF COLLEGE

College Sophomore from Idana, Kan., Makes Winning Touchdown in Gridiron Classic of Kansas

Don, he says it's Don instead of Donald, Meek, 140 pound hero of the K. U.-Aggie game, was born in Idana, Kan., 20 years ago. He still lives in Idana but he attended high school in Clay Center and played right half on the Clay Center high school football team for three years.

Fans who had seen him play in high school games had no doubt about his ability and when "Bach" sent him in at the end of the third quarter Saturday they greeted him with cries of "Atta boy, Unc!" Folks who had seen him play were explaining to those who hadn't that he was Don Meek of the Clay Center team and that he surely could play and play fast.

It was in the first few minutes of the fourth quarter that Don verified his admirers' statements. The teams were evenly matched, things hinged on the breaks. There were several, but neither team gained much until Zuber of K. U. fumbled on the Aggie 33-yard line. Meek scooped up the ball and ran through the K. U. line, past their safeties, 67 yards for the touchdown which broke K. U.'s long standing jinx for the Aggies.

The new Aggie football hero is a sophomore in rural commerce, is a pledge to Kappa Phi Alpha fraternity, is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, has curly brown hair, grey-blue eyes, and an infectious, unaffected grin.

And his name will go down in Aggie football history.

"BROTHER BILL" BRYAN TO SPEAK IN AGGIE STADIUM

Famous Floridan, Nee Nebraskan, Will Open Kansas Speaking Tour Here October 25

William Jennings Bryan will speak on political issues of the day in Memorial Stadium, Saturday morning, October 25, at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Bryan is touring Kansas in the interest of the Democratic national ticket. A special train has been arranged for him by the Democratic clubs of the various towns in which he will speak.

Manhattan will be his first stop and probably his longest and it is expected by the Democratic leaders here that from 10,000 to 15,000 people will be in the stadium to hear Mr.

Bryan speak. He will speak from the east side of the stadium and amplifiers will be installed so that everyone in the audience may hear distinctly. Plans are also being made for the broadcasting of his speech from station KFKB at Milford.

Immediately after his speech Mr. Bryan will continue on his tour of the state. He will make short speeches at towns along his route, Topeka and Leavenworth being his most important stops. Accompanying him on the train will be representatives from Kansas Democratic clubs.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM WINS

Kimport and Sallee Finish Together—Score 18 to 37

Aggie cross country runners added to the victory of the football game Saturday and defeated the team from K. U. 18 to 37, low score winning. Although the Aggies do not have any letter men back from last year the showing that was made Saturday indicates a good year for the team.

Sallee and Kimport finished the race together, a quarter of a mile ahead of the next runner, Axtell, also an Aggie. Grady of K. U. finished fourth, followed by Alkman of K. S. A. C. and James of the university.

CROWD OF 1,500 ATTENDS DEBATE

VOTE OF AUDIENCE INDICATES THAT AGGIES WERE STRONGER

Son of English Premier and Robert Hedburg of Aggies Two Most Effective Speakers

A crowd of approximately 1,500 people turned out Saturday for the debate between the three representatives of Oxford university, England, and the Kansas Aggie debaters.

At the close of the debate, however, only 629 people cast ballots in the first audience decision held at K. S. A. C. Of the 629, 449 stated that their leaning toward the League of Nations proposals had been lessened and 180 indicated their favorable views on the League of Nations had been strengthened.

Aggies Uphold U. S. Stand

The resolution, "Resolved: That this house upholds America's refusal to join the League of Nations," was upheld by the Aggies, with Oxford taking the negative.

The outstanding arguments in the series of six excellent presentations were delivered by M. E. MacDonald of Oxford, son of Premier MacDonald, and by Robert Hedburg of K. S. A. C. Mr. MacDonald's talk was particularly interesting because of it being a sort of semi-official statement of the views of the present English government.

The premier's son emphasized the fact that in the last few months the influence of the league has brought France and England into much closer harmony and that it has changed public opinion materially in the two countries. He stated that the chief trouble with the American argument is that it is out of date.

Meet K. U. Monday

The Oxford team members who attended the K. U.-Aggie football game went to Lawrence where they met the K. U. debaters last night. They then travel up into Iowa, back to Indiana and north again into Canada where they will make an extensive tour. Before returning to England they plan to spend a month and a half touring Australia and New Zealand.

A chance that their trip may be broken up is contained, however, in the fact that young MacDonald is a candidate for election to parliament and if he is elected he will return immediately.

All three men are graduates of Oxford, MacDonald and Woodruff having finished in 1923, and Hollis in 1924.

Nearly a million farms are equipped with radio sets.

DO YOU KNOW?

That in 1906 when the Aggies defeated K. U. 1,200 people attended the game? This was an unusually large crowd for that year.

That this year 13,000 people witnessed the Aggie victory from K. U. at the Memorial Stadium?

That 2,000 cars were parked about the Stadium during the game here Saturday?

Purple Masque Play "For All Time" Has Spiritualistic Theme

Spiritualism predominates in "For All Time," one of the three one-act plays to be presented by students who were successful in Purple Masque tryouts a few weeks ago.

In the production, Mme. LeBargy, played by Helen Vanquist, is confident that she converses, through the aid of a mysterious chair, with her son who was killed in the war. The leading part of the play, that of Diane, former sweetheart of the dead son, will be portrayed by Miss Rebecca Thacher. Perry Thomas will take the role of Monsieur Roberts. Birdie Von Trebra very capably takes the part of Nannette, an elderly servant. These students are all making their initial appearances at K. S. A. C.

The other two plays to be given the same evening are "Questioning Fate" and "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler." Movie enthusiasts will recall the late Wallace Reid's appearance in "The Affairs of Anatol," from which "Questioning Fate" is taken.

These plays will be given Friday evening, October 24, at the college auditorium. This year no seats will be reserved, general admission tickets being all that is necessary. The price of all the tickets will be 50 cents. The ticket sale opens on October 22 in Anderson Hall. On Friday tickets will be sold from the box office in the auditorium.

Sigma Phi Sigma Wins Bike Race

The intramural bicycle race between halves of the Aggie-Kansas game Saturday was won by Irwin, unattached, and Soper, Sigma Phi Sigma, who tied for first place. Callis, Sigma Phi Sigma, was third, and Mittendorf, unattached, fourth.

Fifteen persons entered the race, according to E. A. Knott, director of intramurals. There were only two spills during the race.

Fred G. Paulsen, '23, graduate in agricultural economics, spent the week-end of October 18 in Manhattan to attend the K. U.-Aggie game and visit old friends. Mr. Paulsen is now located on a farm near Stafford.

PURPLE GRIDDETS CONQUER KANSAS U. FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE THE YEAR 1906

DONALD MEEK, HERO

140 Pound Sophomore from Idana, Kan., Snatches Up Fumble by Zuber, Giant University Backfield Man, in Fourth Quarter and Races 65 Yards for a Touchdown

At last!!! After fighting unsuccessfully for 18 years against the red and blue enemy from Jayhawkerland, the Aggie Wildcats made football history in Memorial Stadium last Saturday afternoon when they conquered the ancient foes by a 6 to 0 count.

Meek the Hero

Donald Meek, a 140-pound sophomore from Idana, playing his second game of Aggie football, made the touchdown after a 67 yard run. In the last 13 minutes of play, Zuber, 215 pound halfback on the K. U. team, was tackled by Jerry Krysl, Aggie left tackle, and fumbled the ball. Meek, running into the play and toward the K. U. goal line, snatched the ball off the ground, turned, and ran past the entire Jayhawker team for the touchdown. Cochran failed to kick goal on the try-for-point.

But it wasn't through Meek's heroic efforts that victory came. The Jayhawk downfall was due to the coaching ability of Charles Bachman and to the valiant efforts of every man who played.

The Aggies clearly outplayed the opposing team in every phase of the game, with the exception of punting. A feature of the struggle was the way the lines of the two teams held fast whenever their goal lines were threatened. The Aggie line was also superior, allowing only four earned first downs while the Jayhawks allowed seven.

Reserves Big Factor

A big factor in the victory of the Aggies was the strong reserve force and the strategy of Coach Bachman in knowing when to use this reserve. In the first three quarters the Aggie lineup was continually changing, keeping a fresh team on the field. This changing kept the Wildcat team at starting strength while the K. U. team was gradually tiring out.

Then, in the last two minutes of the third quarter Meek and Hoffman, two of the speediest men in the Valley, were put in at right and left positions. With the K. U. team weakened by the hard early play of the game, these two were able to take advantage of every break and able to gain on plays that would have failed earlier in the fracas.

Game Is Clean

The game was one of the cleanest in the history of the annual Aggie-K. U. battles, showing the increasing friendliness growing between the two schools. There was none of the unpleasantness that has spoiled some of the games in the past.

On the second play it looked as if the jinx was again going to make trouble for the Aggies. Captain Burt of K. U. kicked off, Smith receiving the ball and being downed on his 20-yard line. Then, on the next play, Wilson dropped the ball and K. U. recovered it. It was here that the fight of the Aggie line showed and K. U. was held for downs.

Cochrane then punted out of danger. The rest of the quarter was played in the middle of the field, most of the time in K. U. territory. At the end of the quarter the Aggies had the ball on the K. U. 38-yard line.

Second Period Dangerous

Soon after play started in the second quarter a pass, Mildrester to Munn, was intercepted, and Zuber punted to the Aggies' 20-yard line. From here two passes, Wilson to Cochran and Smith to Doolen, netted fifteen yards but a fumble gave the ball to the University again. Zuber, Starr, and Burt carried the ball in on straight football but Smith again got possession of it for the Aggies when he intercepted a pass on (Continued on page 4)

JOY

Let joy reign unconfined!

We don't know just who is responsible for the above command but we do know that it was heard by the Wildcat students after the thrilling victory over Kansas last Saturday. Parties and other organization festivities prevented any group enthusiasm Saturday night, everybody was too tired to celebrate on Sunday, so it all came out yesterday.

Prexy Jardine had announced that there would be school Monday but when the first classes met in the morning the lid came off and celebration was the order of the day.

The Collegian wishes to congratulate everybody: Charles Bachman, for his success in coaching a K. U. conquering team; the team, for conquering the Jayhawks; Prexy for his decision to hold classes and then winking one eye while the classes emptied; and the students for their enthusiasm, pep and loyalty.

We believe in being polite, courteous, and all that rot, but we can hardly forgive K. U. for coming down here and swiping all our dates.

However, we could almost forgive anything after the game turned out the way it did.

Sir:

In reference to your suggestion for freshmen girls to wear purple, might I offer one also? My idea is to have them chew purple gum instead of the ordinary kind. The conspicuousness of the color would go over big.—R. S. P.

Someone has suggested that the great number of cars which followed the Kappa Sig serenade was due to the fact that the occupants had nothing else to do and no place to stay for the night, and not because they really appreciated good music.

Diplomacy might be defined as that art which enables one to avoid dancing with a girl and yet leaving the impression that he is crazy to do so. There are few diplomats in school.

Harry is thoroughly disgusted with the girls of the college. After working hard for the first five weeks with the express purpose of being free on week-end nights, he discovered that every blessed girl whom he had picked out, received flunk slips.

Whatever the advantages of the proposed new thirteen months calendar, it is not suitable for school uses. The educational authorities would, no doubt, continue on the theory of three months vacation rather than nine months of school.

WRIGLEY'S

An instructor in current history surprised several members of his class last week when he asserted that Andy Gump was not actually a candidate for the presidency. Well, what is he a candidate for?

On Other Hills

If the Kansas Jawhawks keep the resolution made before the game last Saturday, Mt. Oread will be peopled with a motley bewhiskered crew of students. A proclamation made by Rob Roberts, head cheer leader, declared that if Kansas was defeated by the Aggies no man on the hill would be allowed to obtain a shave or haircut until Thanksgiving.

"Home Again, Win Again" was the slogan chosen for homecoming weekend at Oregon Agricultural College.

Candidates for cheer leader at the University of Oklahoma will be required to "show their stuff" at the first pep meeting of the year and a head cheer leader will be elected by the entire student body.

Plans for the organization of a fencing club were completed at K. U. last week. It is hoped that fencing may become an organized sport in all schools in the valley.

An outlined plan for materially reducing the cost of all social functions has been instituted at Oregon Agricultural college. The cost of formal affairs given by fraternities has been limited to $5.00 per member and the elimination of favors and individual flowers will be necessary to comply with the new ruling.

Miss Cynthia Mallory, the youngest student in the University of Michigan, has not yet passed her fourteenth birthday.

And It Was a Big Day All Around
—All Dads Happy

Special "features" arranged for the football game between K. U. and the Aggies last Saturday alone would have made the day a red letter one in Aggie history, were it not for the victory which overshadowed everything else.

More than 200 Kansas newspaper editors and their families attended the game and a noon luncheon as guests of the department of athletics and the department of journalism.

It was "Dads' day" and more than 500 Aggie dads attended the morning reception and the game. Mother and the children were here in almost as great a number, and along with dad helped to fill the auditorium in Friday night's pep meeting.

Governor Jonathan M. Davis and the state board of administration attended the game, sitting in the Aggie section the first half of the game and the K. U. section the second half. Although Governor Davis attended the university, two of his children have been Aggies.

Between halves of the game the Jay Janes, woman's pep organization from the university, and the Ku Kus, men's pep organization, formed a purple "K" in front of the Aggie stands and a red and blue "K" in front of the Kansas stands.

Aggie Wampus Cats put on a melting pot stunt which showed the students entering the two colleges and the "product" of each.

A girls' rifle team released several toy balloons and managed to puncture most of them before they got out of range.

The Aggie cross country team added to the "good time which was had by all the Aggies" by taking five places out of the first seven to finish in the race, and the debate team made it a perfect day by winning the decision of the audience from Oxford.

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

Mr. Editor:

The Collegian has repeatedly asked for suggestions to promote more interest and betterment of activities in general, so it is with all due apologies and impunity towards those in charge that I offer these concerning the general method of obtaining "Pep" at the games.

The method in use is good but I fear we are getting off the track somewhat. Quality of voice, intensity of voice, the "sting" of the yells, psychological moments recognized by a leader who takes advantage of them, order, and methodical rooting does the trick. Our leader must lead without any argument or reflection. He must have "prestige of Leadership" known to all. He must understand the crowd and display a skill in his work of interpreting their feelings and thinking.

Pep cannot be made by flashing uniforms or varied legislation. Pep is America's most natural trait. It's here in plenty and a skillful leader will bring it out at the right time. It is positively detrimental to insist on forcing it out every few minutes. This results in poor spirit and just wild harum-scarum screaming—the crowd and leader out of harmony.

Give us more methodical order in our cheering. It will instill more enthusiasm to the crowd and confidence to the team and become more impressive.

As I am a firm champion of the fair sex, I have often wondered just why we do not actually have one of our many coeds or a few of them as cheer leaders also? Other schools do have them and they are effective!—J. L. Hernandez, '24.

Celebrated Pianist
Is Often Called a
"Pocket Edition"

Cecile de Horvath, celebrated young pianist, will give the next concert of the Artist series November 12. Madame de Horvath made her American debut in Philadelphia with the New York Symphony orchestra, Walter Damrosch conducting. There was no opportunity for a rehearsal and before going on the stage Mr. Damrosch remarked about her tiny stature.

"You don't look big enough to play the piano," he said, and dubbed her "the pocket edition pianist."

This aroused her mettle and she determined to "show" Mr. Damrosch and the audience. She met with a veritable ovation not only from the audience but from Mr. Damrosch and his forces, and was immediately engaged for an appearance with the New York Symphony orchestra in New York City the following week. This was followed by tours of New England and Pennsylvania. Although she played several concertos, she never had any rehearsals with the orchestra. Mr. Damrosch never deemed it necessary in her case.

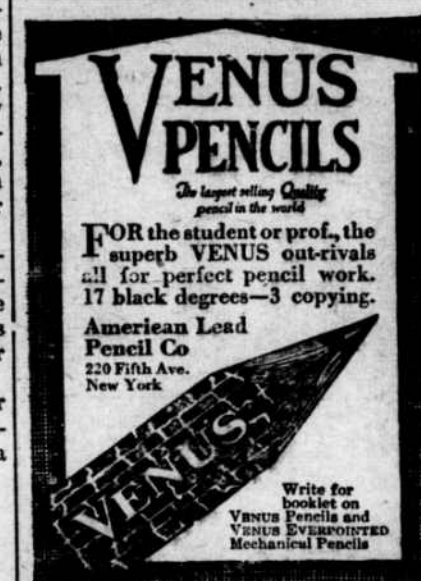

As to her size, Philip Hale declared in the Boston Herald of December 17, 1922, that "although she is small in stature, she can play as broadly as any pianist of the sterner sex."

Her diminutive size is one of her greatest assets, inasmuch as the public is totally unprepared for such a complete discrepancy.

The way you like your hair best—
you can keep it so!

PERHAPS you part your hair on the side. Perhaps in the middle. Perhaps you comb it straight back.

How long does it stay the way you like it best?

Before Stacomb was introduced, men tried countless methods to make their hair lie smoothly and stay that way—from old-fashioned pomades, which only matted the hair and made it greasy, to plain water, which kept it in place an hour at the most and then left it drier and more brittle than ever.

Stacomb has changed all that.

Everywhere—in classroom, theatre, club—you notice the improvement this delicate, invisible cream has made in the looks of men's and women's hair. It will keep yours just the way you want it—from morning till night.

Non-staining and non-greasy. In jars and tubes, at your college drug store. Use Stacomb tomorrow morning, and look your best all day!

Delta Zeta house dance.

Kappa Sigma entertained Saturday night with a dance at Bluemont pavilion. The Kappa Sigma orchestra from K. U. furnished the music, and practically all the K. U. members of the fraternity were among the guests. Alumni and members of the Washburn chapter were also guests. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weeks, Mrs. J. M. Bassler, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rhodes.

After the dance, a serenade was given at the various sorority houses. About 200 cars were in the party. Charles Cloud was the soloist, who sang "Kappa Sigma Sweetheart."

Week-end visitors at the Alpha Rho Chi house were Merle Padgett, Wichita; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cless, Rossville; O. D. Lantz, Chapman; and Miss Claire Helsterman, Greenleaf.

Beta Pi Epsilon had as their guests during the week-end Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Adams, Topeka; Miss Esther DuMond, Yates Center; Miss Lydia Hommon, Smith Center; Miss Mildred Lewis, Horton; Mrs. Frank McKinney, Ralph McKinney, and Miss Margaret McKinney, Great Bend; C. E. McVaine, Yates Center; J. W. Porter, Topeka; Miss Elfrida Hemker, Great Bend; and A. M. Young, Garden City.

Alpha Theta Chi entertained at tea last Thursday in honor of their house mother, Mrs. Kittle Mills Pennington. Guests included house mothers and one representative of each sorority and fraternity.

Miss Winifred McCollough of Rossville and Miss Merle Fair of K. U. were dinner guests at the Alpha Rho Chi house Sunday.

Kappa Phi Alpha had as their guests Saturday the members of the Sigma Chi fraternity from Lawrence.

Week-end guests at the Alpha Theta Chi house were Misses Betty Stimpson, Ruth Wilson, Margaret Butcher, Mildred Jennings, and Bess Jansen of K. U.; Mrs. George Huckstead, Junction City; Mrs. Max Coffin, LeRoy; Miss Eva Leland, Maize; Miss Irene Maughlin, Neodesha; Miss Marian Randles, Wilsey; Miss Thelma Gossard, Horton; and Miss Edna Striegel, Liberal.

Rogler, Matfield Green; Bunt Speer, Lincoln, Nebr.; Reed Williams, Marion; and Mrs. E. H. Brown and son, Holton; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bierger, Wichita.

Grey Silver, who spoke at the college last week, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given last Friday at the Open Door tea room. After the luncheon, Mr. Silver explained the plans of the new Grain Marketing company of which he is president. Members of the State Farm Bureau board, President W. M. Jardine, Deans F. D. Farrell and H. Umberger, and Professors W. E. Grimes, Eric Englund, R. M. Green, and E. A. Stokdyk were present at the luncheon.

Earl G. McDonald of the public speaking department left Thursday afternoon for Urbana, Ill., where he will attend the Illinois-Michigan game Saturday.

The Webster and Eurodelphian literary societies entertained 110 guests at their annual fall hike Saturday. After the game the hikers met at the gymnasium and went out beyond Bluemont hill. After a steak fry a program was given and the group joined in singing. Miss Lois Wildy and Prof. J. A. Munroe chaperoned.

Progress Makes It More Difficult to Be Self-Made Man

In the future not many Aggie alumni will be able to tell the tale that they made their way through college by rising at 4 o'clock in the morning to milk six or seven cows before attending classes.

Machinery has again usurped hand labor, this time in the form of a four unit milking machine, which has recently been installed at the college dairy. Now only the eight cows which have to be milked four times daily are milked by hand, the rest of the herd being milked by the mechanical dairy maid.

Before the advent of the suction milker, Aggie students played valet to the "bossies," but they were often unreliable, sometimes taking an extra "shut eye" and being late, or dropping the job altogether. With the new milker, the cows do not have to accustom themselves to a perhaps half-dozen "hands" per year but can go about their business of breaking records without having the serenity of their bovine existence interrupted by unpunctual milkers.

Bethany Circle Meets

Bethany Circle, an organization for the college girls of the Christian church, held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the church. After dinner Miss Fern Straw gave a violin solo accompanied by Miss Erma Willis. Miss Martha Burr presented two readings, "The Small Boy at Sunday School," and "It Ain't Nothing to Laugh at."

As a preliminary to the study of different religions that the girls are to take this winter, Mrs. J. D. Arnold gave an instructive talk on religion as the basic phase of our lives. A stunt called "Old College of Mine" which showed incidents in the lives of a freshman, sophomore, junior and senior, closed the program. About 50 members and guests were present.

STUDENTS FROM OTHER STATES MAY VOTE HERE

Absentee Voting Laws of 32 States Permit Casting of Ballots Away From Home

Absentee voting laws will make it possible for students from 32 states to cast their votes at the coming election, November 4, provided they have complied with the registration laws of their respective states.

The states which permit qualified voters temporarily absent from the state on election day, to vote at both primary and general elections are: Alabama, California, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Wyoming.

The following seven states permit voting by mail on general elections only: Arizona, Delaware, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Texas, and Utah.

In eight additional states, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, and Oklahoma, voters who are absent from their home precinct but who are in other parts of the state are permitted to vote by mail.

On account of the difference in the absentee voting law of the various states, there is no universal procedure. The usual method is to write to the county auditor or county clerk during the thirty days preceding the election, stating that the voter will be absent from his home precinct on election day. He must give his legal residence and polling precinct in connection with his application for an official ballot. If it is found that the applicant is entitled to vote, an affidavit blank and an official ballot are forwarded to him. The voter must then go before a notary public, postmaster, or other official authorized to administer oaths, sign the affidavit and mark his ballot in the presence of the official and forward it by mail in time for election.

Students living in Kansas who are outside of their voting precinct, and who do not live in second class towns may vote at the third ward on election day without registering.

Alpha Zeta, honorary fraternity in the division of agriculture, held the first of their monthly dinners of the year in the college Cafeteria Monday night. After the dinner a short business meeting was held. John Inskeep, Purdue university graduate, was the guest of the active chapter and made a short talk about what is expected of a student on graduation from a college of this kind.

A publicity campaign for the department of architecture at the college is planned by the Gargyle club, organization of students in the department. Most of the publicity work will be done by the students themselves, who are to prepare articles for publication in their home town newspapers.

ODDS ARE EVEN FOR TIGER GAME

EACH SCHOOL HAS WON FOUR AND LOST FOUR

Also Two Tie Games Since Opening of Relations Between Aggies and M. U. in 1909

Columbia, Mo.,—When the University of Missouri and Kansas State Agricultural college football teams meet here Saturday afternoon in their eleventh encounter since the famous Bill Roper team of 1909 opened relations between the two schools with a 3 to 0 victory, the odds will be even, so far as the dope of other years is concerned, for each school has won four games and lost four, while the remaining two games resulted in ties.

Unless a tie game results from Saturday's struggle then one of the teams will have a black mark in the valley lost column for the Tigers won their first conference battle last Saturday at Ames, while the Aggies by the aid of a long run after a fumble had been recovered trounced the Kansas Jayhawkers at Aggieville.

Tigers Won Last Year

Following the 1909 game there was a break in gridiron relations between the two schools until 1914, but since that the string of games has been unbroken down to last year's battle in the Manhattan mud which ended with the Tigers on top, two safeties to one.

Punting and point kicking has jinxed the Missouri-Aggie conflicts almost since the inception of competition between the two schools, and for that reason, Tiger followers, realizing the weakness of their team in that department of the game, are looking somewhat at the possibilities of victory this year.

Toes Have Played Important Part

In 1916 and 1917 Missouri lost to the Wildcats, 7 to 6, through the inability of Tiger toes to make good the goal after touchdown, and in 1919 the Bengals lost an opportunity to win when they again failed to kick the extra point and the Wildcats equalled the six points of the Bengal touchdown with two field goals from Dewey Houston's toe.

The gods which guide kickers turned to Missouri in 1920 when Chuck Lewis' field goal gave the Tigers victory, 10 to 7, but away in 1921 and 1922, when superior punting brought the breaks for the Aggies that gave them two consecutive wins.

Last year fumbles behind the goal line on punt formation forced the Wildcats to deliver two safeties to the Tigers, against one intentional offered by the Bengals when they were close pressed in the mud near the end of the game.

Alumni Hold Reunion

Alumni of K. S. A. C. who were attending the state teachers' meeting at Hays, held a reunion in the form of a luncheon at the State Memorial cafeteria on Friday noon, October 17. Gus (Tiny) Seng, '11, city manager of Hays, and a member of Mike Ahearn's famous 1910 football team, presided. Dr. W. E. Grimes, Dr. J. E. Ackert, Prof. W. H. Andrews, Miss Alene Hinn, and Miss Elizabeth Agnew, dean of women at Hays Teachers' college, were the speakers.

JAYHAWKERS ARE HUMBLD

his 8-yard line. Cochran again punted out of danger and the ball see-sawed back and forth in midfield until the end of the half. When the whistle blew the University had the ball on its 32-yard line.

During the first half both teams had been relying chiefly on straight football. Mildrester and the half-backs carried the ball for the Aggies. All of the K. U. backs carried the ball but Zuber had it most of the time. It was this heavy work at the start that tired Zuber so that he made the losing fumble later in the game. Throughout the game he was worked hard and gained consistently. In punting he had a better record than the Aggie kickers, Cochran and Mildrester.

More Passes in Third

In the third quarter the two teams started more passes and worked them in addition to their previous attacks of straight football. In the fourth quarter the touchdown was made. By this time practically the entire Aggie lineup had been changed and most of those who were in at the start of the game and at the start of the fourth quarter had rested, so they would be ready for any breaks that might come. The break came in the first three minutes and gave the stands the most joy they have had since 1906.

After the touchdown the Aggies again started for the K. U. goal but a fumble was recovered by Burt of K. U. on the 16-yard line. Here the K. U. men staged a comeback and got the ball down to the 48-yard line, where the Aggies stiffened and forced a punt.

A little while later K. U. made its last threat to score when Captain Burt attempted a field kick from his 42-yard line.

The game ended with a play that showed why the Aggies have come to be called Wildcats. Ballard, tackle, rushed through and threw Zuber for a 15-yard loss, a fitting close to the game that meant so much to the Aggies as it brought to K. S. A. C. a defeat over her ancient rival, the football championship of Kansas, and started her out on a Valley schedule with a perfect record.

No School but All Attend Eight Hour Dancing Lab in Gym

"No school! No school! No school!"

First hour classes had just convened Monday when a mob of rook-ies ran through the halls shouting this cry. Every class room was visited and all laws of mob psychology fulfilled when all hesitatingly joined the howling mob.

Students enthusiastically attended, however, an eight hour dancing lab in the gym and at Johnny's. Cars, each carrying three carloads of howling Aggies and dragging tin cans behind, tore through Aggieville and to town then through town to Aggieville.

The Wampus Cats went down to the high school and routed out the high school classes with shouts of, "You won your game too, come on!"

And if there are any wooden boxes left in Manhattan it isn't the fault of the pajama clad Aggie Kluxers. They burned them all in the big jamboree bonfire last night.

Did we beat K. U.? Well, rawther.

HOLD MEETING FOR NEW Y. W. C. A. MEMBERS

Organization Conducts Impressive Service—Has Interesting Program

All new members of the Y. W. C. A. were formally received into membership at the annual recognition and consecration service last night in Recreation center. This meeting was one of the most impressive meetings held this year by the Y. W. C. A. At the close of the services the candle lighting service was used. A large number of the faculty, advisory board, big sisters, mothers, and town friends were present.

The program was as follows: Processional, "Hymn of Light;" duet, Margaret Foster and Dorothy Stiles, "Send Out the Light;" octette; address of welcome, Evelyn Colburn; Candle lighting; violin solo, Elizabeth Van Ness; benediction and recessional.

For the first time, oil was used as the exclusive fuel in the college power plant, last year, 1,775.88 gallons of crude oil were consumed. At a cost of 4 cents per gallon laid down at the plant, the college fuel bill amounted to about $71,000. This year 3,500 gallons of oil are being used daily, but it is estimated that during cold weather the daily consumption will rise to 10,000 gallons.

ROYAL PURPLE STUDIO OPENED

NORTHLAND STUDIOS TO HAVE CHARGE OF PHOTOGRAPHY

Individual Picture Plan for All Organizations Adopted—Will Produce More Finished Book

The Royal Purple photographer is to open his studio in Anderson hall today. This is a branch of the Northland Studios, Chicago, specialists in college annual work. This is the first year that the services of a Royal Purple photographer on the campus have been secured. The management of the Royal Purple has leased the room formerly occupied by the canteen for the use of this studio.

Studio to Close November 25

The studio will close November 25. Students are urged to make immediate arrangements for pictures. Photographs can be taken any time after payment of the Royal Purple assessments.

Class assessments for this year are: freshman, $3.00; sophomore, $3.50; junior, $4.50; and senior, $12.50. The senior assessment includes a copy of the book. All assessments should be paid at once at the Royal Purple office opposite the college post office.

Individual Photographs to Be Used

The 1925 Royal Purple staff has decided to adopt the individual picture plan for all organizations instead of the group pictures formerly used. A charge of 50 cents is made for each picture in the organization section if the same glass is used in the class section. If the individual does not wish his picture in the class section a charge of $1.50 is made for the organization picture alone.

This plan, which has been followed by the sororities for a number of years, will produce a more finished annual and secure a better picture of each individual.

AGGIE GRADUATE HOUSEHOLD EDITOR FARM AND FIRESIDE

Former Collegian Editor Has Held Many Important Positions Since Finishing at K. S. A. C.

Miss Clementine Paddelford, '21, is spending the week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Paddelford. Miss Paddelford will go to New York City to take up the position of household editor of Farm and Fireside, one of the most widely circulated farm journals in America. She will have charge of about half of the material appearing in each issue of Farm and Fireside.

After her graduation Miss Paddelford edited an agricultural trade journal and prepared a series of articles on economic subjects which appeared in the Country Gentleman and other farm publications. Later she accepted a position with the Chicago agricultural agency in which she had charge of a number of publicity accounts, Sears, Roebuck and Company's advertising agency foundation, Real Silk Institute, Blue Valley Creamery Institute, and WLS, Sears, Roebuck and Company's radio broadcasting station.

Miss Paddelford was editor-in-chief of The Collegian during her senior year and was prominent in other student activities.

BLOCK AND BRIDLE HOLDS INITIATION FOR EIGHT MEN

Organization Promotes Improvement and Increases Interest in Division

The regular fall initiation of Block and Bridle was held in the pavilion Tuesday night, October 14. Eight men who are majoring in animal husbandry and who have completed more than three semesters' work were taken in. They are H. H. Carnahan, W. J. Klinsenber, John Carry, Lee Marshall, Guy Baker, A. C. Hoffman, Walter Atzenwiler, and Bruce Johnson.

The purpose of the Block and Bridle association is to promote interest among students in animal husbandry and to bring about a closer relationship among men pursuing some phase of animal husbandry as a profession.

MANY ENTER INTRAMURALS

Seventeen Organizations Enter for Basketball

The intramural basketball tournament promises to be the biggest in the history of intramural athletics at K. S. A. C. To date 17 organizations have entered teams in this division of Aggie athletics. Prof. E. A. Knoth, director of intramurals, expects at least twice that number will enter before the season begins. He asks that entries be made as soon as possible so that a practice schedule can be worked out.

An attempt is being made to organize teams in each of the R. O. T. C. companies. If this is successful there should be much more enthusiasm over these games than there has been in the past. Members of fraternity or club teams will be eligible for a military team.

Mystery, Tragedy, and Thrills Feature Purple Masque Plays

Mystery, tragedy, and a story of these dizzy times will occupy the stage of the college auditorium tonight. A group of the students who were successful in the first tryouts conducted by the Purple Masque will make their initial appearance tonight in three plays, "For All Time," "Questioning Fate," and "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler."

"For All Time" is a story built around the death of a French soldier in the last war, of the mother who is able to converse with her son, the faithful and brave sweetheart, and the extraordinary medium through which the mother obtains communication with her son. Rebecca Thacher, Birdie Von Trebra, Helen Vanquist and Perry Thomas compose the cast.

"Questioning Fate" is a short play with plenty of action. Movie followers will recall the late Wallace Reid's last picture, "The Affairs of Anatol," from which this play is taken. The part of the doubting Anatol is played by James Price. Max is portrayed by Lynn Fayman and Cora by Agatha Tyler. This play is decidedly modern and problems that are encountered are the complicated and interesting questions of this day and age.

The audience must not be surprised if a corpse suddenly appears from an unknown source on the stage when "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler" begins. Mystery, thrills, excitement, fast action, and clever speeches all go to make this play a worthy rival of the other two presented. The cast includes Arthur Maxwell, Kingsley Given, Herman Higgins, Stanley Morse, Ralph Clarke, Gene Conklin, and Jerome Lindsey.

For the benefit of those who were unable to make arrangements to secure tickets for the performance tonight the box office of the auditorium will be open until time for the plays to begin. The price of admission is 50 cents for all seats, no seats being reserved as in former years.

Doctor Russel Gives Chapel Talk

Dr. Margaret Russel, associate professor in the department of English gave the chapel address Wednesday morning. Doctor Russel told of many interesting things characteristic of the English people and also described in detail many of the historical places of that country. The subject of her talk was, "When I Go to London."

Quill Contest Ends November 1

The Quill club contest for membership will close November 1, and all manuscripts must be submitted to Prof. N. A. Crawford before that date. Any person is eligible to enter the contest by writing an original composition. This composition may be an oration, fiction, narrative, character sketch, literary essay, poetry, feature article, or dramatic composition, and shall not contain more than 3,000 words or less than 800 words.

E. C. Paxton, agricultural statistician for the bureau of agricultural economics, J. C. Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture, and H. W. ## AGGIES DOPED AS CHAMPIONS?

GAME TOMORROW IS VITALLY IMPORTANT FOR WILDCATS

If Bachman's Aggregation Can Conquer Missouri It Has Good Chance for Championship Honors

Will the Kansas Aggies be fighting Oklahoma for the championship of the Missouri Valley when the two teams meet at Norman Thanksgiving day?

According to dope that question should be decided at Columbia tomorrow when the Aggies play Missouri, as it is reasonably certain that Oklahoma will win from Drake and that, if the Aggies defeat Missouri, they have an excellent chance to go through the rest of the schedule victorious.

Game Should Break Tie

In addition to eliminating one of the Valley leaders, the game should break the tie that now exists in the records of Missouri-Aggie games so far. Out of the 10 games played by the two teams Missouri has won four, the Aggies four, and two have been tied. In addition, Missouri has the honor of having defeated the Aggies by the biggest margin and the Aggies have the record of the biggest score. These facts show that if one judges by past records the game tomorrow will be close.

From records made by the two teams this year the teams are also evenly matched. Missouri defeated Ames in their first Valley game by one touchdown and the Aggies won from K. U. by one touchdown. Missouri also defeated Missouri Wesleyan by two touchdowns and the Aggies won from the Kansas Teachers 19 to 6. Then the only advantage Missouri has in pre-season games is her victory over Chicago, a Big Ten school.

Aggies Edge in Yards

Judging from yards gained from scrimmage the Aggies have the edge. Leaving out the breaks, which have accounted for most of the Valley victories so far, the Aggies outplayed K. U., K. U. outplayed Ames, and Ames outplayed Missouri. Judging from this the Aggies are superior in straight football.

Another interesting fact is that both teams will rely strongly on their reserves. The value of the Aggie reserves was clearly demonstrated against K. U. last Saturday and Coach Charlie Corsaut, who saw Missouri play Ames last week, says that Missouri has fully the number of reserves that the Aggies have. From this it looks as if the first three quarters would be merely preliminary to the final period when the scores will be made and the victory will largely be due to the use of the reserve strength at the right time.

The Aggie coaches worked their men hard this week in preparation for the battle tomorrow. While most of the school was celebrating Monday afternoon the football squad was on the field the same as ever, scrimmaging against the freshmen until dark and then studying football after that. The only comment Coach Bachman would make on the K. U. game was that to the team and the coaches "K. U. was just one of the schools on the schedule." With this idea the squad has been working hard to keep the lead won in the first game.

All Men Are O. K.

Unless something unexpected turns up the entire Aggie squad will be ready for work tomorrow. E. L. Stone, varsity guard, who suffered a broken leg in the first scrimmage of the year, is the only man off the squad because of injuries. The fact that the physical condition of the men is good and that all the regulars are eligible means that the Aggies will be at their best.

Coach Bachman has not announced yet what his starting lineup will be, as some of the best players may be held in reserve. It is generally thought, however, that the starters will be: Munn, right end; Ballard, right tackle; Hutton, right guard; Harter, center; McGee, left guard; Krysl or Keefer, left tackle; Doolen, left end; Cochran, quarter; Wilson, or Dayhoff, right half; Havelly or Smith, left half; and Mildreter, full-back.

ADD TWELVE NEW TENNIS COURTS WEST OF GYM

Total Cost of Construction, Including Cyclone Fence, Is $4,500

Twelve new tennis courts have been laid out adjoining the old courts west of Nichols gymnasium making sixteen courts in all. Four of these are completed and are being used and four are nearing completion. The other four are being dragged and will be ready for use in two weeks. The four old courts have had a new top dressing. The cost of grading and finishing of these courts will be about a thousand dollars. Cyclone fence especially constructed for tennis courts has been erected around all of the courts. This fence alone cost $3,500 making the cost of the entire reconstruction about $4,500.

GLEE CLUB TO ENTER CONTEST

A Missouri Valley Meet Will Be Held at Kansas City

Football is not the only activity into which schools belonging to the Missouri Valley athletic association may enter. The men's glee clubs from Nebraska, Oklahoma, Missouri, Washington, Kansas, and Drake universities and from Kansas and Iowa state colleges will meet in Kansas City February 14 to determine the winner, who will be sent to New York City later in the spring.

This organization of Missouri Valley schools was formed last spring with the idea of affiliating with the National Glee Club Association. Last year Grinnell won and is now a member of the Chicago group. To be eligible for a placing the rules are much like those of the athletic association, that the contestants must all be undergraduates and in good standing in the institution from which they come.

The executive committee is composed of members of the faculty of the schools competing. The officers that were elected for the ensuing year are: president, Thomas A. Laremore of the University of Kansas; secretary, Prof. Ira Pratt of K. S. A. C.; treasurer, Dean J. T. Quarles, of the University of Missouri. The above group has charge of the rules, the contests and the programs.

The business committee is made up of alumni of the schools contesting and who are residents of Kansas City. The representative from this school is J. H. Anderson.

Each glee club will sing three numbers, the first to be of their own selection, the second a prize song that every club will be required to sing, and the third to be a song of the school represented. The first two must be given unaccompanied.

Professor Pratt is drilling the glee club with the assistance of his two student directors, Harry Wilson and Harold Flamm. The rules state that no faculty director may conduct at the contest.

Aggies Use Same Ceremony on Field as in Game of 1906

The repetition of a ceremony that was used in 1906 when the Aggies beat K. U. proved good again here Saturday. That year a rabbit was turned loose upon the field with the Aggie colors about its neck and the team walked away with a victory. Not since that time has this tradition been used until Saturday when the Wildcats again defeated the Jayhawks with another 6-0 score. After 18 years the ceremony still was effective so far as superstition goes so this is to be adopted as an annual part of the program of the pepsters at each K. U.-Aggie game.

Brown, '06, who played center with the winning team that year, brought the "good luck" rabbit from western Kansas for the game Saturday. His young daughter in the purple and white sent the rabbit across the field which will mark the renewing of an epoch in football history. Few of the 14,000 people in Memorial Stadium paid any attention to the rabbit running across the gridiron but to the superstitious this may mean the winning of the game hereafter.

Approximately 1,200 people attended the game in 1906, this being unusually large, the average attendance being around 800. Saturday more than 10 times that many people witnessed the first victory over K. U. in 18 years.

PRESENT DRAMATICS TONIGHT

Cast Chosen by Purple Masque to Appear in Three Plays

Purple Masque will present three one act plays, a tragedy, entitled "For All Time" by Rita Wellman and two comedies, "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler" and "Questioning Fate" from "The Affairs of Anatol" by Arthur Schnitzler, Friday, October 24, in the auditorium.

The cast of these plays was selected from the 650 students who tried out for the Purple Masque this fall and represents the cream of new dramatic material in this school. The plays are all extremely modern in tendency and are thoroughly enjoyable.

The program will begin at 8:15 and will be over in time to permit those who wish to do so to attend the varsity dance. Admission will be 50 cents.

PRESENT INTERPRETATION OF "FOOT NOTES" AT VESPER

Girls Signify Preference of Discussion Groups by Signing Cards

An interpretation of "Foot Notes" was given to the Y. W. C. A. at Vespers Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Recreation Center by Miss Stella Harriss, member of the chemistry department, and Dorothy Rosebrough. Special music was furnished by the Y. W. C. A. octette. At the close of the meeting all of the girls interested in discussion groups were asked to sign a card in which group they were the most interested. There are many types of questions that will be discussed by the groups that are of interest to the college woman. Some of these are: "What should be the relationship of college American girls to girls of other races?" "How does the working girl live?" "What are some of the industrial questions of our country?" "What makes a girl popular?" "To what extent should girls let pleasure interfere with their studies?"

INTRAMURAL CAGE SEASON SOON

Today Is Deadline for Entries in Organization Basketball Tourney

Intramural basketball season starts November 2 and all entries must be in not later than today, October 24, according to Prof. E. A. Knoth of the athletic department. Twenty teams have entered to date but it is expected that at least 30 will have entered by tonight.

The tournament will be divided into three groups again this year: Pan-Hellenic fraternities, non-Pan-Hellenic fraternities, and clubs. An unsuccessful attempt was made to organize a group with teams from each of the military companies.

It is hoped that this tournament can be played off before the varsity basketball season begins. Sigma Nu won the much coveted basketball trophy last year.

TIGER-WILDCAT CONTEST HERE

PLAY BY PLAY REPORT TO BE RECEIVED IN AUDITORIUM

Space to Seat 2,200—Come Early and Get a Seat—Scoreboard
Will Graphically Show
Every Play

Oooh Me! O-o-oh My!!
Won't We Black! That Tiger's Eye!
Won't He Weep! Won't He Wall!
When We Twist! That Tiger's Tail!
At least 2,200 Aggie rooters will be able to crowd into the auditorium tomorrow afternoon to see the Purple clad Aggie Wildcats knot that Tiger's tail.

Follow Plays Closely

They will be able to follow the play more closely than the rooters of old Mizzou out on Rollins Field at Columbia. For the new electrically operated scoreboard which will be in use shows each play exactly as it is made. Besides the position of the ball on the field at all times, the names of the players making the play and the route the play took, as end run, off tackle, line plunge, forward pass, intercepted pass, etc., are shown for every move in the game.

The down, yards to go, penalty, score, and names of each player and substitutes and their positions are on the electric board all the time. The lights are shaded so that no glare issues from the scoreboard to blind the spectator.

How many times in the stadium do you turn around to your neighbor with, "Who made that play?" or "What was that penalty for?" Here ALL the information is before your eyes all the time.

Also you can make all the noise you want to all the time. You never have to be quiet so that the team can get the signals.

Tied for First

The Aggies are tied with Missouri, Drake and Oklahoma for the lead in the M. V. championship football race. This week-end Oklahoma battles Drake at Des Moines while the Wildcats are clashing with the Bengals at Columbia. Saturday night two teams should be leading the Valley. Which two?

For two-bits, less than the cost of a picture show, you can see two of the leaders, the Wildcats and the Tigers, claw for supremacy. It will be a battle royal. Come and root for your team!

No football enthusiast need miss seeing an Aggie victory this year. All out-of-town games will be played on the electric scoreboard in the auditorium through the courtesy of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, which operates the board and secures a running story of the game by telegraph.

HARRIERS TO RUN TOMORROW

Same Cross-Country Team That Ran Saturday Chosen

The ease with which the Aggie cross-country team defeated the K. U. team last week and with a comparatively same score as they were beaten last year, leads the Wildcat followers to believe that the Aggies have an exceptionally strong team.

Last year the Wildcats were defeated by Missouri even though the Aggies placed first in the run. This year with the showing of the Aggies thus far, the Tigers will no doubt have to have a better team than they had last year if they expect to win.

Tryouts Wednesday resulted in the same six men who represented the Aggies in the meet with K. U. to be the ones to invade the Tigers' territory tomorrow. The following men will make the trip: Ralph Kimport, John Smith, Paul Axtel, M. L. Sallee, R. P. Aikman, and E. Rutherford.

Play Tryouts Tuesday

Manuscripts of "The First Year," the fall play to be presented by Purple Masque are on reserve at the loan desk in the library. E. G. McDonald, dramatic coach, announces that those who intend to try out must read the play beforehand. Tryouts will be held in G56 Tuesday, October 28, at 4 p. m. for women and at 7 p. m. for men.

DO YOU KNOW?

That if two story and one-half houses were placed one above the other, the top of the upper one would be level with the top of the Stadium wall?

That if another story were added, the level of the side and end towers would be reached?

That the entrance towers will be more than twice the height of the ordinary two story house?

The Men Who Beat Kansas University

Meek, the lad of the contagious grin at the left, is the 140 pound Aggie halfback who scored six glorious points by picking up a K. U. fumble and running 47 yards to a touchdown. Coach Bachman, the Aggie mentor, held Meek and Hoffman, his two speediest backfield men, on the sidelines until the game turned into the last period with the wind at the Aggies' backs, then sent them in with instructions to run wild with the pigskin. Meek carried out the instructions and sprinted into the Aggie hall of football fame.

WHO'S WHO?

Two of the most crucial games of the 1924 football season are scheduled for tomorrow. When the whistles blow ending these two contests in all probability two of the present valley leaders will drop from first place. Of course there is a possibility of a tie in one or both cases as all four teams are very evenly matched.

The Wildcat machine will contest the University of Missouri while Oklahoma takes on Drake. Oklahoma will probably win over Drake by the narrowest of margins although a Sooner defeat is altogether possible. Charlie Bachman's team has one of the most equal foes of the entire group of scheduled elevens to play in Missouri and the result of this fracas rests entirely in the hands of Fate.

The Valley race has narrowed down somewhat since the opening of the season but there are still five and possibly six aggregations that are in line for championship honors. These are: Kansas Aggies, Missouri, Drake, Oklahoma, Ames, and possibly Nebraska. The Huskers play only four games in the valley, and they have already lost one, so if they win all the remaining contests their highest percentage can only be .750. There is little to choose between these first five, each having the potential power of a champion if Fate doesn't intervene.

No further predictions can be at all reliable at this time because of the equal power of practically all of the teams. At the start of the season The Collegian pointed to Drake and Missouri as probable winners. These two teams are still in the top of the percentage column along with the Wildcats and Oklahoma, and they may remain there although we have a feeling that the Bulldogs are slated for a defeat.

A news item states that a certain brand of gum brought $6,758,835.16 in profits to the manufacturers in a period of nine months. We know a girl in this school who must have swelled this total by about $35.16 in the last two months.

It has been suggested that girls be chosen as cheer leaders of the school. Never! Possibly girls have some place in the world, if so, it is not out in front of the stadium. They would detract too much attention from the game.

The old saying "you can't fool all the people all the time," will be given another test in about two more weeks. Just before mid-term grades are ready for delivery.

Monday's holiday was characterized as an eight hour dancing lab. Precisely what it was. And it was real labor, too.

It is interesting to note that the Phi Phi row in chapel was able to keep up its good work in making more noise than the speaker.

H. E. K.:
I am going home for the week end. You can have my girl on Saturday if you want her. I shan't charge you a cent.—L. I. M.

Due to publicity received thru this colm, Harry has begun to rush our girl. It was a fatal mistake, Harry. Your publicity medium is now ruined. We refuse to aid you in causing us grief.

It is not the policy of the colm to laud, extol, or otherwise uphold the other sex, but we do wish to say a word in their defense in reference to the barber discussion. In all our career of being shaved at the barber shops never have we been forced to wait on a girl. Neither time.

They say "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing." Well, there is certainly a harmless bunch around this school.

A fraternity man went to a show the other day and heard one of the actors sing a little refrain about Manhattan whiskey tasting like turpentine. "How true," he said, "How true."

We understand that the boys in drill could hardly be persuaded to leave their classes on Monday. It is rather hard to miss a class that one likes very much.

On Other Hills

Women students at the University of Indiana will have complete charge of the laying of the cornerstone and the dedication of the new Women's Dormitory to be built on the campus.

Annual Olympics in which freshman and sophomore gymnast classes are to be participants will be the feature of Homecoming celebrations planned at K. U. this week-end. Pathe News photographers will film the entire program.

Northwestern University is making an effort to bring non-fraternity men together by means of athletic teams and social events.

Ohio State University holds an annual chrysanthemum and flower show under the direction of the department of horticulture. A queen of the show will be chosen from the girls in the department. Faculty members will serve as judges.

There is an exclusively freshman band at Texas University. The first year men have met and effected a permanent organization. They have chosen a director and elected officers for the coming year.

The Indiana Daily Student runs a Who's Who column of the new instructors in order to acquaint the students with the new members of the faculty.

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

Dear Editor:

If the cheer leaders had been in the west section of the stadium Saturday afternoon, and heard that heartlifting "Jay Rah" roll across the field, they would no longer even raise the question as to whether the yell should be discarded. Even the determined efforts of the K. U. band failed to drown out the surge of that battle call, and we Aggies who had seats over there felt proud indeed of our college yell. A former K. U. student sitting by us remarked, "That is a good yell—long enough and slow enough that it gets across the field in fine shape so that there's no mistaking the fact that a yell is being given."

That is a tribute from the same source that started the report three years ago that our college yell was like the University's. It was a K. U. man who did that, and he did it just as the small boy, in jealous guarding of his own possessions, calls his playmate a copycat. He does it to see if he can intimidate the other fellow. It seems that K. U. almost scared us out of even our call to battle.

Well, we have shown them now that we are not afraid of them on the gridiron; that we are better fighters than they. The use of our own yell as the first one of the game Saturday showed that we were standing on our own rights there also. If we gave it up we would show weakness and a fear of our brothers down the Kaw that isn't in us.

The yell is like K. U.'s only in tempo. In arrangement of sections, even, it is different. That slow roll, with the rapid repetition is characteristic of the official yell of almost every big school. Listen to the Northwestern yell, to Chicago's, to Missouri's, and you will notice how similar are all long calls. The short snappy yell is all right as filler; but when it comes to a battle cry, something that will roll out across the field and literally carry a player along, the slow long yell, with power and triumph expressed in it, must come into use.

We have one. What a good one it is shown in every game in which it is used. It belongs to the school. It has life. It expresses an unquenchable spirit. Let's use it.—Leonard Root.

As It Was in 1906

The victory of the college over the state university on the gridiron yesterday brought forth an enthusiasm among our students and the citizens that was without parallel in the history of the institution; all the more because it had been a clean game from start to finish. The streets were thronged in the evening with shouting students, a bonfire was lighted, the college bell rang, speeches were made—all felt that it was a famous victory. The attendance at the game was over 1,500.

DOPE SHOWS SEVERAL TEAMS STILL IN RACE

But Wildcats Have as Good a Chance at Premier Honors as Any Other Valley Team

With a defeat hung on the Jay-hawker team as a result of Saturday's game, the Aggies are now doped as a leading candidate for the Valley championship.

Kansas may well be considered out of the race having lost two valley games so far. Playing the powerful Cornhuskers tomorrow as their third valley game they are decidedly not favored to win.

Although Nebraska got off to a poor start this year, losing to Oklahoma in its first valley game, she no doubt has hit her stride again as was shown by her overwhelming victory over Colgate last Saturday. Nevertheless she will have to continue such a brand of football as was demonstrated against Colgate if she expects to retain her good reputation in the valley.

Drake made her valley debut Saturday with a victory over Grinnell and in so doing showed a brand of football that will make the Aggies and all other Valley schools which they play this year look forward none to optimistically to a victory over them.

Grinnell has one victory over Washington but as Washington may well be considered one of the weakest teams in the Valley she cannot be doped as a strong contender for the Valley title.

Ames has a percentage of .500 at present having defeated K. U. and having lost to Missouri by a close score. Although one defeat will no doubt keep any team from winning the Valley title this year, there is a big chance for a tie if Ames wins the remaining games.

The surprising victory of Oklahoma over Nebraska has led her followers to believe that the Sooner team will have no difficulty in tying for, if not winning, the 1924 championship.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lamer of Salina were in Manhattan for the K. U.-Aggie game.

Miss Ina Cowles of the department of clothing and textiles returned Friday from Topeka where she spoke before the State Teachers' Association on "Clothing Problems in Rural and Third Class High Schools."

for Men

A man's watch should be in keeping with his character, his business and social standing. It should be as modern and as stylish as his clothes.

For the man of affairs, the "gentleman"—in the true masculine sense of the word, no other watch is quite so appropriate as a GENUINE GRUEN VERITHIN.

Fitted with Gruen Precision Movement, famous for its dependability as a timekeeper, this watch not only tells the time for its owner, but becomes also a mark of distinction which stamps him as a man of standing among his friends.

A roster of the men who carry Gruen Watches today would include thousands of the most famous names in business, politics, and society.

When you pass our windows, look at the display of beautiful new designs, or come in and inspect our selection of Gruens. No obligation to buy—we will be glad to show them.

DON MEEK, THE AGGIES' DAVID

GOD OF JUSTICE HERE LAST SATURDAY

Bible Story Reenacted in Downfall of Zuber, Goliath of Kansas University

(By Charles E. Rogers)

If there be a football god of justice, surely, for the span of a couple of hours Saturday afternoon, he dwelt on the Kaw near the mouth of the Blue to see that the Aggies got their dues.

Outplaying the Jayhawkers, bitterest of rivals, the Aggies deserved to win, even as teams of the state agricultural college have deserved to win so many times when yardage gained and first downs earned were taken into account.

But in years past the great football jehovah always has been pleased to smile upon the hosts of the invaders from down the Kaw, so it seemed at least, to those who gave allegiance to the Aggie colors.

A Tremble of Fear

This year, indeed, the Aggies trembled as they heard of the K. U. Goliath, the giant of a man in the person of Zuber, 215-pound flash, triple threat man, a bogey with which to frighten Aggie children. Out of the K. U. camp he came to challenge combat with any Aggie warrior.

Among the recruits of the Aggies there was one named, not David, but Donald, like David, a country lad, one who had courage in his heart and "rabbit" in his legs. And to this Donald Meek, who comes from Clay Center, noted for Aggie football heroes, as he sat among the reserves of his army, there must have come a divine urge to take this K. U. bogey to account.

While it isn't recorded that the Aggie chieftain, Bachman, needed prodding to throw this slight framed 20-year-old boy into the lists against the K. U. Goliath, it is a matter of record that Zuber sorely tried the Aggie strength for full an hour and a half before the big chieftain gave his youthful David a chance at the foe.

As this callow "kid" from the country got up to have a fling at the giant from down the Kaw maybe there were mouthings from the Aggie side over the utter futility of sacrificing this youth to Goliath's fury. But the mouthings, if there were any, turned soon to cheers, for Donald Meek in very truth was David to the Aggies, and Jehovah put the strength of a lion in his sinews and the speed of the winds into his legs.

Kept the Enemy at Bay

The Aggie hosts had kept the enemy at bay for three-quarters of the time allotted for the battle, but now the mighty Zuber was scattering the defenders of the Purple goal before his onslaughts. Two-thirds the distance from their own camp to the goal of the Aggies, the Jayhawkers called upon their great warrior to crush through the line and demolish the lad of tender years who had presumed to enter the lists against him.

Zuber took the ball, smiling, it will be written in approved Aggie traditions, at the softness of the assignment. Then the slingshot of David flashed. The leather thing the giant carried flew from the mighty Zuber's limp arms into those of the Aggie David, who tucked it underneath his left wing and, flanking the K. U. vanguard with a good start in a clear field, he cleared the distance to the K. U. goal line several cubits ahead of the fleetest foot-soldier in the K. U. ranks.

hero of Aggie heroes. The greatest football player produced by the genius of K. S. A. C. gridiron hero moulders since 1906 may not be Donald Meek, farmer boy whose "dad" gets his mail R. F. D. from Idana, Kas., and who attended high school at Clay Center, Kas., but today to thousands of K. S. A. C. partisans he is the embodiment of all the football virtues. It was he who gave the Aggies victory over the Jayhawkers. To these thousands of Aggies he is the greatest of their football players since Carl Mellon, the star of Mike Ahearn's team who earned the winning touchdown against K. U. in 1906, "the other time" the Aggies defeated their most cherished gridiron enemy.

AGGIE STUDENT ADMITTED TO CHICAGO CIVIC ORCHESTRA

Myron Russell Received Entire Training from Professor Wheeler

Myron Russell, last year a junior in the music department of K. S. A. C., is studying in Chicago with Mr. Bartell this semester. Word has just been received that Mr. Russell has been admitted to the Chicago Civic orchestra, of which Frederick Stock is director. This is a good recognition since this orchestra is the most sought after in Chicago. Mr. Russell has received all his training at K. S. A. C. under Prof. H. P. Wheeler.

Engineering Educators Meet at K. U.

Members of the society for the promotion of engineering education from the University of Kansas, University of Nebraska, and K. S. A. C. will meet in Lawrence Friday and Saturday. There will be a banquet and meeting Friday night and a meeting Saturday morning. Saturday afternoon they will attend the Kansas-Nebraska game.

Miss Martha Pittman, Miss Pearl Ruby, and Miss Amy Jane Leazenby returned Friday from Kansas City where they attended the national convention of the American Child Health Association.

Lawrence Barbers for White If Aggie Klux Victory Holds

Doubt would have indeed been planted in the heart of Bill White had he arrived here Thursday night when all the howling, pajama clad Aggies were parading. The general appearance looked very much like a formal meeting of the Ku Klux Klan.

Individuality, however, was not lost in a monotony of white sheets and hoods for there were pajamas, all shades and hues, nightshirts, and well, quite a variety. Then there was the big bonfire to make things hotter.

The auditorium got the surprise of its life Friday night when it was filled to overflowing with students. And it took both shows to accommodate the crowd.

As a result of all this Lawrence barbers are considering filing an injunction against the Aggies because Friday night K. U. men swore that if the Aggies won they would not shave or cut their hair until Thanksgiving. Railroads were planning special rates to Lawrence the day before Thanksgiving until the K. U. men professed ignorance of the fact that such a resolution had been passed.

Ag. Economics Club Initiates

The Agricultural Economics club held initiation services for five new members at the meeting of the club on Tuesday evening. Those initiated were: F. F. Higbee, A. G. Jensen, J. D. Kimport, William Schindler, and N. N. Weberg.

NEW AG BULLETIN OUT

Covers Result of Investigations Carried On Under Direction of Professor Englund.

Agricultural Experiment station bulletin 232, entitled "Assessment and Equalization of Farm and City Real Estate in Kansas," is now available for distribution. This bulletin covers the results of an investigation carried on for a period of ten years by the department of agricultural economics under the direction of Prof. Eric Englund, for the purpose of determining whether or not there are major departures from the intent of the law in the assessment of farm and city real estate. Results of the investigation show that inequalities do exist. Small parcels of farm and city real estate are generally overassessed, and this inequality is becoming more marked.

BIKE RACE AT AMES GAME

Knott Announces Another Three Mile Contest for Cyclers

Another bicycle race similar to that held between halves of the K. U.-Aggie football game will be held during the half of the Ames-Aggie game November 1.

Only men who did not place in the race October 18 will be eligible for this race which will be for three miles. Prof. E. A. Knott wishes it understood that before a man can cut in front of a man he is passing, he must be two bicycle lengths ahead of his competitor. If participants of these races will do this, such accidents as the one which happened in the last race can be avoided.

Sigma Delta Chi Initiates

Sigma Delta Chi, men's honorary journalistic fraternity, held formal initiation Tuesday night for Byron Short of Fredonia, and Kenneth Chappell of Manhattan. Both are seniors in the department of journalism.

TO USE SAME DISCUSSION

Debate Squads Will Argue Right of Supreme Court Decisions

All the college debate squads will use the same question this year, according to an announcement made by H. B. Summers, debate coach, in the general squad meeting Tuesday night.

The question which will be used this year is, "Resolved: That congress should be given power, by the two-thirds vote of both houses to overrule decisions of the supreme court declaring acts of congress unconstitutional." Each squad will study and debate upon the question from a different angle, making the debates more interesting to the audiences. The complete squad has been divided into five groups in order to study this question more effectively.

Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics, was one of the speakers at the Rotary Club luncheon, yesterday noon. The subject of his talk was, "The Economic Situation of Agriculture."

AGGIES LOSE TO MISSOURI 14-7

WILDCATS DEFEATED BUT NOT BEATEN LAST SATURDAY

Though Tigers Won Game They Were Outplayed in Practically Every Department

Outscored but far from "crushed," the Kansas Aggies met their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Missouri Tigers at Columbia last Saturday, 14 to 7.

Aggies Gain Nearly Double Yardage

But though the score gave the Tiger victory, what a shame the scorers could not take into account that the Aggies gained nearly double the yardage from scrimmage that was credited to the winning Tiger. It is a most glorious defeat when the defeated has earned 12 first downs to the enemy's two, when the team on the short end of the score tries 71 offensive plays to the victor's 37; when a drop kick from the 65 yard line that might have broken a world's football record fell a few feet short of its aim, directly between the goal posts.

But that is what happened to the Kansas Aggies at Missouri last Saturday. The Tiger won. Won cleanly and fairly and after a hard battle, as is always the case when Wildcat and Tiger meet. All honor to the Tiger. But where did he get that rabbit's foot?

During three quarters of the game Missouri was on the defensive, yet in two of those quarters she scored. In the third, when the Tiger held the edge over the Wildcat, Missouri could not score.

Aggies Play Offensive First Quarter

During the first quarter the Aggies were on the offensive. Continually on the offensive. And five minutes after the start of the second quarter that offensive struck out and scored. Missouri sent in her reserves when the Aggies reached the one yard line, but the reserves could not help, and Ray Smith charged over for the touchdown, Mildrextor kicking goal. And the Missouri crowd, 10,000 persons strong, was silent.

Swofford Makes Score

But late in the quarter Missouri took the ball, well back in her own territory. Down the field went Swofford, Missouri fullback, scooped up a pass from Whiteman, and raced for a 54 yard gain. Another pass. Again Swofford was loose, across the goal line this time, and another pass from Whiteman found its way to his arms. The goal was kicked. The half whistle cracked, and the Aggies had been tied after having the advantage in all but two short minutes of the first half. One lone first down was registered by Missouri in that first half on the 54 yard pass. That was enough.

But the fourth quarter found the Wildcat again scenting victory and starting down the field toward the Missouri goal line. Just as the Aggies had shoved the Tiger back past midfield, the break came. Those who recall Swartz's pass in the last quarter of the Oklahoma game of 1923 can appreciate why the Aggies could not stop that second Missouri touchdown.

Feather Stops Smith

An Aggie pass was called. Hoffman raced out to one side and passed—into the arms of Clyde Smith, Missouri center, with an open field ahead. Gamely Feather, Aggie fullback, charged over the Tiger, gained on him, and pulled him down within two yards of the goal line. Even then the Wildcats held, but the second time Captain Bond charged over for the touchdown.

Four times during the game Owen Cochrane, Aggie quarter, essayed to score from the field by a kick and failed.

Don Meek, who scored the touchdown that beat Kansas, never had a chance. Every time he took the ball Missouri players swarmed all over him.

Missouri's victory cost them dearly, for Swofford, who scored their first touchdown, went out with a broken leg, followed by Moulder, gallant quarterback, also with a broken leg. The peculiar Aggie shift confused Missouri but brought several Aggie penalties for backfield in motion.

Hutton Receives Injury

Ronald Hutton, Aggie left guard, was injured in the game and may not be able to play for some time. Coach Bachman shifted Cy Tombaugh from right to left guard for the game, and the shift probably will be made permanent.

The Line-up and Summary:

Noted Pianist Says College Education Is Great Aid in Music

Cecile de Horvath, the young pianist who appears here November 12, in the second number of the K. S. A. C. artist series, has the unique distinction of being the only woman pianist of national reputation who has had a college education. She was graduated from Swarthmore college, Pennsylvania, at the age of 18, younger than most entering freshmen.

Madame de Horvath maintains that her college education has been of the greatest help to her music. It has given her a certain balance which is often lacking in the artistic temperament and her mind has been trained to such a degree that she is undoubtedly one of the most brilliant personalities in every way before the public.

WILL AIR POLITICAL VIEWS

Englund, Kammeyer, and Rogers Will Discuss Presidential Candidates at Forum

High points in the platforms of the three parties seeking presidential votes this fall will be discussed next Thursday noon at the student forum, by three prominent Aggie pros. Eric Englund, professor of agricultural economics, will speak on "Why I Am Going to Vote for Calvin Coolidge;" Dr. J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics and sociology, will speak on "Why I Am Going to Vote for John W. Davis;" and Prof. C. E. Rogers, of the department of industrial journalism, will uphold the policies of the third party candidate, Robert LaFollette. This promises to be a very interesting speaking program, since it comes as a climax to a series of talks by nationally known orators, who have upheld the platforms of each of the three parties.

Western Starr, Washington correspondent for the Federated Press, was the speaker at the forum last Thursday. He championed the cause of LaFollette, and vigorously attacked the personal and political views of Charles G. Dawes.

These meetings have had an average attendance of nearly 250 for the past four weeks. They are held in the cafeteria during the noon hour, where a good plate lunch is served for 25 cents.

TO TAKE STRAW VOTE HERE

October 30 Is Date Set for Student Polls

A straw vote for president, vice-president, and governor, to be held at K. S. A. C. on October 30, was decided upon in S. S. G. A. meeting last week. Over 200 universities and colleges in the United States are taking straw votes, the movement being sponsored by the National Student Forum. The local vote is to be in charge of a committee composed of representatives from the S. S. G. A., the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A.

TO INVESTIGATE ROOMING HOUSES

LOOK INTO COMPLAINTS FILED BY STUDENTS OR LANDLADY

Sixty Watt Light Required in Rooms—Complaints Must Be Signed

Students who are not satisfied with conditions existing at their rooming houses need only to file a complaint with the executive council of the S. S. G. A. in order to have their charges looked into. This was the plan decided upon last Thursday evening by the council of the S. S. G. A. as a means of keeping rooming houses up to college regulations during the year.

Rules to Govern All

In many cases the landlords enforce the rules that are advantageous to them, but fail to comply with the rules that benefit the roomers. An example of this is insufficient lighting, heat, or hot water. Rules have been made that pertain to the landlady and roomer alike, and if they are not enforced or complied with either may make a complaint to the S. S. G. A. These complaints must be signed, and must also contain enough facts to warrant an investigation.

Must Follow College Rules

Students who are not residents of Manhattan are expected to live in rooming houses that have been inspected and approved by the college administration. All changes of residence during the semester shall be reported to the registrar. Following is the list of rules pertaining to students who reside in rooming houses:

1. All social regulations of the college are to be observed in the rooming houses.
2. Room rent is to be paid by the calendar month—payable two weeks in advance.
3. There shall be no refund for the Christmas vacation, if the occupant of the room returns after the vacation. Rooms shall not be occupied while the student is away unless previous arrangements have been made.
4. The equivalent of a 60 watt light shall be furnished in each room.
5. Students may share their room with guests for a period of four days without extra charge. Terms for a longer period must be agreed upon by student and landlady.
6. Landlady will not furnish meals to relatives or to nurse for students who are ill—but will furnish simple nourishment to patient if other arrangements cannot be made. When this is done a reasonable charge will be made.
7. Twelve and one-half cents per hour may be charged for the use of electric current or for a gas burner.
8. Quiet hours shall be observed after 8 p. m., except Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and holiday nights.
9. The temperature of the rooms shall be within 68-72 degrees.
10. A notice of at least two weeks shall be given to the landlady by student before vacating room. The same rule shall apply to notice given by landladies.

UPSETS FEATURE SECOND ROUND OF VALLEY GAMES

Dope Thrown to Winds in All Three Battles Between Conference Schools

Saturday may well be termed a day of upsets as far as valley football dope is concerned. In the three valley games that were played not a result was obtained that was anticipated by dopesters.

Missouri displayed a big surprise when it turned back the strong Kansas Aggies by a 14-7 score, and retained a clean slate in the valley standings. Although the Tigers were outscored by the Wildcats they used two passes out of two tried for completion, and both resulted in touchdowns.

Drake offered the biggest surprise of the day when it completely outclassed the Sooners, winning a 28-0 victory, and thus entering into a tie with Missouri for first place. Dope before the game gave Oklahoma a hard but nevertheless a sure victory but Drake displayed a brand of football that surprised even its own followers and compelled the Sooners to drop into a tie for second place with four other teams. The victory of Oklahoma over Nebraska was decided as the big step toward the Sooners taking the valley championship but once again dope has failed.

K. U. suffered a third conference defeat at the hands of Nebraska, but gave the Cornhuskers a much better battle than had been expected from the dope sheet. In winning this game Nebraska placed her first win in the conference standings and is one of the five teams tying for second place.

The remaining valley teams were idle either resting or competing in non-conference games.

The Valley standing:

	W	L
Missouri	2	0
Drake	2	0
Kas. Aggies	1	1
Oklahoma	1	1
Nebraska	1	1
Ames	1	1
Grinnell	1	1
Washington	0	1
Kansas	0	3

EDWARD BRIGHAM TO GIVE CHAPEL PROGRAM WEDNESDAY

Dramatic Reader from New York Will Entertain Assembly Crowd

Edward Brigham, singer and dramatic reader of New York City, will present a program of recitations and songs at the general assembly at 10:15 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

Mr. Brigham is a basso-profundo dramatic reader, and a pianist. Throughout the program he is his own accompanist. He has given recitals at colleges all over the country and his programs are always enthusiastically received.

The songs and dramatic and musical readings which he gives call for a wide range of technique, breadth of temperament, and versatility of expression.

Loyal Aggies Cheer Team On at Sigma Delta Chi Party

"Come on, Aggies!" There were several people at Columbia to yell this as the Aggies kicked to Missouri at the opening of the game Saturday, but at the Sigma Delta Chi football party in the auditorium in Manhattan over a thousand Aggies gave the cry as the illuminated ball went down the cloth field to the 30 yard line and there stopped as the Missouri man was downed in his tracks.

Behind the scenes excited messengers were waiting to carry the messages from the telephone room below the stage to the operators of the board above. As the man at the keyboard gave directions, strings were pulled and switches were pressed.

Thus the Aggies followed their team as it made valiant battle in the native air of the Missouri Tiger. Each play was greeted with encouraging shouts and after the touchdown an announcement had to be made requesting that the song books be left on their hooks instead of being thrown upon the stage.

HOME ECONOMICS DIVISION FURNISHING IDEAL HOME

Plans Almost Complete for Daily Capital Ideal Firesafe House in Topeka

The division of home economics has almost completed plans for the furnishing of the Daily Capital Firesafe home, which is being built on the corner of Sixth and Franklin avenues, Topeka, by the Topeka Daily Capital.

The Topeka Daily Capital is advancing this project with the idea of demonstrating an ideal home and as an advertising movement. Mr. C. D. Cuthbert of Topeka is the architect.

Students in the interior decoration class have submitted plans for the furnishing and decoration of the home. The class is under the direction of Miss Araminta Holman, head of the department of applied art. The class has worked out the problem of arrangement of furniture, and will go to Topeka tomorrow to select furnishings.

Mrs. Harriet Allard, household management specialist in the extension service, whose problem is in placing the equipment so as to save steps in doing the housework, will direct the furnishing of the kitchen and the equipment of the laundry.

The household management classes under Miss Laura Gifford are planning the kitchen equipment. The students have made lists of kitchen utensils as well as the silver, dishes and linens which will be needed in the dining room.

There will be an imaginary family living in the home during the two weeks it is to be on exhibition and the students of the clothing and textiles classes under Miss Lillian Baker, are planning clothing for the family.

Miss Martha Pittman, professor of foods and nutrition, is supervising the planning of the meals and the provision of food for the imaginary family.

Under the direction of Miss Amy Jane Leazenby, professor of household economics, books and recreation will be provided for the family.

The Capital Firesafe home will be on exhibition for two weeks after it is completely furnished and at the end of that time is to be offered for sale at cost.

DO YOU KNOW?

That Nebraska ordered a block of 500 seats over a month before the Wildcat-Husker battle in the K. S. A. C. Stadium November 22?

That 5,000 people heard William Jennings Bryan speak at the Stadium here last Saturday?

That a large clock is to be installed on the Stadium field before the Ames-Aggie game here Saturday? It will show the time left to play in the quarter.

TEN EARN RED CAPS

Pass Aquatic Tests Which Entitle Them to Wear Coveted Head Ornament

Tests which entitle girls enrolled in the swimming classes of the women's athletic department to wear red caps have been completed. Those successfully completing the required work are: Mary Halse, Lillian Kammeyer, Mabel McComb, Fern Bowman, Olive Manning, Nina Mae Howard, Janet Hellworth, Lillian Wooster, Ruth Davies, and Dorothy Gray.

The following tests must be passed in order to win a red cap: Bob fifteen times with support, float on back for 30 seconds, tread water for 30 seconds, swim two lengths of pool with any one stroke in perfect form, shallow dive from edge of pool in good form, and plain front dive from spring board in good form.

Several girls are working on tests for blue caps, which include more difficult aquatic maneuvers.

A large number are trying for red caps, and most of them have completed at least half of their tests. Winning a red cap gives 50 points, and a blue cap 100 points, in W. A. A.

FLOWER SHOW THIS WEEK

Horticultural Department Has Prominent Part in State Show at Wichita

Kansas will have its first annual flower show October 29, 30, and 31, at Wichita. It will take the place of the annual wheat show. W. B. Balch of the horticulture department is on the committee in charge of the show and is superintendent of exhibits.

A model farm homestead has been planned by Prof. Arthur Helder of the horticulture department. The buildings will be made up by Prof. H. E. Wichers. The final arrangement of actually laying out the exhibits will be done by students in the new course of landscape gardening.

During the three days of the flower show talks will be given by the following: Prof. E. G. Kelly of the extension division will talk October 29, on "Insects in the Home Garden." Prof. Albert Dickens of the department of horticulture will talk October 30, on "The Value of Flowers About the Home." Prof. Arthur Helder of the horticulture department will talk October 31, on "Landscaping the Home Grounds."

The flower show is being sponsored by the Kansas State Florists' association.

Students of the agricultural economics department will give the program at the agricultural economics seminar on October 30. Talks will be given on six economic questions which are of importance at this time.

PLAN LAKES FOR COLLEGE CAMPUS

SURVEY WORK TO BE FINISHED NEXT MONTH

Woman's Athletic Field and New Greenhouses Also on Landscape Gardening Program

A small lake system for the northeast section of the college campus, a new headquarters building for campus employees, a woman's athletic field, and experimental gardens are among the improvements planned in the immediate schedule of the college landscape gardening department.

The lakes system is to be a feature of a small park north and east of the present college greenhouses, located back of the horticulture building. The largest lake is to cover approximately three-fourths of an acre. A chain of small lakes will be constructed along the line of the small stream that flows through the woodland north of Lover's lane.

To Terrace Park

Another unit is to be added to the north end of the present greenhouses. East of these a rock garden with a pool is to be built. From this park and pool the ground is to be terraced northward to another park and the lake system. The terraces will be used for experimental work in the growth of annual plants.

Aside from their ornamental purpose, the lakes will be used for practical class demonstration of the value of lakes as landscape features. Aquatic and semi-aquatic plants, such as sedges, iris, lotus, water lilies, and water poppies will be planted in the lakes. Survey work for them will be made early next month.

Recreation Rooms for Employees

Plans for the headquarters buildings for the campus department are being drawn by the department of architecture. Recreation rooms for campus employees, implement sheds, and store rooms will be included in the buildings.

The new women's athletic field is to occupy practically the entire field north of the college tennis courts. Only a small plaza will be left in front of the engineering building. Though detailed plans for it have not been made as yet, it will include a woman's hockey field, and arrangements will be made for every outdoor sport open to women at the college. Work on the field is expected to start as soon as construction of the new tennis courts is completed.

To Build Driveway Back of Kedzie

A new driveway running back of Kedzie hall and the home economics building will form the east boundary of the women's athletic field. The drive is to connect up with the drive in front of the engineering building, which was paved last summer.

A formal garden is being built around the president's home. Its principal features will be a pool, flower gardens and a service court leading north to a park which will occupy the space between the garden and Lover's lane. Pipes for the garden pool are now being laid.

East of the president's home is a plot which will be used by the landscape gardening department in cooperation with the bureau of plant introduction, in experiments with adaptability of imported trees and shrubs to this climate.

Further east is another experimental plot in which the landscape gardening department is cooperating with the agronomy department in determining the practicability of certain grasses for use in lawns, golf courses and the like. The department has 20 varieties of grasses under observation at the present time. The new arrangement will allow the needed increase in space for this work.

Reconstructing East Fence

Masons are already at work reconstructing the east campus fence. It is to be rebuilt practically as before except that columns at the foot path are to be four feet square and six feet high, and those at the drives, six feet square and twelve feet high. They are to be surmounted by cluster lights.

The plans of the department to replace the old undesirable trees and shrubs by others more desirable are being carried out as rapidly as possible. About 400 trees and 6,000 to 8,000 shrubs will be set out this fall. Wild asters, eupatorium, and ferns have been planted in the grove that borders the Blumont avenue path.

Students to Do Much of Work

As much of the work as possible will be done by the students of the engineering and landscape gardening classes as experiments.

LIBRARY DATES

Quite a large number of students seem to have forgotten the fact that the library is kept open during the evening for the express purpose of permitting uninterrupted study. The practice of making "library dates" has been in vogue for several years but the extremely large number of such dates this year has made concentrated work in the library practically impossible. The constant passing of persons along the aisles, the entrance of someone who merely gazes around the room and who either finds a seat or immediately leaves, depending upon what he sees, and the steady buzz of whispered conversation, all combine to create considerable confusion.

However, the majority of the library visitors are there for study purposes only and it is only fair to these that the building be kept as quiet as possible.

The majority of the "library dates" is made up of fraternity men and women who are deficient in scholastic work and who are permitted to leave the chapter house only on the condition that they study in the library. If these persons would only transact their business on the library steps, for instance, and allow the studious ones on the inside to work, the problem would be solved.

Things are so slow down where our girl comes from that it takes a brick slightly over seven minutes to drop from the roof of the general store.

What is that quotation? "Everything that I have I owe—" "Everything that I have I owe—" Well, that much expresses the idea exactly.

People we could dispense with:
The girls who chew gum at a dance.

The chap who insists on talking to you during a lecture that you must take notes on.

The faculty members who give any grade below "M."
And, dare we whisper it? R. O. T. C. officers.

The All-Sorority football team will be announced in the near future.

All the nasty cracks taken at the girls of the school seem to have passed without drawing any fire whatsoever. The girls are deader than usual this year. Taking for granted, of course, that it is possible for them to be deader than usual.

The Democrats would, in all probability, have won many more votes at the college had Bryan only come earlier and talked longer.

A freshman remarked that the "wonderful one horse shay" had nothing at all on his chemistry book. Unless, possibly, it lasted a trifle longer.

A rhetoric professor says he is not in sympathy with simplified spelling except as appears in humorous writings. Personally, we have nothing against it but if it will add one more to the column we enthusiastically in favor of it.

They say that the modern type of girl, that developed from the flapper, retains her predecessor's good looks but has far more intelligence. Girls around here can qualify on the first count but are some three years behind on the second.

We don't say that all girls around here are naturally dumb. There are some we haven't met as to yet. However, the hope is but faint.

If he runs around a lot they call him a rolling stone. If he doesn't run around a lot they call him an old mossback. What chance has he?

Seems like the Wampus cats would be men enough to go after their own money and not sit these fair ladies on poor helpless chaps when they have absolutely no chance to escape. And then too, the fair but dumb ones got so excited that they often rushed off without supplying the sign board that went with the extracting process.

On Other Hills

All football men and their coaches from the Rocky Mountain conference teams, the five student presidents and a few of the most enthusiastic boosters from the schools of the association will hold a banquet at the Shirley-Savoy hotel in Denver sometime this fall.

Men's Student council has passed these resolutions at K. U.: That the flagrant use of taxicabs at varsity dances is not in keeping with the plan of economy at the university, and that the use of taxicabs should be discouraged and their use should be abolished except in inclement weather.

An Ohio State alumnus is enroute from Singapore to witness the Ohio State-Michigan encounter in the Ohio stadium. By the time he arrives he will have traveled 12,000 miles.

At the University of Indiana, college women are now forbidden to motor outside the city of Bloomington or to have an automobile during the school year except for two weeks at the beginning and the end of the term.

The editor of the Montana State College Weekly Exponent advises the broadcasting of important events on the campus at various schools. College publications wanting the material can catch it from the air and events from other schools can be brought up to the minute.

The School of Law of the University of Kansas has been granted a chapter of the national honorary society of the Order of the Coif, according to an announcement of H. W. Arant, dean of the school of law. The petition of the University of Kansas is the first to receive favorable action in the past eight years.

Miss Edith G. Grundmeier, who received her master's degree at K. S. A. C. last spring, is now an assistant in the home economics department of Friends university.

Conducting Mental Survey

The psychology department is co-operating with Junction City in making a mental survey of its schools. Tests will be given all children in the grades from the first through high school. It is expected that the tests will be of some value in the classification of pupils and in adjusting work to the special needs of different classes.

Miss Alene Hinn of the department of clothing and textiles returned Saturday from Hays where she was a speaker at the State Teachers' Association. The subject of Miss Hinn's lecture was "A Survey of Home Economics in Kansas Schools and How Educational Tests Can Be Used to Help Standardize the Work."

The Purple Masque Plays

The three one-act plays given at the college auditorium Friday evening under the direction of E. G. McDonald, met with the approbation of the entire audience.

The first play, "For All Time" by Rita Wellman, a French war-time drama, was presented in a finished manner. Rebecca Thacher and Helen Vanquist contributed much to the dramatic nature of the play by their excellent interpretation of the parts of Diane and Madame le Bargy. The other characters of the play gave them meritorious support.

The second play, "Questioning Fate," by Arthur Schnitzler, was a light comedy taken from "The Affairs of Anatol." Lynn Fayman in the character of Max caused many

"The Ghost of Jerry Bundler" by W. W. Jacobs and Charles Rock, gave the audience enough thrills to last all the way home. It was a very realistic portrayal of a ghost story, a practical joke and its near-tragic result. Each member of the cast won unanimous commendation from the audience.

Miss Edna St. John, who received her master's degree in home economics in 1923, organized the home economics department in the new state teachers' college at Nacogdoches, Tex., last fall. Miss St. John now has complete charge of that department.

This has caused the great change in the appearance of men's hair

YOU cannot go into a classroom, or a club, or a fraternity house, without noticing it—

Somehow, college men have found a way to make the hair, the most conspicuous part of the appearance, look just as they want it to look at all times.

It was not always so.

Before Stacomb was introduced, they tried countless methods to make their hair lie smoothly and stay that way—from old-fashioned pomades, which only matted the hair and made it greasy, to plain water, which kept it in place an hour at the most and then left it drier and more brittle than ever. Small wonder that they greeted Stacomb with such instant enthusiasm! Here at last was something that would make the hair stay in place without harming it or making it sticky and unnatural-looking.

Today the great change which Stacomb has brought about is noticed everywhere. Men whose hair used to be out of place an hour after being brushed, men whose otherwise correct appearance used to be spoiled by hair that was hopelessly unkempt—today they keep their hair constantly in perfect order.

Use Stacomb tomorrow morning—and look your best all day. A delicate, invisible cream. Non-staining and non-greasy. In jars and tubes, at all drug and department stores.

Society Happenings

Kappa Delta announces the pledging of Miss Rowena Brown, Alta Vista; Miss Marjorie Rhiner, Protection; Miss Clara Dean, Agra, and Miss Lucille Rose, Agra.

Miss Georgia Anne McGee was a dinner guest at the Alpha Xi Delta house, Sunday.

The College club entertained last Tuesday night with a dance at Harrison's hall. The Pines' Serenaders furnished the music. About 40 couples, members of the college faculty, were present.

Beta Pi Epsilon entertained with a house dance, Saturday night. Mrs. Rose Cassidy and Prof. J. H. Robert chaperoned the party.

Miss Veda Skillin entertained the following girls at her home near Frankfort during the week-end: Misses Grace Steininger, Constance Hofer, Julia Jennings, and Agnes Horton.

Sunday dinner guests at the Lambda Chi Alpha house were Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson and Quentin Mell.

Sunday dinner guests at the Kappa Sigma house were Miss Janice Barry and Miss Verda Weir.

Beta Pi Epsilon entertained Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Rose at dinner, Sunday.

Prof. and Mrs. R. M. Green and Prof. and Mrs. N. E. Olson, were dinner guests at the Farm House, Sunday.

Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary musical fraternity, held initiation services for Miss Dorothy Stiles and Miss Dorothy Sanders Sunday morning. Affiliation service was also held for Miss Ruth Hartman. Following the services, a breakfast was served at the Polly Ann tea room. Members present were Misses Laura Russell, Elizabeth Van Ness, Mildred Michener, Edna Ellis, Frances Allison, Dorothy Brown, Marjorie Hubner, Elsie Smith, Mildred Thornburg, and Mabel Murphy.

The K. U. chapter of Phi Gamma Delta were guests of Omega Tau Epsilon last week-end.

Theodore Hogan of Memphis, Tenn., was a week-end guest at the Sigma Nu house.

Dr. J. P. Cutshaw of Phillipsburg visited his son, Edwin, at the Phi Kappa house this week-end.

Sunday dinner guests at the Phi Lambda Theta house were Mrs. F. J. Rumold, and Misses Kathryn Rumold, Thelma Sharp, Vera Hedges, Gladys Stover, Lola Bunker, and Mary Jackson.

Misses Mary and Izil Polson, Grace Hesse, Ruth Hartman, and Emily Bennett were hostesses at a "Country Frolic" at their home, 830 Bertrand, last Thursday evening. Most of the guests, dressed in costume, arrived at the party in a hayrack. Rural games were played, and the guests danced at the Bluemont pavilion. At the close of the evening refreshments were prepared over a bonfire in the yard. About 40 guests were present, those from out-of-town being Miss Hazel Hesse and Mrs. V. L. Polson of Fredonia and Mrs. Francis Genung of Poseyville, Ind.

Kappa Delta held open house for Phi Sigma Kappa, Friday evening and for Acacia, Saturday evening.

Prof. P. P. Brainard's Sunday school class of the Presbyterian church was entertained at the home of Miss Leona Hoag, 931 Osage, last Thursday evening. The evening was spent in playing games, after which refreshments of sandwiches, pumpkin pie, and cider were served. About 30 members of the class were present, and they were chaperoned by Professor and Mrs. Brainard.

Kappa Delta had their annual Founder's Day banquet at the chapter house last Thursday evening. About 30 alumnae and active members were present.

Sunday dinner guests at the Phi Kappa Theta house were Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Ellis, Miss Ruth Long, Miss Agnes Lockland, and Charles Smith.

Delta Zeta entertained with their annual Domino party last Friday evening at the chapter house. Halloween decorations were used, and a three piece orchestra furnished the music for dancing. Mrs. Maude Sullenberger and Mrs. May Snyder were chaperones. A number of alumnae and out-of-town guests attended the party.

Misses Ruth Morris, Geneva Watson, and Maude Williamson entertained with three tables of bridge Saturday evening. Guests were Misses Elizabeth Austin, Grace Bishop, Mary Brownell, Katherine Hudson, Florence Clarke, Alene Hinn, Pearl Ruby, Grace Hesse, Amy Kelly, and Ruth Hartman.

Delta Zeta entertained with their annual Founder's day banquet last Thursday evening at the chapter house. The tables were decorated with Killarney roses, the sorority flower, and lighted with candles of rose and green to carry out the color scheme. Miss Irene Barner presided as toastmistress, and toasts were given by Mrs. Maude Sullenberger, and Misses Virginia Reeder, Karleen Garlock, Izil Polson, Alice Beeler, and Ruth Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Colver and daughters, Margaret and Katherine, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Price were dinner guests at the Delta Zeta house Sunday.

Mrs. W. M. Jardine has recovered sufficiently from her recent operation at the Charlotte Swift hospital to be able to return home.

GRADUATE IS PREPARING TO DO WELFARE WORK IN CHINA

Miss Lois Witham Now Studying at Johns Hopkins University

Miss Lois Witham, who was graduated from the home economics division in 1916 and who took graduate work in nutrition and welfare in 1923, is now spending her second year at Johns Hopkins university, in preparation for welfare and sanitation work in China. Miss Witham went to the Woman's College of South China in September, 1920, under the appointment of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, to organize a department of chemistry. She expects to receive her doctor's degree next June and to resume her work in China next fall.

Prof. V. L. Strickland and Prof. C. V. Williams drove to Lincoln, Nebr., Saturday to take one of the preliminary examinations for their doctor's degree.

Dr. L. Jean Bogert, formerly the head of the department of nutrition is at Rowley, Mass., where she is slowly recovering from a severe illness. She expects to resume her duties as research chemist in the department of obstetrics, Henry Ford hospital in a few months.

FALL PLAY TRYOUTS TUESDAY

Not Limited to Purple Masque Players—Number of Types in Cast

Tryouts for "The First Year," the fall play to be presented by Purple Masque, will be held Tuesday, October 28, at 4 p. m. for women and at 7 p. m. for men. From these tryouts a group of the best material will be selected who will try out again Wednesday evening. The cast will be picked from this group.

There are four women and five men characters in the play, with a variety of types. Tryouts are not confined to members of Purple Masque, but are open to everybody.

The cast will make a week's tour, presenting the play in a number of towns in Kansas. After the trip the play will be presented at the college auditorium December 11.

Mrs. Moray Gives Lecture

Mrs. Anna Riordan Moray, chairman of the slides committee of the department of fine arts of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, gave an illustrated lecture in the applied art department in Anderson hall on Thursday afternoon, October 23.

Mrs. Moray talked of the study of a nation's art and of its relation to the history of a nation. Paintings by American painters were exhibited and discussed by Mrs. Moray, who is especially interested in American art.

The Popenoe Entomological club held its first meeting of the year, October 17, for the purpose of organization of officers. Mr. Harry L. Gul was elected president and Mr. G. A. Flinger secretary and treasurer. Prof. J. B. McColloch gave a brief review of the history and objects of the club. The club meets every two weeks and is open to everyone interested in entomology.

Eurodelphian Literary society met Saturday, October 25. The program was: Devotionals, Vera Alderman; Extempo, Parliamentary Drill, Laura Russell; Review of Lyric Poetry by Robert Burns, Emma Scott; Burns' Songs by a quartette composed of Evelyn Garvin, Dorothy Rosebrough, Kathryn Welker, and Mildred McGirr; Reading of the Delphi, Mildred Pound. A business meeting was held after the program. Eight girls were taken into Eurodelphian. Those who pledged were: Julia Biltz, Ida Cool, Elizabeth Allen, Geneva Faley, Bernice O'Brien and Velma Lawrence, all of Manhattan; Evelyn Garvin, Lawrence; Vera Chubb, Topeka.

INTRAMURAL RACE NOV. 8

Three Mile Run to Start from Stadium at Three O'clock

Intramural cross country will open with a three mile race Saturday, November 8. The race will start at the stadium promptly at 3 o'clock.

According to W. J. Mathias, in charge of cross country, there has been some misunderstanding about the points awarded for placing in the race. If fifty or more entrants are secured the first ten men will receive points, the first man receiving ten points, the second man receiving nine, and so on. It is necessary for at least fifty men to enter if this scoring is to be used.

AGGIE HARRIERS WIN AGAIN

Kimport and Sallee Share Honors for First Place

Aggie cross country runners chalked up their second victory of the year last Saturday against Missouri at Columbia. The score was 26 to 29, low score winning.

Kimport and Sallee again shared honors for first place and came in about 220 yards ahead of their nearest competitors. Missouri took the next three places and Axtell and Alkman, Aggies, finished sixth and seventh.

DIRECTORY OUT NOVEMBER 1

Activity Fees to Cover Cost of Books

The student directory, which has been held up somewhat on account of late copy, will be off the press about November 1, according to a report made by the chairman of the directory committee. The new directories will be mailed to all holders of student activity fee cards as soon as possible. It was decided by the S. S. G. A. to set aside a number of the directories for distribution among the faculty, to the Chamber of Commerce, other colleges, and to outside sources where requests are made for them.

HOW BIG IS A COLLEGE MAN?

IS SUCCESS IN SCHOOL INDICATIVE OF SUCCESS LATER?

Investigation Made by Open Road Magazine—Interesting Material Gathered in Questionnaires

Is there any ground for belief that because a collegian is elected captain of the football team or manager of baseball or president of his class, he will win corresponding marks of special favor from the world when he gets out of college?

Is the career in college which is highly successful from the campus point of view a forerunner of big things to come in after life, or like many other matters in this world merely something more that doesn't mean anything.

Intriguing Questions

Questions of this nature have long "intrigued," as the tall-brows phrase it, the editors of the Open Road. They have handled the problem back and forth among themselves, as editors will, and have put the question to a great many college graduates, non-graduates and plain, blunt men who have their only knowledge of campuses from such high but second-hand authorities as the sporting pages, "Stover at Yale" studies and "The Plastic Age." There are all sorts of opinions held by all sorts of people on every phase of college as it influences later careers. One respectable person, who for a reason somewhat obscure has won the title of expert, claims campus gains shrink and wither in the frigid air of the commercial and industrial world.

"A man who is big in college," maintains this gentleman, "never amounts to anything until ten years after graduation, if at all. It takes him ten years to recover from the effects of collegiate inflation." Notice carefully that brief word, "Never." The more expert an expert becomes the more prone he is to use such final and complete words as "never" and "always" and "inevitably."

So much for that extreme. At the other pole is the opinion advanced by several reputable parties who are familiar with college affairs to the effect that the man who makes a notable go of his college career by becoming a football star, baseball comet, basketball meteor or something else astronomical, brings to himself the moment he graduates a covey of business men clamoring for his service. Nay, not even his services, says this branch of opinion. All he has to do if he was a big enough star, comet or meteor is simply lend his name and receive large moneys. "Why I know Bill Whazit who was All-American end. He went with a big bond house (it's never a small or even a medium-sized one) right from graduation exercises, and they paid him $5,000 a year just to go around and mix with people and tell 'em who he was." That phrase, "Who he was," is accented on the last word, as you will notice. I am no power in the bond market. No one even sends me circulars when new issues come out. But I feel sure that if I were a power, or even just a rank and file small investor I would not consider it the final and complete argument in favor of a bond that the gentleman offering it for sale has but lately doffed his moleskins after two successful seasons made him end on the All-American team. That again is a personal opinion and as such it proves nothing. There may be and probably are plenty of bondbuyers who welcome an opportunity to buy from a campus celebrity whose name has been in all the papers with pictures and statistics and everything.

Look into Matter

But let us get back to those original questions and the editors of the Open Road who were interested in what happens to the Big Men of university and of college. The editors finally decided to look into the matter and see whether or not some real information could be collected on the subject. One of the first things they did was to mail out questionnaires, which is the recognized way to begin a thing of this sort. The questionnaires went to a responsible authority in the college. His instructions were to hunt out the men who 10 or 15 years ago were running the college with the assistance of the president and board of trustees—that is the managers, presidents, athletic captains, editors, and high honor students—and note down the facts of their careers since leaving college. A number of colleges were quite generous in their cooperation, and data came in from institutions of various sizes and in different parts of the country, such as New York university, the University of Michigan, Harvard university, Wesleyan university, Colby college, Tufts college, University of Missouri, University of North Carolina, Middlebury college, and Yale university.

Definite Facts Meagre

In addition to the questionnaire sources of information the investigators searched the existing records, consulted Who's Who for 1924-25, the United States Internal Revenue Statistics of Income, a number of books and the digest of a questionnaire filled out by seventy alumni of Wesleyan university who are ten years out of college. Before the investigation was very far along it was apparent that the definite facts available are meagre in the extreme; that the subject of What Happens to the Big College Men is difficult to segregate from the broader question What Happens to All College Men. In view of the thin spread of facts, it is a rifle presumptuous to produce broad, sweeping generalizations on such a subject because there are so many thousands of cases which have not been studied. Each one of them is a human being, a commodity which eludes exact definition even when dead, and when alive is a veritable powder house of contradictions. There are so many standards of success, all of them worthy of consideration.

Take earnings, for example. One person might point to the fact that of the men listed in B. C. Forbes' book, "Men Who Are Making America," only eighteen out of forty-eight received a college education or its equivalent. The other 30 had only slight educational handicaps, such as a common schooling or perhaps a couple of years of high school. Now these men all have made pecks of money, among other things and are unquestionably big successes. But are they the only successes? You could walk into the street this minute and probably before you had trod a half block find some one who would claim that college—all of it—is a failure because the men who go to college become permanently disabled as money-makers and back up the claim with a terrifying barrage of facts and statistics.

Dollars Not Standard

But what a man earns in dollars per annum is not the only gauge of his service and usefulness to the world. It is a tag much in favor but in certain highly necessary and useful professions, pecuniary reward is notoriously small. Ministers, teachers, scientists, poets, research men are not in the classes of Gargantuan income and the ranks of these and other equally honorable vocations are recruited quite largely by college graduates.

Now as to whether prominent men in college do any better than the ones not so prominent—that's a horse of another color. The college standards of measurement, of course, change each year and twenty-five years ago there were perhaps different emphases placed on extra-curricular activities. Yes there may have been men in college even then whose philosophy was summed up in "never allowing studies to interfere with their college life." Certainly if you dig back into the legends and lore of the earliest college life—in Paris, Oxford, Cambridge—you find evidence that other things than books occasionally got some attention.

Presidents Best Money Makers

The Open Road questionnaires showed up some interesting things, probably not incontrovertible as facts, but interesting notwithstanding. For example, it appears that in the order of their average salaries, presidents of classes come first; managers of teams are second; treasurers and secretaries of classes, third; high honor men, or students, fourth; captains of athletic teams, fifth, and editors of college publications, sixth and last. Editors, of course, are notoriously improvident. No salary is not the final indication, but it is interesting to speculate as to why the great athletes rank fifth in the amount of salary, while the grinds are gathering in enough to put them fourth. Qualities of leadership and executive ability which are usually recognized by such honors as presidencies and managerships, either logically or curiously, may possibly result in the possessors of the qualities forging ahead faster in after life than the men who have not had the qualities recognized on the campus. It would be illuminating to know about the college careers of the men in Mr. Forbes' book who went to college. Was James B. Forgan a president, a football captain, an honor man, or all three? Was George W. Goethals in the College of the City of New York a campus giant? And Cyrus McCormick, Princeton, '79, was he an "active" or an "inactive," as college activities go? Certainly at least one of the builders of America mentioned by Mr. Forbes, namely John Hays Hammond, acquired a considerable amount of academic distinction, for he took a master's degree at Yale after graduation and continued his studies at the Royal School of Mines in Freiberg, Germany.

Qualities the Same?

It is possible that the qualities which college men admire, and recognize by crowning those who have them with so-called college honors, are not always coincident with the qualities which bring fame, fortune, recognition and the other crowns which the world offers its favorites. A man may be a wonderful mixer in school so that when he becomes a senior he knows every freshman by his first name. This quality has been known to bring its owner certain undergraduate recognition. In business or in a profession the same quality may prove valuable and may help boost the man who has it to the top, but many a man who has gone down into college history as a "good fellow" discovers that the market outside is rather narrow for men with good fellowship as their one and only qualification. Salesmanship is supposed to be one of the vocations where this quality is worth dollars and cents. Another man in the same class may perhaps be obscure partly because he does not possess that quality, or others related to it, and yet he may have in spite of his college obscurity real ideas, persistence and initiative and may be a glutton for work. And years later when he blossoms forth in high honors his college mates declare that they never knew he had it in him.

In another sense the college world and the outside world have similar standards of what constitutes leadership, so that in the general run of cases a man who wins respect and recognition from his college mates or professors, or both, follows through when he brings his personality up against men outside. It is hard to discern any very sharp correlations in the mass between success as it is known in college and success in after life, yet it would be foolish to claim that the man who makes something of himself in college does not have a real edge on the fellow who makes a mess of things collegiate.

College Is Valuable

The judgment of men who have been to college is the best and most reasonable basis for deductions as to the value of college training, including the activities which make what is known as a "big" college man. Of 70 10-year graduates of Wesleyan university who declared themselves on the question of how much value they had extracted from college, 60 were unequivocally for the whole works, with some slight changes. It is significant that in answering a question as to what part of the college course they would order differently if they had it all to do over again, the athletes said they would study more, and the honor men universally were of the opinion they would mix more. One man who had been prominent in undergraduate affairs said he would let anyone run the college who cared to undertake the job. These are all men who took the "broad, general A. B. course." Some of them said it hindered them in business; others stoutly affirmed it had helped. Those who went into teaching, of course, humbly averred that all that they were or hoped to be they owed their college mother. Some of the individual opinions as to what college did are significant:

"Made many friends which I value."

"Learned how to reason."

"Taught me to evaluate correctly."

"Gave me an appreciation of the finer things of life."

"Has handicapped me by making me impractical."

"Has given me a position as a college man in my community, which is valuable."

"No direct effect on my occupation."

"Has increased my wants beyond my ability to pay for them."

And so on.

All of these men said a great deal more about the matter; and it is interesting to note, in reading the more detailed statements, that there is a gentle vein of skepticism regarding college honors. Perhaps it is because they are products of an age of illusions. Still and all, it would seem as though it were better to have been big in college than never to have been big at all.—The Open Road.

Plains Club to Hike

The Plains club will hike to the sand dunes along the Kaw river Saturday afternoon. The hike will cover about eight miles for the round trip. The main party will return before time for the evening meal, but those who so desire may bring lunches.

The hike will start from Seventh and Colorado streets at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will be led by C. O. Johnston of the botany department. Any one interested is invited to come.

Sandzen to Lecture Here

Birger Sandzen, noted artist and teacher of Bethany College, will give a series of three illustrated lectures on November 6 and 7. These lectures will be given both in recreation center and room 68 of Anderson hall.

VALLEY CHANGES HINGE ON GAME

FIRST PLACE IS IMPOSSIBLE IF WILDCATS LOSE

Dope Shows Ames and Aggie to Be Evenly Matched—Both Have Been Defeated by Missouri

An Ames victory over the Wildcats tomorrow will eliminate the Aggies from the Valley race, but a victory for Bachman's team will do likewise to the Iowa State college. Who will be the victor remains to be seen.

At present both teams have a record that is marred only by a defeat at the hands of Missouri and in each case the losers outplayed the Tigers.

Ames Is Rested
Ames did not play last Saturday having no game scheduled and this gives them a week's rest over the Wildcats.

As far as the all time games are concerned Ames has a decided edge over the Aggies having won four, losing two and tying one out of seven games played.

The all time scores of Aggie-Ames games:
1917—Ames 10, Aggies 7.
1918—Ames 0, Aggies 11.
1919—Ames 46, Aggies 0.
1920—Ames 17, Aggies 0.
1921—Ames 7, Aggies 0.
1922—Ames 2, Aggies 12.
1923—Ames 7, Aggies 7.
Totals—Ames 89; Aggies 37.

Thus the total points scored in the competition give Ames more than a two to one edge on the Aggies, but leaving out the 46-0 defeat, the par is about the same.

Have Slight Edge
Figuring from results this year Kansas State has a slight edge over the Cyclones. Missouri beat Ames seven points but was outscored by the Cyclones. Ames beat K. U. three points but the Jayhawkers outplayed them. As for the Aggies they decidedly outplayed the Tigers but Missouri's "rabbit foot" was too much in the end and the Aggies lost by seven points. In the K. U.-Aggie game the Wildcats gave the Jayhawkers a six point trimming and doubled them in the yards gained by scrimmage, which would tend to give the Aggies a slight edge, but football dope can not be relied upon too much this season.

The only serious injuries received by the Wildcats in the Missouri game were sustained by Hutton and these are sufficient to keep him out of the Ames fray. Tombaugh will take his place at left guard.

Practically the same lineup which faced the Tigers will start against the Cyclones.

ARRANGE DEBATE SCHEDULES

Men's Team Will Meet Schools in Valley League

Final schedules for debate are being rapidly arranged for both the men's and women's squads. Men will debate in the Valley debate league, which consists of eight schools located in seven states. The following schools are included: University of Kansas, Kansas State Agricultural college, University of South Dakota, Drake, Washington, Colorado, Oklahoma, and Texas. Besides this schedule, there will be a debate with Colorado and one with Oklahoma which are not on the valley schedule. The big trip west which the men's team will take is being rapidly lined out, and about 10 of the western schools will be included in the schedule. A freshman team may be sent to the Phi Kappa Delta contest this year, after several freshman debates have been held.

URGES ADOPTION OF TAX AMENDMENT BY KANSAS

Professor Englund Gives Five Reasons for Change

"Kansas should adopt the tax amendment to the constitution at the next general election for at least five reasons," said Prof. Eric Englund in addressing the agricultural economics seminar on Thursday, October 23. "First, because it would put more intangible property on the tax rolls where the total volume of it would bear a larger part of the cost of government than it now bears; second, it would stimulate saving by removing the oppressive tax on small investments; third, it would provide better opportunity for residents of Kansas to invest their money in this state; fourth, it would aid in developing Kansas agriculture and Kansas industries by making more capital available for productive enterprises at a lower rate of interest; and fifth, it would help solve the problem of double taxation."

Ambitious Woman Should Select a Sympathetic Hubby

"If you have a sympathetic husband you can still have a career and retain his love, you can still have a home as well as an adoring public and can pursue fame although very much married," says Cecile de Horvath, pianist, who is to give a concert in Manhattan November 12 under the auspices of the K. S. A. C. artist series.

But if your husband isn't sympathetic and thinks that woman's sphere is in the home and that the only music she should cultivate is the singing of lullabies, then, believes Madame de Horvath, you might as well bury your light under the bushel barrel of housework.

Although Madame de Horvath is married, she is continuing her line of work. But it isn't because her husband is a superman who thinks that a woman is entitled to lead her own life. It's because he is more interested in music than in anything else. When he isn't mixing formulas in his chemistry laboratory he is composing pieces which his wife plays on her concert tours.

"He really gets some of the glory," says Madame de Horvath, "because his compositions receive such flattering praise from the critics. His heart is with me in my work even though he can not really accompany me on my tours. I suppose it is because he, too, is interested in music that he is so sympathetic and enthusiastic about my work."

Madame de Horvath was born in Boston and studied abroad under Gabriellowitch and Friedman. She made her debut in Berlin trembling with fear for the returns from the severe German musical critics. But next morning when she feverishly opened her paper she read, "She stands in the front rank of all concert pianists."

ROYAL PURPLE STUDIO NOW READY FOR APPOINTMENTS

Located in Basement of Anderson—
All Photographs Must Be Taken by Official Photographer

Photographs which are to be used in the 1925 Royal Purple are all to be taken by a special photographer whose studio has been set up in the basement of Anderson Hall.

This new plan was decided upon by the staff in order that there may be more uniformity in the photographic content of the annual. It will be possible to obtain the same tints, background, and styles in all of the pictures.

The Royal Purple photographer is under contract with the staff and will produce only student work. No photograph will be used in the book which was not taken by him. Appointments can be made with him at any time.

It has previously been found that the peak of the Christmas rush interferes with the speed and uniformity of quality which is necessary in annual photography.

STUDENTS VOTE AT Y. M. C. A.

Non-Residents of Manhattan Have Special Polling Place

Students, residents of Kansas but non-residents of Manhattan, who desire to vote Tuesday will go to the old Y. M. C. A. building at Eleventh and Fremont streets, to cast their votes. The polls will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening.

Those who desire to vote for the county candidates of their own counties must familiarize themselves with the names of the candidates and the offices for which they are running as these names must be written on the ballots. The national and state tickets will, of course, be the same.

Students who are residents of Manhattan will vote in their own wards. In order that all student voters can be cared for, as many as possible of the students should go to the polls early in the day.

Miss Irene Dean, former Y. W. C. A. secretary at K. S. A. C., is in Shanghai, China, where she is the student Y. W. C. A. secretary.

KNOTHOLE GANG MEETS SATURDAY

RILEY COUNTY GRADE STUDENTS TO SEE BALL GAMES

High Standing in Deportment and Grades Required for Admission to Club

Tomorrow a new organization, the Knothole Gang, will be initiated into the Aggie football world during the Ames game.

The Knothole Gang is the result of efforts on the part of the Manhattan Co-op club to devise some means for teaching the grade school students true sportsmanship and making them interested in athletics. The only requirement for entering the club is that the student must be passing in all of his studies, and will root for the Aggies.

Entrance into the Gang is open to all grade school students of Riley county.

Reserve 500 Seats
A section of about 500 seats will be reserved for the gang and chaperones will be assigned to take care of them.

Membership in the club will be forfeited at any time when grades or deportment at school are not satisfactory. It is required that each student have his card countersigned by his teacher before each game and that he remain in the section reserved for him.

The Knothole Gang was organized by the following committee: Z. R. Hook, Hurst Majors, Carl Floersch, A. A. Holtz, Walter E. Moore, and O. M. Rhine.

ANNOUNCE DEBATE PLANS

Teams for Inter-Society Contests
Picked This Week

Teams for the inter-society debates which will be held the week beginning November 17, are being chosen by the literary societies this week. The question is, "Resolved: That the proposed child labor amendment to the federal constitution should be adopted."

Each society has a negative and an affirmative team. A student coach is chosen by each society, who selects the teams and cares for the general arrangements for the debate. Only those members of a literary society who have not won a letter or received college credit for debate are eligible.

The contests are judged upon general effectiveness, based on material presented, its organization, and delivery. The team which remains undefeated at the end of the series of contests is presented with a cup by the inter-society council. The winner retains possession of the cup until the next contest unless it wins for three consecutive years, when the cup becomes its permanent property. The Athenian literary society won the cup last year.

GIRLS TOUR CAMPUS

Freshman Commission Visits Various Buildings on Campus

The freshman commission of the Y. W. C. A. took a campus trip Tuesday evening from 4 to 6 o'clock. The sight seeing trip consisted of a visit to the cafeteria, where the girls saw the kitchen, store rooms, refrigerator rooms; the engineering building and shops; the dairy department, and the milling department. Lois Richardson, sponsor of the freshman commission conducted the tour.

DO YOU KNOW?

That 26 Kansas cities, one Missouri, and two Oklahoma cities are represented in the Memorial Stadium as the home towns of the 45 K. S. A. C. men who gave their lives in the World war?

That the Missouri bleachers were filled to capacity last Saturday with only 7,000 people? They expect 20,000 for the K. U.-M. U. Thanksgiving game with room for only one-third of that crowd. Boosters of Missouri are planning a Stadium drive in the very near future to overcome such a condition in other years.

To Manufacture Pep Friday Night for Ames-Wildcat Game

Big Aggie pep meeting at 7:30 tonight in the auditorium. There will be some more Doc and Mike jokes, pep talks, lots of yelling and the enthusiasm aroused will be stored up to help the team beat the strong team from Ames, Saturday afternoon.

The Aggie Wildcats have a fighting chance to come out on top in the valley conference this season. The game with K. U. was not the beginning and the end—just the beginning. The defeat by M. U. does not spell valley defeat. But the pep must be kept up.

It's an Aggie year. Everybody out.

COMMISSION ELECTS OFFICERS

Eva Brownlee Heads Freshman Women's Y. W. Organization

Freshman commission elected officers at their meeting last week. Eva Brownlee was chosen president. The other officers are as follows: Vice-president, Eugene Knechtel; secretary and treasurer, Mary Frances White; chairman of program committee, Mildred Jones; chairman of social committee, Juanita Pout.

The commission is composed of about fifty freshman women who are especially interested in the work of the Y. W. C. A. and in fostering good relations among the freshman women. Any girl who is interested in becoming a member of the commission, and who has not yet been to its meetings may join by seeing Lois Richardson or by calling at the Y. W. office.

MEMBERS CAMPUS CHEST COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Briefs in Favor of Projects Must Be Presented to Committee—Will Abolish Numerous Drives

A committee for the consideration of all appeals for money from students and faculty for all off-campus purposes, has been appointed by President Jardine, the faculty council on Student Affairs and the S. S. G. A.

All persons interested in any project for which the public is invited to contribute are requested to present briefs in behalf of such projects to some member of the committee. Appeals for off-campus purposes, not approved by the committee are prohibited. These briefs should be presented before November 5.

The committee having this matter in charge is Dr. W. H. Andrews, chairman, Prof. H. A. Shinn representing the faculty council on student affairs, and Miss Charlotte Swanson representing the S. S. G. A. The purpose of this action is to combine in one canvass all appeals for aid for any off-campus cause. One canvass is all that will be permitted during the present school year.

Straw Vote Called Off

The straw vote which was to have been held yesterday, was called off late Wednesday evening, after all arrangements for it had been completed. The Y. M. C. A. and S. S. G. A., who were in charge of arrangements, decided upon the discontinuance in order that no political controversies might arise.

INTRAMURAL CAGE SEASON WILL START NOVEMBER 4

E. A. Knott Announces Opening of Season's Games

The first games of the intramural basketball tournament will be played Tuesday November 4, according to Prof. E. A. Knott of the athletic department.

The schedule for Tuesday and Wednesday, November 4 and 5 is as follows: Alpha Rho Chi vs. Triangles, November 4, 6 p. m.; Alpha Sigma Psi vs. Aggieville Athletic Club, November 4, 6 p. m.; Farm House vs. Sigma Phi Sigma, November 4, 7 p. m.; Kappa Phi Alpha vs. Phi Lambda Theta, November 4, 7 p. m.; Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Lambda Chi Alpha, November 5, 6 p. m.; Sigma Nu vs. Acacia, November 5, 6 p. m.; Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Alpha Tau Omega, November 5, 7 p. m.; Phi Kappa Alpha vs. Beta Theta Pi, November 5, 7 p. m.; Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Delta Tau Delta, November 5, 8 p. m.; Phi Kappa vs. Kappa Sigma, November 5, 8 p. m.

The small courts will be used for these games. A complete schedule will be announced next week.

FINE ARTS FACULTY GROUP OF LINDSBORG TO BE HERE

Music Program by Bethany Artists at Presbyterian Church November 3

A representative group of the fine arts faculty of Bethany college, Lindsborg, will give a program in Manhattan Monday evening, November 3. The program will be presented in the First Presbyterian church, corner of Eighth and Leavenworth.

The program is a part of the Bethany publicity campaign and will be given free of charge.

The fine arts department of Bethany College is one of the finest in the middle west and the people who will appear in Manhattan will present the best that the college has to offer.

Mr. Arthur Uhe, composer, Victor artist, and concert master of the Victor Symphony Orchestra will give two violin solos. Hagbarde Brasse, director of the famous Lindsborg Messiah, will direct a chorus of 20 voices; Miss Emma Griesel, soprano, will sing.

Mrs. William Logan, past president of the Women's Federation of Music Clubs, and Dr. E. J. Kulp of Topeka, one of the finest pulpit orators in Kansas, will speak at the concert.

VISITS IDEAL HOME

Interior Decoration Class Goes to Topeka

The interior decoration class of the applied art department visited the Daily Capital Firesafe Home in Topeka, Wednesday.

The visit was made that the class might get a better idea of the possibilities of furnishing this house, for which the division of home economics is planning the furnishings and equipment. They also visited furniture stores to see possibilities in rugs, carpets, curtains and furniture.

Miss Araminta Holman, head of the applied art department, Maxine Ransom, Ruth Wilson, Vera Wasson and Marie Henkell were the members of the class that made the trip.

TO LECTURE ON GRAND CANYON

Dr. Raymond C. Moore of University of Kansas Will Speak

A lecture on the Grand Canyon of the Colorado river will be given on Monday, November 3, by Dr. Raymond C. Moore, head of the department of geology at the University of Kansas, and state geologist.

A year ago last summer, Doctor Moore had the very unusual experience of going through the Grand Canyon in a boat, as geologist for a party of government scientists who were exploring the canyon.

The lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides and moving pictures. The Grand Canyon is undoubtedly the greatest scenic attraction in America and one of the greatest scenic wonders of the world.

No admission is charged. The lecture will be held in room 26 of the chemistry building and is scheduled to start at 7:30.

Lose That Grouch and Act, Says Pigskin Bull

Say fellow, wait a minute.
DO YOU KNOW that the next number of The Brown Bull is to come out on Homecoming Day, November 22.

AND DO YOU KNOW that it is to be called The Pigskin Number (the number with a KICK in it.)

AND do you know that The Bull welcomes copy from any source that he can get it, but preferably, since he is a student owned and operated gentleman cow, he likes his food from the student body.

If you have liked The Brown Bull of the past, he would appreciate it if you would furnish him with a little sustenance, not raw but rare. If you haven't liked him, why not do something to help him change?

Drop your joke, or your poem, or your humorous story, into the college postoffice, addressed to The Bull, or better still, put it in his own feed box in Anderson Hall.

PHI KAPPA PHI HOLDS ELECTION

TWO TIE FOR FIRST PLACE WITH 2.81 AVERAGE

Eighteen New Members—General
Science and Engineering Divisions
Each Have Five

Announcement has been made of the results of the first Phi Kappa Phi election of the year. Phi Kappa Phi is a national scholastic honor society which chooses members from the senior class every fall and spring.

Elects Ten Per Cent Seniors

Phi Kappa Phi elects practically 10 per cent of the senior class during the year, five per cent being voted in at the first election, and five per cent at the spring election. The fall election is based on three years of college work and the spring election on three and a half years.

Two candidates tied for first place, Wayne E. McKibben, of the engineering division, and Roy C. Langford, of the division of general science, both having an average of 2.81 points.

The appointments are as follows: Division of agriculture—Walter J. Daly, Glenn S. Wood, and Miles E. Crouse; division of engineering—Wayne E. McKibben, Willis E. Garratt, Christian W. Schemm, Harry W. Uhrig, and George A. Plank; division of general science—Roy C. Langford, Helen G. Norton, Alice L. Padfield, Helen E. Correll, and Mrs. Thelma O'Dell Carter; division of home economics—S. Hilda Black, Phyllis W. Burtis, Stella Constance Munger, and Evelyn C. Colburn; division of veterinary medicine—Floyd E. Hull.

Founded in 1897

Phi Kappa Phi was founded at the University of Maine in 1897 and is composed of graduate and undergraduate members of all departments of American colleges and universities. The prime object of the organization is to emphasize scholarship and character in the thoughts of college students. There are at present 35 chapters in the universities and colleges in the United States.

VALLEY CROSS COUNTRY AT DRAKE NEXT MONTH

Kimport and Sallee Have Good Chance for First Place—Other Schools Are Strong

Valley cross-country runners will rest this week in preparation for the valley meet at Drake November 8. Just who is likely to be the winner can hardly be determined as several schools have only completed in one meet. Ames has been the winner the last two years and a victory over Drake and Oklahoma this year showed the Cyclones to be up to preceding standards.

Kansas State will no doubt be a leading contender this year for valley honors, the Wildcats having defeated K. U. and Missouri by good margins. The ease with which Kimport and Sallee have won each race makes a first and second in the valley not far out of reach for the Wildcats.

McIntyre, the winner of the valley meet last year for Ames, was beaten by Rutherford of Oklahoma last Saturday in a triangular meet held at Drake, giving the Sooners a big step towards placing among the winners. Ames won the meet however with Drake finishing second and Oklahoma third.

CAPTAIN VAN FLEET HERE

Officer Formerly Stationed at K. S.
A. C. Makes Visit

Captain Van Fleet who was stationed here in 1919 and 1920 stopped in Manhattan for a brief visit while on his way east to see the Army-Navy football game next Saturday.

Since leaving here Captain Van Fleet has been stationed with the R. O. T. C. at the University of Florida. He was an assistant coach of the varsity football team there. He is now on leave of absence and upon its expiration has been ordered overseas.

Harold Murray spent last week-end in Topeka.

STATE LOYALTY

Wildcat rooters who still retain the grudge spirit against K. U. might well profit from an incident that occurred at the Kansas-Nebraska game in Lawrence last Saturday. During the intermission between halves, the half report on the Tiger-Wildcat struggle was announced as K. S. A. C. 7, Missouri 0, the mistake being made intentionally in order to see what the reaction on the students would be. And the K. U. rooting sections proved loyal to their sister school which was playing an outside opponent, cheering as though the Kansas team had made the successful play. When the announcer corrected his mistake there were many expressions of disappointment in the Jayhawk sections.

Such courtesy and loyalty to the State might well be taken as an example by a few students who are bitterly antagonistic against the University at any and all times. Bitter athletic rivalry between the schools when playing each other is a valuable aid to college spirit, but when the opponent is outside of the state it is only fair to our neighbors down the Kaw to at least express regret when they are defeated.

UPSETS

Upsets, factors in football that cannot be doped, featured the play of the Missouri Valley eleven last Saturday. The two leading favorites, Oklahoma and the Kansas Aggies, both lost their games to Drake and Missouri. The Sooner machine was doped to down the Bulldogs by a slight margin but Ossie Solem's aggression displayed an unlooked for strength and walloped the Oklahomaans by a 28 to 0 count. In the Tiger-Aggie game Bachman's team outplayed Gwinn Henry's eleven but due to breaks at times opportune for Missouri the Wildcats lost. Kansas University was expected to fall hard before the onslaught of the Huskers but the Kansans played the Northwesterners almost even and lost again through breaks.

These results leave two teams, Drake and Missouri, tied with a perfect record in the Valley race. As things look now the Bulldogs seem to have the best chance of coming out on top at the end of the season. Before the football season even started sport tips sent over the Valley suggested that it would be well to watch Drake as it had a large number of letter men back in togs. A week or so ago it looked as if the Iowa school would have to take a back seat but the game last Saturday showed it to be unexpectedly powerful.

However Drake and Missouri are not the only teams left in the battle for championship honors. The Wildcats, Ames, and Nebraska still may, if the Fates are willing, tie or obtain the coveted premier honor. The game tomorrow will eliminate either Kansas State or Iowa from first place chances.

As was expected, Harry came crawling back on his knees, after one week of enforced silence, and swore never again to interfere with any of our girls. Harry is all right. Outside of being rather inquisitive, he has only one fault. He is not a woman-hater.

After the little admonishing it was noted that the Phi Phis were scattered all over the auditorium. They seemingly learn fast.

The Woman Haters club is hereby duly incorporated. Membership can only be obtained by beating into insensibility any girl who asks a foolish question. However, to save the girls, discretion should be used and 25 a day should be the limit.

One freshman mourns the fact that his girl has thrown him down for evil.

dently no reason at all, unless, possibly, she caught a glimpse of him in army clothes.

Do you know? That the rooms on the east of the Delta Zeta house are the most sought for rooms in town? That the two houses are rather close? That occasionally the blinds are not—Well, did you know it?

More worlds to conquer! Having won our fight so successfully against all girls in general, we turn elsewhere. It is pitiful, not to say entirely out of keeping with their nature, for the girls to keep such a meek, submissive silence. But, silence gives consent, so what else can the poor things do? (The "else" was supplied out of compassion.)

Rumour hath it that the board of censors will be out of town when the next Brown Bull is let loose. There will be no limits to his stamping grounds, so he is apt to be somewhat wild.

"A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer," so they say. And here come mid-semester exams.

A ray of hope! When a rather deep joke was cracked at chapel the other day, even some Chi Omegas laughed.

As a first step in a campaign against mice at the Kappa Sig house, all pledges are required to produce one mouse tail as evidence that they have been trapping. "But," says Charlie Kuykendall, "they needn't be shown to me at the breakfast table."

E. W.—You lied to me about that girl! I have a rash on my cheek to prove it.—F. F.

They say that some of the K. K. G. pledges are having trouble learning to raise their left eyebrow. But then, after a little practice they will probably be as good as their sisters.

The announcement of the all sorority football team has to be postponed as the coaches got sidetracked on the subject of clothes.

On Other Hills

Work has begun on the erection of the new radio station at the University of Kansas. It is hoped that the station will be in operation before the Christmas vacation.

The decision has been made at the University of Colorado that all freshman women must wear green bandanas corresponding to the caps worn by the freshman men.

Inter-fraternity dinners held every week at the Colorado Agricultural college are doing a great deal to promote and encourage a friendly spirit among Greek letter men on the campus.

Moving pictures are the latest addition to the course of instruction being given to the Northwestern university football squad this fall. Films taken in practice sessions and during the first two games of the season are being shown to the gridgers in the field house.

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

To the Editor:

Self-confessed "loyal Aggies" (and they evidently have no other names) have been saying and writing a great deal about Aggie yells.

They severely criticize the best yell leader in the valley, "Fighting Blackie," because personally he does not care for "Jay Rah."

It would have been impossible for the Aggies to have given a better exhibition of pep than they did at the K. U. game. That the "No. 1" yell is very effective is proven by the many favorable comments which were heard from K. U. students. And it is an Aggie yell. There is no Jayhawk in it—just pure Wildcat.

Perhaps a better yell could be found for the Aggie battle-cry—then "loyal Aggies" should spend their time writing one. Other yells are needed too, so all ideas should be communicated to "Blackie."

And the Aggies need not worry about their pep not getting across when they can yell like they have done at all the games this season. The words do not matter so much—it's the noise, the pep, and, most important of all, the spirit.

Get up when the men come on the field, yell something, cheer them when they play well, cheer them when they fumble, remain after the game to sing "Alma Mater" and forget all about any yell controversy.—Alice C. Nichols.

Keefer Has Tonsillitis

L. E. Keefer, right tackle on the varsity football team, has been suffering for several days from tonsillitis. Last Monday his tonsils were removed and he is now progressing nicely. He should be able to report for football some time next week.

W. B. Fenn, who had a severe attack of appendicitis last week, has been removed to his home in Salina to be operated on. He will probably be out of school the rest of the semester.

Lucille Parker, Luella Lancaster, Inez Jones, Bob Baehler, Vincent Bates, and Curtis Alexander drove to Columbia for the Aggie-M. U. game.

Pigskin Squeals

Perhaps the reason the Sooners lost to Drake is because their mascot, "Mex," a brown and white spotted bulldog was lost while changing trains on the way to Des Moines last week. Who knows but what this may be the jinx the Sooners need to win their games.

Watch for the knothole gang tomorrow. They will carry the tenor part in the rooting.

We hope Ames proves to be a gentle breeze rather than a cyclone against the Wildcats in tomorrow's fray.

Do you know that the Aggies have completed over 50 per cent of passes attempted during the last three years.

The shifting of "Cy" Tombaugh from left to right guard in the Missouri game proved to be a good and no doubt permanent move. Injuries to Hutton in the Tiger battle will keep him from the game tomorrow and Tombaugh will again hold down the right guard position.

PERCY HAUGHTON DIES

Columbia Football Coach Was One of Best

Percy Haughton, Columbia university football coach, died Monday after being stricken with acute indigestion while coaching on the football field.

Haughton was one of the best known football coaches in the country, making his reputation during the many years he generated the Harvard university to victory. He was chosen two years ago to lead the Columbia university, out of a long standing of athletic slump. He made a good showing last year and indications pointed toward better results this fall.

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet will hold a meeting with the joint cabinet advisory board Thursday evening at 7:45 in the Home Economics rest room.

The College club will give a Hal-loween party tonight at their club house, 1116 Bluemont.

who has spent the last 40 years in South America, and Mrs. May B. Snider were dinner guests at the Delta Zeta house, Tuesday evening.

Bethany Circle held formal initiation for Miss Mary Stutz of Manhattan and Miss Laree Ralph of Delphos last Sunday afternoon at the home of the president of the organization, Miss Laureda Thompson, 1809 Poyntz avenue.

Miss Evelyn Garvin was a dinner guest at the Omega Tau Epsilon house Sunday.

Delta Delta Delta held open house Friday evening for Acacia and Saturday evening for Pi Kappa Alpha.

Lambda Tau Kappa held pledge services Sunday evening for Miss Ruth Correll, Manhattan, and Miss Elizabeth Rodewald, Randolph.

Omicron Nu held formal initiation Thursday at the home of Dean Margaret Justin, 531 North Manhattan avenue, for Miss Mary Dey, Wellington, and Mrs. Lucille Rust, Altamont. Miss Dey is a senior in home economics and Mrs. Rust is graduate assistant in the department of household economics.

Members of the college Good Fellowship society of the Congregational church hiked to Prospect Hill Sunday evening and held their meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. R. K. Nabours entertained the members of the zoology department with a dinner and a bridge party Wednesday evening at their new home on Denison avenue. Misses Vera and Vesta Walker assisted in the serving of the four course dinner. Bridge was played at six tables. Miss Leonora Doll and C. A. Gunns made the high score of the evening.

The guests were as follows: Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Ackert, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McColloch, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gunns, Mrs. Carrie Williams, Dr. T. B. Williams, Dr. Mary T. Harman, Dr. Minna Jewell, Mrs. George Dean, Miss Naomi Zimmerman, Miss Bertha Danheim, Miss Leonora Doll, Miss Martha Foster, Miss Isabelle Potter, Miss Lola Vincent, Elmer Cheatum, C. A. Herrick, and Harold Brown.

The Graduate club had its annual fall hike Monday evening. About 35 members hiked to the home of G. H. Failyer beyond Bluemont hill. A contest to determine which members knew the most persons present and general participation in making the fire and preparing the lunch, which consisted of hamburgers, pickles, apples, doughnuts, and coffee, helped to make the occasion informal. Later in the evening, the crowd was entertained with a one-act comedy enacted By F. Rupert, George Fillingier, and Miss Elma Stewart.

The Cosmopolitan club held its annual open house last Saturday evening in Recreation center. The room was decorated with plants, flowers, and the national flags of each country. G. A. Ajwani, president of the club, gave the address of welcome, and the response was given by Dean J. T. Willard. Miss Helen Girard sang "La Paloma" with a guitar accompaniment. Short talks were then given by the different members on the festivities of the countries. Poy Lim spoke on Chinese festivities, James H. Hammad of Palestine told about Arabian holidays, Floriano F. Guimaraes of South America spoke on Brazil, Z. K. Surmelian on Armenia, and Daniel Van den Berg on South America. I. M. and S. C. Ortiz played a guitar duet, and the last number was a piano solo by Miss Gladys Sanford. More than 100 guests were present at the meeting.

The faculty members of the music department of the college were entertained with a "hard time feed" last Wednesday evening at the home of Professor and Mrs. H. P. Wheeler, 327 N. Fifteenth street. Hallows'en decorations, stunts, and games were features of the evening. The following guests were present: Professor and Mrs. Ira Pratt and daughter, Katherine, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon and daughter, June, Mr. and Mrs. William Illingworth, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Putnam, Mrs. Susanne Pasmore, Mrs. N. O. Kennedy and son, Nelson, Otis Gruber, Harry Lamont, and Misses Ruth Scott, Mable

NOTED STUDENT WORKER HERE

MISS MARGARET QUAYLE TO ADDRESS MEETINGS TUESDAY

Has Conducted Student Relief Work in European Countries for Several Years

Arrangements have been made for a special assembly next Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock at which Miss Margaret Quayle, international secretary for the Student Friendship fund, will address the students on the subject, "Friendship That Is Stronger Than Treaties."

Miss Quayle has had years of experience with European student relief. During the war she did relief work in Belgium and France along the frontier. Later she was transferred to Czechoslovakia, where she had charge of relief work for several thousand students. She has also conducted relief work in Roumania, Germany, Hungary, and Russia. She is a traveling secretary for the student Friendship Fund of the World's Student Christian Federation. The federation is the only international organization that did not disband during the world war. The phase of its program and work that comes under the title of student friendship is that work with students of other nations. It has made possible the keeping open of the doors of European colleges and universities by giving help in a physical way to faculty and students, buying books, equipping laboratories, and so on. Some of the work is with foreign students on our campuses—helping them to become adjusted to conditions in America.

Here Only One Day

Miss Quayle will be in Manhattan only one day. Those in charge of student friendship work at the college feel very fortunate in obtaining her services here, as she is in great demand, and only speaks in colleges where student interest warrants her appearance.

To Speak During Noon Hour

Another meeting will be held in the college cafeteria during the noon hour Tuesday at which Miss Quayle will also speak. Reservations for plates should be made at the Y. M. or Y. W. offices before six o'clock Monday evening. Still another opportunity will be offered to hear Miss Quayle at seven o'clock, in the home economics rest room.

These talks are purely educational and absolutely no appeal will be made for funds. The financial drive of the student friendship fund will be held later on under the auspices of the campus chest committee.

Strange Things Might Happen Tonight—As They Did Years Ago

Ghosts walk tonight. This is the time that the clank of chains is heard in the cellar, and the rattle of bones comes from the closet where the family skeleton is hidden. Moans and groans echo through the attic. And fiendish shouts of glee, inaudible to the human ear ring through the empty streets and out across the chill and lonely graveyard.

Elfs, brownies, ghouls and "ha'nts," roaming the deserted streets, with mystic word and magic gesture, work strange and powerful spells over helpless inanimate objects, and cause them to do wondrous, queer things. Propriety, rules of conduct, and laws of nature are defied. The morning brings forth a new world, a world in many things strange, and very little as it should be.

Shades of Tam O'Shanter and Marley's Ghost. The hordes of fiery eyed, wry faced beings, of a non-earthly origin, who glide or romp, as best suits their nature, about on their fiendish errands cause honest people (of 30 years or older) to draw the shades and take their respectability to bed with them.

But from the supernatural to the artificial, or from the abstract to the concrete, from the maybe to the probable, and let the mind indulge in a little harmless speculation. For speculation as well as imagination will be in order today. For instance, perhaps Colonel Bugbee will spend part of the night wondering as to whether he will find his pet cannon guarding the stadium towers or the courthouse lawn. Mr. Pickard might speculate as to the type of decoration which will favor the radio towers in the morning. Professor Kammeyer might be interested in knowing what kind of bulletin boards will be available upon which to post the next chapel announcement.

And as for Prexy, there are many things over which a man in his position may ponder.

This is also the night when the old grads congregate in small groups and recall happenings of the dark ages. "Don't you remember when we abducted Professor George's burro and they found him on the roof of Anderson hall? And the night our class numbers were painted on the highest part of the tallest smoke-stack? Did you help put that big steam engine on the roof of the illustrations building? Then the night Prexy loaded the campus with guards and was so sure that we couldn't do anything. He surely was surprised to hear the old bell ring at midnight. But the best joke of all was when Professor Wallace was tipped off that we were going to run off with his new buggy and so went out and slept in it. We never suspected that there was anything wrong until we had that buggy clear to the top of Bluemont. Thanks for the ride boys, now will you please haul me home again? And we did because he knew our names by that time, and besides he had a buggy whip in his hand."

Tonight is Hallowe'en.

OFFERS COURSE IN FEEDING AND MANAGEMENT OF CATTLE

Two Weeks' Course Will Aid Cattle-men of State—No Tuition

In order that the increasing number of dairy cattle in Kansas may be more efficiently taken care of, the dairy department offers a two weeks' course of intensive training in the feeding and management of dairy cattle. Statistics show that in the past six years the number of dairy cattle in the state has increased over 8,000 head each year.

The course this year will be given December 1 to 13 inclusive, a time of year when knowledge gained can immediately be used to practical advantage.

It consists of lectures and laboratory studies on care, feeding and management of dairy cattle, judging and showing, history of dairy breeds and pedigree analysis, sanitation, milk testing, cheese and farm butter making, and the production of crops on dairy farms.

This course is as practical in nature as it is possible to make it. It is especially recommended for men who handle purebred cattle or those who wish to become milk testers. The only requirement for enrolling is an eighth grade education or its equivalent.

BEHM BROTHERS CONQUER AGGIES

WILDCATS SUFFER OVERWHELMING DEFEAT BY AMES

Northerners Score by Every Means Known to Football—Mildrexters Unthinkingly Presents Enemy With Two Points

Although they fought until the closing gun was fired the Aggies could not work up scoring power and so went down to their second defeat this year with a 21 to 0 loss to the aggregation from Iowa State college. A crowd of about 4,000 saw the game in Memorial Stadium Saturday, and in spite of the fact that most of the spectators cheered until the end of the game and the players themselves never gave up, the result was certain almost from the first.

Too Much Behm

Johnnie and Norton Behm of Ames with the aid of others, the more prominent being Roberts, Palm, and Schmidt, proved too much for the Kansans, and the Ames boys scored in every quarter, using every possible means of counting up points—touchdowns, tries-for-points, field goals, and safeties.

The first score was made on the kick-off. Roberts kicked off into the wind. The ball struck behind the Aggie goal line and bounced back into the field. Mildrexters, Aggie fullback, thinking he was scoring a touchdown, carried the ball back across the line and gave Ames two points. For the rest of the quarter the Aggies more than held their own. After it became evident that the light Aggie backfield could not do the work necessary the heavier players went in. The Aggies made several good gains but a fumble lost the ball. When the quarter ended Ames had the ball on her own 43-yard line.

Touchdown in Second

In the second period Ames started off with a rush. Without losing the ball for a single play they carried it down into the danger zone, where a pass, Roberts to Nave, made the first touchdown. Roberts kicked goal. After that the ball went from one team to the other and was in all parts of the field, at one time within a yard of the Aggie goal. Near the end of the first half Roberts made a place kick from the 26-yard line and the half ended with the score 12 to 0.

Nothing happened in the first part of the third quarter. Then it looked as if Ames would make another touchdown. Longstreet intercepted a pass from Cochrane near the Aggie 20-yard line with a clear field ahead of him, but Cochrane ran him down and dove over the interference to bring Longstreet down on the 7-yard line. After getting to within 3 yards of the goal Roberts tried a place kick but failed to make it. Later on Ames again got the ball on the Aggies' 20-yard line. The Behm brothers carried it 15 yards and Palm took it over for another touchdown. Roberts failed to kick goal.

Roberts Makes Kick

In the middle of the last quarter Roberts again made a field kick, ending the scoring. After this the Aggies started fighting and were still at it when the game ended, although an intercepted pass gave the ball to Ames. The game ended with Ames having the ball on their own 37-yard line.

Cast Is Chosen For Fall Play of Purple Masque

Comedy, simple, human, and joyous, is "The First Year," the fall play to be presented by Purple Masque.

The play was first presented at the Little Theater, New York, in 1920, when it was judged the best comedy of the year. Reports following its first night were enthusiastic. In praising its merits one critic judged it "ten times as good as anyone had dared hope before the first performance." It is the work of Frank Craven, who has grown in popularity since his first comedy success, "Too Many Cooks," several years ago.

"The First Year," like "Too Many Cooks," is made up of the little things. There are many places in the play which will strike a responsive chord in the breast of almost anyone. Mr. Craven's specialty is the observant touch, the humor of recognition. They come out time and again in "The First Year."

It is quite simple and easy and even undramatic. For example, the author does not even trouble to carry over any suspense from the first act to the second, and always it has been a rule in playwriting that this is something that must be done if the play is to be a success. Yet in this it is not done and it has won unanimous favor as a most enjoyable comedy.

During the season in New York Mr. Craven played in the male lead in the character of the plodding, unromantic young man of business. All that he does in the first act is to woo and win a girl, and all that he does in the second is to quarrel with her. The second act, incidentally, is almost continuously hilarious. Out of the serving of a dinner for an inexperienced maid Mr. Craven produces enough comedy to last the ordinary play for three acts. The progress of the quarrel between the young couple is natural and unforced, an unusually skillful piece of writing.

The cast for "The First Year" has been chosen. The male lead, the character of Thomas Tucker, will be played by Jack Kennedy and the female lead, Grace Livingston, by Rebecca Thacher. Other characters in the play are Mr. Livingston, Fred Volland; Mrs. Livingston, Lillian Kammerer; Dick Loring, Harold Sappenfield; Doctor Anderson, James Lansing; Mr. Barstow, Arthur Maxwell; Mrs. Barstow, Betty McCoin; and Hattie, Lois Trasty.

Before the presentation of the play at the college it will be given in several towns in Kansas, after which it will be presented at the college auditorium December 11.

ATHENIAN SOCIETY WINS CUP

Ionians Win Second Highest Number of Points

Athenian literary society has been awarded the Intersociety council cup for the year, it was announced recently.

Ionians won second place in the contest, Alpha Betas third, and Eurodelphians fourth. Eight literary societies were entered.

This cup is awarded each year by the Intersociety council, to the literary society having the most points. Points are given for scholarship, senior, junior, and sophomore honors, intersociety debate team, intercollegiate debate team, Zeta Kappa Psi, Pi Kappa Delta, intersociety oratorical contest, intercollegiate oratorical contest, Aggie Pop, dramatics, glee club, Quill club and attendance.

The purpose of the Intersociety council is to stimulate interest in the literary societies for better work. Officers for the year are Mildred Moore, president; Emogene Bowen, secretary; George Montgomery, treasurer; Carrie Justice, debate chairman; and Gladys Sanford, dramatic chairman.

Design Class Makes Attractive Motifs

Art in its conventional form is being developed by the class in Design II under the supervision of Miss Louise Everhardy. The lines from some poem with a river as its central theme are being used to suggest to the students motifs for working out their designs. These naturalistic forms are conventionalized and repeated until they form designs such as are used in wall papers and other decorative materials.

Rander Believes That Picture Is Photo of One's Character

With an eyebrow moustache, bushy hair, artistic temperament, French-Russian blood in his veins, and twenty-five years of experience behind him, John B. Rander, the gentleman pictured here, comes from the Northland Studio of Toledo to take pictures for the 1925 Royal Purple. To meet and talk to Mr. Rander is to become acquainted with a man who fairly bubbles over with enthusiasm for his work.

Mr. Rander, or "Jack," as he prefers to be called, started his picture taking career several years ago in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. While in Pittsburg he owned seven studios, going from that city to Chicago. Chicago was Mr. Rander's home for nine years, three of which he was connected with the famous Melvin Sykes studio of that city. The rest of the nine year period was spent in commercial photography in connection with advertising. From Chicago Mr. Rander made a hop to New Orleans, gaining valuable experience there in marine photography and in motion picture work.

Mr. Rander has gained quite a reputation as an expert in lighting in connection with photography. It was an early interest in fancy lighting effects, together with a belief in the possibilities in photography that led him into this field.

"Jack" is anxious to meet as many of the students as possible in the Royal Purple studio in the basement of Anderson Hall in order that he may talk over their picture problems with them. "Picture taking really consists of photographing an individual's character," says Mr. Rander. "If a person comes in to see me in a happy frame of mind and confident that I can take his picture, then I can make a masterpiece."

INTERNATIONAL THEME, VESPERS

Songs and Stories of Other Countries to Be Given

The second of a series of international meetings will be given in Vespers next Thursday when an "International Musicales" will be held in Recreation. Songs and stories of other countries will comprise the program. The first of the series was the "Conference of Nations." The program will consist of the following numbers: Song of India, Mildred Michener; Selections from Indian and Persian poets, Gladys Sanford; Cornet solo of Scandinavia, Lucile Heath; Stories of Russia and Switzerland, Osceola Burr; Folk dances by physical education students under direction of Miss Myra Wade; Folk songs of other countries.

The program is under the direction of Dorothy Stiles, and the faculty and Manhattan people are especially invited.

Cecile de Horvath Concert Is a Week From Tomorrow

The second number of the K. S. A. C. Artist series will be given a week from tomorrow, November 12, in the college auditorium, when Cecile de Horvath, distinguished young pianist appears here in concert.

Madame de Horvath has one of the most individual personalities in the concert world today. Her individuality does not consist of freakishness in personal appearance and dress. She does not have to resort to such makeshifts. Rather it is in her entire mental and spiritual makeup, an individuality which creates an atmosphere the minute she steps on the stage and permeates her playing with a style distinctly her own.

The critics invariably speak of it. Edward Moore in the Chicago Tribune praises her "decisive individuality." The New York Evening Mail says that "there is individuality in her viewpoint."

They are also agreed upon her temperamental qualities. Karleton Hackett says, "There is fire in her playing, the expression of a woman of temperament." Maurice Rosenfeld, of the Chicago Daily News, calls her, "a temperamental pianist." Edward Moore speaks of her "flaming interpretations," the Philadelphia Record says she has "temperament to burn," and the Philadelphia Inquirer speaks of her "force, fire, and assurance."

WOMEN'S ENROLMENT IS 1,600

Courses in Home Economics Attract Large Number of Women

The total enrolment in all of the women's courses from the K. S. A. C. school of the air, the first and only radio school to be offered by any institution in the world, has passed the 1,600 mark.

In the arrangement of radio courses, the divisions of agriculture, engineering, general science, and home economics are cooperating with the extension division. Beginning September 15, 1924, the programs will extend over a period of eight months, during which time 28 courses will be offered, each course being of eight weeks' duration.

down before the end of the season. One guess would be that K. U. will beat Missouri, the Aggies will handle Nebraska, and Drake will defeat Ames. Who knows?

Grinnell and Oklahoma are tied for the next position. Of these two, Oklahoma, who defeated Nebraska, stands out as a possible contender for the title. Grinnell has won from Washington but that does not necessarily mean that the team is strong.

The only school without a victory so far is Washington. Judging from past records Washington will not amount to much in figuring out a Valley leader.

The only other school left out of the reckoning then, is the Kansas State College, Manhattan. Right here is the unknown in the championship race. Although the Aggies have a standing of .250 they are not out of the running, by a long way.

Drake, with a very insecure footing at the top, has a game next Saturday, while the Aggies rest, putting the two schools in the same position a week from Saturday that the Aggies and Ames were last week. So, even if Drake wins this week, she stands a good chance to go down to defeat at the hands of the Aggies. So far, so good. Then, the next week, before a homecoming crowd, the Aggies meet Nebraska, who has already been defeated by Oklahoma. Therefore, an Aggie victory is absolutely possible. This leaves Oklahoma to be defeated by Coach Bachman's men on Thanksgiving Day. Oklahoma has already lost to Drake showing that the Sooners can be beaten. By that time the Aggies will be fighting for something definite and so they will have a good chance to eat Turkey after the game and enjoy it.

Net result of all this figuring: The Kansas Aggies are tied for first place in the Missouri Valley championship race. Which is just where we want them, so we will let it go at that and watch the sport page carefully.

Indorses Alumni Association

"I am strong for the alumni association and hope it will accomplish much for the college," writes Olive Hering, '24, in a letter accompanying her check for active alumni dues. "I am truly glad that we succeeded in winning from K. U. and hope that we will be able to keep on doing so. The spirit that prevails in the new Memorial Stadium will win many victories for K. S. A. C."

ANNUAL SOPHOMORE CLASS PARTY NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

To Be Held in Recreation Center—All College Students Invited

The annual sophomore class fall party and dance will be held in Recreation center Friday evening, November 7, at 8:30. This was decided upon in a class meeting held last night.

The object of the party is to create class spirit, and to stimulate members of the class to pay their dues. Dues for this semester are $1.25, and must be paid before a member's picture will appear in the Sophomore section of the Royal Purple. The dues also admit sophomores to the dance. Everyone is invited to attend. Admission for students, other than members of the class, is $1.10.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of William Carpenter, O. D. Lantz, Fred Shideler, Agnes Slatten, and Miss Hubbard. Music will be furnished by Art Dodge's orchestra.

The color of the Red Sea is due to the great number of minute warm water plant animals that live in it.

S. S. G. A. MAKES ACTIVITY BUDGET

71.40 PER CENT OF ACTIVITY FEE TO ATHLETICS

Students Pay Only $3.55 for Football—Other Activities Receive Share—$500 for Publicity

Apportionment of the varsity activity fee among the various student activities for the current year has been made by the committee on activities and approved by President W. M. Jardine. There is very little difference between the apportionment this year and the one of last year.

The committee on apportionment of the varsity activity fee consists of five members, a student chairman and two faculty members appointed by President Jardine and two members selected from the student body by the S. S. G. A. This year's committee consists of J. M. Leonard, chairman; Prof. Eric Englund and Prof. H. W. Davis, faculty representatives; and Fred Shideler and Christian Rugh, student representatives.

Following is the apportionment for this year as compared with that of last year:

ACTIVITY	Per Cent		Approx. Amount
	Total Fund 1923-24	1924-25
Athletics . . . . .	71.40	71.00	$19,880

This budget as submitted by the committee includes money received from the varsity activity fee for both semesters of this school year. The allowances for the various activities will be slightly more this year than last due to a slight increase in enrollment, and to the fact that the basis for computing the budget last year was a little too high.

Additional Amount for Publicity

The committee has recommended an increase in the allotment for the S. S. G. A. of approximately $500 over the allotment of last year. This increase is recommended in order to create a fund of $500 to promote publicity of certain student activities over the state. The committee made the following recommendations relative to this publicity fund:

That the $500, set aside for publicity, should not be available for any other purpose.

That this money be expended in giving publicity to substantial student activities, which we believe should include only those activities that receive support from the varsity activity fund, and attainments in scholarship.

That the publicity receiving support from this fund should have the approval of the department of Journalism.

The reason for the increase of approximately $200 in debate is that this activity incurred an expense of approximately this amount, beyond the usual requirements, when the Oxford University debate team was brought here the 18th of October.

Student Organizations Get $145

According to the budget, students pay only $3.55 for admission to five football games this fall. Season tickets for non-students are $7.50. The other $1.45 is divided among organizations on the campus that require student aid. A study of the budget will enable payers of the activity fee to determine the exact amount that they pay for each activity, and also to find out for what their money is spent.

ACCUSATION AND INTEREST

The accusation is often made that The Collegian is the organ of the journalists and that it is used to further the interests of the department of journalism. However, if such an accusation be true, it is because students in other departments fail to take the proprietary interest they should have in the student newspaper.

Proof of this statement was evident at the recent election of the executive board of the newspaper. The announcement had been made in the columns of The Collegian that the election of the board would take place and the date set for balloting at the Royal Purple office. Nominating petitions for each of the four student members of the board required the signatures of 20 subscribers to the publication and it was only thru the efforts of the journalism students that the necessary nominations were secured. And, for the sake of fairness, one of these persons was not a journalist but was known to have an interest in the welfare of The Collegian.

In view of these facts, accusations against the journalists charging them with usurping a student publication and making it a department organ, are obviously unfair. It is the student body of the entire college who will take no interest in the student newspaper if it remains for the journalists, due to their professional interest, to see to its executive management.

An Aggie that will bet on his team when the score is 12 to 0 in favor of the opposing team certainly has the proper spirit even though his judgment is not exactly sound.

School life would be sweet indeed, if there were no exams. It is easily possible to bluff through a recitation, but, to the sorrow of many, it is not so easy to do on paper. And these professors can think of so many fool questions!

Again the all-sorority team cannot be announced. These women coaches can not, absolutely can not agree on anything. It is doubtful if they can agree on the number they will have on the eleven.

Membership to the Women-Haters' organization will have to be made a little more difficult to obtain. It is too easy to find a girl who asks foolish questions. 'S a matter of fact, they all do.

If you read the "Lady or the Tiger" and are an optimist, you conclude that the lady came out of the door and all was well. The pessimist will be certain that the tiger meandered forth. But, the cynic declares that it makes no difference which came out. Either way is pitiful.

Harry submits the following:
'Tis awfully sad
And awfully bitter
To make a date
And then forget 'er.

But then, Harry is not totally responsible and things must be overlooked. The worst is feared—he must be in love.

We suggest that the editor of the Brown Bull adopt the college yell for a slogan of the next issue. Raw, raw, raw!

It is reported that the Kappa Deltis are looking for a milder brand of cigarettes.

And now that the election is out of the way, just what will the current history instructors find to talk about?

A glacial mud flow, originating on the southeast side of Mt. Shasta in Northern California, was caused by the exceptionally dry season of 1923-

24. There was very little snow deposited on Shasta last winter; the sun melted the glacier to such an extent that the water came down in torrents from high above timber line, bringing down great quantities of boulders, mud and debris, twenty feet deep and a quarter of a mile wide. It finally emptied into the McCloud River, and on into the Sacramento River, coloring the water for more than 100 miles below the confluence of the streams.

On Other Hills

The "Ice-cutter" is the name given to the sophomore freshman get-acquainted party which was held at Ohio State University last week.

An international trophy that bears the title of "The International Intercollegiate Tennis Cup" has been offered by Bernon Sebright. It is intended for competition between teams representing Oxford and Cambridge universities of England and Harvard and Yale of the United States.

More than 100 students failed to pay their fees before the October 15 limit and are automatically suspended from the University of Oregon.

The freshmen at the University of Oklahoma defeated the varsity first team with a score of 13 to 0. The freshmen were ordered to purchase new caps after the game—double size.

All students who have not been vaccinated for smallpox at the University of Cincinnati are barred from classes.

The University of Chicago now contains as a regular part of its school of commerce and administration an institute of meat packing.

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

For those who are tired of articles reproving them for their pep I advise that they do not read this article. It might make them think and that would never do. For four years I have waited for a game at which I would see exhibited an absolute sincere exhibition of so-called "pep." At the K. U. game there was some show given by the students but I believe it a result of habit and tradition covering a period of 18 years, there was no alternative. One brief explosion and it was all over. I wonder how long the football team would last if each player played as a result of simultaneous action of the molecules and when that energy was burnt out retired to a side bench as do our student body.

They come to the game, the girls dressed as for an afternoon tea and boys vie with each other to see who can wear the loudest plaid shirt, but for such outward show I see no complimentary action of pep to help the boys on the field. You say perhaps the boys on the field do not hear the yelling, clapping, and cheering and what difference does it make anyhow. Neither does an engine hear the grinding of the wheels, feel the heat of the furnace or an airplane hear the whirr of its engine, but they can feel them and they would miss it vitally if it was gone, so the men on the field can feel the throb and fervor of our enthusiasm whether they hear it or not. The enthusiasm of the students is to the football men as steam is to the engine. With steam lacking how in the world can the molecules be set to work.

I would like to know how many of the 1,400 freshmen of our college know, and could sing it alone if required, our "Alma Mater." From the effect of Saturday's game I should judge about 200. About cheering, if those in the institution are ignorant of the times they should yell and if that is what is preventing them from venting their school spirit, I tell them to ask any football man. If you ask him in a nice way and do not irritate him too much I am sure you will get the proper information. Also I would suggest that at the games they sit next to one who does know and when he yells it is time for him to yell. Psychologists tell that practice, if rightly directed, makes perfect, let us pray then that the student body will set to work imitating those who do have loyal spirit, perhaps in time they will perfect some good Aggie cheering, as there seems to be lost all hope of simultaneous inexhaustible enthusiasm. It is more a process of coercion.

Humbly I present these suggestions in hopes that before I leave this college I may hear some real cheering.

1. That the Wampus Cats mingle among the student body to keep pep stirred up among them and also the townspeople.
2. That freshmen be required to sing the school song in chapel to prove they know it.
3. That by some means the student body be required to remain as a body until the game is over.
4. That as a token of appreciation we really cheer the football men. Hopefully waiting for the improbable.—A Senior Aggie.

Student News

Prof. H. E. Reed of the animal husbandry department conducted a high school judging contest and judged a fair at Harper, Kansas the early part of this week.

Prof. F. W. Bell and a group of senior animal husbandry students who are trying out for the stock judging team, visited the E. Nickerson Percheron farm at Leonardville last week. This farm is managed by J. J. Moxley, K. S. A. C. '22.

Prof. B. M. Anderson of the animal husbandry department returned Tuesday from Kit Carson, Colorado, where he purchased a carload of cattle that will be used in experimental feeding tests this winter.

The department of animal husbandry will show cattle, hogs, and sheep at the American Royal Livestock show at Kansas City, November 15 to 22.

Prof. C. W. McCampbell went to Kansas City today where two groups of cattle fed experimentally at the college will be sold.

Mr. C. N. Chase, a graduate of Yale has enrolled at K. S. A. C. and is specializing in animal husbandry. Prof. C. W. McCampbell is superintendent of the draft horse department at the American Royal Livestock show.

Prof. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics, will speak on "Agricultural Adjustment Policies" at the agricultural economics seminar on Thursday, November 6.

Prof. R. M. Green will go to Stafford Thursday of this week to do some work on the wheat storage project which the agricultural economics department is carrying on in that county.

W. H. Riddle of the dairy department, who is supervisor of the state institutional dairy herds left on a short inspection trip Tuesday. On that day he visited the Reformatory dairy herd at Hutchinson. Wednesday he inspected the herds at Winfield and Larned, and on Thursday the three institutional herds at Topeka.

E. W. Winkler, '21, who received his master's degree in agricultural economics at the end of the 1924 summer school, is teaching in the high school at Washington.

Prof. Eric Englund of the department of agricultural economics, addressed the annual meeting of the County Farm Bureau at Ottawa on November 1. He discussed "The Tax Amendment to the Kansas Constitution."

"Assessment and Equalization of Farm and City Real Estate in Kansas," a recent experiment station bulletin by Prof. Eric Englund of the department of agricultural economics, is summarized in the October issue of the Bulletin, official organ of the American Tax association. This publication carries reviews of current contributions in taxation and in other matters pertaining to public finance.

Prof. H. P. Walker, head of the department of agricultural engineering, went to Chicago last week where he addressed the Farm Machinery Manufacturers' association.

Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Woods of Effingham and Mrs. W. O. Woods of Washington, D. C., visited Mrs. Alice Marcotte at the Kappa Phi Alpha house last week.

"One dandelion seed, if placed under absolutely ideal conditions and allowed to reproduce for 50 years would have, by that time produced enough dandelions, that were the seeds collected from these plants and loaded on freight trains, they would fill enough trains of cars to reach around the world 40 times," was the startling announcement made by Dr. Mary T. Harman, professor of zoology. "If you don't believe it, figure it out to your own satisfaction. I did."

Steinmetz

The spirit of Dr. Steinmetz kept his frail body alive. It clothed him with surpassing power; he tamed the lightning and discharged the first artificial thunderbolt.

Great honors came to him, yet he will be remembered not for what he received, but for what he gave. Humanity will share forever in the profit of his research. This is the reward of the scientist, this is enduring glory.

Emerson tells how the mass of men worry themselves into nameless graves, while now and then a great, unselfish soul forgets himself into immortality. One of the most inspiring influences in the life of a modern corporation is the selfless work of the scientists in the laboratories, which it provides for their research.

Grads Intercede for "Jay Rah"

Criticism is being heard from several of the alumni because the college yell "Jay Rah" is seldom heard nowadays. The following resolution was adopted by the alumni working in the extension division of the college at their annual conference last week. The majority of the members of the extension service are alumni.

Whereas, it has come to the attention of the convention of the Kansas extension workers, who for the most part are interested alumni of K. S. A. C., that there is a movement on the part of some of the student body to discontinue the use of the college yell "Jay Rah" at games and contests;

And whereas, "Jay Rah" has been the yell for years and is perhaps the only yell the alumni attending the K. U. Aggie game will know;

Therefore, be it resolved, that we the representatives of thousands of K. S. A. C. alumni most vigorously protest against such action until such time as it can be shown that a better yell has been provided, and furthermore, that we emphatically demand that the "Jay Rah" yell be given at the K. U. Aggie game and that before its use is discontinued that the alumni of the institution be given a chance to express their opinion of any such contemplated action.

This resolution was read at the pep meeting Friday night, before the Aggie-K. U. game at which time it was voted to continue the use of "Jay Rah." It was given twice during the game.

VALLEY ENTRANTS CHOSEN

Six Men to Compete in Annual Cross Country Meet

Tryouts were held Saturday to select the cross country team to represent K. S. A. C. in the Missouri Valley Cross country meet which is to be held at Des Moines, November 8. The men who made places are R. E. Kimport, M. L. Sallee, P. A. AxteLL, J. Smith, R. P. Aikman, and Edwin Rutherford.

This team is practically the same which defeated K. U. and M. U. in Kimport and Sallee the Wildcats have a pair of long winded runners that rank with the best in the Valley and indications point to these two ranking first and second. The other men on the team are also capable of holding down their end in a good race.

The Sooners now loom up as very strong contenders for the Valley title. The Oklahomans conquered Ames and Drake in a triangular meet held recently when Rutherford led the field by a large margin. If Kimport and Sallee can outrun Rutherford, Coach Bill Matthias' team has an excellent chance of winning.

Ames has won the meet for the past eleven years. Last year the Aggies finished fourth. Ten medals will be given the individual winners this year and a trophy will be given the winning team.

Pigskin Squeals

Eat, sleep, drink and think football is Bachman's motto but it seems as though Mildrester failed to think football when he gave Ames a safety at the first kickoff.

From the way the Aggies were blown off the field by the Cyclones it looks like the Wildcats better sharpen their claws to the quick if they expect to be effective against the Bulldogs November 15.

If We Should Say to Each of You

Here, take our check for two dollars and thirty-four cents, you would think there was a catch in it, wouldn't you? Yet that is exactly what we are doing every time we sell you a subscription to the Collegian.

The Collegian actually costs you two and nine-tenths cents a copy. It costs us seven and four-tenths cents a copy to publish it. When you pay us a dollar and a half for the Collegian we add two dollars and thirty-four cents to that amount to make it possible to send it to you. This amount is taken from our advertising accounts.

We are going more than half-way with you. We are offering to pay more than half the subscription price. Do you still think you can do without the Collegian?

ANNUAL FRIVOL IS NEXT FRIDAY

GROUP, SOLO, AND JUST ORDINARY DANCING ON PROGRAM

Has Been Given for Past Three Years—Three Special Numbers to Be Presented

Group dancing, solo dancing, and just ordinary dancing will be seen at Nichols Gymnasium Friday evening, November 14, between 8 and 11 o'clock, when the members of the Women's Athletic Association present their fourth annual frivol.

Admission 50 Cents

Frivol has been given the last three years to support the various activities of the Women's Athletic Association. Everyone who has the price of admission, 50 cents single admission or 75 cents for two, is welcome. The ticket sale will start Monday, November 10 and last through Friday, November 14. Tickets may be secured from any member of the organization or at the table in Anderson Hall.

Three special numbers will be given by the W. A. A. girls, as follows:

"Little Old New York"—Lost Baby, Elsie Hayden; boys, Laurenda Thompson, Josephine Trindle, Harriet Geffert, Rachel Herley and Irene Patchen; girls, Ruth Cress, Esther Rodewald, Mildred Matter, Mildred Huddleston and Ruth Parker.

"Girl from the East"—Harry Wilson, Laura Fayman (girl from east), Rowena Brown (girl from north), Myrna Smale (girl from west), and Inez Jones (girl from south).

Musical comedy revue—Lucille Miller, Betty McCain, Frances McCain, Elizabeth Anderson, Evelyn Boyce, Velma Criner, Nelle Conroy, Eleanor Mims, and Mildred Reed. Miss Wade has charge of the feature dances.

A Closed Night

In order to enable every Aggie student to attend Frivol, November 14 has been made a closed night with the exception of pep meeting which will be over by 8:30 p. m.

Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Chuck Shofstall's orchestra will furnish the music for social dancing.

FORGET-ME-NOT DAY TO AID DISABLED VETERANS

K. S. A. C. Chapter Will Participate in National Drive for Funds Tomorrow

To assist all wounded or disabled American veterans of the World war, regardless of their affiliations or non-affiliations with veterans' organizations, Saturday, November 8, has been announced as the annual forget-me-not day, when the national organization of disabled American veterans makes its annual drive.

The K. S. A. chapter, under the direction of Harry L. Gul, will participate in the drive for funds. The national organization endeavors to protect the public from fraudulent solicitation for money in the name of the disabled veterans. Forget-me-nots will be sold on the campus by the chapter here.

LOW FARES FOR HOMECOMING

Fare and a Third Offered from Kansas Points for November 22

Special rates of fare and one-third for round trip tickets from all parts of Kansas and from Kansas City, Mo., to Manhattan, will be granted by the Western Passenger Association, starting Friday before the Aggie-Nebraska Homecoming game, November 22, and lasting until the following Monday.

The Alumni association is asking students to give this as much publicity as possible, by notifying out-of-town alumni with whom they are acquainted.

TECHNICAL JOURNAL PRINTS ARTICLE BY W. E. GRIMES

"Agricultural Engineering" for October Contains Story on Corn Production

"Economic Production of Corn in Kansas," by Prof. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics, is the leading article in the October issue of Agricultural Engineering, the Journal of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. The article is based upon an address given by Professor Grimes at the eighteenth annual meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers at Lincoln, Nebr., on June 18, 1924. This article also appears in the November issue of "Power Farming," a monthly publication on farm engineering.

Doctor Hill Addresses Clubs

Dr. Howard T. Hill will speak next Wednesday at a meeting of the farm bureau at Clay Center. From Clay Center he will go to Pittsburg where he will speak at the Kiwanis club meeting Thursday evening. This meeting is a convention of Kiwanis clubs from Parsons, Chanute, Fredonia, Coffeyville, Iola, Yates Center, Fort Scott, Girard, Baxter Springs, and Pittsburg.

Is Pie-Eating on Decrease as Result of Cake-Gnawers?

Is the number of cake-eaters increasing, if so does it bear any definite relationship to the consumption of pie? That is the question that the management of the college cafeteria is asking, in trying to solve the problem of why, even though the price of pie has been reduced two cents per piece, the students who patronize the college cafeteria consume only 20 pies per day in place of the 30 that has been the average required during former years.

Nevertheless, during the five years that Miss Palmer has been pastry cook for the college cafeteria, she has baked more than 30,000 pies. Butterscotch and chocolate pie are the favorite kinds, and apple and cherry are next choice. Summer school students eat more pie than do regular students.

K. S. A. C. TO SHOW AT AMERICAN ROYAL NEXT WEEK

Animal Husbandry Department Will Have Large Exhibit at Kansas City—Has Won Many Prizes

Making the most extensive exhibit it has ever made, the department of animal husbandry of K. S. A. C. will show cattle, sheep, and hogs at the American Royal Livestock Show at Kansas City, November 17-22.

Besides the thirteen cattle that will be shown in the individual classes two loads of yearling steers will be shown in the car lot classes. One of these loads won the grand championship in the feeder cattle class last year, the other load winning first place in its district. Prof. B. M. Anderson is in immediate charge of the cattle at the college.

Hampshire, Shropshire, Dorset, and Southdown sheep will be shown in the purebred breeding classes. These sheep were all raised by the college. Prof. H. E. Reed is in charge of the sheep work at K. S. A. C.

The hog exhibit includes Poland Chinas, Duroc Jerseys, Chester Whites, Hampshires, and Spotted Poles, over 800 head having been entered. Prof. A. D. Weber is in charge of the hogs.

The college has been making rapid progress with its show stock. During the past six years its livestock has won 99 championships and 586 first prizes, which is more than twice as many as the entire winnings previous to this period. All livestock shown by the college is kept primarily for instructional purposes, after it has served this purpose it is shown and then sold, except in the case of the breeding animals which are returned to the flocks and herds and the prize-winners and champions are the best producers on the college farm.

ARTICLE RECEIVES PUBLICITY

Miss Polson Discusses Survey of Curricula of 30 Schools

Miss Izil Polson, assistant professor of industrial journalism, has an article in the September issue of the Journalism Bulletin, the official publication of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism.

Miss Polson discusses the survey which she recently made of the curricula of 30 of the leading schools of Journalism. Her observations show trends comprising the extension of liberal courses, emphasis on ethical and philosophical problems, and encouragement of specialization of students in various phases of modern life. Among the phases noted are international affairs, commerce, labor, agriculture, politics, and engineering.

Ag Freshmen to List Occupations

A list of agricultural occupations which are being followed by graduates and other former students of K. S. A. C. has been sent to each member of the freshman class in the division of agriculture by the dean of the division. The list contains the names of 140 occupations in the field of agriculture, on the farm and elsewhere.

The list has been sent to the freshmen for the purpose of indicating to them the large number and great variety of opportunities which are open to properly qualified agricultural graduates and to serve as a stimulus to good scholarship. The letter with which the list was transmitted includes an invitation to freshmen to consult with faculty members regarding the occupations named.

COLLEGE FLOWERS PLACE HIGH AT FLOWER SHOW

Horticulture Department Exhibits Many K. S. A. C. Grown Plants—Aggie Professors Address Meetings

The K. S. A. C. landscape section was awarded a blue ribbon at the first annual flower show of Kansas held in Wichita last week. The show, which 12,000 people attended, exhibited around 6,000 plants and flowers including 3,000 potted chrysanthemums used for decorations. W. B. Balch of the horticulture department was superintendent of exhibits at the flower show.

The chrysanthemums sent to the show from the college placed among the first five best. Some of them were used in basket and design making.

Talks were given by Prof. Albert Dickens, head of the department of horticulture who talked on "Use of Flowers Around the Home." Prof. Arthur Helder of the department of horticulture talked on "Landscaping the Home Grounds." Prof. E. G. Kelly of the extension division talked on "Insects in the Home Garden."

Flowers and plants from California, Illinois, Michigan, and Indiana were exhibited besides the ones from all parts of Kansas. Florists of Kansas exhibited 225 out of the 250 shown. The flower show is to take the place of the wheat show abandoned last year.

The department of horticulture is now getting ready for the national flower show which will be held at Kansas City sometime within the next few months. It was held at Indianapolis last year.

SIGMA TAU ANNOUNCES PLEDGES

Honorary Engineering Fraternity Pledges Twenty-eight Juniors and Seniors

Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, has announced its pledges for this year. These men are juniors and seniors who rank in the upper third in scholarship.

The senior pledges are: Delos Taylor, Harveyville; Keith Nowell, Reeds, Mo.; K. K. Bowman, Baldwin; H. O. Bennett, Wamego; L. E. Garrison; H. A. Wright, Welsh, La.; and A. R. Loyd, Hiawatha. The junior pledges are: Bennie Rose, Waldron; R. L. Beach, Chanute; Dale Nichols, Liberal; G. J. Fiedler, Bush-ton; Christian Rugh, Topeka; Harry Isham, Coffeyville; W. T. Howard, Garnett; Roy Bainer, Manhattan; Lawrence Russell, Manhattan; Lester Servis, Rock; J. R. Stebbins, Ellis; R. J. Johnson, Manhattan; B. W. Friedel, Fort Scott; Chas. Turnipseed, Arkansas City; Harold Porter, Topeka; L. H. Raynesford, Salina; W. W. Frudden, Charles City, Iowa; Alton Nuss, Abilene; Carmen Tate, Lockney, Tex.; Leo Willis, Galesburg; and Philip Noble, Manhattan.

Militaristic Strains and "Rock of Ages" Entertain Laymen

Quivering strains of "Rock of Ages" mingle with shouts of "squads right" in Anderson hall these days. Perspiring youths with military attire and frozen smiles render Christmas carols in an unknown key—and a delighted audience stands spellbound. For this is initiation week in Scabbard and Blade and each pledge must do his daily dozen.

Perhaps the hard-hearted members are seeking revenge in memory of the indignities of their own pledge week—perhaps they are just blood-thirsty by nature. But one of the victims reviews the whole situation in two seething words, "Just wait!"

Dr. Howard T. Hill was the speaker at the dedication of the Peach Grove community high school near Randolph yesterday.

ALL STUDENTS NOT FLAPPERS

MOST OF THEM ARE EARNEST-MINDED AND HARD WORKERS

Miss Machir Upholds Modern College Generation in Radio Speech Last Monday Evening

"You hear a great deal these days about the 'flapper' and the 'cake-eater' in college, and sometimes we fear you think that type of student makes up the student body of today, but we who are with them year after year know that the student body of today as a whole is earnest-minded, that almost half of them make their way through college, wholly or in part, and these students have no inclination to waste time and money on foolishness," said Miss Jessie Machir, Registrar of K. S. A. C., in the radio air program last Monday evening. "Sometimes we fear they do not get enough time for play and recreation. Young people of all student generations are the same at heart. The plaids now are larger, the colors more startling, the locks shorn, but the same sturdy elements that have always made up the fiber at Kansas boys and girls at K. S. A. C. are still here and the camouflage of modern life cannot prevail against them. We continue to have many outstanding graduates in each outgoing class, graduates who will make the same fine contribution to society in their day and generation as the alumni have done before them."

A Splendid History

"Our college has made some splendid history for herself in these past ten years. The enrollment is growing larger every year, and in 1925 we hope to have an enrollment of 4,000."

"The short course students have greatly decreased in number as the vocational courses in the high schools have increased, making it possible for them to receive training along agricultural or mechanical lines nearer home. Then, too, a large number of trainees under the War Veterans' Bureau have come and gone during these years since the war until now only a small group remain to complete their work. It is a matter of pride to the college that a number of these war veterans have been the recipients of high scholarship honors. Noting the decrease in these various groups of sub-collegiate students, it will be seen that there has been a very marked increase in the collegiate enrollment of the college during these ten years."

"But it is not alone in increased enrollment, the addition of several new buildings on the campus, the erection of our Memorial Stadium or the fact that our library has outgrown its quarters, that we measure our growth, but in the strengthening of forces which have always existed on the campus and the addition of new ones for the promotion of high scholarship. A scholarship society has been added in the past ten years, Phi Kappa Phi. The influence of Phi Kappa Phi on the campus is fast becoming a very vital thing."

Standards Are Higher

"Through its recommendation two years ago the 'point system' was adopted, and has materially raised the standards of scholarship in all divisions."

"One of the notable happenings of last year was the establishment of a chapter of the American Association of University Women, a well merited recognition of the type of training which our women are receiving. The group immediately joined forces at work to encourage high scholarship, and to that end offer annually a gift of $150 to the girl student with the highest rank at the end of the first semester of her junior year. I would not have you think that the state is no longer at the expense of buying red ink with which to record 'flunks' on the books, for such is not the case, but it is an encouraging thing that so many agencies are at work to stimulate the students to make good use of their time and to leave honorable records on the books when they leave these college halls."

"The girls of the old cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. helped to lay a secure foundation for the splendid organization which is functioning today."

Mrs. Jane Washburn who is on leave of absence from Bruer college, Kentucky, visited the Home Economics division Friday. Bruer college is a school in which all of the students are self supporting. Mrs. Washburn is spending the winter at Fort Riley and will come to the college at a later date to lecture about her college.

Chinese Favor Co-education

Co-education is becoming quite the thing in Chinese colleges and universities. Considering the very short number of years that the Chinese girls have not been permitted to venture forth from the shadow of their own court yard, their advancement is nothing short of astounding. "Hold me not down," says the little Chinese flapper in imitation of her American sister who snaps her finger in her parents' face with a "be yourself" or "apple sauce."

"Helping Chinese girls to understand western freedom and not to react to extremes is one of the biggest tasks of the Y. W. C. A. in China," says Miss Martha Job, the Y. W. C. A. secretary there.

NIGHT SCHOOL CLASSES HELD ONCE EACH WEEK

Courses for College Credit Offered in Three Subjects—About 50 Enrolled

Night school classes which hold two-hour sessions one night each week for persons who do not have the time to attend day school classes are being held at the college this fall. The present attendance is about 50.

Classes are held in three different subjects, Spanish, American literature, and psychology and college credit will be given in each as soon as the classes have covered a satisfactory amount of work. Of the 50 persons enrolled 20 are taking Spanish, 20 are taking American literature and 10 are taking psychology.

Due to insufficient funds it was thought that there would be no night school this year but as the result of a very insistent demand for a school of this type three instructors offered to donate their services and thus make the school possible. These instructors are Miss Grace Hesse of the language department, Mrs. Marcia Hall of the extension division and Prof. J. C. Peterson of the department of education.

This is the first genuine attempt the college has made to hold a night school, according to Prof. George Gemmell, head of the home study department. However, there have been night classes in the past. Mrs. Marcia Hall has been conducting classes for the last two years.

Since the enrollment is limited to those who do not have the time to attend the day school most of the students enrolled are employees of the college or other persons who work through the day. Most of these are from Manhattan.

PURPLE MASQUE ELECTS

Seven New Members in Dramatic Organization

Seven persons were elected to membership in Purple Masque at a Purple Masque meeting Tuesday afternoon. Pledge services will be held in about three weeks. Those elected were Helen Vanquist, Randolph; Agatha Tyler, Fredonia; Rebecca Thacher, Waterville; Lynn Fayman, Manhattan; Arthur Maxwell, Clay Center; James Price, Manhattan; and Kingsley W. Given, Manhattan.

Dean Van Zile spoke at Caldwell last Friday before the eighth district Women's Federation of Clubs.

CHAPPELL IS NEW EDITOR

ELECTED MANAGING DIRECTOR
KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Will Serve for Nine Weeks—Gartner Remains as Editor-in-Chief—Claybaugh Business Manager

Kenneth R. Chappell of Manhattan, senior in the department of industrial journalism, was elected managing editor of the Collegian for the second nine weeks of the semester at a meeting of the Kansas State Collegian Board, Tuesday.

Mr. Chappell is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity. He has had experience in feature work and sport writing on the Collegian. This year he is feature editor of the Royal Purple and was assistant business manager of the last issue of the Brown Bull. He has been a member of the editorial staff of the Collegian for three years.

New Staff Chosen

Other applicants for the position of Managing Editor were: Helen Correll, H. Lee Kammeyer, Maxine Ransom, and Fred Shideler.

C. W. Claybaugh retains the position of business manager for the entire year.

INTRAMURAL VOLLEY BALL TO BECOME A SPORT HERE

Plans Discussed Monday Night—Trophy Permanent Property After Three Wins

Efforts are being made by Miss Geneva Watson and the W. A. A. to arrange for an intramural volley ball tournament for girls. This is to be similar to the basketball tournaments that have proven so popular among the college men.

A meeting was held Monday night at the gymnasium at which plans for the tournament were discussed. The organizations that sent a representative were: Chi Omega, Elizabeth Anderson; Delta Delta Delta, Josephine Heath; Alpha Xi Delta, Kathryn Kimble; Kappa Delta, Julia Smith; Alpha Delta Pi, Inez Jones; Delta Zeta, Anna Mae Davy; Phi Omega Pi, Thelma Sharp; Alpha Theta Chi, Thelma Coffin; Brownings, Evelyn Pfeiffer; Unorganized, Nille Kneeland.

Other organizations wishing to enter the tournament should leave the name with Miss Watson by Monday, November 10. Any other unorganized group of girls that wish to take part may do so.

It was decided at the meeting that the games be played between seven and eight o'clock. Special hours for practice may be arranged for with Miss Watson.

A trophy is to be given to the winner of the tournament. This becomes the property of any organization that wins it three years in succession.

When He Got There the Locker Was Bare and No Barrels Near

"I want my pants!" The cry wavered through the halls of Nichols gymnasium. Some heartless person had stolen a freshman's trousers while he was in the swimming pool. There he stood trembling and pantsless, dismay written all over his face. How could he ever get to his room? The world suddenly seemed very dark and empty.

Dimly he remembered dreams he had had of parading down the street in abbreviated costume. This was the real thing, but quite suddenly help came in the form of an upper-classman with a pair of tennis trousers. They were a little short and the freshman looked like the little boy whose mother didn't use wool soap, but he reached home safely.

PERMANENT BLACK MARKS

Although the uproar, aroused last year through the investigation of accusations that a large proportion of the students are dishonest in school work, has calmed down somewhat, the Collegian wishes to issue a warning that the results of the probe are now being put into effect.

The Committee on Cheating recommended that the instructors report failing grades due to dishonest work with the notation "on account of cheating" written on the report. The clerks in the office of the Registrar are to record this on the student's permanent record and this office is to report that particular student to the dean for suspension when two such cards are received.

Disregarding the moral side of the question, which in itself should be sufficient to deter most students from cheating, there is this permanent black mark on a student's college record to take into consideration. Whenever a transcript of grades is required, as in an application for a position, attendance at another school, etc., the stigma of being branded as a cheat would always follow the one who is caught.

Although under ideal conditions and practices it should not be necessary to use this method of eliminating cheating as far as possible, there are some persons who will be influenced only by such a penalty. These persons, when tempted to cheat and caring nothing for the right or wrong of the practice, could well bear this ruling in mind.

For several days after Halloween several of the fraternities were casting a suspicious eye about the town in hopes of running across some clue as to the mysterious happenings of that evening. Well, when things were cleared up surprises were in order. It was discovered—

But why say more? Most of the articles have been recovered and besides, the Pi Phi has been given enough publicity.

Harry received a distinct setback on election day. He saw the "dearly beloved" coming out of the polls and only the night before she confessed her age to be 19. Harry himself, won't vote for two years yet. We see some hope for the salvation of Harry.

Suppose that there was one frat which was ace high with two sororities. And say that these two sororities were at swords' points. Now would both of them cheer for this frat when it played a basketball game? It is worth noticing.

Taken all in all, the Chi Omegas have the rottenest phone service in town. In the first place, the phone is busy most of the time, and in the second place, it makes more noise than a poor radio. What those girls need is two new phones. But, they will probably never think to ask for even one.

In order to beautify the Campus the grass really should be preserved. Now the grass could be kept in fine shape if the R. O. T. C. would be abolished. Of course this is merely a suggestion.

The sorority football coaches are at last getting down to business. They have decided to select the players on either the basis of good looks or on the basis of intelligence. We suggest that they select two teams. One of each.

Miss Margaret Quayle depicted conditions in Russia where two students wore one suit between them. That's nothing. We've seen about six girls wearing the same dress from time to time.

This dope must be wonderful stuff. No matter how many games the Aggies lose, they are always doped to tie for first place.

This dumb and aimless attitude of the students for the past week can be laid at the feet of the faculty. They have drained every drop of knowledge from the student body. Hope they're satisfied.

On Other Hills

"The Romantic Age" was the annual Y. W. C. A. play given at K. U. last Monday evening.

The Michigan Daily is making an inquiry of 100 men to determine how much a Michigan man spends at college.

The Law School of New York university has announced the awarding of 20 new scholarships to students who rate highest scholastically. The scholarships include free tuition.

The Homecoming Varsity at K. U. last week was the biggest financial success of any varsity dance ever given under university auspices. There were over 1,000 couples at the dance.

Twenty years ago last Friday the Washburn Ichabods defeated the Kansas Aggies by a score of 56-0.

A special train of students from the economics, social problems, and engineering classes of Denver university made a trip to Pueblo last week. The C. F. & I. steel mills were visited by the economics and engineering classes and the state insane asylum was visited by classes in social problems.

Forty-two schools have reported that they will send delegates to the sixth annual high school newspaper conference at Lawrence this weekend.

Three hundred boxes of apples will be on display at the annual apple show to be held February 2-6 at Ohio State university.

Prof. J. B. Fitch of the dairy department will give an address at a combined meeting of farmers and the Wichita chamber of commerce.

Pigskin Squeals

We hope the freshmen are not too rough with the varsity when they tangle tomorrow.

The showing that Hank Webber has made so far with the professional football team of Kansas City gives the Aggies a good reason for being proud that he is one of their alumni.

There is no rest for the defeated. If you don't believe it ask the football team.

The fact that Nebraska is the only team that "Red" Grange has failed to score against shows that valley football is not so far below if any below the standard of the big ten.

Also the defeat of Coe by Grinnell gives the valley stock another big raise in standard.

Drakt the only undefeated team in the valley meets K. U. at Des Moines tomorrow. May the Jayhawkers win.

"Give Me Air!" Cry of Brown Bull. Pigskin Covering Slack

Hide is about all that is left of our Brown Bull. The poor beast hasn't had a square meal for several weeks, and he is hungry—yawningly, ravenously, hideously hungry.

But we can use that hide. It is just what we need for the covering of the Pigskin. What is lacking is air to fill up the space—something to make it tight for the kick-off on Homecoming day, November 22.

In the interests of dumb animals the Brown Bull editors beseech the public for food for their starving beast. Clever and original cartoons, witty jokes, pigskin picks, and epigrams are good fodder for bulls. Just drop your contributions into his feed box in Anderson hall, and all will be well—or better, at least.

Single admission to Frivol, 50 cents. Admission for two 75 cents.

Worth looking into

IT'S the most interesting study in the world.
What is? Why you, yourself.

Put yourself under the microscope. Examine yourself most searchingly to find out just what kind of work you have a natural aptitude for.

Don't leave your career to chance. Don't be satisfied with any nonchalant observation of what may seem to be your best field.

Upperclassmen who have applied this careful self-study will tell you it helped them pick out the "major" which fell in most closely with their natural fitness. The result—greater interest and greater profit through their whole college course.

Graduates will tell you that the man who turns the microscope on himself is happiest in his choice of a life-work.

It comes down to this—some patient analysis now may be the means of putting you on the right track for the rest of your life.

BACHMAN MAKES LINE-UP CHANGES

MILDREXTER IS SHIFTED TO GUARD POSITION

Varsity Will Tangle with Freshman Tomorrow—Yearlings Have Hard Hitting Aggregation

The Red will meet the Purple tomorrow afternoon when Corsaut's freshmen clash with Bachman's varsity in the annual Freshman-Varsity game.

Plenty of Thrills

And the clash promises no end of thrills for the onlookers whether their sympathies are with the Red-sweated youngsters or the Purple-sweated veterans, because, although the dope seems to favor the Varsity quite considerably, the freshmen have a fast, hard hitting team this year and trouncing them would be no snap for any team.

The brightest ray of hope for the freshmen is to be found in the extensive changes which Bach has made in the varsity line-up this week, and the fact that the perfection which he hopes to attain before the Drake game has not yet been reached, although the machine is showing a vast improvement over previous work outs. One of the biggest changes Bachman has made is in playing Mildrexter in the line as guard and letting Kerr Whitfield fill the fullback position. Whitfield is fast and has been showing up well as a plunger. And Mildrexter should make one of the best guards in the Valley, as McGee, who started out as fullback and changed to guard, has done. Joe Anderson has been working at quarterback and Cochran has been spending practically all of his time practicing punting and kicking field goals. Whether or not these changes are permanent is yet to be seen.

Drake Plays Used

Drake plays will be used almost entirely by the Freshmen in order to give the varsity practice for the game of November 15. Both teams will do a great deal of experimenting to find out what the men can do best, what plays work best, and to find the weak spots, in the teams. This first work out will tell whether or not the varsity changes will be satisfactory. Because of the numerous substitutions which will probably be made the freshmen should be able to hold the varsity end of the score down fairly well even though they may not pile up a very heavy score of their own.

Line-ups Indefinite

Line-ups for either team have not been definitely decided upon but as far as is known now they will probably start in this order:

Varsity		Freshman
Munn	R. E.	Flick
Yandell
or Krysl	R. T.	Fritzmeir
Reed	R. G.	Kuntz
Harter	C.	Spiers
Mildrexter	L. G.	Crewes
Anderson	L. T.	Grimes
Ehrlich	L. E.	Badshehn
Meek	R. H.	Boyd
Whitfield
or Butcher	E. B.	Douglas
J. Anderson
or Cochran	Q.	Enns
Hoffman
or Smith	L. H.	Holsinger

The officials will be: Referee, E. A. Knott; umpire, H. H. Haymker; headlinesman, H. W. Marston.

GIRLS MOVE INDOORS

Cold Weather Forces Physical Education Classes Inside

The girls' physical education classes in hockey, tennis, and archery will be completed at the end of this week but will be resumed again in the spring. During the winter months, classes in dancing and basketball will take the place of the outdoor sports. There will be a beginner's, intermediate, and advanced class in basketball and interpretive dancing and a beginner's and advanced class in character dancing. The schedule for these classes has been made out and posted in the gymnasium. All girls must be registered at the women's athletic office before tonight with their preference of the three sports stated. Failure to register will not be an excuse for absence from the first meeting of the class. Classes begin on November 10.

SIX HARRIERS LEAVE

Will Compete in Valley Cross Country Meet Tomorrow

Six cross country harriers left this afternoon to represent the Aggies in the Valley cross country meet at Des Moines tomorrow. The men who are making the trip under the direction of Coach Bill Mathias are: R. E. Kimport, M. L. Sallee, P. A. Axtell, J. Smith, R. P. Aikman, and E. Ruth-erford.

According to results so far this year the Aggies stand out as a very likely winner and other Valley schools will have to run close to record time before they can win.

Ames now looms as the toughest competitor for the Aggies and the Cyclones can be depended upon to be running strong in order to keep up their record of not having been defeated in the last eleven years.

CLASS HOCKEY TEAMS CHOSEN

Color Tournament Ends This Week—Four Squads Selected

The girls' hockey color tournament was completed this week and the four class squads were chosen. A series of inter-class games are now being played to determine which girls will be selected for the class teams. The class teams will be announced at the hockey spread which will be given at the end of the hockey season by the Women's Athletic Association.

The following girls have succeeded in making the twenty-five points given by the W. A. A. for making a class squad:

Seniors: Captain, Leona Hoag, Betty McCain, Inga Ross, Laureda Thompson, Beasie Brooks, Nille Kneeland, Grace Davidson, Dorothy Willits, Florence Haines, Opal Gaddie, Ethel Danielson and Catherine Bernheisel.

Juniors: Captain, Vera Alderman; Alice Englund, Mary J. Herthel, Genevieve Tracy, Lillian Worster, Bertha Worster, Josephine Trindle, Rachel Herley, Anna Nohlen, Thelma Sharp, Kathryn Whitten, Avis Wickham, Ida Conrow, Anna Jacobs, Louise Magaw and Nora Yoder.

Sophomores: Captain, Merle Nelson; Helen Batchelor, Inez Jones, Marie Farmer, Lorraine Smith, Dorothy Zeller, Elsie Bergstrom, Irma Fulhage, Kathryn Kimble, Clarella Odell, Mildred Redd, Mildred Edwards, Irene McCord and Helen Greene.

Freshmen: Captain, Mildred Hudleston; Ruth Frost, Maurine Burson, Beatrice Veeh, Julia Biltz, Ruth Davies, Frances Shepp, Hazel Blair, Clare Russel, Alice Bell, Daryl Burson, Paula Leach, Lillian Alley, Jennie Nettrover, Grace Caswell and Alice Uglow.

TWO TEAMS LOOK STRONG

Kappa Sigs and Sig Alphas Loom as Intramural Leaders

Two teams loom up as strong contenders for the intramural basketball championship as a result of the first round of games. They are Kappa Sigma and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The Kappa Sigs overwhelmed the Phi Kappas by a 39 to 10 count while the Sig Alphas snowed the A. T. O.s under with a 42 to 10 score. Thirty teams are entered in the tourney and are now playing for the division championships.

The scores of the Tuesday night contests are as follows: Kappa Phi Alpha 16, Sigma Phi Sigma 17; Alpha Rho Chi 21, Beta Pi Epsilon 9; Omega Tau Epsilon 28, Farm House, 8; Alpha Sigma Psi 16, Triangulars 22; Edgerton 14, Kanza 15. Results of Wednesday night games are: Belmont 31, T. N. K. 13; Sigma Nu 19, Acacia 18; Lambda Chi Alpha 20, Sigma Phi Epsilon 24; Beta Theta Pi 23, Pi Kappa Alpha 7; Alpha Tau Omega 10, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 42; Kappa Sigma 39, Phi Kappa 10.

STUNTS CHOSEN FOR AGGIE POP

ANNUAL AFFAIR BILLED FOR DECEMBER 5 AND 6

Large Silver Cup Goes to Winning Organization—Chi Omega Won Last Year

Manuscripts of stunts for Aggie Pop night were judged Friday evening and the placing stunts and organizations were as follows: "Note Us," Pi Beta Phi sorority; "Say It With Flowers," Alpha Theta Chi sorority; "Light," Kappa Delta sorority; "The Potatoes' Frolic," Delta Zeta sorority; "In the Spring," Eurodelphian Literary society; "Girl Dreams," Ionia Literary society, and "That's Where My Money Goes," Alpha Xi Delta sorority. The following committee judged the manuscripts: Dean Mary P. Van Zile, Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, Miss Stella Harriss, Prof. H. W. Davis, and Prof. C. W. Matthews.

12 Minutes for Stunt

Aggie Pop night, which is under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A., will be held on December 5 and 6 this year. Stunts are to be 12 minutes in length, with intermission of not more than 10 minutes. Twenty-five is the maximum number of people allowed for each stunt. A new rule for this year is that an itemized account of all expenditures must be reported to the Y. W. C. A. office by Friday noon, December 5. The maximum cost for the two nights is $15, $5 of which is paid by the Y. W. C. A.

Each organization whose stunt placed will put on a preliminary performance without special costumes or scenery before a second judging committee, one of whom was a member of the first committee. If all the stunts do not pass, another stunt will be suggested by the first committee. All costumes and plans must be approved by Dean Van Zile and Miss Machir by December 1, and any organization may go for advice to a committee composed of Miss Oceola Burr, Prof. H. P. Wheeler, Prof. H. K. Lamont, Dr. Margaret Russell, and Prof. Paul Weigel. Forrest Whan will be the stage manager.

Cup to Winner

The winning organization will receive a silver loving cup which they can hold until the next Aggie Pop contest. Chi Omega won first place last year with a stunt entitled "All the Year Round."

The seven judges, three of whom will be from out of town, will judge the performances on cleverness of idea, originality, and effectiveness of production. Alice Paddleford and Eleanor Mims will secure the judges. In-between stunts for the program are being planned by Marie Farmer and Inez Jones.

AGGIES GET LOW FARE, FREE TICKETS TO ROYAL

Fare $5.65 for Round Trip to Big Stock Show on November 19

Aggies who attend the American Royal Livestock show at Kansas City on Wednesday, November 19, will receive free passes into the Royal pavilion and may make the trip to Kansas City on a special train which will leave Manhattan at 5:32 o'clock Wednesday morning and will arrive in Kansas City about 9 o'clock. Special rates of one and one-third fare, amounting to $5.65, will be charged for the round trip. Tourist sleepers will be available for the return trip. Tickets for the horse show, which will take place Wednesday evening, may be purchased before leaving Manhattan. The return train will leave Kansas City at 1 o'clock in the morning and will arrive in Manhattan at 4:30.

Last year over 250 Aggies attended the Royal, and the members of the Block and Bridle club, which is sponsoring the trip, this year urge every one to take advantage of the opportunity of attending one of the world's best livestock shows. Those planning to make the trip are asked to leave their names at the animal husbandry office in Waters hall.

Reception at 9 O'clock

The reception to be given by the American Association of University Women in honor of Madame de Horvath will be held Thursday evening at 9 o'clock. Madame Horvath's artist series concert will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

Grimes Addresses Seminar

Prof. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics, spoke at the seminar for freshmen of the division of agriculture on Thursday, November 6. This talk was one of a series being given in freshmen seminar in which the head of each department in the division of agriculture discusses the work being done in his particular phase of agriculture. These talks have been planned for the purpose of acquainting freshmen with the need for training along various lines and to better enable them to choose the line of work in which they wish to specialize.

NEW MUSIC ORGANIZATION TO MAKE DEBUT THURSDAY

Salon Orchestra, Student Group, to Present Program Before Student Body

A program of chamber music will be given by the K. S. A. C. Salon orchestra under the direction of Prof. H. P. Wheeler at the student assembly on Thursday, November 13. The Salon orchestra, organized this fall by Professor Wheeler, includes 15 pieces, largely stringed instruments. The Thursday program numbers are selections arranged for strings with incidental quartettes for violins, and viola and cello duets.

"It has not been until this year," said Professor Wheeler, "that we have had players equal to the task of presenting, as an organization, chamber music. This year the Salon orchestra, which is probably the only organization of its kind in this part of the country, is able to present this class of music, because of the larger number of students who are capable performers on the stringed instruments. We also will be able this year, to play some programs for different small groupings of wood-wind instruments."

Professor Ira Pratt, head of the music department, will appear on the Thursday program as soloist, singing a group of four modern Russian songs.

"Y'S" OBSERVE PRAYER WEEK

Hold Noon Program Each of First Four Days of This Week

Annual Prayer Week services will be observed at K. S. A. C. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. This week is internationally observed by student organizations, and its purpose is to interest students in the spiritual side of life.

The meetings will be held in recreation center from 12:10 to 12:55 o'clock daily. The theme for discussion this year is "The All Inclusiveness of Christ's Love."

The following is the program for the week:

Monday—Miss Jessie McD. Machir, presiding; music, Elizabeth Van Ness; address, Dr. Walter Groves.

Tuesday—Dr. Howard T. Hill, presiding; music, Y. W. C. A. octette; address, Rev. W. U. Guerrant.

Wednesday—Miss Grace Derby, presiding; music, Dorothy Stiles; address, Mr. Charles W. Matthews.

Thursday—Miss Emma Hyde, presiding; joint meeting with student forum, college cafeteria, 12:10 to 12:50; music, Mary Francis Platt; address, Dr. Dudley Clagett.

BABY CLINIC EVERY FRIDAY

Questions Regarding Child Welfare Work Answered—Attendance Steadily Increasing

Approximately 20 babies are brought to the baby clinic every Friday afternoon, according to Miss Jean Dobbs, supervisor. The clinic is held in the home economics building.

All children of pre-school age are admitted if they have had a physical examination by their family physician. Individual supervision is given the diets of the children. All questions regarding child welfare are answered. The number of babies which are brought to the clinic is steadily increasing. Miss Dobbs is assisted by Mrs. Lucille Rust, fellow in household economics, and Dr. Martha Kramer of the department of foods.

The class of senior girls in clothing under Prof. Lillian Baker, which has worked out the clothing budget of the Ideal Family which is to live in the Daily Capital life safe home, will go to Topeka Wednesday to select the clothing.

The clothing, which the girls will select from various Topeka stores, will be exhibited in the Ideal Home. Miss Mary Polson will accompany Miss Baker and her class.

Aggie Grad Writes of Experience as U. S. Vice-Consul in Scotland

To attend the University of Edinburgh and perform the duties of an American vice-consul is the program of a former K. S. A. C. student. This student is Milton S. Eisenhower, '24, assistant instructor of industrial journalism here last year, and also for two years student assistant in the department.

Sailed August 1

Mr. Eisenhower sailed for Plymouth, England, on August 1, and took up his new duties on August 20 at Edinburgh, Scotland, as vice-consul, after spending a short time in London.

He has had occasion to be in quite interesting positions several times. One was when Ramsay MacDonald came to Edinburgh to speak for the coming election in the Isles. The Scottish papers refer to election day in the Isles as "the favorite sport day" or "day for recreation" and, comparatively speaking, they might well have occasion to do so, for even at this meeting the hall was in a state of a mad house all the time. One man might shout, "How about the ex-soldier and your promises?" He would be seized at once and be thrown into the street. No sooner would this be over than someone else would raise a similar query. Eisenhower was informed that he had seen a quiet meeting because MacDonald's party was in power, but if a man speaks representing a party not in power he is lucky if he gets half way through his originally planned speech.

Had Interesting Visits

Since reaching Scotland Mr. Eisenhower has had many opportunities to visit the castles, palaces, and scenes of early English history. He says that the scenery is not excelled by anything in the United States and that the so-called "Lake Districts" in the Trossachs are beyond description, having to be seen to be appreciated. There is a great deal of dense fog in Edinburgh and he relates in part: "It is impossible to see from one street corner light to the next one after about 9 P. M."

A friend of his has recently installed a radio and so they often listen to the Kansas City "Night Hawks," however, due to the change in time, they receive the programs around breakfast time. He is anxiously awaiting the time when K. S. A. C.'s new broadcasting station will be completed, for then he will indeed feel quite close to home. It was only a short time after the K. U. Aggie game that he knew of our victory.

Mr. Eisenhower will travel extensively through Europe when he has completed his present work, not returning to America until the fall of 1926.

cause the old people much uneasiness of mind.

It is the young people seeking for this kick that have broken aged traditions and styles and advanced the world to its present state. It was the young men who, "thrilling to experience," carried on the crusades, fought the wars and introduced all new ideas. Dr. Upham likened the memorial Boston tea party of 1773 to a pep meeting of the present day.

"Young people have a right to seek for the thrills in life," said Dr. Upham. "Although many people complain about the young man who gets in dad's car and tries to break some well established speed record, just to get a thrill, dad got the same kind of a thrill by mounting some wild cayuse and demonstrating his ability as a rider."

"The student has a right to demand that the instructor assigned to him in any subject should have a certain amount of kick, not in the form of some ancient joke," continued Dr. Upham, "but that the instructor shall be so thrilled with his subject that it will be contagious to the student." Dr. Upham concluded by saying that it is not the snap course that the student is looking for, but the course that is presented by the instructor who puts his subject across in such a manner that it imparts a "kick" to his students.

VESPER PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Life of Foreign Students to Be Portrayed Thursday

A dramatization of the students of foreign colleges and universities, their characteristics, conditions, traits, and methods of education employed, and the singing of the country's folk songs by a special glee club will be given Thursday at the Vesper meeting. Students who will portray these foreign characters were chosen from the delegates at the vesper meeting two weeks ago.

Twenty girls will constitute the cast, each representing a girl of some foreign university or college, telling of the school and under what conditions she studies, her physical needs, and their advantages over other educational systems.

This meeting will be held Thursday afternoon at Recreation center and all girls are especially invited to be there for one of the most interesting and instructive meetings of the year.

"FOLLIES" KING JUDGES COEDS

FLO ZIEGFELD ARBITER IN ROYAL PURPLE CONTEST

Beauty Replaces Popularity as Basis in Year Book Selling Campaign This Year

A beauty contest for which Florenz Ziegfeld, noted New York theatrical producer, the impresario of the Ziegfeld "Follies," will be the judge, and in which Aggie coeds will be the entrants was announced this morning by G. A. Read, business manager of the Royal Purple. The beauty contest will replace the popularity contest which has been held for each of the past five years by Royal Purple management.

"The popularity contest which has been held by each of the recent Royal Purple publishers was essentially a book selling device," commented Read in making his announcements. "We have decided this year to inaugurate a new policy which, we hope, will prove successful, and which we believe will meet with general favor. It will be necessary, however, for students to buy their books without the stimulus of the selling campaign which the popularity contests of the past have inspired."

Read on Comely Coeds

"It will be impossible, however, to resist that impulse to get a Royal Purple now, when one takes into consideration that the most beautiful coeds of the country attend K. S. A. C., and that the pictures of the six guaranteed by Flo Ziegfeld himself to be the most beautiful of all these will be published in the book."

The contest opened this morning, and will close on November 30. Entrants may be nominated by any person, student or faculty member. The only requirement is that the nomination be accompanied by a petition signed by 20 purchasers of a Royal Purple.

Ziegfeld to Choose

Photographs of each of the entrants will be made by the Royal Purple photographer and all the prints will be sent for Mr. Ziegfeld's personal inspection and choice of the six most comely.

Receipt books for Royal Purple sales may be checked out at the office in Anderson hall opposite the post office at any time, Read announced.

Hungry and Weary

Eighteen Hikers

Finish Long Jaunt

Hungry, footsore, and weary, yet happy and high spirited in the thought of their achievement, 18 Aggie coeds trudged into Junction City about 6:30 Saturday evening, at the end of a long and tiresome trail. These girls started from the gymnasium at 1 o'clock, and following the Golden Belt road, broke the record for this semi-annual W. A. A. hike by the grand total of 15 minutes.

That the "first 20 miles are the hardest" did not prove true to these brave hikers, for the last two miles seemed twice as long as the entire 20.

Songs and jokes helped them to keep up courage along the way when their feet seemed to lag and backs began to ache.

Most of them still retain a slight limp, but not a single one is sorry that she went. These girls with their unconquerable spirit are just the type that W. A. A. needs for its future members.

IF "WE" WIN—"WE" LOSE

Students, do you have the right sort of school spirit? Do you feel that a game won is due in part, at least, to your individual efforts? And do you feel that a game lost is partly your fault?

It has been evident during the past week that the majority of the students have almost lost faith in the football team. It is only too true that the Wildcats fell down abominably in the Ames game. But it is the first time in years that such a thing has happened. For game after game the Aggie team has played football like any team coached by Charles Bachman would play. But after one defeat, which was due to too much zeal in preparation and to previous hard struggles, the knockers have started to work.

When the team wins you, as the student body, voice your approval by saying "we won." But when the score is in favor of the opposing team the cry is "the team lost." If "we won" didn't "we lose" also?

The defeat by Ames was not entirely due to the team, either. It was due in part to lack of student support before and during the game itself, although the primary reason was staleness in the team. The cheerleaders could not get the cheering sections to yell with the right spirit and enthusiasm. Why should such a condition as this exist when on the preceding Saturday the same team outplayed Missouri losing only through hard luck? Any Aggie team should have better support than this.

However, the season is not over as yet and you as students still have a chance to redeem yourselves. This can be accomplished by giving the team the utmost support for the remaining games. Turn out in full force for the pep meeting Friday night and show the players you are behind them. Go to the game Saturday and really cheer for those who are representing your school. The chances are that the team will play real football to make up for the disaster against Ames but you, as students, must do your part.

From the way the prices run on the Frivol it might be inferred that a man is worth 50 cents while the girl who goes along is worth only half as much. Well, the ratio is about right.

Harry, the fool, is about lost to the ranks of intelligent men. This girl just about has him under con-troil and all he can think about is getting rid of his pin. The ass!

From what they say, the arrangement of the porch, in relation to the street light and porch light, at the Tri Delt house is nothing short of genius. These women are clever along some lines.

We have been rebuked by the Kappa Deltas. They are not searching for a milder brand of cigarettes. They must be satisfied. (Chesterfield.)

All other matters being settled, the sorority football coaches have come to the finish of a hard problem. The team is selected. That is, practically. All they have to do now is to fill the positions.

But seriously, they decided to pick the team not according to looks, as that would involve too much discrimination, not according to intelligence as they would have no team, but to pick it by general qualifications and house.

One of the student body has the right idea. He never passes up any question in an exam and he at least has the satisfaction of knowing that the professor has to take the time to read it.

And from here on in the blinds have been drawn! Moral?

It is of interest to watch whether or not the K. K. G.'s will be able to hold their section of seats at chapel. The Delta Taus are coming in rather strong.

Our girl is perfectly disgusting. After we had planned so strongly on having a good time the next six weeks, what did she do but go and pass in all subjects. That lets her out every night. These women are so darned undependable.

The Forget-Me-Not campaign evidently was a failure. At least 50 people didn't get caught.

Well, if the faculty derives any pleasure out of it, we will say that the quizzes were every bit as hard as they had planned them to be.

On Other Hills

Glee clubs of Missouri and Kansas universities will give a joint concert at Columbia, Mo., the night before Thanksgiving. This is hoped to be the beginning of the custom of giving a joint concert the night before the annual Thanksgiving game.

The names of all persons who subscribed $100, and all organizations which gave $25 to the Stadium fund at Ohio State university will be inscribed on bronze plates to be placed on the pillars at the south end of the stadium. Names of those who subscribed $5,000 will be placed on their individual boxes in the stadium.

Inter-fraternity golf will be played this year at the University of California.

Freshmen coeds at the University of Toronto must undergo a period of modified hazing at the hands of the sophomore women.

Adhesive tape, 26 miles of it in 12 inch rolls, and 20 miles of muslin for bandages have been supplied by the university health service to the athletic training department at Purdue university.

Investigations of schooling expenses made during the last week indicate that it costs an Ohio State university student, on an average, $600 a year to attend college.

Cecile de Horvath, Noted Pianist, Was
a "Wonder Child"

Cecile de Horvath, famous musician who is to give a concert Thursday night at the college auditorium, was a genuine wonder child. Her home environment was intensely musical. Her father, a well known theological scholar, was a very fine amateur musician, and her mother was a beautiful concert singer; so there is no wonder that her talents developed early and rapidly. At 10 years of age she played the Beethoven Concerto in C major in public, creating a genuine furore. Two years later she played the Grieg Concerto, the Liszt Hungarian Phantasy and the Chopin Variations in B flat major in public. She made a sensation.

Her eight year old brother, however, fearing that his sister's head might be turned by the demonstration of the audience, jumped out of his seat and excitedly called to the audience, "Don't applaud! Don't applaud! It will spoil her!"

Time has proved however that this solicitude on the part of her youthful brother was unnecessary. The very fact that Cecile de Horvath has never stopped growing in her art shows that she is blessed with the modesty and ability to work hard which are inseparable attributes of true greatness.

Speaker Announced for Forum

Dr. Dudley Clagett, of Junction City, will be the speaker for the noon-day student forum luncheon, held in the college cafeteria Thursday noon, from 12:10 to 12:50. This meeting will be held in conjunction with the annual Week of Prayer conducted by religious organizations on the campus this week.

Discuss Election Influences

Agricultural economic influences of the national election in the United States were discussed by Professors Eric Englund and R. M. Green at the agricultural economics seminar last Thursday. Two student reports which had been scheduled for the previous week were also given at this meeting of the seminar.

Chalmers Moore, John Richards, Lewis Walker, Gray LeVitt, John Hopkins, and Kenneth Blumberg spent last week-end in Kansas City.

The private secretary to the chief executive of the United States is paid $7,500 a year.

They're Both Red
Headed and Thereby
Hangs the Tale—

And lo the Aggies have a "Red" Grange in their midst. Yes, a second wonder on the football gridiron was initiated into the Aggie football world while the team was waiting in Kansas City for the train for Columbia a short time ago.

The initiation occurred in the lobby of the Hotel Baltimore where the team was resting before leaving. As the story goes, John Mildreter disappeared from the gang and crossing the street to the Hotel Muehlbach phoned to the Baltimore for the noted "Red" Grange. A bell-boy took the call and began paging at the top of his voice for the well known grid star. Everyone in the lobby sat up, hoping to cast an eye on the Illinois player.

After considerable time had elapsed and no one answered the call the Aggie quarterback Owen "Chili" Cochrane took advantage of his red hair and answered "Here, sir." The page was rather suspicious at first but when Cochrane removed his hat he was convinced.

And thus the Wildcat quarterback became "Red" Grange as he followed the page the length of the lobby to answer the phone, accompanied by the interested stares of the spectators.

Consistent Advertising:

Rome wasn't built in a day. It took years of careful planning and building. Each stone that was used in the construction was cut to fit the position. It was not haphazard work. Every stone of the foundation was carefully laid, others were built on top until the work was finished, a thing of beauty and of strength.

Advertising is the foundation of modern business. No merchant can expect to build his foundation with a single advertisement. It takes many of them, one beside the other, carefully planned. A single advertisement, although not valueless, cannot be expected to bring the results that the regular advertiser receives.

A satisfied customer is an advertisement. But how can you get customers to come to your store, to give you a chance? You attract them through your show window, by the name over your door, by your advertisements. The buyer will go to the place he has read of the most, where he knows he is not taking a chance.

In this way consistency and persistency in advertising bring success to the advertiser.

CLUBS OUT TO LIFT THE CUP

Homecoming Decorations Contest This Year Inspires Interest

Fraternities and clubs already are making preparations for the annual house decorations contest which is sponsored by the Girls' Loyalty league and the Wampus Cats at homecoming each year.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity especially is laying plans for "dressing up" its home elaborately in order to gain permanent possession of the silver loving cup offered by the student organizations to the organization whose house is adjudged to be decorated in the most original and effective manner. For the past two years the Sig Eps have won the trophy. Should their efforts strike the judges' fancy this year they will keep the silverware.

The judges, whose names will not be announced, will make two trips to look over the attempts of the student decorators. The first trip will begin at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the second sometime in the early evening of Saturday, November 22, the Homecoming date.

GARTNER TO CONCLAVE

Will Attend National Convention Sigma Delta Chi

AGGIE HARRIERS VALLEY CHAMPS

K. S. A. C. RUNNERS WIN EASILY
IN VALLEY MEET

Oklahoman Beats Kimport, Aggie
Captain, for First Place in Great Finish

The unexpected happened when Ames, for 11 years champion of the Missouri Valley conference in cross country running, lost titular honors last Saturday and the Kansas Aggies with an inexperienced team, brought the championship to Manhattan. This is also the first time that the Aggies ever have won the conference championship.

The Aggies' score was 39. Ames finished second with 51 points and Drake third with 97. The cross country race was a part of the homecoming program at Drake university and was watched by one of the biggest crowds in attendance at a Valley contest this year.

Oklahoma Takes First

Rutherford of Oklahoma finished first in the race. His time was 26 minutes, 52.8 seconds, which is the lowest made on the course this year. The course is five and one-quarter miles long, a quarter of a mile longer than the usual cross country distance, but it was in good shape, and the race was run in fast time.

Kimport of the Aggies finished second, about three yards behind Rutherford. Sallee for first place in tied with Kimport for first place in both the Missouri and K. U. dual races, finished third, about 15 yards behind Kimport.

The next runners in the order in which they finished were: Pratt, K. U., fourth; Conger, Ames, fifth; Grady, K. U., sixth; Aikman, Kansas Aggies, seventh; an Ames man, eighth; John Smith, Kansas Aggies, ninth; and McIntyre, Ames, tenth. McIntyre finished first last year.

Team to Ann Arbor?

The showing made by the team was better than expected. As a result of their victory Saturday the Aggie runners may be taken to Ann Arbor, Mich., to take part in the Big Ten conference races, although that is not definitely decided.

Bill Matthias, former captain of the Aggie team, coached the K. S. A. C. harriers.

VARSITY WINS ANNUAL TILT FROM FROSH BY 19-6 COUNT

Freshmen Make Good Showing in Defeat—Every Man in Varsity Squad Used

In spite of the reputation that the freshman football team is getting around the campus, the Varsity last Saturday demonstrated that it is still superior to Coach Corsaut's yearlings. However, they had to put up a fight to do it, and those who saw the game were not treated to a dull, lifeless, affair sometimes seen in Varsity-freshman games. The final score was 19 to 6, which showed that the freshmen did not give the game away by any means.

The Varsity started the scoring in the first quarter when Kerr Whitfield, fullback, playing his first game with the Varsity, went over for a touchdown. After that the freshmen picked up and had the best of the game for the rest of the quarter.

In the second quarter Enns, freshman quarterback, tied the score after a series of brilliant plays on the part of the freshmen. However, the Varsity came back and before the end of the first half again had the lead. Ray Smith, halfback, led the Varsity in this drive to the goal. The Varsity got the ball on the freshman 40 yard line and Smith carried the ball for the entire distance to the goal, with the exception of a yard. Smith carried the ball over and also kicked goal on the try for point.

The final touchdown of the game was made in the third quarter by Hawley. In the last quarter neither team scored.

The freshmen have a good team this year and several players that are going to make this year's regulars fight to keep their places next year. Enns, freshman quarterback, Holsinger, halfback, and Douglas, halfback, are showing up especially well.

The Varsity clearly had more power than it showed in the game and at times seemed to be playing only half-heartedly, which is a good sign for next Saturday. However, whenever they started to take things easy the freshmen would come back with a drive that would wake them up again.

Every man on the Varsity squad was used during the game. At one time Frank Root, who was handling the team, sent in seven substitutes. This constant shifting in the line-up naturally kept the team from doing its best work. Consequently, although the showing against the freshmen was not as good as it might have been, the indications are that the team will be in good shape when it meets Drake.

The Women's Athletic Association held initiation Thursday afternoon in the gymnasium for the following girls: Blanche Brooks, Lucile Miller, Clara Odell, Louise Magaw, and Nina May Howard. These girls have won their one hundred points, required number for membership in W. A. A.

DOPE IS UPSET AS USUAL

Kansas U. Ties With Drake to Complicate Valley Situation

If there ever was such a thing as authentic valley sport dope, it ceased to exist when K. U. tied Drake, 6-6, at Des Moines Saturday.

This upset has led sport writers to wonder just who will win the valley title because a defeat for Drake would give Nebraska and Missouri a chance to tie for first honors. Such a tie is not improbable when it is considered that the Bulldogs have games with the Aggies and Ames, both of which are strong teams and are out to mar the clean slate of the Bulldogs.

Missouri lived up to predictions and downed Oklahoma 10-0 thereby advancing into undisputed second place.

The result of the K. U.-Drake game would tend to boost the Aggie stock as the Aggies have a one touchdown decision over the Jayhawkers but comparative scores can not be relied upon to furnish probable results of conflicts.

Regardless of the outlook the Aggies will go through some stiff workouts this week in preparation for the game with the Bulldogs Saturday. There will no doubt be several changes in the lineup but they will not be determined until after showings in scrimmage this week.

W. A. A. ANNOUNCES RULES FOR ELIGIBILITY AND AWARDS

Sweaters Call for 1,200 Points—
Sport Manager Keeps Record

To promote a higher physical efficiency among the women at K. S. A. C., to foster the ideals of good sportsmanship, and to create an interest in gymnasium activities is the purpose of the Women's Athletic Association of K. S. A. C.

Any girl having one hundred points to her credit is eligible to make application for membership. Points may be made in various ways. Twenty-five points are given for a class squad, seventy-five for a class team, and fifty for the varsity team, in basketball, baseball, hockey, and swimming. Thirty points are given for thirty miles of hiking in one semester, also for a perfect class attendance to all physical education classes during the semester.

Each sport is controlled by a sport manager who keeps a record of all points won by each girl. The eligibility for interclass games depends upon technical skill, attendance at practice, physical fitness, general attitude, sportsmanship, and scholarship.

During each season class squads are chosen. From the best of these the class teams are formed. At the close of each season, varsity teams are selected.

A W. A. A. pin is awarded to any member who has earned five hundred points; a "K" on a coat sweater for twelve hundred points, and for each additional two hundred points, a purple chevron will be given.

Hort Club Debates

The Horticulture club of K. S. A. C. held a meeting last Tuesday in room 31, of the horticulture building. A debate between the students of the club took place upon the following question, "Resolved: That the northeast section of the state is a better place to grow fruit than the Arkansas river valley."

Send the Collegian home.

STATION KSAC TO OPEN DECEMBER 1

DATE TO BE ANNUAL KANSAS AGGIE NIGHT

Lengthy Program Planned for the Many Alumni Listeners—Prxy to Give Dedication Address

The old college bell will again greet the ears of some 5,000 grads and former Aggie students, when the Kansas Aggie night radio program is broadcast over the nation, as a part of the dedication services of the powerful new 500 watt station KSAC on Monday night, December 1. The program will begin at 8 o'clock, central time.

Through the courtesy of Sam Pickard, program director of the extension division, the alumni association has been given an opportunity to hold the Kansas Aggie radio party as a part of the dedication program for the new station. The college bell will be rung and the grads will hear again the familiar voices of some of the "pros."

Reunions Are Planned

"Where there are two or more Aggies in a locality, they have been asked to have a reunion on the night of December 1," says Mr. R. L. Foster, alumni secretary. "This is the one big night of the year when the alumni are being asked to get together. If there is just one Aggie out there alone in the community, he can still have a good time when he tunes in on station KSAC."

From New York to Los Angeles and from Seattle to Gainesville, the alumni will unite. In all cities where there is a local unit of the alumni association, the officers have been asked to get the members together on Kansas Aggie night. In other cities where there is a group of graduates or former students, some member has been asked to assume the responsibility of seeing that all are assembled around a good receiving set. The alumni and former students, when the program reaches them will join in an Alma Mater and Jay Rah.

Will Be Annual Event

Every alumnus in this country, whose address is known, will receive a letter from the office of the alumni secretary, explaining Kansas Aggie night, the first observance of which will be Monday night. From now on it will be an annual event, and next year the Aggies in foreign countries, though they may be out of reach of station KSAC, will be asked to make some observance of the occasion.

Station KSAC will have a wave length of 341 meters, being strong enough to reach all parts of the country. The equipment is new being installed in Nichols gymnasium and soon KSAC will be broadcasting College of the Air and other programs over her own station.

The program for the dedication services is as follows:

"The college bell."

Dedication address, President W. M. Jardine.

Acceptance speech, Gov. Jonathan M. Davis.

Alma Mater, led by Prof. Ira Pratt.

Jay Rah, led by Wampus Cats.

"In the Beginning," by Mrs. Emma Haines Bowen, who is a member of the first class which graduated from K. S. A. C. in 1867.

"My Golden Kansas," college male quartet.

Symposium of Aggie Reminiscences, by Dean J. T. Willard, Prof. M. F. Ahearn, Dr. H. H. King, and Prof. Albert Dickens.

Reading of telegraphic greetings from alumni.

"Antiquity of Microbes," an address by Louise Williams, '12, a modern Mark Twain.

College songs.

"Holding the Line," by Dr. H. T. Hill.

Five Minutes of Static, Aggie Wampus Cats.

A Surprise Birthday Party.

H. W. Davis, head of the English department of the college will act as toastmaster. The remainder of the program will be under the direction of Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department, featuring the band, orchestra, and glee clubs in a two hour concert.

STUDENTS FAIL TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF NEW STUDIO

Photographer to Leave November 30—Read Stresses Importance of Making Appointments

Over 1500 pictures remain to be taken by the Royal Purple studio before November 30. Since the opening of the studio on October 24, only 300 appointments have been made with the photographer. This is due to a tendency of the students to wait until the last moment to make arrangements for pictures and if continued will interfere seriously with the original plans for production of Royal Purple photographs.

"Students have assumed an indifferent attitude in regard to the taking of these pictures and do not realize the limited time which remains," says G. A. Read, manager of the Royal Purple. "They are postponing their appointments until the last day, and will find that in the rush many can not be accommodated."

If students wait until the last minute to have their pictures taken the result will be an inferior grade of work. A great amount of time and personal attention is required to produce the best photographs, and these can not be given in a last minute rush.

—Hats off to Beauty—

MUSICAL PROGRAM PRESENTED

Pratt and Wheeler in Charge of Assembly

The student assembly yesterday was in charge of the music department. Professor Ira Pratt, baritone, accompanied by Miss Ruth Hartman, and the college Salon orchestra, under the direction of Prof. H. P. Wheeler, presented the following program:

Revery ..... Arensky
Hunger Song ..... Cui
Palm Branches ..... Gretchaninoff
The Captive ..... Gretchaninoff
Mr. Pratt
Danse Bretonne ..... Widor
Lyric Pieces (Suite for Strings).
In My Native Country, Secret, Peasant's Song, Shepherd Boy, and Homeward ..... Grieg
March of the Little Tin Soldiers ..... Pierné
Orchestra

The performance was easily one of the most artistic that K. S. A. C. audiences have ever had offered them. Professor Pratt's program was taken from the recital which he gave in Chicago this summer. His performance was, as usual, excellent. Miss Hartman proved to be a sympathetic and skilled accompanist. Professor Wheeler scored again with his newest music aggregation, the Salon orchestra. The difficult selections given were played with a delicacy, a precision, and musical feeling outstanding for student work. The Salon orchestra, with one performance, has established itself as one of the most important organizations on the campus.

"It has not been until this year," said Professor Wheeler, "that we have had players equal to the task of presenting, as an organization, chamber music. This year the Salon orchestra, which is probably the only organization of its kind in this part of the country, is able to present this class of music, through an improvement in the string material. We also intend to do things with different small groupings of wood and wind instruments."

THREE SPECIAL DANCES ARE FEATURE OF FRIVOL TONIGHT

Annual Dance Revue Begins at 8 O'clock in Gymnasium—Special and Social Dancing

Frivol, the annual entertainment sponsored by the W. A. A., will be held tonight from 8 till 11:30 o'clock in Nichols gymnasium. Single admission is 50 cents and admission for two is 75 cents. Tickets are on sale by members of the organization and at the table in Anderson hall.

Frivol night has been made a closed night so that every student may attend. There will be social dancing, and refreshments will be served during the evening. Chuck Shofstall's orchestra will play.

The program for the entertainment is as follows:

"Little Old New York"—Lost Baby, Elsie Hayden; boys, Laureda Thompson, Josephine Trindle, Harriet Gelfert, Rachel Herley, and Irene Patchen; girls, Ruth Cress, Esther Rodewald, Mildred Matter, Mildred Huddleston, and Ruth Parker.

"Girls from the East"—Harry Wilson; Laura Fayman, Girl from the East; Rowena Brown, Girl from the North; Myrna Smale, Girl from the West; and Inez Jones, Girl from the South.

Musical comedy revue—Lucile Miller, Betty McCain, Frances McCain, Elizabeth Anderson, Evelyn Boyce, Velma Criner, Nellie Conroy, Eleanor Mims, and Mildred Reed. Miss Wade has charge of the feature dances.

—Miss Royal Purple—

TO INSPECT R. O. T. C.

The R. O. T. C. will be inspected tomorrow and Monday by Colonel Miller, inspector for the Seventh Corps area. Colonel Miller will inspect the college units in their regular drill and parade work.

SCHEDULE READY FOR NEW LEAGUE

PLANS COMPLETED FOR MISSOURI VALLEY DEBATES

Seven States Represented in Schedule Which Has Two Rounds, Starting Officially March 6

Leading schools in the Missouri valley, including some of the best debating teams in this section of the country, are included in the Missouri Valley Debate conference which was organized for the first time this fall.

Two Teams from Kansas

Eight schools, representing seven states, make up the new league. Kansas is the only state with two teams entered, both Kansas State and K. U. being enrolled. The schools in the conference are Kansas State, Kansas university, Oklahoma university, Colorado university, Texas university, Washington, Drake, and the University of South Dakota.

The late plank of Senator LaFollette will be the subject for the debates. It is stated as follows: "Resolved: That congress should not be empowered to veto decisions of the Supreme Court declaring them unconstitutional." Each school will have two teams, with two debates for each team. H. B. Summers, Kansas State debate coach, is secretary of the league.

First Debate March 6

The schedule for the debates will begin on March 6, the negative teams traveling. The first round is scheduled as follows: Colorado at Texas; Drake at Kansas State; K. U. at Oklahoma; Kansas Aggies at South Dakota; Oklahoma at Colorado; South Dakota at Washington; Texas at Drake; and Washington at K. U.

The second round will be March 20, with the affirmative teams traveling. The schedule for this round is: Colorado at K. U.; Drake at South Dakota; K. U. at Kansas State; Oklahoma at Texas; South Dakota at Colorado; Kansas State at Oklahoma; Texas at Washington; and Washington at Drake.

HOLTZ STATES Y. M. PURPOSE

Activity of Organization Centers in "Go to College" Teams

"The two-fold purpose of the Y. M. C. A. is first, to develop all-round Christian manhood, and second, loyalty to the college," said Dr. A. A. Holtz, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., at his regular Monday night radio program.

Spectacular activity in the Y. M. C. A. is found in the "Go to College" teams. According to Dr. Holtz teams have gone out for the last four years to many high schools of the state and given musical or dramatic programs followed by talks on "Why Go to College?" This activity does not constitute an advertisement for the college but is merely a stimulus for high school boys and girls to continue their education in higher institutions of learning.

AGGIE STOCK JUDGERS GO TO AMERICAN ROYAL MEET

Afterwards Visit Stock Farms—Then Enter International Stock Show at Chicago

The stock judging team left Thursday for Kansas City where it is entered in stock judging events at the American Royal Livestock show and exposition, which starts November 15 lasting until November 22.

Members of the team are R. E. Sears, Eureka; George F. Ellis, Las Vegas, N. M.; Earl C. Smith, Pratt; H. G. Carnahan, Garrison; C. C. Huntington, Eureka; and R. W. Russell, Jewell. They were chosen from the class in advanced judging and have been coached by Prof. F. W. Bell.

State agricultural colleges that have entered student livestock judging teams to date are: Arkansas, Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. Cash prizes are to be given to the winning teams.

When the teams reach Kansas City they will go to the Shorthorn and Hereford herds, with which preliminary practice work in the arena of the American Royal will be done.

W. L. Nelson, Columbia, Mo., will superintend the live stock judging contest. The first trials will start with the opening of the show, Saturday morning, November 15.

After the American Royal the Aggie judging team will visit stock farms in Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, and Indiana, doing practice judging until November 29, when they will go to Chicago to take part in the International Livestock show.

Scabbard and Blade Initiation

Scabbard and Blade held their bi-annual initiation last Saturday night. The new members are: M. H. Johnson, Chanute; H. C. Quantie, Riley; R. P. Carter, Bradford; Byron Short, Fredonia; H. E. Jung, Salina; and I. H. Graham, El Dorado. Lieutenant Colonel Bugbee of Manhattan was also taken in as an honorary member.

MISSOURI JUDGERS HERE

Live Stock Experts of M. U. Inspect K. S. A. C. Herds

The stock judging team from the University of Missouri spent Wednesday in Manhattan to study the live stock at K. S. A. C. The ten men from Missouri will represent their school in the judging contests conducted by the American Royal live stock show in Kansas City next week. The team from the University of Wyoming will also stop at the college on its way to Kansas City. Following the show in Kansas City, the two teams will go to Chicago for the International Live Stock show held there November 28 to December 6.

Between the American Royal and International shows the team from K. S. A. C. will tour Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, and Wisconsin, studying stock in the different states.

PREXY, DEANS TO CONVENTION

Executives Have Place on Program of A. L. G. C. Meeting

K. S. A. C. will be represented by President W. M. Jardine and several deans and professors at the thirty-eighth annual convention of the Association of Land Grant Colleges, to be held in Washington, D. C., from November 12 to 14. Talks and discussions by K. S. A. C. representatives will have a prominent place on the program.

At the general session of the convention Dean F. D. Farrell will give a discussion on "Vocational Guidance," a paper written by Dean Freeman of the University of Minnesota, later discussing "Experiment Station Organization and Policy." Under the formulation of experimental or research projects section, Dean R. A. Seaton will discuss a paper on "College Cooperation with Local Engineering Societies and Other Organizations." He will also be a member of the committee on instruction in agriculture, home economics, and mechanic arts. Dean Margaret M. Justin, under the section of economic and social aspects, will discuss the problem of financing research in home economics from the point of view of an independent home economics division.

RULES FOR HOMECOMING DECORATIONS ANNOUNCED

Annual Decorations Contest for Organized Houses—Sig Eps Have Won Cup Twice

The Wampus Cats and W. A. A. have announced the rules which govern the annual Homecoming decoration contest for organized houses sponsored by these organizations. The judges of the best decorated house will be selected from people who have no biased interest in the contestants. The announcement of the winner of the silver cup will be made at the Homecoming game with Nebraska.

For the past two years the cup has been won by the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, and if they are again successful the cup becomes their permanent possession. The judges, who have not yet been selected, will make two trips in judging the decorations.

The rules are as follows:

1. Each house entering the contest must be an organized house with not less than ten members.

2. All organizations wishing to enter the contest must send their names and addresses to Johnnie Hale not later than Wednesday, November 19.

3. No house may spend more than $15 for decorations.

4. Judging of houses will start Friday evening at 8 P. M. and continue through Saturday morning.

5. Winners of the contest will be announced at the game Saturday afternoon.

6. Any house winning the cup three consecutive years is permitted to keep the cup.

7. Both the Nebraska and the Aggie colors are to be used in the decorations.

8. The judges will be one faculty member, two non-partisan students and two townspeople.

INTERSOCIETY DEBATES BEGIN

First Round of Debates on Monday in the Society Halls

Intersociety debate contests will start on Monday, November 17, at 5 o'clock. At this time the Eurodelphian affirmative team will meet the Franklin negative team and the Alpha Beta affirmative will meet the Browning negative.

The remainder of the first round of the debates will be held at 7:30 Monday evening. At this time the following teams will meet: Franklin affirmative vs. Hamilton negative; negative: Athenian affirmative vs. negative: Athenian affirmatives vs. Webster negative; Webster affirmative vs. Alpha Beta negative.

These debates are open only to members of the societies of the two contesting teams. Other debate rounds will be held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The debate rally will be held by the societies on November 25. A cup will be presented to the team remaining undefeated at the end of the series.

MAKE PLANS FOR HOMECOMING

Record Crowd Expected to Attend Aggie-Husker Game November 22

Former students who come back for Homecoming will not be entertained by a formal program. Nearly all of the visitors will be entertained by organizations or by friends in Manhattan. However, all the guests who are in town on Friday are invited to the pep meeting that evening. At 8 o'clock Saturday morning visitors are asked to register in recreation center and at 10 o'clock a welcome address will be given by President W. M. Jardine. At this time "Mike" Ahearn will tell something of the prospects for Saturday's game.

Several reservations for the game already have been made and it is expected that a great many people from over the state will attend. The popularity of the Aggie-Nebraska game of former years should draw as large a crowd as that which attended the Aggie-K. U. game.

The railroad rate for the round trip from any place in Kansas and from Kansas City, Mo., has been reduced to fare and a third.

COLLEGE TO BE HOST TO HI-Y'S

DISTRICT MEET SET FOR NOVEMBER 28, 29, AND 30

Eight Hundred Boys Expected—Program Includes Banquets, Speeches, and Tour of Hill

Approximately eight hundred boys will meet here for the older boys' conference, which is to be held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, November 28, 29, and 30, according to Dr. A. A. Holtz, head of the college Y. M. C. A. The state conference was held here two years ago, and over 1100 boys attended. The meeting this year is held only for this district, which is composed of all high schools in the territory west from Kansas City to Salina, and from Emporia north to the state line. However, many schools from outside this district have indicated their desire to attend the Manhattan conference, according to E. V. Edworthy, state Hi-Y secretary.

The committee in charge of the conference is composed of the following members: E. V. Edworthy, Bret Hull, R. R. Price, Louis Farmer, A. R. Springer, O. M. Rhine, Ralph Ewing, and Harold Hughes.

Snappy Program Planned

The program for the conference as outlined by the committee is as follows: Friday afternoon, opening session in college auditorium; Friday evening, banquet in Nichols gymnasium with Dr. H. H. King, head of the chemistry department as toastmaster, and several talks, including one by Coach Charles Bachman; Saturday morning, business session in auditorium; Saturday afternoon, tour of the college; Saturday evening, banquet in gymnasium, with Prof. H. A. Shinn, of the department of public speaking acting as toastmaster, and an address of welcome by Pres. W. M. Jardine; Sunday morning, short morning session at the First Presbyterian church, after which each delegate may attend the church of his choice. The final session of the conference will be held at the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon. All of the Sunday sessions will be addressed by Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson, a graduate of K. S. A. C. and at present pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Wichita. Rev. J. David Arnold, pastor of the First Christian church will be the convention chaplain.

The committee chairmen are Bret Hull and A. R. Springer, transportation; R. R. Price, Saturday night entertainment; C. E. Sawyer, banquet plans; E. B. Gift, program printing; James Price, publicity, conference rooms and decoration; Chester Guthrie, song leader; Ralph Blackledge, cheering; Ralph Ewing, college tour; Professors Dawley and E. R. Lyon, loud speakers for gymnasium; and Harold Hughes, A. O. Duer, and O. M. Rhine, entertainment.

Large Advance Reservations

Advance reservations have come in from several schools, among which are Junction City and Topeka, who will send over fifty delegates apiece; Haskell Institute, fifteen; Kansas City, ten; and Sabatha, twenty.

Souvenir watch fobs, made by the division of engineering, will be given all delegates to the conference. Other features are being planned which will make this one of the best conferences ever held in the state, and which will do much to aid the college in its effort to become favorably advertised throughout the high schools of the state.

Forestry Class Makes Trip

The farm forestry class of the horticulture department made an inspection trip to Westmoreland last week to inspect red cedar trees 280 to 350 years old. One cedar tree that had been cut was found to be 288 years old, while others still standing were judged to be around 350 years old. This grove of trees is one of the oldest in the state.

A Second Chance for Tardy Fresh

All freshmen who have not yet taken the freshmen intelligence tests or who have taken only a portion of them will be given an opportunity to take these tests Tuesday and Thursday from 7 to 9 o'clock on the evenings of November 18 and 20, in C 26. Those who have missed all the tests should come both evenings and those who have taken part of the tests should see Mr. Fritz in G 34 and arrange to conclude their work. All the freshmen will have to take the tests ultimately and this will be the last opportunity without penalty, according to Prof. J. C. Peterson.

BE CAREFUL, FRESHMEN

It has become increasingly evident during the past few weeks that this year's Freshman class is cherishing an entirely too good opinion of itself. During the past week the yearlings have several times ganged together and instituted revolution against the upperclassmen.

This revolt is due in a large measure to the edict of President Jardine against paddling. This ruling has been observed by the great majority of the students and as an aftermath the Freshmen are becoming very lax in respecting traditions of the college that should be religiously adhered to. Some have practically refused to wear the purple cap and are in many ways striving to show superiority over sophomores and upperclassmen. But it seems to us that the yearlings have entirely the wrong spirit in the matter. The distinction of being a freshman, and of being excused for many of the "boners" that are indulged in by first year men, is something that should be preserved. The first year at college is a time in which to acquire valuable information about the college, its ways, and customs. The submissive freshman, although he doesn't rant and rave about what he can do, makes the best college man because he has been absorbing and learning during the process.

And there is another side to the question. If logic and reason will not keep the inflated 1924 Freshmen in their proper place, force can be used. The organization and numbers of the upperclassmen, when once aroused, can annihilate the yearlings should they so desire. Although it is true that paddling is not allowed, nevertheless, paddling and general roughhousing might very conceivably take place, with no special punishment involved from the powers that be. If a sufficient number of upperclassmen decide to tame the Freshmen, and it is rumored that such a thing is about to happen, they will be tamed. If the entire group indulges there is little chance of punishment for the individual. Bear this in mind, Freshmen.

—Back the Comely Coed—

There is nothing to be said about past articles of the coim except that truth always hurts.

And as to the football team. We disclaim the responsibility and refuse to take the consequences as the sorority coaches themselves did the selecting. So we trust that the women will use their sense of fairness and come to no harsh decisions and knowing what woman's sense of fairness is, we are already on the way to Alaska.

The team:

Deal	i. e.	Phi Phi
Patchen	i. t.	Alpha Delta
Justin	i. g.	Phi Omega Pi
Andrews	c.	K. K. G.
Colburn	r. g.	Alpha Xi Delta
Shaver	r. t.	Kappa Delta
Grover	r. e.	K. K. G.
Bales	q. b.	K. K. G.
Stewart	i. h. b.	Delta Delta Delta
Russell	r. h. b.	Chi Omega
Hinkle	f. b.	Delta Zeta

Now the team was picked, so we understand, mostly according to ability though some exceptions were made. Then too, some attention was paid to the houses. For instance: The ends were picked because they were light and fast—mostly fast, but it was also deemed advisable to give the Phi Phi one end and the Kappas the opposite end. Some discussion arose as to which was to have the right end but this weighty question was decided on the flip off.

It was unanimously agreed that the tackles were qualified exactly for their positions—more ways than one. Both are wide awake and have a mean tackle once they have their man in sight.

The guards can be passed over easily. They are just what is expected of an all-round guard. They can hold anything.

There can be no mistake on the center. The one filling that position can't be beat. She is fully at home in the center of things.

Quarterback offered a knotty problem. The position calls for quick, accurate head work, a person of exceptional ability. Now, no sorority has a person filling all those qualifications, so the coaches flipped for it. And, the K. K. G. coach picked the candidate from the house. Simple wasn't it?

The rest of the backfield is unbeatable. All are fast. There is no doubt in the minds of any about that. And when it comes to carrying the ball they are right there. Each and every one is a slippery customer on broken field running and has no trouble in shaking a man.

Passing has no terrors for the team. The full can pass with either hand and the ends can catch anything in sight. And whenever the quarterbacks, the kick registers hard. The kicks average about two a day.

Every member of the team can run with either foot. This is quite remarkable. The line averages six dates a week and the backfield is still heavier.

Taken all in all, we believe the team to be the best that can be had for the money. It would be impossible, but a treat indeed to see this mythical team in action all at once.

On Other Hills

The Political Science students at the University of Nebraska conducted a straw vote on their campus. Results showed that Coolidge was elected by a big majority although many students did not vote straight party tickets.

Columbia university has been invaded by a rapid increase in "hamburger shacks" on the street bordering the campus.

Total robberies from fraternity houses at the University of Chicago amounted to $5500 last year.

No rain insurance is being carried by the University of Nebraska on their football games this year. The insurance which was carried last year proved too expensive and although rain cut down the receipts of the Nebraska-Missouri game, it did not come during the hours covered by the policy so nothing was recovered.

The finest slippers worn at the University of Nebraska "sophomore hop" in 1913 cost only $3. How times have changed! The finest slippers worn in 1924 cost but $26.

402 Poyntz Ave.The hair is the most important part of the appearanceSmooth, well-kept hair is now so easy to have!

UNKEMPT hair was once as nearly universal as smooth, neatly-combed hair is today.

Of course, well-dressed men realized then as well as now that nothing spoils the whole appearance so quickly as hair that is out of place.

But what could they do?

Old-fashioned pomades only matted the hair and made it greasy. Water evaporated within an hour and left the hair drier and more unruly than ever. There wasn't a thing that could keep the hair smoothly in place from morning till night—natural, soft, lustrous.

That's why Stacomb was introduced.

At last—a way to keep the hair in place

At first known only in California colleges, the story of Stacomb quickly spread. Today, well-dressed men everywhere have found in Stacomb what they have always needed—an easy, natural way to keep the hair looking just as they want it to look at all times.

Perhaps you part your hair in the middle. Perhaps on the right side. Perhaps on the left. Perhaps you comb it straight back. It makes no difference; Stacomb will keep it just the way you like it best. A touch of it in the morning, and your hair will stay just the way you want it all day long.

No matter how uncontrollable your hair may be after being washed—no matter how dry and straggly by nature—Stacomb will keep it in perfect order, always smooth, trim, lustrous.

Women use Stacomb, too. They find it excellent to control stray hairs, to make the curl stay in, and to keep the hair severely close to the head in the prevailing fashion.

Use Stacomb tomorrow morning, and look your best all day! A delicate, invisible cream—non-staining and non-greasy. In jars and tubes at your college drug store.

VALLEY LEADER HERE TOMORROW

DRAKE TEAM ARRIVES TONIGHT FOR GAME

Contest Is First Meeting Between Two Schools—Line-up Changes
Expected to Strengthen Aggies

Tomorrow a new rival, the Drake Bulldogs, will invade the Aggie lair for the first time in the history of the two schools and attempt to carry away a part of the Wildcat's scalp. Just which is the more effective, claws or teeth, will be determined in the one hour struggle between the two teams.

Undisputed Leader

At present Drake has the undisputed possession of first place in the Valley standings, and there is no doubt that Sam Orebough will lead a squad against the Aggies that is determined to win and retain its place in the standings. But likewise the Aggies are determined to dethrone the Bulldogs and possibly enter into a tie for Valley honors.

As far as dope is concerned the Aggies can win or lose according to different methods of figuring. In view of the fact that K. U. tied Drake and the Aggies beat K. U. by six points the Wildcats stand as a single touchdown better team than the Bulldogs. But doping from every other angle the Aggies are not favored to win. Drake beat Oklahoma 28-0, Missouri beat Oklahoma 10-0, and the Tigers beat the Aggies 14-7, all of which would tend to give Drake at least a three touchdown win over the Wildcats. Nevertheless, authentic sport dope has been demoralized to such an extent this year that a winner in any Valley conflict would be hard to pick.

Injuries Lacking

The Aggies emerged from the tilt with the freshmen with only a few minor injuries none of which will keep a man out of the Drake fray.

During the past week the Wildcats have had some stiff skirmishes and as a result there have been several new bright lights brought into view. The most notable change in the line-up is the shifting of Mildrester from fullback to guard, but it is doubtful whether "Milky" or Tombaugh will be the lucky one to start. Kerr Whitfield will hold down the fullback position although alternation with Butcher is very probable. The only other important change will be the substitution of Anderson for Cochran at quarterback. This change is the result of exceptional improvement on the part of "Andy" during the past two weeks and Bachman believes that he is able to lead the Wildcats to victory.

Drake emerged from the battle with K. U. with several injuries but none are important enough to keep the regulars from tomorrow's game.

Drake Line-up Same

Practically the same line-up will face the Aggies that started against K. U., although last minute substitutions may change the eleven. The Drake squad left last night for Aggieville but stopped over at Kansas City where they will hold light practice before coming to Manhattan on the 9:25 train tonight.

The probable line-up of the teams:

Aggies	Position	Drake
Munn, (c)	R. E.	Sloan
Keefer	R. T.
Krysl		Ewert
McGee	R. G.	Ambelang
Harter	C.	Carlos
Tombaugh	L. G.
Mildrester		Robertson
Ballard	L. T.	Stocking
Doolen	L. E.	Lingenfelter
Anderson	Q. B.	(c) Orebough
Smith	L. H.
Havley		Spears
Wilson	R. H.	Evert
Whitfield	F. B.
Butcher		McLuen

SPRINTERS TO RUN SATURDAY

"Three-milers" Will Race Between Halves of Drake-Aggie Game

An intramural cross country run will be held between halves of the Drake-Aggie football game Saturday, November 15. This will be a three mile race, the start and finish being on the oval in the stadium.

All men who expect to participate in this race are asked to sign up on the intramural bulletin board in the gymnasium. Contestants are also asked to report on the track in front of the east wing of the stadium at least five minutes before the end of the first half.

This contest will score one point for individual or organization to all who enter, besides additional points to those who figure in the finish. The winner of the race will receive a gold medal.

BASKETBALL RACE IS TIGHT

Close Scores in First Intramural League Games

Recent scores of the intramural basketball tournament indicate that the race for the championship trophy will be a very hotly contested one. Scores of games last week end are as follows: November 5, Phi Sigma Kappa 11, Delta Tau Delta 19; November 7, Rinky Dinks 17, Edgerton 9; Aggieville A. C. 12, Belmont 11; Veterinary Medics 4, Kanza 12; November 8, Lambda Chi Alpha 17, Acacia 13; Phi Sigma Kappa 16, Kappa Sigma 20; Sigma Nu 20, Alpha Tau Omega 6; Kappa Phi Alpha 26, Omega Tau Epsilon 23.

Ivan Riley to Be in Millrose Games

Ivan Riley, holder of several world records in the hurdles, who is now employed in Chicago, will represent the Illinois Athletic club at the Millrose games held in New York City January 27 and 28. Riley graduated from the Kansas State Agricultural college with the class of 1924.

Aggie Swimmers to Meet Pikers

Two meets for contests in minor sports have been asked of the Aggies by Oklahoma and Washington universities. The Sooners have asked for a boxing meet with the Aggie team at Norman. This contest has not been definitely scheduled as yet. However, a swimming meet with the Pikers has been arranged for, and will be held at St. Louis on March 2, 1925.

The ancestral home of the goldfish is China where it still abounds in a wild state.

ROOMS FOR GIRLS

Two large rooms for rent to college girls. These rooms are in a suite, equipped to accommodate four girls. Both rooms extra large. Just four blocks south of college in best of residence section. Rooms were vacated by sorority pledges. Rates very reasonable. Good heat. Good light.

DRAKE WINS ON UNUSUAL PLAY

HARD LUCK FOLLOWS AGGIES IN GAME WITH LEADERS

Wildcats Outplay Bulldogs in All Phases of Game—Team Exhibits Great Power

Scoring a touchdown on a disputed decision of Umpire Denny, Drake succeeded in retaining their lead in the valley by beating the Aggies 7-6 on the home gridiron, Saturday. As far as football is concerned the Aggies outplayed Drake in every branch of the game but a fluke touchdown gave the Bulldogs a technical victory.

To Lingenfelter, Drake left end, goes the credit of making the touchdown and to Captain Orebaugh the honor of scoring a place kick after the touchdown which later proved to be the necessary one point margin by which the Bulldogs won.

Lingenfelter Scores Early

The disputed decision came in the first quarter when Anderson, playing quarter and safety for the Aggies, attempted to catch a punt on a pick up but missed the ball when it took a freakish bounce and bounded off to his right. Lingenfelter, Drake end, having covered the punt and waiting to tackle Anderson, grabbed the ball and started for his goal. Anderson tackled the end but although he had Lingenfelter by both legs, the shifty end wriggled loose and raced 25 yards to a touchdown.

Umpire Denny signaled the recovery a fair play, pronouncing a decision that Anderson touched the ball and thereby the play was legal. Anderson declared after the game that he did not touch the ball, the ball being out of his reach by three feet. Nevertheless the score goes down as a win for Drake, as Orebaugh added the necessary one point by a perfect place kick through the center of the cross bars.

Smith Plunges Across

The Aggies' touchdown came in the first part of the second period as a result of some of the most sensational passing and line plunging ever witnessed on the home field. The Aggies started on their drive after recovering a fumble by Orebaugh on the 50 yard line. On the first play a pass, Smith to Doolen, netted 30 yards and put the ball on the Drake 20 yard line. Wilson, playing right half, then tore through left tackle for nine yards and on the next play Whitfield added two more to give the Aggies a first down and only four yards to go. Then to Smith was given the chance to carry the pigskin across the goal and this he did on the next play by an off tackle drive. Then old man hard luck again visited the Aggies and McGee failed to kick goal, the ball hitting the upright arm on the goal and bouncing to the outside.

The Wildcats proved to be superior in every phase of the game as is shown by the fact that they ran up a total of 334 yards gained in scrimmage to 241 by Drake, completed eight passes for a gain of 115 yards to none completed by the Bulldogs, and made 14 first downs to nine by their opponents. Smith, doing his first punting for the Aggies, averaged 32.4 yards to the punt against an average of 29 yards for Drake.

Practically three-fourths of the playing was done in Drake territory, and at no time after the first quarter did the Bulldogs endanger the Wildcats' goal. The Drake offense was centered in Orebaugh and Spear, and although some sensational runs were featured by these backs, they were widely separated and at no time were they consistently effective.

Aggies Play Brilliantly

Smith, Wilson, and Doolen were the stars in the Aggie offensive, Wilson and Smith earring through the Drake line for many long and sensational sprints. The passing of Smith to Doolen featured the aerial display of the Aggies, with Doolen making some seemingly impossible catches.

To Captain Munn goes much credit for the defense of the Aggies, as his ability to break through the Drake interference spoiled many of the Bulldog plays.

The aerial attempts of Drake were all unsuccessful, as the Aggie backs were on the job in every occasion, and the Bulldogs were unable to complete a pass out of five attempts. In a desperate attempt to win,

Coach Bachman inserted Cochran, Week and Hawley, fresh backs, in the last quarter, but although they were able to gain consistently they were unable to score. The Aggies tried a place kick in the first quarter and Cochran attempted a 60 yard drop kick in the last stanza, but both were unsuccessful.

Anderson, playing his first game as Aggie quarterback demonstrated a real capacity for generalship and an ability to run the team fast.

The summary: Substitutions—Drake, Armstrong for Robertson, Henry for Ewart, Ewart for Henry, Sutherland for McLuen, Enright for Sutherland. Aggies, Mildrester for Doolen, Armantrout for McGee, Krysl for Keefer, Feather for Whitfield.

First downs (earned)—Drake 9, Aggies 14. Offensive plays (including forward passes)—Drake 34, Aggies 51. Total net gain—Drake 241 yards, Aggies 334 yards. Forward passes (successful)—Drake 0, Aggies 8 for 115 yards. Forward passes (incomplete)—Drake 5, Aggies 7. Forward passes (intercepted)—Drake 3, Aggies 0. Punt—Drake 12 for 348 yards (an average of 29 yards), Aggies 7 for 227 yards (an average of 32.4 yards). Penalties—Drake 9 for 75 yards, Aggies 6 for 50 yards. Fumbles—Drake 3, Aggies 3. Fumbles recovered—Drake 2, Aggies 4. Touchdowns—Lingenfelter, Smith. Points after touchdown—Orebaugh, Drake. Yards lost from scrimmage—Drake 17, Aggies 7.

Officials—Referee, Cochran, Kalamazoo; umpire, Denny, Brown; Headlinesman, Giles, Illinois.

The line-up:

Kansas Aggies	Point	Drake
Doolen	L. E.	Lingenfelter
Ballard	L. T.	Stocking
Tombaugh	L. G.	Amblong
Harter	C. C.	Don Carlos
McGee	R. G.	Robertson
Keefer	R. T.	Ewart
Munn	R. E.	Sloan
Anderson	Q. B.	Orebaugh
Smith	L. H.	Spear
Wilson	R. H.	Everett
Whitfield	F. B.	McLuen

AGGIE POP REHEARSALS BEGIN

Committee to Criticize Stunts and Offer Suggestions

First rehearsals of Aggie Pop stunts will take place in the auditorium tomorrow evening. Each organization will be given 15 minutes in which to present their stunt, and the stunts are to be reviewed by a committee who will offer suggestions. This committee is composed of: Miss Dorothy Cashan, Miss Jessie Machir, Miss Ethel Arnold, Mr. Earl McDonald, and Mr. Helm.

The names of all property managers and a list of properties must be given to Forrest Whan by tomorrow.

Tickets for Aggie Pop nights, December 5 and 6, will be placed on sale Monday, December 1. Acha Johnson will have charge of ticket sales and Opal Endsley is to be in charge of concessions. Between each stunt some entertainment will be presented.

Each organization has an opportunity for three rehearsals in the auditorium. Any organization wishing to use the auditorium during the Thanksgiving vacation may do so.

Fair Aggie Coeds Resort to the Use of Palmolive Soap

Dirty work is afoot. Aggie coeds resort to sinister plots in effort to win honors in the Royal Purple beauty contest. And the luckless Flo Ziegfeld is the victim. Endearing letters are written to him by aspiring maidens. Affectionate, flattering letters designed to undermine his morals and even hinting at the absurd facial contortions of other contestants.

Librarians are besieged with demands for literature dealing with the personal characteristics and adornments of the unsuspecting Flo. Is he in love or is he married? Is he romantic or bald headed? And one dark haired damsel, upon learning that he is also a brunette, applied the theory that like attracts unlike, and changed to a peroxide blond.

Beauty shops are swamped with orders for war paint and electric vibrators. Chin reducers are at a premium.

Haggard faces denote the approach of starvation in an effort to reduce. Nature may be grand but in many cases it is cruel, and that blossom of youth must be regained at any cost.

They may put one over on Flo Ziegfeld but they can't fool us—we saw the originals.

Fall Play to Have Road Trip

Prof. E. G. McDonald and Melville Thompson visited Abilene, Junction City, Salina, McPherson, Marion, and Council Grove Tuesday of last week to book performances of "The First Year," the fall play to be presented by Purple Masque. The play will present a week's road performances before the presentation here December 12.

Cabinet Position for Prexy?

W. M. Jardine, president of K. S. A. C., is one of the three or four men now being considered by President Coolidge for the post of secretary of agriculture, it was disclosed in Washington yesterday.

President Jardine, who is in Washington to attend the meetings of the Land Grant College association, and the recently appointed agriculture commission, was a guest of the president on a yachting party down the Potomac over the week end. This fact, the intimation that the name of J. C. Mohler had been dropped from the list, and the knowledge that Senator Charles Curtis would favor the appointment of Doctor Jardine, has, according to news dispatches, greatly increased the gossip surrounding the possibility of the Kansas educator's appointment.

The Kansas congressional delegation had endorsed Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture, but Senator Curtis announced yesterday he would call a meeting as soon as a majority of the members arrived and place before them the newly developed situation.

IS NEW FOODS SPECIALIST

Miss Sherman Resigns to Go to Wyoming University

The position of food and nutrition specialist in the extension division, made vacant by the resignation of Miss Luella Sherman, will be filled by Miss Georgiana Smurthwaite, who is a graduate of the Utah Agricultural college.

Miss Smurthwaite did her post-graduate work at Columbia university and at the University of Chicago. Prior to her acceptance of the position at K. S. A. C. she was district home demonstration agent at the University of Idaho. She has also been a very successful teacher in the public schools of Salt Lake City.

Miss Sherman left Monday for Laramie, Wyo., where she has accepted the position of food and nutrition specialist in the university there.

PRESIDENT SELECTS PREXY TO BE ON AG COMMISSION

Nine Members Appointed by Coolidge to Solve Agricultural Problems of the Nation.

Pres. W. M. Jardine has been appointed on President Coolidge's agriculture commission. The list of members of this commission was made public some time ago but President Jardine's name was omitted.

President Jardine attended a meeting of the Land Grant College association in Washington last week and is remaining there this week to attend a meeting of this commission. The commission is composed of nine of the leading agricultural authorities of the country, its purpose being to formulate a program which will permanently stabilize the agricultural conditions of the nation.

R. W. Thatcher of Geneva, New York, W. C. Coffey of the University of Minnesota, both members of the President's commission, and President Jardine, were guests of President and Mrs. Coolidge over the week end on a cruise down Chesapeake bay on the yacht, Mayflower.

Zeta Kappa Psi Officer Here

Miss Lulu Sweigard, national president of Zeta Kappa Psi, women's forensic fraternity, visited the Alpha chapter here last Wednesday on her way to the national convention of Zeta Kappa Psi held November 14 and 15 at Emporia. Phyllis Burtis represented K. S. A. C. there. Miss Mary Polson of the home economics department, who is editor of "The Zeta," national publication of the fraternity, also attended the meeting.

Barnett a Judge at Waterloo

Prof. R. J. Barnett of the horticulture department left Thursday for Waterloo, Iowa, where he will act as one of the judges at the Mid-West Horticultural exposition. Lorenz Green of Purdue university, who was graduated from K. S. A. C. in 1906, is to be the other judge. The territory that will be represented at this exposition extends from Pittsburg, Penn., to Denver, Colo., and from Minnesota to Tennessee.

Spanish Students to Organize

The students of Spanish, sponsored by Miss Hesse and Miss Wilman, held a Tertulia at 4 o'clock last Tuesday afternoon in the Eurodelphian hall. The time was spent in learning and singing Spanish songs.

It is planned to make the affair permanent, meeting the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Alternate afternoons will be spent in singing, and in learning some of the games and folk dances most popular in Spanish society. All students of Spanish are invited to attend.

Professor Burr Addresses Meeting

Prof. Walter Burr returned last Wednesday from Columbus, Ohio where he attended a meeting of the American Country Life association. The meetings were held at the University of Ohio.

Professor Burr spoke on "The Country Church in Relation to the Problems of Today" at a student section of the conference, which was composed of representatives of the various colleges in that part of the country. On the main program of the conference, Professor Burr gave one of the leading addresses, "American Rural Education."

FINAL ELIMINATIONS SOON

Poultry Judging Team for Show in Chicago to Be Picked

The final eliminations to select the poultry judging team to represent K. S. A. C. at the Fifth Midwest Intercollegiate Poultry Judging contest, to be held at the Coliseum show in Chicago on December 11, will be held after the workout at the American Royal Livestock show in Kansas City this week.

The intercollegiate team will work out tomorrow, after the judging contest in which the vocational teams from seven colleges will compete. The Aggie intercollegiate team has better prospects this year than it has had for several years, and the workout on the exhibits at the Royal will show about how it compares with the other teams.

Those who made the trip to Kansas City for the workout are: Stanley Caton, W. J. Kraus, D. C. McMillan, H. A. Stewart, C. F. Bayles, Robert Fort, George MacMahon, S. Raleigh, and A. Watson.

Words and Paddles Fly in Spectacular Skirmish in Aggieville

The Varsity defeated the freshmen in their annual football game by a lopsided score, but the rivalry did not end when the final whistle blew. Thereby hangs a tale.

Several upperclassmen, during halves of the game, went over to the freshman section of the stadium, bent upon paddling those who were without their little purple caps. But the freshmen, smarting no doubt under the defeat being administered to their team, took offense at the actions of said upperclassmen and proceeded to throw several of them out of the stadium. Hostilities ceased when the game was resumed, but sophomore, junior, and senior heads were together, planning revenge.

After the game the scene of action switched to Aggieville, ever a battleground for the Frosh and uppers. Here a paddle line was formed for the purpose of educating the freshmen in the matter of wearing their purple headgear. But again it would seem that the youngsters intended to rebel, for they marched down Anderson avenue in battle formation, evidently determined to do or die.

A representative of the freshmen was sent forward to parley with the opposing forces, whose ultimatum was that only those freshmen who were wearing purple caps might pass. This was the point upon which the struggle was based, for when several freshmen were jerked out of ranks for not having their caps their brothers of the purple rushed to the rescue. Various and sundry battles, both private and group were waged, with the yearlings slowly advancing through Aggieville at the expense of many paddled members.

The mob finally reached Twelfth street, whereupon the board wielders returned to upper Aggieville for a powwow and the freshmen were favored with stump speeches by several of their own wild-eyed members.

Very indignant and serious were the upperclassmen in their meeting, and dire predictions were made by many scowling speakers. Conditions had never before reached such a state and would not be allowed to do so again. Henceforth if the freshmen were not more humble they would have to be ruled with an iron hand and a wooden paddle.

To the victor belongs the spoils. But who was the victor?

Mr. B. F. Barnes, superintendent of the Colby branch experiment station, recently spent several days at the college conferring with members of the agronomy department and other experiment station specialists concerning the work at the Colby station.

Noted Artist Speaks Here

Birger Sandzen, noted artist and professor of art at Bethany college, Lindsborg, spoke on "Recent Developments in Modern Art," on Thursday afternoon, November 6, in room 68 of Anderson hall.

Doctor Sandzen presented four of his lithographs to the department of applied arts, and commended Miss Holman, head of the department of applied art, for the work she has done in that department, and for her effort to create an interest in art at the college and in Manhattan.

PURPLE MASQUE TO ENTER BIG PLAY TOURNAMENT

Purple Masque Will Present One Act Play at Northwestern University—Nine Societies Entered

Purple Masque, honorary dramatic society of the college, has been accepted as a participant in a play tournament to be held December 30 and 31, 1924, and January 1, 1925, at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill. K. S. A. C. is one of the nine schools selected to compete. Kansas university has also been accepted.

The tournament will be held at the University theater, Northwestern, under the direction of the department of dramatics of that school. Entries were open to any club or group of undergraduates in any college or university. Prizes to be awarded the winner of the contest are the Cummock cup, a trophy offered by Robert L. Cummock, director emeritus of dramatics at Northwestern, and $250 offered by the department.

Plays to be presented are to be of one act and one play will be presented by each of the nine schools competing. According to rules of the tournament a preliminary contest will be held, from which the best three plays will be chosen to compete in the final elimination. Judges for the preliminary will be the directors of the plays, no director voting on his own group. Judges for the final contest will be a committee of well known men and women to be chosen by the contest committee. Decision will be based on consideration of the choice of the play, direction, and acting.

The tournament will be held in conjunction with the annual conference of the National Association of Teachers of Speech which meets in Evanston December 29, 30, and 31.

Purple Masque will present as its play, "Fancy Free," a comedy by Stanley Houghton, directed by E. G. McDonald, dramatic coach.

Squad Has Practice Debates

Practice debates are being held by the debate squad. The members are given a chance to work on questions closely allied to the debate question which will be used this year. The squad is divided into five different groups, and these divisions are debating each other at squad meetings on different questions which are assigned. The question which was used in the meeting held last Thursday was, "Resolved: That there is no need for any constitutional test for laws passed by congress."

Fourth Annual Frivol a Success

"Frivol Follies," the fourth annual entertainment staged by the Women's Athletic Association, was attended by an unusually large crowd Friday night. Three special stunts, "Little Old New York," "Girls from the East" and "Musical Comedy Revue" were presented in costume. The latter part of the evening was spent in dancing with music furnished by Chuck Shofstall's orchestra. A special feature dance was given by a man from Chicago who was with the orchestra.

Studies for Master's Degree

Ruth Harding, '20, who has been with the Emerson institute, Mobile, Ala., is now living at 106 Morning-side drive, Apt. 71, New York City. She writes that she is attending the teachers' college of Columbia university and hopes to receive her master's degree next June. "If there are any Kansas Aggies in New York I would like to see them," she says.

WIN FIRST IN STOCK JUDGING

AGGIES PLACE FIRST AT AMERICAN ROYAL

Nebraska University Is Second—Twelve Schools Compete—Aggies Have Unusual Record

First place in the stock judging contest at the American Royal Livestock show at Kansas City was easily won by the Kansas Aggie team last Saturday. The Aggie team piled up a total of 4,495 points, 57 more than their nearest competitor, the University of Nebraska, which obtained 4,438. Colorado was third with 4,379 points, and Purdue fourth with 4,349.

Other schools entered with their scores are Wisconsin, 4,346; Oklahoma, 4,342; Missouri, 4,326; Texas, 4,321; Wyoming, 4,206; Iowa, 4,201; North Dakota, 4,189; Arkansas, 4,027. The perfect score was 5,000.

Placed Second Last Year

The K. S. A. C. judgers won first place in the American Royal in 1922, and second place last year. According to Professor Bell, Aggie judging teams have established a better reputation in livestock judging for the past five years than any other college possesses, and their scores have also averaged higher. In 1923 the Aggie team won first place in the International, capturing what is considered the highest honor a college group can win, the $1,000 bronze bull statuette offered by the Union Stock Yards association of Chicago. The Aggie judgers made the highest score ever attained by a student team in the 22 years of the International contest. Aggie junior teams have won the student contests in the National Western Livestock show at Denver for the past four years.

Will Visit Other Schools

The team will spend the remainder of the week in Kansas City attending the American Royal. From Kansas City they will go on a tour of various schools and livestock farms in Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Indiana, and Illinois, where they will do practice judging in preparation for the International Livestock show in Chicago, November 29.

STATION KFKB HEARD WIDELY

College Courses Go Around World from Milford Radio

Radio station KFKB, Milford, Kan., the station from which the Aggie radio courses are broadcast, holds a long distance record for broadcasting according to a clipping which has been sent in by Earl Litwiller, an Aggie graduate.

The station has been heard several times at Montevideo, Uruguay, which is more than eight thousand miles away. This station has also been picked up frequently at sea and in all parts of the United States and Canada, and is regularly heard in Honolulu and the Bermuda Islands.

Five nights a week courses are broadcast from this station by the extension division of the college. There are courses in Agriculture, Home Economics, General Science, and Engineering. The lectures each night are preceded by a musical program by members of the department of music. These courses in the first college of the air are heard all over the world.

Sumner Attends Agronomy Meeting

Prof. H. R. Sumner, extension specialist in farm crops, attended the 17th annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy held at Washington, D. C., November 10 and 11. Professor Sumner was chairman of a symposium program on the legume problem. This symposium was arranged so as to be of particular interest to extension specialists. Papers were read by Dr. R. A. Oakley, '03, of the Bureau of Plant Industry, and by Ralph Kenney of the University of Kentucky, formerly crop extension specialist at K. S. A. C.

New Paintings Purchased

Two 3 1/2 by 4 foot paintings have been purchased by the division of home economics and will be hung at each entrance in the hall of the home economics building. One of the paintings is a reproduction of Abbott Thayer's "Caritas," the original of which hangs in the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. The other is a painting of the Alice Freeman Palmer memorial.

ATHLETIC INSTRUCTORS

The question of scholarship as associated with athletics is one that should be given a serious amount of thought by professors in general.

The majority of the instructors are loyal to the school. They realize the value of the athlete and the tremendous load he carries and go out of their way to aid him in his work. These have the right attitude but there are some who disfavor athletics and who make it unusually hard for the athlete who is unlucky enough to be in their classes. They form the opinion that he naturally fits in with the "strong back and weak mind" type of student and refuse to be shaken in their decision.

Looking at the question from the aspect of success of the school, it is absolute disloyalty to K. S. A. C. for instructors who do not give the athlete more time for his work during the season of his particular sport. The school looks with favor on football, basketball, baseball, track, etc., and the men who represent the college are doing their part in making the school better. They spend every afternoon of the week in training and in the case of football and basketball several nights of the week in addition. This is a tremendous load for the athlete to carry as the Missouri Valley rules necessitate him passing at least 15 hours of work per semester in order to remain eligible for competition.

However, this is not a plea for laxity on the part of students in doing their work. The primary purpose of a student coming to college is to obtain an education and the accepted method of obtaining this education is through class work. But when an athlete is spending quite a large part of his day in hard physical labor he should not be expected to do the amount of work that another student without the athletic burden should accomplish. Extra time on assignments could be allowed without materially decreasing the value of the lesson.

If athletics were not good for the school they would not be encouraged as they are at present. Therefore, it is part of the job of instructors to help rather than hinder an athlete in his work. Loyalty to the school should exist in the ranks of the faculty as it does in the students and petty personal dislikes should not influence grades.

There's nothing to write about this week. The freshmen are behaving, the professors have finished their tortures, the election is over, Brown Bull has gone to press, girls are as dumb as usual, and all the sororities are completely cowed.

So that's that.

"Twere funny indeed if the slogan "back the comely coed" happened to be changed. Say, for instance, that the "c" in comely was changed to an "h."

It is peculiar to note that the nearer the end came, the more the students appreciated the musical program at chapel last week. That is, judging from the applause.

Note: Last Sunday several sorority girls were discovered at church, among them (special note) were some Alpha Xi Delta.

Harry says that he supports his beauty every time he goes over, but that it gets tiresome as she is no lightweight.

College life is a bed of roses with an R. O. T. C. thorn protruding here and there.

Which makes us think. Thanksgiving vacation really should be extended to include the Monday morning drill.

Some folks seem to think that there should be a second team for the sororities. Not on your life. In the first place, the strain would be too hard on the coaches, and in the next, those girls on the first team need no substitutes. No sir! They like to play their own game.

All we have to say about Saturday is that if the Drake team really think they should take that victory, why, let them have 'er.

A rumor is being circulated to the effect that several profs are going to dismiss their afternoon classes one day this week in order to take in some sort of a show that gives next year's models.

A good way to tell how any fraternity rates among the fickle sex is to watch them turn out at an intramural basketball game. However, that doesn't always help the team a great deal.

On Other Hills

Women have been barred from the regular cheering section at Cornell University. The reasons given for the movement are that feminine voices do not contribute to the volume desired and they detract from the masculinity desired from cheering sections.

"The Texas Memorial stadium now almost completed has been financed and constructed within a shorter time than any other project of the same size in the world," boasts the Daily Texan.

A radio-correspondence course in business English is to be given for University credit by Prof. Maurice Wesen of the college of business administration at Nebraska university, starting the first week in December.

One hundred and fifty Indiana university students answered a distress summons to fight a forest fire in Brown county, Indiana last week.

Kaute Rockne, celebrated coach of Notre Dame who has been producing victorious football teams for several years, writing in the Kansas City Journal, stated that Oklahoma's victory over Nebraska, although surprising proved that Missouri Valley football is comparable with the best in the United States.

The first annual turkey run at University of Kansas will be a feature of the home talent athletic program there November 22. The varsity football team will stage a game against the freshman team. The turkey run is a race among campus organizations, around the cross-country course. Ten men representing each organization are required to finish in order to qualify for one of the prizes. The prizes are: First, a turkey; second, a goose; third, a duck; fourth, a chicken.

The University of California students took a record-breaking trip to Seattle on November 8 to root for their home team. It was a forty-eight hour trip by rail and a special train following the famous Shasta Limited was used.

Indiana university recently conducted a contest to see what brand of cigarettes was used the most. Results showed that many more would rather "walk a mile for a Camel" than to enjoy the "satisfying" effect of a Chesterfield.

A Korean proverb reads: "He who would enjoy his food should not look over the kitchen wall."

They Tell Their Friends About Us

It happens frequently that patrons tell our optometrist we were recommended to them by a friend. That is advertising we are extremely proud of.

It is a tribute to the scientific care, professional attention and personal interest given to each individual who entrusts the care of the eyes to us—proof of complete satisfaction with both service and glasses.

It shows in a way gratifying to us that our efforts to be in the lead in optical progress are appreciated by the people in this vicinity.

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

We've all been ridiculing the Frosh pretty strong this year, but I think that we can find virtue in them too if we look for it. Of course we think they should wear their caps, but freshmen that will defend their class with as much pep as these boys do, will fight for their Alma Mater with just as much pep in the years to come. They certainly did the snake dance with true Aggie enthusiasm last Saturday. We, as upper classmen, will see that the freshmen abide by the rules and traditions, and the freshman that does his part without whining is the man we'll bet on. Let's run them through the line when they get too fresh, but give them credit when they support the team as they did against Drake.

An Upperclassman.

Billets Doux from Miss Machir Swell Home Study Rolls

News of all sorts—sad and glad—is being broken to members of the senior class these days in little billets doux from the office of Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar. The work of checking senior credits has started and a notice of each fourth-year student's status is being mailed to him as rapidly as the work can be carried forward.

Each senior is notified of his standing in credit hours and in points so that he may govern the arrangement of his courses to meet requirements. The home study department is expecting soon to do a brisk business in issuance of courses in landscape gardening to engineers who lack a few of the magic symbols known as "points" and in giving out registrations in farm forestry to journalist seniors who haven't met their industrial option requirements.

Dean O. Smith, a former Aggie student, was here Saturday for the Drake game. Mr. Smith was on his way to San Antonio, Tex., where he will continue his work with the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. Last summer the survey worked on the northern border in a region so isolated that mail was received only once in four months.

Educational Films for Electricals

Three reels of moving picture films were shown last Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Barracks No. 1 by the department of electrical engineering. The first, entitled "Our Daily Bread," was an educational film visualizing the evolution of our wheat industry; and the second, a two-reel picture, "Wizardry of Wireless," showed the development of signal communication from the Indian smoke blanket, through wig-wagging, beacon fire, heliograph, semaphore, electrical telegraph and telephone to radio transmission and reception.

Persistent Advertising:

A carpenter doesn't drive the nail with a single blow. The woodman doesn't fell the tree with a single swing of the axe. The artist cannot finish the masterpiece with one sitting.

It takes persistency to win out in the struggle for supremacy. Regardless of how hard you start, you can never reach the goal if you let anything stop you or discourage you.

Keep hammering along the same old line and you are bound to get somewhere. If you have something to sell, tell the world about it and keep telling them until you get it sold. Don't think that because a single advertisement did not bring direct results that advertising does not pay.

Go back and try it again, just as the carpenter drives home the nail, the woodman fells the tree, and the artist finishes the painting.

And an E Student Falls as a Result of Life in Society

Once again man is the cause of woman's downfall. This time the woman was just a girl, but she fell just the same. "And great was the fall thereof."

She's a popular coed and prominent in innumerable college activities. And she's a student, too, in spite of that fact. Just a few weeks ago she was elected to the honorary scholastic fraternity—an organization to which only the most brilliant are chosen for membership.

Her record in college while taking a four year course in three years, is 19 hours of "E's" out of 26 credit hours during one semester last year.

But the crash has come. And avoid it, she could not. Efforts to bribe the bookkeepers of the dean's office into doctoring the records were of no avail.

The crash? 'Twas a flunk—her first. She hopes it will be her last, but when a fellow gets down once, it's very hard to get up again.

So watch your step, girls. You, too, may fall as this coed has. Do not let the men bother you too much, unless you are sure of your grades. Stay home at least one night a week and study. There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip.

McColloch on Entomology Committee

J. W. McColloch, acting head of the department of entomology, has been appointed on the committee of the American Association of Economic Entomologists to prepare a summary of the work done with calcium cyanide as an insecticide in the United States. This committee is now compiling all available information on the subject and will present its report at the meeting of economic entomologists to be held December 31 at Washington, D. C.

Nature Planted Red Cedars at Time of Mayflower's Voyage

"A barren desert," say historians of early Kansas, and yet, red cedar trees, planted by nature in the days of the Mayflower, have been found northeast of Westmoreland.

The forestry class, headed by Professors W. F. Pickett and Albert Dickens, made a field trip to the territory northeast of Westmoreland, last Sunday, for the purpose of studying trees that had grown without the assistance of artificial planting or cultivation. A red cedar stump was found that had 288 annular rings, showing it to be almost three centuries old. The condition of the stump indicated that the tree had been in good condition when it was cut down early this fall.

Dead limbs cut from some of the trees had been dead for fifty years, according to estimations made by the class. They were in a good state of preservation, showing the value of red cedar as a commercial wood. New layers of wood growing out over these dead limbs form the knot so characteristic of lumber.

The largest tree examined was 48 feet in height, and had a base diameter of 27 inches. According to Professor Dickens this tree was probably 350 years old.

Students making the trip were: John Gartner, C. P. Foote, J. I. Rogers, H. L. Kammeyer, and G. A. Pilling.

Art Department Exhibits Paintings

A collection of 30 paintings of the southwest by Oscar B. Jacobson, is on exhibit in the applied art department on the second floor of Anderson hall.

Mr. Jacobson is the head of the art department of the University of Oklahoma and director of the summer school at the Broadmoore Art academy, Colorado Springs, Colo.

This collection has been on exhibit at the University of Missouri and will be sent to the University of Kansas for exhibition after Thanksgiving.

Volley Ball Popular

Volley ball promises to be received with much enthusiasm by the college girls. Twelve teams have been organized and names entered for the tournament. Owing to the unexpectedly large number of teams entering, a new schedule for the games will have to be made out and will appear later. The following organizations have entered teams: Alpha Xi Delta, captain, Kathryn Kimble; Alpha Delta Pi, captain, Inez Jones; Alpha Theta Chi, captain, Thelma Coffin; Phi Omega Pi, captain, Thelma Sharp; Chi Omega, captain, Elizabeth Anderson; Delta Zeta, captain, Anna Mae Davy; Kappa Delta, captain, Julia Smith; Delta Delta Delta, captain, Josephine Heath; Gamma Phi Delta, captain, Florence Haines; Browning, captain, Ruth Peck; Outlaws, captain, Nillie Kneeland.

Pigskin Squeals

The question is, "Did Anderson touch the ball on that punt?" Umpire Denny says he did and Lingenfelter scored the touchdown, but Aggie rooters are still doubtful.

Drake still leads the valley, but they're mighty glad that game of Saturday is tucked away. Drake was outplayed all the way, but still the score stands in their favor.

Smith's plunging in the first quarter made everyone sit up and take notice. Munn, Doolen, and Wilson also played outstanding games.

The old Aggie passing machine went into high, with the Smith to Doolen combination accounting for many long gains.

Mildrester booted a long punt that was a beauty in the short time he was in the game.

Anderson, who played most of the game at quarter, ran the team like a veteran, calling signals rapidly and using a variety of plays.

Send the Collegian home.

Reunion Planned for School of Ag

PHI KAPPA HARRIER WINS

Thirty Entrants in Intramural Race—Winner Receives Medal

A. E. McGrath, Paola, running for the Phi Kappa fraternity, finished first in the intramural cross country race which was held between halves of the Drake-Aggie football game Saturday. H. E. Stover, Maize, unattached, crossed the tape second, with V. H. Butterfield, Woodburn, Ore., also unattached, close behind. Points toward individual and organization honors are as follows: The winner scored eleven points besides receiving a gold medal; the second man across the tape scored ten points; the first ten men scored two points each, and all of the thirty who ran the race scored one point.

BOARDING CLUB IS DISBANDED

Fraternity Growth Given as Cause of T. N. K. Club Decline

The T. N. K. boarding club, established in 1920 at 1018 Laramie street, ceased functioning November 5. Lack of funds was the reason given for discontinuing the club.

The T. N. K. club, once among the best cooperative clubs of the college, has been steadily declining for the past year. Interest in the increasing number of fraternities is thought to have caused the difficulty of obtaining members.

Mrs. C. H. Vance, owner of the house formerly occupied by the club, will continue the establishment as a private boarding house.

USE "TANK" IN WAR ON BUGS

College Entomologists Plan to Gas Alfalfa Insects

K. S. A. C. entomologists are adopting modern warfare methods in the ceaseless struggle they carry on against insect pests damaging Kansas crops. Edgar Davis, graduate student in entomology, and Dr. Roger C. Smith, instructor in the department, have designed and built a machine for collecting and killing alfalfa insects which is something of a "tank" and which also utilizes the poison gas principle.

The "tank" which is mounted on wheels, is equipped with a contrivance that jars the aphids into a box as the machine is rolled through a field. In the box are crystals of calcium cyanide which gives off the deadly hydrocyanic acid gas in sufficient strength to kill the insects.

TRAINEES TAKE JUDGING TROPHY

VETERANS WIN POULTRY CONTEST AT ROYAL STOCK SHOW

Aggie Contestants Capture First, Second, and Third Places with High Score

The disabled veterans' team representing Kansas State Agricultural college in the fourth poultry judging contest for disabled veterans, held at the American Royal stock show at Kansas City last Wednesday, won first place with a lead of 265 points over its nearest rival. The Aggie team made 1,995 points out of a possible 2,400. Missouri placed second with a score of 1,730 points, Carlton college, Farmington, Mo., placed third with 1,650 points, Ames fourth with 1,610, and Mountain Grove, Mo., fifth with 1,435 points.

In scoring 1,995 points, the Aggies made the highest score on record in a poultry judging contest, either collegiate or non-collegiate.

Aggie Trainees' First Win
The prize was a cup offered by the Kansas City Stockyards company. In 1922, the first year the cup was offered, it was won by Iowa State and in 1923 by Carlton college. The cup remains the property of the school which wins it in each contest for two successive years, and as this is the last contest for the veterans it will probably remain the property of the Kansas Aggies.

In individual honors the Aggie team placed first, second, and third. B. W. Gaston was high man with 710 points out of a possible 800, thereby establishing a new record for individual scores in poultry judging contests. J. G. Obelander placed second with 650 points, and C. M. Hanson was third with 635.

Team Well Balanced
An outstanding feature of the Aggie team's work was the fact that each member made a score of over 600, which is considered a high individual score.

Prof. H. H. Steup coached the winning team. He also has been giving considerable time toward coaching the collegiate team which will compete in the intercollegiate contest in connection with the Coliseum show in Chicago, December 11.

TO HOLD EXTEMPO CONTEST

Three Schools Entered in Intercollegiate Contest December 13

Teams from Washburn, Kansas State Teachers College, and K. S. A. C. will compete in the extemporaneous speaking contest which is to be held here December 13, under the direction of the department of public speaking.

Each team will be composed of three persons. Any person enrolled in the courses in extemporaneous speaking is eligible to try out for the team which will represent K. S. A. C. Tryouts will be held Monday, November 24, in G56. The general subject for this tryout will be "The National Political Situation," and preparation will be done in a short period allowed each candidate before the presentation of his speech.

Teams from these three colleges met last year in a similar contest. Washburn won first place in this meet.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION MEETS

New Officers Announced—Pfeutze in Charge This Year

The Freshman commission held its first meeting last Monday night in recreation center at which time the organization of the body was completed. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Paul Skinner; vice-president, James Blackledge; secretary, Louis Barber; treasurer, Norris Meek. Paul Pfeutze, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, has charge of the commission this year.

The Freshman commission is an organization sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., and has for its aims and ideals the same principles that the parent organization has. An attempt is made by the Y. M. C. A. cabinet member in charge of the commission to interest the members in religious and social affairs at the college, and to fit them for membership in the cabinet. In former years, the freshman organization has been an important factor in the success of the senior organization.

DOPE FAVORS AGGIE HARRIERS

Last Race of Season for Missouri Valley Champions

Dope gives the Aggie Harriers a decided edge over the Nebraska cross country team in the meet tomorrow afternoon. The race will be started during the second quarter and end during the half of the Aggie-Nebraska game.

The Aggie team this year probably is the best the school has produced for years. On November 8, the squad placed first at the Missouri Valley meet, held at Des Moines, Ia., which gave them the Missouri Valley championship.

The team is composed of R. E. Kimport, R. P. Aikman, M. L. Sallee, P. Axtell, E. E. Rutherford and J. Smith. Most of the team is inexperienced, not a man on the squad having ever won a letter in cross country running. Kimport and Smith however have made letters in track work. With the exception of Smith who is a senior and who graduates in the spring all the men will be back next year.

CORNHUSKERS COMING IN FULL FORCE FOR GAME

Nebraska Squad in Good Shape—Line-up Same as One Used Against Notre Dame

Lincoln, Nebr., November 21.—The Nebraska university football squad headed by Coach Fred T. Dawson left Lincoln late last night for Manhattan, Kan., where the Cornhuskers will meet the Kansas Aggies tomorrow afternoon.

Included in the Nebraska party were Captain Ed Weir, J. Weir, Bloodgood, Kamm, Bronson, Collins, Hubka, Myers, Locke, A. Mandery, Rhodes, Westoupal, Hutchinson, Robertson, Molzen, Scholz, Pospisil, Ristine, Burnham, Gillan, and Grow.

The Nebraska squad has been hard at work this week battling against the Kansas Aggie plays as demonstrated by the Freshmen. Before leaving for Manhattan Dawson indicated he would probably start the same line-up which faced Notre Dame at South Bend last Saturday.

This will find Rhodes and A. Mandery at halfback, Myers at fullback, Bloodgood at quarter, Robertson and Collins at ends, Captain Ed Weir and Molzen at tackles, Hutchinson and Pospisil at guards and Westoupal at center.

Bloodgood, Myers and R. Mandery have been nursing injuries this week. R. Mandery is out for the season but Bloodgood and Myers are expected to be able to start. Bronson has been calling at quarter during Bloodgood's absence. He is a product of the 1923 frosh squad, being a good ball-runner in addition to his ability to general the grid machine.

An auto caravan will leave Lincoln early Saturday morning, headed for the Manhattan game. Nebraska students are traveling by auto for this contest instead of special train as the distance between Manhattan and Lincoln is about 150 miles.

Morse Salisbury, Dr. H. T. Hill, Prof. C. V. Williams, Prof. N. E. Olson, Prof. A. P. Davidson, Prof. H. W. Cave, and Prof. C. H. Scholer drove to Concordia Tuesday afternoon to attend the presentation of the charter to the newly organized Kiwanis club at that city.

LAST HOME GAME FOR FIVE AGGIES

MUNN, DOOLEN, HARTER, HUTTON, BUTCHER GRADUATE

All Have Been Stars of Highest Type—"Mike" Comments upon Their Ability

Five Aggie athletes will perform for the last time on the gridiron at Ahearn field tomorrow afternoon. These men are Captain Lyle Munn, right end, Ronald Hutton, guard, CAPTAIN LYLE MUNN of Norton, Aggie Pilot.

Bernard Harter, center, Archie Butcher, fullback, and Arthur Doolen, left end.

"Mike" Gives Opinion
In the athletic experience of these men there is probably no one who has known them better and thus is better qualified to pass judgment on them than Michael Francis Ahearn, the man who is conceded to be second to none in knowledge of Aggie men, Aggie athletics, and in depth of Aggie interest. "Mike" comments upon these five Aggie stars as follows:

"Captain Lyle Munn is a man who possesses the requisites of a good leader and captain. On the gridiron he is cool headed and aggressive and always in the play. In all the games in which he has participated he has never been taken out of the game because of personal injuries and he has had to call time out but once on this account. Last year he was selected by Edward Cochran as an All-Missouri Valley end, and was placed on the honor roll chosen by the football coaches of the United States. Besides all this Munn is modest, unassuming, a good student, and the most popular captain the Aggies have ever had.

"Ronald Hutton is a man who has played both center and guard and made a good job of each. He won his spurs in the Nebraska game last year when his line playing was one of the features of the game. Hutton was a regular guard this year until he sustained an injured knee which kept him out of the last two games. However, he will probably start the Nebraska game.

Jinx Follows Butcher

"Archie Butcher is a splendid type of athlete. He possesses all the attributes a good football player should possess, but his effectiveness on the field has been greatly impaired because of the injuries which he has sustained. Each year it looks as though he would be tearing the opposing line to pieces, but the jinx seems to be camping on his trail and decrees that it should be otherwise. He is a good man, both on offense and defense, and could make anyone's team if the jinx would leave him alone for a year.

"Bernard Harter is a fine sportsman and is dependable and aggressive. Three years of passing and line play have won him an enviable reputation in the Missouri Valley. 'Pat' is another good student, and it is said that he is bitterly disappointed if he gets any grade lower than an E.

"Arthur Doolen, all-round athlete, is a hurdler of distinction, captain-elect of the basket ball team, and a wonderful man to play opposite Munn and hold down the left end. He is noted for his ability to snag forward passes and break up the end runs of the opposing team."

Dean Seaton Elected to Office

Dean R. A. Seaton returned from Washington, D. C., last Friday morning, where he had been attending the thirty-eighth annual convention of the Association of Land Grant Colleges.

Dean Seaton was elected secretary of the engineering section of the association. His duties will be to publish a quarterly bulletin which will contain reports of the engineering experiment stations of the fifty-one land grant institutions of the United States and its territories, including Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico.

Give Program at Clay Center

A go-to-college program was given last night at Clay Center by a group of students, under the direction of W. U. Guerrant. A one-act play, "Isn't It a Nice Day?" and a musical sketch taken from the Aggie Orpheum of last year were presented.

Those in the cast of the play were: Harold Sappenfield, Arthur Maxwell, and Jack Kennedy. The following members of the Pi Beta Phi sorority presented the musical sketch: Helen King, Kathryn King, Alice Carney, Virginia Carney, Janet Hellworth, Eleanor Mims, Nina Mae Howard, Florence Hanna, Jean Rankin, Mary Adda Boone, and Nora Yoder.

SPEAKS ON VOCATION CHOICE

Dr. Dyer of Kansas University Is Chapel Speaker

"America isn't getting nearly as much from its college students and graduates, as it should," said Dr. John R. Dyer, Dean of Men at Kansas University, who spoke in chapel Thursday morning on the subject "Principles Underlying the Choice of a Vocation."

"The greatest crime of American social life," said Dr. Dyer, "is that such a great number of people do not do what they are best fitted for. The choosing of a vocation is the greatest question before the American student today. There are two general things that we must know how to do before we are able to choose a life vocation. The first thing," said Dr. Dyer, "is to be able to think straight. That is what we should get in college," continued Dr. Dyer. "The second thing that must be learned is to live clean. There is no vocation in which these two things must not be had."

"As a guide for choosing a vocation," said Dr. Dyer, "imagine a large funnel, with three screens or sieves placed, one below the other in the funnel; we pour in at the top of this funnel all vocations. The first screen lets all of those vocations that are valuable pass thru, the second screen will let only the things that are interesting pass thru, and the last screen will let only those which are possible for us to do to come through. By the time you have passed these vocations through the funnel of elimination there will be but two or three left, and to choose from these pick out points in yourself that point to your success in that vocation."

Dean Dyer also spoke at the student forum in the college cafeteria Thursday noon. His topic was "What Should Be the Relationship Between Sexes on a College Campus."

AGGIES DETERMINED TO WIN ANNUAL HOMECOMING GAME

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED FOR GAME WITH CORNHUSKERS HERE TOMORROW

SPECIAL RATES OFFERED FOR KANSAS AND FROM KANSAS CITY, MO.

BOTH TEAMS IN GOOD CONDITION

Eight Games Have Been Played, Each Resulting in Husker Victory—Aggies Expect to Win by Surprise Passes

The biggest crowd that ever watched an Aggie football team in action is expected to be present when the Cornhuskers and Kansas State mix tomorrow for the ninth time. Fifteen thousand persons are expected to be in Memorial Stadium when the Cornhuskers line up to maintain their record of having never been defeated by an Aggie team.

Nebraska Eight-Time Winner

Up to the present time the Aggies have played the Nebraskans eight times and in every case the north-easterners have been victorious. In five of these games the Aggies were unable to score. Such results give the Cornhuskers a decided edge over the Aggies, but a chance for victory for the Wildcats is greater this year than it has ever been. The results of all-time Aggie-Nebraska games are as follows:

1911—Nebraska 59, K. S. A. C. 0.
1912—Nebraska 30, K. S. A. C. 6.
1913—Nebraska 24, K. S. A. C. 6.
1914—Nebraska 31, K. S. A. C. 0.
1915—Nebraska 31, K. S. A. C. 0.
1916—Nebraska 14, K. S. A. C. 0.
1922—Nebraska 21, K. S. A. C. 0.
1923—Nebraska 34, K. S. A. C. 12.
Totals—Nebraska 244, K. S. A. C. 24.

Nebraska suffered an overwhelming defeat at the hands of Notre Dame last week and inasmuch as the Aggies use the same style of football as does the eastern team, there is a probability that the Bachman method of procedure will also prove too much for the Cornhuskers.

Dope Favors Aggies

According to advance predictions, the Aggies can win or lose, depending on the dope that is considered. Nebraska beat Missouri 14-7 and the Tigers beat the Aggies by one touchdown, which shows the Nebraskans to be a better team by two touchdowns. But Nebraska only beat K. U. by one touchdown, which was the same amount the Aggies won by, so these results place the teams on a par. The dope which shows the Aggies to be a winner is found in the fact that Oklahoma beat Nebraska 28-0, Drake beat Oklahoma 28-0, and Drake defeated the Aggies by only one point. Figuring this way gives the Wildcats a 55 point advantage, but this propaganda is only reliable to the extent that it shows the Aggies have a very big chance to win.

During the last week Bachman has put the team through some of the most intensive training of the year, practicing late into the evening on new formations, most of which are new passing combinations. As last week was the first time the Aggies showed any strength in passing this year, Bachman believes the team has hit its old stride and will make the aerial game the one by which they can win from the Nebraskans.

Aggie Line-up Strong

There will be no important change in the Aggie line-up as compared to that which started last week, except that Archie Butcher will start in the fullback position in place of Whitfield. The change has been the result of great improvement on the part of Butcher during the last week and, as he is one of the heaviest backs that Bachman has, it is believed he will be very effective against the heavy Nebraska line. The capacity that Anderson displayed as a football general last week has greatly strengthened the Aggies' aggressiveness and with Cochran as a substitute quarterback who can drop kick when a few points are needed, the Aggies stand the best chance they have ever had to make the Cornhuskers bow to superior playing.

The Nebraska squad weathered the Notre Dame game in fairly good shape, emerging with only a few minor injuries, making it probable that all of their players will be in condition for the game tomorrow. The Aggies suffered no serious injuries in the Drake game; the Aggie homecoming crowd will see the best the two schools have to offer.

Many Reservations Made

Nebraskans, as well as former Aggies, are taking great interest in the contest. A block of 500 seats has been reserved by Nebraska students, and many smaller reservations have been made by groups of Aggie grads and organizations over the state.

Ideal weather conditions have been forecast for the day and it is probable that many persons will decide to come by auto at the last moment. Reduced rates have been granted by the Western Passenger Association, granting a fare and a third from all points in Kansas and Kansas City, Mo.

The probable line-up of the two teams is as follows:

Aggies	Position	Nebraska
Munn (c)	R. E.	Robertson
Keefe	R. T.	Mulzen
McGee	R. G.	Hullka
Harter	C.	Westoupal
Tombagh	L. G.	J. Weir
Ballard	L. T.	E. Weir (c)
Doolen	L. E.	Cullins
Anderson	Q. B.	Bloodgood
Smith	L. H.	Locke
Wilson	R. H.	Rhodes
Butcher	F. B.	Meysa

WILL HOLD NOVELTY PEP MEETING ON STADIUM FIELD

Band, Wampus Cats, Speeches, Pep Tonight at Stadium—Arouse Enthusiasm for Homecoming Game

Pep, and lots of it, will distinguish the rally which is to be held on Stadium field tonight at seven-thirty when the Wampus Cats and the cheer leaders, ably and noisily assisted by the Aggie band, will endeavor to stir things up a bit in anticipation of the Homecoming game with the Nebraska Cornhuskers. The program has been decided upon and arrangements are now being made to provide light for the occasion.

Snappy speeches by a peppy bunch of speakers will be part of the program. "Doc" Hill, Mike Ahearn, Professor Davis, and Coach Bachman are expected to throw restraint and dignity to the winds and demonstrate how such an occasion should be celebrated.

Cheer Leader Blackledge commended the freshmen very highly for their part in the cheering last Saturday. He asserted that if they did as well tomorrow the upperclassmen would do better to sit in a group in the section directly south of the freshmen and follow their example, than to hold board meetings and endeavor to chastise them.

Plans are being made for the freshmen to meet at the gymnasium tomorrow at one o'clock and march over to the stadium in a body.

Offer Farm Business Short Course

The Farm Business short course, which was offered last winter by the department of agricultural economics, will be repeated this winter between February 9 and 21 with essentially the same courses, but with all subject matter brought up to date. The course is designed to meet the growing need for reliable information on farm business problems, and consists of daily lectures and studies of the various phases of research work being carried on at the experiment station.

Dr. E. B. Keith is able to meet his classes this week after being confined to his home all last week because of illness.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming at any college or university is more than a football game, as some undergraduates are apt to believe. They see nothing in homecoming except perhaps a little larger crowd at the game. That is all.

It is hard to realize just what it means until you yourself have graduated and come back to see the old school, the first time perhaps for several years. It is fitting that one day should be picked when an effort is made by the college to bring back all of the old grads.

That this day be chosen as the day of a great gridiron contest is also appropriate. There is nothing that can instill more fighting spirit in a person than to watch the college team, his team, play an old opponent. There is nothing that can get closer to his heart than to hear the old yells and to hear "Alma Mater." There is no day that could bring him closer into the spirit of the college.

We who are still undergrads cannot know what it means. We will not know until several years pass and we find ourselves among those coming back. The thrills that we get then are the ones that the old grads are getting now as they gather for the annual Aggie homecoming.

There was a touching little story carried the other day about a poor little girl who "fell" in her scholastic standings after being ace high for three years. And then the blame was laid at the door of man! There is only one thing to be said. Three years is a long time to bluff any one set of people, and a mere girl cannot expect to go entirely through college without sooner or later displaying her natural ignorance.

For the boy who is working his way through college, we have just one word—one helping word, you might say. 'Tis as such. Keep away from the Kappas—and Pi Phi's.

We pity the poor devil whose girl comes out on top in this beauty scramble. That honor, added to usual egotism, will make her positively unbearable.

And here it can be announced that Harry is once more back in the fold where he belongs. His "only one" got mixed up the other night and wore the wrong pin. So Harry, at last, is cured for life.

From the intensive campaign put on to find the Aggie beauty, it might be inferred that said beauty is well concealed. As a matter of fact, very little evidence of it has been discovered thus far. Note: There is nothing personal in this.

Speakers so far at chapel seem to have enjoyed the talking of the student body.

The Tri-Delts haven't as yet succeeded in breaking the street light on the corner.

An ideal professor
Never holds class over time
Is occasionally eleven minutes late
Sometimes fails to make an assignment
Grades high
Gives few and easy quizzes
Once in a while dismisses class very early Talks much and asks little
And makes a final snap.
But unfortunately, there is no such animal.

The college extends an equal welcome to the old grads and to Nebraska, but hopes that the old grads will leave in much better spirit than does Nebraska.

One more thing about the beauty contest. The bachelor club, after searching long and hard for a contestant, finally gave up and decided to send Flo a blank frame. The club expects to win.

On Other Hills

Equipment for chlorine treatment for colds has been installed in the physician's office at the University of Indiana.

Due to the rapidly spreading craze of solving cross word puzzles, a "Society for the Suppression of Cross Word Puzzles" has been organized at McGill university, Montreal.

Seventy-five college journalists will attend the tenth annual national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, at Bloomington, Ill.

Plans for the production of Clyde Fitch's "The Truth" are being made by the Kansas University dramatic club. The play will be given December 8, 9, and 10.

Students of the University of California have been officially warned by the police of Berkeley to cease an epidemic of petty thievery which has recently come to the attention of the authorities.

The last leap year varsity dance will give Kansas university coeds a final chance to show just what good entertainers the fair sex can be.

Woodrow Wilson was the coach of Princeton's first football team, according to a recent issue of the Harvard Crimson. It was in the days of the Rugby game. The first game was played between Harvard and Princeton in 1877. Harvard was victorious.

FORMER STUDENT VISITS HERE

Smith Enroute from Minnesota to Texas on Survey Work

Dean O. Smith, a former Aggie student, was in Manhattan for the Drake game Saturday. Smith is connected with the United States coast and geodetic survey. Last summer Smith worked with a party of nine men who surveyed the Canadian border from International Falls, Minn., southeast toward the Great Lakes. This region is so isolated that only four times in four months mail was received by the men. It was difficult to gain access to this territory as it had never been properly surveyed. All travel was by canoe.

Mr. Smith is now on his way to San Antonio, Tex., where he will continue the same kind of work. He expects to return to the college the second semester to finish his work for a degree in civil engineering.

A. A. U. W. HOLDS RECEPTION

Madame de Horvath Guest of Honor of University Women

The local chapter of the American Association of University Women gave a reception in honor of Madame Cecile de Horvath Thursday evening, November 13, from 9 till 11 o'clock. Other guests were all Manhattan women eligible to membership in the organization. Talks were given by Miss Hyde on the national organization and its aims, and by Miss Ruby on the local chapter and its work. Those in the receiving line were: Miss Pearl Ruby, president; Miss Grace Hesse, chairman of the social committee; Miss Florence Clark, vice-president; Miss Helen Rushfeldt, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. C. O. Swanson and Miss Helen Elcock of the executive board.

To qualify for membership in A. A. U. W. a woman must be a graduate of a college or university on the approved list. Only K. U., Washburn, and K. S. A. C. are approved in Kansas. A woman may be an associate member if she is a graduate of a school not on the approved list or if she has attended one of the approved schools one year. Last year there were 90 members in K. S. A. C., and it is estimated that 125 women attended the reception Thursday.

The local organization is privileged to carry out as many of the national aims as it wishes. Each year it awards a prize of $125 to the junior girl having the highest scholarship; it has pledged $600 toward the purchasing of the national club house at Washington, D. C., and it has raised $200 to apply on the dormitory to be built at K. S. A. C. This chapter of A. A. U. W. was granted last year.

Tax Specialist Visits Here

J. O. Rankin of the department of rural economics of the University of Nebraska, will be in Manhattan on Saturday, November 22, to confer with Prof. Eric Englund of the agricultural economics department in regard to certain phases of the research work in taxation which is being carried on in Nebraska.

Verily Few Escape the Thrill of the Yellow Envelopes

Lo, a certain Aggie student boasted last week to her fellow classmates that she had never received a yellow envelope in her two years at K. S. A. C. "But pride goeth before a fall," and that same week she sauntered into Anderson, looked in her post office box and was in the act of pulling away when she felt the sensation that comes over quite a few of us when a little yellow envelope reclines in all its glory in our box.

"A flunk slip—why, why I thought they were all out a week ago."

Some few sufferers will be able to sympathize with her, but many have received so many slips they can't recall the first one very clearly.

"That sure doesn't look like the flunk slips I've seen at the house, but—" she said to herself timidly.

Shades of Hades! That envelope proved to contain a dean's notice reminding our young heroine that she had three hours of unexcused absences and requesting her to please come in and confer with those in authority at her "earliest possible convenience."

Students are realizing that this year 10 hours of unexcused absences are not allowed before a notice is sent and 10 hours this year may land the student suddenly in the cold world, anywhere between Kansas City and San Francisco. Students who are aware of their record in the dean's office should begin working on their "lines" now, for sooner or later the day of judgment will be at hand.

Personals

Miss Mary Taylor, '19, who, since graduation, has been instructor in household physics at K. S. A. C., is now studying for her master's degree at Columbia university.

Miss Mary Polson of the department of clothing and textiles is conducting a sixteen weeks' course in costume design at Teachers' College in Kansas City. Miss Polson goes to Kansas City each week-end for the class which meets Saturday mornings. This is an extension course offered by the K. S. A. C. department of home study for the benefit of teachers in the Kansas City schools who wish to secure college credit.

Miss Gudrun Carlson, home economics director of the American Institute of Meat Packers, spent Tuesday at the college. Miss Carlson discussed the work of the food economics and nutrition department with members of the department, and talked to the girls enrolled in foods on "The Bureau of Home Economics in the Institute of Meat Packers."

Miss Grace Derby, assistant librarian, spoke on "Scholarship" before the freshman home economics seminar Tuesday evening in recreation center.

Mr. G. R. Pauling of the building and repair department was called to Topeka today, by the state business manager, as technical expert to advise in the letting of contracts for electrical supplies for the state institutions.

Mr. George B. Watkins, who has been a chemistry instructor at K. S. A. C. for the past three years, is now teaching in the chemical engineering department at the University of Michigan. Mr. Watkins received his master's degree from K. S. A. C. in '24 and is now working toward his doctor's degree.

Francis Wilson and John Gartner spent last week-end at the former's home in Abilene.

Knute Peterson returned to school after visiting at his home in Enterprise for a few days.

Geraldine Cutler spent last week-end at her home in El Dorado.

Persistent Advertising:

A carpenter doesn't drive the nail with a single blow. The woodman doesn't fell the tree with a single swing of the axe. The artist cannot finish the masterpiece with one sitting.

It takes persistency to win out in the struggle for supremacy. Regardless of how hard you start, you can never reach the goal if you let anything stop you or discourage you.

Keep hammering along the same old line and you are bound to get somewhere. If you have something to sell, tell the world about it and keep telling them until you get it sold. Don't think that because a single advertisement did not bring direct results that advertising does not pay.

Go back and try it again, just as the carpenter drives home the nail, the woodman fells the tree, and the artist finishes the painting.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

NEBRASKA SENDS HARRIERS

Huskers Will Attempt to Defeat Valley Champions

Aggie cross country runners will again have a chance to display their championship ability when they meet the Cornhusker harriers during the Nebraska-Aggie game tomorrow. Having won the Valley championship whereas Nebraska did not place in the valley meet at Drake two weeks ago, the Aggies can be easily doped to down the Cornhuskers and claim a clean sweep of contests in which they have entered this year.

The same six men who have represented the Wildcats in every meet this year will again run, and there is a great possibility that local and valley records will be shattered.

Pigskin Squeals

The passing ability that the Aggie backs showed in the Drake game proves that the team has hit its stride. Nebraska is weak in defense of aerial playing and there is a big chance that the Wildcats will win on passes.

Much credit should be given to Paul Pfeutze, freshman cheer leader, for his patience in dealing with the Knothole gang and producing such an effective rooting section.

If the Aggies defeat Nebraska tomorrow they can justly say that they have completed a successful season, inasmuch as it has been the one ambition of the time for the Wildcats to beat K. U. and Nebraska.

Five stars of the Aggie team, Munn, Harter, Dooley, Butcher, and Hutton will be seen in action on the home gridiron for the last time tomorrow.

Beef against beef, is Bachman's idea. For this reason Butcher will start the game as fullback.

A Drake victory over Ames tomorrow will settle the football championship of the valley, but a defeat for them will cause a triple tie.

K. U. and Missouri will rest tomorrow in preparation for their annual Turkey day game at Columbia next week.

Bull fighting versus football is now the subject of interest for the sportsmen on the Canary Islands. In a recent fire on the islands the largest arena burned down and the people are so enthused over football that plans for a football stadium, which will hold 15,000 persons are under way. Think as you may, the United States is setting the example for the rest of the world.

Basketball Results Are Announced

Three games were forfeited by contestants in the intramural basketball tournament last week. Farm House forfeited two of these three games—one to the Triangulars on November 11 and the other to Sigma Phi Sigma on November 18, while T. N. K. forfeited the third to the Aggieville A. C. on November 18.

The results of the games last week are as follows: November 8—Phi Delta Theta 32, Phi Kappa 11; November 11—Beta Phi Epsilon 24, Alpha Sigma Psi 8; Sigma Phi Sigma 32, Phi Lambda Theta 12; Kappa Phi Alpha 25, Omega Tau Epsilon 23; Triangulars 2, Farm House 0; Aggieville A. C. 11, Veterinary Medics 10; Kanza 18, Belmont 8; November 12—Delta Tau Delta 27, Phi Kappa 12; Kappa Sigma 31, Phi Delta Theta 9; Sigma Alpha Epsilon 22, Acacia 18; Sigma Phi Epsilon 18, Sigma Nu 14; Pi Kappa Alpha 11, Alpha Tau Omega 4; Beta Theta Pi 33, Phi Sigma Kappa 13; November 17—Beta Theta Pi 25, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 8; Kanza 19, Rinky Dinks 13; Edgerton 24, Aggieville A. C. 16; Omega Tau Epsilon 27, Alpha Sigma Psi 5; November 18—Rinky Dinks 11, Veterinary Medics 10; Aggieville A. C. 2, T. N. K. 0; Alpha Rho Chi 20, Triangulars 17; Phi Lambda Theta 9, Kappa Phi Alpha 8; Sigma Phi Sigma 2, Farm House 0.

Sophomores Lead in Hockey

With a total score of 13, the Sophomore girls' hockey team is in the lead in the interclass hockey tournament. Four of the six games have been played and the remaining two will be played this week. The scores for the games that have been played are Sophomores 7, Seniors 1; Freshmen 1, Juniors 1; Juniors 4, Seniors 1; Freshmen 1, Sophomores 6.

INTRAMURAL SWIM OFFERED

Large Number of Events Open for Competition

The intramural swimming meet will be held December 8 and 9 in the men's pool, according to Prof. E. A. Knoth. Preliminaries will be contested on December 8 and finals on December 9.

One point will be awarded for each entry, while winners of the first four places in each event will receive five, four, three, and one points, respectively, toward the total scores for the season. The winner of each event will be given a gold medal. Organizations will not be allowed to enter more than fifteen men in each race.

The events of this contest are 40 yard free style, 100 yard free style, 220 yard free style, 100 yard back stroke, 100 yard breast stroke, 160 yard relay for four men, plunge for distance, fancy diving, and object diving.

Send the Collegian home.

Compensation Blanks Here

Students who served in the late war and have not made their applications for adjusted compensation may do so at the college R. O. T. C. office, which has been authorized to help the veterans in every possible way, and will issue blanks to those who apply for them.

At a special business meeting of the Browning Literary society Friday, pledge and initiation services were held. The girls pledged were Ruth Baker, Lois McNitt, Louise Magaw, and Alice Abbott. Those initiated were Hyattia Wilcox and Esther George.

R. H. Lush of the college dairy department left Tuesday evening for Lawrence where he joined a party of business and dairy men on a short inspection trip through Bourbon county. They made the trip by automobile, going from Lawrence to Fort Scott, where they visited a condenser and some of the nearby dairy farms.

J. H. Moyer, field agent for the department of agricultural economics, will be at the college on Monday, November 24, to assist in summarizing the cost of production data which that department is gathering in Jackson county.

Ferne Moore spent last week-end visiting her parents in Blue Rapids.

Dr. Martha Kramer returned Monday from Topeka where she spent the last two weeks supervising the feeding of a group of children of from five to twelve years of age at the Kansas Children's Home.

To rent: Room for boys at 1206 Vattier. Also roommate wanted. Board if desired.

The marriage of Miss Laura Pepper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pepper of Conway Springs, and Burton Colburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Colburn of Manhattan, took place Friday, November 14, at the Baptist parsonage in Chicago. Miss Dorothy Walker was bridesmaid, and Jack Brightman, formerly of K. S. A. C., was best man. Mrs. Colburn attended K. S. A. C. for two years and is a member of Alpha Delta Pi. Mr. Colburn graduated from the college last spring and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He was prominent in athletics, being captain of the K. S. A. C. swimming team for two years and a member of the national rifle team. Mr. and Mrs. Colburn will make their home at 6110 Stony Island, Chicago, where Mr. Colburn is a federal inspector for the Moorehead Inspection bureau.

George Mark of Lawrence was a guest at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house Monday.

Dan Bolin of K. U. spent last week-end visiting at the Phi Kappa house.

Week-end guests at the Kappa Delta house were Misses Esther Eldred and Bertha Faulconer of Herington and Miss Florence Stebbins of St. George.

Kenneth Merrill of Blue Rapids was the guest of Harvey Addams at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house Wednesday.

Phi Kappa Theta announces the pledging of H. L. Hoffman of Marysville.

Dinner guests at the Phi Kappa Theta house Sunday were A. B. Campbell and Misses Martha Foster, Isabel Potter, and Agnes Lauchland.

Miss Mabel Blevins of Colfax, Ill., and Dr. V. R. Starkey of Douglass, Kan., were married at the bride's home Saturday, November 8. Doctor Starkey graduated from the division of veterinary science here with the class of 1922. They will make their home at Douglass.

The marriage of Miss Hazel Sheltenberger and Gerhart W. Gunderson of Duluth, Minn., took place Tuesday, November 18, at 10 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sheltenberger, 1415 Fairchild avenue. Mrs. Gunderson graduated from K. S. A. C. in 1914 and for the last six years has been teaching domestic science in the schools of Crosby and Chisholm, Minn. Mr. Gunderson is a graduate of the University of Louisiana. Mr. and Mrs. Gunderson will make their home in Duluth, where Mr. Gunderson is an engineer.

Prof. R. W. Conover entertained at 7 o'clock dinner Tuesday evening at the Gillett hotel in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Genung of Ft. Branch, Ind. The dinner was followed by a dance at the home of Prof. and Mrs. H. W. Davis. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Homer Genung, Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Rogers, Prof. and Mrs. H. W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Forrester, Misses Mary Polson, Muriel Shaver, Mina Bates, and Izil Polson, and Prof. C. W. Matthews, Prof. N. A. Crawford, and Alan Dailey.

Mrs. W. T. Foster entertained at her home Tuesday evening with a dinner for Miss Genevieve Tracy's Big Sister group. About 20 girls were present.

Miss Araminta Holman will entertain tonight for Miss Helen Halm and Miss B. Voorhies at a dinner at the Open Door, at 6:30 Saturday evening.

Alpha Theta Chi held open house for Phi Lambda Theta on Saturday evening, November 15.

Charles Lawrence of Madison, Kan., is spending the week-end at the Delta Tau Delta house.

FOR "WEB," "EURO" ALUMNI

The annual Webster-Eurodelphian homecoming banquet is to be revived this year and will be held Saturday evening, November 22, at 6:15, in the banquet room of the college cafeteria. The banquet originated five years ago as a social function at which alumni "Webs" and "Euros" could renew acquaintances as well as meet the newer members of the organizations.

Plans for this year's banquet have been under way for some time and its success is assured. According to the "Web" president, Alvin Ritts, the program is to be short and full of pep. The time is 6:15 so that those present may attend other functions later in the evening.

Captain Joe Sweet, '17, commandant at Fairmount college and his wife, Mary Weibel Sweet, '17, are back for the Homecoming game. They are guests at the home of Lieutenant McGarrough, who is the coast artillery officer on the staff here.

Lewis Walker spent last week-end at his home in Abilene.

Don't Flaunt Red—Brown Bull Is Full of Wild, Wild Kicks

If you have on anything red tomorrow when the Brown Bull comes tearing down the campus—put on your hat or button your coats because he is wild enough now. Perhaps it's the moonshine of the last week or two, or maybe it's the pigskin food on which he has been fed. Anyway, he's full of kick.

If he isn't loosed tomorrow there is danger that he will break his bonds and demolish his quarters in Kedzie so the journalism students are secretly plotting to cut his leash. Then it will be a free-for-all rodeo and each person who pays the entry fee of a quarter may rope him in.

It is rumored that objections are expected from the faculty.

ALUMNI HEAR OF HOMECOMING

Doctor King Explains the Day in Radio Address

"The game is the thing, but it is not to see the football battle alone that we have Homecoming," the alumni were reminded by Dr. H. H. King, well known alumnus and head of the department of chemistry, in a radio address last Monday night. "For genuine thrills, the homecomers could see nothing better than the game, but they also want to see the material improvements and learn that K. S. A. C. is advancing in many ways," Doctor King went on.

"Homecoming has been established to bring many old students and friends back at the same time. There is no chance for a lonely feeling then. On every side we find friends. The fraternity and sorority houses, the boarding and rooming houses, each holds its quota of friends and former students."

"This institution has been making a marvelous advance in every way and it is not fair to it for us to remain unacquainted with its developments. Fair play and good sportsmanship in life's battles are being encouraged here. Few institutions have as healthy an atmosphere in which to gain information as our own K. S. A. C. possesses."

Miss Maud Williamson of the department of education spoke at the sectional teachers' meetings in Beatrice, Lincoln, and McCook, Nebr., last week.

AGGIE GRAIN JUDGERS ARE PICKED FOR CHICAGO SHOW

Men on Team Have Had Practical Experience—K. S. A. C. Placed Fourth Last Year

A grain judging team has been selected which will compete with teams from 15 other agricultural colleges in the second annual inter-collegiate crops judging contest, which is to be held in connection with the International Hay and Grain show at Chicago on November 29.

Those on the team are: Carl Bowler, Manhattan; John E. Norton, Grandfield; O. L. Norton, LaCygne; and Glenn Reed, Galesburg. The men, who are selected for the team, have had three or more years of practical experience in farm crop experiment station work and were selected on the basis of superior class and laboratory work. They will be given further intensive training between now and the time they leave for Chicago.

Last year the K. S. A. C. team placed fourth. The contest has been much more difficult this year and will include the identification of about 60 kinds of weeds, crop plants, and diseases of crop plants chosen from a list of more than 200 possible samples. The students will be required to give not only the common name, but the Latin or botanical name. There will also be classes of grains to judge for seed or market value.

A silver loving cup will go to the winning team and cash prizes are being offered by seed companies. The work and papers of the contestants will be judged by a special committee of farm crops and grain experts.

Who Knows—Royal Purple Assessments May Be Collected

"Give us air, your honor, give us air," yell the lunatics. "Six months in a cage," roars the judge.

And thus ends the most pathetic tragedy ever enacted on a K. S. A. C. stage. The Royal Purple staff murders the part of the lunatic and Prexy emulates the judge. The scene is laid inside the Royal Purple office.

The scene opens. A member of the staff is in the hall, fastening to the wall a sign which reads, "Pay your Royal Purple assessment here." Inside the office the staff expectantly awaits results.

Suddenly the hall is filled with a roaring mob. The staff rushes to the window to receive the flood of gold. But the mob is charging in the other direction. Yes, they have read the sign.

The staff implores, beseeches, weeps, and wails. It prays and curses. It rushes into the seething mob, only to return as wild-eyed maniacs.

Then Prexy enters with a body guard and a trial is held, after which the staff is led jabbering to its wire-enclosed dungeon.

The most pathetic part of it all is that the demented staff still thinks it can collect Royal Purple assessments. To ease its mind the cage has been transformed into an office. This cage with its inmates is located in the basement of Anderson hall and may be viewed free of charge.

Mrs. Deubig, a representative from national headquarters, will be here in December. Although her work will be primarily with the girls, she will meet with the men's board of examiners to discuss plans for life-saving work and to demonstrate new methods.

YOU'LL LAUGH AT THIS ONE

Purple Masque to Present "The First Year" December 12

"The most human comedy the theater has produced in a decade," is the way the Burns Mantle Evening Mail characterized "The First Year," after its initial performance in New York in 1920. This comedy will be presented by Purple Masque at the college auditorium December 12, following a week of road performances.

On seeing the play one will feel that it merits such comment. Alexander Woolcott, in the New York Times, said of it, "Now at last is the play for all of us. It is written for the wide, wide world." The New York Evening World spoke of it as being "Funny because it's true."

Funny and true it is with its qualities of simplicity and joyousness. In the character of Tommy Tucker is portrayed the unromantic young business man whose bride quarreled with him, packed up her things, and went back to mother. It hurt Tommy pretty badly but the way in which it is worked out is a perfect "scream," and the spectators will be rollicking in laughter, even at the sight of Tommy's woes.

Prof. D. B. Whelan, a K. S. A. C. graduate of '13, who is now a member of the faculty in the department of entomology at the University of Nebraska, is visiting at the college this week-end.

AFFIRMATIVE TEAMS WIN INTER-SOCIETY DEBATES

Necessitates Picking New Question for Semifinals after Thanksgiving

Affirmative teams from five literary societies are left undefeated at the end of the inter-society contests on the question, "Resolved: That the child labor amendment to the federal constitution should be adopted." This necessitates the selection of a new question for the semifinals which will be held November 25. Finals will be held after the Thanksgiving vacation.

The undefeated teams are from the Eurodelphian, Franklin, Alpha Beta, Athenian, and Browning societies. Thirteen teams were entered, two teams by the Brownings, Athenians, Franklins, Alpha Betas, Websters, and Hamiltons, and one team by the Eurodelphians.

In the first round of the debates, winners were the Franklin, Alpha Beta, Athenian, and Eurodelphian affirmative teams and the Athenian and Alpha Beta negative teams. The second rounds were won by the Franklin and Browning affirmatives from the Athenian and Alpha Beta negatives.

Della Justice is chairman of the intersociety debate committee. Coaches having charge in each society are Alpha Beta, Carrie Justice; Franklin, Lois Gorton; Athenian, H. H. Brown; Eurodelphian, Mildred Pound; Browning, Leah Arnold; Hamilton, Phil Noble; Webster, Foster Hinshaw.

Presentation of Colors Is Postponed

After taking a vote of members of the R. O. T. C., it has been decided to postpone indefinitely the ceremony of presenting the colors over the stadium, which was to have taken place at the Homecoming game. An insufficient number of cadets volunteered to turn out and Colonel Bugbee did not wish to make it compulsory.

The colors were to have been presented by Colonel Lucile Herr, Major Maxine Ransom, Major Virginia Reeder, and Major Laureda Thompson, the honorary officers of the college R. O. T. C. The ceremony will probably be held some time in the spring.

Martin Fritz, graduate assistant in psychology, went to Russell Saturday November 15 where he talked before the Russell County Teachers' association on the topic "Objectifying and Standardizing School Work."

Never Again Says Extension Man Who Judges Baby Show

At a recent community fair "somewhere in Kansas," one of the K. S. A. C. extension men was called upon to judge a baby show, and despite his strenuous objections had the job thrust upon him. He somehow survived the experience, although he cannot recall now whether prizes were awarded upon the cuteness of the baby, the beauty of its mother, or the size and quickness of the father's fist, but at least his decisions were accepted.

After awarding the prizes, as the fond parents approached the stand to get their respective "exhibits," the crestfallen mother of the baby who won second prize grabbed the little one up, and, as she gave it a vigorous shake, was heard to remark, "You little brat, you only got second place!" in a tone which plainly indicated what she thought of the decision. The judge was only too thankful that the shake had been administered to the baby and not to him.

RETURNS ON ELECTRIC SCORE- BOARD FROM OKLAHOMA

Sigma Delta Chi Promises Best Entertaining of Year—Band Will Add Pep

Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism fraternity, will give a Thanksgiving Day football party in the College auditorium when the results of the Aggie-Oklahoma game will be shown on the mechanically operated score board.

Band Will Be There

This will be the biggest and best party of the year, according to the committee in charge. Previous to showing the results from the game, and between halves of the game, the college band will play. Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism fraternity, will sell refreshments during the entire program.

Last year's Thanksgiving Day party was held in the Marshall theater, when a capacity crowd attended. The party this year promises to be equally attractive, since there is no football game in this immediate locality and comparatively few rooters will attend the game at Oklahoma.

Start at 2:30

The new mechanically operated score board was built in the department of journalism and has been used only twice this year, since all of the Aggie games except those with Washburn and Missouri have been played at home. The program will start at 2:30 and genuine entertainment is promised. The admission will be 25 cents.

Music Students Present Recital

The following recital was given Monday afternoon, November 24, in the college auditorium, by students in the department of music:

Bluetie (MacDowell) and Nocturne (Grieg), Ruth Faulconer.

Caro mio Ben (Giordani) and Were I Gard'ner (Chaminade), Esther Ankeny.

Sonata, Op. 10, No. 2, Allegro, Allegretto, and Presto, (Beethoven), Mary Anthony.

Angels Ever Bright and Fair, from Theodore, (Handel), Mildred Michener.

Nocturne, E Flat, Op. 9, No. 2, (Chopin), Helena Viers.

The Day Is No More, (Carpenter), Mrs. Salisbury.

Concerto No. 7, Allegro Moderato, (Debussy), Dorothy Hall.

Prelude, A Flat, Op. 28, No. 17, (Chopin), Cornelia Schaaf.

Sonata, No. 1, in G Minor, Grave, Allegro, Sarabande, and Allegro, (Handel), Ashley Monahan, cellist, and Mabel A. Murphy, accompanist.

K. U. Victory Brings Joy to Barbers—Ban on Razors Is Lifted

We wondered whether the K. U. men would really give their razors and the barbers a vacation when the announcement was made of their resolution to quit shaving until Thanksgiving if they were defeated by the Aggies.

Well, we beat them you know, and on the following Monday the K. U. cheer leader issued a proclamation to the effect that shaving was taboo. However, it met with such a storm of protest that at a meeting of "K" men and the Men's Student Council, a resolution was passed stating that no man student was to shave his upper lip until the team was returned victorious. A paddling squad enforced the order and "baseball moustaches," nine on a side, became the order of the day.

The score of the K. U.-Nebraska game merely gave the little moustaches a new lease on life. It was not until the K. U.-Washington game, with a majority score for K. U., that the "misplaced eyebrows" began to disappear. Rusty razors, old soap, and shaving lotions were brought forth and put to use on long neglected upper lips. The male student body regained normalcy once more, with a few exceptions, who were, no doubt, so charmed with the effect produced that they hadn't the heart to cut the little adornment off.

Aggies at Washington

Prof. H. R. Sumner, '16, extension specialist in farm crops attended the seventeenth annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy held at Washington, D. C., on November 10 and 11. Professor Sumner was chairman of a symposium program on the legume problem. This symposium was arranged to be of particular interest to extension specialists. Papers were read by Dr. R. A. Oakley, '03, of the bureau of plant industry and by Ralph Kenney of the University of Kentucky, formerly crops extension specialist at K. S. A. C.

Vets on Inspection Trip

The senior veterinary students went to Kansas City November 19 for the purpose of gaining first hand knowledge regarding methods of federal meat inspection in the large packing plants. The class also visited the American Royal Livestock show. They were in charge of Dr. C. H. Kittelman.

OBSERVE HOME PAPER WEEK

Plan Sponsored by Prof. Crawford—Essay Contests for Children

Kansas will observe Home Paper week, November 30 to December 6, under a plan originally sponsored by Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the department of journalism. He is chairman of the committee appointed by the president of the Kansas Press Association, to carry the plan into operation.

The purpose of the week is to stress the importance of a good newspaper to a community, and to stimulate the service which the publisher renders by letting him know it is appreciated.

In many cities, civic clubs are planning special programs for the week. A good many newspapers in the state have announced essay contests for school children of the city or county, offering cash prizes for compositions on such subjects as "The Home Paper and the Community," "The Home Paper and the School," "What the Home Paper Has Done for My Community," "Why I Like My Home Paper," and "The Home Paper and the Farm."

Associated with Professor Crawford on the committee to stimulate interest in Home Paper week are A. J. Carruth, Jr., managing editor of the Topeka State Journal; George Harman, editor of the Farmer's Indicator, Valley Falls; Mack Cretcher, secretary to Governor Davis and formerly active in newspaper work in Kansas, and R. A. Clymer, editor and manager of the El Dorado Times.

AGGIES READY FOR SOONERS

Team Leaves Tonight for Norman—Will Rely upon Passes

Twenty-six Aggies will leave tonight to tangle with the Sooners at Norman, Okla., on Thanksgiving day. This is the last game of the year for the Aggies and they are determined to place one more win to their credit. As far as dope is concerned the Aggies have a considerable edge over Oklahoma, but when it is considered that the Sooners beat Nebraska there can be no definite forecast of a probable result.

The team went through a stiff workout last night in preparation for the game. The lineup against Oklahoma will probably be the same as that which started against Nebraska, but results in practice may change it if any bright lights show up. The Aggies will again try to use the aerial game and with the showing made so far in practice the Sooners will have to be very much awake if they expect to break up the Aggie passes.

Last year the Aggies beat Oklahoma 21-20, in one of the most exciting games witnessed on the home gridiron. Both teams use the aerial game and consequently the Aggies have spent much time in perfecting a defense against passing.

The Aggies emerged from the Nebraska game without any serious injuries and as Oklahoma did not receive any injuries in the Washington game, the Sooner followers should see the best of the two teams have in action on Thursday.

SIG EPS WIN DECORATION CONTEST

Cup Is Now Permanent Property of the Fraternity

The Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity now holds as permanent property the Homecoming cup, awarded by W. A. A. and the Wampus Cats for winning the annual decoration contest. This is the third year the Sig Eps have won the cup. Next year a new cup will be presented.

The three highest standing organizations and the order in which they are placed are: Sigma Phi Epsilon, first, Phi Kappa Theta, second, Pi Kappa Alpha, third.

The judges of the contest were Mrs. Grace Varney, Miss Emma Hyde, L. C. Shafer, Miss Lois Richardson, and Clifford Ebbelgaard.

HI-Y PROGRAM IS COMPLETED

MANY PROMINENT MEN TO SPEAK BEFORE MEETING

470 Registrations Have Been Received—150 More Are Expected to Attend

Final arrangements for the entertainment of between five and six hundred boys at the older boys' conference to be held at K. S. A. C. Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, November 28, 29, and 30, have been completed, according to Dr. A. A. Holtz, general secretary of the college Y. M. C. A. Over 470 registrations had been received yesterday morning and at least 150 more are expected before the conference.

Business Men Plan Program

An elaborate program has been prepared for the visitors by the committee in charge of arrangements for the conference, which is composed of B. V. Edworthy, Bret Hull, R. R. Price, Louis Farmer, A. R. Springer, O. M. Rhine, Ralph Ewing, and Harold Hughes.

The following is the program for the three-day session:

Brownings and Athenians Entertain

The Browning and Athenian literary societies entertained their alumni at a special program in their hall Saturday evening. A play, "Advertising for a Husband," was given by members of the two societies. The cast was, Kitty, Inez Howard; Katie, Ruth King; Colonel Backup, Frank Morrison; Wally Watkins, Emil Sunley; Tom, C. W. Londerholm.

The inter-society point cup was presented to the Athenians. After the program refreshments were served.

AGGIE POP STUNTS REHEARSED

Dress Rehearsals to Be Held Thursday Night, December 4

First rehearsals of the Aggie Pop stunts were held in the Auditorium last Wednesday night. Most of the stunts consist of music, songs, and dances. Some include humor from the latest Broadway song hits.

Each organization is to have three practices in the Auditorium before the dress rehearsal, which is to be held on Thursday night, December 4. Costumes are to be inspected by Miss Machir and Dean Van Zile.

In-between stunts are to be in charge of Inez Jones and Marie Farmer. The selling of candy is to be handled by a concession committee, which will meet Monday evening, December 1, to make plans.

Different colored tickets will be sold for the two nights, December 5 and 6. The tickets, which will sell for 25 cents, will go on sale December 1.

FROSH CAPTAIN ELECTED

Corsaut Recommends Twenty-four Men for Numerals

O. C. Fritzmeier, Stafford, has been elected captain of the freshman football team by the members of the squad. Fritzmeier plays tackle.

C. W. Corsaut, freshman coach, has recommended twenty-four men for class numerals. As the athletic board seldom awards more than twenty-two numerals it has not been decided how many will receive the insignia this year.

Those recommended by Coach Corsaut are:

Backs—Joe Holsinger, Kansas City, Kan.; Kenneth Boyd, Irving; D. Wingfield, Junction City; Carl Ehms, Inman; Jim Douglas, Burlington; M. P. Thornton, Cherryvale; Joe Limes, Iola; J. C. Hopkins, Chapman; Harold Mountain, Ada; ends—Robert Smith, Cherryvale; L. Bodesheim, Seneca; Theodore Fleck, Wamego; O. E. Campbell, Cimarron; tackles—J. Grimes, Burlington; O. C. Fritzmeier, Stafford; C. L. Dean, Manhattan; A. Wilford; guards—George Kunz, Glasco; James Tobias, Manhattan; C. E. Crews; H. B. Woodward, Yates Center; W. Koerner; centers—LaVerne Spears, Manhattan; L. P. Norton.

Prospects for M. V. Championship in New Major Sport Craze

Representatives from Missouri Valley schools will meet in Kansas City next week to organize a valley cross-word puzzle conference.

Enthusiastic puzzlers met here Thursday and organized the Alpha chapter of Psi Psi Psi. And already this has become a national organization with chapters in all the leading colleges and universities of the country. National headquarters will be here until the purchase of the Woolworth building of New York is completed.

The local team will have its first valley contest when it meets the team from K. U. on the stadium field at the big celebration which is being planned for Ground Hog day.

Team tryouts will be held January 2. The eligibility rules are similar to the football eligibility rules. The contests will be conducted on the time element, the one who finishes first winning. Each contestant will be provided with a puzzle which he has never seen before and a hand dictionary. The players may have time out to get a drink of water and sharpen their pencils. The player desiring time out calls, "King's axe!"

The Aggie prospects are good. There are a lot of interested capable people who are spending all of their time in training. One girl was observed taking home 14 puzzles the other day. She is a loyal Aggie, full of the old fight.

The only dope available is that the Aggies have the advantage of being the originators of the idea. But from all other standpoints the big game in February should be an exciting, well-matched contest.

This is a good chance for all the cross word puzzle fiends to put the middle letter in a synonym for themselves which has three letters, begins with an "n" and ends with a "t."

QUILL CLUB ELECTS EIGHT

Thirty-seven Submit Manuscripts—Selection Based on Quality

Ur Rune of the American College Quill Club has announced the election of new members. This year thirty-seven people submitted manuscripts, and out of that number eight were chosen for membership. Two of those chosen are members of the faculty.

Those elected were Prof. R. W. Conover and Prof. C. W. Matthews, both of the English department; Mary Louise Clarke, GS 1, Paola; Mary Marlene Kimball, IJ 2, Manhattan; Mrs. R. L. von Trebra, GS Sp., Oswego; J. E. Conklin, GS Sp., Hutchinson; Zaven K. Surmelian, Ag. 3, Armenia; and Muriel Shaver, IJ 4, Cedar Vale.

The American College Quill Club is a national organization composed of those who can write material of professional quality. Ur Rune is limited to thirty members. The committee that judged the manuscripts was composed of Prof. N. A. Crawford, Miss Ada Rice, Prof. H. W. Davis, Josephine Hemphill, and Alice Paddleford.

GRAD SPEAKS AT SEMINAR

Tells of Experiences Since Leaving College

"How to sell myself was the part of my education that I found college had not given me," said Leo Moser, '17, in his talk at the journalism seminar Monday afternoon.

Finding himself without a job and work hard to find, Mr. Moser found that the one most important part of a man's education is to be able to land the job. Journalistic ability rarely gets a conference with the inside office. It is the man that is able to get before the boss and then "sell himself" that always has a position. He may have poorer ability than many others, but he gets the job because he is able to convince the company that he is the man they want.

"Many people," said Mr. Moser, "probably do not need my advice because they have the natural gift of salesmanship, but there are others like myself that must learn."

College does not give anyone what Moser found that he lacked. That is why he is telling others what he wishes some one had told him, "Learn how to sell yourself."

At present Mr. Moser is connected with Halsey, Stuart & Co., a Chicago bond and investment firm, as publicity expert.

A.A.U.W. Offers Scholarship to Girls

Freshman women are urged in a letter which has been sent to them by the K. S. A. C. branch of the American Association of University Women, to begin serious study in their first year in college. Last year the branch here offered a scholarship of $150 to the young woman who had the highest grades in the junior class. Miss Hilda Black, a junior in home economics, was granted the award last spring.

The purpose of the letter is to make the students realize the importance of application to study at the beginning of their college work. Anyone interested in the requirements is invited to apply to the scholarship committee.

Students Attend C. E. Convention

Seven students from K. S. A. C. attended the Northeastern district Christian Endeavor convention at Atchison, November 21, 22, and 23. L. R. Combs, secretary and treasurer of the district, Jessie Jones, and Bernice Souder represented the Manhattan Christian church. Helen Batchelor, president of the district, James Griffes, and Clarence Harder represented the Presbyterian church. Harold Stover was sent by the Congregational church.

In the election L. R. Combs was reelected secretary-treasurer for the coming year. Helen Batchelor will be junior superintendent of the district, having charge of all junior C. E. work.

The convention next year will be held at Glasco. Ninety delegates were registered at the convention this year.

Doctor Andrews Delivers Address

Dr. W. H. Andrews of the department of education addressed the Popenoe Entomological club Thursday evening on the subject, "Mathematics in the Service of Biology." Doctor Andrews traced the beginnings of the use of statistical methods in biological research to the place where they were accepted as necessary experimental procedure. He stressed especially the history of the normal distribution curve, the standard deviation, and the theory of correlation.

Jardine Returns from Washington

President W. M. Jardine returned Saturday from Washington, D. C., where he attended a meeting of representatives of land grant colleges. President Jardine was appointed by President Coolidge to be a member of the agricultural commission. The commission held its first meeting in Washington and is now in recess until after the first of the year.

Aggie Night Planned at Lincoln

Word from T. A. Leadley, '13, managing editor of the Nebraska Farmer, Lincoln, Neb., and president of the K. S. A. C. alumni organization there, says that the group will get together on the night of December 1 to be a part of the radio party for Kansas Aggie night.

AGGIE WINNINGS HIGH AT ROYAL

MANY PRIZES WON AT SHOW BY COLLEGE STOCK

Stock and Poultry Judging Teams Placed First—Will Compete in International at Chicago

Prize winnings of the animal husbandry department of the Kansas State Agricultural college at the American Royal livestock show totaled more than those won by any other exhibitor, according to a final check of the winnings. Total awards won by the college were as follows: 11 championships, 44 first prizes, 34 second prizes, and 23 third prizes.

Best Showing Ever Made

This showing was the best ever made by K. S. A. C. in the history of the show, in spite of the fact that competition at the 1924 Royal was unusually keen.

In addition to the awards made on livestock exhibited, the college stock judging team took first at the Royal over a field of eleven entries, and the poultry judging team of the disabled veterans also won the championship in that competition.

The stock and poultry judging teams will also compete at the International Livestock show in Chicago this month, but only college sheep will be sent for exhibition. A new rule limiting the weight of hogs shown to 450 pounds made it impossible for K. S. A. C. to show, as most of its best hogs weigh considerably over 450 pounds. The K. S. A. C. hogs which were exhibited at the Royal were sold at Kansas City.

Cattle Sold at Kansas City

Cattle exhibited at the Royal were sold at the Royal sale instead of being shipped to the International show in Chicago. Feeling that because of its location, the interests of K. S. A. C. are more closely identified with the Royal than the International show, caused sale of the cattle in Kansas City, according to Dr. C. W. McCampbell, head of the animal husbandry department of the college. Cattle sold at the Royal brought an average price of $13 a hundred.

This year, as in the past, one day was set aside as Kansas Aggie day at the Royal show, and nearly 300 Aggie students went down on a special train sponsored by the Block and Bridle club.

Dean Dyer Addresses Girls

Dean John R. Dyer, of K. U., spoke at Vespers Thursday night. He spoke of the relationship of girls and boys, the influence the older generation should have upon the pleasures of youth, and the influence girls may have upon the practice of drinking among students.

Margaret Burtis led devotionals and an octette sang "Faith, Hope, and Love."

Y. M.-Y. W. PLAN TACKY PARTY

Committee in Charge Arranges Program of Stunts and Games

The annual Thanksgiving party which is sponsored by the college Y. W. and Y. M. C. A., will be held in Recreation Center, Thursday evening at eight o'clock. The party this year will be characterized by attires of aprons and overalls, which all attending are asked to wear.

Last year over 200 who were unable to go home for the Thanksgiving vacation attended.

Every student in the college is invited to attend as a guest of the two organizations. A short program will be given, which will be followed by games and stunts in keeping with the season.

The committee in charge of the event is composed of Milton Kerr, John Whetzel, James Blackledge, Roy Bainer, Frank Morrison, Ruth Limbocker, Juanita Roulit, Dorothy Johnson, and Mary Henry.

Directories Are Out

All student directories will be distributed before Thanksgiving vacation, according to Genevieve Tracy, who is in charge of the directories this year. Some 3,590 copies have been printed. Every student and faculty member will be given one and 100 will go to the Manhattan chamber of commerce to be distributed among the business men of the town.

The cost of publishing these directories is paid by the S. S. G. A. from the activity fees which all students paid upon entering school. There are a few minor changes in the directories this year, general offices being listed besides the regular list of professors' offices.

TREES

It is a matter of general opinion that the K. S. A. C. campus is one of the most beautiful in the country. But have you ever analyzed the college grounds and tried to discover just what it is that makes the campus beautiful? If it is a tangible thing that can be placed on a higher plane than it now is it would be wise to so improve it.

One of the most distinctive things about the campus buildings is the fact that they are all made of white limestone. This construction adds a great deal to the general beauty. And then the position of the college, overlooking the townsite, adds much to its attractiveness.

But the real beauty of the Aggie campus lies, we believe, in the trees. Through the foresight of the horticulturists when the college was first laid out the landscaping and tree planting was accomplished with a view to the future. Care has been taken of the growing of the plant life on the campus all through the years of development and today the result is extremely worth while.

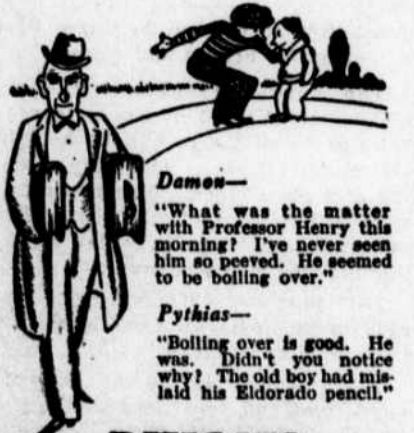

The department of horticulture deserves a vote of appreciation from all lovers of the school's beauty for its work in starting and keeping up the trees. May it continue in its present campaign of improvement.

The editor wishes to thank Father Time for making it impossible for the sports writers to make any more predictions that the Aggies still have a chance to tie for first place in the Valley.

A setting we all love—a long night ride on the train. Sum total of sleep, two hours. Early arrival at home and intensive preparation for the day's classes. Three hours of fatiguing drill. Then a warm room, a comfortable chair and a talking professor. It's terrible to be bawled out for sleeping in class.

It is about time for all boys to think up some subject over which they can quarrel with their girls. The quarrel should be severe enough to cause a definite break. Why? Christmas is coming.

And along this line we wish to remind all girls that leap year is rapidly approaching a close. Many of use are still free.

On Other Hills

The Kansas State Teachers' college at Emporia announces that plans for the stadium are nearing completion, and work will begin this fall on the footing. The stadium will be a steel structure, brick and stucco, to harmonize with the buildings on the campus. The west wing, which is to be completed first, will be 300 by 36 feet, and there will be rooms for boxing, wrestling, and handball.

Judge for Yourself

This column is conducted for those who have some criticism or comment they wish to express publicly. Any material received will be published unedited, exactly as it is written. It is purely the idea of the individual and does not voice the policies of the Collegian in any way.

Dear Editor:—

I believe that the following suggestions are in order based on:

1. Our football games.
2. Current opinion of certain people.
3. Aggie tradition.
  - A. That the "barbs" get behind the Wampus Cats.
  - B. That the Wampus Cats should remove the cigarettes from their mouths when singing "Alma Mater."
  - C. That Wampus Cats be required to stand on their own feet or sit down.
  - D. That Wampus Cats steal into the library some gloomy afternoon and read the article about "Aggie tradition" or something to that effect posted in the bulletin opposite the reading room.
  - E. That Wampus Cats afterwards hold a debate on: "Resolved: That Ahearn Field is a part of the Aggie Campus," if they can find enough men to make an affirmative team.
  - F. And finally, that we all give

"15 rahs" for the Wampus Cats, for we've just simply got to get behind them!

—Charles Burt.

The Way That Advertising Pays:

You can't put an advertisement in a paper and then just sit back and watch the people surge to your doors, unless you are advertising a sale or something of a similar nature.

The direct result from advertising is not nearly as great as that received through good will and through the publicity obtained.

When a clothier advertises his suits he must realize that out of every thousand people he reaches with his advertisement, perhaps only twenty-five or fifty are actually in the market for a suit of clothing. His direct result may be small.

But on the other hand he must realize that within the next few months the other nine hundred and seventy-five persons will be in the market for clothing, and they will be influenced, perhaps unconsciously, by the advertisement they read months before.

It is the good will and publicity that a dealer receives from his advertising that really makes advertising pay.

Gingery Brothers in Iowa

J. B. Gingery, '10, of Muscatine, Iowa, and H. L. Gingery, '21, of Crawfordville, Iowa, were visitors at K. S. A. C. recently. The Gingery brothers are both practicing veterinarians and expressed their appreciation of the new veterinary hospital at the college and its value in the training of veterinarians. Both Gingerys will be remembered especially by football fans. J. B. was tackle on the Aggie team in '07, '08, and '09. H. L. was tackle in '16 and '19.

Two Veterinary Grads Honored

Two K. S. A. C. veterinary graduates have recently been honored by being appointed to high offices. Dr. F. M. Hayes, '08, of Davis, Cal., was elected chairman of the section on education and research of the American Veterinary Medical association at its meeting last summer.

The first chief of a newly created bureau of dairy control of the California state department of agriculture is Dr. J. J. Frey, '14.

Veterinarians Turn Authors

Graduates of the veterinary division of K. S. A. C. have made several scientific contributions to agricultural and veterinary journals recently. Articles have appeared as follows:

J. R. Fuller, '12, Walla Walla, Wash., is the author of an interesting article entitled, "Tractor Farming in the Northwest," published in the September issue of the American Veterinary Medical association journal.

Capt. J. W. Worthington, '17, of Ft. Reno, Okla., writes about "Equine Infectious Abortion" in the August 13 number of the Veterinary Bulletin issued by the surgeon general, United States army.

R. W. Hixson, '20, of Falls City, Nebr., is the author of an article appearing in the August number of the North American Veterinarian entitled "Forage Poisoning."

B. L. Taylor, '20, veterinarian with the University of Idaho, Moscow, writes about "Peculiar Cases" in the August number of the North American Veterinarian.

Idaho Aggies to Listen In

R. H. Mueser, '14, has moved from Boise to Twin Falls, Idaho, where he is district manager of the Oregon Life Insurance company. He has written to the alumni secretary asking for a list of alumni in Twin Falls so that he may get them together for a radio party on Kansas Aggie night, December 1.

C. A. Brewer, '21, superintendent of public schools, Webster, has sent in an order for one of the K. S. A. C. campus pictures which the alumni in his vicinity have purchased for the high school in Webster.

Dr. C. W. Hobbs of the veterinary division has just returned from a visit to the ranch of Senator Frizzell near Larned.

Word has been received that R. Q. Javier, K. S. A. C. veterinary graduate, '24, landed in Manila on October 17, 1924.

C. C. Howenstine, '09, has been promoted to head of the drafting department in the Ford factory at Detroit, Mich. Mr. Howenstine was in government service during the war and since that time has been with the Ford Motor company.

Miss Dorothy Webber of Junction City, a former student, now teaching at Skiddy, spent the week-end in Manhattan.

HUSKERS SWAMP AGGIES, 24 TO 0

NEBRASKA USES PASSES IN LONG GAINS

Homecoming Crowd of 10,000 Sees Fighting Aggies Go Down Before a Driving Attack

For the ninth time in as many attempts the Nebraska Cornhuskers last Saturday proved superior to the Kansas Aggies and left the field with a well-earned 24 to 0 victory. An Aggie homecoming crowd of 10,000 persons saw a clean, hard-fought game in which the Huskers triumphed completely over the Aggies.

Nebraska Uses Passes

For the first time in the history of the football rivalry between the two schools, Nebraska not only made consistent gains on line smashes but used passes to advantage. Although the Cornhuskers completed only two passes during the entire game they were good for 90 yards and both resulted in touchdowns. In the past Nebraska's weakest point has been the defense against aerial attacks but Saturday a speedy backfield was able to intercept two Aggie passes and knock down seven others. An intercepted pass within the 20 yard line spoiled the Aggies' best chance to score.

Ray Smith, halfback, again was the best ground gainer for the Aggies, making the longest single gain, one for 24 yards, making most of the passes and receiving a pass from Anderson for the Aggies' longest gain, 60 yards.

With the Nebraska line, led by Captain Ed Weir, making big holes in the Aggie line, the Nebraska backs, Bloodgood, Locke, and Rhodes, went through to the Aggie secondary defense on practically every attempt. The game Saturday was the first one this year in which the Aggie line, fighting all the time, gave away consistently.

First Quarter Even

Neither team scored in the first quarter, although Nebraska had the ball in Aggie territory most of the time. Nebraska's one attempt to score, a place kick by Bloodgood, was blocked.

The first score of the game was made in the last two minutes of the second quarter, when Bloodgood made good a drop kick from the Aggies' 35 yard line. The half ended with the score 3 to 0.

The first touchdown was made near the close of the third quarter. Locke, Nebraska halfback, got the ball on his own 30 yard line and ran around the Aggie right end for 70 yards to the goal. Mandery kicked goal. After this the Aggies stiffened and when the quarter ended had the ball on Nebraska's 30 yard line, the closest they had yet come to the goal. However, the ball was lost on the third play of the fourth period when Westopol intercepted a pass from Smith and was downed on his 20 yard line.

Coaches Use Heavies

In the last quarter Coach Bachman substituted his heaviest players, but for every substitution Fred Dawson, Nebraska coach, appeared to put a heavier man in his line-up, giving his team an average weight of about 10 pounds to the man over the Aggies. At the close of the game two of the heaviest teams in the Valley were on the field.

With six minutes to go Nebraska made the second touchdown when a pass, Rhodes to Collins, netted about 60 yards. Ed Weir kicked goal.

About three minutes later Nebraska made the final touchdown. With the ball on the Aggie 40 yard line, Bronson received it from center on his own 40 yard line, made a thirty-five yard pass to Rhodes, who ran the remaining 25 yards to the goal. Weir again made good his place kick on the try-point.

The summary of the game is as follows:

Nebraska—24	Position	Aggies—0
Collins	L. E.	Doolen
E. Weir, (C)	L. T.	Ballard
Hubka	L. G.	Mildrester
Westopol	C.	Harter
J. Weir	R. T.	McGee
Hutchison	R. T.	Krysl
Robertson	R. E.	Munn
Bloodgood	Q. B.	Anderson
Mandery	L. H.	Smith
Locke	R. H.	Meek
Rhodes	F. B.	Feather

Substitutions: Nebraska—Dalley for Locke, Locke for Dalley, Dalley for Locke, Kamm for Rhodes, Myers for Mandery, Ristine for Myers, Bronson for Bloodgood, Burnham for Robertson, Scholz for Hutchison, Gross for J. Weir, Grow for Westopol, Molzen for E. Weir, Aggies—Butcher for Feather, Feather for Butcher, Butcher for Feather, Whitfield for Butcher, Wilson for Meek, Meek for Wilson, Brion for Meek, Hoffman for Smith, Cochran for Anderson, Keefe for Krysl, Armantrout for McGee, Reed for Armantrout, Tombaugh for Mildrester, G. Anderson for Ballard, Field goal—Bloodgood, Nebraska.

The summary: Touchdowns—Locke, Collins, Rhodes, Nebraska. Goals after touchdowns—Mandery, E. Weir 2, Nebraska. First downs earned—Nebraska 12, Aggies 5. Offensive plays, including forward passes—Nebraska 59, Aggies 51. Total net gains—Nebraska 339, Aggies 182. Forward passes incomplete—Nebraska 5, Aggies 7. Forward passes successful—Aggies 6, Nebraska 2. Forward passes intercepted—Nebraska 2, Aggies 1. Yards gained, forward passes, including runs after passes—Nebraska 90, Aggies 92. Punt—Nebraska 6, for an average of 25 yards; Aggies 8, for an average of 34.1. Average of run back of punts—Nebraska 5.3 yards, Aggies 8.25 yards. Penalties—Nebraska 6, for 40 yards; Aggies 1, for 5 yards. Fumbles—Nebraska 2, Aggies 1. Officials—F. F. Denny, Brown, referee; Bob Hedges, Dartmouth, umpire; J. A. Reilly, Georgetown, headlinesman; Steve O'Rourke, St. Marys, field judge.

AGGIES WIN CROSS COUNTRY

Team Remains Undefeated—Kimport Runs Great Race

By defeating Nebraska last Saturday 19-36, the Aggie cross country runners completed the most successful season on record, not losing a contest throughout the year and winning the valley championship for the first time since K. S. A. C. entered the valley conference.

The victory was a very decided one, the Aggies placing six men out of the first seven places. The only Cornhusker to nose out the Aggies was Lawson, who placed second. Kimport, the outstanding Aggie runner, showed real form, finishing a quarter of a mile ahead of Lawson. Axtell, Smith, Sallee, Aikman and Rutherford finished third to seventh in the order named.

Pigskin Squeals

Evidently Anderson did not know he was chasing a noted hundred yard dash man when he tried to run down Locke, Nebraska left half, in the third quarter.

Two completed forward passes for a gain of ninety yards, and each one resulting in a touchdown, is quite a record for Nebraska when it is considered they do very little passing.

The downtown business men decidedly outplayed the Aggieville business men but were unable to score.

Only two valley games remain to be played. The Aggies play Oklahoma and K. U. plays Missouri on Thanksgiving day. A win for Missouri will give the Tigers the Valley championship but a win for K. U. will leave Nebraska and Drake in a tie for first place.

Ames showed real Aggie spirit when they marred the clean record of Drake winning by a 10-0 count Saturday.

Ed Weir, Nebraska captain, is one of the best tackles ever seen on the local field. His work in the line is outstanding, and he also swings around and forms interference for the backfield on many plays.

"When in Rome do as the Romans do," so Nebraska proceeded to pull a couple of well executed passes that resulted in touchdowns.

Our advice to the Oregon Aggies is: "Better be prepared for anything."

The defense showed by both teams in the first half was superb, each team being thrown for a loss several times.

Ray Smith again displayed his ability to toss passes and make ground on fake passes. His 23 yard run was a feature of the game.

Aggie Scientists Speak
K. S. A. C. men delivered two-thirds of the program of the 67th regular meeting of the Biological Society of Washington, D. C., held in the assembly hall of the Cosmos club

Saturday evening, November 8, according to an announcement received by Prof. J. V. Cortelyou. Scientific communications were delivered by George A. Dean and Theodore H. Scheffer. Mr. Scheffer formerly was a member of the K. S. A. C. faculty. Professor Dean is head of the department of entomology of the college, on leave of absence, and a graduate with the class of '95. The subject of Professor Dean's talk was "The European Corn Borer in America." Mr. Scheffer lectured on "Mountain Beavers and Moles in the Puget Sound Country."

Aggies Reminisce at Waterloo

Professors L. C. Williams and R. J. Barnett, of the horticulture department, returned Friday from a trip to Waterloo, Iowa, where they attended the Iowa State Horticultural society meeting and Midwest Horticultural exposition. They report having met the following K. S. A. C. graduates at the conference: C. V. Holsinger, '95; C. D. Adams, '95; L. Green, '06; C. O. Dirks, '24; W. C. Calvert, '16; J. F. Quinn, '22; and J. C. Cunningham, '05. These with the two from here make a list of nine and provided a good deal of interesting gossip when they got together in the lobby of the Lamson-Russell hotel.

F. M. Alexander, '24, has accepted an appointment with the Kansas entomological commission and will be engaged in orchard and nursery inspection work in north-eastern Kansas.

Dickinson Will Hold Reunion

Alumni in Dickinson county will hold a reunion and sit in on the nation-wide radio party on Kansas Aggie night when the new station KSAC is dedicated, according to a letter from Mrs. Daisy (Hoffman) Johnitz, '00, president of the county association. The party will be held at the home of Mrs. Johnitz in Abilene. Invitations have been sent to Chapman, Solomon, Herington, and Enterprise to come to the Abilene meeting. "I expect we will have a big crowd and only wish we could send an answer back after we listen in," writes Mrs. Johnitz.

More Honors for Hahn

R. E. Hahn, '23, football star, and a member of Mike's mythical all-Aggie eleven and Walter Camp's all-American, now coaching at Downers Grove high school, Downers Grove, Ill., and his team were the subject of a favorable sport story in the Chicago Daily News of November 10. The article in part reads:

"With only 100 boys attending Downers Grove high school and a record such as the best suburban football squad has attained, Coach R. E. Hahn has something for which to be proud. Football at Downers Grove prior to the arrival of Hahn, who two years ago was given a position on Walter Camp's all-American team, was merely a sport. Now it is an institution and plays a major part in both the physical and mental training of the youths who attend the school.

"So many of the boys take active part in football that the bulk of the rooting at games is done by girls, who, incidentally, lend both moral and financial support to the success of the game. Coach Hahn is responsible for most of the enthusiasm and spirit, having injected a new system of football into the athletes. Except in a few cases, Coach Hahn's youngsters do not perform individually but rather collectively. They have come to the realization that it is not individual starrng that counts, but teamwork."

To Get Together at Denver

The Colorado organization of K. S. A. C. alumni is planning on a reunion as a part of the nation-wide radio party in celebration of Kansas Aggie night when the new station KSAC broadcasts its dedication program, according to a letter from George C. Wheeler, managing editor of Western Farm Life and president of the Colorado K. S. A. C. association.

Doctors H. F. Lienhardt and E. J. Frick of the veterinary division were in Kansas City Wednesday to take in the American Royal Livestock show.

"A school on every hilltop and a church in every valley" is going to be paraphrased: "A filling station on every corner and a pump on every block."—Herndon Nonpareil.

FOURTEEN COMELY COEDS NOMINATED

YESTERDAY NOON MARKED DEADLINE FOR CONTEST

Flo Ziegfeld to Be the Judge—First Six to Have Pictures in Royal Purple

With fourteen of the college's most comely coeds nominated, the Royal Purple beauty contest closed at noon yesterday. This is a larger number than was ever nominated in the popularity contests of previous years, according to "Doc" Read, business manager of the Royal Purple.

Nominations All Made

The last of the petitions for nominations were received at noon yesterday. Each petition required the names of twenty paid subscribers to the book in order that the name of the nominee be listed in the contest. The nominees are Josephine Brooks, Nora Yoder, Dorothy Sanders, Virginia Reeder, Aletha Crawford, Kathryn Kimble, Pauline Van Osdel, Ruth Stewart, Luella Lancaster, Inez Jones, Irene Patchen, Laura Fayman, Curtis Watts, and Ruth Wilson.

Each contestant will enter her own choice for the portrait of herself and the portraits will be sent to Flo Ziegfeld, New York theatrical producer, who will select the six most beautiful girls. Portraits of these six will be published in the Royal Purple in the order as judged by Mr. Ziegfeld.

Contest a New Feature

The contest this year is a departure from that of previous years. In the past the contest has been to choose the most popular girl instead of limiting the consideration to beauty. In this measure the contest will be more democratic than those in the past since it was almost always the upperclassmen who had the better chances when popularity was the greater consideration.

Mr. Read commented as follows upon the contest: "The past popularity contests have had book selling as their chief purpose. A new policy is inaugurated with this year's book, that of arousing genuine interest in the contest and, with the aid of Mr. Ziegfeld, to make the beauty section of the Royal Purple much better than those of the past."

AGGIE POP STUNTS CHOSEN

Tickets on Sale for Performances Friday and Saturday Nights

The seven main stunts which are to compete for Aggie Pop honors Friday and Saturday nights in the Auditorium have been picked by the selection committee. Tickets are now on sale by the college girls on the campus, in Anderson hall, at the Palace Drug stores in Aggieville and down town and at the Canteen. The price is twenty-five cents.

The program is announced as follows:

"The Potatoes' Frolic," a romance of Irish and sweet potatoes in the basement—Delta Zeta sorority.

"Do Dreams Come True?" a romance of Prince Charming—Ionian Literary society.

"Rainbow Symphony," the colors of the rainbow come to life—Kappa Delta sorority.

"Say It with Flowers," a scene in a florist's shop—Alpha Theta Chi sorority.

"In the Spring," a story with the theme, "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to love"—Eurodelphian Literary society.

"Note Us," a review of the latest jazz from Broadway—Pi Beta Phi sorority.

"That's Where My Money Goes," the tale of a college girl's budget—Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

The costumes to be used in each stunt were inspected Monday from 4 till 6 o'clock in the presence of the inspection committee and one representative from each organization. Practices for the stunts are being held every night.

A later announcement will be made concerning the in-between stunts, planned by Marie Farmer and Inez Jones. Others in charge of the entertainment are Virginia Deal, chairman; Achsa Johnson, business manager; Forest Whan, stage manager; and Virginia Reeder and Capitola Bassett, publicity managers.

The three best stunts will be picked by four town judges on Friday night and three out-of-town judges on Saturday night.

Melville Thompson and Vincent Bates returned last week from Detroit, Mich., where they attended the twenty-first biennial convention of Phi Sigma Kappa.

R. O. T. C. Head Inspects Local Unit

Lieutenant Colonel Carl H. Muller, chief of the seventh corps R. O. T. C. area, inspected the troops of K. S. A. C. Monday, November 24. This is Colonel Muller's fifth trip to the college. He has been to the schools of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri, and Arkansas, and from here he went to Kansas university and Washington university.

Colonel Muller says, "The improvement is greater over any preceding years and the men show an advancement usually found only in the spring. Nevertheless the Aggies have no cluck in their corps, as other schools are ranking along with them."

TIE GAME JINX SUCCEEDS AGAIN

SOONERS AND AGGIES BATTLE TO A DRAW

Ray Smith Makes Aggie Touchdown—Feather Leads in March Down Field in Last Quarter

For the third time in five years, the Kansas Aggie football team played to a 7-7 tie in its annual game with the University of Oklahoma, when it wound up its season in Norman last Thursday. Though the Aggies outplayed the Sooners in every branch of the game and made 20 first downs to Oklahoma's 5, a poor Aggie pass in the first quarter gave Lambright of Oklahoma a chance to run half the length of the field for a touchdown which promised for a time to be the only one of the game.

Feather Smashes Line

To start the second half Feather, Aggie fullback, carried the ball almost singlehanded from the Aggie 30 yard line to the Sooner 4 yard line. There, however, Oklahoma held. Meek was thrown for a loss, and an Aggie attempt at a pass over the goal line was incomplete.

In the final quarter, too late for a chance to do more than tie, the Aggies pushed over their only touchdown. The jinx which had followed the Wildcat during the entire game turned his head aside for a minute to allow Oklahoma to fumble on her 32 yard line. Between the efforts of Feather and a pass from Smith to Doolen, the Wildcats worked the ball down to the Oklahoma 7 yard line, where Smith went over for a touchdown.

According to Coach C. W. Bachman, the Aggie pass play which gave Oklahoma its touchdown had not been intercepted before in four years of Valley play.

Aggies Awarded a Point

Following the Aggie touchdown, McGee's try for point was wide of the goal posts, but in his anxiety to block the kick an Oklahoma veteran was offside, giving the point and a tie game to the Aggies. Slightly more than 2,000 persons witnessed the game, a crowd decidedly less than the average Aggie home crowd.

Four of the five Aggie letter men who played their last home game against Nebraska got into the lists against the Sooners. Munn, Doolen, Butcher, and Harter of the veterans all played. Feather and Don Meek bore most of the brunt of the Aggie attack, while the two All-Valley men of both teams, Captain Munn of the Aggies and Captain Bristow of Oklahoma, were stars on both offense and defense.

Schedule Planned for Debate Team

A women's debate team composed of three members will leave the second week in February on a tour into Missouri and Iowa with four contests scheduled. Debates will be held with Missouri Wesleyan, Cameron, Mo.; Penn college, Oskaloosa, Iowa; Simpson college, Indianola, Iowa; and Morningside college, Sioux City, Iowa.

Turkey and Pumpkin Pie Cause Mental Coma Among Students

Bears eat all they can hold and hibernate for three months. At Thanksgiving students eat for three days and hibernate for the next three weeks. According to precedent Thanksgiving vacation is regarded as merely a running start toward a peaceful sleep of three weeks until the mid-year holidays. Professors may curse and pray but their young charges are dead weight and can not be moved. In fact, Christmas holiday is now at its height.

But this temporary state of coma is not altogether the result of over nourishment. Many faces that register such sublime contentment reflect visions of themselves on the coming Christmas eve, surrounded by candy and toys, and indulging in the joyous and unrestrained laughter of innocent childhood.

These vacations may come only once a year, but they are too close together to be practical.

Quill Club Initiates Eight

Ur Rune American College Quill club held formal initiation Monday night for eight new members, two faculty members and six students. The initiates were Prof. R. W. Conover, Prof. C. W. Matthews, Mary Louise Clarke, Paola; Mary Marcene Kimball, Manhattan; Mrs. R. L. von Trebra, Oswego; J. E. Conklin, Hutchinson; Zaven K. Surmellian, Armenia; and Murial Shaver, Cedar Vale.

Preceding the initiation, Prof. Walter Burr was in charge of a mock ceremony. Following that the initiates put on an original stunt in the form of a short play, entitled, "Friends of St. Anthony."

Miss Helen Norton, chancellor of the local chapter conducted the initiation, and Prof. N. A. Crawford, national chancellor, was master of ceremonies.

"THE FIRST YEAR" OPENED IN CONCORDIA LAST NIGHT

Tour of Purple Masque Play to Last a Week—Show Here December 12

"The First Year," fall production of Purple Masque, was presented for the first time last night at the Brown Grand theater in Concordia. Tonight's performance will be given at Clay Center, tomorrow night at Junction City, Thursday night at McPherson, and Friday night at Herington. The company will return to Manhattan Saturday.

The cast left Sunday afternoon, accompanied by E. G. McDonald, dramatic coach, and Mrs. Eusebia M. Thompson, who will act as chaperone. Persons in the cast are Rebecca Thacher, Lillian Kammerer, Lois Trast, Betty McCoin, Jack Kennedy, Fred Volland, Harold Sappentfield, James Lansing, and Arthur Maxwell. Melville Thompson went with the company as business manager for Purple Masque.

Rehearsals for "The First Year" have been in progress since the tryouts were held four weeks ago. According to Mr. McDonald, the cast has done well and the production should prove a success, due to the large amount of work spent on rehearsals and the ability shown by all members of the cast. The performance here will be Friday, December 12, at the college auditorium.

AGGIES FIFTH AT CHICAGO

Nebraska Placed First in International—Aggies High Last Year

The Kansas Aggie stock judging team, winners of first place at the American Royal in Kansas City, won fifth place at the International Stock show held at Chicago, Saturday November 29. The K. S. A. C. team won first place at the International last year.

Twenty-three teams were entered in the show, with the placings as follows: Nebraska, first; Missouri, second; Ohio, third; Oklahoma, fourth; Kansas Aggies, fifth; Iowa, sixth; Purdue, seventh; Kentucky, eighth; Illinois, ninth, and South Dakota, tenth.

Prof. F. W. Bell is the coach of the Aggie team. Professor Derrick, coach of the winning Nebraska team, is a former student of Professor Bell.

Program Arranged for Vespers

"Men, Women, and God," Dr. Herbert H. Gray's recent novel, will be the subject for discussion at vespers Thursday afternoon. Laureda Thompson will give a summary of the book which deals with sex questions from the Christian point of view. It is written especially for students and has been read extensively during the last year by students in American colleges and universities. The book was published by the Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., the Student Volunteer, and the Fellowship of Christian Life Service, at the request of the Student Christian movement of America.

Evelyn Colburn will preside at vespers, and special musical numbers will be given. All girls and faculty friends are cordially urged to attend.

L. C. Williams and W. R. Martin, extension horticulturists, will go to Topeka Wednesday to attend the Kansas State Horticultural society meeting, December 3 and 4. Thursday night Professor Williams will speak on "The 1924 Orchard Tour and Apple Production Experiment." W. R. Martin will talk Wednesday morning on "Spraying Demonstration in Arkansas Valley in 1924."

600 BOYS HERE FOR HI-Y MEET

ATTENDANCE IS ONE HUNDRED PER CENT

Chancellor Lindley, of K. U., and President Jardine Are Speakers—Other Members of Faculty on Program Also

Over 600 boys attended the Older Boys' Conference held at K. S. A. C. last Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. Manhattan high school Hi-Y had the largest registration, being 100 per cent in attendance with all 52 members there. Salina sent 48 delegates in addition to two leaders, while Topeka, Sabetha, Lawrence, Clay Center, and others were well represented.

The program for the conference started at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon when Harry Bone, of Dallas, Tex., made the principal address. A short devotional service was conducted by Rev. J. David Arnold, conference chaplain, and the song service was lead by Prof. Ira Pratt, of the music department of the college.

New Officers Installed

At the business session later in the afternoon, Dale Cole of Florence was elected president to succeed Charles Ground of Lawrence. Other new officers are Harold Hughes, Manhattan, vice-president; Karl Preutze, Manhattan, secretary; Ben Goodberg, Haskell institute, treasurer; Harold Hill, Beloit, secretary of the boys' committee, and LaVerne Munn, Leavenworth, secretary of the resolutions committee.

The first banquet of the conference, held in Nichols gymnasium Friday evening, was made more than the usual colorful affair by the "wearing o' the green" Hi-Y caps by the more than half thousand banqueters, who had a jolly time eating and getting acquainted. Dr. H. H. King acted as toastmaster, and introduced speakers representing the various organizations that were sponsoring the conference. Short talks were made by Dean E. L. Holton, representing the Rotary club; Dr. C. V. Williams, for the Kiwanis club; Z. R. Hook, for the Co-op club; A. R. Springer, for the Manhattan chamber of commerce; Harold Hughes, for the Manhattan Hi-Y's, and Coach C. W. Bachman, for the college.

Immediately after the banquet a general session was held in the college auditorium where G. E. E. Lindquist of Lawrence made a talk along the lines of the general conference topic, "The New Frontiers of Youth."

Prexy Welcomes Group

The welcoming address was made by President W. M. Jardine of the college who extended a greeting on behalf of K. S. A. C. "One reason this is a great country is because of the fact that the school is alongside the home, and the right principles are taught in both," said President Jardine. "Any boy who wills to go to college can go and will succeed. I hope that every boy here will find some college to attend in the state of Kansas."

Conferences and business sessions were continued Saturday morning. Saturday afternoon the delegates were shown over the campus, inspecting the buildings and looking over the equipment. The big event of the conference was held Saturday evening in the gym, when another banquet was served. Prof. H. A. Shinn of the public speaking department acted as toastmaster. The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. E. H. Lindley, chancellor of the University of Kansas, who had as his subject, "The New Frontiers of College Youth." Chancellor Lindley urged his listeners to take upon themselves the task of world progress and to "think, think, think."

Sunday's sessions included a service at the Presbyterian church in the morning, and a concluding assembly in the afternoon, in charge of Rev. W. U. Guerrant.

Large Attendance Here

Though attendance at the conference this year was only a little over half what it was two years ago, when the sessions were first held in Manhattan, those attending it at that time were from over the entire state. Since last year, the conferences have been divided into several regional groups meeting at schools in different sections of the state, with the result that the total attendance at the conferences this year will be more than double that of last.

The boys were housed by townspeople and in a number of fraternity houses. The conference was sponsored jointly by the college Y. M. C. A., the Rotary club, Kiwanis club, Co-op club, and the Manhattan chamber of commerce.

Date Announced for Play Tryouts

Tryouts for "Fancy Free," Purple Masque production, will be held December 8. "Fancy Free," a comedy by Stanley Houghton, will be presented at a play tournament to be held at Northwestern university December 30 and 31, 1924, and January 1, 1925. Tryouts for the play are limited to members of Purple Masque.

DAVIS SPEAKS TO JOURNALISTS

Explains Work of Teachers of English in High Schools

"People are afraid of their own ideas," said Prof. H. W. Davis in his address to the students in journalism seminar yesterday. "Don't, if you expect to teach school, think that now you must put down in a notebook what the teacher says and use it in examination papers."

Professor Davis has just returned from the convention of the American association of English Teachers held at St. Louis, where many of the problems of English teachers were discussed.

"It begins to look as though the radio is going to bring us back and make us ear-minded," Professor Davis continued. "I hope you won't go ahead with the idea that if you can write you won't have to use your organs of speech. We should not be surprised to see a good many things happen in oral English."

Professor Davis' advice to students preparing to teach English is to take it seriously and get ready for it, take the preliminary work in composition and pay particular attention to the details of the journalism work. "If you can carry some of the practical side into high school you will be very very much better off," he concluded.

SANTAYANA DISCUSSED

Characterized by Dr. Margaret Russel as Master of English Language

George Santayana, the idealist with a basis of realism, was discussed Tuesday by Dr. Margaret Russel of the English department of the Kansas State Agricultural college in the second of a series of weekly lectures being given by the department on leaders of modern thought.

Santayana was characterized as a master of the English language by Doctor Russel, who said, "The variety of his subject matter gives one a sense of his power and vitality, showing a swiftness and intellectual vigor."

"Santayana's problem is the relation of the actual to the ideal, and in solving it he has been forced to regard Christianity as a 'happy illusion,' which he regrets that he cannot accept."

To Santayana, the only philosophers were the Greeks, according to Doctor Russel, but the conception of the Greeks must be restated. Santayana says: "For moral inspiration we are driven back upon the ancients. Our task is only to interpret ideals. The sense of beauty has a more important place in life than aesthetics has ever had."

GRAIN JUDGERS WIN AT CHICAGO

PLACE FIRST IN INTERNATIONAL GRAIN JUDGING CONTEST

West Virginia Second—Agiess Were Fourth Last Year—Norton High Point Man

First place in grain judging at the International Hay and Grain Show, which was held in Chicago last week, was easily won by the K. S. A. C. team according to a telegram from Prof. J. W. Zahnley, coach of the team, received yesterday morning by the agronomy department.

Norton High Point Man

J. E. Norton, a member of the team, was a high man in the entire contest, and O. L. Norton, another member, was third. Other men on the team, which is composed entirely of seniors, are Glenn Reid and Carl Bower.

There were about 15 teams from other agricultural colleges and universities entered. The placing of the first eight teams was as follows: Kansas Aggies, West Virginia, Michigan, Iowa, Montana, North Carolina, Ohio, and Oklahoma.

Aggie Grad Coached Virginia Team

The West Virginia team which placed second, received a good deal of its training from Karl Quisenberry, a graduate of K. S. A. C. in 1921 and now an instructor in farm crops at the University of West Virginia.

The contest this year was much more difficult than that last year. At that time the Aggies placed fourth. The contest has been made a permanent feature by the directors of the International Hay and Grain Show, which is held each year at Chicago in connection with the International Livestock Show.

Chance for Rural Coeds to Shine in Wheat Girl Contest

Let's have an Aggie girl carry the message, "Kansas Grows the Best Wheat in the World," to President Coolidge on Kansas day, January 29. There are really only two requirements for entrance in the contest for selection as the Kansas Wheat Girl.

A candidate for Kansas Wheat Girl honors must 1. Be a bona fide Kansas farm girl, under 22 years of age on November 27, 1924. 2. She must have lived on a Kansas farm at least two years prior to November 27, 1924.

The four steps on the road to selection as the best looking, most intelligent, and most popular farm girl in Kansas are as follows:

1. She must be nominated regularly on the forms provided by members of the Kansas Daily Newspaper advertising association.

2. She must win out in the Journal-Capital district primary, December 13 and 14.

3. She must get the most votes of any of the regularly nominated candidates in the Journal-Capital election, December 27 and 28.

4. She must be selected by the seven judges as the Kansas Wheat Girl from among the 19 district candidates appearing at the inauguration ceremonies in Topeka, January 12.

Professor Englund Speaks on Schools

"Our Financial Responsibility to the Public Schools," was the subject discussed by Prof. Eric Englund of the department of agricultural economics as part of an Education week program at Vinland on November 21. Professor Englund showed that certain classes of people receive benefits of the schools but their taxable capacity is not reached by our present system of taxation, and he also suggested that the present system should be revised so that people who now escape taxation would contribute their share to the support of the schools.

Team Chosen for Extempo Contest

Four men were selected in the extempore speech tryouts held last Monday, three of whom will be selected for the Aggie team to compete with Washburn and Kansas State Teachers' college in the extemporaneous speaking contest to be held here December 13. Indecision of the judges in the tryouts prevented a final selection of the team. The final team will be chosen just before the contest. The men chosen were Robert Hedburg, Kingsley W. Given, Paul Shivel, and Frank Z. Glick.

Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalism fraternity, held formal initiation in their club room Wednesday, November 26, for Ruth Bacheider of Fredonia.

UNSUCCESSFUL?

Now that the curtain is drawn on 1924 football, post-season comment is in order.

Even before the last game was played on Thanksgiving day considerable gossiping was evident as to the poor success of the 1924 team. Severe criticism has been launched at Coach Bachman and the players because they were able to win only one contest and tie one in the entire schedule of Missouri Valley games. Even the question of whether or not Coach Bachman will remain has been discussed, this last very timidly, however.

A brief resume of the football material and of the games played should be sufficient to dispel all doubts as to the success of the season. And it was a successful season, knockers to the contrary—after one takes into consideration all the factors involved.

At the beginning of the school year Bachman had only green material to work with. It is true that there were two or three veterans on the squad but the biggest part of the team's offensive and defensive power had to be recruited from inexperienced players. There isn't a coach in the world who can make a championship team under such circumstances. Given the material and the time necessary Coach Bachman can do as much as any coach can do, as he has ably demonstrated during his previous years here. Bachman has the material now but he has experimented with it only one season. Even during that season he has been unusually successful and with another year's teaching the team will come into its own.

Aggie hopes were high during the first part of the season when the team easily conquered Washburn and the Emporia Teachers. Aggie supporters went wild when Kansas university was defeated for the first time in 18 years. Against Missouri university, the leaders of the Valley this year, the Aggies should have won judging from the power of the two aggregations in advancing the ball. But the Fates and hard luck were with the enemy and the Wildcats held the small end of the score in a game they really won. Against Ames the Purple team demonstrated football as it should not be played. It was the worst day in the history of Aggie football under the Bachman regime. But on the following Saturday Drake was clearly outclassed in football ability but the score again was in the enemy's favor. Next the Red terror from the North was encountered and it won because it was a better team. And then as a season finale Oklahoma was tied.

In looking over this record it is evident that in only one instance did the Wildcats fall down on the job. In the other games they fought as an Aggie team should fight. What more could be asked of them? Next year practically the same team will return and under Bachman's tutelage it should make its mark in the Valley.

R. G. B.

And now that it is all over, we haven't a thing left to be at all thankful for. Unless, possibly, it is that Christmas is only three weeks off.

The big department stores in larger towns have already begun to drag out their Santa Clauses. These bewhiskered old gentlemen come earlier every year and if the competition continues they will probably be seen on the streets right after Armistice day next year.

And in this connection we wish to add a word for these innocent little sorority girls, Pi Phi included. There is no Santa Claus.

On returning to Manhattan we can but breathe a prayer for the professor who made no assignments over the week end. What we think of the others is not so easily written.

There is something sinister in the fact that the girls are always directing attention to the Christmas decorated windows and then mentioning several articles which they "really need." But worse still is that confounded agreeable attitude which they acquire at this time of the year.

Harry says that he has tried every imaginable way to force a quarrel with his girl. He has broken dates, snubbed her, talked about her, and even mentioned her beauty slightly. In short, things that would have utterly ruined him a month ago are received with a smile. Next week he is going to beat her. That ought to work.

We would suggest a popularity contest among the faculty, but we prefer to pass in all subjects for the next two years. And then there is this drawback. There might not be any popular members.

It is our private opinion that the cross-word puzzle in the Brown Bull is a fake and cannot be worked. After an hour's effort we threw it away in disgust, but possibly we were wrong. In case anyone worked it, will they please hang a lantern aloft in the north radio tower?

No one took the hint last week. This is still leap year, girls.

On Other Hills

The winter sports schedule of the girls' gymnasium at the State College of Washington includes ten different activities: basketball, indoor baseball, folk dancing, floor work, rifle practice, apparatus work, interpretative dancing, light gymnastics, corrective work, and normal gymnastics. Rifle practice is only for upperclassmen.

Three hundred seventy-eight dads and students attended the Dad's Day banquet at the University of Kansas, Saturday, November 15.

A peanut rolling contest is held annually at Oregon Agricultural college. A record was established in this year's event when a contestant rolled a peanut around the course in nine minutes.

Two hundred fifty-nine men students of the University of Arizona have organized a Bachelors club. Punishments are inflicted on members convicted of "queening."

Juniors of the College of Emporia recently accepted a challenge issued by the faculty for a whisker growing contest to last three weeks.

The Players Club, an honorary dramatic society, is being organized at McGill University, Montreal.

The first issue of the Aggieator, comic magazine of Oklahoma A. and M., will have as its cover page a portrait of the school's most beautiful coed, painted by a member of the school's art department.

In order to attract the interest of freshmen to the R. O. T. C. training at Yale, heads of the department have added as new equipment, horses, polo ponies, field guns, pistols, and new uniforms.

R. O. T. C. students at the University of Nebraska will edit a magazine in the interest of the military department. It is an annual publication.

One of the largest and best equipped women's athletic fields is being built for coeds of the Kansas State Teachers college. The field will be used exclusively by women.

AUTHOR TO SPEAK HERE

John T. Frederick, Editor, Writer, Farmer, Will Give Addresses

John T. Frederick of Iowa City, Iowa, editor of The Midland and an author of distinction, will speak at the college twice on Friday. He will address the student assembly at 10:15 in the morning on "Literature in the Middle West." He will speak at 4 o'clock in home economics room on "Ideals in the Short Story." The latter address will be directed especially to persons interested in creative writing.

Although still a young man, Mr. Frederick has made achievements in a wide variety of fields. He has been a country newspaper publisher, a teacher of English, a farmer, a magazine editor, and an author.

Ten years ago he founded The Midland, a non-commercial magazine that endeavors to develop the literature of the middle west. Associated with him in this enterprise have been a number of writers in this region.

In addition to acting as editor-in-chief of the magazine, Mr. Frederick is a professor of English in the University of Iowa. His summers he spends in active management of his 1,000-acre farm in northern Michigan.

Mr. Frederick is author of "Druidia," a novel that was very favorably received, and of a volume on the short story. He is a contributor of short stories, plays, and verse to the various magazines.

Members of Hort. Dept. to Topeka

Prof. R. J. Barnett, Prof. W. F. Pickett, and Graduate Assistant George Filling of the horticulture department will attend the meeting of the Kansas State Horticultural society at Topeka Wednesday and Thursday, December 3 and 4. Professor Barnett will talk Thursday on "Cover Crops for Kansas Orchards—Experimental Results." On Wednesday afternoon Professor Pickett will speak on "Why Winners Win," and on the same afternoon Mr. Filling will talk on "The Relation Between Orchard Practice and Apple Grades."

Kentucky College to Have Display

The Fireside Institute of Berea, Ky., will display the handiwork made by Kentucky mountain women in their cabins, on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 2 and 3, in room 52 of the home economics building. This exhibit will be under the direction of Berea college, which has for some years carried on the work of encouraging native American arts that have been kept alive in the homes of our mountain people, and at the same time helping those women to earn a living.

The display will be brought here by Mrs. Jane Washburn, who is on leave from Berea and is spending the winter at Fort Riley. Mrs. Washburn will give a talk about her college Tuesday evening and will be here Wednesday to take orders for any of the articles displayed.

Washington Aggies Hear Prexy

The K. S. A. C. alumni of Washington, D. C., held a luncheon in honor of President W. M. Jardine and the other members of the faculty who were in Washington attending the meetings of the Association of Land Grant Colleges in the New Ebbitt hotel, November 13. President Jardine spoke briefly.

about the happenings on the campus since his last talk before the Washington group—three years ago. He discussed among other things, athletics in general and the recent burying of the K. U. jinx in particular, the settlement of the auto parking question, radio, campus beautification, the need for, and prospects of obtaining new buildings. Dean Justin spoke briefly of the work in home economics.

Approximately 100 former Aggies attended the luncheon. Leon M. Davis, '09, is president and Charles F. Swingle, '20, is secretary of the Washington, D. C., association of K. S. A. C. alumni.

Personals

Misses Amy Jane Leazenby and Pearl Ruby of the department of household economics spent Thanksgiving vacation in Kansas City.

Prof. H. W. Davis went to St. Louis Wednesday to attend the meeting of the National Association of English Teachers.

Miss Ina Cowles of the department of clothing and textiles spent Thanksgiving vacation at her home in Sidney.

Prof. C. E. Rogers went to Oklahoma to report the game. He was accompanied by his small son, Bill.

Miss Hilda Black spent Thanksgiving vacation at her home in Lewis.

Miss Olympia Kubik spent Thanksgiving vacation at her home in Colwell.

Prof. George Gemmell of the home study department has just returned to K. S. A. C. after a trip to northwestern Kansas. He spent a week in that section attending meetings of the farm bureaus. The meetings are reported to have been well attended, the attendance in some cases being as high as 500 members.

Miss Clytie Ross, M. S. '24, who is home demonstration agent in Arkansas, is reported to be doing exceptionally good work. Miss Bonnel, state leader under whom Miss Ross is working, writes Dean Justin that she is anxious to add more Aggie graduates to her staff as soon as they are available.

Dean Margaret Justin returned Saturday from the national meeting of the deans of the Land Grant Colleges of America at Washington, D. C., where she had charge of the discussion on "Means of Financing Research in Independent Divisions of Home Economics in Land Grant Colleges." Dean Justin was elected secretary of the home economics section of the meeting and has been asked to serve on two committees for next year.

Down Town TWO STORES Aggieville

Artificial lightning was first publicly demonstrated on June 5, 1923, in the laboratory of the General Electric Company at Pittsfield, Mass., when a two-million-volt spark crashed into this miniature village.

What's the use of artificial lightning?

It is mainly experimental, aiding General Electric scientists to solve high power transmission problems. Many such experiments yield no immediate return.

But in the long run this work is practical and important. It is part of the study which must go on unceasingly if this powerful force, Electricity, is to be fully tamed and enlisted in your service.

Experiments like these are particularly thrilling and important to young men and women, who will live in an age when electricity will perform most of life's hardest tasks. Know what the research laboratories of the General Electric Company are doing; they are a telescope through which you can see the future!

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

Grad Coaches Winning Team

The Kansas boys who won first place in the junior livestock judging contest held at Chicago on November 28 were coached by Lawrence F. Hall, '23, who is now teacher of vocational agriculture in the Burlington high school. The contest, which was held as a preliminary feature to the International Livestock exposition which opened November 29, was entered by teams from 21 states. Mr. Hall, who majored in agricultural economics while at K. S. A. C., is the son of Mrs. Lora Hall of Manhattan.

CAPTAIN MUNN CHOSEN AS END ON ALL-VALLEY TEAM

McGee on Second Team, Ballard on Third—Harter Receives Honorable Mention

Captain Lyle Munn, who played his last football game for the Aggies against Oklahoma last Thursday, has the honor of being selected as end on the Kansas City Star's All-Missouri valley football team. Munn was the only Aggie to land on the first eleven, but McGee was placed on the second team as a guard, and Ballard landed a tackle berth on the third team. Eight of the nine conference schools are represented on the first team, Washington being the only school which failed to place on any of the three mythical elevens.

In commenting upon Munn, the Star's sports editor writes as follows: "Munn, Aggie leader, is a 175-pounder, of Colby, Kans. He is twenty-two years old and playing his third year on the team. He is a cousin of Wayne Munn, the Titan wrestler and comes from the family of Munns, members of which have been familiar figures in Nebraska and Kansas football. He is sure and accurate in his blocking on offense and on the defense uses his hands and legs to excellent advantage in meeting interference. He has a nose for the ball and is a determined tackler. A revision of Mike Ahearn's all-time Aggie team finds Lyle Munn in one of the wing positions."

Munn was chosen by E. W. Cochrane as first string end both this year and last year, although the Star did not give him that ranking until this year. In addition to being placed on the all-Missouri valley mythical eleven, he was chosen as end and captain on Leslie Edmond's all-state team, all of the teams in the state being considered in this selection. B. C. Harter, center, was given honorable mention in the Journal-Post All-Valley selections.

The first All-valley eleven is as follows:

Ends—Sloan, Drake, and Munn, Kansas Aggies.
Tackles—Wier, Nebraska, and Smith, Kansas.
Guards—Duke, Grinnell, and J. Lewis, Missouri.
Center—Smith, Missouri (captain).
Quarter—Orebaugh, Drake.
Halfbacks—Norton Behm, Ames, and Rhodes, Nebraska.
Fullback—Bristow, Oklahoma.

MISSOURI WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Tigers Capture Valley Pennant with Five Victories

After one of the most exciting races and after a season unsurpassed for dope upsets, Missouri emerged as champion of Missouri valley football.

Up until the last game the winner was doubtful and it was not until Missouri had defeated their ancient foe, K. U., that they clinched the honors. Until the Saturday before the season closed, Drake loomed up as the probable winner, but when Ames defeated the Bulldogs and Nebraska won from the Kansas Aggies, these two schools were on an even footing and everything depended on the Missouri-Kansas game. Had Missouri lost this game the valley honors would have been divided between Drake and Nebraska, as each had won three games and lost one. Missouri had lost one game to Nebraska but by winning from Kansas they won on a percentage basis, in so much as this gave them five games won.

Much credit can be given the Missouri valley football teams this year for they have defeated the strongest teams in the east and west. The fact that Missouri beat Chicago and Chicago won the big ten championship readily shows that valley football has reached a commendable high water mark towards supremacy in football throughout the U. S.

After getting off to a good start the Aggies dropped into a hard luck slump and managed to win only one valley game which makes their standing next to last in the conference, Washington holding down the cellar position.

The valley standing are as follows:

	W. L. T. Pct.
Missouri	5-1-0-833
Nebraska	3-1-0-750
Drake	3-1-0-750
Grinnell	2-1-0-667
Ames Aggies	3-2-0-600
Oklahoma	2-3-1-400
Kansas U.	2-4-1-333
Kansas Aggies	1-4-1-200
Washington	0-4-0-000

Kansas City Aggies Elect

K. S. A. C. alumni of Kansas City, Mo. and Wyandotte county, Kansas gathered around the banquet table for their annual reunion in the Hoof and Horn club rooms of the Livestock Exchange building on Thursday evening, November 20. Approximately 100 Aggies were present to renew acquaintances and talk over college days. The banquet this year was held during the American Royal Livestock show, which made possible the attendance of a larger number of folks from the college.

Members of the college faculty who appeared on the program were H. W. Davis, head of the English department, Amy Kelly, state home demonstration agent, and C. W. McCampbell, head of the department of animal husbandry. Albert Deitz, '85, and O. G. Palmer, '87, the two oldest alumni at the reunion, made short talks.

A unanimous vote to make the banquet reunion an annual affair of the combined organizations during the American Royal Livestock show was taken at the close of the program. A short business meeting and election of officers was held following the program. Officers for the coming year for the Kansas City, Mo., organization are Mrs. Ary (Johnson) Butterfield, '98, president; Bryant Poole, '01, vice-president; and Maude Estes, '10, secretary-treasurer. Wyandotte county officers for next year are Walter F. Smith, '15, president; C. E. Coburn, '91, vice-president; and Reva Lint, '13, secretary-treasurer.

The Way That Advertising Pays:

You can't put an advertisement in a paper and then just sit back and watch the people surge to your doors, unless you are advertising a sale or something of a similar nature.

The direct result from advertising is not nearly as great as that received through good will and through the publicity obtained.

When a clothier advertises his suits he must realize that out of every thousand people he reaches with his advertisement, perhaps only twenty-five or fifty are actually in the market for a suit of clothing. His direct result may be small.

But on the other hand he must realize that within the next few months the other nine hundred and seventy-five persons will be in the market for clothing, and they will be influenced, perhaps unconsciously, by the advertisement they read months before.

It is the good will and publicity that a dealer receives from his advertising that really makes advertising pay.

HUNDREDS HEAR RADIO PROGRAM

LENGTHY DEDICATORY SERVICE BROADCAST FROM STATION KSAC

Telegrams of Congratulation Received from All Parts of Country

Eight hundred people gathered in the college auditorium in addition to the hundreds of alumni who listened in at their homes when station KSAC officially took the air Monday evening, December 1. Aggies all over the country tuned in at 8 o'clock for the occasion, and if conditions were favorable many on other continents also were to have tuned in for this event.

After its initial tryouts last week, station KSAC received the highest grade license that can be obtained for a 500 watt outfit. The dedication exercise marks the beginning of a new era in radio achievement at K. S. A. C. College programs were relayed to station KFKB at Milford in the past, but with the completion of the new station, the "College of the Air" is now an exclusive Aggie institution.

Old Bell Rung

The four hours program which was presented was opened by the ringing of the chapel bell. The time was divided into two parts, the first two hours being devoted to speeches and college yells, while the last two were given over to the K. S. A. C. department of music.

President W. M. Jardine, in his presentation speech, outlined the history of K. S. A. C. He stated that "from the beginning, the Kansas agricultural college has felt the need of doing more than merely instruct those who come to it as students."

"We have regarded the state as our campus," the president said, "all its people as our constituency, and our aim to be useful to those who give support to the institution and who make possible its existence. In keeping with this we seek to make the institution more effective, more serviceable to Kansas folks, particularly to those who live on farms. It is to this purpose that broadcasting station KSAC is dedicated."

Governor's Message Read

Governor Jonathan M. Davis was to have formally accepted the station for the state of Kansas, but he was unable to be present. Prof. L. C. Williams, of the extension department, read his address. Governor Davis says, "It is to the credit of the board of administration and the Kansas State Agricultural college that they have prepared and made possible this radio service for the people of Kansas. It will enable the college to come in closer contact with the people. It will enable the people to more rapidly know the work the college is doing for them and will also spread the knowledge of this service into more communities of the state."

Two telephones in the receiving room of the station were open to long distance calls and the operators were busy most of the time. The United Telephone company gave a special service for the event. O. C. Canary, manager of the Manhattan exchange, and two men from the United Telephone office at Abilene were present to help with the many calls.

Congratulations Sent In

All Aggie listeners were asked to reply when they successfully tuned in on the "College of the Air." During the four hours 232 telegrams, an average of 58 an hour, were received. Each telegram mentioned that the program was coming clearly and distinctly and all congratulated the station on its success. Many spoke also of hearing the college bell ring again and of hearing "Jay Rah" and "Alma Mater."

Telegrams were received from such widespread points as Los Angeles, New York, Canada, Texas, Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri, and many other states.

The regular daily schedule of the station, consisting of the sending out of market reports, weather forecasts, and other information, along with the "College of the Air" programs, was taken up Tuesday.

DATE SET FOR DEBATE FINALS

Five Teams Will Compete in Inter-Society Contest

Final rounds in the inter-society debate contests will be held Tuesday, December 9, on the question, "Resolved: That Kansas should adopt the unicameral system of legislation." Five teams, one each from Alpha Beta, Athenian, Browning, Eurodelphian, and Franklin literary societies, will compete. The Browning affirmative will meet the Alpha Beta negative and the Eurodelphian affirmative the Athenian negative. The winners of these contests will meet the Franklins.

These five teams were all affirmative teams in the first round, which was on the question, "Resolved: That the child labor amendment to the federal constitution should be adopted." Members of teams debating in this round are Eurodelphian—Julia Biltz, Verna Lawrence, Geneva Foley; Athenian—Floyd Herr, C. B. Keck, J. D. McKean; Alpha Beta—Ethel Oatman, Doris Soper, Adolph Helm; Browning—Mildred Baker, Clara Russell, Ruth Baker; Franklin—Grace Steininger, James Griffes, Ralph Eaton.

Bulletin Boards? They Are Unknown Quantities to Many

"Bulletin Boards?" Most of the freshmen and some of the upper classmen stand open mouthed, when asked if they have read any of the bulletin boards in Anderson hall recently. They do not seem to realize that they are there, or that their purpose is to help the students and keep them posted as to happenings on the hill. They often ask the question, "What meeting, I didn't hear anything about it, why didn't some one tell me?"

All a person has to do is take a few minutes off and glance over the bulletin boards—one glance will probably secure your interest and you will regret not having noticed them sooner. These bits of information are on the walls of Anderson hall, outside of this building, and all around the campus.

Get acquainted with your school—it will probably give you prestige some day when you journey forth into the world.

"THE FIRST YEAR" MAKES DECIDED HIT ON ROAD TRIP

Favorable Comments Are Received from Concordia and Clay Center—Show Here December 12

That "The First Year," Purple Masque production now on its road trip, is a decided success and is winning unanimous favor wherever it is presented is shown from reports following its first performances. The play was presented at Concordia Monday night, Clay Center Tuesday night, at Junction City Wednesday night, and last night at McPherson. Of the performance in Concordia the Concordia Blade-Empire comments, "Seldom does an amateur production come up to the mark set by these young players, some of them giving performances that would entitle them to professional rank. The direction of 'The First Year' was especially good, and the action was smooth throughout the play." Further comment was made on the acting of each individual character, which would indicate that the entire cast showed exceptional ability in the presentation.

"The play is a knock-out," is the way Dr. H. T. Hill of the public speaking department characterized the performance at Clay Center. Doctor Hill went to Clay Center Tuesday night to see the presentation there. He added further, "It produced an almost continuous laugh from the audience, with continual bursts of comedy. A capacity crowd attended the performance."

The last performance of the trip will be presented at Herington tonight. The play will be given at the college auditorium Friday, December 12.

PHI BETA KAPPA BANQUETS

Local Members Observe Founders' Day

Phi Beta Kappa "Founders Day" banquet was held at the "Open Door" in the college cafeteria building on Thursday evening, December 4, at 6:30 o'clock. Guests met in the music room adjoining the art gallery on the second floor.

The addresses of the evening were given by Prof. R. W. Conover, who spoke on "Scholarship and Democracy," and by Miss Emma Hyde on "The New Phi Beta Kappa."

Local members of the Phi Beta Kappa association are: Mary Brownell, R. W. Conover, J. V. Cortelyou, Grace Rushton Cortelyou, Hugh Durham, Grace E. Givins, Mary Harmon, E. L. Holton, J. S. Hughes, Emma Hyde, I. V. Iles, E. V. James, E. C. Miller, B. S. Remick, Pearl Ruby, Fay N. Seaton, W. F. Slade, Pearl Goddard Stickney, Anna M. Sturmer, and R. P. White.

CORSAUT DRILLS CAGERS DAILY

FOUR LETTER MEN BACK TO START THE SEASON

Aggie Prospects Are Bright—Large Number of Letter Men Out at K. U. and Oklahoma

Prospects for a strong Aggie basketball team are good this year, with four letter men of last year in school. Coach Corsaut has been working with a squad of about 16 men since early in the fall, drilling them in the fundamentals of the court game, and the men are rapidly rounding into shape.

Picked Out Squad

The letter men include Captain Art Doolen, guard; Kearney Bunker, forward; Eric Tebow, center and forward; and "Fritts" Koch, forward. Doolen, who has been a regular end on the football team, reported for basketball practice Monday night. Other members of the squad are C. A. Byers, forward; H. M. Weddle, forward and center; George Metz, guard; Ralph Helmreich, forward; M. B. Miller, guard; R. L. Scholtz, center; J. R. Stebbins, center; O. G. Lehman, forward; O. Weidenback, guard; R. Huey, forward.

Last year at this time the season was an uncertain proposition. The team had been losing consistently and Charles Corsaut had just taken charge. Although Corsaut had made a good record as a high school coach he had had no experience in the Valley and so was an unknown quantity.

This year, however, things are different. Corsaut showed last year what he could do with a team that had been near the bottom of the list, when he brought the same team up to 50-50 record. For that reason the outlook is bright for a good showing this year.

K. U. and Oklahoma Strong

The only place where the Aggies are at a disadvantage is in the size of the players. The men are probably as fast as any in the Valley but none of them rank among the tall men of the other schools.

It is too early in the season for the relative chances of the various Valley teams to be judged out, but from pre-season reports the Aggies will rank among the leaders. K. U. again has the edge on the other teams, as they have several letter men back and a good bunch of sophomores, including Herbert Proudfit, Harold Schmidt, and Harold Zuber, members of Corsaut's Kansas City, Kans., high school team the year it won the national championship.

Aggies Meet Hillyards

Oklahoma will also provide strong competition for other Valley schools, as all of their players from last season are in school this year. However, the Aggies have no great cause to worry about the season, as several good men who barely missed their letters last year are back, the team will have the same style of coaching as last year, and with the unknowns that always turn up the chances are good for a high position in the win column.

This year the Aggie basketball team will meet the Hillyards of St. Joseph, one of the strongest amateur teams in the United States in the only pre-season game so far scheduled. The game will be January 6 on the Hillyards home court. An attempt probably will be made to schedule a mid-season game with the Kansas City Athletic club, until last season the amateur champions of the United States.

The 1924 Aggie schedule is as follows:

January 9, Nebraska at Manhattan.
January 14, K. U. at Lawrence.
January 17, Ames at Manhattan.
January 19, Drake at Manhattan.
January 31, Grinnell at Grinnell.
February 2, Drake at Drake.
February 3, Ames at Ames.
February 6, Oklahoma at Manhattan.
February 9, Missouri at Manhattan.
February 10, Grinnell at Manhattan.
February 13, Nebraska at Lincoln.
February 24, K. U. at Manhattan.
February 28, Oklahoma at Norman.
March 3, Washington at St. Louis.
March 4, Missouri at Columbia.
March 7, Washington at Manhattan.

Prof. C. V. Williams and Prof. A. P. Davidson of the department of education will attend the meeting of the National Society for Vocational Education at Indianapolis, Ind., December 11, 12, and 13.

George Bernard Shaw Discussed

Miss Helen Elcock, professor of English, gave the third of a series of lectures being sponsored by the English department in the home economics rest room on Wednesday afternoon, December 3 at 4 o'clock. Miss Elcock spoke on George Bernard Shaw, giving a brief history of his life, his literary career, and his philosophy.

Miss Ada Rice, professor of English, will lecture on H. G. Wells on Tuesday afternoon, December 9.

G. S. FACULTY MEETS

Dean Holton Speaks on Organization of State Teachers' Association

A general science faculty meeting was held Tuesday in the chemistry building. The program consisted of a symposium on the Kansas State Teachers' association. Dean E. L. Holton, who is a member of the board of directors of the association, gave a talk on the organization machinery of the association. Other talks were given by Prof. I. V. Iles, who was chairman of the history round table at the meeting of the association, and by Prof. L. H. Limper, who was chairman of the modern language round table.

At the next meeting of the general science faculty, there will be a discussion of the feasibility of granting an A. B. degree at this college. Prof. R. R. Price and Prof. R. K. Nabours will be the principal speakers.

BANQUET TO BE DECEMBER 12

Varsity, Frosh, and High School Teams Will Be Guests

The annual Chamber of Commerce football banquet will be held Friday night, December 12, it was announced last night following a meeting of the committee in charge. No other details have as yet been worked out, the arrangements for speakers being only tentative.

As is the custom the letter men of the Aggie varsity and freshmen squad and the Manhattan high school letter men will be guests of honor. The captains of both college and high school elevens will be elected at the time.

Bishop Speaks at Forum

"What Is Your Name?" was the text of a talk made by Bishop James Wise of the Episcopal church of Topeka, at the student forum yesterday noon. "And what have you been doing to pack that individual name of yours with meaning, and to cause it to become associated with achievement toward greater things?"

Bishop Wise discussed the student's obligation to get ready for the work that he must do in life. "Your name is like a blank piece of paper," he said. "You may write what you please, but do not forget that after you have written a thing it is mighty hard to erase it. The education which you are receiving now should be an unfolding of the inner vision, and should aid you in writing wisely the first time."

"What is your name?" asked Bishop Wise. "Twenty years from now will it be one of the common herd, or will it be one which stands for great achievements and greater principles?"

Miss Hesse a Magazine Contributor

Miss Grace Hesse, assistant professor of modern languages, is the author of an article, "A Plea for Spanish," which appeared in the November 29 issue of School and Society. Miss Hesse's discussion is in defense of some articles that had been written recently, criticizing the academic status of Spanish in high schools and colleges.

K. S. A. C. SENDS POULTRY JUDGERS TO CHICAGO SHOW

Ten Intercollegiate Teams Entered in Contest—Aggies Won First Place in 1922

The K. S. A. C. poultry judging team, with H. H. Steup the coach, will leave Monday enroute to Chicago where it will compete in the Intercollegiate Poultry Judging contest at the Coliseum show. The team will stop off at Ames, Iowa, where they will meet the Ames team in a dual workout on Tuesday. They will arrive in Chicago on Wednesday and will meet the intercollegiate teams from other colleges in the contest Thursday.

The men who will represent K. S. A. C. in the contest are Stanley Catton, Manhattan; W. J. Kraus, Hays; H. A. Stewart, Topeka; and R. W. Fort, St. John. G. R. McMahon, Toronto, who stood among the three highest in the tryouts, was ruled ineligible by the committee on eligibility because he is enrolled as a special student.

The 10 teams entered in the contest are Ohio State, Michigan, Wisconsin, Purdue, Kentucky, Illinois, Ames, Nebraska, Missouri, and Kansas Aggies. There is a possibility that Oklahoma will enter a team in the contest this year.

This is the third contest of the kind ever held at the Coliseum show. Two years ago the K. S. A. C. team took first place and last year they took seventh.

Average Aggie Age Would Entitle All Students to Vote

An averaging of the ages of all students in attendance at Kansas State Agricultural college would entitle the student body as a whole to the right to vote, according to figures compiled in the office of Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar. Taking all students on the campus into consideration, which includes regularly enrolled students in the four college classes and special students, vocational men, and short or trade course men, the age of the average Aggie is 21 years.

However, when only the students, members of the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes are considered, the average age is only 20 years.

The ages range all the way from those of three 15 year old freshmen to 55 years, the age of the eldest student. A majority of the students attending range in age from 18 to 22 years.

The age tabulation for the fall semester attendance is as follows, including the age given and the number of students giving it:

15 years, 3; 16 years, 14; 17 years, 110; 18 years, 393; 19 years, 474; 20 years, 457; 21 years, 407; 22 years, 270; 23 years, 154; 24 years, 98; 25 years, 66; 26 years, 49; 27 years, 27; 28 years, 29; 29 years, 10; 30 years, 10; 31 years, 11; 32 years, 1; 41 years, 1; 55 years, 1.

SEVEN ORGANIZATIONS TO GIVE AGGIE POP STUNTS

Cup Goes to Winner of First Place—In-Between Stunts Are Announced

The ninth annual Aggie Pop night stunts will be presented tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the auditorium. The cup, which is to be awarded to the organization presenting the cleverest and most original stunt, is now on display in the College Canteen window.

Tonight four town judges will pick the three best stunts and tomorrow night there will be three out-of-town judges. The organizations which have entered stunts, in the order of their appearance, are Delta Zeta sorority, Ionia Literary society, Kappa Delta sorority, Alpha Theta Chi, Eurodelphian Literary society, Pi Beta Phi sorority, and Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Between act stunts are as follows: Selections by the college orchestra, a solo dance by Charlotte Remick, Delta Tau Delta quartette, stunt by Pi Omega Pi, reading by Martha Burr, and a specialty by Dorothy Alman.

LETTERS TO 23 FOOTBALL MEN

FIVE VETERANS WILL GRADUATE THIS YEAR

Eighteen Letter Men Will Return Next Fall—Captain to Be Elected December 12

When the Kansas Aggie football team starts its 1925 season, 18 of the 25 men who will be awarded letters for 1924 will be eligible for play, according to announcement made today by M. F. Ahearn, director of Aggie athletics. Out of the entire squad of 44 men which survived the early season cut, only seven will be lost by graduation next spring. Barring the usual high mortality rate in returning of football men who are eligible for play, the Aggies of 1925 will have more letter men as a nucleus than the total number of letters awarded in 1923.

The unusually large number of awards was made necessary because of close competition for team positions, and the failure of but few individuals to stand out above the other candidates for their positions as regulars. Next season Coach C. W. Bachman will have to develop two ends to fill the places of Art Doolen, Manhattan, two letter man, and Captain Lyle Munn, Colby, three letter man, and a center to replace Bernard Harter, Eldorado, three letter man. Si Tombaugh, left guard, Kansas City, Kans., and Elwin Feather, fullback, Minneapolis, have been trying out for the center position in recent practices, and Coach Bachman has in addition, Theron Hicks, a junior, Norton, and J. E. Smith, Woodward, Ok., a sophomore.

Aggies Showed Power

Though the Aggie season just completed could not be regarded as successful, unless the victory over the University of Kansas made it so, at times the green team showed power superior to that of leaders in the valley race. Frequently freakish breaks caused by in and out playing on the part of the Aggie backfield, because of its inexperience, forced the Aggies to take the short end of a game which seemed to be theirs by all the rules of football.

Out of the eliminations from the 130-man Aggie freshman squad, Coach C. W. Corsaut has developed a backfield which with a little rounding off of corners resembles remarkably the Aggie backfields of 1922 and 1923, when the Wildcat passing was the most feared in the valley.

Several Brilliant Freshmen

Karl Enns, Inman, quarterback, and Joe Holsinger, Kansas City, Kans., halfback, are a passing and receiving combination good to look at. Other good freshman prospects are Jim Douglas, fullback, Burlington, and T. A. Fleck, end, Wamego. Dick Haskert, a basketball and football man from Hutchinson high school, also is said to be a football comer, but has been kept off the practice field during the past season to take a rest from four years of strenuous high school competition.

As a nucleus for the 1925 line, Coach Bachman has J. W. Ballard, right tackle, Almena, two letter man and receiver of honorable mention in Missouri Valley selections; H. L. McGee, right guard, Ramona, second All-Valley man; Si Tombaugh, Kansas City Kans., left guard; John Mildreter, Norton, left guard; John Krysl, Lucas, left tackle, and Leland Keefer, Salina, left tackle.

Backfield Has Veterans

In the backfield as letter men there are two quarterbacks, three fullbacks, and six halfbacks.

Election of a captain for 1925 will take place at the annual football banquet December 12.

In addition to the five 1924 letter men, the Aggie squad will lose O. Rheburg, Niles, halfback, and Woody Perham, Iola, center, letter man of 1922 and 1923.

The 1924 Aggie letter men, with the number of letters they have earned, are as follows:

J. W. Ballard, Almena, tackle, 2; Jerry Krysl, Lucas, tackle, 1; Leland Keefer, Salina, 2; Si Tombaugh, Kansas City, guard, 1; H. L. McGee, guard, Ramona, 1; Myron Reed, Norton, guard, 1; Owen Cochrane, Manhattan, quarterback, 1; Joe Anderson, Salina, quarterback, 1; J. Dayhoff, Abilene, halfback, 1; Otis Wilson, Jennings, halfback, 1; Donald Meek, Idana, halfback, 1; John Mildreter, Norton, fullback, guard, 2; Elwin Feather, Minneapolis, fullback, 1; Ray Smith, Manhattan, halfback, 1; Russell Hoffman, Cherryvale, halfback, 1; C. W. Hawley, Frankfort, halfback, 1; Kenneth Yandell, Wilson, 1, and Kerr Whitfield, Ness City, fullback, 1.

ADVANCEMENT

Station KSAC "took the air" last Monday.

This happening marks a significant event in the progress of the college. The very fact of its being a radio station is evidence of its modernity and the fact that K. S. A. C. is one of the few colleges in the country with a station as powerful or as well equipped as ours is indicative of advancement.

Those who worked to make the broadcasting station here a reality deserve much commendation for their constant interest and endeavor in bringing the project to a successful close. The innovation of the "College of the Air" which was originated here and which has gained the immense following it now has, is probably the direct cause of the decision of the state to install the station here.

May the college always retain the advanced position in educational circles that it now has.

There is nothing that will make a cynic of a man any quicker than to receive a healthy slap when he uses the identical tactics that the hero used so successfully in the movie only the day before. It is discouraging, at least, so we have heard.

Program for Aggie Pop:
"All Potatoes Will Frolic," a sweet little story of Irish girls presented by originals—Delta Zeta.
"That's Where My Money Goes," or true confessions of a college boy—Alpha Xi Deltas.
"Not Us," or "We Didn't Steal It," a story of an emphatic denial presented very realistically by the Pi Pits.
"It Takes a Woman to Collect," touchingly presented by the Kappas.

Last year it was Mah Jongg and now it is the cross-word puzzle. There are always a lot of darn phoos around that will pick up a fad.

The next thing in beauty contests is the Wheat Girl. As soon as we get that out of the way we are going to start one of our own. It will be for all girls, but no cosmetics are to be allowed. Don't crowd. There is a chance for you all to "shine."

Why is there such discrimination in these beauty contests? Couldn't a boy be picked also?

S. S. S. You are hereby warned not to bring that girl to any more of our basketball games. Remember that she used to belong to us and we can't stand to see her cheer against us. The break was too recent.

One of the professors complimented Harry the other day. He called him absent-minded and we know for a fact that the poor devil doesn't have a mind that can be absent.

Only one girl responded to our leap year plea. And she was not the proper build. That means four more years to wait for another chance.

We have been warned not to mention the fact that several Alpha Deltas, and their friends, were quite surprised and possibly embarrassed when someone suddenly walked in. Won't say a word about it, girls, but next time you should move a trifle faster.

To the faculty: Only 13 more days to do your Xmas torturing.

On Other Hills

The University Daily Kansan issued two sport editions on the day of the Kansas-Oklahoma game in Lawrence. The first edition contained the play by play report to the end of the third period and came out in the fourth quarter. The final edition reported the entire game and was on the field before half the spectators had left the stadium.

A modern hotel is planned for the campus of Texas A. and M. The structure will be three stories high. It is intended to relieve the overcrowded conditions that now exist and to provide accommodations for visitors to the school.

Fencing classes for men students of the University of Kansas have been introduced. Classes for women will be started when enough enrol in the course.

Hays Teachers' college has installed a journalism department. No journalism subjects have been offered at the school previous to this.

A women's rowing team was recently organized at Reed college, Portland, Ore. Twenty-five women report daily for practice in rowing.

An endowment of $400,000 was recently accepted by the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan. Of this amount, $150,000 will be used for the erection of a building for the carrying on of medical research. The remainder will be held in reserve and used in the interests of medicine at the university.

Room and board at 1204 Blue-mont. Reasonable. Phone 1529.

Secures Practical Experience

Dr. Martha Kramer of the department of food economics and nutrition spent her summer vacation securing practical experience in hospital dietetics. She was assistant in dietotherapy in the Children's hospital, Boston, doing special work in the preparation of diets for nephritic, diabetic, and typhoid fever patients. Because she was there solely to secure practical experience, Doctor Kramer was permitted to work in the other departments and learn much about the working of the entire organization.

While in the east, Doctor Kramer also visited clinics at the Massachusetts General hospital, Boston Dispensary, and the New England Deaconess' Hospital, where Dr. Jalin is carrying on his experimentation.

Kappa Phi, the organization for the Methodist girls or Methodist preference girls, held its regular meeting at the Home Economics rest room Tuesday evening. Dr. Parkinson was the speaker of the evening, the subject of his speech being Archaeology. Miss Scott of the music department sang. About 40 girls and patronesses were present.

Students Submit Sketches

Sketches for the cover of the extension bulletin, which the extension department of the engineering division issues, have been finished by students enrolled in freehand drawing in the architectural department. The four best sketches have been chosen and will be perfected by those who drew them, after which prizes will be given for the best two. The first prize will be $3 and the second $2. The first four places were won by Norman Palmquist, Fred Billings, Frank Cross, and Wilmer Oakes.

Ancient Etchings to Be Exhibited

Prof. Paul Weigel, head of the department of architecture, during his recent trip to Europe, collected a number of colored etchings, the work of Lefdon and Van Santen. Van Santen is one of the most famous artists in Europe. These etchings are now in Professor Weigel's personal collection.

One hundred rare and ancient original Japanese prints, created between the dates 1750 and 1830, are contained in the collection of Professor Weigel. These prints, the work of Hokusai, Hiroshige, Toyokuni, Kunisada, and Yelsen, will be on exhibition in the architectural department after the holidays.

Chemistry Dept. Books Movies

The department of chemistry is bringing a two-reel motion picture here, which will be given in the chemistry lecture room, December 9, from 4 to 5 o'clock. The film is produced by the United States Bureau of Mines in cooperation with the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company. It shows in detail the sinking of the wells, the forcing of the superheated water down to the sulphur deposits, and the liquid sulphur flowing to reservoirs where it forms solid blocks which are blasted preparatory to shipping by rail and water. The picture is intended primarily for the students of chemistry, but all others will be welcome to attend.

Personals

The Gargoyle club of the architectural department held a meeting Thursday, December 4, in E 222. The following students of the department gave five minute talks on subjects concerning architecture: R. Emmet Welsh, Oscar Woody, David Yerkes, Floyd Wolfenbarger, and Louis Welkinson.

Mrs. Hughes, house mother of the Alpha Rho Chi fraternity, is visiting friends in Kansas City this week.

Dean Margaret Juston and Dean F. D. Farrell left today for Douglas county, where they will address the annual farm bureau meetings. These meetings are being held all over the state, one of the purposes being to stimulate interest in the clubs organized for farm boys and girls.

Prof. A. P. Davidson will go to Colby Saturday, December 6, where he will attend the northwest conference on the Administration of Consolidated Schools. While there he will also attend the conference of the vocational agriculture teachers of Northwest Kansas.

Martin Fritz, graduate assistant in psychology, delivered the dedicatory address for the new rural high school at Leoville, Kan., Thursday, November 27.

Prof. A. P. Davidson spent Monday and Tuesday of this week in Norton and Jewell City on vocational education itinerant teacher training work.

Miss Grace Currin, '24, spent the Thanksgiving vacation in Manhattan with her parents at 515 North Ninth street. Miss Currin is teaching in the high school at Louisville, Kan. Besides her regular teaching she is coaching a girls' basketball team which has won all of its early season games. Miss Currin won senior honors last year. She was a member of Omicron Nu and Phi Kappa Phi.

A collection of dolls, dressed in all the different types of costumes since the beginning of history will appear at the annual exhibition of the home economics department this year. This work is being started by the Clothing III class, and will be taken up by the new classes each year.

Miss Louise H. Everhardy, instructor of applied arts, is the author of an article, "Design in the Commonplace," in the December number of the Native American, a bi-monthly magazine devoted to Indian education.

The classes in marketing and serving will serve a noon meal promptly at 12 o'clock in the Home Economics dining room each week day, beginning Monday, December 8, and continuing for four weeks, exclusive of Christmas vacation. The charge will be 35 cents per meal.

Misses Ruth Morris, Geneva Watson, Ida Conrow and Laureda Thompson will represent K. S. A. C. at the state convention of Women's Athletic associations of Kansas colleges and universities to be held Friday and Saturday at Baker university, at Baldwin.

Miss Winifred Johnson, '05, Solomon Rapids, visited at the college Tuesday. Miss Johnson was returning from a trip to Washington, D. C., and points on the Pacific coast.

Lieutenant-Colonel Fred L. Bugbee left Tuesday for a short visit at the University of Missouri.

Do College Students Read Advertisements?

If you do, surely you will read this one

One fine day a Sophomore from a leading University came to see us, suggesting that we advertise in their undergraduate paper, and best of all convinced us, and this is how he did it:

First—He believed in Life Insurance because his uncle (a good business man) had advised him to buy some.

Second—His Father died in the prime of life and good health and left almost no insurance, when he could have carried $50,000.

Third—He also knew that he could buy Insurance NOW at half the annual cost his uncle and Father had paid for theirs.

All this convinced him that even though a student, he should take out as much Life Insurance as his allowance would permit.

What About You?

Every college student looks forward to a career, which will make possible the fulfillment of the most cherished desires—surely Insurance is a necessary part of this program.

Insure, in part at least the value of your educated self, NOW, making up your mind to increase it as business or professional success follows.

The John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company issues all forms of Life Insurance, endowments for home and estate protection, mortgage replacement, education of children, bequest or income for old age; also annuities and permanent disability. The John Hancock is particularly interested in insuring college men and women and obtaining college graduates for the personnel of the field staff.

If you have read this advertisement, you will aid your undergraduate paper by communicating with the

An Advertising Thought:

The first day that John Wanamaker was in business he took in $24.35. The next day he spent the $24.00 in advertising his business. His success was assured from the start.

Every man in business isn't a John Wanamaker. Yet every business man can learn a lesson from his success. If you have something to sell, tell the people about it. You can sell your goods before the buyer comes into your store.

Advertising has brought results to others, certainly it will not prove the exception to you. When a single corporation will spend a hundred thousand dollars, or perhaps a million, in advertising, a person feels certain that they are not simply donating to the newspapers, to insure their continued publication. That advertiser is getting results.

H. T. Hill at a meeting of De Molay Tuesday evening, and an address at the Riley County Teachers' association meeting at Stockdale Saturday afternoon by Prof. H. A. Shinn.

Mrs. Lucille Rust, graduate assistant in the department of household economics, went to Pratt Tuesday to address the annual convention of Kansas icemen on "The Home Refrigerator."

Dean Umberger of the extension division left for Chicago yesterday to attend the radio conference which was called by Director Warburton of the office of cooperative extension workers of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Alumni Notes

J. A. Howarth, '23, instructor in the veterinary school of the Washington State college, Pullman, Wash., successfully passed the state veterinary examination in the state of Washington recently.

Mary Taylor, '19, who, since graduation, has been instructor in household physics at K. S. A. C. is now studying for her master's degree at Columbia university. Her address is 21 Clairmont avenue, New York City.

J. A. Bogue, '21, of Lawrence was in Manhattan for Homecoming, visiting his sister, Miss Clara Bogue of the English department and other friends about the college. Bogue was captain of the Aggie football team in 1919.

Luella Sherman, '22, who since graduation has been foods and nutrition specialist in the extension division of K. S. A. C., has gone to the University of Wyoming at Laramie where she has accepted a similar position.

Glenn B. Kirkwood, '23, has resigned his position in Houston, Tex., and has accepted a veterinary position with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in New York City. Doctor Kirkwood's address is Twenty-fourth street and Avenue A, New York City.

Leo C. Moser, '17, publicity director for Halsey, Stuart, and Company, Chicago, was the speaker at the journalism seminar on Monday of this week. Mr. Moser pointed out the opportunities open to journalism graduates in fields which now are untouched. He also urged students to learn to "sell" their own personalities as preparation for starting into work in any field.

Captain Joe Sweet, '17, commandant of the R. O. T. C. unit at Fairmount college, Wichita, and his wife, Mary (Weible) Sweet, '17, were back for the Homecoming game. They were guests at the home of Lieutenant Riley McGarrah who is a coast artillery officer on the staff here.

"I'm sorry I can't come back, but I surely do send you my best wishes and my love to all the boys, old, and young, past and present," was the greeting from John B. Brown, '87, in answer to the invitation to come back for Homecoming. Mr. Brown is with the United States Indian field service of the department of the interior.

Don S. Whelan, '14, assistant entomologist at the University of Nebraska, spent several days last week visiting members of the department of entomology. Whelan has since taking a master's degree here in 1914 been engaged in entomological work in Ohio, Michigan, Idaho, and Nebraska.

Captain H. D. Linscott, '16, and May (Rich) Linscott, '18, were visitors at K. S. A. C. recently. Captain Linscott has been transferred from the Second brigade, United States Marines, Santo Domingo, D. R., to Marine Corps base, San Diego, Cal.

Among the most interested "Home Comers" on November 22 was Frank E. Cheadle, '97, of Cherokee, Okla., who had not been back to the college since he was graduated. He was a member of the 1897 baseball team, the first to play intercollegiate games for this college. He was also interested in football and came up to see the big game and incidentally renewed acquaintance with his classmates Edward Shellenbaum, O. E. Noble and Sherman B. Newell.

A. J. McKee, '23, formerly of Linn, is now associated in small animal practice with Dr. J. G. Horning at 1711 Preston avenue, Houston, Tex.

SIX HARRIERS WIN LETTERS

Five Members of Undefeated Team Will Return Next Year

Six cross-country letters were awarded by the athletic board at a meeting held Wednesday. The following members of the team won letters: Ralph Kimport, M. L. Sallee, Paul Axtel, John Smith, Rutherford, and P. R. Aikman.

The Aggies won every meet in which they were entered this year, including the Missouri Valley meet held at Drake. This is the best record ever attained by an Aggie cross-country team, and as only one man will be lost by graduation this year there is a great possibility of the team placing high next year.

SOUTHERNERS WANT ON SCHEDULE

Texas U. and Austin College Ask for Games Next Fall

Requests for a position on the Kansas Aggie football schedule for 1925 have been made by two Texas schools, the University of Texas and Austin college. Texas university is one of the largest schools in the United States, and recently completed an immense new stadium. The Texas athletic authorities would like to have the Wildcats come to Texas for the game, under an expense guarantee.

The offer from Austin college which is the ranking school from a football standpoint of the Texas state conference, would entail a game in Manhattan.

TRACK MEN PRACTICE INDOORS

Prospects Are Good in the Distance Events

Indoor track began last Monday, with a fair representation of men out. Practice will continue indoors until the opening of the outdoor track season next spring.

Kenneth Knouse, senior in the division of agriculture, is the captain of the tracksters this year. According to W. M. Matthias, who is coaching the cross country men, the Aggies are well supplied with distance men, and the chances are good for a winning relay team. With such dash men as Meek, Whitfield, and Foot, the prospects look bright in the shorter distances.

Freshmen interested in track are urged to come out, for there are a number of openings for good men in each event.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL CLOSE

Two Teams Drop Out—Betas and Kappa Sigs Undefeated

One of the most interesting and exciting games of the intramural basketball tournament was played Monday evening between Phi Sigma Kappa and Acacia. The game ended in a tie and the victor was not decided until the third extra period had ended. The final score was 30 to 28, with Phi Sigma Kappa the victor. T N K and Farm House have dropped out of the tournament. Lambda Chi Alpha recently defeated last year's champions, Sigma Nu, by a good margin, while Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Recent scores of the tournament games are as follows:

November 19—Phi Kappa 2, Beta Theta Pi 43; Phi Kappa Alpha 2, Acacia 16; Sigma Phi Epsilon 24, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 19; Alpha Tau Omega 20, Phi Sigma Kappa 18; Delta Tau Delta 20, Phi Delta Theta 12; Lambda Chi Alpha 15, Sigma Nu 9; November 21—Edgerton 14, Veterinary Medics 6; Rinky Dinks 2, Belmont 0; Edgerton 5, Aggieville A. C. 7; Kanza 2, T N K 0; November 24—Sigma Phi Epsilon 18, Acacia 14; Sigma Alpha Epsilon 16, Delta Tau Delta 14; Alpha Tau Omega 10, Lambda Chi Alpha 17; November 25—Kappa Phi Alpha 30, Triangular 18; Beta Pi Epsilon 2, Farm House 0; Omega Tau Epsilon 11, Phi Lambda Theta 17; December 1—Kappa Sigma 15, Delta Tau Delta 9; Beta Theta Pi 19, Phi Delta Theta 18; Alpha Tau Omega 19, Phi Kappa 17; Phi Sigma Kappa 30, Acacia 28; Phi Kappa Alpha 0, Sigma Phi Epsilon 2; December 2—Phi Lambda Theta 2, Farm House 0; Sigma Phi Sigma 20, Alpha Sigma Psi 10; Omega Tau Epsilon 18, Alpha Rho Chi 8.

VOLLEY BALL IS POPULAR

Eleven Girls' Teams Entered in Tournament to Decide Championship

The girls' volley ball tournament, offered by the women's physical education department for the first time this year, is proving to be popular with girls' organizations. Eleven teams have entered the tournament, being divided into two playing groups. When the two groups have played off all the games, the two teams having the highest scores will play for the championship. The scores for the games are to be counted on a basis of percentage.

The following are the results of the games including those of Tuesday night. Phi Omega Pi 37, Alpha Xi Delta 24; Kappa Delta 42, Outlaws 13; Alpha Delta Pi 44, Browning 19; Delta Delta Delta 21, Delta Zeta 17; Chi Omega 36, Gamma Phi Delta 32; Phi Omega Pi 27, Kappa Delta 34; Alpha Delta Pi 77, Delta Zeta 6; Alpha Theta Chi 42, Delta Delta Delta 16.

The schedule for the tournament is as follows:

Tuesday, November 25, 7 o'clock—Alpha Xi Delta vs. Phi Omega Pi, Kappa Delta vs. Outlaws.

Monday, December 1, 5 o'clock—Browning vs. Alpha Delta Pi, Delta Zeta vs. Delta Delta Delta.

Monday, December 1, 7 o'clock—Chi Omega vs. Gamma Phi Delta, Phi Omega Pi vs. Kappa Delta.

Tuesday, December 2, 7 o'clock—Delta Delta Delta vs. Alpha Theta Chi, Alpha Delta Pi vs. Delta Zeta.

Thursday, December 4, 7 o'clock—Chi Omega vs. Outlaws, Alpha Xi Delta vs. Kappa Delta.

Monday, December 8, 5 o'clock—Phi Omega Pi vs. Outlaws, Alpha Xi Delta vs. Gamma Phi Delta.

Monday, December 8, 7 o'clock—Browning vs. Alpha Theta Chi, Alpha Delta Pi vs. Delta Delta Delta.

Tuesday, December 9, 7 o'clock—Phi Omega Pi vs. Chi Omega, Outlaws vs. Gamma Phi Delta.

Thursday, December 11, 7 o'clock—Browning vs. Delta Zeta, Alpha Delta Pi vs. Alpha Theta Chi.

Monday, December 15, 5 o'clock—Alpha Xi Delta vs. Outlaws, Kappa Delta vs. Gamma Phi Delta.

Monday, December 15, 7 o'clock—Browning vs. Delta Delta Delta, Delta Zeta vs. Alpha Theta Chi.

Tuesday, December 16, 7 o'clock—Phi Omega Pi vs. Gamma Phi Delta, Kappa Delta vs. Chi Omega.

Thursday, December 18, 7 o'clock—Alpha Xi Delta vs. Chi Omega.

New Sports Magazine Out

"Missouri Valley Sports" is the name of the new athletic publication which made its first appearance on the campus this week. This magazine, which will appear weekly, is devoted to Missouri Valley conference athletics and will contain each week a complete review of valley athletics, together with articles by men prominent in sports both in and out of the valley. Some of the more noted men who will contribute articles are, Grantland Rice, premier sports writer of the east; Walter Eckersall, sports writer of the west, and Major John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Big Ten. The new publication will cover a heretofore neglected field of news and will attempt to give each school a unified knowledge of Missouri Valley athletics as a whole.

The swimming class held in the college pool Tuesday by Mrs. Cecilia Deubig, Red Cross life saving instructor from Washington, D. C., was well attended. There were 18 present. Most of those present qualified to take the advance course in life saving, Mrs. Deubig said.

VET HOSPITAL IS POPULAR

Thousands of Animals Treated During Past Year

The K. S. A. C. veterinary hospital treated 4,488 animals during the year ending July 1, 1924, according to a report by Dr. E. J. Frick.

During the veterinary clinics 405 horses, 2,534 cattle, 753 dogs and cats, besides other animals, were given medical and surgical attention. The hospital is at present one of the finest in the country, the work being carried on by the professors of veterinary medicine, assisted by the students. Besides the hospital an ambulatory clinic is maintained, using two cars for student conveyance to treat sick animals throughout the neighboring countryside.

Date Set for Handball Tourney

The annual intramural handball tournament begins January 7, 1925 at 6 o'clock. Both singles and doubles will be included in this tournament. Entries will close Friday, December 19. All those intending to participate should sign up on the bulletin board in the gym before the vacation.

Doctor Hill Heads Kiwanis

Dr. H. T. Hill was elected president of the Manhattan Kiwanis club at its annual election Wednesday night. Other men from the college who were elected to offices are Prof. A. P. Davidson, vice-president, and Professors J. H. Parker, H. B. Walker, and C. V. Williams, members of the board of directors.

Extension Expert Speaks

Mr. J. H. McAdams of the extension division is giving a series of lectures this week at Junction City. The first of the lectures were given yesterday and today in connection with the poultry show, including such subjects as flock management, brooding and feeding and rearing of chicks.

Degree from Colombian College

Louis A. Cortes of Bogota, Colombia, now enrolled as a sophomore in the architecture department of K. S. A. C., holds a degree from the Institute de la Salle of Bogota, and last winter was enrolled in the South Dakota School of Mines.

Mr. Cortes belongs to the most progressive caste in his country, the Castilian. As a group this caste is making great advancement in all of the industrial fields. Upon completing his training in this country Mr. Cortes will enter some phase of architectural work in Colombia.

Frederick E. Emery, '23, is a demonstrator in physiology and engaged in research in the department of physiology, University of Illinois, Urbana.

PURPLE MASQUE PLAYER INJURED

JACK KENNEDY SUFFERS BROKEN BONE AT McPHERSON.

E. G. McDonald Substitutes in Lead
—"The First Year" Postponed
Here Until January

Jack Kennedy, playing the male lead in the Purple Masque play, "The First Year," broke a bone in his ankle during the performance at McPherson Thursday night. Because of the injury Mr. Kennedy will be unable to go on with his part and the presentation here, announced for Friday, December 12, will be postponed until sometime in January, according to E. G. McDonald, dramatic coach.

The accident came near the end of the last act when, in the action of the play, Harold Sappenfield in the role of a rival suitor engaged in a scuffle with Kennedy. In some manner during the fight, Kennedy, supporting his weight on his right foot, slipped and fell, twisting his ankle. He was helped to his feet and the play proceeded for the remaining two minutes. An examination of the injury showed a fracture of a bone in the ankle.

McDonald Plays Part

In the presentation the following night in Herington, Kennedy's part was played by E. G. McDonald, dramatic coach. Much credit is due Mr. McDonald for his remarkably finished portrayal of the character. Without a rehearsal and with only the knowledge of the part he had received by direction of the cast, he was able to give a performance that held the play up to the high standard set by previous performances. Of his acting, Melville Thompson, president of Purple Masque and business manager for "The First Year," commented thus: "The part was admirably done. Mr. McDonald's presentation could not have been detected as a substitution. Purple Masque expresses its appreciation of his effort and willingness to take the part."

"The First Year" won unanimous favor at every town where it played on the road trip. Comments by local newspapers after each performance indicate that the play is a decided success.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKER THINKS REGIONAL STORIES BEST

John T. Frederick Believes a Large and Varied Country Must Have Local Literature

"We must have regional literature," said John T. Frederick, editor of The Midland, who spoke in chapel Friday morning on the subject "Literature in the Middle West." "It used to be a common thought among students of literature that New England literature and American literature were both expressive of the same thought," said Professor Frederick. "However, this is not true. No New England writer can express the American thought—regional literature must be depended upon to do that."

The idea of regional literature, according to Mr. Frederick, is not a new one. We have long had New York literature, southern literature, California and Pacific coast literature and Mississippi valley literature. "A large and varied country must have local literature," said Mr. Frederick. "Middle western literature was in the production a century ago, but we have not been conscious of it, as we are today. The one great fault of regional literature is in the regional praise that it so often contains."

"The middle west is unparalleled for material for dramatic themes," said Mr. Frederick. "One of the greatest things that man has ever accomplished was the great development of the middle west in so short a time. There have been millions of individual struggles and thousands of community struggles in this process, all of which offer suggestions for literary accomplishments."

Mr. Frederick concluded by saying, "We need writers who will see clearly and truly and write, not because of their hate for the region in which they live, but for their love for it, and such literature so produced will find purpose in the middle west, to make our lives much more meaningful and happy."

Mr. Frederick spoke at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in the home economics rest room to a group of students and faculty members on "The Status of the Short Story." He pointed out the things that a writer should avoid in writing a story and also the things that he should attempt to accomplish. He gave many incidents from his personal experience as editor of The Midland and emphasized the fact that the young writer must choose between writing just for a trade and turning his work out to commercial magazines or writing because of what Conrad classes as "an obscure inner necessity." Mr. Frederick said that "although the latter type of writing may not, in the beginning, recompense the writer very largely as far as monetary returns are considered, it rewards the writer very highly in that it gives him the ability to live life more profoundly and completely."

MESSIAH TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY

FOUR SOLOISTS WILL APPEAR IN THE ORATORIO

College Chorus and Orchestra to Take Part—Concert Underwritten
by Manhattan Ministers

The "Messiah," which is presented yearly by the chorus and orchestra of K. S. A. C., will be given Sunday evening, December 14, at the college auditorium. The service will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and will be in the nature of a union service of the churches in Manhattan.

Soloists a Feature

This year the "Messiah" concert will have the added interest of having four soloists from four of the leading colleges of Kansas. The soloists are Miss Irma Jane Lewis of Washburn college, soprano; Miss Minna Dorn of the University of Kansas, contralto; Dean Paul R. Utt of Ottawa university, bass; and Mr. Stanton D. Fiedler of Bethany college, Lindsborg, tenor. Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the department of music, will conduct the "Messiah." Professor Pratt considers the chorus and orchestra this year the best the college has ever produced.

The presentation of the great oratorio has become an important part of the musical life of most of the large cities of America where large choruses and orchestras are to be found. The people of Manhattan are fortunate in having the opportunity each year to hear the "Messiah" presented by a finely trained chorus and orchestra, and excellent soloists. Children under high school age will not be admitted unless accompanied by some older person.

The concert has been underwritten by the ministers of Manhattan. A silver offering will be taken at the door to defray necessary expenses.

NOMINATE YEARBOOK OFFICERS

Wielbrecht Heads Staff—Faulconer

Officers of the 1926 Royal Purple were nominated at the junior class meeting Friday. H. G. Faulconer was elected manager of the junior-senior prom and Dede Daniels, assistant manager. It was also decided that the class should support Phyllis Burtis as "Wheat Girl."

Votes for Royal Purple officers may be cast at the Royal Purple office by all juniors who pay the class dues of fifty cents. The nominees are: editor-in-chief, Francis Wielbrecht; business manager, Wayne Rogler; and treasurer, Gladys Stover.

TALKS OF MOUNTAIN PEOPLE

Graduate of Berea College, Ky., Brings Handiwork to K. S. A. C.

"Practically everything that comes to the people of the Appalachian mountains must come on horse back," said Mrs. James Washburn in her talk on Berea College of Kentucky, Tuesday evening in home economics hall. Mrs. Washburn, who is a graduate of Berea college and who taught in that school for 19 years, brought to K. S. A. C. a display of handiwork done under the direction of the Fireside Institute of Berea college.

George T. Fairchild, who resigned his position as president of K. S. A. C., to take up the vice-presidency of Berea, Nellie Kedzie Jones, who instituted home economics at K. S. A. C., and Dr. Raine, formerly of the K. S. A. C. department of English, are among the former K. S. A. C. faculty members who are now connected with Berea college.

Engineering Faculty Attend Meeting

Members of the engineering faculty that will attend the meeting of the Kansas Engineering society, to be held at Lawrence from Wednesday to Friday, are: Dean R. A. Seaton, Prof. H. B. Walker, Prof. F. V. Frazier, Prof. L. V. White, Prof. Harold Allen, and Professor Calderwood. Professor Conrad, vice-president of the society, has been ill and probably will be unable to attend the meeting.

President W. M. Jardine went to Topeka today to attend a meeting of the state textbook commission.

Three Largest Engineering Schools Are Found in Agricultural Colleges

"The enrolment in the engineering division at K. S. A. C. is much greater than that of any other engineering school in the state," according to Dean R. A. Seaton in his radio address to the alumni Monday night. "It is exceeded by only two other schools between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast, the Iowa State College of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts, and the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college."

"The engineering division is now the second division in size at K. S. A. C. in point of enrolment, being exceeded only by the general science division," Dean Seaton said. "Last year the enrolment was two and one-half times as great as before the war. This year shows an increase of 50 over the enrolment last year. The three largest engineering schools are found in agricultural colleges in states where a state university is also maintained."

"K. S. A. C. graduates from the engineering division have had no difficulty in being placed in very attractive positions. The fact that they are making good is evidenced not only by their promotions but also by the fact that the companies are coming back for more from this institution."

JOURNALISM HEAD RECEIVES HIGH PRAISE AS AUTHOR

Editor of The Midland Calls Crawford Real Writer and Real Teacher

Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the department of industrial journalism at the Kansas State Agricultural college, is the subject of a short sketch in the November number of The Midland, written by the editor, John T. Frederick of Iowa City. Professor Crawford has been associated with Mr. Frederick in the publication of The Midland, a national, non-commercial magazine.

"Nelson Antrim Crawford illustrates the truth that it is altogether possible and natural to be at once a real teacher and a real writer—that writing and teaching are not mutually exclusive occupations," states Mr. Frederick. "I do not know that Mr. Crawford would say that his experience as a teacher has helped him specifically in this development as a writer. There are some things in his work which seem rather far from the bourne of journalism. But that his writing has not decreased his usefulness as a teacher, anyone who has visited Manhattan and sat in his classes or become acquainted with his students will bear witness."

"The Ethics of Journalism," a textbook written by Professor Crawford and used in his classes at the agricultural college, is a direct product of his experience as head of the department of journalism at K. S. A. C. for a number of years, says Mr. Frederick. "It is written brilliantly but not superficially, and the mass of information it contains is made vital by intelligent organization. Altogether the book represents a finely satisfying execution of a job that badly needed doing."

Mr. Frederick traces in Mr. Crawford's volume of poems, "The Carrying of the Ghost," the same qualities "of intellectual integrity and hardihood, and the same accurate sense of proportion and revelation, which make 'The Ethics of Journalism' such an exceptional textbook. In the poems, of course, these qualities are supplemented and overshadowed by a very delicate response to tones and shades of language and of emotion, by mastery of subtle and individual rhythms, and by strength and beauty of poetic conception."

"Altogether," concludes the writer, "I find 'The Carrying of the Ghost' an enjoyable and memorable book. It bears rereading, and I have given it a place in the short shelf of modern American poetry which I think worthy of study."

Christmas Topic at Vespers

Christmas gifts and their significance will be the topic for discussion at Y. W. C. A. vespers on Thursday, December 11. It was announced that a list of books especially suited for gifts would be posted on the Y. W. bulletin board. Any one caring for any of these books may order them through the Y. W. office.

The Y. W. octette will give a Christmas cantata at vespers on December 18.

L. C. Williams, extension horticulturist, will speak on "Opportunities for Horticulture Men in Extension Services" at the meeting of the Horticulture club to be held tonight at the home of Prof. Albert Dickens.

Engineers Hold Special Seminar

A special engineering seminar will be held at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, in the college auditorium. Mr. L. W. Wallis, secretary of the American Engineering Council of Washington, D. C., will address the engineering students on points of engineering interest.

The American Engineering Council is a federation of practically all of the state and national engineering societies of United States.

In closing Dean Seaton said, "We are doing our part to justify the reputation of the Kansas State Agricultural college as 'The College that serves the State.'"

"The new engineering building has, since its erection in 1921, been an important factor in the growth of the division. Nearly twice as many students are enrolled in engineering as were enrolled at the time the appropriation was made."

COLLEGIAN INSTITUTES DEPARTMENT FOR POETS

Campus Verse Writers' Efforts to Be Published—Students Urged to Submit Poems

With this issue the Collegian is instituting a new department under the heading, "With the Campus Poets."

The poems submitted will be published from time to time together with the name or initials of the author.

Students are urged to submit any original poetry they have written. Verses on any subject are desirable, the only requirement being that of brevity.

This section is being given to budding poets in the hope that the discovery of a poetic genius or of a really good poem might be made. Several really worth while poems have already been submitted to the editors and they will be published in the near future.

The department will be carried on the editorial page.

Royal Purple Wants Snap Shots

In order to make the snap shot pages of the 1926 Royal Purple as representative and as democratic as possible, each organization and individual of the college is being asked to submit as many snap shots of college life and student activities as possible. L. E. Childers, who is the snap shot editor for the Royal Purple, has sent a letter to the organizations requesting interesting and unusual pictures from them. Sharp, clear, prints are desired. It is desired that this section of the Royal Purple be one of its most interesting features.

Burr Speaks in Norton

W. H. Burr, professor of economics, went to Norton last Wednesday, for the purpose of assisting the Norton chamber of commerce to develop a program of work for the coming year. During the day Professor Burr addressed the Norton high school on "New Jobs in a New World." In the evening he gave an address to the chamber of commerce, outlining the program of work.

NEW FEATURE FOR STUDENT RECORDS

INDIVIDUAL PICTURES TO BE FILED BY REGISTRAR

Royal Purple Photos to Be Used—Freshmen Lax in Having Pictures Taken

A new system of personal records is to be installed in the Registrar's office this year. Included in the individual record of each student will be his photograph, to be taken from the class sections of the Royal Purple.

Such an addition to the college records has been a need of long standing, according to Miss Machir, registrar. It is impossible to become personally acquainted with each of three thousand students, yet the efficiency of the records demands that each individual be known by more than name. This difficulty can be eliminated by means of pictures.

Aids in Identification

Such a system will not only be an aid to the college but will also be of material advantage to the students. The nature of this college is essentially professional, to train specialists in certain lines, and is recognized as such by leading industrial and business concerns. Accordingly after a student leaves school he sends back for recommendations. The registrar has no way of remembering each student and his qualifications, but if photographs are included in each personal record the student can be identified immediately.

It is especially essential to this plan that a picture of each freshman be obtained. Yet reports from the Royal Purple office indicate that only 8 per cent of the freshman class have made arrangements to place their pictures in the class sections.

Pictures from Royal Purple

The only available means of obtaining pictures for the Registrar's records is through the class sections of the Royal Purple and it is hoped that every student will be represented.

"After the record of a student's accomplishments and honors has been kept through his years of college, that record ceases to be a page and becomes the student himself," says Miss Machir. "Add his picture to the page and it is the final touch of personality by which he will always be remembered. It will prove of inestimable value to this office and to the student as well."

TO HOLD EXTEMPORE CONTEST

Washburn College, K. S. T. C., and
K. S. A. C. to Compete

Political affairs and the general status of present day politics will be discussed at the intercollegiate extempore speech contest to be held in recreation center Saturday, December 13, at 8 o'clock. Teams from Washburn college and Kansas State Teachers college will compete with the Aggie team.

In a general way the meet will correspond to an oratorical contest, except that speeches are to be entirely extemporaneous. Each person will be allowed one hour in which to prepare his speech. The questions have been prepared by the department of public speaking of Northwestern university. Each speaker will be allowed eight minutes for his speech and will compete as an individual.

This is the first contest of its kind to be held here. Judges at the contest last year, which was held in Topeka, pronounced it the most interesting competition they had heard in that kind of public speaking. Washburn won first last year.

The three men who will represent the Aggies will be chosen from the following four, who were selected from tryouts held last year: K. W. Given, Chicago; Robert Hedberg, Oklahoma City; Frank Z. Glick, Junction City; and Paul Shivel, Coffeyville.

Discusses American Newspaper

Professor Crawford, head of the department of journalism, gave an address at the forum of All Souls Unitarian Church at Kansas City, Sunday evening. His subject was "The Newspaper and the American People."

AGGIE POP WON BY PI BETA PHI

IONIANS PLACE SECOND AND AL-PHA XI DELTA THIRD

Cup Goes to Winning Organization—
Chi Omega Ranked Highest
Last Year

The Pi Beta Phi sorority was awarded the Aggie Pop cup Saturday night for their stunt, "Note Us." "Do Dreams Come True," presented by the Ionian Literary society, was given second place, and "That's Where My Money Goes," Alpha Xi Delta sorority, third. Seven organizations participated in the contest. The cup has been in possession of the Chi Omega sorority for the past year.

Music Stunt Wins

"Note Us" was a revue of late Broadway jazz. Six girls, representing the six strings of a huge banjo were seated on its handle. As her string was plucked each girl sang. The banjo was torn open by Em Moore, the banjo player, and Helen King appeared and sang a solo. Nora Yoder danced, and Jean Rankin played a violin solo. The stunt closed with a song by the six notes.

"Do Dreams Come True" was a representation of the dream which every girl has. After the dream, in which the Prince Charming was brought by the sea nymphs to the dream princess, several scenes of realities were given.

A dream of a college girl, in which the items of her budget came to life and danced, was the theme of "That's Where My Money Goes." Chewing-gum, Hersheys, mints, ice-cream cones, cokes, and clothes all entered into the dream.

Seven Judges Watch Stunts

The townspeople who judged the stunts Friday night were Mrs. Drury Hill Fisher, Miss Florence Clark, Prof. Albert Helder, and Prof. Shinn. The judges Saturday night were from out-of-town and were Miss Pearl Maus, Randolph; Miss Margaret Long, Abilene; and J. R. Burroughs, Topeka. Evelyn Colburn, representing the Y. W. C. A., presented the cup to Nora Yoder, who represented the Pi Beta Phi sorority.

WORK OF REPORTER EXPLAINED

Reporter on City Paper Tells of Experiences

"What appeals to me the most in the newspaper reporter's work is his various modes of transportation," said Richard E. Baumhoff of the St. Louis-Post Dispatch, taking before the journalism seminar yesterday afternoon. Automobiles and street cars are the most used, but the reporter of today takes to the water, air, and even under the ground.

Mr. Baumhoff thinks that the air route is the most interesting and tells of his experience at the St. Louis air meet where he rode around the race course in an airplane. To him the trip was quite scenic and beautiful, but to the race pilot shooting through the air at more than 200 miles an hour, it was quite a different thing. Once Mr. Baumhoff went up in an open car balloon on a cold December day. "They had to build a fire under me to get me to moving when I came down," he said.

Mr. Baumhoff gave an idea of newspaper speed when he stated that it is often only 20 minutes from the time a story comes into the office until it is out on the street. A reporter just learns to know news. He can tell the extent of a fire by the way the alarm sounds. The very air of a newspaper office is electrified when notice of big news comes in.

"A reporter must show no sentiment or feeling at any occasion, but write news," Mr. Baumhoff said. "That may sound uninteresting, but once you get into the game it holds you with its fascination. If you want to see people, places, things, and want to meet unexpected events, be a reporter," he concluded.

Doctor Nabours on Council

Dr. R. K. Nabours has been notified by Professor Fisher of his election as a member of the advisory council of the "Eugenics Committee of the United States of America." Doctor Nabours is vice-president of the American Society of Zoologists and has been requested to preside at some of the meetings to be held in Washington during the Christmas holidays.

Members of the zoology department who will attend the meeting at Washington during the holidays are Dr. J. E. Ackert, Dr. Mary T. Harman, Dr. G. E. Johnson, Dr. Minna Jewell, Miss Naomi Zimmerman, and Dr. R. K. Nabours.

AGGIE POP

Now that Aggie Pop is again a thing of the past, at least for another year, the Collegian feels the urge to express a few opinions regarding the affair.

To begin with, we just can't understand why so many of the competing organizations just naturally have to stage those awkward group dances. This year's Pop program was particularly offensive in this respect. Stunt after stunt was staged where in some sort of a dance was attempted with about the success a bunch of football players or weight men would have achieved. Of course we realize that dancing of a professional standard could not be expected. But we also realize that dancing which falls short of near perfection is not at all pleasing or entertaining; it is merely distressing. Good quality dancing cannot be expected of college girls as a whole and its mars the offering considerably when it is attempted.

However, not all of the dances given are to be derided. There were a few solo parts that were very satisfactorily done and which contributed materially to the success of the stunts in which they appeared.

Another thing noticeably wrong with the Pop program is the lack of stunts staged by fraternities. Fraternity programs have not been on the card because the synopsis of their proposed attempt has not measured up to the standard of those proposed by the sororities and literary societies. This discrepancy can be attributed to the lack of interest professed by the men of the college in such an affair.

But a few stunts by men would relieve the continuous monotony of the seemingly inevitable poor dancing staged by some of the sororities, even though they do not rank up to the women's standard of achieving supposedly beautiful and original effects. We would like to suggest that the affair be divided into two divisions, one for fraternities and men's literary societies and one for sororities, women's literary societies, and mixed literary societies. The mixed societies are included in the group with women because their membership is made up in a major part of women.

The present system of elimination beforehand could be followed and the best four of each group be allowed to contest in the finals. Of course this arrangement would necessitate two cups being awarded but the financial success of Aggie Pop during the years since its inception, makes it easy to overcome this obstacle.

On the whole, however, we wish to commend the Y. W. C. A. on its Aggie Pop idea, which does a great deal in promoting rivalry and interest within the school.

The originality in Aggie Pop wasn't so bad, but as one girl remarked, "Wasn't it a shame that with so much dancing, no one could dance?" It was just another instance of the feminine inability.

After hearing the Pi Phi stunt, we couldn't decide just whether they were "sharp or flat." There are really some of both.

It is a safe bet that the curtain won't catch again for years at a more opportune moment than it did at the close of the Eurodelphian Lit stunt on Friday night.

R. O. T. C. officers are continually advocating keener observation on the part of the men in the "army." We wonder how many of them could tell whether the last waffle which they ate was square or round.

Couldn't the faculty aid the feeling of good cheer at this particular time of the year by forgetting all about those original and interesting little quizzes which they have so thoughtfully planned?

It must have worked a hardship on the Delta Zetas to go through with their Aggie Pop stunt. They had to be so quiet.

Harry said he wonders why they didn't send the picture of the other comely coed to Flo Ziegfeld.

And that brings up the subject of our beauty contest. It has been called off. With no cosmetics it could not be properly termed a "beauty" affair and then too, there were no contestants.

Christmas will be a nightmare for the chap who is trying to win the favor of three girls here and two back home.

Just why is it that the girl we like best and want to have an excuse to see again never forgets to ask for her dorian?

Another thing we thought was funny at Aggie Pop. One of the Alpha Xi Deltas tried to talk over the phone upside down—the phone upside down, not the Alpha Xi Delta.

On Other Hills

For the first time since football was originated in this country in 1871, a national football championship has been conceded to a western team. Notre Dame has been awarded this unusual distinction.

Miss Florence Heiser, formerly of the dramatic department of K. S. A. C., is directing the comedy "Seven Keys to Baldpate" which the Washburn Dramatic Club will present.

The Student Friendship Fund, for the aid of needy European students, will be raised by the sale of Christmas candles at the University of Kansas.

The University of Florida has had the buildings and campus filmed as an advertisement of the university. The films will be distributed to country clubs as well as to many theaters in the state.

Cheng Me Sun, a graduate student of Shantung in China, directs a Chinese glee club at Ohio State university.

Brigham Young university, Provo, Utah, has just concluded its annual "Freshman Week" with the staging of a Grand Ball given by the freshmen for the upperclassmen.

Twenty students of Wabash college, Indiana, were indicted yesterday for malicious trespass in connection with the smearing of red paint on some of the buildings at DePauw university. DePauw officials state that all athletic relations between the two schools will be broken.

The next issue of the Vagabond, humor publication of the University of Indiana, will contain an article titled, "In Defense of Necking."

Tony Sarg's Marionettes, the entertainment that proved to be a financial fiasco when given here last year, will be presented at the Oregon Agricultural college this week.

THE DEAD STREAM

This is the song it sang to me
As I gazed at its stagnant pools.
Scum-covered, ill-smelling, a bed of leaves
Where only the bullfrog rules:
"My ripples lie bare, merely whitened stones,
And I've gone from the hearts of all
Who loved me well in my yesteryears
When I sounded my luring call;

"When my waters flashed and in the swirling
Blue the rainbow leaped to the fly,
And in life's youthful vigor I boasted,
'I am one who will never die!'
But my day is done, although yet I dream
Of the ripples that used to flow;
Still in the dimming haze of memory
I'm the spring-stream of long ago.

"Faintly I hear the swish of the bronze-back
As he strikes in the twilight's glow
In darkened pools beneath the rapid's whirl
That never again I'll know.
As the years roll on, my crumbling banks
Slowly cover my rocky bed,
And I cease to be, for my life is gone—
I am a stream of the dead."

JUNIOR AG BLUES

(With due apologies to the Hoosier poet.)

When the basidiospore is on the sterigma and the lactase is in the crock,
And you hear about the peculiar forms of life that can exist on barren rock,
And the life habits of Phytophthora infestans and things you never heard before,

And the Acetobacter's peculiar habit of never forming a zygospore;
O, it's then's the times a feller is a-feelin' the need of rest,
And with the risin' sun to greet him after a night cramming for a test,
He leaves his bed, dizzy-headed, with murderous thoughts of the pesky ringin' clock,
When the basidiospore is on the sterigma and the lactase is in the crock.

They's something kindo' weary-like about the atmufere
When the time for campus lab is over and the hour for the tiresome speaker's here.

Of course we miss the joy of registration and the paying of the fees,
And the dizzy week of rushin' and the quizzes we took to remove our C's;
But the air's sorta depressin', for we must long remember That the peculiar hydrolytic action of amylase in changing starch to a sugar that can be split by maltase
Is a feat no other enzyme has the power to mock—
When the basidiospore is on the sterigma and the lactase is in the crock.

Then your Plant Path references all is gathered, and the ones a feller keeps
Is sorted out and filed in distinct and separate heaps;
And your mid-semester are over, and all your professors is through
With their tough assignments and mid-term papers and their meanest shotgun quizzes, too!
I don't know how to tell it—but if slich a thing could be
As the Commerce students wantin' larnin', and they'd call around on me
I'd want to 'commode' 'em—all the whole indurin' flock
When the basidiospore is on the sterigma and the lactase is in the crock.

—M. P. B.

Students Talk in Seminar

Five student discussions on present day economic questions made up the program at the agricultural economics seminar on Thursday, December 4. The speakers and their subjects were as follows: "Dawes Reparations Plan," L. J. Schmutz; "Pittsburg Plus—

What It Is and Its Present Status," A. I. Blazer; "The Kansas Wheat Pool," Glenn O. Beougher; "Railroad Consolidation—Why and What Is Proposed?" A. Carkuff; "Government Ownership of Railroads—Its Probable Effect on Taxes on Other Property," George Montgomery.

R. O. T. C. Prospects Good

After visiting the University of Missouri last week, Lieutenant-Colonel Bugbee believes that the R. O. T. C. of this college has an excellent chance of attaining a place on the distinguished list this year.

Colonel Bugbee visited M. U. for the purpose of inspecting their R. O. T. C., which has been on the distinguished list for a number of years. Although the methods of the two schools are somewhat different, he says that at present the R. O. T. C. of this school compares very favorably with theirs.

Although he is well satisfied with the work of the cadets so far this year, Colonel Bugbee states that whether or not this school attains the distinguished list depends upon their work next spring.

Odd Facts

More than two centuries ago the Japanese were advertisers. The Mitsukoshi department store furnished oiled-paper umbrellas to customers caught in spring rains. The customers thus became willing "sandwich" men and women on their homeward ways through the streets of Yedo.

In China, the ballroom floors are divided into squares, each of which bears a sign of a bird, fish, or some other form of nature. Dancers must keep to their own squares and if they fail to do so are stamped with a colored disc. Three failures to keep within the square assigned results in the penalty of leaving the place.

A scientific expedition cruising the South Seas reports the discovery of an uninhabited island, the exact location of which has not been revealed, near the Galapagos. Ancient sculptured rock, pottery, and stone implements have been found. The island is covered with dense jungle and in its center is a mountain peak rising to a height of 1,296 feet. Three hundred years ago it was the resort of buccaneers.

Extension Work Explained

Dean H. Umberger of the extension division, is in Chicago attending a conference on radio and farming. He explained at this meeting the manner in which the extension courses at K. S. A. C. are made available to the farmers.

"In 50 per cent of the cases," said Dean Umberger, "the farmer takes the examination which is given at the end of the course. Last year the institute enrolled nearly 1,000 students, including practical farmers, in extension courses given by radio and correspondence. Nearly 500 of those enrolled took the examination."

Weigel Is Forum Speaker

Prof. Paul Weigel of the architectural department of the college will be the speaker for the weekly student forum to be held in the cafeteria, Thursday noon. Prof. Weigel spent the summer traveling in Europe, studying the European style of architecture. Incidentally, he had occasion to note social conditions, which he will describe in his talk.

Speaks in Botany Seminar

Dr. D. T. MacDougal, director of the desert laboratory at Tucson, Ariz., spoke on "Water Absorption of Roots in General" before the botany seminar, Thursday, December 4, in H 27. He explained the chemical nature of the cell wall of root hairs and the cytoplasmic membrane just within the cell wall. By means of diagrams he illustrated their chemical composition and structure, going from the high cellulose to the high protein on the interior, making it clear that absorption is a physical chemical process and not a physiological process, as commonly believed.

Members of the botany department gave a tea for Dr. MacDougal Thursday, December 4, in the horticulture building.

ATHLETICS MAY HAVE OWN BUDGET

DIVISION OF ACTIVITY FEE HAS CAUSED MUCH COMMENT

Athletic Department Willing to Separate—Many Student Activities Would Suffer by Change

Separation of the department of athletics from the varsity student activity fee is not probable, developments at the college yesterday indicated, although the athletic department has announced its willingness to be cut off from the fee budget and make its own way separately from all other student activities.

Present Method Criticized

Comment which followed the publication of the student activity fund division this fall indirectly criticized the committee making the awards for a tendency to give the athletic department the "lion's share" of the budget, although the $18,000 which the department is expected to receive out of the total of from $28,000 to $30,000 which will be collected through the year represents a reduction over the amount granted to athletics last year. If such comment is an accurate representation of public sentiment in the matter, the department of athletics is perfectly willing to be allowed to make its own way, according to M. F. Ahearn, director, although the present method of collection of the S. S. G. A. fund does away with much bookkeeping.

"In my opinion, the athletic department would benefit financially by the change, though the expense to the student would be heavier, and other student activities which are not self supporting would either have to be discontinued or put under a new system of finance," Mr. Ahearn said.

Although there appears to be some sentiment among alumni and friends of the college over the state favoring a reduction in the amount of time and money spent on athletics, it is felt that those who have criticized the attitude of the college in the matter are not conversant with the situation on the campus, Mr. Ahearn believes. "Without the appeal of athletics in the S. S. G. A. fund, it is not probable that there would be enough student support of other activities to permit them to continue, whereas there is a need for them equal to or even greater than that for athletics," he said.

Athletics Would Benefit

"On the other hand, the athletic department cannot be expected to allow its apportionment of the S. S. G. A. fund to be any further reduced without serious objection, as the experience of other schools has shown that in cases where as much interest is taken in athletics as at K. S. A. C., the department almost invariably is better off financially outside rather than inside the S. S. G. A. budget." Sentiment on the campus in general does not favor the change, it appeared yesterday, and unless there is further agitation, it probably will not be made.

HOCKEY TEAMS ENTERTAINED

Lineup for Varsity Is Announced at Spread in Gym

Members of the four class teams and all the other girls who took part in the color tournaments were entertained with a hockey spread given at the girls' gymnasium Friday evening, December 5, under the management of Ida Conrow.

The varsity hockey team was announced as follows: center forward, Simms; left infield, Helen Bachelor; Marie Farmer; right infield, Mildred right wing, Rachel Herley; left wing, Inez Jones; center half back, Ida Conrow; right half back, Helen Greene; left half back, Betty McColin; right full back, Ruth Frost; left full back, Elsie Bergstrom; goal keeper, Avis Wickham. Making a class team in hockey counts 100 points in W. A. A., and making the varsity team counts 50 additional points.

KAPPA SIGS WIN

Conquer Betas in Fast Intramural Game Last Saturday by 17-15 Count

The Kappa Sigs defeated Beta Theta Pi last Saturday afternoon by a 17 to 15 score in the best game of intramural basketball ever seen in Nichols gym. The two teams were both undefeated up until this game and the long end of the score meant that that team had a good chance at the championship.

A very large crowd attended the game, which was thrilling from start to finish. At the end of the half the Kappa Sigs were leading by a fairly comfortable margin, but the Betas displayed some real basketball in the last half that threatened for a time to tie the score. Kuykendall, Edwards, Miller, and Bradley led the offense for the Kappa Sigs while Dicus and Haskert starred for the Betas. Dicus made two baskets that were thrown almost the entire length of the court.

The Sig Eps and the Kappa Sigs the Pan-Hellenic division.

RETURN FROM CONVENTION

W. A. A. Members Help Form New State Organization

Misses Ruth Morris, Geneva Watson, Laureda Thompson, and Ida Conrow returned Sunday from Baldwin where they attended the convention of the Women's Athletic Association, held at Baker university. Thirteen Kansas colleges and universities were represented with two delegates each. This was the first meeting of its kind ever held in Kansas.

The "State Women's Athletic Association" was organized and will meet next year at Pittsburg. The president and secretary are to be chosen from Pittsburg and the treasurer from K. S. A. C. The organization is affiliated with the national athletic conference of American colleges and will uphold the standards of that organization.

A banquet was given for the members Saturday night. After the banquet they were the guests of the Baker Dramatic club at the play "Dulcie."

2,500 Letters Received

The extension division is kept busy with the 2,500 letters which are received and answered in the course of a month. Requests come from all over the country for information on subjects with which the farmer has to deal.

One farmer in North Carolina had lost his formula for curing meat, another in Missouri wanted to know how to build an oats sprouter, others were interested in turkeys and guineas. However, according to Professor Gemmell, they are all answered and all the information available is mailed to the applicant.

VALLEY ADMITS TENTH MEMBER

OKLAHOMA A. AND M. TAKEN IN AT SATURDAY'S MEETING

Football Schedules Out—Aggies to Play Same Six Valley Teams Met This Fall

Ten schools are now members of the Missouri Valley conference since the admission of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college of Stillwater, Okla., by a vote of the faculty representatives of conference members in meeting in Kansas City, Saturday. Oklahoma A. and M. college has been a petitioner for several years.

The rule against post-season games was waived and the football team of University of Missouri, winner of the valley championship, will be allowed to meet the University of Southern California team at Los Angeles on Christmas Day.

Triangular Track Meet Here

A triangular track meet was scheduled between Nebraska, Kansas and Kansas Aggies upon a suggestion of Coach Shulte of Nebraska, made at a meeting of track coaches. This will be the first meet of this kind in Missouri Valley athletics and will be held here May 8, 1925. The conference track and field meet was awarded the University of Oklahoma. Nebraska University recently made application for entrance into the Western conference, but upon its own suggestion action on the application was postponed until a later date.

October 31 Open

The Kansas Aggies will play the same six valley teams which they played this year. The Aggie schedule for the 1925 season is as follows: Oct. 3—Oklahoma at Manhattan. Oct. 10—Drake at Des Moines. Oct. 17—Kansas at Lawrence. Oct. 24—Missouri at Manhattan. Oct. 31—Open. Nov. 7—Ames at Ames. Nov. 14—Nebraska at Manhattan.

TACKLE IS HONORED AT NEBRASKA UNIVERSITY

Weir, Great Husker Lineman, Placed on All-American—Grange Outstanding Star

The standard of valley football again received a big boost when the All-American football team, selected by a combined vote of 312 prominent football coaches, officials and writers in the country, gave Ed Weir, Nebraska captain, a position as All-American tackle. Bloodgood, Cornhusker quarterback, was placed as quarter on the third All-American team.

In counting the votes there were a few outstanding features. Red Grange of Illinois was the only unanimous choice for any position. Crowley of Notre Dame was almost a unanimous choice for the other half-back job, and Hazel of Rutgers, because of his great passing, running and kicking, was a great favorite for the fullback post. Then came the fight for the pilot job, and Dooley of Dartmouth outscored Stuhldreher of Notre Dame by a few votes. Mc-

Carty of Chicago and Wycoff of Georgia Tech almost tied for the second fullback position, the vote of all of the southern coaches going for Wycoff.

The best linemen were outstanding, Ed Weir of Nebraska and Frank Gowdy of Chicago winning the tackle honors; Garbisch, Army, and Papworth, Penn., winning the guard positions; Lovejoy of Yale, center, and Stout of Princeton and Lawson of California topping the ends. The closest race was for the halfback jobs, Pond of Yale and Benkert of Rutgers taking second honors and beating Wilson, Army, and Steger, Michigan, by five votes, who in turn only beat Baker, Northwestern and Tryon, Colgate, by two votes.

The first All-American team as it appeared in the December issue of the All Sports Magazine is as follows:

End ..... Stout, Princeton
Tackle ..... Gowdy, Chicago
Guard ..... Garbisch, Army
Center ..... Lovejoy, Yale
Guard ..... Papworth, Pennsylvania
Tackle ..... Ed Weir, Nebraska
End ..... Lawson, Stanford
Quarter ..... Dooley, Dartmouth
Half ..... Grange, Illinois
Half ..... Crowley, Notre Dame
Full ..... Hazel, Rutgers

AGGIE PROF. TRANSFERRED

Stokdyk Is Well Trained in Ag Economics

E. A. Stokdyk, former extension worker in plant pathology, has been transferred to the department of agricultural economics and will do extension work in marketing. Mr. Stokdyk is particularly well fitted for this work, both in training and in experience. Although his work up to this time has been in plant pathology, he has been interested in agricultural economics and approximately one-half of his graduate work has been in the field of marketing.

Mr. Stokdyk's training in agricultural economics consists of undergraduate work at the University of Wisconsin, and graduate work at the Iowa State college and at K. S. A. C. For his master's degree, which he received in 1924, Mr. Stokdyk majored in plant pathology and minored in agricultural economics, offering much more graduate work in agricultural economics than is usually offered for a minor for the master's degree. In his extension work, Mr. Stokdyk has been doing a great deal of work dealing with marketing, and has become familiar with that phase of the work in this state.

Every man in business isn't a John Wanamaker. Yet every business man can learn a lesson from his success. If you have something to sell, tell the people about it. You can sell your goods before the buyer comes into your store.

Advertising has brought results to others, certainly it will not prove the exception to you. When a single corporation will spend a hundred thousand dollars, or perhaps a million, in advertising, a person feels certain that they are not simply donating to the newspapers, to insure their continued publication. That advertiser is getting results.

"FANCY FREE" CAST CHOSEN

FOUR CHARACTERS SELECTED IN FINAL TRYOUT

Nine Schools Will Compete at Chicago—Kansas Only State with Two Representatives

Characters to play in "Fancy Free," the Purple Masque production entered in the play tournament at Northwestern university, were selected in tryouts held Monday afternoon. The character of Fancy will be played by Agatha Tyler; Delia, Rebecca Thacher; Alfred, James Price; and Ethelbert, Kingsley W. Given. The tryouts were unique in method. Each person trying out was required to memorize the lines of the part for which he wished to try. Casts were formed and the play was presented before the judges, who selected a cast to play in the final production. Judges were members of the faculty in the department of public speaking.

Three in Finals

The nine colleges competing include DePauw, University of West Virginia, Kansas university, Ohio Wesleyan, Agnes Scott college, Elmira college, K. S. A. C., North Carolina college and the University of Michigan.

The three plays chosen from the nine will be presented a second time on January 1 and the winner selected. The coaches of the nine companies will judge the preliminary showing and a selected committee will judge the final tryouts.

The program for the contests gives the first performance, Tuesday evening, December 20, to DePauw university. On the same evening the University of West Virginia will present "Riders to the Sea," and Kansas university will give "Beauty and the Jacobin."

On Wednesday afternoon Ohio Wesleyan college will give "The Florist Shop"; Agnes Scott college, "The Conflict"; and Elmira college, "Daggers and Diamonds."

"Fancy Free" a Comedy

Purple Masque of K. S. A. C. will present "Fancy Free" on Wednesday evening. "Will-o-the-Wisp" will be given by North Carolina college and "A Sunny Morning" by the University of Michigan.

"Fancy Free" is a comedy by Stanley Houghton, containing the dignified atmosphere characteristic of the very genteel English society. The scene is laid in the writing room of a fashionable hotel in London and the action of the play radiates the customs and actions of the fashionable people in the society of London. The play is rich in subtle humor which makes it a laugh producer of the first rank in one-act plays.

The cast for "Fancy Free" will arrive in Chicago Tuesday December 30, allowing one day for rehearsals before the presentation Wednesday evening. E. G. McDonald is coaching the play and will accompany the cast to Chicago. Dr. H. T. Hill will also accompany the cast to Chicago, where he will attend the National Convention of Teachers of Speech in connection with which the play tournament is being held.

SOCIETIES PLAN DEBATE RALLY

Athenians and Alpha Betas Survived Semifinals

The intersociety debate rally will be held on the evening of December 18 at 7:30 o'clock in recreation center. At this time the Athenians will meet the Alpha Betas upon the question, "Resolved: That the President of the United States should be elected by direct primary." The Athenians will uphold the question.

At the semifinals which were held Tuesday, the Athenian negative won from the Eurodelphian affirmative and the Alpha Beta negative from the Browning affirmative. This necessitated the selection of a question. The question in the semifinals was, "Resolved: That Kansas should adopt the unicameral system of legislature."

Plans for the debate rally are in charge of Della Justice, who is chairman of the intersociety debate committee. This rally will be the largest event of the intersociety debate season. It is to be an open meeting. All people who are interested are invited.

He recommends that such units be established at Cornell university, University of Kentucky, and at the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Dean Dykstra Addresses Vets

Dr. R. R. Dykstra, dean of the division of veterinary medicine, took part in the program of the Nebraska State Veterinary Medical Association held in Lincoln December 9 and 10. Dean Dykstra will also appear on the program of the South Dakota Veterinary Medical Association to be held in Sioux Falls, S. Dak., January 29 and 30.

EXTEND TIME ON BEAUTY CONTEST

REQUESTS FOR ADDITIONAL NOMINEES CAUSE EXTENSION

Contest Closes December 18—Six Winners to Be Announced Immediately After Vacation

Because of the general opinion among students that more girls should have been nominated for the Royal Purple beauty contest, it has been decided that further nominations will be received until Thursday, December 18.

Thanksgiving vacation and Aggie Pop night were found to interfere with activities in the contest. None of the pictures have been sent to the judges and as the photographer will be here for a short time longer it was decided to allow additional time in which to complete the list of nominees.

Ziegfeld Will Judge

The same rules will govern the remainder of the contest as were instituted at the beginning. Twenty books sold, 20 signatures of students who have purchased books, or a combination of the two plans is required for one nomination. Pictures are to be judged entirely on their relative merits, being exactly alike in style and finish, and when sent to the judges will bear only a number as a distinguishing mark. This precludes all possibility of politics or favoritism entering into the selection of the winners. Pictures of the nominees are to be sent to the judge, Flo Ziegfeld of New York, during the Christmas vacation and the winners will be announced immediately after the reopening of school.

This is the last extension of time to be given the contest and no nominations will be accepted later than Thursday noon.

WIEBRECHT AND ROGIER TO HEAD 1926 YEARBOOK STAFF

Faulconer and Daniels in Charge of Junior-Senior Prom—to Be Held in April

F. E. Wiebrecht of Cottonwood Falls and Wayne Rogier of Matfield Green were elected editor-in-chief and business manager, respectively, of the 1926 Royal Purple at the junior class election Tuesday. Gladys Stover of Manhattan was elected treasurer.

Both the editor and the business manager of the 1926 yearbook have had previous experience in this line of work, having held the same positions on their high school annuals. Wiebrecht, who is a junior electrical engineer, is also vice-president of the S. S. G. A. Rogier is advertising manager of the 1925 Royal Purple, business manager of the Kansas Agricultural Student, a member of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, Block and Bridle, honorary animal husbandry organization, vice-president of the junior class, and is interested in other college activities.

H. G. Faulconer of El Dorado was elected manager of the Junior-Senior Prom, which will be held about the middle of April. Dede Daniels of Caney was elected assistant manager.

GOOD CRITICS ARE ARTISTS

Conover Discusses Conceptions of Criticism at Quill Club

Prof. R. W. Conover was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Run of American College Quill club held last Monday evening in Kedzie hall. The subject of Professor Conover's address was "Principles of Criticism" and during his talk he pointed out the right and wrong conceptions of criticism.

The following books were discussed by Professor Conover: "Beggars of Life," by James Tully; "The Story Teller's Story," by Sherwood Anderson; "Sandoval," by Thomas Beer; and "Prejudices," by H. L. Mencken.

"The subject matter of 'Beggars of Life,'" said Professor Conover, "is an example of the appeal that the life of the wanderer has for a large number of people. In 'The Story Teller's Story' Sherwood Anderson has written a subjective autobiography in that it does not reveal him any more successfully than have any of his other works.

"In regard to 'Sandoval,' one of the most significant things in this work is Beer's successful depiction of his male characters. To me that is one of the outstanding features of the book. It is hard to discuss Mencken solely on a literary basis, because he is interested in so many other things besides literature as an art, such as politics and sociology."

Attended Agricultural Conference. Dean F. D. Farrell of the division of agriculture, and Prof. L. E. Call and Prof. H. R. Sumner of the agronomy department attended a conference called by Secretary J. C. Mohler of the state board of agriculture at Topeka on Tuesday, to consider with seedsmen and others interested the proposed Kansas pure seed law which it is expected will be introduced in the 1925 session of the legislature by members of the Kansas Crop Improvement association. Kansas is one of 12 states that do not have a pure seed law.

HOLD RECOGNITION SERVICES FOR NEW PHI KAPPA PHI'S. Certificates of Membership Awarded at Assembly—Engle Speaks on Post Office Department. Recognition services for 19 recently initiated members of Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, were held in chapel yesterday morning. Each of the initiates was presented with a certificate of membership by Dean Margaret Justin, acting president of the organization.

Roy Engel, who is assistant postmaster at the Manhattan office, talked at the chapel on "The Biggest Business in the World." According to Mr. Engel $26,000 worth of stamps have been sold through the college post office during the past year. During the past year, the speaker stated, more than two and a quarter million two cents stamps have been sold to the people of Manhattan and students at the college.

Certificates of membership in Phi Kappa Phi were presented to the following persons: Division of agriculture—Walter J. Daly, Glenn S. Wood, Miles E. Crouse; division of engineering—Wayne E. McKibben, Willis E. Garratt, Christian W. Schenn, Harry W. Uhrig, George A. Plank; division of general science—Roy C. Langford, Helen G. Norton, Alice E. Paddelford, Helen E. Correll, Mrs. Thelma O'Dell Carteg; division of home economics—Hilda Black, Phyllis W. Burtis, Stella Constance Munger, Evelyn C. Colburn; division of veterinary medicine—Floyd E. Hull.

Prof. Eric Englund, who was initiated by the honor society at Oregon State college which later became a chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, also was given his certificate. "The attaining of membership in Phi Kappa Phi might well be the highest ideal a student may hope to attain," said Dean Justin in presenting the certificates. "The prime object of Phi Kappa Phi is to emphasize scholarship and character in the thoughts of the college students, to hold fast to the original purpose for which the institutions were founded, and to stimulate mental achievement by the prize of membership. The society differs from other honor societies chiefly in that its doors are open to students in any department of study where a chapter exists."

COMMISSIONS TO CONFER. Rocky Mountain Regional Secretary Will be Leader—Have Two Meetings. A freshman conference for all freshmen members of Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. will be held in the Home Economics rest room Friday from 4 to 6 o'clock and Saturday from 1 to 3 o'clock. Miss Francis Perry, Y. W. C. A. secretary of the Rocky Mountain region, will be leader at the conference.

The purpose of these meetings is to give the freshmen an opportunity to get together and discuss problems of special interest to freshmen. One of the subjects to be discussed on Friday will pertain to extra curriculum activities. All freshmen who are interested in being a part of this conference are asked to see Eva Brownlee, president of the Y. W. C. A. commission or Paul Skinner, president of the Y. M. C. A. commission.

JUDGES CHOOSE FORENSIC TEAM

WASHBURN, K. S. T. C., AND AGGIES MEET TOMORROW NIGHT

First Contest of Kind Ever Held Here—Washburn Won First Place Last Year

Final selections for the Aggie team to compete in the intercollegiate extempore speech contest tomorrow were made in tryouts held Thursday morning. The men chosen were Robert Hedberg, Frank Z. Glick, and Paul Shivel. Members of the faculty in the public speaking department judged the final tryout.

The contest includes teams from Washburn, Kansas State Teachers college and the Aggie team. It is the first of its kind to be held here, and the second one in which an Aggie team has participated. The first contest was held at Washburn last year, the same three schools competing. Washburn won the contest last year.

Competition for Individuals

Unlike a debate, the speeches will all be on different specific topics, but each will relate to the general subject, "The American National Political Situation." Each speaker will compete as an individual, with eight minutes allotted for the presentation of each speech. The time limit for preparation will be one hour. Subjects have been prepared by Professor James L. Lardner, of Northwestern university.

According to Prof. H. B. Summers of the public speaking department, both visiting teams, as well as the Aggie team have unusual talent. On the team from Washburn are C. F. Carpenter, a senior who won first place at Washburn last year and has had three years' experience in intercollegiate debate; and Ferry Platt, senior and winner of the state oratorical contest in 1923. The other member is Lawrence Evans, senior with no intercollegiate experience. "We are coming down to take the first three places," said E. C. Buehler, coach of the Washburn representatives.

Teams Are Strong

Representatives from K. S. T. C. are Royal Alcott, a representative to the tri-state contest at Pittsburg in 1923 and with two years' experience in debate; Cortie Stevens, with two years' debate experience; and Roy Willoughby, who has had no intercollegiate experience in forensics. George R. R. Piffaum, coach of the K. S. T. C. team, commented thus: "The contest will by no means be a one-sided one for Washburn."

Robert Hedberg, one of the Aggie team, is a sophomore. His experience includes one year of intercollegiate debate, high school debate, and work in extempore speaking. He was a member of the Aggie team which debated Oxford here in October.

Frank Z. Glick, and Paul Shivel, the other members have had no intercollegiate experience. Both men are freshmen and are on the Aggie debate squad.

Judges for the contest will be F. B. Ross, from the department of sociology at K. S. T. C.; R. H. Ritchie, professor of English at Ottawa university; and Martin J. Holcomb, coach of debate at Bethany college. Speeches will begin at 3 o'clock in recreation center. No admission will be charged.

Addresses Commission Meeting

Miss Fern Babcock of K. S. T. C., Pittsburg, Kan., who was a member of the executive committee of the World's Student federation which met at High Leigh, England, last August, was the speaker at freshman commission meeting last Tuesday afternoon, and at the Y. M. C. A. cabinet meeting at the cafeteria Tuesday evening.

Miss Babcock was one of the two American women representatives at the federation in England. She also attended the European Student Relief conference at Schloss Elman, Germany.

ENGINEERS ATTEND MEETING

Members of Faculty on Program at Lawrence

Three members of the engineering faculty are on the program at the meeting of the Kansas Engineering society in conjunction with the Kansas section of the American Society of Civil Engineers at Lawrence this week.

Professor Scholer is scheduled for a talk on Thursday. Professor Frazier, who is chairman of the committee on railroads, will speak on the subject of railroads Friday. "Proper Location of Highways" is the subject of the address by Professor Furr.

Prof. L. E. Conrad, who is vice-president of the Kansas Engineering society, is ill and unable to make the trip. Those attending are Prof. F. F. Frazier, Prof. L. V. White, and Prof. M. W. Furr from the department of civil engineering; Prof. C. H. Scholer and Harold Allen from the department of applied mechanics; Prof. H. B. Walker, agricultural engineering department; and Prof. J. P. Calderwood of the department of mechanical engineering.

NOTED ENGINEER HERE

Secretary of American Engineering Council Will Speak Tomorrow

Lawrence W. Wallace of Washington, executive secretary of the American Engineering council, will speak at the college tomorrow morning. Mr. Wallace is on a speaking tour covering Tennessee, Alabama, Arkansas and Kansas. He is trying to enlist the engineers of the South and West in a nation-wide plan of public service.

Among the immediate objectives of the American Engineering council is the establishment of a National Department of Public Works, as outlined in the McCormick bill and developed in the Brown bill, which originated during the Harding administration. The council is also working to have rivers and harbors and the Mississippi river commission transferred from the War Department to the proposed Federal Division of Public Works.

The council consists of engineering societies all over the nation and has a membership of more than 50,000. Mr. Wallace, while in Kansas, will also speak in Lawrence and Topeka.

JARDINE WITHDRAWS NAME FROM CABINET CANDIDATES

Prexy Asks That Kansas Cease to Consider Him for Cabinet Post and Recommends Mohler

President William M. Jardine, in a letter to a member of the Kansas congressional delegation last week, pointed out that he was not a candidate for the post of secretary of agriculture in the cabinet of President Coolidge and asked that his name be withdrawn from consideration. He also gave his endorsement of J. C. Mohler, secretary of the Kansas board of agriculture, for the post.

Acting upon President Jardine's withdrawal, the delegation gave its endorsement of Mr. Mohler last Sunday and he will have the solid backing of the Kansas congressional delegation. Whether or not this will be sufficient to secure the appointment seems a matter of speculation.

It is said that President Coolidge looked upon President Jardine as a possible selection for the post with much favor. His wide knowledge of the agricultural situation generally and his opposition to the enactment of the McNary-Haugen bill are said to have been important factors in President Coolidge's favorable attitude toward him.

The household management classes, under Miss Laura Gifford, went to Topeka Thursday to inspect the Topeka Capital's Firesafe home, the kitchen of which they are equipping.

Gladys Hartley, '22, is teaching science and mathematics in the Iowa high school. This is the third year that Miss Hartley has taught at Iowa. Besides teaching she is also assisting the girls in community work.

GRIDSTERS WILL FEAST TONIGHT

LIST OF GUESTS INCLUDES 70 HIGH SCHOOL STARS

Captains of Three Teams on Program—Leaders for 1925 to Be Elected

The annual Aggie football banquet given by the chamber of commerce in honor of the Kansas Aggie varsity and freshman squads and the leading high school football players of the state will be held at the community house tonight at 6:30 o'clock. Representatives from nearly 70 high schools are expected. Dr. Howard T. Hill will be master of ceremonies, and Chester Guthrie will lead the mass singing.

Both the college and high school teams will elect their captains for the coming year before the banquet.

The program for the evening is announced as follows:

Invocation—Rev. George H. Parkinson of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Welcoming words—S. A. Bardwell, president of the chamber of commerce.

"Alma Mater"—Prof. Ira Pratt of the music department of the college.

"Seasonal Sports"—M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics.

"Short Stories"—Charles Bachman, Aggie football coach.

"Yearly Yearnings"—C. W. Corsaut, Aggie freshman coach.

Musical melodies—K. S. A. C. male quartet.

"End and Endings"—Lyle Munn, captain of the Aggie team.

"Varsity Victims"—O. C. Fritzmeir, captain of the freshman team.

"Cash and Credit"—O. M. Rhine, principal of the high school.

"Passing the Buck"—Arthur Stark, high school coach.

"Bucking the Passer"—Bert Pearson, captain of the high school team.

Benediction—Rev. A. M. Reed, pastor of the United Presbyterian church.

Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, who was invited to make the principal address at the dinner, was unable to accept because of the illness of Mrs. Rockne.

The committee in charge of the banquet is Jerry Wilson, chairman, Mike Ahearn, O. M. Rhine, Hal McCord, and Ira Snyder.

WELLS JOLTS BRITISH

Miss Rice Discusses Famous Author in English Lecture

"The Utopias of H. G. Wells" was the subject of the talk given by Miss Ada Rice, associate professor of English, at the English department lecture given last Tuesday in the home economics rest room.

Miss Rice began with a brief review of the life of the famous Britisher and then discussed his work from various angles. In discussing his book, "A Modern Utopia" she pointed out Mr. Wells' Utopian ideals.

"First," Miss Rice explained, "Wells tells us that Utopia must cover the whole planet. Secondly, its language must be universal. There should be a general freedom. There would be no drunkards, but true to his British ideals, he thinks that good wine and ale should not be prohibited."

Miss Rice also discussed "A World Set Free," "Men Like Gods," and "The Dream."

In concluding Miss Rice showed how much the Utopias of Wells have taught the readers. "They have taught us the weak points in our civilization. They have suggested many possible future corrections, and they have mapped out a stupendous task for the world for the next 2,000 years. But what Mr. Wells has done that is of most immediate value is to make the British take a look at themselves and, to a certain extent, change their point of view. It takes the smashing of idols, of convention, of traditions, to make Johnnie Bull sit up and take notice, and I believe that Wells has done that thing."

Junction City Schools Surveyed

Several members of the college faculty cooperated with Supt. J. C. Clement in a recent survey of the Junction City schools. Prof. J. C. Peterson was in charge. Prof. P. F. Brainerd, Prof. V. L. Strickland, Martin Fritz, Miss Maude Williamson, Miss Helen Elcock, and the members of the mental measurements class assisted Professor Peterson.

Professor Peterson met several times with the Junction City teachers and later talked to the Junction City Rotary club on "Results of Mental Tests and Their Use in Classification and Promotion of Pupils and Organization of School Work."

COW-COLLEGE EDUCATION

Percy Marks, author of "The Plastic Age," in an address given this week before a group of university students at Columbia, Mo., made the statement that "cow-colleges" are not a part of education.

Before taking exception to Mr. Marks' statement we believe that a word of explanation as to who he is and what he has done might not be amiss. Suffice it to say that Mr. Marks was a professor in Brown university, and that "The Plastic Age" is a rather daring, very realistic, and true to life novel of modern college and fraternity life.

The only excuse for Mr. Marks' statement about "cow-colleges" and education can be attributed to plain downright ignorance on his part. He seems to be laboring under the impression, which is quite common among the uninformed, that because a school carries the word "agricultural" in its name it teaches only that subject. The name is misleading, but altogether too many persons unquestionably take it for granted that agriculture is the only aim of the school. If these persons, including Mr. Marks, would only investigate the catalogs of the "cow-colleges" or talk with a graduate or some one who knows the facts about them, they would no doubt revise their opinion.

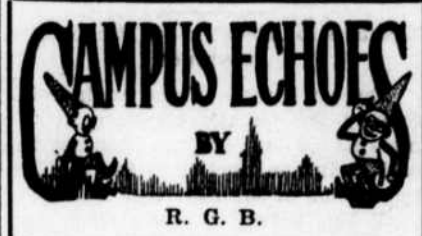

Mr. Marks in his address also declared that education teaches one about himself and how to live and that the agricultural college does not offer this type of education. Wherein, Mr. Marks, does the agricultural college lack this important function? The enrolment in such schools is almost as large as that of the so-called universities. The courses of study are just as varied, the opportunities offered are practically the same. Just where does the agricultural college fall down in teaching one how to live? What is it in the university that enables it to better perform this function? Here again is evident Mr. Marks' lack of information on the scope of the agricultural college.

After reading a report of Mr. Marks' talk we are forced to believe that he is trying to bolster up a waning reputation for sensationalism. When his "Plastic Age" first appeared, it created much discussion and interest, and he received considerable national notoriety when he was ousted from a professorship in Brown university for writing the book.

Nevertheless, disregarding Mr. Marks' perverted idea of "cow-colleges," some other ideas he expounded are really valuable. He states that too many men and women are going to college now and this large number tends to drag down the tone and standards of the institutions. Undoubtedly this is true and, as Mr. Marks says, the mad scramble for new students by alumni and college presidents is to be regretted.

But any person who has created as much interest in himself as Mr. Marks has should be more careful about making such ridiculously false statements concerning "cow-colleges" and education.

When the boys produced those loud scarfs we thought that the battle was won. But just then the girls dragged out that hosiery that fairly shrieked so we must temporarily admit defeat. The girls won that skirmish in a whisper.

And the females have another advantage. It is in the matter of attendance. Unlike most schools of its size, K. S. A. C. has an enrolment nearly equally divided between men and women. And so each girl has more men to play with. By the simple process of deduction, this is the reason that the women have that cocky air.

Harry is going to try his luck on the field of conquest once again. He wants to know what a nice girl likes to get for Christmas besides a doris and a box of candy.

It is with utmost disgust that we receive the news of the failure of the plot to blow up the chemistry lab building.

Another thing the student body should be a little more careful about is the applauding of the chapel program at the wrong place. This might lead the entertainer to think that the audience is not paying attention.

Now that the radio equipment is complete, would it be proper to say that a school of the air has been added to the school of hot air?

Advice to boys:

Pay no attention to the "shop early" slogans. Hold off as long as you can. You might have a break up at the last minute. Be very disagreeable and perhaps you can force a quarrel. Be sure to mention the fact that Christmas around your place will be mighty slim, as everyone is nearly broke. Then state that Christmas is a lot of bunk anyway. That really should get you by.

Advice to girls:

Be sure and urge him to shop early as it is the best thing to do. Be very agreeable and never quarrel. In a casual tone mention gifts you would like to receive, such as merely a cedar chest, or only a diamond ring. Make it seem a trifle. Remark that Christmas is not Christmas unless a lot of presents go along. You really should get something out of it.

Another word in regard to styles. Since the Tri-Delts have appeared in their cunning little stocking caps it is not too much to expect that they have a pair of mittens to match. The kind of mittens that fasten together with a string around the neck.

On Other Hills

Enrolment in the classes of the University of Kansas has increased 14 per cent in the last five years, according to figures recently compiled by George O. Foster, registrar.

"The Truth" is to be presented next week by the K. U. Dramatic club. The production is entirely a Dramatic club undertaking and is coached by Brewster Morgan. The special scenery is being made by the department of dramatic art.

The Chevrolet Motor company has placed a motor in the automotive laboratory of the University of Michigan for conducting experiments and tests.

The Bachelor club at the University of Arizona has increased its membership to 259. As a punishment for "queening," a member of the club will be forced to wear a "Mother Hubbard" on the campus an entire day.

Kansas and Missouri have played their last Thanksgiving day football game. The date of the annual gridiron classic has been changed to the Saturday preceding Thanksgiving.

A cross-word puzzle is published every day in the University of Cincinnati Bearcat. The answer is the name of one of the popular coeds.

A school for hosts? Yes, there's one at K. S. A. C., but it isn't called that exactly.

Any man in college is privileged to eat his noon meal in the home economics dining room for the next three weeks and act as a host, learning the mysteries of carving and serving. Do you know the difference between an informal dinner and a family dinner—the duties of a host at a formal dinner? Well, those are the things the men attending these dinners are going to learn, and when they get out of college they will be able to preside at their own tables in a manner befitting men of their culture and education.

The classes in marketing and serving are preparing and serving these meals, which are certain to be good, because the grades of the girls in classes depend upon that. The girls are divided into groups of three, and alternate between the duties of cook, waitress, and hostess. Two formal dinners will be served each week. The other four will be informal in character, two being served by the waitress and two by the hostess.

In previous years a number of senior men, as well as faculty members, have availed themselves of this opportunity presented by the department of food economics and nutrition.

Prof. Hugh L. Templeton of the University of Wisconsin has been secured as instructor in general and electrical chemistry.

The Class Endowment

And How It Can Be Done Through Life Insurance

THE JOHN HANCOCK MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY worked out this problem for the 1923 graduating class of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and is ready to do it for others.

Many graduating classes, wishing to benefit their Alma Mater have turned to the insurance idea since it allows the participation of a large number of students.

This plan provides for the payment of a certain specified sum to the University at the end of 20 or 25 years, the members of the graduating class paying a nominal sum each year to create an endowment. In case of the death of a graduate before the endowment matures his full share is paid into the fund.

Every student is given a chance to put his John Hancock on the dotted line and become a continuing contributor to the future welfare of his Alma Mater. It has been successfully carried through in a number of cases, and it can be done with your institution.

The John Hancock organization will be glad to render any service it can to college classes and individuals; also to interested ambitious college men in life insurance work.

AGGIES WILL BE VALLEY MIDGETS

CORSAUT HAS A DIMINUTIVE BASKETBALL SQUAD

Wildcat Team Will Be Built Around Four Letter Men—Doolen, Koch, Tebow and Bunker

With only one week of practice before the Christmas holidays and with much to learn, Coach Corsaut is putting the basketball squad through some strenuous workouts each afternoon in order that a winning team will represent the Aggies in their first game with the Hilliards at St. Joseph, Mo., January 6. The Hilliard team is one of the strongest amateur teams in the United States as it is composed of ex-college stars. There is no question but that the Aggies will have to play in championship form if they expect to down the DeBenardi team.

At present the Aggie outlook towards a valley title is rather slim, not because of poor material, but in comparison with the material that several other valley schools have to start with. The biggest advantage that other teams will have is size. As the Aggies will not have a man on the team that is 6 feet tall Corsaut will have to depend upon speed and goal shooting ability to win the game.

Four Letter Men

Four letter men form the nucleus for the team but present indications show that the letter men will be hard pushed for their positions. Captain Art Doolen, at guard, is showing great improvement over early season form and there is little doubt but that he will be an important factor in the Aggie defense.

"Fritz" Koch, one-year letter man, looms as the most likely candidate for the other guard position, with Jim Metz running a close second. For center, Eric Tebow is the most likely candidate, but if a center can be found who is over six feet tall Tebow may be shifted to forward. The forward positions are, as yet, the most undecided, with Bunker, Byers, Weddel, and Neamen alternating without any deteriorating effect to the team.

Aggie Offense Good

On the whole the Aggie offense is decidedly better than the defense but with some special effort given to the guards Corsaut believes that they will hold their own against the big valley forwards. The Aggie offense has some of the fastest men and best shots in the valley and an open shot to any one of them may be counted as a sure basket. For this reason Corsaut may rely upon the offense outscoring the opponent rather than depending upon the defense keeping the other team from making points.

A strong freshman team furnishes competition for the varsity and as several all-state men are on the squad, the varsity is forced to the limit all the time in order to win the skirmishes.

MAY SCHEDULE OUTSIDE GAME

Possibility of Intersectional Football Game with Two Open Dates

An intersectional game for the Kansas Aggie football team for the 1925 season is a possibility, according to M. F. "Mike" Ahearn, director of Aggie athletics. The Aggie schedule of conference games includes the same six schools which the Wildcats met last year, but starts unusually early and finishes on November 14, which leaves one Saturday and Thanksgiving day before the close of the season, in addition to an open date during the regular season.

One of the dates is expected to remain open, probably the one which comes before the game with Iowa State college. Of the other two, one will be filled by a Kansas conference school in all probability, Mr. Ahearn said, while an attempt will be made to schedule a game with either an eastern or southern school for the other date.

Overtures had been made for a game by the University of Texas, but both the dates offered by the Texans for the Aggie game had to be filled in order to make up the Aggie quota of six valley games.

Interest Shown in Volley Ball

Students, both boys and girls, are showing a great deal of interest in the volleyball games as each game attracts quite a group of spectators. At present the Kappa Deltas, Alpha

A Dream Is Realized and the Aggies Gain a Football Marvel

At last K. S. A. C. can rejoice in the assurance that it will some day harbor one of the finest athletes in history. The stadium drive can be renewed with fresh ardor, because in about twenty years the stadium field will be the scene of the greatest gridiron victories in the annals of K. S. A. C.

This is known to be the truth and not merely idle prediction, because yesterday morning a son was born to Coach and Mrs. Charles W. Bachman. It isn't definitely decided yet, but he will probably be named Charles Junior, in honor of his illustrious daddy.

Now Coach Bachman can realize one of his pet dreams, and K. S. A. C. will some day have an athlete who will surpass all records. A wonderful coach is sure to develop a wonderful sportsman—it just couldn't be otherwise.

Celebrate Ohio State Day

Ohio State Day was celebrated at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. P. Calderwood, Friday, December 5. Those who were present at the gathering were Prof. and Mrs. F. F. Frasier and son, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Burt, Mrs. L. E. Call, Mr. N. E. Lash, Prof. and Mrs. Roger Smith, Mr. L. F. Marcy, Prof. and Mrs. R. K. Nabours and children, Prof. and Mrs. L. E. Melchers, Mr. W. B. Hafford, and Prof. and Mrs. J. S. Hughes.

Ohio State Day is a gathering which is celebrated each year by the alumni of Ohio State university wherever a group can get together.

An extensive program of nine numbers was broadcast from station KBDA, Pittsburgh, Pa. Unfortunately the static interfered with obtaining the first part of the program, but the group was able to tune in on the last number from Carmen, Ohio, which came in strong.

The class in special methods, under Miss Maud Williamson, went to Topeka Thursday to visit the city schools and the Firesafe Home.

FOUR SOLOISTS RECEIVE PRAISE

CHORUS AND ORCHESTRA ALSO COMMENDED

Large Crowd Pays High Compliment to Conductor and Chorus at Close of Program

Miss Irma Jane Lewis, soprano, of Washburn college, Miss Minna Dorn, contralto, of Kansas university, Paul R. Utt, bass, of Ottawa university, and Stanton D. Fiedler, tenor, of Bethany college, the soloists in the Messiah, presented in the college auditorium Sunday night, are the subjects of high praise by critics.

Prof. C. W. Matthews of the English department comments as follows upon the soloists and the presentation of the Messiah in general:

"The rendition of Handel's 'Messiah' in the college auditorium was a musical accomplishment of which the college may well be proud. It has become a tradition in Manhattan that the 'Messiah' shall be given some time during Advent, and the rendition, as sponsored by the ministerial alliance of the city, has taken on the nature of solemn worship by the whole community, regardless of denominational choice. That spirit was evident Sunday night. From the Scripture lesson, 'Comfort ye my people,' as read by Dr. Slade of the Congregational church, until the last echo of the mighty Hallelujah chorus, more than two thousand listened to the grand oratorio in worshipful silence. Perhaps the highest compliment ever paid to a conductor and chorus in Manhattan was the one paid Professor Pratt and his chorus Sunday night, when the great crowd, after the last chorus was ended, stood in respectful silence until dismissed by the director.

Chorus Well Balanced
"Anyone who has been listening to the 'Messiah' as sung here during Advent year after year will admit, I believe, that last night's rendition was the best ever given here. In fact, with the possible exception of the work done by the chorus in 'Elijah' last year with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, our chorus never did better work than it did in the 'Messiah' last Sunday evening. In attack, in response to direction, the chorus sang more like a veteran choral society than it did a college chorus. The parts of the chorus were beautifully balanced, and for the first time in years have the tenors been great enough in number to do justice to the score, and all parts pronounced enough to avoid being overshadowed by the sopranos.

"Professor Pratt in no sense spared his chorus last night. Courageous must be the conductor who will attempt 'Since by Man Came Death,' and more courageous still is he who will attempt the difficult 'For We Like Sheep' with a chorus as young and as comparatively inexperienced as ours, yet the chorus sang both beautifully. In 'Behold the Lamb of God,' and 'Worthy is the Lamb,' they sang with a genuineness of feeling that is unusual in a chorus so young. It is to be hoped that next year the 'Amen Chorus' may be given. It is perhaps the most difficult of all the choruses in the oratorio, but the splendid success of the chorus this year in 'For We Like Sheep' leads one to believe that they can master the 'Amen Chorus' as well as they have mastered the others.

Soloists from Other Schools
"Much of the success of the 'Messiah' this year was due to the splendid cooperation of the sister institutions of the state who were so kind as to lend us soloists. Washburn college loaned us Miss Irma Jane Lewis, soprano; the University of Kansas, Miss Minna Dorn, contralto; Ottawa university, Dean Paul R. Utt, bass; and Bethany college, Mr. Stanton D. Fiedler, tenor. These institutions loaned us the members of their music faculties, and the soloists themselves were so charitable as to give their service free of charge.

"Miss Lewis has a fine clear voice of great power. She was perhaps best in her solo, 'I Know That My Redeemer Liveth.' Although Miss Dorn's voice is perhaps a little light for oratorio, yet it is a voice of remarkable sweetness, and the audience appreciated especially her solo, 'He Shall Feed His Flock.' Dean Utt's voice is adequate to the severest demands made upon it by 'Thus Saith the Lord,' and 'Why Do the Nations.' His voice is beautifully suited to oratorio. Mr. Fiedler sang his solos with feeling. His 'Thy Rebuke Hath Broken His Heart,' and 'Behold and See' were perhaps his best work. "Gifted soloists, a fine orchestra, and a splendid chorus combined Sunday night to make the 'Messiah' of this year the finest that has ever been given in Manhattan."

Beg Your Pardon

A feature story published in the last issue of the Collegian, in regard to the engineering division of this school, contained the following statements: "The three largest engineering schools are found in agricultural colleges in states where a state university is also maintained. The engineering enrolment at K. S. A. C. is exceeded by only two other schools between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast." These statements were misquoted and should have read as follows: "The largest three engineering schools between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast states are all at agricultural colleges. . . in states which maintain separate state universities," and the engineering enrolment at the Kansas State Agricultural college "is exceeded at only two schools between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast states. Quite a number of schools in the eastern states and a few along the Pacific coast have larger engineering enrolments."

Methodists Make Up One-Third of Entire Aggie Student Body

Church tabulations in the registrar's office show that more than one-third of the total number of students enrolled in K. S. A. C. are either members of the Methodist Episcopal church or are of Methodist preference. The Presbyterian church is second in preference, and the Christian and Baptist churches are third and fourth respectively.

There are representatives of 35 different denominations enrolled in K. S. A. C. in addition to 361 students who have no particular preference.

The tabulations are as follows: Methodist, 1,081; Presbyterian, 416; Christian, 291; Baptist, 220; Congregational, 148; Catholic, 87; Lutheran, 82; Episcopalian, 57; Christian Science, 31; United Presbyterian, 28; Evangelical, 27; United Brethren, 25; Protestant, 23; Church of Christ, 10; Latter Day Saints, 8; Reformed Presbyterian, 7; Universalist, 5; Methodist Protestant, 5; Mennonite, 5; Reformed, 5; African Methodist Episcopal, 4; Friends, 3; Free Methodist, 3; Federated, 3; Methodist Episcopal South, 3; Church of God, 2; Unitarian, 2; Mission, 2; Mohammedan, 2; Christadelphian, 2; German Lutheran, 1; Nazarene, 1; Seventh Day Adventist, 1; Advent Christian, 1; International Bible School or Russellite, 1; no preference, 361.

STUDENT CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT COLLEGE IN SPRING

Thirty Schools Will Send Representatives to Discuss Affairs of Self-governing Bodies

The Midwestern Student conference, consisting of two or more student representatives from 30 colleges, will be held at K. S. A. C. starting the first week in May and lasting three or four days. Matters pertaining to student governments will be discussed. The program for the conference, which is not yet finished will be sent here upon completion early in February.

Harold Gillman and Gerald Dowd, student members of last year's S. S. G. A. council, attended the conference which was held last year at Knoxville, Tenn.

Entertainment for the visiting representatives will be planned by a committee consisting of Fred Shideler, Inga Ross, and Harold Gillman.

LEAVES FOR CONVENTIONS

Professor Pratt Will Attend Meetings in Chicago and St. Louis

Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department at the college, left yesterday on a trip to Chicago and St. Louis where he will attend musical conventions. He will go first to Chicago, where he goes early, to hear artists of music. While there he will sing on a program to be given at the Cosmopolitan School of Music, before a selected audience.

On December 28 he will go to St. Louis to attend a national convention of music teachers, which will be held on December 29, 30, and 31. He will also attend a sub-convention of directors of music and deans of fine arts of state college and universities of America, which will be held at the same time. Prof. Pratt will represent the Kansas State Music association at these meetings in St. Louis.

Prof. N. E. Olson of the dairy department will speak before the Kansas Ice Cream Maker's association, which is in session in Topeka today, tomorrow, and Thursday. He will talk on "Quality in Ice Cream." Prof. K. M. Renner will also attend the meeting.

OTIS SKINNER

The American Association of University Women will present Otis Skinner in "Sancho Panza" his newest play, based on Cervantes' "Don Quixote" in the college auditorium Thursday evening, January 8. Mail orders will be received now by Miss Emma Hyde, care of the college.

NOTED ENGINEER SPEAKS BEFORE SPECIAL SEMINAR

Says Problems of Production and Transportation Must Be Solved by Engineers

"You and I, as engineers and trained citizens, have a duty to perform," said Mr. L. W. Wallace of Washington, D. C., secretary of the American Engineering council, in his address before the engineers' special seminar at the college auditorium Saturday afternoon. Mr. Wallace went on to tell what that duty is.

"The evils of distribution are great today. The farmer receives too low a price for his products and the consumer pays too much for the finished article. Why? Most of all because of the many shortcomings of transportation and handling of materials. Here is an opportunity for the engineer for, when we analyze the situation, we see that the remedying of these defects lies within his scope.

"Again our engineers come to the front, for they are the men that must design labor saving machinery, find better methods of production, and, most of all, make the system of transportation more efficient. The fact that in the last six years the railroad mileage of America has decreased is alarming. Many engineers will work upon projects discovered in the past, but the real attainments of the engineer lie in the future. Engineering research and experiment in the past has given us nearly all we have today. Think, for just a minute, what our lives would be like if all the results of engineering research were swept away. That will give you an idea of how important the engineer really is."

Mr. Wallace would have a world federation of engineers and use the money received from war debts to train these engineers to be statesmen as well, so that they would be able to correct industrial differences of the nations and thus abolish war by removing the cause.

"Engineering means more than learning to pull switches and run machinery," concluded Mr. Wallace. "It means that we must think not only of our profession, but of our responsibility to our fellow citizens and train ourselves to meet that responsibility."

DEVICES EFFICIENCY CARD

Prof. V. L. Strickland Arranges Series of Tests for Students

A personal efficiency scorecard for students has been devised by Prof. V. L. Strickland of the department of education. By the use of this card any student may score himself on his personal efficiency and with the results obtained may see definitely wherein he needs improvement.

For improvement in conscious activity, Prof. Strickland explains, two things are fundamentally important. First, the individual must have high and clear ideals, and second, he must be aware of and concerned with his shortcomings in measuring up to these ideals.

A student in scoring himself may receive a possible total of 1,000. In scoring, however, unless he is able to answer yes to every question in a decided and clear cut manner he should usually score a zero. The effectiveness of the whole procedure depends entirely upon the individual student's thoughtfulness and conscientiousness in accepting such challenges as may result from the test.

The scorecard is divided into three main parts, intellectual, spiritual, and physical. Of these three the intellectual division contains the largest proportion of the total points. In this section are included motivation, system, and scholarship. The physical scores include the subheads of hygienic knowledge, sustaining measures, and corrective measures. Such questions as the following are asked in the scoring: "Do I have a high aim? Is my life aim my constant guide? Have I a daily schedule of work? Am I strong in my chosen line? Am I honest? Am I in good health?"

This scorecard has not been prepared in mimeograph or printed form as yet and will not be given to student classes. However, Professor Strickland stated, if there are enough students who desire the card it is probable that a means will be found to furnish it. Students who are interested in a personal efficiency score may obtain the desired information from Professor Strickland.

SIGMA TAU INITIATES 25

Banquet, Following Initiation, at the Gillett Hotel

Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, held their initiatory banquet Saturday evening at the Gillett hotel. Frank Irwin, senior civil engineer, was toastmaster.

The following program was presented: Selection by an orchestra composed of students from the music department, introduction of initiates, toasts by Doctor Walters, Dean Seaton, and Professor Walker, and an address by Con M. Buck, K. S. A. C. graduate of '96, who is now division engineer for the Santa Fe and a member of the American Engineering council.

The following is a list of the newly initiated members of Sigma Tau: Delos Taylor, Keith Nowell, H. O. Bennett, K. K. Bowman, Bennie Rose, R. L. Beach, G. J. Fiedler, Christian Rugh, Harry Isham, Philip Noble, L. E. Garrison, H. A. Wright, A. R. Loyd, W. T. Howard, Roy Balner, Lawrence Russell, Lester Servis, J. R. Stebbins, G. A. Johnson, Chas. Turnipseed, Harold Porter, L. H. Raynesford, Alton Nuss, Carmen C. Tate, and Leo Willis.

Mr. Buck accepted his election as an honorary member of the Sigma Tau, and was initiated Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Morberg announce the birth of a son at the home of her parents in Salina. Mr. Morberg is a senior in veterinary medicine.

The children's piano classes, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Brown and Miss Mildred Thornburg, will present a program Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in recreation center.

Christmas Program at Vespers

Christmas and its meanings were discussed at Vespers last Thursday afternoon. Emma Schoonover opened the discussion and led the group in singing Christmas carols. Bernice O'Brien also talked on the meaning of Christmas. Ruth Faulconer read the Christmas story, "Why the Chimes Rang," and Miss Helen Elcock read a number of Christmas poems by late authors.

Recreation center was decorated in keeping with the season. The entire service was held by candle light.

Vespers program on Thursday, December 18, will consist of a cantata given by the Y. W. C. A. octette.

Mrs. Rose Mack of the extension division will leave the middle of this month for her home in Cherryvale. Mrs. Mack, who has been in the extension division since 1922, has become well known all over the state as a millinery specialist.

3,000 Attracted to Courses Offered by Extension Division

Over 3,000 people who are not able to attend college are now taking advantage of the opportunity to gain further education offered by the K. S. A. C. home study department.

This division offers two hundred different courses covering a wide range of college and vocational branches. Approximately half of the number enrolled are taking non-credit courses, many of these being students who are working for high school diplomas. Another popular course is that of vocational agriculture which is taken advantage of by farmers, especially in remote regions.

Of courses offering college credit, those in education have the greatest enrolment. Enrolment increases most rapidly in September, because many teachers prefer to take their educational work while teaching.

Because the students who enrol in these courses are those who feel most keenly the need of education, they do very high class work.

Each year the extension division sends out over three million pages of material which include follow-up material, instructions, reports on certified flocks, reports of lessons in farm organization, and programs for the homemakers' clubs.

MICHIGAN PLACES FIRST IN POULTRY JUDGING SHOW

K. S. A. C. Gets Seventh Place in Close Race at International Coliseum Contest at Chicago

In the closest race ever held in the International Poultry Judging contest at the Chicago Coliseum show the Kansas Aggies were awarded seventh place. Michigan placed first with a score of 3336, defeating K. S. A. C. by a margin of only 286 points. H. A. Stewart of Topeka, member of the K. S. A. C. team, was fourth exhibit man in the contest, which was held Thursday, December 11.

Results of the contest were as follows: Michigan, first; Ames, second; Purdue, third; Illinois, fourth; Missouri, fifth; Oklahoma, sixth; Kansas Aggies, seventh; Nebraska, eighth; and Ohio, ninth.

At the American Royal Stock show held in Kansas City on November 19, the Aggies placed first with a total of 1995 out of a possible 2400 points, a margin of 265 points above the nearest competitor. This established a new record for number of points in poultry judging for both non-collegiate and collegiate contests. A comparison with the results at the Coliseum show in which, although in seventh place, K. S. A. C. was only 286 points behind the winner, shows the closeness of the Chicago contest.

The men who represented K. S. A. C. in the contest were Stanley Caton, Manhattan; W. J. Kraus, Hays; H. A. Stewart, Topeka; and R. W. Fort, St. John.

SPRING HOLIDAY PROPOSED

Possibilities of Easter Vacation Discussed by S. S. G. A.

A proposal to exchange two holidays, Roushneck day and Cleanup day, for either the Saturday before or the Monday following Easter Sunday, was discussed at the last regular meeting of S. S. G. A.

It was felt that since K. S. A. C. has nothing in the way of holidays to break the monotony of the spring semester, some arrangements should be made for a vacation. The matter will be referred to President Jardine, and, if he grants permission, one of the two days will be set aside as a holiday.

Miss Aline Hinn of the extension division was in Leavenworth county last Saturday, attending the annual farm bureau meet.

WASHBURN WINS CONTEST AGAIN

AGGIE EXTENSIVE TEAM TAKES SECOND PLACE

K. S. T. C. Places Third in First Contest of Kind Here—Washburn First Last Year

Washburn college won first in the intercollegiate extempore contest, the first of its kind to be held here, Saturday night. K. S. A. C. took second place and Kansas State Teachers college, third.

Charles H. Carpenter, Washburn, speaking on the subject, "Should We Have Laws Establishing Compulsory Voting?" was given first place by unanimous decision of the judges. Robert E. Hedburg, representing the Aggies, placed second by unanimous decision. His speech was the subject, "Why the Land Slide for Coolidge?" Third place was awarded to Lawrence Evans, Washburn, who spoke on "Have Party Lines Disappeared?" Decisions on the standings of individual team members gave Washburn first, third and fourth; K. S. A. C. second, fifth, and eighth; and K. S. T. C. sixth, seventh, and ninth.

Speeches were all relating to a general subject, "The National Political Situation." Specific topics were prepared and at 7 o'clock Saturday night, one hour before the speeches started, drawings were made by a representative of each team. The topics drawn were given, one to each contestant, and the hour was used for preparation of the speech. Eight minutes were allotted each man for the presentation.

Judges for the contest were Prof. R. H. Ritchie, head of the English department at Ottawa university; Prof. Martin J. Holcomb, coach of debate at Bethany college; and F. B. Ross, of the department of sociology at K. S. T. C.

Hill Comments Favorably

Dr. Howard T. Hill, head of the department of public speaking, said of the contest, "The contest Saturday night was better than that held at Washburn last year in which the Aggies competed. This type of contest, though comparatively new, is delightfully interesting. It is highly valuable to the contestant; more valuable, in its way, than debate in that the short time for preparation gives the contestant no opportunity for the memorizing of any part of his speech. This type of contest is a decided success."

According to H. B. Summers, coach of the Aggie team, plans for another meet between the same three schools next year were discussed by coaches of the groups. The next contest will probably be held at Emporia, since the one last year was held at Washburn. Washburn won last year also.

CONRAD HEADS ENGINEERS

Several Faculty Members on Program at State Meeting

Prof. L. E. Conrad, head of the department of civil engineering, was elected president of the Kansas Engineering society at their annual meeting held at Lawrence last week. Professor Conrad has been at the head of the civil engineering department since it was first established at K. S. A. C. and has been active in engineering affairs of the state and of the Kansas Engineering society. He was vice-president of the society last year.

Several K. S. A. C. men gave reports and papers at the meeting. Dr. J. D. Walters gave a report of the committee on building and construction, and a paper, "The Bath Tub and Kitchen Sink in Kansas," dealing with home plumbing. Professor Scholer also gave a report.

Prof. H. B. Walker, Professor Furr, and Harold Allen gave papers dealing with engineering subjects. Professor Frazier gave a report of the committee on railroads, and presented a paper on "Some Problems of Railroad Transportation." Arthur Grosbeck, manager of the local offices of the United Light and Power company, gave a report of the committee on power transmission, and presented a paper, "Super-Power." Others from K. S. A. C. who attended the meeting were M. E. Wilson, R. E. Summers, Prof. E. R. Dawley, Prof. B. Brainard, and Dean Seaton.

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism fraternity, held a business meeting in its club room Tuesday, December 9.

Dean Margaret Justin went to Leavenworth Saturday to speak before the annual farm bureau meeting on "The History of Home Economics."

DEMOCRACY

For the second time in two years a man who is not a member of any national fraternity has been elected captain of the Wildcat football team. Lyle Munn, leader of this year's team, is affiliated with no social fraternity or club and Harry McGee, 1925 captain, is a member of the Triangles, a local organization.

This fact alone is almost sufficient to prove that K. S. A. C. is almost in a class by itself in upholding the ideals of democracy. Students of other universities and colleges, when informed of the fact that a "barb" is captain of the football team, evince great surprise and wonder what in the world is the matter with the "Greeks" at Kansas State.

We have a right to feel very proud about this state of affairs. It means that when a student at K. S. A. C. proves his worth in any line he receives just recognition for it, regardless of any fraternal affiliations. Munn has led the 1924 team as fairly and squarely as it could have been led. He has been a very popular man with the members of the football team, his playing of the game has been excellent enough to secure him a berth on the All-Valley, and he was elected captain last year because he had shown the team members that he was worthy of the position. McGee has played stellar game at guard all this season, he is the friend of every player, and because he possesses the qualities the football men consider necessary for a leader, he was awarded the supreme football honor.

Most of the fraternal organizations on the hill deserve part of the credit for the democratic spirit evident. It would be easily possible for a group of the fraternities, who are recognized strong in athletics, to band together and distribute the athletic captaincies among themselves. This possibility has been an actuality at the University of Nebraska for several years and which was exposed this fall. As a result the elected captain of Nebraska's 1925 football team was denied the honor and an All-American player and 1924 captain rewarded the leadership.

Readers of this article, who are ignorant of the facts of the case, may point accusingly at McGee's membership in the Triangles, a recognized strong local fraternity. Such an absurd accusation would, however, be instantly disproven by the fact that he is the only football letter man in the organization. He couldn't elect himself with one vote. He received the majority ballot because he deserved the position.

And this recognition of worth is not limited to the athletic field although it is there that it approaches an almost ideal state. Almost every honor in the college is bestowed upon the receiving student because he is deserving of it. The few that are controlled by fraternity politics usually go to the right man anyway unless they are of so little importance that it makes no difference who holds them.

Prof. R. W. Conover attended the Masonic reception and visited friends in Topeka, December 11.

Acting, of course, on our suggestion concerning the addition of the name of the other comely coed, the Royal Purple has allowed an extension of time for nominations. This will serve the purpose adequately and we hereby take occasion to thank the Royal Purple staff. Always knew our word carried weight.

There is really no need to take all the trouble to send the photographs to Ziegfeld. It would save much time and expense and it would also be a pleasure to us. Yes, we would be glad to judge the pictures. It would be comparatively easy, as we already know who the best looking girl is.

An optimist is a man who takes a pair of opera glasses to the vaudeville show even when he doesn't know what the show is.

MEPHISTOPHELES ABROAD

The devil came up from hell one day
For he'd heard that the earth was going his way;
And he wanted to visit our largest town,
And purchase some souls to take back down.

The devil was dressed as you or I,
He wouldn't be known as he rambled by;
He'd left his tail and his horns at home
When he came from hell this earth to roam.

He walked down the streets without a care
Swinging his cane with a jaunty air.
He thought he knew all these ways of ours,
That getting along would be candy and flowers.

But he'd just begun to cross a street
When a big limousine rolled over his feet.
The poor devil rose and limped to the walk,
Feeling so badly he scarcely could talk.

"This is too crowded a place for me
And I can't buy souls that I cannot see."
So Satan went off to another place
Where he wouldn't be hampered by lack of space.

The first chap he met was just out of jail
And he ordered the devil to hand out his kale.
"But," asked the devil, "D'you know who I am?"
"No," said the bandit, "and don't give a damn."

Then he slugged the poor devil right in the head
And walked off and left him lying for dead;
But, as you know, the devil can't die
So he rose to his feet ere much time 'd passed by.

Now his feet were hurt and his head was sore,
And he knew his power on the earth was o'er.
So he took a last look and muttered a "Well,
If you want me to say, I'll say it beats hell!"

So the devil went back to his own domain
And left all the souls up here to remain,
For he knew it was worse than his place by a lot
Even perhaps if it wasn't so hot.

Flappers and Cake
Eaters Outnumbered
by Serious Minded

Forty-eight per cent, or almost one-half, of the students of K. S. A. C. are self-supporting, according to statistics compiled in the registrar's office from the questionnaires which the students filled out when they were being enrolled. In addition to those who are entirely self-supporting, there are 14 per cent who are partially self-supporting. This means that only 38 per cent of the student body are entirely dependent and that the majority are helping themselves. The methods which these students employ to help themselves are varied and often quite novel. They include high salaried technical work as well as ordinary day labor. Quite often the work which the person is doing outside of school is very similar and along the same line as his classroom or laboratory work. This kind of employment serves a double purpose because, in addition to helping the student through school, it gives him experience which should be valuable after he is through school.

That the average college student of today is earnest and industrious, calamity-howlers to the contrary, and that he really does take himself, his work, and the college seriously, was the attitude taken by Miss Jessie McDowell Machir in her radio address to the alumni on November 3. "You hear a great deal these days about the flapper and the cake eater in college, and sometimes we fear that you think that type of student makes up the entire student body," said Miss Machir, "but we who are with them year after year know that the student body as a whole is earnest minded, that almost half of them are self-supporting, and that these students have no inclination to waste time and money on mere foolishness."

Good news for all lovers of graphic pie

Graphic pie enough to satisfy the hunger of a life-time; no end of graphic mountains to scale and toboggan down. That's what the man who loves to analyze graphs and statistical symbols can look forward to when he comes with the electrical industry.

Economic study is one of many branches in this broad field. If you have thought of electricity as limited to engineers, this other side of the picture will interest you.

The commercial organization with its problems of distributing, selling, advertising; the manufacturing end with its opportunity for trained technical men; the legal and accounting branches—all this and more totals electrical industry.

It may pay you to keep this in mind against graduation.

J. W. Blass of Rockwell, Okla., announces the marriage of his daughter, Miss Jessie L. Blass of Wichita to Ray E. Kellogg, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Kellogg of Wichita. The marriage took place Sunday, December 7, in the Grace Methodist Episcopal church at Winfield, the Reverend I. D. Harris officiating. Mr. Kellogg is a graduate of K. S. A. C. and a member of Delta Tau Delta. After a wedding trip to Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg will be at home at 208 S. Handley avenue in Wichita.

Sunday dinner guests at the Alpha Sigma Psi house were Misses Ruth Hubbard, Catherine Bernheisel, and Alice Patterson.

Dr. E. E. Leasure and A. E. McCullough of Solomon were guests at the Alpha Sigma Psi house Sunday.

Misses Mina Bates, Martha Kramer, and Elma Stewart entertained Thursday evening with a dinner dance in honor of Miss Amy Jane Leazenby and Prof. Eric Englund, whose marriage will take place during the Christmas holidays. The dinner was served in the Open Door tea room at 7 o'clock. The quartet tables which were used were decorated with yellow candles. Following the dinner, there was dancing on the second floor of the cafeteria. Refreshments were served during the dancing in the east alcove which was decorated to represent a Chinese garden. There were a number of feature dances during the evening. Guests were as follows: Miss Leazenby, Mr. Englund, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rogers, Miss Margaret Justin, Misses Katherine Hudson, Pearl Ruby, Alene Hinn, Jean Dobbs, Florence Clark, Edna Willman, Dorothy Cashen, Dorothy Brown, Annabel Garvey, Izil Polson, and Mary Polson, and H. Delta Tau Delta gave its annual fall party Friday evening at the Elk's hall. Panels of purple and gold, the fraternity colors, decorated the walls, and there was a large parchment shade, on which were hand-painted parrots, in the center of the hall. Chuck Shofstall's six-piece orchestra from Lawrence furnished the music for the dancers. The house mother, Mrs. Martha Foreman, Mr. and Mrs. George Givens, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Knoth, and Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Spangler chaperoned the party.

The pledges of Alpha Xi Delta entertained the actives with a program and spread at the house last Thursday.

day. The feature of the evening was the orchestra which was composed of the pledges, and Dorothy Stiles, pledge sponsor. A Spanish serenade was given by Vera Wasson and Thelma Barrick. "Miss Angelina Johnson," a musical reading, was given by Inez Howard. Other numbers on the program were a duet by Fern Cunningham and Vesta Duckwall, and several dancing numbers. The dining room was turned into the "Cafe de la Spaget," where a midnight lunch was served at quartet tables.

Pi Beta Phi gave its annual football dinner at the chapter house at 6 o'clock, Thursday evening. The dining room and table were decorated in purple and white, with a chocolate football field as a centerpiece for the table. The guests included Coach C. W. Bachman, Mike Ahearn, and all the college football letter men. Leather keychains were given as favors.

Pledges of Kappa Delta entertained the active members with a house dance, Saturday evening. The rooms were decorated with Christmas decorations and colored lights. Music was furnished by a four-piece orchestra. About thirty couples were present and were chaperoned by the housemother, Mrs. Mary Ziegler. Miss Dorothy Tolle of El Dorado was an out of town guest.

Delta Zeta held open house for Pi Kappa Alpha Friday afternoon and for Kappa Sigma Friday evening.

Phi Kappa entertained with its annual fish dinner-dance Friday evening at Harrison hall. Dinner was served at 8 o'clock at quartet tables decorated with candles and sprays of arbor vitae. Christmas decorations were used throughout the hall. There was dancing between courses of the four-course dinner. A large fish was brought in during the evening, and Miss Claudine Murdock emerged from the fish to give a feature dance. Music was furnished by the Pines Serenaders. Prof. and Mrs. H. H. Haymaker, Mr. and Mrs. M. Green, and Mrs. Anna McGregor were the chaperones. Out-of-town guests were Dan Bolen, Salina; Laurence Ryan, Vreton Cregan, and Miss Dolly Kelley, Chapman; La Monte Johnson and Tom Dally, St. Marys; Miss Erma Scanlon, Salina; Misses Anastasia Allen, Beata Slusher, and Marjorie Hopkins, Kansas City, Mo.; Ed Watson, and C. V. Quigley, Kansas City, Mo.; and Miss Marie Faulconer, Topeka.

Kappa Delta held open house for Sigma Nu Friday evening.

Misses Fern Harsh and Evelyn Sturgeon entertained with a card party Friday evening at the home of Miss Harsh, 1006 Bertrand street. Christmas decorations were used. Sixteen guests were present and cards were played at four tables.

Delta Zeta pledges entertained the actives with a snow party Friday evening at the home of Miss Charlotte Swanson, 1640 Fairview. The house was decorated in keeping with the idea of an Eskimo house in the far north. The dance was chaperoned by Mrs. Maude Sullenberger and Mrs. C. O. Swanson. Miss Mary Jensen of Keats, and Misses Renna Rosenthal and Patricia Smith of Topeka were out-of-town guests.

Mrs. Mary Elva Crockett entertained at tea at her home, 1418 Colorado street, Sunday afternoon honoring Miss Amy Jane Leazenby whose marriage to Prof. Eric Englund will take place during the Christmas holidays. The following guests were present: Miss Leazenby, Mrs. A. A. Holtz, Miss Grace Hesse, Miss Dorothy Cashen, Miss Nora Dalbey, and Miss Margaret Ahlborn.

Pledges of Phi Delta Theta entertained the actives with a dance at the chapter house, Friday evening. The rooms were decorated with streamers and balloons of the fraternity colors, and on one wall hung a large pledge button. Proctor's five-piece orchestra furnished the music. The dancers were chaperoned by Mrs. R. G. Taylor, the house mother.

Pi Beta Phi pledges gave a Christmas party for the active members at the Elk's hall, Saturday evening. The hall was decorated with red candles and poinsettias. The house mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Warner, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brewer were the chaperones. Proctor's orchestra furnished the music. Miss Gladys Wanns was an out-of-town guest.

The College Social club entertained Monday afternoon in recreation center with its annual Christmas party. During a short business session, with Mrs. C. E. Aubel presiding, Miss Jessie Machir gave a report on the Social Club Student Loan fund and the club voted to endeavor to increase the fund this year. Miss Edna Ellis directed the girls' octette in singing a group of Christmas carols. In place of the usual refreshments, the members of the committee had planned a Christmas tree, on which was a practical gift for each guest. The party was planned by Mrs. N. L. Latcheur, assisted by Mrs. J. O. Faulkner, Mrs. E. G. Kelly, Mrs. R. P. White, Mrs. H. Allen, Mrs. C. H. Kitzelman, Mrs. M. H. Coe, Mrs. C. F. Lewis, Mrs. E. A. Knoth, and Mrs. C. W. Corsaut.

Prepares Tax Bulletin

The need for tax revision in this state and some suggestions for its accomplishment are set forth in Kansas State experiment station bulletin 234, entitled "Tax Revision in Kansas," which is now in the hands of the printer and will be ready for distribution some time in January. The suggestions given in the bulletin, which was written by Prof. Eric Englund of the department of agricultural economics, are based upon a careful consideration of data assembled from all parts of the state and from other states which have adopted tax measures similar to those suggested for Kansas. The bulletin is divided into twelve sections and will cover about 90 pages, including illustrations and tables.

Methodist Students Plan Party

An informal dedication of the new Methodist parsonage at 1634 Osage street will be held Christmas eve by Methodist preference students who remain in Manhattan for the holidays.

The students will decorate the parsonage tree and hold a social mixer, and late in the evening will go out and sing carols. On Christmas day a dinner will be given for the students of the Methodist church who do not live here but who remain for the holidays.

The Wednesday and Friday morning class in clothing and textiles, under Miss Fecht, made a trip to the sheep barns Friday morning for a summary in their study of wools. Professor Reed of the animal husbandry department lectured on the different breeds of sheep and the types of wool characteristic of each breed.

MC GEE ELECTED TO CAPTAINCY

GUARD WILL LEAD TEAM DURING 1925 SEASON

"Mike" Is Principal Speaker at Football Banquet—Considers Past Season a Success

H. L. McGee, of Ramona, Kans., who made his first varsity letter at right guard this year, was elected captain of the 1925 football team at the annual football banquet Friday night. McGee is 20 years old and a junior in college. He had no high school football experience and for the first two years in college he played fullback. This year, however, he was shifted to right guard, being selected for that position on the second All-Missouri valley team.

Prof. M. F. Ahearn, director of Aggie athletics, was the principal speaker at the banquet, at which the Aggie varsity and freshmen squads, the high school team, and seventy-four of the outstanding high school players of the state were guests.

Studies Come First

"Only men who place their studies above football are of any use to their coach," Professor Ahearn said to the players. "No matter how much the faculty backs athletics, no man is going to play football at K. S. A. C. unless he passes the work required for non-athletes."

Professor Ahearn said that although the past season has seen only one Valley victory for the Aggies, the season had been one of the most successful in the history of the school because of the record the team made for its clean sportsmanship. He mentioned statements made by the Drake coach and Capt. Ed Weir of Nebraska, both of whom said that the Aggies had one of the cleanest teams in the valley.

"So long as the Aggies uphold that standard they are successful," Mike said. "We took a little more this year than we could handle with a green team, and I do not believe the season calls for any alibis."

Team Showed Drive

Coach C. W. Bachman also complimented the team, saying, "In spite of the fact that we did not finish high in valley standings, largely due to inexperience, the team showed more spirit, more drive, more determination, than any I have coached since coming to K. S. A. C."

Other speakers at the banquet were Dr. H. T. Hill, who acted as toastmaster; Charles Corsaut, freshman coach; Lyle Munn, Aggie captain; Harry McGee, captain-elect; O. M. Rhine, principal of the high school; O. C. Fritzmeier, captain of the freshman team; Arthur Stark, coach of the high school team; Bert Pearson, captain of the high school team; S. A. Bardwell, president of the Manhattan chamber of commerce; and Jerry Wilson, chairman of the banquet committee of the chamber of commerce.

Plan Special Assembly

A special assembly for the presentation of "K" sweaters to students, men or women, who have earned them since the first of this year, will be held soon after the Christmas holidays.

The object in having the sweaters officially presented in chapel is to make the athletes of K. S. A. C. better known by sight to the student body, since it is thought that many athletes, unless exceptionally outstanding, are not well enough known.

AGGIES LAND GAME WITH MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY

Will Journey to Milwaukee for Game—Play at Ames on Thanksgiving Day

The revised football schedule for 1925, as announced by "Mike" Ahearn at the football banquet Friday night, includes a game with Marquette university of Milwaukee. The game will be played at Milwaukee on November 7, the Ames game being shifted to Thanksgiving day at the request of Ames officials.

The game with Marquette is in the nature of an inter-sectional game and will undoubtedly be one of the hardest games on the Aggie schedule. The Marquette team was undefeated for three years, their only recent defeat coming at the hands of Creighton university this fall.

The revised Aggie schedule is as follows:

September 26—State Teachers' college at Manhattan.
October 3—Oklahoma university at Manhattan.
October 10—Drake university at Des Moines.
October 17—Kansas university at Lawrence.

October 24—Missouri university at Manhattan.
October 31—Open.
November 7—Marquette university at Milwaukee.
November 14—Nebraska university at Manhattan.
November 21—Open.
November 26, Thanksgiving Day—Iowa State college at Ames.

INTRAMURAL RACE IS CLOSE

Majority of Games Won by Small Margins

The past week was a busy one in intramural basketball. Over a score of games were played, with only two games forfeited. Most of the scores were close, indicating that the teams are tightening up and are pretty well matched.

The scores are as follows: December 8—Beta Theta Pi 14, Sigma Phi Epsilon 12; Alpha Tau Omega 14, Acacia 12; Kappa Sigma 21, Sigma Nu 6; Phi Delta Theta 15, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 14; Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Kappa game forfeited by Phi Kappa; Lambda Chi Alpha 15, Delta Tau Delta 12; December 9—Sigma Phi Sigma 23, Alpha Rho Chi 22; Phi Lambda Chi Alpha 15, Phi Sigma 5; Omega Tau Epsilon 31, Beta Pi Epsilon 6; December 10—Beta Theta Pi 24, Delta Tau Delta 19; Kappa Sigma 18, Alpha Tau Omega 9; Phi Delta Theta 19, Acacia 15; Pi Kappa Alpha 18, Sigma Nu 7; December 11—Kappa Phi Alpha 26, Alpha Rho Chi 12; Triangular 14, Sigma Phi Sigma 10; Phi Lambda Theta 38, Beta Pi Epsilon 9; December 12—Lambda Chi Alpha 15, Phi Sigma Kappa 12; December 9—Kappa Phi Alpha vs. Farm House game forfeited by Farm House.

NEW CONTEST A SUCCESS

250 Men Try Hand at Free Throws Thursday Evening

Over 250 men were entered in the intramural basketball free-throwing contest held last Thursday evening in Nichols gymnasium.

C. L. Cassel won first place in the event, making fourteen out of a possible 20 baskets; J. J. Moran placed second making thirteen baskets; H. L. Gillman was third with twelve; P. P. Rumold placed fourth with 11 baskets; and V. L. Hybskman was fifth with five free-throws.

One point toward individual and organization scores was given for each entry, and one point for each elimination survived. Cassel received a gold medal and ten points, Moran received eight points, Gillman six, Rumold four, and Hybskman two points.

This contest is a new event in intramural athletics, and will probably take a place in all future intramural season activities.

WBZ Gets the Blame

Frank A. Waugh, '91, writes that he and his wife, Alice V. Waugh, '92, Charles H. Thompson, '93, and Fred C. Sears, '92, all of Amherst, Mass., were particularly interested in getting the program of KSAC on its dedication night but that the interference from WBZ of Springfield was so great that, though they had the assistance of a radio expert and a high grade receiving set, they could not tune in.

SALISBURY TALKS ON SPORTS

Ethics of Sport Writing Discussed in Journalism Seminar

"Ethics of Sport Writing" was the subject of Morse Salisbury's talk before the journalism seminar Monday afternoon.

"Sport news should be written accurately and without bias," he said. "The brand of yellow journalism that was started in the earlier days of the newspaper has reacted to cause a great deal of disapproval to colorful and untruthful news stories."

"Sport news is growing more important every year," said Mr. Salisbury. "Nearly every newspaper of any size has its sport department and the most of them have separate sport editors. For that reason it is up to the sport writer of today to give the public accurate accounts of sport events. Until of late accuracy was not considered to any great extent in that department of journalism, but college students and sport writers of today are striving to bring sport news up to the standard of other news."

"To give an unbiased report of a game, the reporter must understand the different problems of the game so that he can form a good critical judgment of the contest. Then he must not allow his feelings to be hurt for, no matter how he writes the story some one will criticize his work. If he writes a fair, unbiased account of the game, he will be stormed from every side by followers of the losing team. He must never depend on coaches for information. The practise of writing 'bear' stories about injured players is rapidly being abolished from sport pages. In fact, the ethics of other journalism work should be applied to sports as well, that they may give the public accurate accounts of games and contests."

SWISS PUBLICIST TO SPEAK

Dr. Arnold Wolfers Will Appear in Forum and Assembly

Dr. Arnold Wolfers of Switzerland and Germany will be the guest of the college Thursday and Friday. He will speak at the student forum Thursday noon on "The Youth Movement in Germany." At 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon he will address the applied art students and others in room A68 on "Expressionism in Art." His subject at the student assembly Friday morning will be "The Next Steps Toward Peace in Germany." All the lectures are open to the public but persons wishing to attend the forum luncheon are expected to obtain tickets not later than Wednesday night from the Y. M. C. A. or the Y. W. C. A. office. Dr. Wolfers comes of a Swiss family distinguished in both business and politics. He received his doctor's degree in economic and political science from the University of Zurich. He has practiced law, taught, and lectured. He is now an independent publicist, and is thoroughly familiar with economic and artistic conditions in central Europe.

Aggies Celebrate at Goodland

A group of former football stars and other loyal Aggie grads held a reunion at Goodland in celebration of Kansas Aggie night, December 1, and had as their special guests the members of the Sherman county high school football squad. The program was enjoyed hugely, the sounds of the college bell bringing back memories of the days when its tones had sent them rushing up the hill, according to a letter from G. L. Cleland, county agent of Sherman county.

Dr. H. H. King attended the Missouri Valley conference meeting which was held in Kansas City last Saturday.

ENLARGED STAFF FOR BROWN BULL

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL STAFF
REARRANGED

"Barnyard" Number to Appear Farm and Home Week—Maxine Ransom Heads Editorial Staff

All forthcoming issues of the Brown Bull will have a larger editorial and business staff, according to an announcement by the Brown Bull publication board, after its regular quarterly meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Previously the Brown Bull, has been issued under the editorship of one editor who was paid a salary of $25, if the issue was financially successful. There was an assistant editor and an art editor who did not receive a salary. The business staff formerly consisted of a business manager, who received a salary of $25, an assistant business manager, and a sales manager who received no salaries.

Assistants to Be Paid

Under the new arrangement, announced by the Brown Bull board, a managing editor will have charge of the editing of all copy and manuscripts that are submitted and will make arrangements for all special articles. He will receive a salary of $15. An assistant editor who will help the editor in editing copy and in making up the magazine for the printer, will receive $10. The art editor will have charge of all cartoons and art work. His salary will be $5 per issue.

The business staff of the magazine will consist of a business manager who will receive a salary of $15 and will have complete charge of financing the magazine. A circulation manager will have charge of all publicity and sales management at a salary of $10 per issue.

Next Number in February

The next number of the Brown Bull will appear during Farm and Home week during February, and will be known as the "Barnyard" number. Miss Maxine Ransom, senior in Industrial Journalism, has been elected managing editor. Grace Justin will be assistant editor. The art editor will be Bryant Hale, who has been a contributor to many previous issues of the magazine.

On the business staff will be Wm. Batdorf, business manager; and L. E. Childers, circulation manager, seniors in Industrial Journalism.

Even a Horse May Have a Family Tree Dating 'Way Back

The K. S. A. C. veterinary hospital has a horse among its patients whose lineage can be traced back to the Revolutionary War. The horse was brought in with an incurable foot disease by a Riley county farmer. When told that the horse could not be cured and it would be best to kill him, the owner objected strenuously. He asserted that his grandfather, who was a major with the American army during the Revolution, had ridden an ancestor of the horse and that the line of horses had been in his family ever since.

RIFLE SQUAD PRACTICES

Will Enter Seventh Corps Area Intercollegiate Match

The K. S. A. C. rifle squad is practicing every afternoon under the supervision of Captain Waltz, in preparation for the Seventh Corps Area Intercollegiate rifle match, which begins January 1 and lasts until March 15. The National Intercollegiate rifle match, which includes the five highest teams from each corps area match, will be held March 16 to April 16.

This school stood third in the Seventh Corps Area rifle match last year, in spite of the fact that the team started practice three months late and contained six men who had never before participated in small bore shooting.

This year, with seven of the men who were regulars or alternates on last year's team and only five new members, it is hoped that the team will surpass last year's record.

Rifle matches have already been scheduled with sixteen leading colleges and universities. The team will be definitely selected January 1 when the captain will be announced.

Tie in Volley Ball

At present the Kappa Deltas and Alpha Delta Pi's are tied for first place in the volleyball tournament each having won all four of the games they have played. The Chi Omegas, who had not before been defeated, lost to the Kappa Deltas Tuesday by a score of 44 to 32. The scores of the games this week are: Monday, December 15: Alpha Xi Deltas 36, Outlaws 46; Browning 40, Delta Delta Delta 29; Delta Zeta 13, Alpha Theta Chi 49; Tuesday December 16: Phi Omega 27, Gamma Phi Delta 45; Kappa Delta 44, Chi Omega 32.

The finals of the tournament will be played off soon after Christmas.

FREUD HAD GREAT THEORIES

Rogers Discusses Scientist at English Department Lecture

"There is no leader of modern thought who is more exalted and at the same time more execrated than Sigmund Freud," said C. E. Rogers, associate professor in the department of journalism, at the English department lecture Tuesday. "He has been called a spiritualist, a fraud, and both he and his theories regarding sex have received a great deal of criticism."

"I am here more to praise than to bury Freud," he continued. "One writer has said that two of the greatest men were Jews and they were Jesus Christ and Sigmund Freud. To speak of Freud one speaks more of ideals and theories than of the man."

"Freud states that there are two elements in every dream. The first he calls the 'manifest content.' In this part of the dream one sees the experiences and adventures of the day before or of a short time ago. One recognizes the experiences and happenings in this part of the dream."

"But in the 'latent thought' of the dream the facts are distorted and impossible scenes and experiences are realized. It is the job of the psycho-analytical worker to find out about the latent content."

Each object seen in the dream has a definite purpose and symbolizes something. Freud believes that everyone has certain suppressed desires and these are brought out in the dreams by the use of the symbols which he employs. Mr. Rogers read several passages from Freud's books.

Static Causes Trouble

"The 'gang' at Davis got the best receiving set obtainable, but the weather man played us a mean trick or else the Wampus Cats overdid their 'Five Minutes of Static,'" writes H. R. Guilbert, '20, scribe for the alumni group at university farm of the California College of Agriculture at Davis. "The best we could do was to hear and recognize Mrs. Bowen's voice and catch a few words of Doctor Hill's talk."

"It was disappointing to have missed the program but all enjoyed getting together. We had a real feed, the principal item of which was steak broiled over an open fire. The Missourians threatened to break up the party, but evidently thought twice and decided to let the Wildcats alone. However, we kept the 'nutrients' well guarded. We adjourned at 10 o'clock to meet again on the Ides of March. We all hope for another radio party."

SPEAKS BEFORE FORUM

"Youth Move Not Bolshevism," Says Dr. Arnold Wolfers

That the youth movement in Europe today and Bolshevism are in no way synonymous was the fact advanced to those attending the weekly college student forum meeting in the cafeteria yesterday by Dr. Arnold Wolfers, of Switzerland, who has been prominent in the European youth movement of today for some time.

The youth movement of today is not an outgrowth of the world war, Dr. Wolfers said, but a protest against materialism which had its origin at the beginning of the present century.

Although he did not make such a statement, Dr. Wolfers' talk implied a belief that America is about to face a similar movement to the one which he was discussing. "The America of today is much the same as was the Europe of before the war," Dr. Wolfers said. "To me, my coming to America seemed like a returning to the Europe of my student days."

"There are to me two Europes today," he continued. "One is the Europe of the older minds, which strives for the continuance of the older, more materialistic order of things, and the other is the youthful Europe, which seeks its development in another direction."

In conclusion Dr. Wolfers said:

"The most hopeful sign of the youth movement is not what it has done, in a material, practical sense, but the spirit of progress it has awakened. Many 'cures' have been advanced, many of them obviously impossible, radical, and impractical, but in every case they have been discarded."

Scotch Called Upon for Loud, Shrieking Color Combinations

The Scotch are the cause of it all! It was in Scotland many years ago that some poor wag was forced to go about from house to house asking for old rags that he might piece them together for a garment. He was, indeed, a poor man. After he had collected what he thought sufficient fragments of materials, he crudely joined them together and created himself a scotch plaid garment. Thus this little story goes to show "how come" the K. S. A. C. campus is so anointed with these ghastly looking hose and scarfs which the students persist in wearing.

REHEARSALS HELD FOR PLAY

Purple Masque to Present "Fancy Free" in Tournament

Rehearsals have been held during the past two weeks for "Fancy Free," Purple Masque production to be presented at the play tournament at Northwestern university December 31.

According to E. G. McDonald, coach of the play, the cast has progressed rapidly and the play should be in a finished state by the time the tournament starts. The cast will arrive in Evanston December 30 and a final rehearsal will be held before the initial tournament presentation. Mr. McDonald and Dr. Howard T. Hill will accompany the cast.

Hulda Bennett McCall, who graduated from K. S. A. C. in 1908, visited here last week. Her home is in Wakeeney.

Dean Holton went to Chicago last week to attend the meeting of the Council of Education. He returned Sunday.

EDGERTON CLUB GOES NATIONAL

CHARTER GRANTED TO LOCAL CLUB BY DELTA SIGMA PHI

K. S. A. C. Chapter First in Missouri Valley—to Be Installed Early in February

The Edgerton Club, 1707 Laramie street, has been granted a charter of Delta Sigma Phi, national social fraternity, according to word received from the national secretary, A. W. Defenderfer.

Delta Sigma Phi was organized in 1899 at the college of the City of New York. It has 41 chapters and has until the last few years been exclusively an eastern organization. The chapter at K. S. A. C. will be the first to be installed in the Missouri valley.

The Edgerton Club was organized in 1916. The active members include John Brooks, Columbus; Ivan Bozarth, Lenora; Marvin Campbell, Kirwin; Eugene Cleavinger, Lowmont; Robert Cox, Kinsley; Lyle Cushing, Downs; Lowell Domoney, Downs; Delbert Emery, Parsons; Lloyd Gates, Downs; Lionel Holm, Denmark; Earl Honeywell, Manhattan; Joe Innis, Woodward, Okla.; John McGregor, Columbus; Raymond McGinn, Winfield; Burr Merrfield, Agra; Wilbur Miller, Lincoln; Nels P. Olson, Brookville; Vernon Peterson, Gypsum; Eugene Phinney, Larned; James Savage, Wright; Robert Shumate, Rush Center; Lewis Smith, Mount Hope; R. G. Stapp, Norcatur; Paul Stuenkel, Lenora; William Stuenkel, Lenora; Paul Wise, Clearwater; Oscar Woody, Lincoln; David Yerkes, Hill City. Prof. Robert H. Lush, Manhattan, and Prof. C. E. Pearce, Manhattan, are faculty members of the chapter.

Installation services will be held about February 1. The chapter will be called Alpha Upsilon of Delta Sigma Phi.

A scholarship contest for neighboring towns has been prepared by the Holton schools. The contest is in American history and first year algebra and has been sent to Hiawatha and Sabetha, Kan.

HONESTY

Petty thievery at K. S. A. C. has been advancing a great deal beyond the joke stage during the past few weeks.

The two latest stealing affairs have been perpetrated so boldly that it begins to look as though Aggie students have absolutely no idea of the eternal fitness of things. The Royal Purple office reports that a number of the sample pictures that are on display in the photographer's studio have been stolen. When the Collegian distributed the samples of Gloco to the students through the postoffice boxes, several hundred of the bottles were stolen openly by students who opened every mail box that was not locked.

Practical joking is all right in so far as it is practical joking but when it becomes downright thievery it is a different matter entirely. The intrinsic value of the sample Gloco was small but that of some of the photographs and frames stolen amounted to several dollars.

Thievery such as this does not fit in with the high standard of conduct that is maintained at K. S. A. C. Every student who is loyal to the college should have its welfare at heart and should do his utmost to make the old virtue of common honesty a part of its very existence.

The prize winning letters to Santa Claus are given.

Dear Santa:

There aren't so many things that I care to ask for this year. Things have been half-way decent this past year, and, as the sophomores say, "I'm sitting pretty." However, you might bring me a couple hundred more students, and above all a new cage for the wildcat. I've threatened to make one myself, but even that doesn't scare the athletic department into getting one. I guess that's all. Prexy.

Dearest Santa Claus:

We really and truly hate to write again, but this only makes the eighth and you surely can stand that much from us. This time, Santa, we wish to ask something important. Do you suppose that you could bring us a new fraternity? These that are here are not quite good enough for us. Do your best:

Pi Beta Phi.

Dear Santa Claus:

Bring me some more sororities. The girls here are too darn cocky. The new ones don't have to be smart, they can be like the ones here.

Harry.

Dear Santa:

Bach doesn't have time to write his letters, so I am writing for both of us. You probably know what we are asking for this year. Yes, a winning football team again. Something happened last year. Bach says all you have to do is give him men and he'll do the rest.

Mike.

P. S. Also bring me some more jokes to use on Doc King. Those other two are getting old.

Santa Claus:

Would request an extra day during the week to use for drill purposes. We can't work the men hard enough in the time we have. Could you also supply us with some smarter men? These we have are too dumb for words.

The Army.

Dear Santa Claus:

I only want one thing this Christmas. I want some jokes that Mike has never heard. Make them rather personal, too.

Doc King.

And that's all for the year. We wish everyone a merry Xmas and etc. Yes, even the girls.

On Other Hills

Ralph M. Hower of the University of Kansas was announced as the 1924 Kansas selection for the Rhodes scholarship.

Kansas has one college student for every one hundred and fifty persons in the state and ranks first in the proportionate number of men and women taking college work.

A trough for fountain pens has been installed at the University of California which works like the old-fashioned water fountain in the chicken yard. More than a quart of ink is consumed every five hours in the day by more than one thousand students.

The University of Nebraska recently passed a rule, to take effect next September, that whenever any group of students maintaining a house of residence falls more than five per cent below the scholastic average of men or women respectively, such group will be placed on probation for one year. If at the end of the year the group has not reached the standard they will not be allowed to pledge freshmen or give any social function until the required scholastic standard is reached.

An inter-fraternity horse-shoe meet will be held at the University of Chicago very soon.

Women students at the Kansas State Teachers college, Emporia, are to have a new athletic field built for women exclusively.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION
SOLUTION FOR CONFLICTS

European Wars Due to Formation of Many Independent National Sovereign States

"Our history is full of the conflicts between France and Germany and between all other nations on the continent," said Dr. Arnold Wolfers of Berlin in his talk "Next Steps Toward Peace in Europe" in assembly this morning. "It is right to look upon these conflicts as the result of the development of so many independent national sovereign states. France first developed these independent overlings. In the nineteenth century Italy and Germany came to build up their national states and since the war Poland and Czechoslovakia followed in the same development. The growth of the United States of America to a nation of its own belongs to the same historic line.

"As things stand today every conflict between two nations becomes a fight really between every man in all of the nations that are at stake with one another and therefore brings about wars of the kind of the last world war," said Doctor Wolfers. "It is therefore a new and modern problem which we have in view when we say that some way must be found out of this anarchy.

"Before the war the only solution which seemed possible lay in the idea of a balance of power. After the war everybody hoped for a new and better solution. President Wilson in proposing the League of Nations was thought to be proposing a super-state. The foundation of such a super-state does not yet exist. There isn't that international friendship and mutual confidence between nations which alone could be the foundation of any government.

"Not having accepted the super-state, the only possible solution seemed to be the predominant power of one group over the other, the victorious nations holding together and arming themselves to keep the rest of the world in peace and order. The Ruhr occupation last year has proved how impossible this proposition is. We must therefore seek for other solutions. The only possible line to follow which I can conceive of is that of building up international arbitration."

"Sancho Panza" Is a Very Delightful
Old-Time Fantasie

Miss Grace Hesse, assistant professor of modern languages, who saw Otis Skinner in "Sancho Panza" at Ann Arbor, Mich., last year, comments on it as follows:

"Sancho Panza, with Otis Skinner as Sancho, is one of the most delightful fantasies I have ever seen. The costuming is exactly that of the seventeenth century in Spain. The ladies wear brilliantly colored silk dresses with the great farthingale skirts, and huge wire frames are worn on their heads over which they comb their hair, intertwining many little ribbons and finishing each with a tiny bow. The men are gay in short breeches, the Spanish 'capa' and plumed hats.

"Sancho, the ignorant, whimsical countryman whom Don Quixote chose for his squire to accompany him on his adventures, is the character which gives Cervantes' book its great human quality. To see Otis Skinner as Sancho, gives one the feeling that Sancho himself has stepped out of the book to perform for us in person. When the crude Sancho becomes governor of the island of Barataria, the situations are excruciatingly funny.

"Dapple, Sancho's donkey, is the acme of donkeyism. His antics, his devotion to his master, his almost human intelligence, is most amusing."

If one wishes to see a donkey in his prime, go see Sancho's Dapple for he is worth the price of admission."

Prof. and Mrs. V. L. Strickland returned Tuesday evening, after attending a conference in Lincoln Monday and Tuesday morning.

Miss Veralee Burkhead will spend her vacation in Pomona.

DAPPLE AND THE LORD CHAMBERLAIN IN OTIS SKINNER'S MERRY COMEDY, "SANCHO PANZA," COMING TO THE COLLEGE AUDITORIUM THURSDAY EVENING, JANUARY 8

Not since "Androcles and the Lion," by Bernard Shaw, has there been a drama in which an animal contributed so extensively to dramatic action and character delineation as does Dapple, the little gray donkey in the comedy, "Sancho Panza." Indeed, he has a role of such length and importance that he practically shares honors with Mr. Otis Skinner, and Mr. Skinner insists that Dapple take all curtain calls with him.

The advance sale of tickets for "Sancho Panza" is going rapidly. Enthusiasm on the part of students and faculty, as well as townspeople would seem to indicate a capacity house for Mr. Skinner. Several requests for reservations have already been received from Ft. Riley and Junction City. Mail orders may be sent to Miss Emma Hyde, College.

FIRST GAME IS WITH HILLYARDS

AGGIE BASKETEERS ROUNDING INTO SHAPE

Side-line Dopesters Already Picking Out First Team—Games Will Not Be Advertised

With the Kansas Aggie basketball season due to get off "in high" immediately after the close of the Christmas holidays, the Wildcat team of Coach C. W. Corsaut is beginning to round into the appearance of a finished quintet. Already the side-line dopesters are beginning to pick a probable first string five for the start of the season, though Coach Corsaut is non-committal as to who his regulars will be, and expects to shift his machine around somewhat after the opening games of the season.

Though each of the four letter men is provided with plenty of competition for his place, indications are that the first game of the season will find them working together, with Tebow at center, Koch and Doolen at guards, and Bunker at forward. C. A. Byers, forward, of Abilene, apparently is the best bet to fill the fifth position, at least at the start of the season. Byers has developed a knack of hitting baskets from difficult positions on the court that is keeping him ahead of larger and heavier men.

Several Show Up Well

H. M. "Doc" Weddle, Lindsborg, center and forward, is handling the ball nicely in practice. G. O. Weidenbach, junior, forward, Wichita, who played in several games last season, also has improved greatly in basket shooting, and J. R. Stebbings, junior, Ellis, center, is coming along nicely.

M. B. "Bing" Miller, sophomore guard, and J. A. Metz, also a sophomore, are giving Koch and Doolen plenty to look out for, and should be a hard pair to beat out by another season.

The Aggie season starts Tuesday night, January 6, with a game against the Hillyards in St. Joseph, Mo., followed by a home game against Nebraska January 9.

Little attempt will be made to advertise Aggie basketball games for the coming year, according to employees at the athletic office, as the maximum seating capacity of Nichols gymnasium, 2,700 persons, is fairly well taken care of by student activity tickets alone. Last year the Aggies drew better home crowds than almost any other school in the Missouri Valley, with the possible exception of the University of Kansas, which had a championship team.

Harriers Receive Trophies

Gold running shoes were presented to the Aggie cross country team by the athletic association for winning the valley championship. The shoe is the watch charm size with a purple "K" on one side and "Missouri Valley Champions, 1924" on the other side.

INTRAMURAL SWIMMERS SHOW CONSIDERABLE SPEED

Exceptionally Fast Time Made in Some Events—Fancy Diving Contest Postponed

A field of nearly 300 men was entered in the annual intramural swimming meet which was held Tuesday night in the Nichols gymnasium pool. Diving events had to be postponed, according to E. A. Knoth, director of intramurals, because of the breaking of the diving board late afternoon of the meet.

Detailed results of the meet are as follows: 220 yard free style, first, Farrel, Alpha Tau Omega; second, Vasey, unattached; third, Wolfenbarger, Delta Tau Delta. Time 3:39. 100 yard back stroke: first, Eastwood, second, Lippincott, Beta Theta Pi; third, Weidlin, Sigma Nu; fourth, Farrel, Alpha Tau Omega. Time 1:31. 100 yard free-style first, Gartner, Kappa Sigma; second, Lippincott, Beta Theta Pi; third, Weidlin, Sigma Nu; fourth, Farrel, Alpha Tau Omega. Time 1:05. 100 yard back stroke: first, Eastwood; second, R. Schoop; third, Henry, Alpha Tau Omega; fourth, Mason. Time 1:31.

160 yard relay: first, Kappa Sigma, (Gartner, Mahan, Denniston, and Gartner); second, Beta Theta Pi, (Lippincott, H. Floyd, W. Enns, H. Enns) third, Delta Tau Delta. Time 1:47. 40 yard free style: first, Bugbee, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; second, Gartner, Kappa Sigma; third, Lippincott, Beta Theta Pi; fourth, Soper, Sigma Phi Sigma. Time 22 seconds. 100 yard breast stroke: first, Farrel, Alpha Tau Omega; second, Donoho, Delta Tau Delta; third, Bugbee, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; fourth, Olmstead, unattached. Time 2:05.

Plunge for distance: first, Long, unattached; second, Henry, Alpha Tau Omega, and Farris, Kappa Phi Alpha; fourth, Foltz, unattached. Distances, first, 50 feet; second, 47 feet; third, 46 feet.

H. P. Gaston, graduate assistant in the horticulture department at the Michigan Agricultural college and a K. S. A. C. graduate of the class of '23, was a recent visitor at the college.

KAPPA SIGMA IS PAN-HELL CHAMP

CONQUERS SIGMA PHI EPSILON IN THRILLING GAME

Kappa Sigs Are Undefeated—Will Play Winner of Local Division for College Championship

Kappa Sigma won the panhellenic basketball title Wednesday night when its quintet conquered Sigma Phi Epsilon by a 13 to 9 score. The Kappa Sigs have won 11 games and lost none. They still have a postponed game to play with Pi Kappa Alpha but it is commonly conceded that when this game is played the Kappa Sigs will have a straight run of 12 victories.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd and was a thriller from start to finish. In the first quarter Elvas Miller, Kappa Sig forward, made three long baskets in quick succession but the Sig Eps bucked up during the second quarter and the half ended with the count 8 to 5 in favor of Kappa Sigma.

The third quarter saw the count knotted at 9 all but two perfect shots by "Monk" Edwards, Kappa Sig forward, gave the winners a four point lead which they held till the end of the game.

There were no individual stars on the winning team, the entire group sharing equally in the glory. "Jazz" Young, Sig Ep forward starred for his team.

The Kappa Sigs will play the winners of the game between the local fraternity and independent champions after the Christmas holidays.

Varsity to Return Early

Varsity basketball players will have a short vacation this year due to the fact that the first game of the season is to be played January 6. All candidates will be requested to return the Monday following Christmas and continue their training.

Miss Dalbey, assistant professor of botany, was called to her home in Atlanta, Ga., this week by the serious illness of her father.

L. T. Perrill, superintendent of schools of Dorrance, Kan., visited the college recently to consult members of the department of education concerning tests of interest and achievement.

ment to be given to his high school students. He is especially interested in vocational guidance and in the possibilities of such tests as a basis for advising students what high and college courses to pursue, as well as what occupations they may enter with reasonable hope of success. Mr. Perrill is working for his master's degree in education.

GREAT FIELD TO COMPETE IN CONFERENCE TRACK MEET

New Conference Members to Be Represented—Stars of Southwestern Schools Invited

The eighteenth annual Missouri Valley conference track and field meet, to be held at the University of Oklahoma May 30, will bring together the greatest aggregation of athletes ever seen on Sooner soil, according to John Jacobs, university track coach.

In addition to representatives of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Grinnell, Drake, Ames, Kansas Aggies, Oklahoma and the newly admitted Oklahoma Aggies, the stars of other southwestern universities and colleges probably will compete in the carnival, according to Jacobs.

The meet will include golf and tennis tournaments in addition to the regular track and field events.

Although the Oklahoma stands are limited in seating capacity the track, tennis courts and golf course are among the best in the entire Missouri valley.

The track with a crushed rock base and cinder and clay surface, has been used two years and is in excellent condition, Jacobs states. It is the regular quarter-mile oval with a 220-yard straightaway, and the quarter-mile race will be run with only one turn. The straightaway is twenty-eight feet wide, permitting eight lanes for the 100-yard and 200-yard dashes. The oval track is twenty-one feet wide, permitting seven hurdle lanes.

Oklahoma has two indoor concrete tennis courts, and two concrete and twelve clay courts in the open.

The 9-hole golf course of the Norman Golf and Country club, to be used for the tournament, will be ideal for the college golfers. It has sand greens with a number of interesting hazards.

Officials of national repute will be engaged to work the meet, according to Jacobs.

Prof. George A. Dean, head of the department of entomology, expects to resume his duties here the first of the year after a leave of absence in which time he has been in charge of the cereal crop insect investigation of the United States bureau of entomology.

NEW LIBRARY IS BEING PLANNED

PRESIDENT JARDINE ASKS FOR $350,000 APPROPRIATION

Building to Be Three Stories High—Proposed Site Is Between Waters Hall and Illustrations Building

An appropriation of $350,000 to be used in constructing a new library building is requested by President W. M. Jardine of Kansas State Agricultural college in his biennial report to the state legislature. According to the plans being drawn by the architectural department, the building will be three stories high, of native limestone, and so constructed as to permit of indefinite expansion.

The site for the proposed new library building is between Waters hall and the illustrations building. Plans of the best libraries in the country are being studied and their best points considered in drawing up the plans for this building. Although the entrances, according to the plans, will be at the east and the west, the building will face north, in order to get the ideal northern lighting for the reading rooms. There are to be three reading rooms, each with a seating capacity of 375.

Stacks at South
The library building will be so arranged that the reading rooms will occupy the north sections, stack rooms the south sections, and there will be a general hall through the center, in which are to be located the stair cases, lighting shafts, offices, and rooms pertaining to library administration. The class reserves will occupy the ground floor which is to be a semi-basement. The first floor is to contain the current periodical reading room. On the main floor will be the general reading room, and loan desk, and on the upper floor there will be 12 seminar rooms to be used by graduate students in research work.

The general reading room which will be on the main floor will be 30 feet from floor to ceiling. It will extend through two stories.

Contains 80,000 Volumes

The college library now contains 80,000 volumes valued at $350,000. This collection contains rare, important and expensive books many of which are out of print and could not be replaced. It is also invaluable because of the time and energy that have been expended in collecting the books. Kansas State Agricultural college is acknowledged to have one of the best collections of agricultural material in the United States, and its collection of material for the other divisions ranks high among college libraries.

In its present quarters this valuable collection is daily menaced by danger of fire and water. Fairchild hall is not fireproof. A flooded sink in the laboratories above the stack room might easily cause hundreds of dollars of damage to the books.

Along with the increase in size of the library has come a steady and rapid increase in number of students and in tendency to use the library. The library now has a seating capacity of 300 students. The average number of students who enter the reading rooms each day is over 3,300.

Lend 36,000 Annually

An average of 36,000 volumes is lent each year to local patrons, 29,600 are charged out to reserve rooms for use in the building, and last year 1,252 books were lent outside of Manhattan. This demand from the outside for books is steadily increasing because of the interest in home study augmented by the programs of the extension division, especially by the radio school.

The Kansas State Agricultural college library was founded under President Denison at the old Bluemont college, which was one mile west of the present campus. Bluemont college was a Methodist school which preceded the agricultural college. Most of the books were of a religious nature, and were donated by people in the east.

In 1863 the institution was taken over by the state for an agricultural college. In 1878 the library, which then consisted of 1,250 volumes and 150 periodicals, was moved to the north wing of Anderson hall, where the business office now is.

Room Vitrally Needed

In 1894 Fairchild hall was built and the library was moved to its present quarters, where it occupied the space now given to the stack room and librarian's office. The reading room had a seating capacity of 15. In 1903 it was enlarged by the addition of the main reading room. Up until 1900 only one librarian and one part time assistant were employed. At present there are 10 full time supervisors and 14 student assistants. Year by year more space in Fairchild hall has been appropriated for library use until at present the last bit of available space is overcrowded, and more room is necessary as is necessary if the educational standards of K. S. A. C. are to be upheld.

This almost phenomenal growth of the library in recent years is due in large part to the efforts of Prof. A. B. Smith, librarian. As a result of his careful selection and diligent efforts in securing the most desirable books, the library has increased in value 300 per cent, under his administration. Mr. Smith is a graduate of Wesleyan university, and of the University of Illinois. He came to K. S. A. C. in 1911, having had previous experience as head of the order department of the University of California Library.

UNUSUAL PROGRESS MADE ON 1925 ROYAL PURPLE

1300 Photographs Taken and 500 Subscriptions Received—Art Work Progressing Satisfactorily

After four months of work, the 1925 Royal Purple staff has advanced the yearbook further than any other has ever been at this period, according to B. C. Harter, editor. The book will go to press before any other yearbook in the valley, and purchasers are assured of receiving their copies by the middle of May.

Most of the work of the staff has been devoted toward the securing of individual photographs, and over 1300 have been taken up to this time. In past years the taking of pictures has greatly retarded work on the book, but the Royal Purple studio, opened this year for the first time, has eliminated this difficulty to a large extent.

The art motif work, in charge of the Burger Engraving company, of Kansas City, Mo., is 75 per cent completed. According to officials of the engraving company, the 1925 Royal Purple is one of the most distinctive books they have ever helped design.

The branch of art work consisting of the planning and sketching of subdivision pages is over half completed. Work of this nature is in charge of N. L. Roberts, senior in architecture.

Students have shown their interest in the Royal Purple by volunteering over 500 subscriptions. These subscriptions have come in unsolicited for the main part, as no special effort has been directed, up to the present time, toward a special sales campaign.

DEAN HONORED BY SCIENTISTS

Made President of Entomology Society of America

Prof. George Dean, head of the department of entomology at K. S. A. C., was elected president of the Entomology Society of America at its meeting in Washington, D. C., December 31 in connection with the annual convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The news of Professor Dean's election was received here recently.

The society is the foremost organization of entomologists in the country. Two years ago Professor Dean was made president of the department of entomology of the Association for the Advancement of Science, and prior to that he headed the Entomological Association of Economic Entomologists.

Professor Dean is at present in Washington, D. C., on a leave of absence, carrying on experimental work for the department of agriculture.

VET IN NEW YORK

G. B. Kirkwood in Charge of Canine Emergency Hospital

Dr. G. B. Kirkwood, who received his degree from the division of veterinary medicine in 1923, is now in charge of a new canine emergency ambulance of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Dr. R. R. Dykstra, dean of the division of veterinary medicine, received a clipping and photograph from a New York paper last week, in which the work of Dr. Kirkwood was described. Doctor Kirkwood is head veterinarian for the New York S. P. C. A., and Dr. E. R. Frank, who was graduated from K. S. A. C. last year, is his first assistant.

Chicago News Quotes Crawford

Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the department of industrial journalism, was a contributor to a recent number of the magazine, "Poetry." His article, "A Disappointing Survey," deals in a criticism of Bruce Weirick's book, "From Whitman to Sandburg in American Poetry." The article was of such merit that a portion of it was reprinted in an editorial in the Chicago Daily News.

THE SPANISH DANCER IN "SANCHO PANZA"

Lucille Middleton, the Spanish dancer in "Sancho Panza," is a middle western girl, her home being in Kansas City. Miss Middleton attended Kansas university where she was a member of a sorority which fosters dancing and dramatic art.

The part of the dancer in "Sancho Panza" in its performances last season was taken by Helen Grenelle, also of Kansas City. Miss Grenelle was later given a more important part in another play which is now running in New York, and Miss Middleton tried out for the part in "Sancho Panza." A critic writing in the Kansas City Star said of her presentation, "Her choice of costume was so carefully made and she seemed to have the spirit of the part so clearly in mind that there was little hesitancy in giving her the part."

50,000 FANS SEE GRID CONTESTS

AGGIES HAD BIG YEAR AT GATE IN 1924

Comparison of Figures with Those of 1917 Shows Decided Increase in Football Attendance

Opponent—Place	Attendance
Missouri, Columbia	6,000
K. S. T. C., Manhattan	3,400
Kansas, Manhattan	12,544
Nebraska, Manhattan	6,437
Ames, Manhattan	6,475
Drake, Manhattan	2,445
Oklahoma, Norman	3,018
Washburn, Topeka	3,000
*Estimated.

What a decade of membership in the Missouri Valley Athletic association has meant to the Kansas State Agricultural college is shown by a comparison of the figures on financial receipts and attendance for the 1924 football season with those of 1917, when the Aggie team was still a member of the Kansas conference. Last season, which in point of games won was one of the most disastrous in several years, the Aggies played to 43,000 persons. Free admission tickets given to Manhattan grade school students and complimentary tickets easily boosted the total of those who saw the Wildcats play to more than 50,000.

Financial receipts for the entire season, both at home and abroad, were approximately $43,000, of which the Aggies received approximately $21,500 as their half of the receipts. Back in 1917, the team also played an eight game schedule, and net receipts were approximately $4,300, an increase of 1,000 per cent. After expenses were deducted and the receipts divided, the Aggies received $2,150 out of the 1917 season, while in 1924 the fund totalled $17,650 at a cost of trips was taken out.

K. U. Crowd Largest

Perhaps the most striking comparison lies in a single game, the University of Kansas-Kansas Aggie battle, which was then as it is now the most important from an interest attracting standpoint on the Aggie schedule. Last season, paid attendance at the Aggie-K. U. game was $12,544, which with complimentary tickets and admission of "K" men boosted the total crowd to more than 13,000, the largest ever to see a game in Manhattan. Net receipts were $18,192, as compared with $1,164 taken in at the 1917 battle.

Next to the Aggie-K. U. game the Nebraska game at Manhattan was the biggest drawing card last season, the paid attendance being 6,437, or about half that of the K. U.-Aggie battle. The next largest crowd was away from home, when the Aggies played Missouri before a crowd of about 6,000, though official attendance figures were not available.

Other home games drew about the same sized crowd. Ames playing before 3,675, Drake before 3,445 and the Kansas Teachers of Emporia before 3,400 in the first home game of the season. The Aggie half of the receipts of the Ames game was $1,222, and of the K. S. T. C. game $939. Total receipts of the Drake game were $2,196, but $2,000 of that went to Drake as its guarantee for the trip, leaving the Aggies "out of the hole," by only $196. Attendance at the Drake and Nebraska game was cut by the Aggie losing streak.

The Oklahoma game at Norman on Thanksgiving day drew the smallest crowd of any valley game during the year, only 3,089 paid admissions being registered. The Oklahoma game also was the only one on the Aggie schedule which failed to pay expenses, as the guarantee of $1,200 was $200 short of the cost of the trip. Paid attendance at the Aggie-Washburn game in Topeka was the smallest of the season, being estimated at about 3,000. In 1917 the same game was the second in drawing power on the Aggie schedule, "outpulling" the Aggie-Nebraska battle. Last season the Aggie-Washburn game paid each school $1,114.

WIN LOAN FUND

Pullman Company Awards $250 to Aggie Grain Judges

In addition to winning team and individual trophies and several cash prizes, the K. S. A. C. grain judging team won for its school a permanent student loan fund of $250, when it captured national championship honors at the International hay and grain show in Chicago, November 29.

The money is given by the Pullman company of Chicago. It goes to the college whose team wins the grain judging contest and is to be lent to some deserving student in agriculture. The $250 is to be repaid by the borrower at his convenience, and then relented under the same terms.

Miss Alice Jennings, '23, who teaches in the high school at Morrill, spent her vacation in Manhattan and at her home in Wabaunsee.

DAILY SHORT COURSE OFFERED

Manufacture of Butter and Ice Cream to Receive Attention

Enrolment in the commercial creamery short course offered by the college began yesterday. This is an eight-weeks course designed to give training in the manufacture of butter and ice cream and in the handling of market milk. It is intended that those with no previous experience may obtain from this course practical and technical training which will give them a foundation on which to build, while those with previous experience will find the work a help to more rapid advancement.

The new college creamery, which is operated on a commercial basis, provides unusual facilities for this training. The equipment is complete and of the latest design.

An idea of the scope of the course may be gained by an explanation of the various phases of the industry studied. In creamery management, manufacturing efficiency is emphasized. Study and actual practice in taking the raw cream and producing the finished package of butter is the objective of creamery butter making. The problems concerned in the handling and delivery of milk by the most modern methods are studied in market milk.

In dairy bacteriology, elementary fundamental problems in bacteriology are considered, including the significance of and control of bacteriological contamination in milk and its products. Ice cream and cheesemaking deals chiefly with the manufacture of ice cream in an up-to-date plant.

Dairy officials are expecting a large attendance this year, as in other years they have received more calls for trained creamery men than they can fill.

CRAWFORD ELECTED HEAD OF JOURNALISM TEACHERS

Is Sole Representative of Agricultural Colleges on National Council of Education for Journalism

Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the department of industrial journalism, was elected president of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism at the meeting of the association in Chicago December 31.

While in Chicago Professor Crawford also attended a meeting of the association of college news bureaus, which he addressed on the subject of "Publications as Seen in Europe." He also gave a paper on "Tests of the Value of Evidence in the Courts of Law and the Applicability in Newspaper Reporting."

Professor Crawford is one of the five members of the national council of education for journalism, which is attempting to arrange a means of classifying schools of journalism according to standing. He is the only member representing an agricultural college.

On January 10, Professor Crawford, critic, and Dr. W. H. Andrews, leader of the philosophy of the council, will speak at the meeting of the Kansas Authors' club in Topeka. The following day Professor Crawford will speak at the Central Congregational church at Topeka on the recent work of Sherwood Anderson.

WRITES OF MARKET CONDITIONS

Grimes Discusses Probable Permanency of Present Agricultural Situation

"The Present Agricultural Situation," is the title of a recent article by Prof. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics. The article sets forth the results of a detailed study of market conditions and shows how the economic condition of agriculture is reflected in the market. The present high purchasing power of leading farm products is discussed and their probable permanency predicted, the prediction being based upon an analysis of the data given in the article.

In regard to the permanency of the present situation, Professor Grimes writes, "Viewing the matter from a long time standpoint, greater prosperity for agriculture seems to be ahead, although for the immediate future we can expect recessions in prices of some farm products. The question of how much prices will change next year will depend upon how rapidly the influence of increased industrial activity makes itself felt."

"A New Leaf" for Vespers

The subject for vespers Thursday afternoon, which is the first meeting of the new year, will be "A New Leaf." Gladys Stover, Mary Lowe, Em Moore, and Mary Henry will give their impressions of what a new year may hold for individuals, the association, and the college. This will be followed by a discussion in which everyone will take part. Special music is to be given by the Y. W. C. A. octette. Ruth Bachelder has charge of the service.

ROLE OF SANCHO SKINNER'S BEST

IS REGARDED AS AMERICA'S FINEST ROMANTIC ACTOR

Play Has Brilliant Scenery, Costumes, Music—Donkey in Chief Supporting Role

"A large and vivid comedy of life and color," said the Kansas City Star in describing "Sancho Panza," in which Otis Skinner plays here Thursday, January 8. The performance here is sponsored by the Manhattan branch of the American Association of University Women.

Persons who have seen Mr. Skinner play in this and other plays are enthusiastic in praising his ability. Those who have not seen him have read of his remarkable success in "Kismet" and other productions of much note. The role of Sancho Panza is greater even than that which he had in "Kismet," according to foremost dramatic critics.

Skinner Still Preeminent

Of his success Mr. Burns Mantle, in the New York Evening Mail, comments, "Otis Skinner is still preeminent as America's finest romantic actor."

At present Mr. Skinner is presenting only special invitation performances and is not on a regularly booked road tour. A series of performances were given at the Shubert theater in Kansas City during Christmas week.

The Kansas City Star's account in part is as follows: "A most enthusiastic house saw the first performance of 'Sancho Panza' at the Shubert Monday night and showed that it was a typical Skinner audience by applauding the star from prologue to last act, making him take many curtain calls, and forcing him to make a speech at the end of the third act."

Perfect as Sancho

"Mr. Skinner is excellent as Sancho. This star has such a general happy faculty of attaining that quality, no matter the role he is playing, that this new part just means another success for him, that is all. He gives a perfect picture of the middle-headed but square-minded goat herder who settles affairs of state just as he would settle a quarrel between two of his neighbors, by the simple expedient of looking the matter in the face and deciding which side is in the right and which is in the wrong."

"It is an odd statement to say that a donkey looms chief in Mr. Skinner's support, but such is the case. The animal is Dapple, favorite and best companion of Sancho, who is rarely permitted out of the squire's sight. The part is played by a man, of course, Robert Rosaire, and Mr. Rosaire must have spent his daylight hours for many months watching jackasses in their different moods."

Scenery Is Brilliant

Of the ability of the other characters Mr. John Corbin writes in the New York Times, "It is many a long day since so brilliant a galaxy of talent has shone upon a single production. It is enveloped in the most brilliant beauty of scenery, costumes, and music."

Local management for the performance is under the direction of Miss Pearl Ruby, president of the Manhattan branch of the A. A. U. W. Miss Ruby said of the success of the organization in securing a performance of "Sancho Panza" for the college and Manhattan, "The Manhattan branch of the A. A. U. W. has set for itself the standard of bringing one notable performance to Manhattan a year. Last year they sponsored the appearance of the Denishawn dancers. Mr. Skinner's rank as an actor is probably even higher than that of the Denishawns in their art."

Swimmers in Two Meets

The varsity swimming team will have two dual meets, the first with Nebraska university on February 21, at Manhattan, and the second with Washington university March 3, at St. Louis. The conference swimming meet will be held at Washington university March 21 and 22.

HUMAN INSTRUCTORS

Two weeks more of recitations and laboratories, one week of exams, and the first semester will have been completed.

It seems like giving extremely hackneyed advice to urge that scholastic work be given an unusual amount of attention during the next two weeks. Although the Collegian is endeavoring to disregard the custom of presenting editorials on such uninteresting subjects as study it feels that a suggestion at the present time would be very much in order.

Even though you have been letting your school work slide along for the preceding weeks of the semester, a little demonstration of intelligence in the next few days will be of considerable aid to the individual in the final grade reckoning. The instructors are feeling pretty well after the two weeks' vacation and if a student is tactful a little study now might offset a whole semester of unpromising work. The professors are only human and most of them understand college students pretty well.

Show the instructor during the next three weeks that you have acquired a little interest in his particular subject and the resulting grade will be entirely in your favor.

There's only one thing bad about a vacation. That's the coming back. And that is made about four times worse when finals, ah, what a melancholy word, are just around the corner.

But then, there is no use to worry about finals. We have it all figured out. A person should really be able to absorb some sixty per cent of his work from one reading. Out of that he should remember at least forty-five per cent. Then from the recitation in class he should get another 15 per cent. That makes the total of 60 per cent. From that which he has forgotten, and by cramming a little before the roll is called, the remaining 10 per cent of knowledge can be gleaned.

No more night cramming. Put up your books and go to a show.

This year we made no resolutions. It doesn't do any good. We did decide, however, to quit knocking the girls. After what happened during the vacation we have changed our feeling of contempt to one of pity. Hereafter we defend, protect, and yet feel sorry for the other sex.

Christmas can be passed up with a brief summary. We didn't break soon enough and the cuff links we gave Harry were the ones he gave us last year. That's about all.

Harry is going through a fit of the blues. He says that there is nothing like women in the world—thank heaven!

But it can't be helped if she preferred someone else to him.

The human anatomy is fairly well perfected, but one or two suggestions for improvements might not be amiss. For instance, we would suggest one more joint in the arm to enable one to more handily wash one's back. Then too, the hands and feet should be closer to the body so that the cold wouldn't affect them so much. These, with a few minor changes, might suffice.

It is perfectly all right for a chap to wear white socks. It is his business if he wears trousers that are a trifle short. And certainly low shoes are the proper thing. But—but, there ought to be a law prohibiting all three from appearing on the same person at the same time.

Since leap year is over again the slogan will be changed from "Faint heart ne'er won, fair lady" back to "Faint heart ne'er won fair lady."

Whenever one sees the picture of one of these yaps who has been convicted of bigamy or polygamy one can't help but remark on the dumbness of womankind.

On Other Hills

A movement has been started at the University of California for an improvement in manners and a more considerate attitude toward instructors.

A plan for selecting large classes on the basis of ability is being considered by the scholarship committee of the University of Nevada.

The president of the freshman class has been replaced by an executive council at the University of Oregon. The faculty considers this plan far superior to the old one.

Seniors at the Massachusetts Technical college will be given a physical examination to determine the effect of four years work on a student.

University chapels will be abolished at Oklahoma university unless student attendance increases and a greater interest is shown in the speakers brought to the assemblies.

The University of Utah is conducting a course in the art of skiing. A class was formed just before Christmas, and the cost is expected to be approximately 50 cents per hour.

Some 70 miles of motion picture films—420,000 feet—are now in the visual instruction library of the State College of Washington, for loan by the General Extension Division to schools, clubs, and other organizations throughout the state.

A WISH

I have started many poems with the idea at the time
Of exactly all the rhythm
And how it was to rhyme.
Like this

But before I'd get so very far
I would discover that
The words which I had planned to rhyme
Did not exactly match.
Like this

And then if that I straightened out,
That the carefully thought rhythm
I'd find to my dismay
Was fixed up the wrong way.
Like this.

But still I keep my courage up
And hope, on some bright day,
That both my rhyme and rhythm
Will not turn out that way.

Hear Your Own Voice
While You're Many Miles Away From It

Another step towards introducing the real class room atmosphere to the new KSAC radio broadcasting station over which the college "school of the air" carries on every night was announced recently by Sam Pickard, director of programs for the station. The innovation was first tried out December 26, during the broadcasting of a program for "Farm Bureau Night" when sixty farm bureaus over the state were listening in.

Whenever a pupil in the classroom of the radio college, which extends all over the United States, wishes to ask a question of the professor conducting the "class," he has merely to call up over long distance telephone. A system has been devised whereby the telephone line can be "plugged in" on the radio, so that the question asker can hear himself talk via the receiving set. Thus all the students in the "school" can hear the question as it is stated, and the answer.

The method is not new to radio, Mr. Pickard said, but is comparatively so and has been very little used by broadcasting stations in the past. Long distance calls or telegrams on questions that arise during the broadcasting of a lecture are welcomed by the station, and will be answered immediately if possible, Mr. Pickard said.

Piercing the Great Divide

West of Denver is the Continental Divide; hemmed in behind it is an undeveloped district twice as large as Maryland. That fertile area the new Moffat Tunnel will open up.

General Electric mine locomotives are carrying out the rock, and G-E motors are driving air compressors and pumping water from underground rivers.

The conquests of electricity on land and sea, in the air and underground, are making practical the impossibilities of yesterday. It remains only for men of ability to find new things to do tomorrow. Thus does Opportunity of 1925 beckon college men and women toward greater things as yet undreamed, and to a better world to live in.

The General Electric Company includes many specialists—engineers who know about tunnels; engineers who know about street lighting; engineers who know about the electrification of factories. These men are helping to build the better and happier America in which you will live.

Faculty Women's club, gymnasium. Sigma Phi Epsilon house dance.

Chi Omega entertained with a Christmas party Thursday evening, December 18, for its active and alumnae members and patronesses. After a four course dinner, each guest was presented with a gift from the Christmas tree. Decorations were evergreen wreaths and mistletoe. The guests were Mrs. J. D. Colt, Sr., Mrs. Forrest Forrester, Mrs. Howard Allman, Mrs. L. E. Call, Mrs. Victor Muse, Mrs. R. I. Throckmorton, Mrs. Sylvia Osborne, Mrs. Ralph Morrish, Dr. Mary T. Harman, and Misses Beatrice Gates, Florence Clark, Frances Johnstone, Margaret Corby, and Jessie Atkins.

Miss Mary Cornelia Lee, Mrs. Maud Hutto and Mrs. Elizabeth Harling entertained with a five-course dinner New Year's eve at the Polly Anna tea room for 35 graduates of K. S. A. C. A watch party at the Woman's Club house followed the dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirschner of Kansas City were out-of-town guests.

Members of Kappa Delta who were in Manhattan during the Christmas vacation entertained with a dinner dance New Year's eve. The sorority colors, green and white, were used in the menu and the decorations of the rooms. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Hal Jerard, Mrs. Ivan Carver, and Miss Edith Miller.

Students majoring in agricultural economics, members of the Agricultural Economics club, and the agricultural economics faculty were entertained at the home of Professor W. E. Grimes, head of the department, on the Tuesday evening preceding the Christmas vacation. Mr. A. L. Clapp, county agent leader, was a special guest.

Alpha Theta Chi pledges entertained with a carnival dance at Recreation Center on December 19, in honor of the active members of the organization. The decorations and favors were in keeping with the holiday season, and music was furnished by a four-piece orchestra. Mrs. Kittie Mills Pennington, housemother, and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Foster were the chaperones.

Miss Bonnie O'Brien entertained at her home with a candle light bridge Friday afternoon, in honor of her sister, Miss Bertha O'Brien, who returned Sunday to her school at Colby. Bridge was played at five tables at which a color scheme of cardinal and straw was carried out. Miss Edith Caraway gave musical selections during the afternoon. The guests were: Mrs. Whitford Alexander, Mrs. A. H. Brewer of Chicago, Mrs. C. C. Brewer, Mrs. Victor Muse, Mrs. Pat Muse, and Misses Jessie Atkins, Margaret Corby, Marjorie Fleming, Janice Barry, Edith Caraway, Elsie Hayden, Bernice O'Daniel, Myrna Smale, Frances Johnstone, Ruth Rhoades of Eldorado, Bertha O'Brien.

The members of Chi Omega who spent Christmas vacation here, entertained with a Christmas party December 27 at their chapter house. The rooms were decorated with evergreen wreaths and miniature Christmas trees. Art Dodge's two piece orchestra furnished the music. Those present were Misses Myrna Smale, Bonnie and Bertha O'Brien, Bernice O'Daniel, Elsie Hayden, Edith Caraway, Janice Barry, Marjorie Fleming, Margaret Corby, Jessie Atkins, Marjorie Allman, Virginia Forrester, Katherine Chappell, and Ruth Varney, and Brick Williams, Kenneth Chappell, Harvey Grammer, Edgar Durham, Keith Smale, Lawrence Hedge, Fred O'Malley, Virgil Kent, Joe Haines, Dick Allan, Paul Gartner, Donald Springer, Gladwin Read, and Ross Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Muse, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Muse were chaperones.

Stanford Hulshizer, a former student at K. S. A. C., was in Manhattan during the Christmas vacation.

The marriage of Miss Thelma Bradford Nielson of Concordia and Chauncey A. Brantingham of Manhattan took place Christmas day at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Burbank in Concordia. The Rev. George Anderson of the Presbyterian church read the ceremony at high noon. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nielson of Concordia and is a graduate of the Concordia high school. She attended Lindenwood college at St. Charles, Mo., and is now a student at K. S. A. C., where she is a member of Alpha Delta Pi. Mr. Brantingham is the son of E. P. Brantingham of Toledo, Ohio. He is a former student of the college and a member of Phi Delta Theta. Mr. and Mrs. Brantingham will make their home in Manhattan, where Mr. Brantingham has a position with the Paige Milling company.

The marriage of Miss Tehlma Allen and Douglas C. Beeler which took place in Topeka, Sunday, December 21, comes as a surprise to many friends here. The ceremony was read by the Rev. S. S. Estey of the First Presbyterian church of Topeka. Mrs. Beeler is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Allen of Topeka. She is a graduate of the Manhattan high school and attended K. S. A. C. two years, finishing her college course at K. S. T. C. She is a member of Chi Omega. Mr. Beeler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Beeler of Manhattan. He is a graduate of the Manhattan high school and graduated from K. S. A. C. in 1923. He is a member of Sigma Nu. Mr. and Mrs. Beeler will live in Alton where he is athletic director in the schools.

Miss Beth Watson of Vermillion and E. F. Sanders of Erie were married Friday evening, December 19, at the home of the bride's mother in Vermillion. Mr. and Mrs. Sanders are both students at K. S. A. C. and will make their home in Manhattan.

W. A. Hunter of Manhattan attended the national convention of Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Atlanta, Ga., during the Christmas vacation.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Lincoln of Van Buren, Ark., and Mr. Walter Horlacher of Colby which took place on Christmas day at the bride's home. Mr. Horlacher graduated from K. S. A. C. with the class of '20, receiving his bachelor of science degree in agriculture, and received his master's degree in 1922. Following his graduation he was connected with the animal husbandry department at this college for a short time and is now with the Oklahoma A. and M. college at Stillwater, Okla. Mr. Horlacher is a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

Miss Mary Barkley, 1011 Fremont street, spent Christmas week in St. Joseph and Stanbury, Mo., visiting her sisters, Edna Barkley and Mrs. James Adea. Both Mr. and Mrs. Adea are former students of K. S. A. C.

"Don Quijote de la Mancha"

Don Quijote de la Mancha, the fantastic, satirical character conceived in the mind of Miguel de Cervantes, is one of the most entertaining characters ever produced in fiction. The story is a satire based on the craze for the reading of chivalrous literature at that time. Cervantes, after having read volumes about the daring exploits of knights of former times, saw the foolishness of it all, and wrote this rather long winded but extremely interesting and funny novel.

Alonso Quixano, a man past middle age, had read so much of this chivalrous literature that his mind became unbalanced. He felt that it was his duty to revive knight-errantry in the country, to become a knight-errant himself. He found some old rusty armour belonging formerly to some of his ancestors, fixed it up and put it on, found an old hack of a horse which he named Rocinante, called himself don Quijote de la Mancha, and as a knight-errant "took upon his shoulders the defense of kingdoms, the protection of damsels, the succor of orphans and minors, the chastisement of the proud, and the recompense of the humble." Since all knights-errant had a lady for whom to free the world of its dangers, don Quijote chose a homely fat country wench, his imagination chasing her into a beautiful lady of high standing. Then, as each knight-errant had his squire, Sancho Panza, an ignorant, crude, talkative country man was inveigled into his service.

Don Quijote, on Rocinante, and Sancho Panza, on Dapple, his donkey, set out to defend kingdoms and protect damsels. The situations into which don Quijote gets himself and Sancho, the crazy encounters they have with windmills and towers, which became giants in the demented brain of don Quijote, are most ludicrous and funny. Quite frequently they both come out from their encounters badly battered and scarcely able to continue their adventures.

Sancho, always with a mouth full of proverbs, which he strings together on every occasion, produces a great deal of good and humorous philosophy.

He is continually embarrassing don Quijote with his insistent chatter, telling tales where they shouldn't be told, impertinently taking the lead in conversations with persons of high quality when a good squire should remain quiet, misquoting some of his proverbs, thereby changing the meaning of some of his sentences entirely. Sancho realizes to a certain extent that his master is crazy. His ignorance and his constant association with don Quijote, however, convince him enough of his master's sanity so that he accompanies don Quijote everywhere and does all that he is told to do.

In the second book of the history of these two naive characters the story of their adventures is represented as having been published and read by many people. During the course of one of their sallies forth after adventure, don Quijote meets with the Duke and Duchess of Villahermosa, out on a hunting trip. When they discover the identity of don Quijote and Sancho, they are most gracious to the "great knight-errant" and his squire, insisting upon entertaining them in their castle. The Duke and Duchess have read the first book of the history of don Quijote.

The Duke of Villahermosa remembers that in the first book don Quijote has promised Sancho the government of an island. He and the Duchess decide to have some sport out of Sancho, to give him a city, which they will call an island, to govern. Sancho is properly dressed to enter his government, is given a paltry upon which to ride, enters his island in pomp and glory with Dapple following directly behind. At the entrance to the island Sancho is confronted with some problems of discipline. Though ignorant, he seems to be possessed of good judgment and discernment. He solves the problems with such shrewdness and quickness that the whole population respect him at once.

Since this government is a joke, Sancho has many troubles from the beginning. He loves to eat, and to eat a great deal. But the governor's physician waves away plate after plate of delectable food because it has too much or too little nutritive value. Poor Sancho is on the verge of desperation when a man is announced who makes an absurd plea about money matters. Sancho all but throws him out. Always something arises which keeps him from eating. In the evening the governor must make the rounds of his island, so Sancho, escorted by the majordomo and some other officials, sets out to do his duty. He meets many interesting situations and problems, settles them all with his characteristic shrewdness, goes back to his palace and to bed. He has scarcely gone to sleep when there is a great noise, much prancing about of many people and much howling. Sancho is dragged from his bed, and told that there is an uprising and that he must come out to settle it. Tired and sleepy and slow of movement, the poor governor is jostled about, falls down, is trampled upon, and suffers much more than is intended.

When the attack is over, Sancho, without a word, dresses himself, goes to the stable and harnesses Dapple, saying, "Come along, comrade and friend, and partner of my toils and sorrows . . . ." While his officials look on in astonishment he slowly and painfully climbs upon Dapple with these words, "Make way, gentlemen, and let me go back to my freedom; let me go back to look for my past life, and raise myself from this present death . . ."

In the play "Sancho Panza" this last is changed a little, Sancho leaving his government because he cannot stand to see the suffering and the sordidness in the lives of the poor people. Don Quijote enters the play only in the prologue where he and Sancho discuss many things, the former giving much advice about governing.

SEASON OPENS IN ST. JOE TONIGHT

HILLYARD GAME WILL GIVE DOPE ON AGGIES' STRENGTH

Corsaut Takes Ten Men—Doolen and Koch Only Letter Men Likely to Start Game

Coach Charlie Corsaut and his basketball players will have their first game of the season tonight in St. Joseph, Mo., when the Aggies meet the strong Hillyard five. With the Aggie team in good condition, but light, and the Hillyard team playing good basketball, but carrying a 15 to 19 defeat at the hands of K. U., the outcome of the game tonight cannot even be guessed.

K. U. Defeats Hillyards

Ordinarily the Hillyards would be given a good edge in an Aggie-Hillyard contest, but the fact that last Friday K. U. gave the chemists their third defeat in three years shows that the Hillyards are not ranking as superior to the Valley as they have seemed to in the past. Then, the Aggie squad is working under the same system of coaching as it did last year, so has had a better chance to get ready for the early games than when Corsaut had just taken it over.

The game tonight, while it counts nothing in the standings of the Valley conference, means a good deal to the Aggies, as it should indicate fairly well where the Aggies will stand in the Valley lists. K. U. has been conceded to have probably the best team in the Missouri valley and was thought to have the best chances at the championship again this year. By defeating the Hillyards 19 to 15 the Jayhawkers showed the Hillyards to be just about equal to the leading Valley teams. Thus, if the Aggies succeed in coming back from their first trip with a victory, Aggie stock will rise perceptibly.

Prepare for Nebraska

On the other hand, if Hillyards win the Aggies are not out anything and Corsaut will have had a chance to view his men under fire, which chance should help him considerably in preparing for Friday night when the Aggies meet Nebraska here in the first home game of the season.

Corsaut had not decided when he left just who would start tonight's game for K. S. A. C., but he said the probable line-up would be Doolen and Koch, guards; Stebbins, center; and Byers and Wedell, forwards. Koch and Doolen are the only letter men on the list. The other two letter men on the squad, Bunker, forward, and Tebow, center, both made the trip and might be used.

The players who made the trip are Bunker, Wedell, Byers, and Huey, forwards; Stebbins and Tebow, centers; and Koch, Doolen, Metz, and Scholtz, guards.

Nebraska Stars Ineligible

Two star players on the University of Nebraska football team who had been counted on to make up a large part of the team's offensive strength next year were declared ineligible last week by the eligibility committee of the Missouri Valley Athletic association. The men were Elbert Bloodgood, quarterback, and Douglas Myers, fullback. Bloodgood starred in the Aggie-Nebraska game here last fall, and was selected as quarterback on various all-western football teams. The committee ruled that since both men played a year of football at DePauw university, and then two years with Nebraska, they are ineligible for further valley competition. Bloodgood has been signed to play with the New York Giants next season, it was announced recently.

M. F. Ahearn, head of the athletic department, has been named the only Missouri Valley representative on the National Football Rules Committee which will meet next spring for the adoption of rules under which football will be played next season. Mr. Ahearn has served on the committee before.

Henry Schulte, track coach of the University of Nebraska, will serve on the track committee; William Chandler, coach at Iowa State college at Ames, basketball; C. E. Daubert, Iowa State, swimming; R. G. Clapp, Nebraska, wrestling; T. N. Metcalf, Iowa State, volleyball.

VOLLEY BALL FINALS BEGIN

Five Teams to Play Finals—Begin Tonight in Girls' Gym

The first game of the series to decide the finals in women's intramural volleyball will be played this evening. Results of the preceding games are as follows: Group 1—Kappa Delta, Chi Omega, Gamma Phi Delta, tied for first place. Group 2—Alpha Delta Pi, first place, Alpha Theta Chi, second place.

The schedule for the games is as follows:

Tuesday, January 6—7 O'clock
Alpha Delta Pi vs. Chi Omega;
Kappa Delta vs. Alpha Theta Chi.

Thursday, January 8—4 O'clock
Chi Omega vs. Alpha Theta Chi.

Thursday, January 8—7 O'clock
Gamma Phi Delta vs. Alpha Delta Pi.

Saturday, January 10—1 O'clock
Gamma Phi Delta vs. Kappa Delta;
Alpha Theta Chi vs. Alpha Delta Pi.

Monday, January 12—7 O'clock
Chi Omega vs. Gamma Phi Delta.

Thursday, January 15—7 O'clock
Chi Omega vs. Kappa Delta; Gamma Phi Delta vs. Alpha Theta Chi.

Thursday, January 15—7 O'clock
Alpha Delta Pi vs. Kappa Delta.

Play for Championship

The local fraternity league basketball tournament ended in a four cornered tie. Omega Tau Epsilon, Kappa Phi Alpha, Phi Lambda Theta, and Sigma Phi Sigma each has a percentage of 750. The tie will be played off January 6. Thursday night the Aggieville Athletic club, winner of the club league tournament, will play the winner of the local club league, and Friday night the Kappa Sigma fraternity, winner of the Pan-Hellenic league, will play the winner of the local leagues for the college championship. The Friday night game will begin at 6:30 o'clock as a preliminary to the Aggie-Nebraska game.

Call for Tickets

Miss Hyde, who has been in charge of the mail order sale of tickets for "Sancho Panza," announces that all tickets reserved but not paid for may be called for at the box office until Thursday noon. After that time they will be placed on sale.

Wrestlers to Colorado

The varsity wrestling team will meet the Colorado State Teachers' college team February 6, at Greeley, and the Denver university team at Denver, February 7.

Seven men will be picked for the team from those trying out. The seven weight classes are as follows: 125 to 135 pounds, 135 to 145 pounds, 145 to 158 pounds, 158 to 175 pounds, 175 pounds and up. The tryouts will probably begin this week.

Miss Evelyn Peffley spent several days last week at the home of Miss Olga Saffrey of Alma.

Nelson's flagship, the Victory, is being restored.

PLAY PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

PACKED HOUSE GREET'S OTIS SKINNER IN "SANCHO PANZA"

Numerous Curtain Calls for Star—Dapple the Donkey Proves to Be Delightful Ass

Right royally K. S. A. C. and Manhattan turned out last night to greet Otis Skinner and his company in "Sancho Panza," and right royally were they repaid for their attendance. Skeptics who doubt that really good productions can pay expenses here were shaken somewhat by the venture of the American Association of University Women last year in bringing the Denishawn Dancers to Manhattan, for the dancers established an attendance record for attractions of that type locally. Yet "Sancho," and "Dapple," broke that record. Last night there was not a vacant seat in the auditorium from which the stage could be seen, and during the entire performance there was a liberal sprinkling of people about the walls downstairs who could not find seats.

Applause for Skinner

Apparently the audience was delighted with their treat, for twice the actors were forced by the exigencies of time to stop taking curtain calls when it seemed that the crowd would never have enough of them. Laboring under the handicap of a poorly equipped stage so small that every inch of it had to be utilized and then some of the less important details of staging omitted, the production was put on with a smoothness and finish such as Manhattan has rarely, if ever, witnessed on a local stage, and may not again until the A. A. U. W. again is gracious.

Otis Skinner

After seeing Otis Skinner in "Sancho Panza," one can easily understand his hold on the American theatre-going public. He is one of the most versatile actors on the American stage; and years have not dulled nor changed in dramatic mode made stale his infinite variety. His Sancho Panza is, like Kismet and Mister Antonio, just one more artistic triumph added to a long string of brilliant achievements. He is easily America's romantic actor nonpareil.

Melchior Lengyel's "Sancho Panza" is based upon certain episodes from Cervantes' "Don Quixote," and like the great Spanish novel, the play is sparkling, gay and satirically witty. It has been called a fantastic comedy; although in the strictest sense of the term it is not exactly that. It is more romantic than fantastic, perhaps; and who can classify its multifold comedy? With its music and dances by Hugo Felix and Bert French, it has all the gaiety of a musical comedy; with its costumes and lighting by Richard Boleslawsky and James Reynolds, it has all the color of an extravaganza; with Otis Skinner as the lovable vagabond, it has all the penetrating wit, and wholesome fun that romantic comedy is capable of.

Although the play takes satirical jabs at some types of government, shows the shams of diplomacy grows cynical of certain practices of the church, and smiles slyly at doubtful benefits of formal education; the play is not sophisticated in the objectionable sense of the term. Neither in its romantic and fantastic ramifications does it ever become sentimental. It strikes a balance between the two that makes it entirely and happily acceptable.

PRESENT PAPERS AT CHICAGO

Grimes and Englund on Farm Economics Association Program

"An American Agricultural Policy" was the general theme of the 15th annual meeting of the American Farm Economics association at Chicago on December 29 to 31. The third and last day of the convention was given over to problems of internal adjustments, two of the major papers of that program being given by K. S. A. C. professors, W. E. Grimes and Eric Englund, both of the department of agricultural economics. Professor Grimes, who was the first speaker on the program of that date, discussed "The Wheat Grower's Problem of Readjustment." Professor Englund, who was selected to give the only paper on taxation, discussed "The Place of Taxation in a Constructive Policy."

In his paper on the wheat grower's problem Professor Grimes discussed in detail each of the changes in the conditions of production during and following the world war and showed the relationship of each to the existing general situation. Data pertaining to the subject were used throughout the paper.

Professor Englund's paper on "The Place of Taxation in a Constructive Agricultural Policy" dealt with the relation of taxation to present and future prosperity in agriculture. In a brief survey of the present system of taxation, Professor Englund pointed out that general property taxation is nearly the whole base of the fiscal system of many states, and that although it renders lip service to the principle of uniformity and equality, in actual performance it fails to reach intangibles, thus throwing the mounting cost of government on tangible property, especially real estate.

Attend Science Meeting

K. S. A. C. was well represented at the American Association for the Advancement of Science meeting which was held in Washington, D. C., December 29 to January 3. All the universities and colleges having experimental stations in the country where plant disease investigations are conducted cooperated in this meeting. The Aggie professors who attended and were on the program are: Dr. R. K. Nabours, Dr. J. E. Ackert, and Dr. Mary T. Harman, of the zoology department; Dr. L. D. Bushnell and Prof. P. L. Gainey, of the bacteriology department; Prof. J. W. McCulloch and Prof. E. G. Kelly, of the entomology department; and Professor Melchers of the botany department.

SCRIBBLERS TO SCRAMBLE ON FRIDAY, THE 13TH

Aggie Journalists and Others of the Esoteric to Attend First Annual Dance in Cafeteria

Journalists and a limited number of their friends will frolic in the cafeteria Friday night, February 13, in "Scribbler's Scramble," the first annual all-journalism party. In charge of seeing that everything is properly scrambled is Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, which has appointed Ralph Blackledge, Wesley Roberts, and Burr Swartz as a committee to make arrangements.

Present plans are for a dance on an elaborate scale, with decorations to be in true newspaper office style. Horn rimmed glasses, blue pencils, and notebooks, traditional but not actual accessories of the reporter, will be much in vogue for the evening.

The cafeteria floor is one of the best and at the same time one of the largest in Manhattan, and a "sure enough" orchestra is promised by the committee.

Special surprise newspaper style programs are to be printed, and other novel features introduced.

It is planned to make the "Scramble" the annual social event for journalists, and one of the leading affairs of the kind on the college calendar.

OFFER SHORT COURSE

Farm Business Course Opens Monday, February 9

Beginning February 9, the department of agricultural economics will offer its second annual Farm Business Short Course. This date has been decided upon as it falls upon the Monday following the close of Farm and Home Week and will thus give those who are here for Farm and Home Week an opportunity to remain for the three weeks short course.

The latest available information on marketing, taxation, farm accounting, farm management, farm credit and farm life will be given in the course by members of the department of agricultural economics and by Dean Farrell who gives the course on Farm Life. In addition to lectures on the above subjects, the students of the course are given an opportunity to become acquainted with the investigational work of the college by means of short tours arranged to suit the convenience of the students.

New Wrestlers Work Out

The wrestling team this year remains an unknown quantity. Last year found a number of good men on the team, but at the close of the first semester of last year some of the men were found to be ineligible and others dropped out of school. Consequently the meets had to be cancelled.

This year there is a new group of men out, and, while the work up to the present time has all been preliminary, several men are showing up to good advantage. The real test will come in the intramural wrestling tournament. The survivors of the tournament will make up the team that will represent the college at Greeley, Col., on February 6, and at Denver, February 7.

JUNIOR JUDGERS TO NEBRASKA U.

WILL DO PRACTICE JUDGING IN LINCOLN FOR THREE DAYS

Leave Next Week for National Western Stock Show at Denver—Have Made Creditable Showing

Girl on Team

Those making the trip are T. M. Kleinenberg, Transvaal, South Africa; A. C. Hoffman, Abilene; W. H. Atzenweller, Huron; Lionel Holm, Lincoln; Wayne Rogler, Matfield Green; Mary Halse, Russell; Ward Taylor, Smith Center; and Coach F. W. Bell.

After their return from Nebraska, the team will spend some time here on practice judging. Six of the seven who made the trip to Lincoln will leave next Thursday for Denver, where they will compete in the National Western Stock show. Last year teams from only four states, Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, and Kansas were represented in this show. More are expected to enter this year, since it is a national show.

Receive Valuable Experience

All other teams which have entered in the past from other schools have been senior teams. Professor Bell believes that the benefit derived by the junior team in preparation for the American Royal and International shows the following year, warrants the appearance of the junior team at this competition in preference to the senior team. The Aggies have always made a very creditable showing even with their inexperienced team.

Candidates for the junior team have been exceptionally numerous this year, and the choosing of the team was made difficult by keen competition among those trying out for it. Practically all of the successful candidates spent half of their Christmas vacation working on placings and readings.

WEST VIRGINIA WINS IN UNIVERSITY PLAY CONTEST

K. U. Receives Honorable Mention—Purple Masque Falls to Place

The dramatic club of the University of West Virginia won first place in the University Theater tournament at Northwestern university January 1 with the presentation of "Riders to the Sea." Kansas university, with the presentation of "Beauty and the Jacobin," and North Carolina College for Women, presenting "Will o' the Wisp," received honorable mention by competing with West Virginia in the final elimination.

No rankings were made after the winner was named. Other entries were Purple Masque of K. S. A. C., presenting "Fancy Free," Depauw university, University of Michigan, Ohio Wesleyan university, Agnes Scott college, and Elmira college.

According to the rules of the contest, the nine plays entered were presented and the best three were selected for final competition. Judges for the first elimination were the directors of the several plays.

The group of judges for the final consisted of Mrs. A. Starr Best, president of the Drama League of America; Alexander Dean, associate professor of dramatics at Northwestern; Donald Robertson of the Chicago Civic Theater; Thomas Wood Stevens; and Kenneth Sawyer Goodman of the Memorial Theater, Art Institute, Chicago.

The cast for the Purple Masque entry consisted of Agatha Tyler, Rebecca Thacher, Kingsley Given, and James Price. E. G. McDonald coached the play. Members of the department of public speaking who attended the convention of the association of teachers of speech were Dr. H. T. Hill, H. B. Summers, and E. G. McDonald. The tournament was held in connection with the convention.

OPENING EXERCISES BY RADIO

K. S. A. C. to Broadcast Novel Programs to Rural Schools

A novel departure from the regular type of radio programs at station KSAC will be brought about February 1 when the extension division expects to begin broadcasting programs, especially adapted to rural schools, at nine o'clock each morning. Although the programs have not yet been definitely laid out, they will probably consist of music, educational lectures, and a system of calisthenics.

In connection with the musical part of the program Professor Pratt expects to give a series of instructional lectures in music. A march will probably be played for the pupils to march into the building, and accompaniments played for the opening songs.

Dean Holton, head of the educational department will supervise the educational lectures. He is not yet certain just what the subjects will be, but the lectures will be so planned that they will be inspirational and at the same time interesting and understandable to rural school children. The program will close with a five minute calisthenic drill.

The fact that a large number of the rural schools of Kansas are equipped with radio receiving sets, indicates that the success of these morning programs is assured. They will assist in making the rural school house the community center so that girls' and boys' clubs, housewives' clubs, farmers' unions, and other farm organizations may receive instruction and amusement through the state college radio station.

ANATOLE FRANCE PARADOXICAL

Professor Rockey Discusses Life of Famous Scholar

Anatole France was the subject of the talk given by Prof. N. W. Rockey in the home economics room last Wednesday afternoon as part of the series of lectures given by the English department.

"When the recent death of Anatole France occurred," began Professor Rockey, "he was mourned more as an artist than as a leader of thought, for at the time of his death he had already lost the title to the leadership of thought in France."

"Let me quote from the last number of the North American Review to show in how many ways France was exceedingly paradoxical. 'He preferred scholarly seclusion but entered into public life. He was a skeptic but he was interested in theology. He was anti-clerical but in his books he portrayed a large number of ecclesiastics. He viewed history as a record of the crimes and errors of men, yet he was attracted to history. He was an epicurean but he had a keen sense of justice.'

"France loved his native land of France," continued Professor Rockey, "but at heart he was European. The late war must have changed his outlook for when once the war was started he was heart and soul for France and his pen was at the command of the French government."

"You may divide the life of France into about four parts, both according to his mood at one particular time in life, and the work he produced during that time," said Professor Rockey. "First he was a secluded scholar. In a public way he was scarcely known. His principal piece of work during this time was 'The Crime of Sylvester Bernard.'

"During the second stage his work took a different turn. He had evidently been disillusioned in love. 'The Red Lily' is an example of the work he did at this time."

"In the third stage he became quite socialistic, mainly on account of the well known Dreyfus affair which occurred at this time. 'Penguin Island' is a good example of the work produced at this time."

"The fourth stage was brought about by the late war, during which he revoked his socialistic ideas and came to the aid of France with his pen."

In conclusion Professor Rockey showed how Anatole France looked upon irony and pity. "One smiles and makes life amiable; the other weeps and makes it sacred."

January 24 Is Deadline

Money from all organizations which desire space in the 1925 Royal Purple must be paid by January 24, in order that the editor may definitely allot space.

No space reservations can be made later than this and full payment for all space reserved must be made by that date. Checks may be mailed or personally brought to the Royal Purple office immediately.

All individual pictures must be taken and paid for by January 24.

McCampbell to Denver

Dr. C. W. McCampbell, head of the department of animal husbandry, will judge the carload classes of breeding cattle at the National Western livestock show at Denver January 19 to 24. This is the only show in the world where purebred cattle are shown in carload lots, and there are sometimes as many as 150 carloads exhibited at these shows. This is the third time that Doctor McCampbell has been the judge of these classes of stock.

Appointed to Committee

Prof. L. F. Payne, head of the department of poultry husbandry at K.S.A.C., and Prof. A. G. Phillips, who has charge of the poultry work at Purdue university, are the state college and university representatives on the egg standardization committee which was recently appointed by L. B. Kilbourne, president of the National Poultry, Butter, and Egg association, Chicago, Ill. This committee consists of a poultry and egg buyer from each of 16 states and a representative from a state college and university. The standardization committee will confer with representatives of the bureau of agricultural economics, United States department of agriculture, to determine standards by which eggs shall be classed and graded.

Secures Favorable Attention

"The Kansas Agricultural Situation," a monthly review prepared by the department of agricultural economics and distributed through the extension service, is securing widespread and favorable publicity. Requests for this publication have come from California, Kentucky, Washington, D. C., Oklahoma and other states. A writer from Kentucky stated that he had seen the material in the Lexington Leader but that he would like to secure it more directly if possible. This digest of the agricultural situation is issued on the tenth of each month and gives the latest information available concerning probable price tendencies and the supply and demand for various farm products.

LIT SOCIETIES TO COMPETE FOR ROYAL PURPLE CUP

Two Weeks' Subscription Contest Plans Announced by Business Manager of Year Book

Literary societies of the college will compete for a silver loving cup offered by the Royal Purple in a book sales contest conducted during the next two weeks, according to G. A. Reed, business manager of the year book. The price of the Royal Purple will remain at $4 during the campaign, Reed said, and will go up to $4.50 at the beginning of the second semester.

The contest opens January 12, and closes January 23. It will be conducted on a basis of votes, each organization to receive 10 votes for each subscription on which $2.50 is paid as a deposit, and 5 more when the full subscription price is received.

"By conducting the contest through the literary societies, we feel that we are reaching a more truly representative student group than would be possible by using any other organized group," Reed said. "Among literary society members are numbered fraternity and sorority members along with the non-fraternity students, who constitute three-fourths of the student body."

Permanent possession of the loving cup will go to the society winning it this year. The society sales teams will be assisted by the Royal Purple staff, which will arrange for the showing of advertising slides at local motion picture theatres.

BROADCAST BASKETBALL GAMES

Aggie Fans May Tune in on Games This Season

Aggie alumni and basket ball fans throughout the United States will be able to follow the basket ball games this winter, by radio, as they did the football games in the fall. Morse Salisbury will assist Sam Pickard in broadcasting a running account of the game with Nebraska university Friday night.

The broadcasting will be done directly from the basket ball court. A microphone from the cheering section will be cut in so that the listeners will be able to hear the cheering as well as the account of the game. The regular evening program will be run immediately after the game.

Faculty Members to Topeka

Three K. S. A. C. men will be on the program of the Kansas State Board of Agriculture at its 54th annual meeting at Topeka on January 14 to 16. Prof. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics will discuss "The Agricultural Outlook in Kansas for 1925" at the meeting on Thursday, January 15. At the morning program of the same day, Prof. F. W. Bell, of the department of animal husbandry, will talk on "Observations of County Fairs." Dean Willard will take part in the Friday afternoon program which is to be given in memory of F. D. Coburn, former secretary of the State Board of Agriculture.

A schedule of dates for sectional conferences for vocational agriculture teachers has been planned. The state has been divided into seven sections for these conferences, one of which will be held each week end starting January 10. Prof. C. V. Williams and Prof. A. P. Davidson will attend part of the conferences.

AGGIE ORPHEUM DATE ANNOUNCED

CLOSED NIGHT FOR THIRD ANNUAL PRESENTATION

Ten Diversified Acts Offered—Phi Phi Won $25 First Prize Last Year

Dancing, singing, tumbling, jazz, comedies, and just plain vaudeville will be featured at the third annual Aggie Orpheum, which will be held Friday evening, February 20, in the college auditorium.

Variety of Stunts

The Aggie Orpheum, which is presented each year under the auspices of the college Y. M. C. A., offers a wide variety of stunts. Individuals or organizations may compete for the cash prize which is given to the winning act. According to Paul Pfeutze and Ralph Blackledge, who are managing the show, ten lively acts will be presented.

This night has been made a closed night for the college. During the past two years the Orpheum has been very popular, it being somewhat synonymous with Aggie Pop, but offering a more diversified program. Admission will be twenty-five cents.

$25 Cash Prize

Last year the $25 prize offered for the best college act was won by the Phi Beta Phi sorority, which presented "A Ragtime Meal." "A Novelty," given by Mrs. G. L. Tetrick's dramatic pupils, won the $15 prize for the best down town stunt.

All acts must be submitted to the managers by February 5.

SECOND TRIP PROBABLE FOR "THE FIRST YEAR"

Many Requests Received for Additional Performances—Chapman Assured of Date

Another schedule of road performances is planned for "The First Year," the fall production of Purple Masque. Due to the tremendous success of the play in its presentations during its tour the first week in December, requests have been received at the department of public speaking for performances in other towns.

Although no bookings have been made, a performance at Chapman is assured but a date has not been set. Other tentative bookings are under consideration, according to E. G. McDonald, dramatic coach.

Because of an injury to Jack Kennedy, playing the leading male character in the play, the performance here, announced for December 12, was necessarily postponed. The date set for that performance is January 30, 1925.

Rehearsals have been regularly in progress since the recent road trip and, according to Mr. McDonald, the presentation here will be a finished one that will keep the standard up to that set by previous performances.

"STAY IN THE BLEACHERS"

Ahearn Asks Rooters to Not Crowd Players at Game's End

A request that those attending the Aggie-Nebraska basketball game tonight, and all home games this season, remain in their seats at the end of the game until players of both teams have left the court was made this morning by M. F. Ahearn, head of the college athletic department.

While the courtesy of being allowed to leave the floor without having to shove their way through is due the Aggie team, "Mike" said, it is more especially to the visitors that the consideration should be extended. "Having to fight through a crowded floor at the end of forty minutes of hard play does not improve the kindly feeling of a visiting team to the school," he said.

Handball Contest Opens

Intramural handball contests began on January 7 in the handball room in the gymnasium. There are 100 entrants in the singles and 45 in the doubles. In the singles six rounds will be played for championship. There will be five rounds of doubles.

In the first rounds of both singles and doubles, contestants will meet in a single game of 21 points. All contestants are given intramural athletic points.

The textiles classes held their second display of imported fabrics, linen, silk, coconut fibre, and pineapple fibre, Monday. The materials exhibited were principally from China, Korea, and Mexico, some of the work shown having been done by the school children of Korea. One piece of special interest is a silk embroidered shawl with a rare silk fringe.

OIL AND WATER

From the happenings of the past few weeks concerning the University of Kansas and Governor Davis it can readily be seen that politics and education will not mix. If politics has the upper hand the educational institutions of the state are subsidiary. If the state educational institutions can operate successfully and still work in accordance with the reigning politicians, all is well. But the instant there is friction between the two, politics, the stronger, overrides the situation.

The present system of a salaried board of administration, made up of politicians, governing the higher educational institutions of the state was unhesitatingly denounced by the United States bureau of education as being unsatisfactory. This bureau recommended that the law establishing such a board be repealed and the educational institutions be placed in the hands of an unpaid board of nine members. Salaried boards have been efficient in managing some state institutions and activities but in education they have proved a failure.

The new governor who will take office soon has this big problem to solve during his administration. It is of vital importance to the future of higher education in Kansas and should be so regarded.

It is with increasing alarm that we note the inroads made by the women into the men's clothing. We were amused when they wore our ties, we tolerated their wearing our shirts, we were surprised when they blossomed out in kickers, but when they come out shamelessly attired in our sox, it is too much.

Aren't they aware that hot sox are hard enough to find and expensive enough to buy without their butting in and increasing things? A halt should be made or in ten years the men will be forced to retaliate in a like manner, only it might look more ludicrous.

The new college text books are now on sale at the book store. College Humor and Co-Ed.

If there is anyone in school who doesn't have to take a final on the last day of examinations he has not yet made himself evident. It seems odd that the schedule is always arranged so that everyone has to stay till the last minute. No doubt the faculty goes to a lot of trouble fixing it like that.

There are three things that will pull us safely through the hectic period of finals—faith, hope, and charity. And as usual, the greatest of these is charity.

It may be purely imagination, but it seems as if there were more women appearing in the nether regions of the "Inerno" than there were men.

A RINGSIDE TALE

In stature David and Goliath were About like Jeff and Mutt.
Now Goliath was the larger
And Dave the smaller, But Little David had a motto

Which told him right made might.
So he spake the words of Henry Clay
"I'm right. I know I'm right."

Then he took his patent sling,
And a pebble more or less
And ventured forth to meet Goliath
Positive of success.

His adversary Goliath
Was ten feet tall—almost;
That he'd never been K. O'd in battle
Was his often uttered boast.

He lugged enough equipment
To start an armory.
A half a ton of bronze and brass,
A six foot spear or three.

So when they faced across the valley,
And the betting had begun.
The odds were in Goliath's favor
As high as twelve to one.

Then Goliath sneered at David
As he faced him on the south,
With a sling and pebble in his hand
And a motto in his mouth.

Dave listened to Goliath
And when he'd finished said,
"With my faith and sling I'll smite thee,
And take thee from thy head!"

Then he rushed forth from his corner.
With his sling he slang a stone
Goliath fell—a fallen mountain—
With a pebble thru the bone.

The ringside rose astounded
At the little fellow who Promptly seizing Golly's sword
Cut Golly's neck in two.

Dave's backers then ran forward
To collect their money won,
For the odds were very, very large
As large as twelve to one.

When the losers saw them coming,
They bravely turned and ran
For they wished to keep the money lost,
Having heavily backed their man.

Thus David won a knockout,
So now was Knockout King,
And to win the title all he'd used
Was a motto and a sling.

It is to be expected that all students owning a radio set will be phoning in to the broadcasting station to ask a question. They won't believe that they are being broadcast until they hear their own voices coming in through their receiving sets.

Our girl keeps that school girl complexion, but she carries it in her pocket.

There isn't a one of our teachers who really appreciates true and honest knowledge. We know because not a single one of them offered to exempt us from an exam. And especially after we had so nicely asked them to.

Few Boys Learn the Why of Those Heavy Woolen O. D. Shirts

It is as uncommon in schools in the east for girls to study clothing and textiles as it is for boys to study that branch of industry in the west. In spite of its unpopularity among boys, K. S. A. C. has had two boys enrolled in that course in the last few years.

If this course were more generally studied, many interesting questions such as, why are R. O. T. C. members required to wear woolen shirts even in early September, would be answered.

The truth of the matter, according to Miss Fecht of the clothing and textiles department, is that woolen fibers hold a dead layer of air in their meshes and so are nonconductors. For that reason a woolen garment is warmer in winter and cooler in summer than a cotton garment.

Wool shirts are also a part of the fireman's uniform. In addition to the fact that wool is a conductor of heat, it is less inflammable than cotton and so it is possible for a fireman to stand more intense heat when clothed in wool. Other advantages are that wool is lighter in weight as compared with density than is cotton, and is much more comfortable when worn than any other material.

Due to the severe cold periods of last winter in the South the emergence of the boll weevil in the Cotton Belt this year was much lighter than usual.

Is he a hard taskmaster or a loved leader?

If you are a good soldier, you take orders from the major. But there is a great deal of difference whether you find the training an irksome routine or an enjoyable development.

When you follow the right major in your course, the work can become vitally interesting, and your college career will be more worthwhile.

"But what is my right line of work?" may be a puzzling question. All the thought you can give to finding the answer will be fully repaid. Analyze yourself and you will surely discover your natural aptitude.

And when you've found what line you feel you ought to follow, stick to it. Stand by your major and your major will stand by you.

TRAIN FOR CREATIVE WRITING

Prof. N. A. Crawford Tells Journalism Students of Convention Decisions

A brief report of the convention of the American Teachers of Journalism, held at Chicago during vacation, was given by Prof. N. A. Crawford at the Journalism seminar Monday afternoon.

Journalism instruction is no longer arranged for the casual student, but for the student who intends to make journalism his profession. Interest in the technical instruction is declining. As Professor Crawford said, "Anyone with average intelligence can learn to construct a news story from a few facts in a very short time." The emphasis is being laid on creative writing, because it needs the most study and practice.

Creative writing requires a broad background and a wide knowledge. To afford this, a college course in journalism must include a thorough study of such subjects as economics, history, sociology, social science, applied science, and literature. And it is thought that in a very few years, students in journalism will be required to have a readable knowledge of at least two modern languages. A great deal of emphasis is being laid on the ethics, history, and laws of the press.

The conception of the modern reporter is not of a mere story hunter but of a person who has a wide field of knowledge and a good judgment so he can separate the facts from the rumors.

It is interesting to note that the department of journalism at K. S. A. C. fills most of the requirements adopted at the convention.

Personals

Prof. L. E. Melchers is absent from K. S. A. C. for the month of January to help prepare the annual summary of plant diseases, particularly with regard to cereal crops, in the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Samuel Pickard of the extension division gave a talk on "The Future of the Radio" before the meeting of the Horticulture club Tuesday in room 31 of the horticulture building.

Twenty students are enrolled in the horticulture short course, fourteen of them being enrolled in the class of Farm Horticulture and six in the Fruit Growing class.

Milo Johnson, senior in general science, has been chosen as delegate from this school to the Seventh Corps Area Convention of Scabbard and Blade, which will be held at Iowa City, Iowa, on February 6 and 7.

Scabbard and Blade met Tuesday at 5 o'clock in Colonel Bugbee's office.

Misses Mary and Izil Polson spent the holidays at their home in Fredonia.

The K. S. A. C. boxing team will probably meet K. U. and the Oklahoma A. & M. or Nebraska university sometime during the second semester.

The classes in dinner work will devote next week to serving special kinds of meals, such as buffet luncheons and Sunday night suppers.

B. J. Miller, '24, graduate in agricultural economics, was a Manhattan visitor on Saturday, January 3. Mr. Miller spent the summer of 1924 touring Europe with a group of Y. M. C. A. representatives and is now teaching in the high school at Cropsey, Ill.

Dean Margaret Justin went to Topeka Wednesday on business.

Miss Ina Cowles spent the holidays at her home in Sibley.

Miss Lillian Baker of the department of clothing and textiles spent the holidays in Chicago visiting her mother and her sister, Miss Rose Baker, '17.

The entry list for boxing and wrestling is posted in the gymnasium. The athletic department wants as many entrants as possible. The varsity teams will be picked from the men showing promise in these events.

VALLEY SEASON OPENS TONIGHT

NEBRASKA FIRST OPPONENT FOR AGGIES IN 1925 RACE

Wildcats Exhibit Strength Against Hillyards—Team Has Been Drilled in Goal Shooting

With indications of a capacity crowd, the Kansas Aggies will play their first home game of the season and their first Valley game against the Cornhuskers in Nichols gymnasium tonight. Just how the Aggies, the "Midgets of the Valley" will fare in this game of the 1925 season is a matter of speculation.

So far the Nebraska and K. S. A. C. teams have had only one game each, both against the Hillyards of St. Joseph, Mo., in which both the Valley schools lost. The Aggies lost 24 to 33 while Nebraska lost by only one point. By these scores, the only ones that can be taken for a comparison of the two teams, Nebraska is given the edge in tonight's contest.

Veterans on Squad

However, Aggie fans are not giving up hope for a victory. They have reason to continue their faith in Coach Charles Corsaut and his team, regardless of the Hillyard scores. In the first place the Aggies have four regulars back from last year and several other players who were on the squad last year but did not earn their letters. The regulars who are back are Captain Arthur Doolen, Manhattan, guard; Kerney Bunker, Kansas City, Mo., forward; Eric Tebow, Scandia, center; and Fritz Koch, Burlington, guard. Bunker led the Aggies in scoring last year and both he and Tebow ranked among the first ten in the Valley in scoring.

Since the Hillyard game Tuesday night Corsaut has his men spend most of their time in practicing goal shooting, with some floor work sandwiched in. Because of the size of the players Coach Corsaut may play an offensive game. With the Aggie offense working fast and making good the game might be kept out of the hands of the heavier, and perhaps slower, Cornhuskers. However, this line of attack is merely a guess as Corsaut has not said what plan his team would follow on the field.

Games Even in '24

Last year the Aggies and Cornhuskers broke even on their games. The Cornhuskers won the first game of the year but the Aggies took the second. With practically the entire Aggie squad and part of the Nebraska team back, the game tonight will be mostly played by veterans. For this reason spectators are sure to see a fast hard-fought game.

Corsaut has not said definitely who will start the game for the Aggies but the probable line-up is Bunker and C. A. Byers, forwards; Tebow, center; and Doolen and Koch, guards.

SWIMMERS LOOK GOOD

Five Letter Men Remain from Last Year's Squad

The swimming team lost three good men through graduation last year in Colburn, Schaaf, and Mackay. Colburn was the outstanding swimming star for the last three years and Mackay and Schaaf were both consistent point gainers in the water events.

The letter men of last year who are out again this season are Carter, Harter, L. C. Miller, P. Stuenkel, and Schemm. Others who are showing up well are Farrell, Lippincott, Olmstead, Hatfield, Soper, F. Daniel, R. Schopp, Woodman, R. Foster, Borgman, J. Gartner, and F. Whan.

While there are no outstanding stars in the line-up it is expected that the team will make a fair showing against the other valley schools. The team meets Nebraska here February 21 and goes to St. Louis to meet Washington university on March 2. The Missouri Valley conference meet will be held at St. Louis March 20-21.

Hold National Meetings

Seven national organizations held meetings simultaneously at the Congress and Auditorium hotels in Chicago, on December 28 to 31, 1924. Joint programs, and a joint registration and information bureau were provided for the convenience of those attending the various meetings. The organizations which met at this time were: American Economic association, American Statistical association, American Farm Economic association, American Association for Labor Legislation, American Association of University Instructors in Accounting, American Sociological society and the National Community Center association.

Talks to Insurance Class

E. R. Weeks, general manager for Kansas of the American Life Insurance company, gave a talk on life insurance to the class in life insurance Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Weeks also outlined the prospects for success in this field. Next week Mr. Tom McClung of Manhattan will lecture to the class on property insurance.

Religious Workers to Chicago

Four representatives from K. S. A. C. are attending the national conference of religious workers of state institutions which was held at the Beach hotel in Chicago, January 6, 7, and 8. The representatives who attended were Dr. A. A. Holtz, general secretary of the college Y. M. C. A.; Rev. B. A. Rogers, student pastor of the Methodist church; Rev. William Guerrant, student pastor of the First Presbyterian church; and Rev. W. P. Halbert, pastor of the Baptist church.

Many Chysanthemums Raised

Thirty-two hundred chysanthemums, consisting of 200 different varieties, were grown in the college green houses this season. Twenty-six hundred chysanthemum blooms were exhibited at the state flower show held at Wichita this year and 700 chysanthemum plants were sent to the local flower show at Fredonia. The purpose of growing so many different varieties is to determine which kind is best for florists to grow.

H. L. Templeton of the chemistry department has resigned his position at K. S. A. C. and will leave February 1 for Madison, Wis., where he has accepted a position as junior chemist in the Forest Products laboratory.

Miss Emogene Bowen, senior in home economics, plans to go to New York city next semester to become a student dietitian in the Mt. Sinai general hospital. Miss Bowen will take the five hours of credit, which she needs to secure her degree, by correspondence. After six months of practical experience and training Miss Bowen will be prepared to be a professional dietitian.

Johnson, '24, in Florida

J. Frank Johnson, '24, is working in the offices of Franklin O. Adams, Jr., architect, of Tampa, Fla. Mrs. Johnson, formerly Miss Blanche McDermet of the agronomy department at K. S. A. C., is teaching shorthand and typewriting in the Tampa business college. The address of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson is 3602 Nebraska avenue. "It certainly is fine to step out in the yard and pick all the oranges we want," Mr. Johnson writes.

Baird, '11, Moves to California

Harry Baird, '11, has purchased a milk and ice cream business in Santa Barbara, Cal., and asks that THE INDUSTRIALIST be sent to him at 508 State street. He states in his letter that he hopes to be able to attend the luncheons and meetings of the K. S. A. C. alumni groups of southern California which meet weekly in Los Angeles.

Tourney Dates Fixed

The intramural wrestling and boxing tournament will be held on January 29 and February 2 and 4. Participants are allowed to enter in only one class of boxing and wrestling. The seven weight classes are as follows: 125 to 135 pounds, 135 to 145 pounds, 145 to 158 pounds, 158 to 175 pounds, 175 pounds and up.

About one hundred men are out at the present time for boxing and wrestling. The outstanding boxers are Hoelzel, Walgren, and Pierson. The boxing team will meet one or two opponents, possibly Ames, Kansas, or Oklahoma Aggies.

Colorado Reunion January 20

K. S. A. C. alumni and former students in Colorado will hold the annual reunion in connection with the National Western livestock show on Tuesday evening, January 20, according to an announcement from George C. Wheeler, '95, editor of Western Farm Life and president of the Colorado organization of alumni. All members of the Colorado group are being sent invitations to be present. Aggies from other sec-

Applications Due

Applications for the positions of editor-in-chief, business manager, and managing editor of the Collegian for the second semester should be turned in to Prof. N. A. Crawford immediately. References should be included with the applications.

The positions of editor-in-chief and business manager are for the entire semester while the managing editor serves nine weeks.

tions are cordially invited to attend the banquet and reunion if they are present at the show. Announcement of the program and place of meeting will be made later.

The K. S. A. C. rifle team began firing a heavy schedule of dual and sectional matches on the indoor ranges when its members returned from vacation. Dual matches with 16 colleges and universities have been arranged, and the team is competing in the seventh corps area match. Seven veterans are on the team this year.

The varsity wrestling team will meet Colorado State Teachers' college team at Greeley, Col., on February 6 and the University of Denver team at Denver on February 7. Members of the team will be selected in an elimination tournament which will be held within the next 10 days.

G. J. Massengale of the chemistry department spent Christmas vacation at his home in Montgomery, Ala.

An air college similar to that of the Kansas State Agricultural college has been formed by the cooperation of New York university and the Radio Corporation of America. Since the early part of October short lectures by the faculty have been broadcast.

The floor work of the women's physical education classes this semester has consisted mainly of folk dancing, thus enabling all of the girls to learn some of the folk dances. Folk dancing has formerly been offered as an elective.

WOMEN'S CLUBS BOOST FOR DORM

KANSAS COUNCIL OF WOMEN
ASKS FOR $200,000

Delayed Since 1921—All Other State Schools Now Have Campus
Homes for Girls

Requests for an appropriation of $200,000, to be used in building the K. S. A. C. dormitory, are being placed before the legislature by the Kansas Council of Women. It is the goal of the Kansas club women to place a dormitory on the campus of each of the five state institutions.

The legislature of 1921 granted an appropriation of $500,000 for the building of dormitories, this money to be pro-rated to the institutions in accordance with the number of women students in attendance. It was found that five dormitories could not be built for that amount, so rather than let the appropriation revert to the state treasury, President Jardine offered to waive temporarily the rights of K. S. A. C. in the interests of the dormitory program. The four dormitories at the other schools are now complete and are filled with Kansas girls who are finding in them real campus homes.

Room for 125

Such a dormitory as being requested will furnish an ideal home for 125 girls. Any girl may make application for residence. These applications will be filled in order received and vacancies as they occur will be filled from these files. As has been the experience of other colleges, this close association in the home life of young women of the freshman class and of the upper classes will be a vital factor in carrying on college tradition.

The suggested location of the dormitory is in the northeast corner of the campus. This will be an ideal location since, according to the plans now being worked out by Professor Helder, landscape gardener, a system of lakes and wooded park is to occupy that part of the campus. The building will be so located that other dormitories which may be built in the future will form a unified group.

Three Stories High

The building as planned will be three stories high with a large open terrace across the front facing the campus. The first floor will contain the family dining room, a large living room, several small parlors where girls may entertain privately, a reception room, rooms for the sick girls, and managers' room and a business office.

Every care will be taken in furnishing the building to make it comfortable and home like. The sun parlor which will occupy one end will add an air of warmth and comfort. The rooms on the second and third floors will be so equipped that every girl may find homelike comfort and privacy in her own room.

The basement may possibly contain a large play room where the girls may play basketball, or entertain before the open fireplace. There will also be rooms where those who wish can do their own laundering, shampooing, and pressing. The kitchen will also be in the basement.

As a Chemist, Bach Makes an Excellent Coach of Football

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." This is evidently Coach Bachman's motto, for they tell a strange tale about him in the chemistry department, a tale which makes it seem that even though Bach is not threatening to take Doc King's job away from him, his determination is of the highest order.

Like all other up-to-the-minute citizens, Bach has been smitten with the radio bug. And further, it seems, the coach likes to tinker with said radio, this being the true sign of the dyed-in-the-wool radio shark.

In the course of his mechanical investigations recently, Bach discovered that the batteries of his set were badly in need of acid, and why hire a mechanic just to attend to such a little item? Going into the basement, Bach procured a tin pail, and then motored on the hill in search for the battery restorer.

Upon arrival at the chemistry building Bach made known his wants, but received this answer, "Carry acid in a tin pail? I should say not!" Nothing daunted Bach continued his quest, and some way, somewhere, procured some acid and took it home in the tin pail.

When he reached home Bach proceeded to put the acid into the batteries, with the satisfaction of having put in a good day's work. But, strange to relate, the batteries failed to be revived, for it seems that the acid had become neutralized during the course of the journey, and so Bach's work went for naught. "If at first you don't succeed . . ." It's a good motto.

Sergeant Receives Discharge

Sergeant R. D. Paquette, who has been in charge of the student records at the military office for the last three years, received his discharge from the army last Sunday when his enlistment expired. He does not intend to reenlist, but after a few months' vacation will attend a business school at Kansas City. No successor for Sergeant Paquette has yet been appointed.

OFFER SHORT COURSE FOR STATE CEREAL CHEMISTS

Lecture and Laboratory Work January 13 to 16—In Charge of Faculty Members

A short course for cereal chemists over the state has been planned for January 13 to 16, inclusive, at the college. The course is designed to instruct cereal chemists in the latest developments in their particular branch of chemistry. Both lecture and laboratory courses will be offered for the four days.

Lectures by members of the faculty will be given each morning during the course. Two lectures have been scheduled for each afternoon. In addition to the regular lecture, time will be allowed for questions and discussions by the students. Each of the lectures will have two hours, starting at 8 and 10 o'clock, respectively.

Laboratory exercises will be given each afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. These exercises will be on hydrogen-ion concentration determinations, both electrometric and calorimetric, conductivity measurements, and the use of different types of viscosimeters.

The faculty members who will have charge of the course are Dr. H. H. King, head of the department of chemistry; Dr. C. O. Swanson, head of the department of milling industry; Dr. J. S. Hughes, professor of chemistry and animal nutrition expert; Dr. E. L. Tague, associate professor of chemistry and specialist in protein chemistry; and Dr. Earl B. Working, associate professor of milling industry. The laboratory exercises will be in charge of Doctor Working, assisted by Doctors Tague and Swanson.

Students may enroll either for the entire course or the lectures alone. For the lectures no educational or experience requirements are specified, but for the laboratory work an equivalent of chemistry given in a four-year college course together with some experience in cereal chemistry will be presupposed. Those taking the entire course will be charged $10 and those taking just the lecture course $2.

A. L. POST OFFERS CONTEST

Students in Architecture to Submit Designs for Signposts

Pearce-Keller Post of the American Legion has offered a contest to all sophomores, juniors, and seniors enrolled in architecture, on the best designs of a signpost submitted. The post to be built will be of concrete or stone and will be worth not more than $100. The size is to be from six and a half to eight feet in height.

It has been decided that four or five signposts will be erected on various important roads leading into Manhattan, and one in the city park. The American Legion insignia will be placed at the top and the post will contain all necessary road directions.

The winner of the competition will receive a contract to prepare working drawings for four or five posts. The members of the Legion will judge the contest.

Bottom row, left to right—unidentified; Royal S. Kellogg, '06; J. Smith; C. S. Evans, '06; J. D. Holland, '06, editor.

The Collegian at this time was known as the Student's Herald and was the student newspaper published at K. S. A. C.

ROYAL PURPLE RECEIVES PRAISE

YEARBOOK IS VALUABLE BIT OF REGISTRAR'S EQUIPMENT

Aids in Making Out Recommendations for Students—Presents Fit
Summary of Year's Activities

"The Royal Purple is a valuable bit of equipment in the office of the registrar and it would be still more valuable if every student were represented in it. It is the family album of the college, and we refresh our memory of faces long gone by turning its pages, many times to the advantage of the student who needs a recommendation."—Jesse McDowell Machir, Registrar.

"In buying a Royal Purple you are buying a picture record of your school days, which, to look at in later years, will bring back fond memories of your school days."—R. E. Ewing, President, Y. M. C. A.

"The 1925 Royal Purple is a fit summary of the school year's activities."—Lyle Munn, Football Captain.

"For my part, I would not miss getting a Royal Purple. It is to me what a diploma is to a Senior."—Paul Chappell, President, Freshman Pan-Hellenic.

"1925 without a Royal Purple? That would be as great a calamity as to have missed the K. U. game."—Bob E. Hedburg, Intercollegiate Debater.

"In order to keep in mind the best interests of K. S. A. C., to obtain an exact record of this school year, and to retain the fondest memories of our alma mater, every student in school should secure a copy of the 1925 Royal Purple."—H. G. Webber, Basketball Captain, '24.

ATTENDS ENGINEERS' MEETING

Professor Walker Represents Agricultural Engineers in Washington

Prof. H. B. Walker, head of the agricultural engineering department, left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the annual meeting of the American Engineering Council, of which he is a member.

The American Engineering Council is composed of representatives from state and national engineering societies throughout the United States, and its members include the most prominent engineers of the country.

Professor Walker is the representative of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, as well as president of the society. He was selected last year by the American Engineering Council as one of a group of engineers to inspect and report on the economic phases of the disposition of Muscle Shoals.

Professor Walker will return to Manhattan early next week.

Recital Open to Public

Miss Edna M. Ellis, soprano, and Miss Dorothy G. Brown, accompanist, will give a public recital in the college auditorium, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The public is invited. The program to be given is as follows:

Recitative, O worse than death indeed; air, Angels ever bright and fair, Handel.

Maid's Song, Haydn.
Maid of Ganges, Mendelssohn.
The Sailor's Life (Old English).
Synnove's Song, Kjerulf.

Le Beau Reve, Flegler.
Nuit d'Etoiles, Debussy.
My True Love Hath My Heart, Cole.

A Memory, Fairchild.
Ecstasy, Rummel.

Elected District Wheat Girl

Miss Marian Rude, a freshman in the general science division of K. S. A. C., is one of the 18 girls elected as Kansas Wheat Girls. Miss Rude, who represents the Great Bend district, left Manhattan Saturday for Topeka, where the final contest was held yesterday. The Kansas Wheat Girls were guests at the inauguration ball given yesterday evening in honor of the new governor. The winning girl will be sent to Washington.

Freshmen to Know Their Mental Test Scores and Rating

In a few days one-half of the freshmen will receive letters informing them as to their mental rating and their probable scholastic rating as estimated from the test scores. Those who do not receive letters are asked to wait until near the close of the second semester for information concerning their rating in the tests.

No one knows exactly how college freshmen are affected by knowledge of their mental test scores. Some people believe that such information tends to discourage students whose test scores are low, and to make those whose scores are high even more conceited, if possible, than before. No doubt some are depressed, and others unduly exalted by the knowledge of their mental rating. However, a few individual cases prove nothing regarding the general effect of such information upon college students.

An attempt is being made at K. S. A. C. to study these effects experimentally. Last year the freshmen were divided into two groups of equal ability with nearly 500 students in each group. Students of the one group were notified by letter concerning their test scores and those of the other group were not. The two groups are now being compared to find the effects of this information. To secure more data for this study the same experiment is to be continued this year.

GLEE CLUB TO ENTER M. V. CONTEST IN KANSAS CITY

K. S. A. C. Club to Present Three Numbers—Competition Promises to Be Keen

The first contest of the Missouri Valley Glee Club Contest Association will be held February 9 in Convention hall, Kansas City. Competing glee clubs will be from the schools represented in the Missouri Valley Athletic association, with the exception of Grinnell, Drake, and Oklahoma A. and M.

The Missouri valley organization is to be affiliated with the national contest association after its first contest. Contest rules regarding scholarship are the same as those governing athletics. The business management of the Kansas City contest is in the hands of an alumni committee from the several schools competing.

According to Prof. Ira Pratt, the K. S. A. C. men's glee club has been at work during the fall term on the three contest numbers to be sung. If the club is not too much depleted by the results of the semester examinations and the regular second semester shrinkage, it will be in good condition to represent the college. Competition promises to be very keen.

The president of this year's club is Floyd Strong and the accompanist is Charles Stratton. The club is being trained by Professor Pratt.

LARGE CREAMERY ENROLMENT

Fifteen Taking Short Course in Dairy Department

Prof. N. E. Olsen reports the largest enrolment in years in the creamery division of the eight weeks' short course offered at the college. The total number in the course is 15. Two of the members are from Colorado, one from Oklahoma, one from Missouri, and the remainder are from various sections of Kansas.

In addition to the regular creamery work given, the students will receive instruction in ice cream making, Professor Olsen said. A special course will be given later in the year to experienced ice cream makers. This course will start March 2 and last for a week, it was said.

Miss Florence Helzer, former associate professor of English at K. S. A. C., who is now teaching at Washburn, visited at the home of Miss Emma Hyde last week and attended "Sancho Panza."

FARMERS' WEEK FEBRUARY 2-7

CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM PRE-PARED FOR CELEBRATION

Educational Work Offered in Many Courses—Nationally Prominent Men Will Lecture at Assemblies

Announcement of Farm and Home week, to be held at K. S. A. C. February 2 to 7, has been made by the extension division officials in charge of the fiftieth anniversary celebration. Farm and Home week is a development of the Farmers' Institute, formerly held by the college. The constructive programs prepared for the farmer and the farmwomen are expected to be the best and the most extensive ever held here.

Many educational courses in agriculture, home economics, and commerce will be given by competent instructors of the college and from other fields. Some of the courses to be offered are crop production, dairying, fruit and truck crop growing, poultry production, agricultural economics, home economics, veterinary medicine, and livestock production. Real and practical experiences of the farmers will be part of the lecture and class work.

Many Prominent Speakers

Nationally prominent men will lecture at the assemblies, which are to be held each morning and evening at the college auditorium. A few of the speakers are Dr. H. J. Waters, managing editor of the Weekly Kansas City Star; Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the American Horse association; Anna Phillips, head of the department of poultry husbandry, of the Bureau of University; K. A. Wagoner, national authority on landscape gardening and community life; Glover, editor of Kansas Dairyman; and H. H. Hays, of Highland, speaker on home economics.

President J. A. H. Hays, in considering the Farm and Home week, said, "We should do nothing to obtain a broader viewpoint of this agricultural situation and to obtain the best to conduct our various enterprises throughout the coming months from the students and teachers of these premises."

Radio Station KSCA will broadcast a new feature of Farm and Home week which will be a demonstration which will be given by the farmers to become better acquainted with different types and types of sets. Also Radio Station KSCA will be open to inspection by the visitors.

Reason for expecting a record breaking crowd is to be found in the fact that about 24 farm organizations and breeders' associations' annual meetings are to be held here and thus provide the members opportunity to take advantage of the Farm and Home week programs.

Contests for Visitors
Opportunity for visitors to take part will be provided in the judging contests of English at K. S. A. C., who is now teaching at Washburn, visited at the home of Miss Emma Hyde last week and attended "Sancho Panza."

All Kansas railroads are offering round trip tickets for fare and one-half. All instructions, lectures, and demonstrations will be free. Rooms at reasonable rates will be provided by the local Y. M. C. A. Further information may be obtained by writing to Prof. L. C. Williams, Kansas State Agricultural college, who is in charge of the program and arrangements.

Brownings Initiate Four

Initiation services were held for four girls at the meeting of the Browning Literary society Saturday. The girls initiated were Rachel Holt, Ruth Baker, Lois McNitt, and Clare Russell. The program given was devotionals, Leona Krehbiel; music, Edna Unruh; extempo, Dorothy Zeller; impromptu, Edna Unruh and David Russell; book review, Nora Bare; critic, Lottie Butts. At the business meeting officers for the second semester were nominated. The election will take place at the first meeting next semester.

Music for Vespers

"I Will Look Up" will be the subject of the vespers program for Thursday afternoon, January 15. Elizabeth Bressler will be the leader. Included also in the theme will be laughing, loving, and lifting. It will be developed through music, stories and poetry. Special numbers will include a vocal solo by Mary Frances Platt, a violin solo by Jean Rankin, and a number by the octette. Rebecca Thacher will read a story and Margaret Newcomb will read poetry. Due to the expression on the part of so many girls that vespers be more of an inspirational nature, that aim is being striven for in future programs.

DUTY AND PLEASURE

According to our understanding of the arrangement the Wampus Cats or Pi Epsilon Pi, the organization for the promotion of pep at K. S. A. C., is supposed to function at all home intercollegiate athletic contests.

During the football season they accomplished the job satisfactorily, and were seemingly so interested and anxious to perform their duty that they took up a subscription from the student body to enable them to accompany the team on an away-from-home game.

But at the first basketball contest of the season played in Nichols gymnasium last Friday night there was not a member of the organization on hand for duty. Even the cheerleader attended the game in the capacity of escort for one of our coeds.

We didn't object to helping out the cause of the Wampus Cats when they wanted subscriptions to help send them to Missouri. Of course the individual members of the group derived considerable pleasure and good time out of the trip but that was due them for their heroic efforts in pursuing the aim of the organization. But why didn't they function Friday night? It was the first game of the season, in which a win would have bolstered up the morale of the team and created some impetus for the rest of the season. The cheering of the students admittedly helps the players to perform more efficiently. That was the cry of the Wampus Cats during the football season. Why wouldn't it also help the basketball men, and the baseball men, and the track men?

It seems to us that the attitude of the Wampus Cats is somewhat selfish when they take an expensive trip to help the football team but cannot even appear on the home court to aid the basketballers. The duty, so called, of aiding the team as best they were able during the football season, seems to be closely associated with the personal pleasure obtained in conjunction with it. But if the pleasure is lacking duty can go hang. Snap out of it, Wampus Cats.

This may break into our decision concerning the girls, but we just can't help thinking what the result would be in case one of the sorority girls were to get the mumps. We shudder to conceive of the epidemic that would ensue. Providing, of course, that an epidemic can ensue.

Pat Parker was caught in the act of buying a new tooth brush the other day. Her defense was to the effect that Bob had just shaved off his mustache.

In regard to the questions of preparations for finals, there is a little mistake to correct. It was remarked that 45 per cent could be absorbed by one reading. By actual experience it was discovered that the percentage is a trifle high. It should be something over fifteen per cent. We trust that the error will be overlooked.

Of course no harm has been done yet, but think what would have happened if the freshmen had tried to go through on that belief!

The cross-word puzzle has received its death blow. Some school officials have offered to put it in the school course.

No, Edythe, Ben Turpin had nothing to do with the invention of the cross-word puzzle.

On Other Hills

A prize of $50 has been offered by the senior class at the University of Kansas to the one who writes the best play for the class to present this spring. The contest is open to any student enrolled in the university.

Last year $52,700 was earned by students of Leland Stanford university through jobs furnished by the employment office. Sixty-two per cent of the men students earned a part of their expenses last year. The percentage is expected to be larger this year.

"Gerry" Barnes, Michigan swimming coach, has introduced something novel to Wolverine tankers for diving practice. This is a sawdust diving pit fitted with regulation spring board. Take-off and fancy diving can be practiced in the new pit much longer than in the water, as heavier clothing can be worn and a protracted session can be had without chilling.

"I Am Smart—I Break Freshman Rules" and below this, "Offense—No Caps" was the tenor of the front and rear sandwichman style signs that a number of Columbia university freshmen were required to wear.

Formal dedication of the new dormitory for men was held last week at the University of Indiana.

The University of Nevada has abolished cuts for seniors and juniors. The ruling is a recognition of the upperclass sense of responsibility and seriousness.

Over 100 students in the school of medicine at Harvard pay part of their expenses by making a regular practice of supplying blood to the various Boston hospitals.

Reach Finals in Tournament

The first two games of the finals of the volleyball tournament place Alpha Delta Pi victor over Chi Omega with a score of 52 to 19, and Alpha Theta Chi victor over Kappa Delta with a score of 47 to 39. The games on Thursday scored as follows: Chi Omega 38, Alpha Theta Chi 48. The game Thursday evening and other games following that are postponed for a time as the Gamma Phi Deltas are under quarantine for mumps.

Attention Students!
Instructors Grade
Far Too Leniently

According to the grade distribution curve made out by the education department, most of the departments of the college are grading too leniently. The mathematics and chemistry departments are the only ones which were too rigorous in the spring semester of 1924. None of the departments grade exactly according to the standard, but the botany and modern language departments most nearly approach it.

The curve shows that in the fall semester the instructors grade most severely. For the spring semester of 1924 the general science division proved to be the strictest in grading. The standing of the divisions in this respect was general science, engineering, agriculture, home economics, and veterinary medicine. Taking the entire college, the grading tends to come up to the standard rather than to become more lax.

She's "Betty" to Radio Fans

Under the name of "Betty Crocker," Miss Blanche Ingersoll, '11, is broadcasting home service talks from WCCO, the Gold Medal station of Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn. "My first cooking class, numbering more than 1,600 members, will graduate in January and we expect to organize other classes soon after this course is completed," writes Miss Ingersoll. "We also have a radio girls' club which meets every Saturday morning, and numerous other home service activities."

Miss Ingersoll was formerly with the American Food Journal, New York City. Her present address is 2017 Aldrich avenue, South Minneapolis.

Banquet for Trainees

A farewell banquet for the 39 trainees who leave K. S. A. C. at the end of the present semester was given in the college cafeteria Saturday evening by the K. S. A. C. chapter of Disabled Veterans of the World War.

An extensive speaking program included addresses by John A. Brody, regional manager of the Kansas City district of the Veterans' bureau; S. A. Bardwell, president of the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce; F. H. Gulick, Veterans' bureau coordinator at K. S. A. C.; Glen D. Beougher, chapter commander, D. A. V.; and Aura M. Caruff, representing the departing trainees.

Elect Club Officers

The following officers of the Plains club were elected at the last meeting: Dorothy Cashen, president; Dr. G. E. Johnson, vice-president; Dr. R. C. Smith, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting of the club will be held the latter part of January for the purpose of studying the stars. Prof. L. W. Hartel of the physics department will conduct the study.

Miss Holman Granted Leave

Prof. Araminta Holman, head of the department of applied art at K. S. A. C. since 1913, has been granted a leave of absence for the second semester for study abroad. Miss Holman will leave immediately for France where she will attend the Paris Ateliers, the Paris branch of the New York School of Fine and Applied Art which is under the direction of President Frank Alvah Parsons.

Miss Holman, who is a graduate of the New York School of Fine Art, will enroll in graduate courses which include lectures given at the school on the History of France and its art.

Alpha Theta Chi announces the pledging of Gladys Stover of Manhattan.

Chi Omega held open house Saturday from 2 till 3 o'clock for Acacia, and from 3:30 till 4:30 for Phi Kappa.

Kappa Delta held open house Saturday evening for Delta Tau Delta.

Misses Mary and Izil Polson were week-end guests of Miss Opha Babb of Kansas City, formerly of K. S. A. C.

Eurodelphian literary society initiated the following girls Saturday: Ida Cool, Berneice O'Brien, Velma Lawrence, Julia Biltz, Elizabeth Allen, Clara Polson, Vera Chubb, and Geneva Faley. After the initiation services, a business meeting was held, and officers for the next semester were elected as follows: president, Phyllis Burtis; vice-president, Emma Scott; recording secretary, Jeannette Shields; corresponding secretary, Roxie Bollinger; treasurer, Vera Alderman; marshal, Laura Russell; assistant marshal, Audrey Freeman; critic, Margaret Burtis.

Week-end guests at the Delta Zeta house were Mrs. A. S. Friedline, Colorado Springs; Miss Renna Rosenthal, Topeka; Miss Rhea Friedell, Lincoln, Neb.; and Miss Velma Lockridge, Paxico.

The freshman class held its annual dance Saturday evening at the Community building. The Blue Ribbon Serenaders from Kansas City furnished the music.

Sunday dinner guests at the Kappa Delta house were Mrs. N. W. Kimball, Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile, Prof. and Mrs. R. R. Price, Miss Marian Gregg of Topeka, and Miss Edith Allen.

The College Social club had its regular meeting Monday afternoon in recreation center. Dr. J. S. Hughes of the department of chemistry discussed the ultra-violet light, giving a demonstration of the manner in which the violet ray machine is used. Men who are members of the college faculty were special guests.

Miss Marian Gregg of Topeka spent the week-end here visiting friends.

Miss Mary Etzold of Liberal and Vernette Reeves of Hiawatha were married December 25 at the home of the bride's parents, Judge and Mrs. L. A. Etzold of Salina. The bride graduated from K. S. A. C. last year, and Mr. Reeves is a former student of the college. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves will be at home in Hiawatha after January 15.

Mrs. Edith D. Dodd entertained the House Mothers' club Thursday afternoon at the Delta Delta Delta house.

Fred Billings of Manhattan attended the national convention of Alpha Rho Chi at Ann Arbor, Mich., during the Christmas vacation.

The Junction City alumnae chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Saturday evening with a dance at the Country Club there for the Manhattan chapter.

The marriage of Miss Mildred Spencer and Ernest B. Stewart took place December 23 in Baldwin City, the Reverend L. P. Foster officiating. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Stewart of Morganville. He is a graduate of K. S. A. C. and received his bachelor of arts degree from Baker university in 1923. At present he is completing his theological training at Garrett Biblical institute, Evanston, Ill. He is also student pastor at Westmore, Ill., 20 miles west of Chicago. Mrs. Stewart will complete this semester's work at Baker university, and then she will continue work for her degree at Northwestern university. After Feb. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will be at home at Evanston, Ill.

Miss Ella Wilson of Paxico visited friends here last week-end.

But It Turned Out To Be a Mere Coed In Neat Galoshes

Dear Hank: If you want to learn something new just start to college. The only trouble is that a fellow never knows when he is through learning. You remember I wrote to you about a month ago, saying that I had learned about all there was to know. Well, I got a setback the other day, or rather I met it coming out of the library.

At first I wasn't just certain what it was. I thought maybe one of the specimens from the zoology department had got loose and was out taking a stroll. When I got a little closer it appeared to be a Spanish cavalier, only it didn't have a tin shirt on, but Lord help us, it really turned out to be a coed with a pair of galoshes on. That's what she called them, 'cause I ask her. You see I thought they were overshoes and so would you, but we were both wrong. They are kinda funny looking but they're useful just the same. The girls wear them unhooked, leaving plenty of room around the sides for pencils, vanity cases, money, etc. Then too, you have to get a sideways swing to your feet when you walk with them on, which is very useful to develop side steps in dancing.

Well I've got to dress for dinner now, so I must cut this letter off and mail it. Please write soon, and don't forget, the next time that you start out to milk, to put on your galoshes and not your overshoes. Overshoes sounds awfully vulgar anyway.

Your old pal,
Willielive.

Paging Philadelphia Aggies

"We are '22, '23, '24, and sometimes we wish there were more," writes W. Wallace Weaver, '22, instructor in sociology at Pennsylvania university, Philadelphia. The other members of the trio are Alice Marston, '24, Wood fellow in hygiene, at the university, and Frank M. Angus, '23, refrigeration engineer of the Logan ice company.

"But we want an alumni association," Mr. Wallace continues. "Will you please send us names and addresses of Aggies who are near? Then we can organize, and perhaps have the mayor put a good receiving set in the city hall. So far the receiving set and the entertainment have been very ably furnished by Miss Marston.

"The effort we made to get every word of the dedicatory radio program almost stretched our tympanic membranes. Evidently the Wampus Cats had scattered their static pretty well through the program, and Zion, Ill., on 345 meters cut us out of the music. But Doctor Hill held the line very ably, and we also heard Mrs. Bowen, Professor Dickens and Mr. Shinn."

Enfield, '09, Tours Europe

W. L. Enfield, '09, manager of the lamp developing laboratory of the National Lamp Works, Nela park, Cleveland, Ohio, writes that he and Mrs. Enfield have just returned from an extended trip through Europe, combining pleasure with business.

Mr. Enfield states that they just missed, by about an hour, being in the big landslide on the cliff drive to Amalfi, Italy, where some 300 or 400 persons were killed. Mr. Enfield was also in a railway wreck in the Alps where 30 were killed and 50 injured, but he escaped without injury.

Mr. Enfield is interested in some work being carried on in the physics department at Kansas State Agricultural college relative to ultra-violet radiations and has furnished the department with two especially constructed quartz lamps, one filled with neon gas and the other with hydrogen gas. These lamps proved especially rich in the shorter wave lengths, according to Prof. J. O. Hamilton, head of the department.

Alumni Notes

Alice H. Mustard, '21, sends in active alumni dues from the northwest corner of the United States. She is one of the six Aggie graduates on the faculty of Washington State college at Pullman.

Authors' Club Meets

The Kansas Authors' club celebrated its twenty-first birthday Saturday with a meeting at the Hotel Kansas in Topeka. The society was organized in Topeka 21 years ago with but a handful of members but it has grown until now the membership is approximately 400 with the members scattered over the state from the Missouri river to Morton county and from Goodland to Galena.

Prof. Nelson Antrim Crawford, head of the journalism department, is critic of the society and Prof. W. H. Andrews is a member of the birthday program committee. The state is divided into eight districts with a vice-president in each district. The district formation follows that of the congressional district.

Exhibit Japanese Work

A collection of rare Japanese block printing, including the work of such artists as Toyokuni, Hiroshige, Kunisada, and Yeizan, is on exhibition in the galleries in the department of architecture. The exhibition will be open to the public until Saturday afternoon, January 17.

Wood, '11, Honored

W. B. Wood, '11, was elected secretary of the section on horticultural inspection of the American Association of Entomologists at a meeting of that organization in Washington on December 31. This section deals with problems of nursery inspection and plant quarantine.

A new course leading to the degree of bachelor of science of architectural engineering has been announced at Kansas State Agricultural college. The course will be given in the department of architecture with the cooperation of the department of civil engineering.

"There is an opening in my country for men trained in any branch of engineering," says Louis Cortes, of Bogota, Colombia, who is enrolled this semester as a sophomore in the department of architecture.

"There is a great boom on building of all kinds in my home land for the people are beginning to realize the necessity of keeping their country on a par with other nations. Ten per cent of the buildings of my native city have been erected since 1910. The railroads too are growing. Plans are under way for the laying of 700 miles of track."

Mr. Cortes holds a degree from the Instituto de La Salle in Bogota and came to the United States in 1923 to study engineering. Last year he was enrolled in the South Dakota School of Mines. As he wished to supplement his training with architecture, he enrolled this semester at K. S. A. C. When he has completed the course here he plans to return to Colombia.

Architects Elect Officers

The Gargoyles club of the architectural department held a meeting Thursday, January 7, in E 222. The following officers were elected for the next semester: President, Emmit Welsh; Vice-President, Norman Roberts; Secretary-Treasurer, Fred Billings; Chairman of the Social committee, Ben Friedel; Chairman of the Program committee, Oscar Woody; News Reporter, Charles Marshall; Marshal, George Smith.

H. N. Williams, '24, is now test engineer at the Neosho plant of the Kansas Gas and Electric company, situated near Parsons.

Dean F. D. Farrell of the agriculture division is attending Farm and Home Week at the University of Montana. He will return the first part of next week.

Miss Grace Currin, '24, who teaches in the high school at Louisville, Kan., spent the week end in Manhattan with her parents.

Miss Grace Hesse and Miss Pearl Ruby attended the Pavlova performance at Kansas City Saturday night.

Ur Rune of American College Quill club held a meeting Monday evening at 7:30 in Kedzie hall. An interesting paper on "Tenets of Criticisms" was read by Prof. C. W. Matthews of the English department. Miss Mary Marcene Kimball and Miss Allie Paddleford also read some original work.

Send the Collegian home.

WILDCATS LOSE TO CORNHUSKERS

NEBRASKA WINS FIRST VALLEY GAME 23 TO 11

Aggies Lose Game Through Failure to Make Good on Chances at the Baskets

In a rather slow game the Aggies started their Valley basketball season by losing to Nebraska, 11 to 23, Friday night. Neither team was at its best and the crowd that filled Nichols gymnasium was somewhat disappointed in the showing.

The Aggies suffered from the same trouble they had last year and were not able to make good their chances at the baskets. Although they got more shots than Nebraska did, none of the players seemed able to make good. On free throws they were also weak, making only five out of more than 20 attempts. Nebraska also was poor on goal shooting, especially in the first half, but in the last half the Huskers steadied down somewhat and ran up their big lead.

Show Strong Defense

The defense of both teams was the best part of the playing. Very few of the shots were made in the open and most of them were made from extremely difficult positions because of the tight defenses.

The Aggies started the scoring in the first half minute of play when Bunker made a free throw, but in less than two minutes Nebraska had taken the lead, which they held for the rest of the game.

Huskies Look Good

At the end of the half the score was 8 to 4 in favor of Nebraska. The second half started out similar to the first half with both teams playing fast, but in about two minutes they slowed down. The Aggies, especially, slumped, allowing Nebraska to make a walk-away with the rest of the game.

On Saturday night Nebraska met Oklahoma and took their second win of the season. These two victories make Nebraska a more probable contender for the Valley title than any of the other teams, with the exception of K. U. K. U., however, still appears to have the best chance at the championship, judging from the record made on the Iowa trip last week when Ames, Drake, and Grinnell all were defeated.

Aggies to Lawrence

The Aggies, however, may be the ones to break the K. U. winning streak when the two teams meet at Lawrence tomorrow night. If the Aggies come out of their goal shooting slump they have a good chance to win from the Jayhawkers as the Aggies are expected to be a great deal faster on their floor work.

The box score of the Aggie-Nebraska game is as follows:

Nebraska 23		G.	F.	T.	F.

SWIMMERS JOIN FRATERNITY

Chapter of Alpha Sigma Chi installed at K. S. A. C.

Alpha Sigma Chi, the first Greek letter swimming fraternity to be organized in the country, has been installed at K. S. A. C. The purpose of the new order is to give instruction in coaching and officiating at swimming meets and to create more interest in college swimming.

To be a member of the new fraternity one must also be a member cat team ranked third but did not have the advantage of early practice.

The men on the team are E. E. Howard, W. S. Mayden, Ernest Miller, Vern C. Hill, T. H. Long, R. L. Roberts, D. C. Taylor, A. Martin, Cecil Walt, W. C. Benton, Norris Meek, and O. K. Correll.

Shooting by the schools in this corps area was started last week and will continue through January and February. The records of each of the schools shooting will be sent in to the war department for comparison. The five highest teams will be entered in the national contests to be held next spring.

Brown Bull Seeks to Break Fast of Month's Duration

A ravishing, hungry, Brown Bull, grown thin from a continual fast of almost a month, has been parading his skeleton-like form around his pen in Kedzie Hall since the Christmas holidays in search of jokes, epigrams, poetry and cartoons, choice morsels of food upon which he hopes to grow sleek and fat before the publication of the Barnyard number of the college humor magazine in February, during Farm and Home week.

The Brown Bull, now entering his fifth year of life, has grown big and strong, but periods of continual fasting have caused him to become restless and at frequent intervals he breaks loose and roves about the campus in search of something different with which to appease his growing appetite. Less than a month ago he escaped from his pen and broke into the morgue of the Brown Bull publication board where he devoured great quantities of jokes and humor that had been stored there for him.

The management of this sacred bull has been changed since the last time he escaped and the new editors have placed the Bull on full feed in an endeavor to get him into condition for the February market. Food has been scarce, however, and at no time has the bull been satisfied with the number of jokes and the amount of poetry that has been apportioned to him.

If you are a poet, send your contributions to the editor. If you know a good joke, a good epigram, if you are a cartoonist and can draw a good illustration showing student life, or if you write humorous prose, send it to the editors of the Brown Bull, and do your part to show Farm and Home visitors a real humor magazine.

If you want your watch repaired so it will keep time, take it to Askren's Jewelry Store, 1220 Moro or downtown, 404 Poyntz Ave. 32-6t

MELCHERS TO WASHINGTON

Will Aid in Editing 1924 Plant Disease Data

Prof. L. E. Melchers of the department of botany and pathology will spend several weeks in Washington, D. C., in January, doing special work for the office of plant disease records.

Professor Melchers has been invited as one of two plant pathologists to do this work for 1924. He will handle the cereal and forage crop disease data for the United States, while Doctor Giddings, plant pathologist of West Virginia, will compile the report on fruit and vegetable diseases.

All the universities and colleges having experiment stations where plant disease investigations are conducted are in cooperation with the office of plant disease records. The annual summaries and reports on the prevalence, distribution, and occurrence of new plant diseases are published in detail. On his way back Professor Melchers will visit several universities and institutes in the east, including the Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Research, Yonkers.

Suggests Sea Weed As Official Flower For Swimming Fraternity

The Collegian takes this opportunity to congratulate the members of the new swimming fraternity and to offer a few helpful suggestions in the way of an appropriate motto, insignia, recognition emblems, etc.

Such an organization offers any number of opportunities for a successful hell week. The candidate should be required to salute the active members wherever they might chance to meet. Here the knowledge of strokes might come in handy. The breast stroke, the over hand, or even a graceful dive would not be out of place.

Pledge services should be held in the gymnasium pool. The pledges must stay under water during the entire ceremony, which should not consume more than fifteen or twenty minutes.

The pledge button might consist of a clever arrangement of water wings. Water wings in this case suggesting the beginning of the art of swimming.

Another hell week stunt would be to tie the candidate in a mail sack and throw him into the swimming pool. If he survives he will become a good member, if not, the organization may congratulate itself that none but experts are taken into the fraternity.

The initiation should be somewhat more severe than the pledging service. Again they should take place in the swimming pool. The high initiating officer could deliver his address from the diving board to the candidates directly beneath. This address should not exceed a half hour in length because the candidates will be under the water. The initiating committee should be lined up at the far end of the pool singing, "Pull Boys, Pull for the Shore," or "Asleep in the Deep."

A good motto for the organization would be "Sink or Swim." This motto works out well in either Latin or Yiddish. Provided this motto were adopted the letters S. O. S. could be used on the coat of arms, or on the fraternity badge. Everyone knows the significance of the letters S. O. S., but they would not be readily connected with the motto. The water lily or even the sea weed would make an excellent flower. Pearls should be the only jewel used in the badge—suggesting the marine occupation of pearl diving.

The Collegian is now at work devising a coat of arms. Announcements of the activities of the new fraternity will be made from time to time.

An effective recognition pin would be a small edition of the bathing beauty, at present used on windshields, to be worn on the coat lapel.

A. N. Johnson, '16, asks that his INDUSTRIAL be sent to him in care of the General Electric company, Schenectady, N. Y., where he is working as fractional horse power motor specialist for that organization.

STOCK JUDGING TEAM TO DENVER

JUNIOR JUDGERS HAVE WORK-OUT AT N. U.

To Enter Contest at National Western Livestock Show January 17-Six Make Trip

The Junior Stock Judging team left Thursday afternoon for Denver, Col., where it will enter the stock judging contest at the National Western Livestock Show to be held Saturday, January 17. Teams from Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska and other western colleges will compete.

Five Team Members

The team is composed of five regular Junior Ag. members and one alternate. The members this year are: W. H. Atzenweiler, Huron; A. C. Hoffman, Abilene; Lionel Holm, Denmark; W. W. Taylor, Smith Center; T. M. Kleinberg, South Africa; and Miss Mary Halse, Manhattan.

Saturday and Sunday of last week were spent in working out for the contest at Nebraska university. According to Prof. A. D. Weber of the agricultural division, the team has given indications of being exceptionally good.

Won First Three Times

In 1919, 1920, and 1921 first place was won by Aggie judging teams at this livestock show. This gave K. S. A. C. permanent possession of the cup. In 1922 and 1924 first place at the American Royal, held in Kansas City, was won by the junior stock judging team. First place was won by the Aggie junior stock judging team at the International livestock show held in Chicago in 1923, making five years of judging during which the team did not fail to win a first place.

Prof. F. W. Bell, who for five years has been coach of Aggie stock judging teams, will be in charge of the team during the trip to Denver. Since coming to K. S. A. C. in 1918 Professor Bell has had charge of all advanced stock judging courses, and has coached a blue ribbon team every year.

Visit in Denver

Thursday morning Prof. Bell went to Topeka where he spoke before the state board of agriculture, returning in time to join the team at Manhattan.

The team will spend Friday, Sunday, and Monday visiting in Denver.

ALPHA ZETA HOLDS INITIATION

Honorary Agricultural Fraternity Stages Ceremony at Gillett

The annual initiation program of the Alpha Zeta fraternity, national honorary organization in agriculture, was held in the Gillett Hotel Monday evening. Harry B. Potter of Marshall, Ill., who is general secretary of the Alpha Zeta fraternity, was one of the speakers at the initiation.

George Gemmel of the extension division, was the other speaker of the evening. A peppy program was the order of the evening, and the guests were not disappointed. The initiation services and the speakers were a source of much enjoyment throughout.

Aside from the student initiations two members of the faculty, Prof. R. M. Green of the department of agricultural economics, and Prof. Hugh Durham, assistant to the dean of the division of agriculture, were taken through the ceremony.

OUTLINES H. E. ORGANIZATION

Professor Leazenby-Englund Speaks at Chicago Meeting

Research in Home Economics at the Kansas State Agricultural College was the topic discussed by Prof. Amy Jane Leazenby-Englund at a dinner for those interested in social and economic problems related to the home, at the Auditorium Hotel in Chicago on December 29.

Those present at the dinner were in attendance at the meetings of the American economic, sociological, and statistical societies, which met in Chicago during the holidays. This dinner was given under the auspices of a committee of teachers, research workers, and home makers trained in home economics, of which Miss Hildegarde Kneeland, formerly head of the department of household economics at K. S. A. C., is chairman.

Professor Englund outlined the organization of home economics in this college and stated that the division conducts research in the scientific, economic, and social problems of the home. She explained that graduate students in the division may major in any one of the following subjects: child welfare, household administration, institutional administration, clothing and textiles, food economics, human nutrition, and dietetics.

Of the graduate students in the division eleven expect to complete the requirements for a master's degree during 1925. Professor Englund gave a brief summary of some of the results of the work of graduate students in the department of household economics and told of the research work being conducted in the department.

Hinshaw to Topeka

Dr. W. R. Hinshaw of the bacteriology department at the college, was called to Topeka Monday to attend a conference with J. C. Mohler, state livestock sanitary commissioner, and United States federal inspectors to outline a clean-up program.

They will work out plans for the cleaning and disinfecting of poultry equipment, the disinfecting of feeding stations, poultry cars, coops, and other conveyances used in the traffic of market poultry. It is thought that rules regulating the inter-state traffic in breeding stock, baby chicks, and hatching eggs, will receive consideration at this conference.

PRINCIPLES OF BUSINESS EXPLAINED IN ASSEMBLY

W. C. Coleman Tells of Idealism and Cooperation in Modern Business

We are entering a period in which the principles that govern our business world are far better than they have ever been previous to this time," said W. C. Coleman, president of the Coleman Lamp Company of Wichita, who addressed the student assembly yesterday morning.

"The student should put it far from his mind that his college days are the hardest of life," continued Mr. Coleman. "The most essential thing that a college education does for us is to teach us how to study and although the knowledge we gain will undoubtedly be a great help to us, the knowing how to study is very essential, because the success which we may gain in later life is due to our knowing how to study." The student is in the laboratory of the essence of life.

"Some people think of the business world, not in the fine light that they do of the professional world, but the business world is as important and presents as many opportunities as does any calling to which we might aspire, with the exception of the ministry. Idealism is applied in the business world at the present time as it has never been applied before. There are many cases today where competitors have helped each other back on their feet when they may have taken a tumble because of their finances. This was not done twenty-five years ago. A few years ago a man wouldn't think of showing a competitor his new machinery or processes, while today he is glad to do so.

"The relationship which we have to man is cooperation," Mr. Coleman concluded, "and whenever a man forgets his primary relationship his chances for success are lessened. Man is on this earth to dominate, not his fellowmen, but the material things. The bigness of a man is not determined by the position which he holds, but by the way in which he does his work in the position he fills."

Students Win Recognition

Outside honor and recognition have already begun to come to senior girls in home economics.

Miss Emogene Bowen has been elected to a fellowship as student dietitian in the Mount Sinai hospital, New York City, and will leave soon to take up her work there.

Miss Myrtle Leneau has been elected as student dietitian at the Cottage hospital which is connected with the Stanta Barbara Metabolical clinic.

Miss Ruth Kell has been given a scholarship at Merrill Palmer school in Detroit. She will continue her graduate study of habit forming and behaviorism in children there next year. Miss Bernice Flemming was elected to a scholarship there last year has been given an assistantship in recognition of her ability.

Miss Kneeland to Lecture Here
Miss Hildegarde Kneeland, formerly head of the household economics department at K. S. A. C. and now specialist with the bureau of home economics research, will be one of the principal speakers at Farm and Home week, February 2 to 7. Miss Kneeland has made extensive investigations of the family budget and of the earning capacity of women. Dean Justin believes that Miss Kneeland's lectures will be of interest to the students as well as to the visitors.

PLAN COURSES FOR SEMESTER

SEVERAL NEW SUBJECTS OPEN TO STUDENTS

Journalism Department Takes Lead with Poetry, Feature Writing, Printing-Poultry Course

Several new courses, each important in its nature, will be inaugurated at the college with the opening of the second semester, January 26, it was announced today. Principal among these will be the department in new poetry, with two-hour classes to meet the second and sixth hours on each Tuesday and Thursday.

This course will be personally directed by Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the journalism department, who in the announcement said the classes would be allowed to write poetry, if the class members decided upon that phase of study but that present plans did not call for poetry writing to be included in the study. Professor Crawford is also to offer a new course in the study of current periodicals.

New Magazine Feature Course

Miss Izil Polson, instructor in journalism and printing, is to offer a course in magazine features for those who are interested in the magazine field of journalism. Prof. E. T. Keith is offering a course in printing, which is for the benefit of those interested in the printing and publishing end of the newspaper field.

Prof. H. W. Davis, head of the department of English at the college, will offer a course in column writing. This course is offered only in alternate years, so students are advised to take advantage of the offering this year rather than risk waiting two years for the next offering.

Payne Announces Course

Prof. L. F. Payne, head of the department of poultry husbandry, announces that he will offer a new two-hour course in poultry management for juniors and seniors next semester. The class will meet on Wednesday and Friday at the fourth hours.

In this course a detailed study of all phases of the farm flock will be made. This will include the reproduction of the flock; the production of market poultry and eggs, hatching eggs, baby chicks, and breeding stock; housing, feeding, and marketing the products, and the best type of management to secure an even distribution of income each month of the year. Problems will be assigned consisting of a detailed account of a farm flock of poultry kept for the period of one year. A few farms will be visited by the class for practical demonstrations.

Wins Diving Contest

Marion Donoho, contesting for Delta Tau Delta, took first place in the intramural diving contest Monday night, January 12. This event included object diving as well as the usual fancy dives.

This contest was not given in connection with the regular swimming meet this year because the spring board was broken a few hours before the meet took place.

L. S. Farrel, Alpha Tau Omega; J. F. Gartner, Kappa Sigma; and J. F. Holsinger, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, placed second, third, and fourth in the order named.

Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. held a joint meeting at the home of Mr. C. O. Swanson Sunday afternoon. Doctor Holtz, who had attended a conference of Religious Student Workers in Chicago gave a report of the conference and they discussed plans for the Estes Park convalescence coming summer. This conference on August 19-29 will be the first joint conference that has been held at Estes.

SPEAKS BEFORE QUILL CLUB

Professor Matthews Presents Paper on "Purposes of Criticism"

"Purposes of Criticism" was the title of the paper read by Prof. C. W. Matthews at the meeting of the Quill Club at the meeting of the Quill Club last Monday evening.

"Criticism," began Mr. Matthews, "is merely an attempt at evaluation. The critic's position is precarious, and he must be intelligent enough and sound enough to really understand and appreciate what he writes. There are three main classes of criticism: first, the appreciative; second, the historical; and third, the standard. The young critic must choose between these three, and when he has chosen, he must endeavor to make criticism a fine art."

"The first class of criticism is merely an expression of likes and dislikes; the second is social as well as historical for it must take in the social conditions of the times in relation with the subject discussed; the third class is the most rigid and the least personal.

"The qualifications for a good critic are that he be original, he must know history, he must not be reportorial, and he must read much. Criticism has a definite place in modern literature, and the intelligent critic has much to do with all which we fall heir to."

Select New Dancing Class

An advanced class in character dancing has been formed for the second semester's work. The most talented members of the various classes have been selected for this class. The following girls will form the class: Alice Beeler, Anne Bellinger, Geraldine Cutler, Harriet Geffert, Muriel Harris, Lillian Kammer, Margaret Von Leonrod, Dorothy Kiddoo, Alice Lane, Blanche Lapham, Martha McElvaine, Mildred Matter, Diantha Murdock, Frances Rose, Kathryn Rumold, Frances Shepp, Helen Schneider, Josephine Trindle, Marie Boller, Meryl Broberg, Maurine Burson, Ruth Cress, and Genevieve Woodruff.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION CHOOSES NEW CABINET

Freshman Women Divided Into Four Discussion Groups—Will Meet Each Week

Freshman Women's Commission at a meeting Tuesday evening, divided the commission into four discussion groups, for the next semester. Each group has a chairman and a member on a social committee and a social service committee. The chairmen are: Dorothy Fulton, Dorothy Johnson, Clara Paulsen and Louise Harrop. Members of the social committee are: Lorna Tyner, Mildred Jones, and Helen Gates. The members of the social service committee are: Bernice Reed, Marion Dalton, and Edith Carnahan.

The new cabinet will be composed of Eva Brownlee, Eugene Knechtel, Mary Frances White, Junia Routt, Mildred Jones, Margaret Shippert, Dorothy Fulton, Dorothy Johnson, Clara Paulsen and Louise Harrop. The commission will meet every Tuesday at four o'clock. One meeting each month will be a social service project and the other three will be devoted to speakers and discussion of campus problems.

The next meeting will be a Valentine party February 3.

Is First Girl Stock Judger

Another precedent in the history of K. S. A. C. was broken when Mary Halse, junior in the division of agriculture, gained membership on the junior live stock judging team.

Although there have been several girls enrolled in the agricultural division before, none have ever taken such an active part in the agricultural work. The junior stock judging team consists of six members chosen from a class of nineteen. Other members of the team are: A. C. Hoffman, Abilene; C. M. Kleinburg, South Africa; W. H. Atzenweiler, Huron; Lionel Holm, Denmark; and W. W. Taylor, Smith Center.

FORM ADVANCED B. B. CLASS

Freshman and Junior Girls Into New Group

Freshman and junior girls who have proved their ability have been put into an advanced class in basketball which will meet between five and six o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The selection from the sophomore and senior classes will be announced later. The various class teams will be formed of the best material in these two classes.

The following freshman and junior girls have been advanced: Freshman, Maurine Burson, Fern Harsh, Grace Caswell, Mildred Huddleston, Alice Uglow, Norine Hook, Paula Leach, Hazel Wickham, Clara Dean, Lorna Tyner, Rilla Reed, Reva Lyne, Frances Pickens, Ruth Baker, Marjorie Riner, Alice Bell, Leda Chayer, Hazel Dwelly, Thelma Stitt, Marjorie Streeter, Frances Willhoite, Lillian Alley, Clara Russell and Dorothy Jones; Juniors, Mary J. ## AGGIES UPSET DOPE BY VICTORY OVER JAYHAWKERS

"PHOG" ALLEN AND COMPANY BURIED UNDER 40 TO 28 SCORE

FIRST DEFEAT FOR KANSAS FIVE ON HOME COURT SINCE SEASON OF 1922

OLD AGGIE FIGHT DIVIDES GAME

Wildcat Stock Rises and Team Must Now Be Reckoned With in Valley Race—Play Ames Tomorrow Night

"Did we beat K. U.?"

"Phog" Allen and his Jayhawkers, the "probable champions of the Valley," heard dimly the exultant cheers of a few Aggie rooters in Lawrence Wednesday night and slowly made their way to their dressing rooms just what had happened to make the Aggies feel that way? Why were the loyal disciples from Mount Oread so silent? Why didn't somebody throw a brick at the few people making such an infernal noise in Robinson gym?

These and similar questions are still being asked by Doctor Allen and others as they make their way as in a daze around the city of Lawrence.

Jayhawkers Were Confident

Because, you see, nobody expected Kerney Bunker, C. A. Byers, Fritz Koch, and the rest of the boys from Manhattan to defeat the invincible Jayhawkers. Impossible. And by such a score as 40 to 28. 'Twas to laugh.

And then, when the impossible happened nobody could realize fully just what had taken place. The only part of the game that went as per schedule was the first half minute when Wilkins and Captain Tus Ackerman each made a nice goal. That part was not surprising at all. The surprise came when the Jayhawkers were tied, then dropped behind, never to return.

Dope had the game on ice from the start—in favor of K. U. The Lawrence boys had defeated the Hillyards who in turn defeated the Aggies. Then K. U. beat Ames, Drake, and Grinnell, while the Aggies lost to Nebraska. To do things up brown the Aggie squad went to Lawrence with Koch, Byers, Weddell, and Tebow on the injured list, Tebow being hurt so bad he could not play. "Mike" said the team was in the worst condition it had been in for two years.

Aggies Score Heavily

But before the end of the first half the crowd knew that dope was wrong. At the half the Aggies led 17 to 14. In the second half Coach Allen started sending in subs, leaving only Ackerman in the game. Still the Aggies climbed, while the clock ticked merrily on. With three minutes to play the score stood 32 to 16 in favor of Charlie Corsaut and company. Then Corsaut decided to celebrate and finish a K. U. game with a string of subs. That of all things, was the least looked for by K. U. rooters. Why, not since 1922 had any team even beaten K. U. on the home court, let alone do it with substitutes. Terrible! Still, that's what happened.

Just what brought the victory to the Aggies is a matter of uncertainty. "Aggie fight" seems to be the only explanation.

Corsaut Surprises Valley

With the break having arrived the Aggie outlook is more hopeful than it has been for some time. The Nebraska game indicated that the goal-shooting jinx of last year had returned, but the victory over K. U. with a team in the worst physical condition for two years shows that Charlie Corsaut may fool the followers of Valley basketball. The next chance to show what his team is capable of will come tomorrow night when the team from Ames comes to Manhattan.

Before the K. U. game the Aggies and Ames seemed about on a par, but now it looks as if Ames was out of luck. Of course, the Aggies have nothing to feel especially chesty about, because, as K. U. so ably demonstrated, accidents will happen, but congratulations for the team are in order for the present at least.

First football, then basketball. How does K. U. stand it?

The box score of the game is as follows:

SCORING SYSTEM CHANGED

Knoth Explains New Method of Scoring Intramural Contests

Prof. E. A. Knoth, director of physical education, announced yesterday that a change had been made in the scoring of points in intramural basketball.

"Formerly," Mr. Knoth explained, "each game won scored ten, and each game lost scored five. But as a different number of games were played in the different divisions this was not a fair system."

"The new system is to have 120 as the total number of points possible. Each game won will count a part of that 120. If six games are played each game will count one-sixth of 120. With this new system it will be impossible for a team in one division to gain more points than one in another division, simply because it has played more games."

Intramural Divers Compete

The intramural diving meet, which was to have been held in conjunction with the recent swimming meet, but was postponed on account of a broken spring board, was held last Monday evening.

Following are the results: Fancy diving, Donoho, Delta Tau Delta, first; Farrell, Alpha Tau Omega, second; J. Gartner, Kappa Sigma, third; Holsinger, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, fourth. Object diving, Henry, Alpha Tau Omega, first; Farrell, Alpha Tau Omega, second; P. Gartner, Kappa Sigma, third; Donoho, Delta Tau Delta, and Rector, Delta Tau Delta tied for fourth place.

New carpets for the home economics rest room have arrived. This completes the refurbishing of the rest room. President Jardine's interest in better quarters for the girls has made possible the refurbishing.

COLLEGE AND BUSINESS

Much has been written regarding the value of a college education to the man entering business. Discussion, pro and con, has resulted, as much discussion of a similar nature results, in merely confusing the young man who is confronted with the question as to whether or not it is worth his while to spend four or more years in acquiring a college, or university, education.

In general the question which such a man asks himself both before and after entering college is, "Will the time and money I am spending here pay a reasonable dividend in dollars and cents?" That the answer to such a question is an unequivocal "Yes," is best illustrated by the attitude which modern business takes toward higher education.

A few months ago the General Electric company decided to create a lasting memorial to Richard W. Rice, former manager of its works at Lynn, Mass. It did so by establishing a scholarship at Stevens Institute of Technology.

Even more recently the same concern has set aside a considerable sum of money to establish four scholarships at Union college to serve as a memorial to Dr. Charles Proteus Steinmetz, former consulting engineer of the company.

Other large companies are giving recognition of the same sort in order to aid the cause of higher education.

When some of the important business firms in the United States take this attitude toward higher education, it is proof enough of its value.

Purple. He is rather put out over that fact that he wasn't quoted on the front page of the last issue as one who praised the year book.

It will be no surprise for the freshmen to receive their mental test grades. Most of them already know how they rate. The upper classmen have told them.

A date was a rather dangerous thing last Wednesday night. One never could be certain that the lights would stay on, and neither could one be certain that they would stay off.

As was to be expected, the phone system of broadcasting over the radio had to be tried out on poor unsuspecting listeners. A question or two wouldn't have been so bad, but singing a song was carrying it a bit too far.

Queen Gove made a desperate try, but what was the name of the song he sang?

And so the instructors grade too leniently! That—that—that is the last thing we would ever accuse them of. The facts may show that the are lenient, but this is one place where theory and practice don't coincide. Too lenient! Preposterous! They'll be telling us next that eight o'clock is too late to begin first hour; that seven would be better.

It is very inconsiderate of Washington to have his birthday come on Sunday this year. Either the birthday or Sunday will have to be changed.

And along that line, is it too early to start agitating for an Easter vacation?

Some girl asked a catch question the other day. She wanted to know which was more intellectual, a man or a woman. The catch lies in the fact that a woman is not intellectual.

Whoever planned the exam schedule has failed in their purpose. Several students do not have any exams on the last day.

On Other Hills

One of the most prominent teachers of debate and argumentation in this country has just been added to the present staff of the University of Iowa speech department as an associate professor, according to announcement here today. He is Albert Craig Baird, professor of argumentation at Bates college, Lewiston, Maine, who is given credit as the instigator of the present interest in and growth of international debating. He will join the University of Iowa faculty in September of this year.

A "no parking" sign belonging to the city of Berkeley, 14 red railroad lanterns, a movie advertisement, a "Stop, Look, Listen" sign, and six pieces of furniture secretly removed from a nearby sorority house, were among the trophies seized when six fraternity houses at the University of California were raided by the police.

Coeds at Wisconsin university have gone on record opposing drinking by men students, but refuse to ostracize those who do show a fondness for the cup that cheers.

University of North Carolina has a 62-year-old student, Judge Winston, who decided to go through college again. He is now a junior.

Oglethorpe university in Georgia has a ten-year-old student.

It costs but $7 a month to go to school in China, tuition, board, and rooms included. Of this amount, the largest item of expenditure is for the purchase of books.

Charles T. Wrightson of Oregon Agricultural college flew to school in an aeroplane and is paying his way through college by taking up passengers in his machine during spare time. University of Arizona has a student who rode to college on a bicycle from his home in Oklahoma.

White Deer Grotto university in Kiangsi Province, China, is said to be the oldest university in the world.

Harvard university is now in its 289th year of existence.

Only 35 per cent of the 680 men at Syracuse university are physically fit. Flat feet and defective eyesight are the most common imperfections.

BROADCAST WEIGEL'S SPEECH

Architectural Head Talks on "Fundamentals in Home Planning"

Professor Paul Weigel, head of the department of architecture, gave the first of a series of lectures on home planning over Station K. S. A. C. Wednesday evening, January 14. The title of this first lecture was "Fundamentals in Home Planning."

Professor Weigel, while advising a great deal of personal thought and preliminary planning, "as pencil, paper and erasers are cheap," strongly emphasized the need for a professional architect for, "changes in planning can easily be made while the building is still in the pencilled state. Buildings under erection are not so easily nor cheaply alternated. Your preliminary sketches will then aid a competent architect in knowing what you want. He will then be better able to incorporate your desires into a finished structure. You will find that the fee you pay a competent architect will result in a saving in the satisfaction of knowing that your house is built right, both artistically and structurally."

Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Department

Saturday morning will mark the opening of our new Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Department which will offer to the K. S. A. C. coeds, the latest up-to-the-minute styles.

It is indeed appropriate that we should open this department with a gigantic sale and will offer wonderful bargains in winter coats and dresses. You have no idea of what we mean by "great bargains" until you see these garments.

There Are Still Three Months of Winter Weather

All of the late, popular, much wanted styles will be represented and at such a price that you will want to buy your next winter's wardrobe. The models are conservative and you can get much wear out of them next season.

We will also introduce NEW SPRING MILLINERY in all its creations.

MANAGERS WILL SOON CONFER

I. O. SEWELL, MANAGER OF LOCAL J. C. PENNEY STORE, TO ATTEND GATHERING OF MANAGERS

SPEND WEEK IN ATLANTIC CITY

Managers of 571 Chain Stores to Swap Ideas for Good of Trade—Company Does $75,000,000 Business in 1924

I. O. Sewell, manager of the local J. C. Penney store, will leave January 18, for Atlantic City to attend a conference of the managers of the 571 stores owned by the company.

Many speakers of national fame will address the gathering, according to announcements from headquarters received by Mr. Sewell, and on Friday night, January 23, the program will be broadcast from Station WPG at Atlantic City between the hours of 8:30 and 11 p. m. eastern standard time. William Jennings Bryan will be one of the speakers at this time.

The business done by the J. C. Penney company in 1924 indicates that business all over the country is on the up grade. According to reports from the Penney headquarters in New York City business of the company the past year reached almost $75,000,000. The December sales alone reached almost $10,000,000, or to be exact $9,946,712.

Notable Gathering of Managers
Noted for its many great inspirational conventions, Atlantic City—the queen of seaside resorts on the Atlantic coast—will be the scene, January 20 to 23, of one that will be of a most unusual character. It will have a nationwide significance.

For possibly the first time in history, the administrative personnel of a great mercantile organization has set aside its every-day activities to bring its executive, co-partners, and managers together for four days of inspirational enlightenment.

Business matters will be entirely eliminated and the several sessions will be devoted exclusively to the desirability of creating a higher plane of efficiency for the man in business pursuits.

The convention will be held by the J. C. Penney company at the Ambassador, one of the palatial hotels of Atlantic City. Managers and their wives to the number of nearly 1,000 will be present.

Many notable men will speak, among them Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Senator Frank B. Willis, Dr. Russell H. Conwell, Judge Harold Wells, Dr. James E. Lough, Fred B. Smith, secretary of the International Y. M. C. A.; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Jewish Free Synagogue, New York; and Arthur Nash, the man who insisted upon putting his garment manufacturing business on the Golden Rule basis.

The speakers from the J. C. Penney company will be J. C. Penney, E. C. Sams, George H. Bushnell, Dr. Thomas Tapper, Dr. Francis Burgette Short, all of New York, and F. R. Payne, Salt Lake City.

Six special Pullman trains will be required to carry the associates of the company to the convention. Train No. 1 will be made up at Ogden, Utah, on January 17 by two special sleepers from Los Angeles, and one from each, Oakland, Cal., Sacramento, Cal., and Salt Lake City. At Green River, Wyo., they will take on special Pullman sleepers from Pendleton, Ore., and Pocatello, Ida. This train will be routed over the Union Pacific, Chicago & Northwestern to Chicago and thence to Atlantic City, over the Pennsylvania railroad.

Train No. 2 will make its journey over the Great Northern, Burlington and the Pennsylvania railroads, starting at Spokane, Wash., on January 16, there picking up two sleepers from Portland, Ore., and one from Seattle, Wash. It will take on another sleeper at St. Paul, Minn., and then run direct through to Atlantic City. This train will consist of the regular equipment of the "Oriental Limited" of the Great Northern.

Train No. 3 will start from Chicago, picking up a Pullman sleeper at Detroit, and at Pittsburgh, Pa., and continuing to Atlantic City over the Pennsylvania railroad.

Train No. 4 will begin its run from Kansas City, where it will take on a sleeper from Denver, Col., Albuquerque, N. M., and El Paso, Tex. At St. Louis this train will pick up a sleeper which will start from Parsons, and then will proceed over the Pennsylvania railroad to Atlantic City.

Train No. 5 will be made up at St. Louis, where it will take on special sleepers from Fort Worth, and Longview, Tex. It also will run through to Atlantic City over the Pennsylvania road, and at Columbus, O., pick up a sleeper from Cincinnati.

Train No. 6 will carry the executives and departmental staffs from the New York office to Atlantic City, arriving on Tuesday, January 20, in time to welcome the other incoming special trains from the west.

In addition to the special Pullman sleeping cars, each train will carry one or more dining cars, club and observation cars and baggage cars. Every comfort will be provided to the travelers.

Three special Pullman trains will take the entire party from Atlantic City to New York on Saturday, January 24, where the company's offices and warehouse will be inspected. The managers will board several special trains the following week for the return home.

The convention will conclude on Friday evening, January 23, with a banquet, for which nearly 1,000 covers will be laid.

Manager I. O. Sewell of the local J. C. Penney company store will attend the convention and is scheduled to leave Sunday, January 18, at 1:17 in the afternoon. He will be away about 14 days.—Adv.

Prof. Albert Dickens, head of the horticulture department, delivered a speech before the farm bureau at Topeka, Tuesday, January 14.

Miss Alice Beeler was called to her home at Mankato Sunday on account of the death of her grandfather.

Dean F. D. Farrell of the division of agriculture spent Wednesday in Topeka attending the meeting of the state board of agriculture.

Richard Mann has been called to his home in Osborne on account of the death of his mother.

What's in a Name?

One name is as good as another some times, but in the world of business everything is in a name. A name is not merely a name. It is a symbol and a pledge. It stands for ideals that are always associated with the name, and is a pledge to the public for those ideals.

Through 23 years of serving the public the name of the J. C. Penney Company has stood for uniformly good quality merchandise and prices as low as a conservative business policy permits.

The name of the J. C. Penney Company is a pledge to the public for quality-values and low prices.
